MATTRESSES.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 2788. MATTRESS ACT OF 1915.

MATTRESS ACT OF 1915.

ACT 2788—An act defining mattresses; regulating the making, remaking, and sale thereof; prohibiting the use of unsanitary and unhealthy materials therein; requiring that materials used shall be accurately described, and the percentage of materials used in each mattress stated, and prescribing the manner in which mattresses shall be labeled; and making the violation of any of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, and repealing legislation inconsistent with this act.

History: Approved June 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1267.

Definitions. "Mattress."

§ 1. (1) The term "mattress," as used in this act, shall be construed to mean any quilted pad, comforter, mattress, mattress pad, bunk quilt, or cushion, stuffed or filled with wool, hair, or other soft material to be used on a couch or other bed for sleeping or reclining purposes.

"Person."

(2) The term "person," as used in this act, shall be construed to include all individuals and all firms or copartnerships.

"Corporation."

(3) The term "corporation," as used in this act, shall be construed to include all corporations, companies, associations, and joint stock associations or companies.

(4) Whenever the singular is used in this act it shall be construed to include the plural; whenever the masculine is used in this act it shall include the feminine and neuter genders.

Material used in mattresses.

§ 2. (1) No person or corporation, by himself or by his agents, servants or employees, shall employ or use in the making, remaking or renovating of any mattress, any material of any kind that has been used in or has formed a part of, any mattress used in or about any public or private hospital, or institution for the treatment of persons suffering from disease, or for or about any person having any infectious or contagious disease; any material known as "shoddy," and made in whole or in part from old or worn clothing, carpets or other fabric, or material previously used, or any other fabric or material from which shoddy is constructed; any material, not otherwise prohibited by this act, of which prior use has been made; unless any and all of said material have been thoroughly sterilized, and disinfected by a reasonable process, approved by the board of health of the city or town where said mattress is made, remade, or renovated.

Selling certain mattresses prohibited.

(2) No person or corporation by himself or by his agents, servants or employees, shall sell, offer to sell, deliver or consign, or have in his possession with intent to sell, deliver or consign any mattress made, remade or renovated in violation of subsection one of this section.

Mattresses must be labeled.

§ 3. No person or corporation, by himself or his agents, servants or employees, shall, directly or indirectly, at wholesale or retail, or otherwise, sell, offer for sale, deliver or consign, or have in his possession with intent to sell, deliver, or consign, any mattress that shall not have plainly and indelibly stamped or printed thereon, or upon a muslin or linen tag not smaller than three inches square securely sewed to the covering thereof, a statement in the English language setting forth the kind or kinds of materials used in filling the said mattress, and whether the same are in whole or in part, new or old, or secondhand, or shoddy, and the name and address of the manufacturer or vendor thereof, or both.

§ 4. Whenever the word “felt” as applied to cotton is used in the said statement concerning any mattress it shall be designated in said statement whether said felt is “felted cotton” or “felted linters.”

“Floss.”

§ 5. It shall be unlawful to use in the said statement concerning any mattress the word “floss” or words of like import, if there has been used in filling said mattress any materials which are not termed as “Kapok.”

“Hair.”

§ 6. It shall be unlawful to use in said statement concerning any mattress the word “hair” unless said mattress is entirely manufactured of animals’ hair.

§ 7. It shall be unlawful to use in the description in the said statement any misleading term or designation, or term or designation likely to mislead.

Percentage of materials used.

§ 8. Any mattress made from more than one new material, shall have stamped upon the tag attached thereto the percentage of each material so used.

§ 9. Any mattress made from any material of which prior use has been made shall have stamped or printed upon the tag attached thereto in type not smaller than twenty-point the words “secondhand material.”

“Shoddy material.”

§ 10. Any mattress made from material known as “shoddy,” shall have stamped or printed upon the tag attached thereto in type not smaller than twenty-point the words “shoddy material.”

Form of label.

§ 11. The statement required under section three of this act, shall be the following form:

MATERIALS USED IN FILLING.

.....
.....

Vendor.....

Address.....

This article is made in compliance with the act of the state of California, approved the.....day of.....

Removing label prohibited.

§ 12. Any person who shall remove, deface, alter, or in any manner attempt the same, or shall cause to be removed, defaced, or altered, any mark or statement placed upon any mattress under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a violation of this act.

Unit for separate offense.

§ 13. The unit for a separate and distinct offense in violation of this act shall be each and every mattress made, remade, renovated, sold, offered for sale, delivered, consigned, or possessed with intent to sell, deliver or consign, contrary to the provisions hereof.

Penalty.

§ 14. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars, and not to exceed one hundred dollars, for each offense, or by imprisonment for not less than three months and not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Institution of proceedings.

§ 15. Any individual who has reason to believe that this act has been or is being violated may institute proceedings to enforce this act and to punish violations of its provisions.

§ 16. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 2805. PREVENTION OF INFANT BLINDNESS.

2809. PRACTICE OF MEDICINE ACT OF 1913.

2810. REFUND OF TAXES, ETC., COLLECTED BY MISTAKE, ETC.

PREVENTION OF INFANT BLINDNESS.

ACT 2805—An act to prevent blindness from ophthalmia neonatorum; to vest certain powers and duties in the state board of health and health officers; to impose certain duties upon physicians, midwives, nurses, and other persons; and to provide for the enforcement of this act, and the repeal of chapter XIV statutes of 1897 entitled "An act to regulate medical practice, to prevent blindness in infants," and other acts in conflict herewith.

History: Approved June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1431. Prior act of February 17, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 12, repealed by the present act.

Ophthalmia neonatorum defined.

§ 1. Any condition of the eye, or eyes, of any infant in which there is any inflammation, swelling or redness in either one or both eyes of any such infant, either apart from or together with any unnatural discharge from the eye, or eyes, of any such infant, at any time within two weeks after its birth, shall, independent of the nature of the infection, for the purpose of this act, be called ophthalmia neonatorum.

Duty of physicians, etc., to report cases.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of any physician, surgeon, obstetrician, midwife, nurse, maternity home or hospital of any nature, parent, relative, and any person or persons attendant upon, or assisting in any way whatsoever, either the mother or child, or both, at childbirth, in all cases where such child shall develop within two weeks after its birth ophthalmia neonatorum, and such person shall know the same to exist, to report the case within twenty-four hours after knowledge of the same, in such form as the state board of health shall direct, to the local health officer of the county or municipality within which the mother of any such infant may reside.

Duty of local health officer.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the local health officer:

1. To investigate each case as shall be filed with him in pursuance with this act, and all other such cases as may come to his attention.

2. To report all cases of ophthalmia neonatorum coming to his knowledge, and the result of all such investigations as he shall make to the state board of health, in such form as said board shall direct.

3. To conform to such rules and regulations as the state board of health shall promulgate for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Duty of state board of health.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the state board of health:

1. To enforce the provisions of this act.

2. To promulgate such rules and regulations as the state board of health may deem necessary to properly carry out the provisions hereof.

3. To provide for the gratuitous distribution of a scientific prophylactic for ophthalmia neonatorum, together with proper directions for the use and administration thereof, to all physicians, midwives and such other persons as may be lawfully engaged in the practice of obstetrics or assisting at childbirths.

4. To print and publish such further advice and information concerning the dangers of ophthalmia neonatorum and the necessity for prompt and effective treatment thereof, as said board may deem necessary.

5. To furnish without cost copies of this law to all physicians, midwives and such other persons as may be lawfully engaged in the practice of obstetrics or assisting at childbirths.

6. To keep a proper record of any and all cases of ophthalmia neonatorum as shall be filed in their office in pursuance with this law, and as may come to their attention in any way, and to constitute such records a part of the biennial report to the governor and the legislature.

7. To report any and all violations of this act as may come to their attention to the district attorney of the district wherein any violation of any provision of this act may have been committed, for the purpose of prosecution.

Duty of maternity homes.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of all maternity homes, hospitals, and similar institutions wherein childbirths shall occur, to keep a record of all cases of ophthalmia neonatorum occurring or discovered therein. Such records shall be in the form and contain the matters which the state board of health shall prescribe.

Penalty.

§ 6. The failure of any person mentioned in section 2 hereof to report, or the failure of any maternity home, hospital, or similar institution, to record any and all cases of ophthalmia neonatorum, as herein directed, or the failure or refusal of any person or institution, herein mentioned, to obey any rule or regulation adopted by the state board of health under this act, shall constitute a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined, for the first offense not to exceed fifty dollars; for a second offense not to exceed one hundred dollars; and for a third offense, and thereafter not to exceed two hundred dollars for each violation; and after the third conviction, if the person be a physician, midwife, or other person professionally employed, such conviction shall be a sufficient cause for the revocation of the license of such person by the board which granted the same. One-half of all fines collected hereunder shall go to the county wherein the prosecution was had, and the remaining one-half thereof shall go into the state treasury and constitute a special fund to be expended by the state board of health for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act. Any case of ophthalmia neonatorum, or the resultant blindness therefrom, upon which the accused may have been in attendance as hereinbefore set forth, shall be prima facie evidence of knowledge of such case by the accused.

Repealed.

§ 7. Chapter XIV, statutes of 1897, entitled, "An act to regulate medical practice, to prevent blindness in infants," approved February 17, 1897, and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

PRACTICE OF MEDICINE ACT OF 1913.

ACT 2809—An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled "An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation," approved March 14, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

History: Approved June 2, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 722. Amended (1) April 24, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 184; (2) April 11, 1917; in effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 93; (3) May 27, 1919; in effect July 27, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 1296; (4) May 27, 1919; in effect July 27, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 1299. Prior act of April 3, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 792, amended April 1, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 918, repealed by the act of February 27, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 56, which act was undoubtedly superseded by the act of March 14, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 252; amended (1) March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 418; (2) May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1437, which act was repealed by the present act. The amendatory act of 1878 to the act of 1876, was described as supplemental. Also, the practice of osteopathy act of March 9, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 113, was undoubtedly superseded, if not repealed by the present act.

Board of medical examiners created. Term. Not to own medical college. Removal of members.

§ 1. A board of medical examiners to consist of ten members, and to be known as the "board of medical examiners of the state of California," is hereby created and established. The governor shall appoint the members of the board, each of whom shall have been a citizen of this state for at least five years next preceding his appointment. Each of the members shall be appointed from among persons who hold licenses under any of the medical practice acts of this state. The governor shall fill by appointment all vacancies on the board. The term of office of each member shall be four years; provided, that of the first board appointed, three members shall be appointed for one year, two for two years, two for three years and three for four years, and that thereafter all appointments shall be for four years, except that appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term only. No person in any manner owning any interest in any college, school or institution engaged in medical instruction shall be appointed on the board, nor shall more than one member of the board be appointed from the faculty of any one university, college, or other educational institution. The governor shall have power to remove from office any member of the board for neglect of duty required by this act, for incompetency, or for unprofessional conduct. Each member of the board shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the constitutional oath of office.

Board of medical examiners organized. Meetings. Notice of meetings. Board to receive applications for certificates. Directory of practitioners. Contents. Additional fee. Forfeiture of license because of failure to pay. Restoration of license. Surplus receipts.

§ 2. The board shall be organized on or before the first Tuesday of September, 1913, by electing from its number a president, vice-president, and a secretary who shall also be the treasurer, who shall hold their respective positions during the pleasure of the board. The board shall hold one meeting annually beginning on the third Monday in October in the city of Sacramento and at least two additional meetings annually, one of which shall be held in the city of Los Angeles, and the other in the city of San Francisco, with power of adjournment from time to time until its business is concluded; provided, however, that examinations of applications [applicants] for certificates may, in the discretion of the board, be conducted in any part of the state designated by the board. Special meetings of the board may be held at such time and place as the board may designate. Notice of each regular or special meeting shall be given twice a week for two weeks next preceding each meeting in one daily paper published in the city of San Francisco, one published in the city of Sacramento, and one published in the city of Los Angeles, which notice shall also specify the time and place of holding the examination of applicants. The secretary of the board upon an authorization from the president of the board or the chairman of a committee, may call meetings of any duly appointed committee of the board at a specified time and place and it shall not be necessary to advertise such committee meetings. The board shall receive through its secretary applications for certificates provided to be issued under this act and shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, transmit to the governor a full report of all its proceedings together with a report of its receipts and disbursements. The board shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, compile and may thereafter publish and sell, a complete directory giving the addresses of all persons within the state of California who hold unrevoked licenses to practice under any medical practice act of the state of California, which license shall in any manner authorize the treatment of human beings for diseases, injuries, deformities, or any other physical or mental conditions. The board is hereby authorized to require said persons to furnish such information as it may deem necessary to enable it to compile the directory. The directory shall contain in addition to the names and addresses of said persons, the names and symbols indicating the title, name or names, school or schools, which such person has attended and from which graduated, the date of issuance of the license, the present residence of said person and a statement of the form of certificate held. The directory shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the person or persons named therein to practice. It shall be the duty of every person holding a license to practice under any medical act of this state, or who may hereafter be so licensed to practice, to report immediately each and every change of residence, giving both the old and the new address. To comply with the provisions of this section relating to the compilation, publication and sale of a directory in addition to the fee required for the filing of any application, or the issuance of any certificate hereinafter provided for, each licentiate granted a certificate under the provisions of this act, or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, pay to the secretary-treasurer of the board of medical examiners an annual tax and registration fee of two dollars ($2.00). Receipt or acknowledgment of payment by the secretary-treasurer shall be evidence that the holder and possessor of such certificate is entitled to practice the particular system for which he was granted such certificate for a period of one year from the first day of January; but notwithstanding the possession by any certificate holder of such receipt or acknowledgment of payment, the license or certificate issued to such licentiate to practice any system recognized by this or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, may, at any time, be forfeited or revoked for a violation of the further provisions and requirements of this act. The failure, neglect and refusal of any person holding a license or certificate to practice a system under this or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, to pay said annual tax of two dollars ($2.00) during the time his or her license remains in force, shall, after a period of sixty days from the first day of January of each year, ipso facto, work a forfeiture of his or her license or certificate, and it shall not be restored except upon the written application therefor, and the payment to the said board of a fee of ten dollars ($10.00) except that such licentiate who fails, refuses or neglects to pay such annual tax within a period of sixty days after the first day of January of each year shall not be required to submit to an examination for the reissuance of such certificate. It shall be the duty of the executive officer herein designated as the secretary-treasurer of said board of medical examiners to mail to the last known address of each licentiate who has paid said annual tax a copy of the said directory, and all new issues thereof and copies of all supplements thereto. The receipts of the said annual tax referred to herein shall be paid into the contingent fund of the board of medical examiners of California, and after the expenses of issuing said directories have been paid, in the event that there shall be a surplus of such funds, the board may from time to time, in its discretion, apply said surplus for any other expenses incurred by the board under the provisions of this act. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 94.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 185.

Location of office.

§ 3. The office of the board shall be in the city of Sacramento. Sub-offices may be established in Los Angeles and San Francisco and such records as may be necessary may be transferred temporarily to such sub-offices. Legal proceedings against the board may be instituted in any one of said three cities. [Amendment of April 24, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 186.]

Rules. Persons who may be designated as examiners. Official record.

§ 4. The board may from time to time adopt such rules as may be necessary to enable it to carry into effect the provisions of this act. It shall require the affirmative vote of seven members of said board to carry any motion or resolution, to adopt any rules, to pass any measure, or to authorize the issuance of any certificate as in this act provided. Any member of the board may administer oaths in all matters pertaining to the duties of the board, and the board shall have authority to take evidence in any matter cognizable by it. The board may in its discretion appoint or designate any qualified and competent person or persons to give the whole or any portion of any examination as provided in this act; such person or persons need not be a member of the board of medical examiners and shall be designated as a commissioner on examination and shall be subject to the same rules and regulations and entitled to the same fee and remuneration as if a member of the board. The board shall keep an official record of all its proceedings, a part of which record shall consist of a register of all applicants for certificates under this act, together with the action of the board upon each application. [Amendment of April 24, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 186.]

Prosecution of violators. Salary of secretary. Compensation for board. Affidavit.

§ 5. The board is authorized to prosecute all persons guilty of violation of the provisions of this act. It shall have the power to employ legal counsel for such purpose, and may also employ inspectors, special agents and investigators and such clerical assistance as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act. The board may fix the compensation to be paid for such service and may incur such other expenses as it may deem necessary. It shall also fix the salary of the secretary, not to exceed the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, and the sum to be paid to other members of the board, not to exceed ten dollars per diem each, for each and every day of actual service in the discharge of official duties; such service to include the attendance at special meetings of the board and committee meetings of the board and while actively engaged in the review of examination papers, based upon one per diem for each thirty papers or fraction thereof. Each member of the board shall make an affidavit before some duly authorized person in the state of California that such service has been actually performed; and the board may in its discretion, add to said sum necessary traveling expenses. [Amendment of April 24, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 186.]

Report of receipts. Use of contingent fund. Revolving fund.

§ 6. All fees collected on behalf of the board of medical examiners, and all receipts of every kind and nature, shall be reported at the beginning of each month, for the month preceding, to the state controller, and at the same time the entire amount of such collections shall be paid into the state treasury, and shall be credited to a fund to be known as the board of medical examiners' contingent fund, which fund is hereby created. Such contingent fund shall be for the uses of the board of medical examiners and out of it shall be paid all salaries and all other expenses necessarily incurred in carrying into effect the provisions of this act. An amount not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1000) may be drawn from the contingent fund herein created, to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary; but expenditures from such revolving fund must be substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements at the end of each fiscal year, or at any other time when demand therefor is made by the board of control.

Fee of applicant for certificate.

§ 7. Every applicant for a certificate shall pay to the secretary of the board a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25), which shall be paid to the treasurer of the board by said secretary. In case the applicant's credentials are insufficient or in case he does not desire to take the examination, the sum of ten dollars ($10) shall be retained, the remainder of the fee being returnable on application.

§ 8. Four forms of certificates shall be issued by said board under the seal thereof and signed by the president and secretary; first, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to use drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations in or upon human beings and to sever or penetrate the tissues of human beings and to use any and all other methods in the treatment of diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions, which certificate shall be designated "physician and surgeon certificate"; second, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions without the use of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations and without in any manner severing or penetrating any of the tissues of human beings except the severing of the umbilical cord, which certificate shall be designated "drugless practitioner's certificate"; third, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to practice chiropody; for the purpose of this act chiropody is defined to be the surgical treatment of abnormal nails and superficial excreescences occurring on the feet, such as corns, callosities, and the treatment of bunions; but it shall not confer the right to operate upon the feet for congenital or acquired deformities, or for conditions requiring the use of anesthetics other than local, or incisions involving structures below the level of the true skin; fourth, a certificate to practice midwifery which shall be in the form designated by the board and in conformity with this act. Such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to attend cases of childbirth. As used in this act, the practice of midwifery means the furthering or undertaking by any person to assist a woman in normal childbirth, but it does not include at any childbirth the use of any instrument, except such instrument as is necessary in severing the umbilical cord, nor the assisting of childbirth by any artificial, forcible or mechanical means, nor the performance of any version, nor the removal of adherent placenta, nor the administering, prescribing, advising or employing in child-birth of any drug, other than a disinfectant or cathartic. The provisions hereof shall not authorize any midwife to practice medicine and surgery. A "reciprocity certificate" shall also be issued under the provisions hereinafter specified. Any of these certificates on being recorded in the office of the county clerk, as hereinafter provided, shall constitute the holder thereof a duly licensed practitioner in accordance with the provisions of his certificate. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 96.]

Applicants must file testimonials, diplomas, etc. In lieu of diplomas before July 1, 1918. Application on blank furnished by board. Preliminary education. In lieu of high school diploma. Work in physics, chemistry and biology. Preliminary education for chiropodist.

§ 9. Every applicant must file with the board, at least two weeks prior to the regular meeting thereof, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, the requirements of which school or schools shall have been at the time of granting such diploma or diplomas in no degree less than those required under this act, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas, and must file an affidavit stating that he is the person named in said diploma or diplomas, and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation; provided, that in addition thereto, each applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" must show that he has attended four courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously, or consecutively, and that at least ten months shall have intervened between the beginning of any course and the beginning of the preceding course; Provided, further, that an applicant for a "drugless practitioner certificate" must show that he has attended two courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously or consecutively, and that at least ten months shall have intervened between the beginning of any course and the beginning of the preceding course; the course in chiropody is to consist of not less than thirty-nine weeks consisting of not less than six hundred sixty-four hours; provided, further, that an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery must show that the applicant has attended a one-year course in a hospital recognized as reputable by the board, and that a course of instruction in anatomy, physiology, obstetrics and hygiene and sanitation as set forth in section ten hereof has been taken, covering a period of one year; provided, further, that in lieu thereof, an applicant who can submit satisfactory proof of the possession of a diploma from a recognized reputable hospital, and who in addition thereto has attended a course of instruction in the subjects enumerated in section ten hereof and satisfactory proof that such instruction has been taken covering a period of at least three months; and provided, further, that in lieu thereof an applicant may present proof satisfactory to the board that the applicant has taken a course of instruction with the minimum requirements as designated in section ten of any school or schools approved by the board as giving a course of instruction in said subjects for a certificate to practice medicine and surgery; provided, also, that before July 1, 1918, in lieu of the diploma or diplomas and preliminary requirements herein referred to where the applicant can show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners that he has taken courses hereinafter required in a school or schools approved by the board totaling for applicants for "drugless practitioner certificate" not less than sixty-four weeks consisting of not less than two thousand hours and for "physician and surgeon certificate" totaling not less than one hundred twenty-eight weeks consisting of not less than four thousand hours, it being required that all applicants shall have received passing grades in all such courses, that the applicant or applicants shall be admitted to examination for their respective form of certificates.

The said application shall be made upon a blank furnished by said board and it shall contain such information concerning the medical instruction and the preliminary education of the applicant as the board may by rule prescribe. In addition to the requirements hereinabove provided for, applicants for any form of certificate hereunder shall present to said board at the time of making such application a diploma from a California high school or other school in the state of California requiring and giving a full four years' course of same grade, or other schools elsewhere, requiring and giving a full four years' standard high school course, or its equivalent, approved by the board, together with satisfactory proof that he is the lawful holder of such diploma, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction. The passing of an examination before the entrance examining board for the entrance to the academic department of the University of California, or Stanford University or the University of Southern California, or the possession of documentary evidence of admission to the academic department of such institutions as a regular student or in full standing shall be sufficient basic or preliminary educational qualifications. In lieu of such diploma, the applicant may present: (1) a certificate from the college entrance examination board, or the college examining board of any state or territory showing that such applicant has successfully passed the examination of said board; or (2) if such applicant be thirty years or more of age he may show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners proof of preliminary education equivalent in training power to the foregoing requirements. After January 1, 1919, every applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" shall in addition to the foregoing requirements, present to the board satisfactory evidence that before beginning the last half of the second year in the study of medicine he has completed a course which includes at least one year of work, of college grade, in each of the subjects of physics, chemistry and biology. The preliminary or basic educational requirements for a chiroprapist shall be as follows: On and after July 1, 1915, the successful completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1918, two years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1920, three years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1922, four years of high school work or its equivalent.

The preliminary or basic educational qualifications for an applicant to practice midwifery in this state shall be the completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent, and after October, 1918, the presentation to the board of a diploma from a California high school giving a full four years' standard high school course or its equivalent. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 97.]

Board must approve schools meeting requirements. Action in event of disapproval.

§ 10½. The board must approve every school which shall comply with the requirements of section ten of this act and must admit to the examination every applicant who shall comply with the requirements of sections nine and ten of this act. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the board from considering the quality of the course of instruction outlined in section ten hereof. If any school should be disapproved by the board or any applicant for examination rejected by it, then such school so disapproved or such applicant so rejected may commence an action in the superior court against said board to compel the board to approve such school or to admit such applicant to examination or for any other appropriate relief. In any such action, the court shall have full power to investigate and decide all facts anew without regard to any previous determination of the board thereon. Such action shall be speedily determined by said court and shall take precedence over all matters pending therein save and except criminal cases, applications for injunction or other matters to which special precedence may be given by law. [New section added May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1299.]

Additional requirements for physicians and surgeons.

§ 11. In addition to above requirements, all applicants for "physician and surgeon certificate" must pass an examination to be given by the board in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology.
3. Bacteriology and pathology.
4. Chemistry and toxicology.
5. Obstetrics and gynecology.
6. Materia medica and therapeutics, pharmacology, including prescription writing.
7. General medicine, including clinical microscopy.
8. Surgery.
9. Hygiene and sanitation.

For drugless practitioners.

All applicants for "drugless practitioner certificates" must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology.
3. General diagnosis.
4. Pathology and elementary bacteriology.
5. Obstetrics and gynecology.
6. Toxicology and elementary chemistry.
7. Hygiene and sanitation.

Exceptions.

Provided, that a person who holds a "drugless practitioner certificate," issued upon satisfactory proof of the course of instruction and minimum requirements demanded in section ten hereof and who presents evidence of having successfully completed the additional courses required for the "physician and surgeon certificate" as hereinbefore provided, shall be permitted to take his examination in subjects required for a "physician and surgeon certificate" without being re-examined in "drugless practitioner" subjects.

The subjects for such examination shall be:

1. Advanced chemistry.
2. Advanced bacteriology.
3. Surgery.

4. Materia medica and therapeutics, pharmacology, including prescription writing.
5. General medicine, including clinical microscopy.

Examination for chiroprodists.

All applicants for a certificate to practice chiroprody must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology, chemistry and hygiene.
3. Pathology and bacteriology.
4. Dermatology and syphilis.
5. Orthopedics and surgery.
6. Chiroprody and therapeutics.

Examination for midwives.

All applicants for a certificate to practice midwifery must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and physiology.
2. Obstetrics.
3. Hygiene and sanitation.

Character of examinations. Use of. Average required. Re-examination. Admission to drugless practitioner examination. Admission to practice without examination.

All examinations shall be practical in character and designed to ascertain the applicant's fitness to practice his profession, and shall be conducted in the English language, and at least a portion of the examination in each of the subjects shall be in writing. The board in its discretion upon the submission of satisfactory proof from the applicant that he is unable to meet the requirements of the examination in the English language, may allow the use of an interpreter either to be present in the examination room or to thereafter interpret and transcribe the answers of the applicant. The selection of such interpreter is to be left entirely to the board and the expenses thereof to be borne by the applicant, the payment therefor to be made before such examination is held. There shall be at least ten questions on each subject, the answers to which shall be marked on a scale of zero to one hundred. Each applicant must obtain no less than a general average of seventy-five per cent, and not less than sixty per cent in any two subjects; provided, that any applicant shall be granted a credit of one per cent upon the general average for each year of actual practice since graduation; provided, further, that any applicant for "physician and surgeon certificate" obtaining seventy-five per cent each in seven subjects and any applicant for "drugless practitioner certificate" obtaining seventy-five per cent each in five subjects and an applicant for a certificate to practice chiroprody obtaining over seventy-five per cent in seven subjects, and an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery obtaining seventy-five per cent in one subject, shall be subsequently re-examined in those subjects only in which he failed, and without additional fee. Any person who at any time prior to January 1, 1916, shall pay to the secretary of said board the fee of twenty-five dollars and submits satisfactory proof of good moral character and of a resident one-year course of not less than one thousand hours in a legally chartered school approved by the board and satisfactory proof of three years of actual practice of a drugless system of the healing art, such three years of actual practice to have been in the state of California, shall be admitted to the drugless practitioner examination; provided, however, that in the event of a license being granted to such applicant he will not be eligible thereafter for the physician's and surgeon's certificate without a full and complete compliance with the terms and provisions of sections nine and ten hereof. Any one who shall pay the fee of fifty dollars to the secretary of the board prior to January 1, 1916, and submits to the board satisfactory proof of good moral character and proof of six years' actual practice of a drugless system of the healing art, three years of which must have been in the state of California, and satisfactory proof of a resident one-year course of not less than one thousand hours in a legally chartered school approved by the board and upon proof of competency in a drugless system may be granted a certificate to practice a drugless system in this state; provided, however, that such licensee shall not be permitted to take the physician's and surgeon's examination without a full and complete compliance with the terms of sections nine and ten hereof.

Examination papers kept on file. Secretary not to be an examiner.

The examination papers shall form a part of the records of the board, and shall be kept on file by the secretary for a period of one year after each examination. In said examination the applicant shall be known and designated by number only, and the name attached to the number shall be kept secret until after the board has finally voted upon the application. The secretary of the board shall in no instance participate as an examiner in any examination held by the board. All questions on any subject in which examination is required under this act shall be provided by the board of medical examiners upon the morning of the day upon which examination is given in such subject, and when it shall be shown that the secretary or any member of the board has in any manner given information in advance of or during examination to any applicant it shall be the duty of the governor to remove such person from the board of medical examiners, or from the office of secretary.

Form of certificates.

All certificates issued hereunder must state the extent and character of practice which is permitted thereunder and shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the board. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 102.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 191.

Army and navy surgeons authorized to practice. Fee. When certificate may be refused. Exceptions.

§ 12. Any medical director, medical inspector, passed assistant surgeon, or assistant surgeon of the United States navy, honorably discharged or temporarily detached, or placed upon the retired list without being discharged or on active duty, from the medical department of the United States navy, or who by resignation has honorably severed all connection with the service, and any surgeon of the United States army, honorably discharged, or temporarily detached or placed upon the retired list without being discharged or on active duty from the medical department of the United States army, or who by resignation has honorably severed all connection with the service and any commissioned officer, viz.: surgeon general, assistant surgeon general, senior surgeon, surgeon, passed assistant surgeon and assistant surgeon of the United States public health service on active duty with such service, temporarily detached or who has honorably severed all connection with the United States public health service, is hereby authorized to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California by filing a sworn copy of his discharge, if he be discharged, or of the order temporarily detaching him or the order placing him upon the retired list, with the state board of medical examiners or by proving to the satisfaction of the board that by resignation he has honorably left the service of either the army or navy, and paying said board a fee of fifty dollars; provided, that when it appears to the satisfaction of the board, that in the year in which the applicant was appointed or commissioned in the United States army, navy or public health service, that the requirements of such service for such appointment or commission, were in any degree or particular less than those which were required for the issuance of a similar certificate to practice in California at the date of such issuance, then the board in its discretion may refuse to issue such certificate; provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any contract surgeon in the United States army, navy or public health service, and shall not apply to any officer of the medical reserve corps of said army, navy or public health service. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect August 8, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 104.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 193.

Chiropody certificate for persons already practicing.

§ 12½. Any person who at any time within ninety days from and after the passing of this act shall pay to said board, the registration fee of fifty dollars, as herein provided, and furnish to said board satisfactory proof of the fact that such applicant has been actually engaged in the practice of chiropody in the state of California for the period of one year prior to July 1, 1915, and that such applicant possesses a good moral character and competency in the practice of chiropody, shall be entitled to practice chiropody, and said board must issue to him a chiropody certificate.

Midwifery certificate to persons already practicing.

Any person who at any time within one hundred eighty days from and after the passing of this act shall pay to said board the registration fee of twenty dollars as herein provided, and furnish to said board satisfactory proof that such applicant has been actually engaged in the practice of midwifery in the state of California for at least a period of one year, and that such applicant possesses a good moral character and competency in the practice of midwifery, shall be entitled to practice midwifery, and said board must issue to such applicant a midwifery certificate.

Proof of actual practice. Investigation upon moral character. Refund. Applicants licensed to practice osteopathy. Examination. Fee.

The actual practice referred to herein shall consist in satisfactory proof that the applicant has attended at least twenty-five cases of labor and has had the care of at least twenty-five mothers and new-born infants during the lying-in period. The lying-in period referred to herein shall consist of a period of ten days following delivery. The good moral character referred to herein shall be evidenced by the certificates of two physicians and surgeons or practitioners licensed under this or any preceding medical practice act of this state, and the certificate of one layman, preferably a clergyman, priest, rabbi or recognized minister of the gospel. The competency referred to herein shall be evidenced by affidavits of reputable citizens preferably physicians of the vicinity wherein the applicant has recently resided. The board, however, may disregard such certificates and in its discretion may give an oral, practical or clinical examination. The proof of the attendance and completion of the twenty-five cases of labor referred to herein shall be evidenced, if the board shall so require of any applicant, by the submission of the name of the mother, and a reference to the birth certificate required under the law. The board shall have the power to disregard the certificates of moral character referred to herein and may order that an investigation under the direction of the board be held upon the moral character of the applicant. If the said investigation should result in an adverse report to applicant, the applicant shall be entitled to a hearing before said board and after such hearing the board shall be the judges of the moral fitness of the applicant to receive a certificate to practice midwifery. In the event that a certificate to practice midwifery shall not be granted under the provisions of this section, the applicant will be entitled to a refund of ten dollars. Any person who files an application for a "physician and surgeon certificate" two weeks prior to a regular or special meeting, and who submits satisfactory proof to the board that the applicant has been licensed to practice osteopathy under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the state of California and to provide for the state board of osteopathic examiners, and to license osteopaths who practice in this state, and to punish persons violating the provisions of this act," which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval March 9, 1901, or who submits satisfactory proof that the applicant has been licensed to practice osteopathy under an act entitled "An act to provide for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation, approved March 14, 1907, and who submits satisfactory testimonials of good moral character and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation, and that the applicant has complied with the provisions of sections nine, ten and eleven of this act, may be granted an oral, practical or clinical examination for the "physician and surgeon certificates"; provided, that the board must accept in lieu thereof the educational qualifications enumerated in this section or in sections nine, ten and eleven of this act satisfactory proof to the board of actual practice in the system of treatment known and designated as osteopathy for a period of four years, and upon the presentation of such proof the applicant will be entitled to an oral, practical or clinical examination for a "physician and surgeon certificate." The fee for filing such application shall be twenty-five dollars, fifteen dollars to be returned to the applicant in the event that a certificate is not issued under the provisions hereof. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 105.]

This was a new section added April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 194.

Certificates to applicants licensed to practice since August 1, 1901. Requirements must be as high as for California certificate. Contracts of reciprocity. Applicant with certificate prior to August 1, 1901. Examination. Fee.

§ 13. Said board must also issue a certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted recognized by this act or any preceding practice act in the state of California to any applicant, without any examination, authorizing the holder thereof to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California, upon payment of a registration fee of one hundred dollars, upon the following terms and conditions and upon satisfactory proof thereof, viz.: The applicant shall produce a certificate entitling him to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted, as provided in this act or any preceding practice act of the state of California, issued either by the medical examining board, or by any other board or officer authorized by the law to issue a certificate entitling such applicant to practice a system or mode for treating the sick or afflicted either in the District of Columbia or in any state or territory of the United States, or if such certificate shall have been lost, then a copy thereof, with proof satisfactory to the board of medical examiners of the state of California that the copy is a correct copy. Said certificate must not have been issued to such applicant prior to the first day of August, 1901, and the requirements from the college from which such applicant may have graduated, and the requirements of the board which was legally authorized to issue such certificate permitting such applicant to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted shall not have been at the time such certificate was issued, in any degree or particular less than those which were required for the issuance of a similar certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California at the date of the issuance of such certificate, or which may hereafter be required by law and which may be in force at the date of the issuance of any such certificate; and provided, further, that said applicant shall furnish from the board which issued said certificate, evidence satisfactory to the board of medical examiners of the state of California showing what the requirements were of the college and of the board, issuing such certificate at the date of such issuance. If, after an examination of such certificate, and the production on the part of the applicant of such further reasonable evidence of the said requirements as may be deemed necessary by the board of medical examiners of the state of California and any other or further examination or investigation which said board may see fit to make on its own part, it shall be found that the requirements of the board issuing such certificate were, when said certificate was issued, in any degree or particular less than the requirements provided by the law of the state of California at the date of the issuance of such certificate or that the applicant has not been a resident of the state from which the application is based for a period of one year subsequent to the issuance of such certificate he will not be entitled to practice within the state of California without an examination. An oral examination shall not be deemed to be of equal merit with a written examination and no certificate shall be issued in the case where a written examination was given in California and an applicant was given an oral examination in another state at the same time. The board is hereby authorized to enter into a contract or contracts of reciprocity with other states wherein the standard of such states is not in any degree or particular less than were the requirements in the state of California in the same year, for the issuance of a certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted, such certificate to be similar in scope of practice as the certificate issued in the other state; provided, however, that an application based upon a certificate to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted issued in the District of Columbia or in any state or territory prior to March 4, 1907, if refused or denied by reason of the insufficiency of the standard of such state or territory then such applicant may have the privilege of either a written or oral examination before the board at the option of the applicant. Any person may file an application with the said board to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California, in the event that such applicant has been duly licensed prior to August 1, 1901, and has practiced medicine and surgery in another state or territory, or the District of Columbia, for a period of time commencing prior to the first day of August, 1901. Such application shall be verified and shall contain a statement showing: (a) the full name of the applicant; (b) all institutions at which he has studied and the period of such study, and all institutions from which he has graduated (c) a statement of whatever certificate or certificates to practice medicine and surgery may have been issued to him, together with the date of such certificate and a description of the same, and, if required by the board, the certificates themselves, or satisfactory proof of their issuance; (d) a statement of all places in which said applicant has practiced medicine and surgery; (e) such other general information as to his past practice, as may be required by the said board. The said board shall make such independent investigation of the character, ability and standing of the applicant as it may deem proper and necessary, and if it shall find after such investigation that said applicant has been a practicing physician and surgeon in any other state or territory or the District of Columbia, prior to August 1, 1901, and prior to said last named date has been duly licensed so to practice, and that his reputation as such physician and surgeon is good in the community in which he has so practiced medicine and surgery, and has been a resident of his last state of residence for a period of one year prior to date of filing his application in the state of California, they shall afford him an examination on a day suiting the convenience of the board not more than six months subsequent to the presentation of said application. Said examination shall be oral, practical, and clinical in nature, and full consideration shall be given to the duration and character of the applicant's practice. If after such last mentioned examination it is determined by a majority vote of the said medical examiners conducting said examination, that such applicant is so qualified to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California, and that his reputation and standing in the community in which he has previously practiced is good, the said applicant shall be entitled to receive a "physician and surgeon certificate." Each applicant on making such application shall pay to the secretary of the board, a fee of one hundred dollars, which shall be paid to the treasurer of the board, of which sum ninety dollars shall be returned to him should he not receive a certificate hereunder. All certificates issued pursuant to this section shall be marked across the face thereof "reciprocity certificate." Any person granted a "reciprocity certificate" to practice any system or mode for treating the sick or afflicted recognized by this or any preceding medical practice act in this state, such certificates not being of equal scope with the certificates known and designated as the "physician and surgeon certificate," will not be eligible for the "physician and surgeon certificate" as designated in this act without a full and complete compliance with the terms and provisions of sections nine, ten and eleven hereof. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 107.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 194.

Refusal of certificate for unprofessional conduct. Refusal to obey subpoena. Charges deemed sufficient. Revocation of certificate for unprofessional conduct. Facts entered on register.

§ 14. Said board must refuse a certificate to any applicant guilty of unprofessional conduct. On the filing with the secretary of a sworn complaint, charging the applicant with having been guilty of unprofessional conduct, the secretary must forthwith issue a citation, under the seal of the board and make the same returnable at the next regular session of said board, occurring at least thirty days next after filing the complaint. Such citation shall notify the applicant when and where the charges of said unprofessional conduct will be heard, and that the applicant shall file his written answer, under oath, within twenty days next after the service on him of said citation or that default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing may be compelled by subpoenas issued by the secretary of the board under its seal. Said citation and said subpoenas shall be served in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to the service of citation and subpoenas generally, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpoenas and to citations are hereby made applicable to the subpoenas and citations provided for herein. Upon the secretary's certifying to the fact of refusal of any person to obey a subpoena or citation to the superior court of the county in which the service was had, said court shall thereupon proceed to hear said matter in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to contempts for disobedience of process of the court, and should said court find that the subpoena or citation has been legally served, and that the party so served has wilfully disobeyed the same, it shall proceed to impose such penalty as provided in cases of contempt of court. In all cases of alleged unprofessional conduct, arising under this act, depositions of witnesses may be taken, the same as in civil cases and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force as to the taking of depositions are hereby made applicable to the taking of depositions under this act. If the applicant shall fail to file with the secretary of said board his answer, under oath, within twenty days after service on him of said citation, or within such further time as the board may allow, and the charges on their face shall be deemed sufficient by the board, default shall be entered against him, and his application refused. If the charges on their face be deemed sufficient by the board, and issue be joined thereon by answer, the board shall proceed to determine the matter, and to that end shall hear such proper evidence as may be adduced before it; and if it appear to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty as charged, no certificate shall be issued to him. Whenever any holder of a certificate herein provided for is guilty of unprofessional conduct, as the same is defined in this act, and the said unprofessional conduct has been brought to the attention of the board granting said certificate, in the manner hereinafter provided or whenever a certificate has been procured by fraud or misrepresentation, or issued by mistake, or the person holding such certificate is found to be practicing contrary to the provisions thereof and of this act, it shall be the duty of said board either to suspend the right of the holder of said certificate to practice for a period not exceeding one year, or in its discretion to revoke his certificate. In the event of such suspension, the holder of such certificate shall not be entitled to practice thereunder during the term of suspension; but, upon the expiration of the term of said suspension, he shall be reinstated by the board and shall be entitled to resume his practice, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the board that said person so suspended from practice, has, during the term of such suspension, practiced in the state of California, in which event the board shall revoke the certificate of such person. No such suspension or revocation shall be made unless such holder is cited to appear and the same proceedings are had as is hereinbefore provided in this section in case of refusal to issue certificates. Said secretary in all cases of suspension or revocation shall enter on his register the fact of such suspension or revocation, as the case may be, and shall certify the fact of such suspension or revocation under the seal of the board, to the county clerk of the counties in which the certificates of the person whose certificate has been revoked is recorded; and said clerk must thereupon write upon the margin or across the face of his register of the certificate of such person, the following: "The holder of this certificate was on the day of suspended for,," or, "This certificate was revoked on the day of,," as the case may be, giving the day, month and year of such revocation or length of suspension, as the case may be, in accordance with said certification to him by said secretary. The record of such suspension or revocation so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the fact thereof, and of the regularity of all the proceedings of said board in the matter of said suspension or revocation. The words "unprofessional conduct" as used in this act, are hereby declared to mean:

Unprofessional conduct defined.

First. The procuring or aiding or abetting or attempting or agreeing or offering to procure a criminal abortion.

Second. The wilfully betraying of a professional secret.

Third. All advertising of medical business which is intended or has a tendency to deceive the public or impose upon credulous or ignorant persons, and so be harmful or injurious to public morals or safety.

Fourth. All advertising of any medicine or of any means whereby the monthly periods of women can be regulated or the menses re-established if suppressed.

Fifth. Conviction of any offense involving moral turpitude in which case the record of such conviction shall be conclusive evidence.

Sixth. Habitual intemperance or excessive use of cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, novocaine or chloral hydrate or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or the prescribing, selling, furnishing, giving away or offering to prescribe, sell, furnish, or give away such substances to a habitue who is not under the direct personal and continuous treatment and care of the physician for the cure of the above-mentioned drugs.

Seventh. The personation of another licensed practitioner or permitting or allowing another person to use his certificate in the practice of any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted.

Eighth. The use, by the holder of any certificate, in any sign or advertisement in connection with his said practice or in any advertisement or announcement of his practice, of any fictitious name, or any name other than his own.

Ninth. The use, by the holder of a "drugless practitioner certificate" of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations, in or upon any human being, or the severing or penetrating by the holder of said "drugless practitioner certificate" of the tissues of any human being in the treatment of any disease, injury, deformity, or other physical or mental condition of such human being, excepting the severing of the umbilical cord.

Tenth. Advertising, announcing or stating, directly, indirectly, or in substance, by any sign, card, newspaper, advertisement or other written or printed sign or advertisement, that the holder of such certificate or any other person, company, or association by which he is employed or in whose service he is, will cure or attempt to cure, or will treat, any venereal disease, or will cure or attempt to cure or treat any person or persons for any sexual disease, for lost manhood, sexual weakness, or sexual disorder or any disease of the sexual organs; or being employed by, or being in the service of, any person, firm, association, or corporation so advertising, announcing or stating.

Eleventh. The use by the holder of any certificate of any letter, letters, word, words, or term or terms used either as prefix or affix or suffix indicating that such certificate holder is entitled to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted for which he was not licensed in the state of California.

Twelfth. The employment of "cappers" or "steerers" or other persons in procuring practice for a practitioner for a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted provided for in this act.

Unprofessional conduct: midwifery.

Thirteenth. The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked when it appears to the satisfaction of the board that in any case or cases that the licentiate may have treated, that due caution and circumspection was not used or that the holder of said certificate in its treatment of any case or cases had not used proper aseptic and antiseptic precautions.

Fourteenth. The certificate to practice midwifery herein may be revoked upon conviction for the violation of any health statute, order or ordinance or for the neglect or refusal to comply with the health rules and regulations of any state, county, city and county, city or township.

Fifteenth. The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by any midwife in any case of labor in which case there is a complicated vertex presentation in which said licentiate did not call or attempt to call a licentiate licensed to practice a system including the practice of obstetrics under this act or any preceding medical practice act in this state.

Sixteenth. The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case which during pregnancy has, or develops any of the following conditions: a contracted pelvis or other deformity that will interfere with labor; bleeding from the uterus; swelling of the face and hands; excessive vomiting; persistent headache; dimness of vision; convulsions; or for failure to call or summons a physician if any of the following conditions exist or develop at the beginning of or during labor: Complicated presentation of a vertex (head); convulsions, excessive bleeding; prolapse of the cord; a swelling or tumor that obstructs the birth of the child; signs of exhaustion or collapse; unduly prolonged labor; or the failure to refer to a licentiate in this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case, which during the lying-in period, develops the following conditions: Convulsions; excessive bleeding; foul smelling discharge (lochia); persistent rise of temperature to one hundred one degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-four hours; swelling and redness of the breasts; severe chill (rigor) with rise of temperature; inability to nurse the child; or for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case where the child has or develops any of the following conditions: Deformities or malformations or injuries; inability to suckle or nurse; inflammation around or discharge from the navel; swelling and redness of the eyelids with a discharge of pus from the eyes (ophthalmia neonatorum); bleeding from the mouth, navel or bowels, inability to urinate.

Seventeenth. The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by the said midwife licentiate known as the introduction of the hand into the vagina or uterus to remove placenta or membranes.

Eighteenth. The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the failure to have the following equipment (in each case): Nail brush; wooden or bone nail cleaner; jar of green or soft castile soap; rubber gloves; tube of sterile vaseline, clinical thermometer; agate or glass douche reservoir; two rounded vaginal douche nozzles; two rectal nozzles, large and small; one soft rubber catheter; blunt scissors for cutting cord; either lysol, carbolic acid or bichloride of mercury tablets; boric acid powder; one per cent solution of nitrate of silver; medicine dropper; narrow tape or soft twine for tying cord; absorbent cotton (preferably in one-quarter pound packages); no other instruments are to be used, owned or possessed by a midwife. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 109.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 196.

Certificates to be recorded.

§ 15. Every person holding a certificate under the laws of this state authorizing him to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state must have it recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county or counties in which the holder of said certificate is practicing his profession, and the fact of such recordation shall be endorsed on the certificate by the county clerk recording the same. Any person holding a certificate as aforesaid, who shall practice or attempt to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state, without having first filed his certificate with the county clerk, as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as hereinafter designated in this act. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 113.]

County clerk's record of certificates.

§ 16. The county clerk shall keep [in] a book provided for the purpose a complete list of the certificates recorded by him, with the date of the record; and said book shall be open to public inspection during his office hours.

Practice without license. Penalty.

§ 17. Any person who shall practice or attempt to practice, or who advertises or holds himself out as practicing, any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state, or who shall diagnose, treat, operate for, or prescribe for, any disease, injury, deformity, or other mental or physical condition of any person, without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certificate as provided in this act, or who shall in any sign or in any advertisement use the word "doctor," the letters or prefix "Dr.," the letters "M. D.," or any other term or letters indicating or implying that he is a doctor, physician, surgeon or practitioner, under the terms of this or any other act, or that he is entitled to practice hereunder, or under any other law without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certificate as provided in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as designated in this act. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 114.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 199.

Penalty for selling certificate. Altering of certificate. Practice under false name. Records of associates of practitioner.

§ 18. Any person, or any member of any firm, or official of any company, association, organization or corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable as designated in this act, who, individually or in his official capacity, shall himself sell or barter, or offer to sell or barter, any certificate authorized to be granted hereunder, or any diploma, affidavit, transcript, certificate or any other evidence required in this act for use in connection with the granting of certificates or diplomas, or who shall purchase or procure the same either directly or indirectly with intent that the same shall be fraudulently used, or who shall with fraudulent intent alter any diploma, certificate, transcript, affidavit, or any other evidence to be used in obtaining a diploma or certificate required hereunder or who shall use or attempt to use fraudulently any certificate, transcript, affidavit, or diploma, whether the same be genuine or false, or who shall practice or attempt to practice any system or treatment of the sick or afflicted, under a false or assumed name, or any name other than that prescribed by the board of medical examiners of the state of California on its certificate issued to such person authorizing him to administer such treatment, or who shall assume any degree or title not conferred upon him in the manner and by the authority recognized in this act, with intent to represent falsely that he has received such degree or title, or who shall wilfully make any false statement on any application for examination, license or registration under this act, or who shall engage in the treatment of the sick or afflicted without causing to be displayed in a conspicuous manner and in a conspicuous place in his office the name of each and every person who is associated with or employed by him in the practice of medicine and surgery or other treatment of the sick or afflicted, or who shall, within ten days after demand made by the secretary of the board, fail to furnish to said board the name and address of all such persons associated with or employed by him or by any company or association with which he is or has been connected at any time within sixty days prior to said notice, together with a sworn statement showing under and by what license or authority said person or persons, or said employee or employees, is or are, or has or have been practicing medicine or surgery, or any other system of treatment of the sick or afflicted. It shall be the duty of any person or persons upon whom the board of medical examiners may make a demand for the name or names and address or addresses of a person or persons associated or employed by him or them to make affidavit that there are no such person or persons associated or employed by him or them, if such be the fact; provided, that such affidavit shall not be used as evidence against said person or employee in any proceedings under this action. [Amendment of April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 114.]

This section was also amended April 24, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 199.

Filing false certificate, felony.

§ 19. Every person filing for record, or attempting to file for record, the certificate issued to another, falsely claiming himself to be the person named in or entitled to, such certificate, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to such penalties as are provided by the laws of this state for the crime of forgery.

Impersonating member of board.

§ 20. Any person not a member of the state board of medical examiners who shall sign, or issue, or cause to be signed or issued, any certificate authorized by this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than six hundred ($600.00), or by imprisonment for a term not less than sixty (60) nor more than one hundred and eighty (180) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The title of the amending act of 1917 recites that this section is amended, but no such amendment appears in the body of the act.

Certificates heretofore issued not revoked.

§ 21. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the practice by any person holding an unrevoked certificate heretofore issued under or validated by any medical practice act of this state, but all such certificates may be revoked for unprofessional conduct in the same manner and upon the same grounds as if they had been issued under this act.

To whom act is not applicable.

§ 22. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit service in the case of emergency, or the domestic administration of family remedies; nor shall this act apply to any commissioned medical officer in the United States army, navy or marine hospital, or public health service, in the discharge of his official duties; nor to any licensed dentist when engaged exclusively in the practice of dentistry. Nor shall this act apply to any practitioner from another state or territory, when in actual consultation with a licensed practitioner of this state, if such practitioner is, at the time of such consultation, a licensed practitioner in the state or territory in which he resides; provided, that such practitioner shall not open an office or appoint a place to meet patients or receive calls within the limits of this state. Nor shall this act be construed so as to discriminate against any particular school of medicine or surgery, or any other treatment, nor to regulate, prohibit or to apply to, any kind of treatment by prayer, nor to interfere in any way with the practice of religion. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent a student regularly matriculated in any legally chartered school or schools approved by the board from treating without compensation to such student the sick or afflicted as a part of his course of study. [Amendment of May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1297.]

Repealed.

§ 23. An act entitled "An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation," approved March 14, 1907, as amended by a certain act approved March 19, 1909, as amended by a certain act approved May 1, 1911, is hereby repealed, and also all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Title of act. Penalties. Disposition of fines.

§ 24. This act when referred to, cited or amended may be designated as the state medical practice act, and for a violation of any provision of this act, the said violator shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless otherwise specifically provided in this act, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than six hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term of not less than sixty days nor more than one hundred eighty days or by both such fine and imprisonment. The fines or forfeitures of bail in any case wherein any person is charged with a violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid upon the collection by the proper officer of the court seventy-five per cent thereof to the state treasurer to be deposited to the credit of the contingent fund of the board of medical examiners and such payment to said treasurer shall be made without placing such fine or forfeiture of bail in any special or contingent or general fund of any county, city and county, city, or township. The balance or twenty-five per cent of such fines or forfeitures of bail shall be paid to the county wherein the case is pending. [New section added April 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 115.]

1. Constitutionality—Federal constitution.—The practice of medicine, Act of June 2, 1913, is not invalid and in violation of the federal constitution.—Ex parte Chow Juyan, 235 Fed. 1014.

2. Same—Legislative power to create offices of medical examiners.—The legislature was empowered to create the offices of medical examiners, and since they were not constitutional offices, to provide for the manner of filling them.—Ex parte Gerino, 143 Cal. 412.

3. Same—Does not confer judicial powers on medical board.—The Practice of Medicine Act of 1915 is not unconstitutional on the ground that it confers judicial powers upon the board.—Lanterman v. Anderson, 36 Cal. App. 472, 172 Pac. 625.

4. Same—Police power—Appointment of members of medical board.—In the exercise of its police power the state may provide medical examining boards to examine persons seeking to be admitted to practice medicine, the same to be appointed by any citizen or citizens named.—Ex parte Frazer, 54 Cal. 94.

5. Same—Title sufficient.—The title of the act sufficiently indicates its subject, and there is no conflict with the title in the body of the act, or not within its scope.—People v. Ah Fong, 25 Cal. App. 724; People v. Chong, 28 Cal. App. 121.

6. Same—Same.—The title of the act (1913-722) is sufficiently expressive of the subject matter to satisfy the requirements of section 24, article IV of the constitution.—People v. Jordan, 172 Cal. 391, 393, 156 Pac. 451; People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 156 Pac. 455; also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

7. Same—Same.—The title of the Medical Practice Act is sufficiently comprehensive to include the matters contained in section 17.—People v. T. Wah Hing, 32 Cal. App. Dec. 108.

8. Same—Discriminatory classification.—The act (1913-722) is not unconstitutional by reason of discriminatory classification of practitioners.—People v. Jordan, 172 Cal. 391, 395, 156 Pac. 451; People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 402, 156 Pac. 455; also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

9. Same—Grant of special privileges or immunities.—The act is not obnoxious to subdivision 19, section 25 of article IV of the constitution.—Ex parte Gerino, 143 Cal. 412.

10. Same—Grant of special privileges or immunities—Treatment by prayer.—The provision of the act of 1907, in effect permitting treatment by prayer does not render the act unconstitutional, by granting special privileges and immunities to some that are not granted to all, since in the nature of things the same privilege is granted to all.—Ex parte Bohannon, 14 Cal. App. 321.

11. Same—Revocation of certificate—Provision as to "advertising," etc., void.—The provision in the act of 1909 that "all advertising of medical business in which grossly improbable statements are made" shall constitute unprofessional conduct warranting revocation of the certificate, is void, because it leaves to the whim or caprice of the medical examiners the determination as to what statements are "grossly improbable."—Hewitt v. State Board, 148 Cal. 590.

12. Same—Unprofessional conduct—Revocation of certificate—Provisions of act belong to police power—Requirements.—Provisions for the revocation of the certificate of medical practitioners for "unprofessional conduct" belong to the police power, in order to produce a forfeiture of the right to practice must apply to matters of conduct declared with definiteness and certainty, so that those to be affected thereby may know what they are.—Hewitt v. State Board, 148 Cal. 590.

13. Same—Requirement of reciprocity certificate.—The requirement that no diploma shall be accepted unless issued by a medical board whose requirements at the time of the issuance of such diploma were "in no particular less than those prescribed by the Association of American Colleges for that year," is not a delegation of legislative power to such association, or void for that reason.—Arwine v. Board of Medical Examiners, 151 Cal. 499.

14. Same—Fitness of candidates and standard of colleges.—Sections 9 and 10 of the act are not unconstitutional because it vests the board of examiners with power to determine the fitness of candidates and the standard of colleges.—People v. Chong, 28 Cal. App. 121.

15. Same—Legislative power to impose restrictions for public good.—In matters relating to public health, the scientific correctness of the legislative body in imposing certain restrictions deemed to be for the public good is, generally speaking, open to review, and is a rule applicable to the legislative requirements as to examinations under the medical practice act.—People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 405, 156 Pac. 455; also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

16. Same—Equal protection of laws—Drugless practitioners.—The California medical practice act of 1913 as amended in 1915, is not invalid as denying the equal protection of the laws granted by the 14th amendment in the federal constitution, because it requires persons who practice drugless healing to obtain a drugless practitioner's certificate.—Crane v. Johnson, 242 U. S. 339, 61 L. ed. 348, 37 Sup. Ct. 176, Ann. Cas. 1917B, 796.

17. Same—Police Power—Drugless practitioners.—The exercise of its police power by the state of California in requiring that drugless practitioners who employ faith, hope and the processes of mental suggestion and mental adaptation in the treatment of disease, shall have completed a prescribed course of study and passed an examination, is proper and valid.—Crane v. Johnson, 242 U. S. 339, 61 L. ed. 348, 37 Sup. Ct. 176, Ann. Cas. 1917B, 796.

18. Same—Drugless practitioners—Subjects of examination reasonable.—The requirement that such subjects as histology, elementary chemistry, toxicology, physiology, elementary bacteriology, and pathology, in the examination to be taken by drugless healers, is not unreasonable.—People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 405, 156 Pac. 455; also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

19. Same—"Sever."—Section 8 of the act is not unconstitutional as an unrestricted invasion of the art of osteopathy, chiropractice, and mechanotherapy, in that it prevents practitioners of said systems of the healing art from practicing their profession "without in any manner severing or penetrating any of the tissues of the human being.—People v. Chong, 28 Cal. App. 121.

20. Same—Not special legislation—Act of 1876.—The medical practice act of 1876 held not unconstitutional as special legislation.—Ex parte Frazer, 54 Cal. 94.

21. Same—Supplemental act of 1877—Delegation of legislative power to declare act a misdemeanor.—The legislation can not delegate to the board of examiners the power to declare an act a misdemeanor, and if it were otherwise, and the board could establish a crime by rules and regulations, in the absence of such rules and regulations, no conviction could be had.—Ex parte McNulty, 77 Cal. 164.

22. Same—Same—Not proper exercise of police power.—A law punishing a medical practitioner as for a criminal offense for "unprofessional conduct," in advertising as a specialist, is not a proper exercise of the police power.—Ex parte McNulty, 77 Cal. 164.

23. Same — Same. — The amending and supplemental act of 1878 held not unconstitutional as a whole; quare, whether certain independent provisions are unconstitutional.—Ex parte McNulty, 77 Cal. 164.

24. Same — Case followed — Prosecution under medical practice act.—People v. Jordan, 172 Cal. 391, 156 Pac. 451, followed by People v. Eilersficken, 172 Cal. 815, 156 Pac. 458; People v. Williams, 172 Cal. 816, 156 Pac. 457.

25. Medical board—A state agency.—The board of medical examiners is a state agency for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, and is not the agencies of the medical societies by whom they are elected under the act of 1901 and the act is constitutional.—Ex parte Gerino, 143 Cal. 412.

26. Compliance with act—Right to license.—The right of an applicant to a certificate depends upon his compliance with the provisions of the act.—Arwine v. Board of Medical Examiners, 151 Cal. 499.

27. Reciprocity certificates—When sufficient.—One who relies on certificates from other states will not be entitled to a certificate in California in the absence of a showing that the boards of such other states granted licenses "only upon actual examination," or that the legal requirements were at the time the issuance of such certificates in no particular or degree less than the requirements in California.—Arwine v. Board of Medical Examiners, 151 Cal. 499.

28. Certificate does not relate back to date of application—Contract for services prior to issue.—A certificate will not relate back to the date of the application therefor, so as to authorize a physician to enter into a contract for professional services, although such certificate was paid for at the time of the application.—Gardner v. Tatum, 81 Cal. 370.

29. County physician need not be medical graduate.—A county physician need not be a graduate of a medical college or university, and it is sufficient if he has passed a satisfactory examination before the board of examiners, and is legally licensed to practice medicine under the laws of the state.—People v. Eichelroth, 78 Cal. 141.

30. Jurisdiction—Criminal prosecutions—Fairness of action of board not reviewable.—In a prosecution under the medical practice act, the only question with which the court is concerned is whether defendant is practicing without a license, not the fairness or unfairness of the state board in excluding defendant from examination.—People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 403, 156 Pac. 455.

Also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

31. Criminal prosecution—Only persons engaged in practice as a business liable.—In order to bring one within the penal provisions of the medical practice act it must appear that he is engaged in the line of work specified in the act, as a business, or is holding himself out as being so engaged.—Ex parte Greenall, 153 Cal. 767.

32. Practice without certificate unlawful whether gratuitous or not.—The act makes the practice of medicine unlawful without first obtaining the required certificate, whether gratuitous or not, or whatever may be the particular form of treatment used.—People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417; People v. Oakley, 30 Cal. App. 419.

33. Case of emergency—When treatment may be made by unlicensed physician.—A case of emergency authorizing medical treatment by another than a licensed physician, is one where the ordinary licensed physicians are not obtainable, and not one where they were present and had given up the patient as incurable.—People v. Lee Wah, 71 Cal. 80.

34. Osteopathy—Licensee not authorized to practice optometry.—A license to practice osteopathy under the medical practice act, does not authorize the licensee to practice optometry.—Ex parte Rust, 181 Cal. 73, 183 Pac. 548 (35 Cal. App. 422).

35. Drugless practitioners—"Sever."—The word "sever" means a severance by cutting and not a severance of tissues of human beings as drugless practitioners produce or cause by manipulation and adjustment.—Ex parte Chow Juyan, 235 Fed. 1014.

36. Information—Sufficiency.—An information which establishes that the defendant willfully and unlawfully practiced, attempted to practice and did advertise and hold himself out as practicing a system or mode of treating the sick and afflicted, without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certificate from the state board of medical examiners, sufficiently charges a violation of section 17 of that act.—People v. T. Wah Hing, 32 Cal. App. Dec. 108.

37. Same—Sufficient.—An information for a violation of the medical practice act of 1913 is not insufficient in attempting to identify the statute which the defendant is charged with violating by specifically pleading a portion of the act of 1907, since the language employed actually describes the offense set out in the latter act.—People v. Chow Juyan, 28 Cal. App. 124; People v. Chow Let, 28 Cal. App. 803.

38. Information imputing many offenses—Sufficiency of.—Information held sufficient to charge a violation of the medical practice act and not to be open to the criticism that it seeks to impute many offenses to defendant, because any one of the acts or omissions averred and conjunctively pleaded would suffice as the basis of an information.—People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 402, 156 Pac. 455.

Also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

39. Information—Negative averment as to possession of certificate.—An information which charges defendant with practicing medicine without a license contains a negative averment as to a fact peculiarly within defendant's knowledge, and he is required to disprove the same, and if he fails to do so the fact must be taken as true.—People v. Boo Doo Hong, 122 Cal. 606.

40. Complaint, sufficiency of—Attempting abortion.—A complaint charging a physician in the language of subdv. 1, section 12 of the medical practice act of 1915 with attempting a criminal abortion, is held sufficient without stating the particular acts required by the Penal Code.—Lantermann v. Anderson, 36 Cal. App. 472, 172 Pac. 625.

41. Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction.—The evidence examined and held to sustain the conviction in this case of a violation of the act.—People v. Ah Fong, 25 Cal. App. 724.

42. Evidence showing intent and motive—Testimony of prior acts.—In a prosecution under the medical practice act, testimony as to acts six months prior to the time fixed in the information was properly admitted as going to show intent and motive.—People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 403, 156 Pac. 455.

Also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

43. Evidence—"Treatments"—Not conclusions.—In a prosecution under the medical practice act, testimony that the witnesses had received "treatments," was not conclusions as to whether certain acts constituted "treatments" or not, and was properly admitted.—People v. Ratledge, 172 Cal. 401, 403, 156 Pac. 455.

Also, People v. Vermillion, 30 Cal. App. 417, 158 Pac. 504.

44. Same—Burden of proof—Possession of certificate.—In a prosecution for unlawfully practicing medicine the burden is upon the defendant to prove that he has a certificate; and when no proof is afforded, it is presumed that the defendant has no certificate.—People v. T. Wah Hing, 32 Cal. App. Dec. 108.

45. Same—Reciprocity certificate—Burden of proof.—Where an applicant had successfully passed the required examination, and had presented a diploma issued to him by a medical school, upon issue taken as to the sufficiency of such diploma, before he is entitled to have mandate to compel the issuance to him of the certificate to entitle him to practice in California, the burden is upon him to show that at the time the diploma was issued to him, the requirements of the medical school were in no particular less than those prescribed by the association of medical colleges for that year.—Arwine v. Board of Medical Examiners, 151 Cal. 499.

46. Same—Unprofessional conduct—Rule of uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—The rule that a person may not be convicted upon uncorroborative testimony of an accomplice, does not apply to a proceeding where the board of medical examiners to revoke the license of a physician on the ground of unprofessional misconduct.—Lantermann v. Anderson, 36 Cal. App. 472, 172 Pac. 625.

47. Jury trial—Conviction by police court without, invalid.—One charged with practicing medicine without a certificate from the board of examiners, is entitled to a jury trial, and if, after demand for and refusal of such a trial, a police court tries and convicts him, without a jury, he will be released on habeas corpus.—Ex parte Wong You Ting, 106 Cal. 296.

48. Certiorari—Revocation of certificate under void provision—Annulment.—The attempted revocation of the certificate under a void provision of the act will be annulled on certiorari.—Hewitt v. State Board, 148 Cal. 599.

49. Contract to render services by unlicensed physician.—A contract to render services as a physician and surgeon entered into by one who has not obtained a certificate entitling him to practice, is illegal, against public policy, and void, and no recovery can be had thereunder, although he might recover for services rendered under an implied contract, after procuring a certificate.—Gardiner v. Tatum, 81 Cal. 370.

ARMS FOR MILITARY ACADEMIES.

ACT 2849—An act to furnish arms for the use of military academies in the state.

History: Approved February 20, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 121.

Military academies. Majors.

§ 1. That when a military academy has been established within the state, having not less than eighty boys, uniformed, drilled, and instructed in strict accordance with the tactics of the regular United States army service, and all its course of education and economy conducted upon strict military principles, the military instructor of such academy, when regularly elected by the board of trustees or other lawful authority of the academy, be commissioned in the national guard of California, with the rank of major.

Bond and issue of arms, etc.

§ 2. That upon giving bond, with good security, to be approved by the county judge of the county where the academy is situated, conditioned for the safekeeping against fire, loss and against all damages, in twice the value, that arms and accoutrements, the property of the state, be issued for the use of such military academy.

Requisition.

§ 3. The adjutant-general of the state is hereby authorized to issue such arms and accoutrements as may be needed by the said military academies, without a monthly allowance, in the same manner as arms and accoutrements are issued to regular organized companies of the national guard of California, upon requisition made for this purpose, approved by the commander-in-chief.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

ORGANIZATION AND CONTROL OF MILITARY COMPANIES.

ACT 2854—An act authorizing the governor of the state of California to issue licenses to bodies of men to organize, drill, and bear arms as military companies or organizations, and providing for their control.

History: Approved March 9, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 325.

Organization of military companies. Active service. Students exempt.

§ 1. The governor shall have power to issue licenses to bodies of men to organize, drill and bear arms as military companies or organizations; provided, that whenever any such body of men shall associate themselves as a military company or organization and drill with arms under the license of the governor, such military company or organization shall file with the adjutant general of this state, at such time as the governor may designate, a muster roll of such military company or organization, certified by the oath of the commanding officer thereof, which muster roll shall contain the names, ages, occupations and places of residence of all members thereof, and the number and character of all arms in the possession of such organization, and shall appear for inspection by the adjutant general or such military inspector as the governor shall designate, at least once a year, at their respective armories, at such time as the governor shall designate; and provided, further, that each member of such military company or organization shall take and subscribe to an oath, before any officer authorized to administer the same, that he will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of California and will obey and maintain all laws and all officers employed in administering the same; and provided, further, that whenever the governor, in his judgment, shall deem it necessary for the public safety, he may call into active service of the state for the causes and purposes for which he may call the national guard into the active service of the state, any such military company or organization, and such military company or organization shall rendezvous and report for active service at such time and place and to such officer as the governor shall designate, and shall enter the active service of the state and obey all lawful orders and commands as shall be issued by the governor or any officer placed in command by his orders, in the manner as if such military company or organization were a part of the national guard, and the members of such military company or organization when called into active service by order of the governor shall be subject to all military penalties and punishments for violation of the orders of the governor, or of any officer placed in command of such organization by order of the governor, as are the members of the national guard, and shall be subject to the articles of war, the rules and regulations governing the national guard and shall receive the same pay and allowances while in active service as the members of the national guard; and provided, however, that students in educational institutions where military science is a part of the course of instruction shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

WORKS FOR RESTRAINING AND IMPOUNDING DEBRIS.

ACT 2865—An act to appropriate the sum of $150,000 to be used in the construction of works for the restraining and impounding of debris resulting from mining operations, natural erosions and other causes, and for the purchase of sites therefor, and to provide for the manner of expending such appropriation.

History: Approved February 14, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 7.

TITLE TO SITE OF DEBRIS IMPOUNDING WORKS.

ACT 2866—An act to provide in whose name title shall be taken to the site or sites for the construction of the works provided for in the act of the legislature of the state of California entitled "An act to provide for the appointment, duties and compensation of a debris commissioner, and to make an appropriation to be expended under his directions in the discharge of his duties as such commissioner," approved March 24, 1893, and the amendments thereto.

History: Approved March 13, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 282.

§ 1. The title, estate and interests in all sites purchased under the act of the legislature of the state of California entitled "An act to provide for the appointment, duties and compensation of a debris commissioner, and to make an appropriation to be expended under his directions in the discharge of his duties as such commissioner," approved March twenty-fourth, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, and the amendments thereto, for the construction of the works in said acts contemplated, shall be taken in the name of the government of the United States of America.

PROTECTION FROM MINING OPERATIONS.

ACT 2869—An act to protect owners of growing crops, buildings and other improvements in the mining districts of this state.

History: Approved April 25, 1855, Stats. 1855, p. 145.

This act protected the owners of growing crops from injury by miners.

Unconstitutional in part: Gillan v. Hutchinson, 16 Cal. 153.

PURE QUICKSILVER FOR MINERS.

ACT 2870—An act to secure to the miners of this state pure and unadulterated quicksilver.

History: Approved March 10, 1866, Stats. 1865-66, p. 191.

This act is not in terms repealed but, as to the criminal portion it is superseded.—See Kerr's Cyc. Penal Code, §§ 366, 377.

It is difficult to determine how much, if any, of the balance remains in force. Under any circumstances it is regarded as of sufficient importance to refer to it here.

MINING PARTNERSHIPS.

ACT 2871—An act concerning partnerships for mining purposes.

History: Approved April 2, 1866, Stats. 1865-66, p. 828.

This act required partners to pay their proportionate part of the expenses of working the claims, and for assessments for that purpose.

This act has not been in terms repealed and in the absence of direct legislation it is difficult to tell whether it is in force or not. It would appear to be one of the statutes clearly superseded by the codes.—See Kerr's Cyc. Civil Code, §§ 2428, 2511-2520, and decisions there noted.

1. Application — Partners not merely owners.—The act applies only to copartners and not to those who are owners without the partnership relation.—Brundage v. Adams, 41 Cal. 619.

2. Notice—Absence of partnership relation.—Where there is no partnership relation notice to the joint owner that he will thereafter be deemed a copartner for the purpose of working the mine is required to change the relation of the parties and create a mining partnership so as to warrant the assessment provided for.—Brundage v. Adams, 41 Cal. 619.

3. Sale to pay assessment—Absence of notice.—A sale under the act to pay a delinquent assessment is invalid where no notice of the assessment given as required by the act.—Sayer v. Donahue, 1 Cal. Unrep. 410.

CONVEYANCE OF MINING CLAIMS.

ACT 2872—An act to provide for the conveyance of mining claims.

History: Approved April 13, 1860, Stats. 1860, p. 175. Amended March 26, 1863, Stats. 1863, p. 98.

1. Code commissioners' note.—"Probably repealed by § 1091, et seq., Civil Code. If not, then modified as to corporations by 1880, p. 131."

2. Conveyance—Not under seal.—Mining claims may be conveyed by bills of sale or other instruments of writing not under seal, and such conveyances have the same effect as prima facie evidence as conveyances under seal.—St. John v. Kidd, 26 Cal. 263.

3. Evidence—Record of bill of sale.—The record of a bill of sale of a mining claim made by the recorder of the district as provided by custom and law is admissible in evidence, as secondary evidence.—St. John v. Kidd, 26 Cal. 263.

4. Act of 1860 applied to gold claims.—The act of 1860 applied to gold claims only until the amendment of 1863, after which it applied to all mining claims.—Paterson v. Keystone Mining Co., 30 Cal. 360.

5. Requirement as to conveyances mandatory.—The requirement of section 1 of the act as to the conveyance of mining claims was mandatory, and it was intended thereby to exclude conveyances by parol, even though accompanied by delivery of possession.—Goller v. Fett, 30 Cal. 481; Felger v. Coward, 35 Cal. 650.

See, also, Moore v. Hamerstag, 109 Cal. 122, 41 Pac. 805.

6. Same.—Since the passage of the act conveyances of mining claims must be by deed of conveyance duly acknowledged or by bill of sale accompanied by delivery of possession.—King v. Randlett, 33 Cal. 318.

COVERING OR FENCING ABANDONED MINING CLAIMS.

ACT 2873—An act to provide for the covering or fencing of abandoned mining shafts, pits or excavations, the penalty, and also the penalty for removing or destroying the covering or fencing from same.

History: Approved March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 283.

Owners of land must cover abandoned pits, etc.

§ 1. All abandoned mining shafts, pits or other abandoned excavations dangerous to passersby or livestock shall be securely covered or fenced, and kept so, by the owners of the land or persons in charge of the same, on which such shafts, pits or other excavations are located. Any person or persons failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Duty of supervisors.

§ 2. All abandoned mining shafts, pits or other excavations situated on unoccupied public lands may be securely covered or fenced by order of the board of supervisors of the county wherein the same is situated, and it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to keep the same securely fenced or covered whenever it appears to them, by proof submitted, that the same is dangerous or unsafe to man or beast. The cost of said covering or fencing to be a county charge.

Removing covers a misdemeanor.

§ 3. Any person or persons maliciously removing or destroying any covering or fencing placed around or over any shaft, pit or other excavation, as hereinbefore provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 4. This act shall take effect six months from the day of passage.

PROTECTION OF MINERS.

ACT 2874—An act for the protection of miners.

History: Approved March 16, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 413.

Protection to miners.

§ 1. It shall not be lawful for any corporation, association, owner, or owners of any quartz-mining claims within the state of California, where such corporations, association, owner or owners employ twelve men daily, to sink down into such mine or mines any perpendicular shaft or incline beyond a depth from the surface of three hundred feet without providing a second mode of egress from such mine, by shaft or tunnel, to connect with the main shaft at a depth of not less than one hundred feet from the surface.

Modes of escape.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of each corporation, association, owner, or owners of any quartz mine or mines in this state, where it becomes necessary to work such mines beyond the depth of three hundred feet, and where the number of men employed therein daily shall be twelve or more, to proceed to sink another shaft or construct a tunnel so as to connect with the main working-shaft of such mine as a mode of escape from underground accident, or otherwise. And all corporations, associations, owner, or owners of mines as aforesaid, working at a greater depth than three hundred feet, not having any other mode of egress than the main shaft, shall proceed as herein provided.

Liabilities.

§ 3. When any corporation, association, owner, or owners of any quartz mine in this state shall fail to provide for the proper egress as herein contemplated, and therein shall be hurt or injured, and from such injury might have escaped if the second mode of egress had existed, such corporation, association, owner or owners of the mine where the injuries shall have occurred shall be liable to the person injured in all damages that may accrue by reason thereof; and an action at law in a court of competent jurisdiction may be maintained against the owner or owners of such mine, which owners shall be jointly or severally liable for such damages. And where death shall ensue from injuries received from any negligence on the part of the owners thereof, by reason of their failure to comply with any of the provisions of this act, the heirs or relatives surviving the deceased may commence an action for the recovery of such damages as provided by an act entitled an act requiring compensation for causing death by wrongful act, neglect, or default, approved April twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force six months from and after its passage.

PROTECTION OF COAL MINES AND MINERS.ACT 2875—An act for the protection of coal mines and coal miners.

History: Approved March 27, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 726.

Map.

§ 1. The owner or agent of every coal mine shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of the workings of such coal mine, on a scale of one hundred feet to the inch.

Copies.

§ 2. A true copy of which map or plan shall be kept at the office of the owner or owners of the mine, open to the inspection of all persons, and one copy of such map or plan shall be kept at the mines by the agent or other person having charge of the mines, open to the inspection of the workmen.

Shafts or outlets.

§ 3. The owner or agent of every coal mine shall provide at least two shafts, or slopes, or outlets, separated by natural strata of not less than one hundred and fifty feet in breadth, by which shafts, slopes, or outlets distinct means of ingress and egress are always available to the persons employed in the coal mine; provided, that if a new tunnel, slope, or shaft will be required for the additional opening, work upon the same shall commence immediately after the passage of this act, and continue until its final completion, with reasonable dispatch.

Ventilation.

§ 4. The owner or agent of every coal mine shall provide and establish for every such mine an adequate amount of ventilation, of not less than fifty-five cubic feet per second of pure air, or thirty-three hundred feet per minute, for every fifty men working in such mine, and as much more as circumstances may require, which shall be circulated to the face of each and every working place throughout the entire mine, to dilute and render harmless and expel therefrom the noxious, poisonous gases, to such an extent that the entire mine shall be in a fit state for men to work therein, and be free from danger to the health and lives of the men by reason of said noxious and poisonous gases, and all workings shall be kept clear of standing gas.

Inside overseer. Duties.

§ 5. To secure the ventilation of every coal mine, and provide for the health and safety of the men employed therein, otherwise and in every respect, the owner, or agent, as the case may be, in charge of every coal mine, shall employ a competent and practical inside overseer, who shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus, over the air-ways, the traveling-ways, the pumps and sumps, the timbering, to see as the miners advance in their excavations that all loose coal, slate, or rock overhead is carefully secured against falling; over the arrangements for signaling from the bottom to the top, and from the top to the bottom of the shaft or slope, and all things connected with and appertaining to the safety of the men at work in the mine. He, or his assistants, shall examine carefully the workings of all mines generating explosive gases, every morning before the miners enter, and shall ascertain that the mine is free from danger, and the workmen shall not enter the mine until such examination has been made and reported, and the cause of danger, if any, removed.

§ 6. The overseer shall see that hoisting machinery is kept constantly in repair and ready for use, to hoist the workmen in or out of the mine.

Owner.

§ 7. The word "owner" in this act shall apply to lessee as well.

Right of action.

§ 8. For any injury to person or property occasioned by any violation of this act, or any willful failure to comply with its provisions, a right of action shall accrue to the party injured for any direct damages he or she may have sustained thereby, before any court of competent jurisdiction.

Liability.

§ 9. For any willful failure or negligence on the part of the overseer of any coal mine, he shall be liable to conviction of misdemeanor, and punished according to law; provided, that if such willful failure or negligence is the cause of the death of any person, the overseer, upon conviction, shall be deemed guilty of manslaughter.

Boilers.

§ 10. All boilers used for generating steam in and about coal mines shall be kept in good order, and the owner or agent thereof shall have them examined and inspected, by a competent boiler-maker, as often as once in three months.

§ 11. This act shall not apply to opening a new coal mine.

See notes to Act 2874.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR MINERS.

ACT 2876—An act to provide a state hospital and asylum for miners.

History: Approved March 14, 1881, Stats. 1881, p. 81.

Erection of state hospital for miners.

§ 1. There shall be erected, as soon as conveniently may be, upon some suitable site, to be determined and obtained as is hereinafter provided, a public hospital and asylum for the reception, care, medical, and surgical treatment, and relief of the sick, injured, disabled, and aged miners, which shall be known as the "California State Miners' Hospital and Asylum."

Trustees of, how appointed.

§ 2. The governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate appoint five persons to serve as trustees of the said institution, who shall be a body politic and corporate by the name and style of the "Trustees of the California State Miners' Hospital and Asylum," and shall manage and direct the concerns of the institution, and make all necessary by-laws and regulations, and shall have power to receive, hold, dispose of, and convey all real and personal property conveyed to them by gift, devise, or otherwise, for the use of said institution, and shall serve without compensation. Of those first appointed, two shall serve for two years, and three for four years; and at the expiration of the respective terms, each class thereafter shall be appointed for four years. A vacancy in said board, from any cause, shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term.

Superintendent, how appointed.

§ 3. The said trustees shall have charge of the general interests of the institution; they shall appoint the superintendent, who shall be a skillful physician and surgeon, subject to removal or re-election no oftener than in periods of ten years, except by infidelity to the trust reposed in him, or for incompetency.

By-laws.

§ 4. The trustees, by and with the consent of the governor, shall make such by-laws and regulations for the government of the institution as shall be necessary; they shall appoint a treasurer, who shall give bonds to the people of the state of California for the faithful discharge of his duties; and they shall fix the compensation of all officers, assistants, and attaches, who may be necessary for the just and economical administration of the affairs of said institution.

Charges for medical attendance.

§ 5. Indigent miners shall be charged for medical attendance, surgical operations, board, and nursing while residents in the hospital and asylum, no more than the actual cost; paying patients, whose friends can pay their expenses, and who are not chargeable upon townships and counties, shall pay according to the terms directed by the trustees.

Powers of boards of supervisors.

§ 6. The several boards of supervisors of counties, or any constituted authority in the state having care and charge of any indigent sick, or aged person or persons, if satisfactorily proven by them to have been miners, shall have authority to send to the "California State Miners' Hospital and Asylum" such persons, and they shall be severally chargeable with the expenses of the care, maintenance, and treatment, and removal to and from the hospital and asylum of such patients.

Trustees to report.

§ 7. The trustees shall annually, at such time as the governor may designate, report to him, for transmission to the legislature, such a statement as he may require as to the management of the said hospital and asylum.

See notes to Act 2874.

MINE TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

ACT 2878—An act providing for the establishment and maintenance of a telephone system in mines and prescribing a penalty for the violation thereof.

History: Approved June 13, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 782.

Telephone systems in mines over 500 feet deep.

§ 1. In all mines operated and worked in this state where a depth of more than 500 feet underground has been reached, a telephone system must be established, equipped and maintained by the owners or lessees thereof with stations at each working level below the depth aforesaid, communicating with a station thereof on the surface of any such mine.

Penalty.

§ 2. The failure or refusal of any owner or lessee to install or maintain such telephone system shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and punished accordingly.

RIGHTS OF WAY TO MINES.ACT 2880—An act to regulate the rights of owners of mines.

History: Approved April 1, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, p. 569.

Editor's note: This act gave rights of way to miners and provided a means by which rights of way and places of deposit could be obtained. It has not been in terms repealed, but as county courts have been abolished, and there being no court machinery for making it effective it is probably not in force.

1. Right of condemnation cumulative, not exclusive.—The right of condemnation given by the act is cumulative, and does not exclude the enforcement of a right existing by local custom independent of statute.—Bliss v. Kingdom, 46 Cal. 651.

2. Right by custom to tunnel preserved by injunction.—If a mine owner has a right by local custom to construct a tunnel through an adjoining claim equity will enjoin interference with that right.—Bliss v. Kingdom, 46 Cal. 651.

WORKING, RIGHTS OF WAY, ETC., OF MINES.ACT 2881—An act entitled an act relating to the working, rights of way, easement, and drainage of mines in the state of California.

History: Approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 219.

Affidavit to be filed with county recorder. Effect of failure. Co-owners may perform work. Tunnels and cuts.

§ 1. Whenever any mine owner, company, or corporation shall have performed the labor and made the improvements required by law for the location and ownership of mining claims or lodes, such owner, company, or corporation shall file or cause to be filed, within thirty days after the time limited for performing such labor or making such improvements, with the county recorder of deeds of the county in which the mine or claim is situated, [an affidavit] particularly describing the labor performed and improvements made, and the value thereof, which affidavit shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. Upon the failure of any claimant or mine owner to comply with the conditions of this act in the performance of labor, or making of improvements upon any claim, mine, or mining ground, the claim or mine upon which such failure occurred shall be opened to relocation in the same manner as if no location of the same had ever been made. But if, previous to relocation, the original locators, their heirs, assigns, or legal representatives, resume work upon such claim, and continue the same with reasonable diligence until the required amount of labor has been performed or improvements made, and the required statement of accounts and affidavits filed with the county recorder, then the claim shall not be subject to relocation because of previous failure to file accounts. Upon the failure of any one of the several co-owners to contribute his portion of the expenditures, required hereby, the co-owners who have performed the labor or made the improvement may, at the expiration of the year, give such delinquent co-owner personal notice, in writing, or by publication in the newspaper published nearest the claim for at least once a week for ninety days; and if, at the expiration of ninety days after such notice in writing or publication, such delinquent shall fail or refuse to contribute his portion of the expenditures required by this section, his interest in the claim shall become the property of his co-owners who made the required expenditures. A copy of such notice, together with an affidavit showing personal service or publication, as the case may be, of such notice, when filed or recorded with the recorder of deeds of the county in which such mining claim is situated, shall be evidence of the acquisition of title of such co-owners. Where a person or company has or may run a tunnel or cuts for the purpose and in good faith for the purpose of developing a lode, lodes, or claims owned by said person or company or corporation, the money so expended in running said tunnel shall be taken and considered as expended on said lodes or claims; provided, further, that said lode, claim, or claims shall be distinctly marked on the surface as provided by law.

Rights of way reserved. Damages.

§ 2. All mining locations and mining claims shall be subject to a reservation of the right of way through or over any mining claims, ditches, roads, canals, cuts, tunnels, and other easements for the purpose of working other mines; provided, that any danger occasioned thereby shall be assessed and paid for in the manner provided by law for land taken for public use under the right of eminent domain.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Construction of act—Omission of word "affidavit."—It is doubtful what construction should be given the statute by reason of the evident misprision in omitting the word "affidavit" from section 1 thereof, but giving it all the construction claimed, a right of relocation would not be acquired by the failure to file the "affidavit" until thirty days had expired after the time of doing the work.—Harris v. Kellogg, 117 Cal. 484, 49 Pac. 708.

2. Affidavit is prima facie evidence.—The affidavit or proof of labor required by the act when duly recorded is prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, and it is error to exclude them.—Big Three, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 157 Cal. 130, 107 Pac. 301, 137 Am. St. Rep. 118.

HOURS OF EMPLOYMENT, ACT OF 1913.

ACT 2883—An act regulating the hours of employment in underground mines, underground workings, whether for the purpose of tunneling, making excavations or to accomplish any other purpose or design, or in smelting and reduction works.

History: Approved May 30, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 331. Prior act of March 10, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 279, which was word for word identical with the present act, was probably superseded by it.

Eight-hour day for underground workers.

§ 1. That the period of employment for all persons who are employed or engaged in work in underground mines in search of minerals, whether base or precious, or who are engaged in such underground mines for other purposes, or who are employed or engaged in any other underground workings whether for the purpose of tunneling, making excavations or to accomplish any other purpose or design, or who are employed in smelters and other institutions for the reduction or refining of ores or metals shall not exceed eight hours within any twenty-four hours, and the hours of employment in such employment or workday shall be consecutive, excluding, however, any intermission of time for lunch or meals; provided, that, in case of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger, the period may be a longer time during the continuance of the emergency or emergency.

Penalty.

§ 2. Any person who shall violate any provision of this act, and any person who as foreman, manager, director or officer of a corporation, or as the employer or superior officer of any person, shall command, persuade or allow any person to violate any provision of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300.00), or by imprisonment of not more than three months. And the court shall have discretion to impose both fine and imprisonment as herein provided.

§ 3. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality upheld.—The act is constitutional.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

2. Constitutionality—Decision as to Utah act.—The Utah state statute limiting the period of employment of workers in underground mines or in smelting, reduction, or refining of ores or metals to eight hours a day, is a valid exercise of the police power of the state.—Holden v. Hardy, 169 U. S. 366, 42 L. ed. 780, 18 Sup. Ct. 383.

3. Same—Same.—The right of contract between mine owners and employees is limited by a proper exercise of the police power of the state.—Holden v. Hardy, 169 U. S. 366, 42 L. ed. 780, 18 Sup. Ct. 383.

4. Same—Right of contract restricted under police power.—Freedom of contract may be properly restricted under the police power in the matter of hours of labor in mines, upon the ground of the preservation of the public health.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

5. Same—Same—Test of violation of federal guarantees.—In determining whether an act restricting the hours of labor in any given occupation is in violation of the guarantees of the federal constitution, the test is whether the occupation is dangerous to health such as to justify the restriction.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

6. Same—Not special legislation.—The act is not special legislation because it does not include all underground work.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

7. Same—Classification reasonable.—The act is not special because it selects for its operation a special class, the classification thus made being reasonable.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

8. Same—Not arbitrary discrimination.—The act is not arbitrarily discriminative because it does not select other equally dangerous occupations.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

9. Same—Act and title embraces only one subject.—The act and title embraces only one subject.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

10. Construction—Time at meals excluded.—The act requires that the hours of employment, excluding meals, shall be consecutive, and that is a matter for the legislature, and it can not be said that it has no reasonable relation to the health of the miner.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 51, 106 Pac. 235, 26 L. R. A. (N. S.) 242.

11. Same—Same.—The act refers to the time actually engaged in work, and does not include the time going and coming from work.—In re Martin, 157 Cal. 59, 106 Pac. 238.

EXTRACTING MINERALS FROM WATERS.

ACT 2884—An act regulating the extraction of minerals from the waters of any stream or lake and prohibiting the extraction of minerals from said waters except under lease from or express permission of the state for a period not exceeding twenty-five years.

History: Approved April 14, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 904.

Extracting minerals from waters.

§ 1. Minerals contained in the waters of any stream or lake in this state shall not be extracted from said waters except upon charges, terms and conditions prescribed by law. No person, firm, corporation or association shall hereafter gain the right to extract or cause to be extracted said minerals from said waters by user, custom, prescription, appropriation, littoral rights, riparian rights, or in any manner other than by lease from or express permission of the state as prescribed by law; and no such lease or permission shall be granted for a longer period than twenty-five years.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

See, post, Act 2885.

WATERS CONTAINING MINERALS WITHDRAWN FROM SALE.

ACT 2885—An act relating to lakes and streams, the waters of which contain minerals in commercial quantities; withdrawing state lands within the meander lines thereof from sale; prescribing conditions for taking such minerals from said waters and lands, and providing for the leasing of lands uncovered by the recession of the waters of such lakes and streams.

History: Approved April 27, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1154.

Waters containing minerals withdrawn from sale.

§ 1. There is hereby withdrawn from selection and sale all of the lands embraced within the original meander lines of streams and lakes belonging to the state, the waters of which contain minerals in commercial quantities, and all such lands which may hereafter inure to the state by virtue of its sovereignty, excepting such lands now contracted to be sold under sections 3493m to 3493t, both inclusive, of the Political Code.

Water may be taken only under this act.

§ 2. No person, firm or corporation shall take water from such streams or lakes containing minerals and extract from such waters such minerals, except under the terms and conditions of this act; and no person, firm or corporation may lease any land herein referred to and extract therefrom minerals deposited therein or thereon, except under the terms and conditions of this act.

Statement to be filed with county assessor and state controller.

§ 3. Every person, firm or corporation taking from the waters of such stream, lakes or lands any minerals, shall file, on or before the last Monday in January of each year, with the county assessor of the county in which any such stream or lake is situated, and also with the state controller, a written statement, duly verified, showing in tons of two thousand pounds, the amount of mineral taken by such person, firm or corporation from such water or land during the year ending December 31st last preceding and sold by said person, firm or corporation during the said year preceding. Any such person, firm or corporation neglecting or refusing to furnish such statement shall be subject to a fine of one hundred dollars for each day after the said last Monday in January such person, firm or corporation shall fail to furnish such statement, and, in addition to said fine, shall forfeit all leases granting the right to extract such minerals from said water and said land. Any person who shall, either on behalf of himself or any firm or corporation, verify any such statement which shall be untrue in any material part, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Examination of statement.

§ 4. In case either the assessor or the state controller shall not be satisfied with the statement as returned, he may make an examination of the matters necessary to verify or correct said statement, and, for that purpose, may subpoena witnesses and call for and compel the production of necessary books and papers belonging to the person, firm or corporation making the returns.

Royalty.

§ 5. The county assessor of the county shall, after examination and approval by him and the state controller of such statement, proceed to collect from such person, firm or corporation a royalty of twenty-five cents for each ton of two thousand pounds of mineral taken from such water or land by such person, firm or corporation and sold during the preceding year, in the manner provided for the collection of personal property taxes; provided, that the royalty on sodium bicarbonate and on sodium hydrate so taken shall be fifty (50) cents for each ton of two thousand pounds.

Application to lease lands.

§ 6. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to lease any lands under this act must make application therefor to the surveyor general of the state, describing the lands sought to be leased by legal subdivisions, or, if the legal subdivisions are unknown to the applicant, by metes and bounds. The application must be accompanied by a filing fee of ten dollars.

Survey of lands.

§ 7. Upon the receipt of such application, the surveyor general shall direct the county surveyor of the county in which such lands are situated to survey the land sought to be leased. The county surveyor shall make an actual survey of the land, at the expense of the applicant, establishing the four corners to each quarter section, and connecting the same with a United States survey; and within thirty days file with the surveyor general a copy, under oath, of his field-notes and plat. If the county surveyor fails to make the survey as herein provided, the surveyor general shall immediately direct another person to make the survey at the expense of the applicant, and said survey shall be made and completed within thirty days after the authorization, and the field-notes and plats, or copies thereof, shall be sworn to by the surveyor making them and shall be filed with the surveyor general.

Approval or rejection of application.

§ 8. All applications to lease land under this act shall be approved or rejected by the surveyor general within ninety days after the receipt thereof. Immediately after the approval of the application, the surveyor general shall execute and deliver to the applicant a lease of the lands described in the application.

Rental.

§ 9. The lands designated in this act shall be leased at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents per acre, per year, payable yearly in advance. All moneys received as rental for such lands and as royalty upon the mineral product of the waters of the lakes, streams or lands above mentioned, shall be paid into the state school land fund.

First payment. Limit of lease.

§ 10. Whenever any lease is delivered to the applicant by the surveyor general, the lessee shall, within fifteen days thereafter, present said lease to the treasurer of the state of California, and make payment of the first annual rental. The treasurer shall receive the money and give a receipt therefor. All subsequent annual payments of rental must be paid to the state treasurer, in like manner, within fifteen days after they become due. In case payments are not made as herein provided, the lease and all rights thereunder shall cease and terminate. No lease shall run for more than twenty-five years; provided, that upon the expiration of any lease, such lease may be extended for a period of twenty-five years upon such terms and conditions as may then be prescribed by law.

Reservations to state.

§ 11. All leases made under the authority of this act shall contain a reservation to the state of a right to locate rights of way across such leased lands, subject only to the requirements that the rights of way shall be located in such manner as to cause the least injury to the leased lands across which the same may be located, and that any damage suffered by the lessee of such lands shall be compensated by the lessee of the lands for whose benefit the right of way is required; and every such lease shall be subject to, and shall contain a reservation of, the right of any city and county or incorporated city or town of this state to at any time appropriate and take, under the laws of this state relative to the appropriation of waters, water from any stream or lake tributary to or discharging into any stream or lake of the character mentioned in section 1 of this act for any use or uses within the authorized powers of such city and county, or incorporated city or town.

Lease to rights of way.

§ 12. Leases of rights of way, not exceeding one hundred feet in width, for access to any waters or lands designated by this act, may be applied for and granted in the manner herein provided for leasing lands. Such rights of way shall be leased at an annual rental of two dollars and fifty cents an acre, and the same shall be paid as herein provided for leased lands.

Termination of lease.

§ 13. All leases of mineral lands provided for by this act shall cease and terminate on December 31st of any year if the lessee or assigns has not, during the year preceding, extracted or removed from such land and water an amount of mineral equal, in the aggregate, to a minimum of five tons per acre of land leased; provided, that when a lease is not delivered to the lessee until after the fifteenth day of January of any year, the minimum tonnage for such year shall be less than five (5) tons, and shall be proportional to the number of days remaining in such year after the completion of the works.

Powers of surveyor general.

§ 14. The surveyor general is hereby authorized to prepare, make, execute and deliver all papers, instruments and documents, and to do any and all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Legislature may change royalty.

§ 15. The legislature shall have the right to change, from time to time, the royalty per ton of minerals extracted and the annual rental per acre of land, and such change shall apply to all persons, firms or corporations holding leases hereunder; provided, that no lease given under this act shall be subject to any change, as to the royalty or rental provided for in said lease, subsequent to the execution of such lease until after ten years from the passage of this act.

Abandonment of lease.

§ 16. Any lessee hereunder may abandon and surrender a lease at the expiration of any calendar year by filing with the county assessor of the county in which is situated the lands described in said lease, and with the surveyor general and the state controller, notices of said abandonment or surrender; but said notices must be filed at least sixty days before the expiration of said calendar year; and said abandonment and surrender shall not absolve the said lessee from the payment of any royalty which may be due at the end of said fiscal year for minerals extracted from the waters or lands in this act specified.

See, ante, Act 2884.

ACT 2893. STATE MINING BUREAU.

2894. STATE MINING BUREAU—DEPARTMENT OF PETROLEUM AND GAS.

STATE MINING BUREAU.

ACT 2893—An act establishing a state mining bureau, creating the office of state mineralogist, fixing his salary and prescribing his powers and duties; providing for the employment of officers and employees of said bureau, making it the duty of persons in charge of mines, mining operations and quarries to make certain reports, providing for the investigation of mining operations, dealings and transactions and the prosecution for defrauding, swindling and cheating therein, creating a state mining bureau fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment, maintenance, and support of a bureau, to be known as the state mining bureau, and for the appointment and duties of a board of trustees, to be known as the board of trustees of the state mining bureau, who shall have the direction, management and control of said state mining bureau, and to provide for the appointment, duties, and compensation of a state mineralogist, who shall perform the duties of his office under the control, direction and supervision of the board of trustees of the state mining bureau," approved March 23, 1893, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto or in conflict herewith.

History: Approved June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1327. Prior act of April 16, 1880, Stats. 1880, p. 115, and the supplemental act of March 21, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 217, were repealed by the act of March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 203; amended March 10, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 113, and March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 935, which was repealed by the present act. Supplemented June 10, 1915. In effect August 9, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1404. See Act 2894.

Mining bureau created.

§ 1. There is hereby created and established a state mining bureau. The chief officer of such bureau shall be the state mineralogist, which office is hereby created.

State mineralogist. Salary.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the governor of the state of California and he is hereby empowered to appoint a citizen and resident of this state, having a practical and scientific knowledge of mining, to the office of state mineralogist. Said state mineralogist shall hold his office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall be a civil executive officer. He shall take and subscribe the same oath of office as other state officers. He shall receive for his services a salary of three hundred dollars ($300) per month, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers. He shall also receive his necessary traveling expenses when traveling on the business of his office. He shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), said bond to be approved by the governor of the state of California.

Employees.

§ 3. Said state mineralogist shall employ competent geologists, field assistants, qualified specialists and office employees when necessary in the execution of his plans and operations of the bureau, and fix their compensation. The said employees shall be allowed their necessary traveling expenses when traveling on the business of said department and shall hold office at the pleasure of said state mineralogist.

Duties.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of said state mineralogist to make, facilitate, and encourage, special studies of the mineral resources and mineral industries of the state. It shall be his duty: to collect statistics concerning the occurrence and production of the economically important minerals and the methods pursued in making their valuable constituents available for commercial use; to make a collection of typical geological and mineralogical specimens, especially those of economic and commercial importance, such collection constituting the museum of the state mining bureau; to provide a library of books, reports, drawings, bearing upon the mineral industries, and sciences of mineralogy and geology, and arts of mining and metallurgy, such library constituting the library of the state mining bureau; to make a collection of models, drawings and descriptions of the mechanical appliances used in mining and metallurgical processes; to preserve and so maintain such collections and library as to make them available for reference and examination, and open to public inspection at reasonable hours; to maintain, in effect, a bureau of information concerning the mineral industries of this state, to consist of such collections and library, and to arrange, classify, catalogue, and index the data therein contained, in a manner to make the information available to those desiring it; to issue from time to time such bulletins as he may deem advisable concerning the statistics and technology of the mineral industries of this state.

Annual reports of mine owners.

§ 5. It is hereby made the duty of the owner, lessor, lessee, agent, manager or other person in charge of each and every mine, of whatever kind or character, within the state, to forward to the state mineralogist, upon his request, at his office not later than the 30th day of June, in each year, a detailed report upon forms which will be furnished showing the character of the mine, the number of men then employed, the method of working such mine and the general condition thereof, the total mineral production for the past year, and such owner, lessor, lessee, agent, manager or other person in charge of any mine within the state must furnish whatever information relative to such mine as the state mineralogist may from time to time require for the proper discharge of his official duties. Any owner, lessor, lessee, agent, manager or other person in charge of each and every mine, of whatever kind or character within the state, who fails to comply with the above provisions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Incumbent to act.

§ 6. The state mineralogist now performing the duties of the office of state mineralogist shall perform the duties of the office of state mineralogist as in this act provided until the appointment and qualification of his successor as in this act provided.

To take possession of office, etc.

§ 7. The said state mineralogist shall take possession, charge and control of the offices now occupied and used by the board of trustees and state mineralogist and the museum, library and laboratory of the mining bureau located in San Francisco as provided for by a certain act of the legislature approved March 23, 1893, and hereafter referred to in section 14 hereof, and shall maintain such offices, museum, library and laboratory for the purposes provided in this act.

Power to enter mines.

§ 8. Said state mineralogist or qualified assistant shall have full power and authority at any time to enter or examine any and all mines, quarries, wells, mills, reduction works, refining works and other mineral properties or working plants in this state in order to gather data to comply with the provisions of this act.

Report.

§ 9. The state mineralogist shall make a biennial report to the governor on or before the 15th day of September next preceding the regular session of the legislature.

Disposition of receipts.

§ 10. All moneys received by the state mining bureau or any officer thereof (except such as may be paid to them by the state for disbursement) shall be receipted for by the state mineralogist or other officer authorized by him to act in his place and at least once a month accounted for by him to the state controller and paid into the state treasury to the credit of a fund which is hereby created and designated "state mining bureau fund." All moneys now in the possession of the state mining bureau or any officer thereof received from any source whatsoever, shall be immediately paid over to the state mineralogist and by him accounted for to the controller and paid into the state treasury to the credit of said fund. Said fund shall be used and is hereby appropriated for the use of said bureau in carrying out the purposes of this act.

Gifts.

§ 11. The said state mineralogist is hereby authorized and empowered to receive on behalf of this state, for the use and benefit of the state mining bureau, gifts, bequests, devises and legacies of real or other property and to use the same in accordance with the wishes of the donors, and if no instructions are given by said donors, to manage, use, and dispose of the gifts and bequests and legacies for the best interests of said state mining bureau and in such manner as he may deem proper.

Exhibition collections.

§ 12. The state mineralogist may whenever he deems it advisable, prepare a special collection of ores and minerals of California to be sent to or used at any world's fair or exposition in order to display the mineral wealth of the state.

Sale of reports, etc.

§ 13. The state mineralogist is hereby empowered to fix a price upon and to dispose of to the public, at such price, any and all publications of the state mining bureau, including reports, bulletins, maps, registers or other publications, such price shall approximate the cost of publication and distribution. Any and all sums derived from such disposition, or from gifts or bequests made, as hereinbefore provided must be accounted for by said state mineralogist and turned over to the state treasurer to be credited to the mining bureau fund as provided for in section 10. He is also empowered to furnish without cost to public libraries the publications of the bureau, and to exchange publications with other geological surveys and scientific societies, etc.

Successor to board.

§ 14. The state mineralogist provided for by this act shall be the successor in interest of the board of trustees of the state mining bureau, and the state mineralogist, under and by virtue of that certain act, entitled "An act to provide for the establishment, maintenance, and support of a bureau, to be known as the state mining bureau, and for the appointment and duties of a board of trustees, to be known as the board of trustees of the state mining bureau, who shall have the direction, management, and control of said state mining bureau, and to provide for the appointment, duties, and compensation of a state mineralogist, who shall perform the duties of his office under the control, direction and supervision of the board of trustees of the state mining bureau," approved March 23, 1893, and all books, papers, documents, personal property, records, and property of every kind and description obtained or possessed, or held or controlled by the said board of trustees of the said state mining bureau, and the state mineralogist, and the clerks and employees thereof, under the provisions of said act of March 23, 1893, or any act supplemental thereto or amendatory thereof, shall immediately be turned over and delivered to the said state mineralogist herein provided for, who shall have charge and control thereof.

Repealed.

§ 15. That certain act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment, maintenance, and support of a bureau, to be known as the state mining bureau, and for the appointment and duties of a board of trustees, to be known as the board of trustees of the state mining bureau, and to provide for the appointment, duties and compensation of a state mineralogist, who shall perform the duties of his office under the control, direction, and supervision of the board of trustees of the state mining bureau," approved March 23, 1893, together with all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto and all acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

This act was not affected by the act of June 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1404 (Act 2894). See section 54 of that act.

STATE MINING BUREAU—DEPARTMENT OF PETROLEUM AND GAS.

ACT 2894—An act establishing and creating a department of the state mining bureau for the protection of the natural resources of petroleum and gas from waste and destruction through improper operations in production; providing for the appointment of a state oil and gas supervisor; prescribing his duties and powers; fixing his compensation; providing for the appointment of deputies and employees; providing for their duties and compensation; providing for the inspection of petroleum and gas wells; requiring all persons operating petroleum and gas wells to make certain reports; providing precedence for arbitration of departmental rulings; creating a fund for the purposes of the act; providing for assessment of charges to be paid by operators and providing for the collection thereof; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

History: Approved June 10, 1915. In effect August 9, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1404. Amended (1) June 1, 1917; in effect July 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1586; (2) May 25, 1919; in effect July 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1165.

Department of petroleum and gas created.

§ 1. A separate department of the state mining bureau is hereby established and created, to be known as the department of petroleum and gas. Such department shall be under the general jurisdiction of the state mineralogist. He shall appoint a supervisor who shall be either a competent engineer or geologist experienced in the development and production of petroleum, or a competent oil operator, having had not less than five year' actual practical experience in California oil fields, and who shall be designated the "state oil and gas supervisor," and whose term of office shall be four years from the date of his appointment. [Amendment of 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1166.]

State mineralogist's compensation. Secretary's added compensation. Supervisor's salary.

§ 2. For his services in the general supervision of said department, the state mineralogist shall receive as compensation one thousand four hundred dollars annually which shall be in addition to his compensation fixed in section two of the act of June 16, 1913, relating to the state mining bureau.

The secretary of the state mining bureau shall receive for his services in connection with the department of petroleum and gas, a sum not to exceed six hundred dollars annually, which sum shall be in addition to his compensation paid from the funds of the state mining bureau.

The supervisor shall receive an annual salary of six thousand dollars, and shall be allowed his necessary traveling expenses. The state mineralogist may, at the request of the state oil and gas supervisor, and subject to the civil service laws of the state, appoint one chief clerk at a salary of not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually; twelve office assistants or stenographers each at a salary not to exceed one thousand two hundred dollars annually; four geological draftsmen each at a salary not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars annually; four petroleum engineers each at a salary not to exceed two thousand four hundred dollars annually; twelve inspectors each at a salary not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually.

The additional salary herein authorized to be paid to the state mineralogist and the secretary of the state mining bureau and the salaries of the supervisor and of the deputies, clerks, stenographers, assistants and other employees shall be paid out of the funds hereinafter provided for at the times and in the manner that salaries of other state officers and employees are paid. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1586.]

Duty of oil and gas supervisor.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the state oil and gas supervisor so to supervise the drilling, operation and maintenance and abandonment of petroleum or gas wells in the state of California, as to prevent, as far as possible, damage to underground petroleum and gas deposits from infiltrating water and other causes and loss of petroleum and natural gas.

Deputies.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the state oil and gas supervisor to appoint one chief deputy and five field deputies, one for each of the districts hereinafter provided for, and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which shall not exceed four thousand dollars per annum for the chief deputy, and not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum for each field deputy. Such deputies shall serve during the pleasure of the supervisor. He shall also employ an attorney at a compensation not exceeding three thousand dollars per year, payable out of said fund. The supervisor and the deputies shall not be subject to the civil service act. [Amendment of May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1166.]

This section was also amended June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1587.

Qualifications of deputies.

§ 5. The chief deputy appointed by the supervisor shall be a competent engineer or geologist experienced in the development and production of petroleum; and each field deputy shall be either a competent engineer or geologist, experienced in the development and production of petroleum, or shall be a competent and experienced oil operator, having had not less than five years' actual experience in the oil fields of the state of California. At the time any field deputy is appointed, notice of such appointment shall be transmitted in writing to the board of commissioners of the district for which said deputy is appointed, which field deputy shall maintain an office in the district which he is appointed, convenient of access to the petroleum and gas operators therein. The office shall be open and the deputy shall be present at certain specified times, which shall be posted at such office. [Amendment of May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1166.]

This section was also amended June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1587.

Deputies' duties.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of each deputy, to collect all necessary information regarding the oil wells in the district, with a view to determining the presence and source of water in the oil sand, and to make all maps and other accessories necessary to determine the presence and source of water in the oil sands. This work shall be done with the view to advising the operators as to the best means of protecting the oil and gas sands, and with a view to aiding the supervisor in ordering tests or repair work at wells. All such data shall be kept on file in the office of the deputy oil and gas supervisor of the respective district.

Records open to inspection.

§ 7. The records of any and all operators, when filed with the deputy supervisor as hereinafter provided, shall be open to inspection to those authorized in writing by such operators, to the state officers, and to the board of commissioners hereinafter provided for. Such records shall in no case other than those hereinafter and in this section provided, be available as evidence in court proceedings and no officer or employee or member of any board of commissioners shall be allowed to give testimony as to the contents of said records, except at such court proceedings as are hereinafter provided for in the review of the decision of the state oil and gas supervisor, or a board of commissioners, or in any proceedings initiated for the enforcement of an order of the supervisor, or any proceeding initiated for the enforcement of a lien created by this act, or any proceeding for the collection of the assessment levied under and pursuant to the provisions of this act or in criminal proceedings arising out of such records, or the statements upon which they are based. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1588.]

Tests and remedial work.

§ 8. It shall be the duty of the supervisor to order such tests or remedial work as in his judgment are necessary to protect the petroleum and gas deposits from damage by underground water, to the best interests of the neighboring property owners, and the public at large. The order shall be in written form, signed by the supervisor, and shall be served upon the owner of the well, or the local agent appointed by such owner, either personally or by mailing a copy of said order to the post-office address given at the time the local agent is designated, or if no such local agent has been designated, by mailing a copy of said order to the last known post-office address of said owner, or if the owner be unknown by posting a copy of said order in a conspicuous place upon the property, and publishing the same in some newspaper of general circulation throughout the county in which said well is located, once a week for two successive weeks. Said order shall specify the condition sought to be remedied and the work necessary to protect such deposits from damage from underground waters. For this purpose each operator or owner shall designate an agent, giving his post-office address, who resides within the county where the well or wells are located, upon whom all orders or notices provided for in this act may be served.

Whenever the supervisor or any deputy supervisor or inspector makes any written recommendation or gives any written direction concerning the drilling, testing or other operation in any oil or gas well drilled, in process of drilling or being abandoned, and the operator, owner or representative of either, serves written notice, either personally or by mail, addressed to the supervisor or his deputy at his office in the district, requesting that a definite order be made upon such subject, the supervisor or his deputies shall, within five days after such notice, deliver a final written order on such subject matter in such manner and form that an appeal may be taken at once therefrom, to the board of oil and gas commissioners of the district created under this chapter. [Amendment of May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1167.]

This section was amended June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1588.

§ 9. The well owner, or his or its local agent, may, within ten days from the date of the service of any order from the supervisor or his chief deputy or field deputy, file with the supervisor or his deputy in the district where the property is located, a written statement that the order is not acceptable, and that appeal from said order is taken to the board of commissioners of said district under the provisions of this chapter. Such appeal shall operate as a stay of any order issued under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Immediately upon the filing of such notice of appeal, the deputy supervisor of the district, as secretary ex officio of the board of oil and gas commissioners, shall immediately call a meeting of said commissioners to hear and pass upon said appeal. The hearing upon said appeal before said district board of oil and gas commissioners, shall be de novo and at such place in the district as the commissioners may designate, and within ten days from the taking of such appeal; five days' notice in writing shall be given to the appellant of the time and place of such hearing, and for good cause the commissioners may postpone such hearing on the application of appellant, or the state oil and gas supervisor, or the field deputy in said district, for not exceeding five days. [Amendment of May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1167.]

This section was also amended June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1588.

State divided into five districts.

§ 10. For the purposes of this act, the state shall be divided into five districts, as follows:

District No. 1, including the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange, San Diego, Imperial, and San Bernardino.

District No. 2, the county of Ventura.

District No. 3, including the counties of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Alameda, and San Francisco.

District No. 4, including the counties of Tulare, Inyo, and Kern.

District No. 5, including the counties of Fresno, Madera, Kings, Mono, Mariposa, Merced and all other counties in California not included in any of said other districts.

District oil and gas commissioners elected.

There shall be elected, at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, district oil and gas commissioners for each such districts, as follows: For district number one, five; for district number two, five; for district number three, five; for district number four, seven; for district number five, five.

Said district oil and gas commissioners shall be elected by vote of the companies, individuals, copartnerships or associations, who shall have been assessed, and whose names shall appear on the last record of assessments (next preceding such election) for and on account of the fund in this act provided to be raised, within said districts respectively, said vote to be taken at a meeting to be held in each of said districts, respectively, and on the third Monday in September of each year, such place and the time and details of such meeting to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which meeting at least two weeks previous notice shall have been given by letter addressed to each of said persons, corporations, copartnerships and associations, entitled to vote as aforesaid, at his or its post-office address or principal place of business.

Votes to which voter entitled. Term.

At said meeting each of those entitled to vote as herein provided may be represented by one person holding the written authority of such voter to act for him at such meeting. At said meeting each voter shall be entitled to one vote for each member of the board of district oil and gas commissioners who are required to be selected for such district. In addition thereto, in each district in which five commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which said voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the two commissioners who are elected for three years; and in each district in which seven commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which such voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the three commissioners who are elected for three years. In all subsequent elections the qualification of voters in the election of a commissioner shall be the same as in the election of the commissioner whose successor in office is being elected. Said meeting shall select by ballot, by a majority vote of the votes represented, the number of persons as hereinbefore specified to act as district oil and gas commissioners for such district. In any district entitled to seven commissioners, two shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and three for three years. In any district entitled to five commissioners, one shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and two for three years.

Certificate of election. Eligibility.

The chairman and secretary of the meeting shall issue a written certificate to the state oil and gas supervisor, setting forth the result of such election, and the name and address of each of the persons elected at said meeting as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district, and the term for which each has been elected. No person shall be eligible as a district oil and gas commissioner who is not a resident of the district for which he is elected, nor shall any person be eligible for such position who is not actually engaged in the business of oil and gas development or production within the district. Upon receipt of the certificate so made by the chairman and secretary of any such meeting, the state oil and gas supervisor shall issue a certificate of election to the respective persons in said district named as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district, and for the periods of one, two or three years from and after the first Monday in October, 1917, as shall be shown in such certificate, and until their respective successors shall have been elected.

Chairman.

Within thirty days after their appointment by the state oil and gas supervisor, the district oil and gas commissioners for each district shall meet at a time and place within the district to be designated by the state oil and gas supervisor, and shall thereupon select one of the number as chairman. The deputy supervisor of the district shall be ex officio secretary of said board, and shall keep a record of its proceedings, and his office shall be the office of the commissioners.

Assistant secretary.

Each board of commissioners may appoint one of its number as assistant secretary who shall, in the absence of the secretary, keep the minutes of said board, and shall perform such further secretarial duties as the board, by resolution, may direct.

Attorney.

In case of any litigation in which any district board of oil and gas commissioners shall be a party, such board shall have full authority to employ a competent attorney for each such litigation, and to fix his compensation, either before or after his services shall be concluded, and said compensation shall, when certified by the chairman of said board and by the state board of control, be paid from the fund created by this chapter.

Expenses.

Said commissioners shall serve without compensation, except their necessary traveling expenses and other actual expenses incident to their office.

In case of any hearing upon appeal before any board of district oil and gas commissioners, they shall have authority to employ a competent stenographer to take the testimony and proceedings, and in case either party shall take proceedings in the superior court, by writ of certiorari, from any order or decision of such board, it shall cause the stenographer so employed to make a full transcript of the testimony and proceedings before said board of commissioners, and three copies in addition to the original thereof. The original and one copy shall be for the use of said board of commissioners, and one copy shall be furnished to the state oil and gas supervisor, and one copy shall be furnished to the owner of the well in question. The cost and expense of employing any such stenographer, and the transcribing of his notes and making said copies, shall be part of the expenses of said commissioners, and when certified by the chairman of said board, and audited by the state board of control, shall be paid from said fund.

The traveling expenses of said commissioners, and all actual expenses incurred by or under the order of said commissioners, in the hearing and determination and carrying out of orders appealed to them, shall be certified by the deputy supervisor and the chairman of such board of supervisors, to the state supervisor, and when audited by him and by the state board of control, shall be paid from said fund.

Successors elected.

On the third Tuesday in September of each year at an hour and place in said respective districts to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which notices shall have been given as hereinbefore specified, the successor of each of the district oil and gas commissioners whose term of appointment shall expire that year, shall be elected and qualified in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinbefore set forth, and the term of each shall be for a period of three years from and after the first Monday in October next succeeding.

Recall of commissioners.

All, either or any of the district oil and gas commissioners elected in any district may be recalled by the votes of a majority of the qualified votes of the district entitled to vote as to such commissioners, respectively. In case there shall be filed in the office of the state oil and gas supervisor, a written petition, signed by not less than forty per cent of those entitled to vote as to the election of any commissioner or commissioners, asking the recall of such commissioner or commissioners, said state oil and gas supervisor shall, within ten days thereafter, order and give notice of, a special election in such district to fill the office or offices of the commissioner or commissioners named in said petition for recall; and shall cause notice to be given of said election in the manner and for the time required for regular election, and said notice shall fix the time and place of such election. At such election, the commissioner or commissioners named in such petition for recall shall be voted upon as though candidates for election for the unexpired portion of the term for which they, respectively, were originally elected, and any other candidate or candidates may, at the same time, be voted upon. It shall require a majority of all the qualified votes entitled to vote for such commissioners, respectively, to constitute an election. In case less than a majority of all qualified votes shall be cast for any candidate, said recall shall be deemed to have failed as to the commissioner concerning whose office such vote was taken; and in case such commissioner himself shall receive a majority of the votes, said recall shall be deemed to have failed, and in either of such cases, such commissioner shall continue to serve until the expiration of his term, as though no such special election had been held. But in case any person other than such commissioner shall receive a majority of the votes for such unexpired term, then such recall shall become effective and the office of the commissioner so recalled shall be vacant and upon written certificate of such election being filed with the state oil and gas supervisor, the person so chosen and elected for such unexpired term shall become the successor of the commissioner so recalled, and a certificate of his election for such unexpired term shall be issued and transmitted to him by the state oil and gas supervisor. And like proceedings shall be had in case more than one commissioner shall be included in said petition for recall.

Voting in recall elections.

In all recall elections, qualifications for voters and the number of votes which they will be entitled to cast shall be the same as they respectively were in the election of the commissioner as to whom such recall election is being held.

Vacancy.

In case of vacancy caused by the death, resignation or removal from district or ceasing to be engaged in the business of development or production of oil or gas in the district as to the office of any commissioner, such vacancy shall be filled until the next annual election by the remaining commissioners of such district.

Advice of supervisor.

Upon any subject in which any commissioner is personally interested, or upon which any corporation, copartnership, association or individual by whom he is employed is directly interested as a party, such commissioner shall not be entitled to sit or vote. The board of commissioners shall be entitled to call upon the supervisor for advice, and written report upon any matter referred to the board of commissioners, and the supervisors shall be entitled to call meetings of the commissioners at the office of the field supervisor, upon five days' written notice, to obtain their written advice upon any matters relating to his work within their district. [Amendment of May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1168.]

This section was also amended June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1589.

Investigation upon complaint.

§ 11. Upon receipt by the supervisor or deputy supervisor of a written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by a person, firm, corporation or association owning land or operating wells within a radius of one mile of any well or group of wells complained against, or upon the written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by any one of the board of commissioners for the district in which said well or group of wells complained against is situated, the supervisor must make an investigation of said well or wells and render a written report stating the work required to repair the damage complained of, or stating that no work is required. A copy of said order must be delivered to the complainant, or if more than one, each of said complainants, and if the supervisor order the damage repaired, a copy of such order shall be delivered to each of the owners, operators or agents having in charge the well or wells upon which the work is to be done. Said order shall contain a statement of the conditions sought to be remedied or repaired and a statement of the work required by the supervisor to repair such condition. Service of such copies shall be made by mailing to such persons at the post-office address given. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1592.]

Oaths and subpoenas. Depositions. Refusal to comply with order, etc., misdemeanor.

§ 12. In any proceeding before the board of commissioners as herein provided, or in any other proceeding or proceedings instituted by the supervisor for the purpose of enforcing or carrying out the provisions of this act, or for the purpose of holding an investigation to ascertain the condition of any well or wells complained of, or which in the opinion of the supervisor may reasonably be presumed to be improperly drilled, operated, maintained or conducted, the supervisor and the chairman of the board of commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths and may apply to a judge of the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county in which said proceeding or investigation is pending, for a subpoena for witnesses to attend at said proceeding or investigation. Upon said application of said supervisor or said chairman of said board of commissioners, said judge of said superior court must issue a subpoena directing said witness to attend said proceeding or investigation; provided, however, that no person shall be required to attend upon such proceeding, either with or without such books, papers, documents or accounts unless residing within the same county or within thirty miles of the place of attendance. But the supervisor or the chairman of the board of commissioners may in such case cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in superior courts of this state, and to that end may, upon application to a judge of the superior court of the county within which said proceeding or investigation is pending, obtain a subpoena compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents at such places as he may designate within the limits hereinbefore prescribed. Witnesses shall be entitled to receive the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil causes, payable from the fund hereinafter created. In case of failure or neglect on the part of any person to comply with any order of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, or any subpoena, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated, or upon refusal or neglect to appear and attend at any proceeding or hearing on the day specified, after having received a written notice of not less than ten days prior to such proceeding or hearing, or upon his failure, refusal or neglect to produce books, papers or documents as demanded in said order or subpoena upon such day, such failure, refusal or neglect shall constitute a misdemeanor and each day's further failure, refusal or neglect shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county in which said proceeding, hearing or investigation is to be held, to prosecute all persons guilty of violating this section by continuous prosecution until such person appears or attends or produces such books, papers or documents or complies with said subpoena or order of the supervisor or chairman of the board of commissioners. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1593.]

Decision of board.

§ 13. Within ten days after hearing the evidence, the board of commissioners must make a written decision with respect to the order appealed from and in case the same is affirmed or modified, shall retain jurisdiction thereof until such time as the work ordered to be done by such order shall be finally completed. This written decision shall be served upon the owner or his agent and shall supersede the previous order of the supervisor. In case no written decision be made by said board of commissioners within thirty days after the date of notice by the supervisor as provided in section ten hereof, the order of the supervisor shall be effective and subject only to review by writ of certiorari from the superior court as provided in section fourteen hereof. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

Commencement of work. Review of decision. Extent of review. Lien enforced.

§ 14. On or before thirty days after the date of serving an order of the supervisor, provided for in section eight hereof, or in case of appeal to the board of commissioners, on or before thirty days after date of serving the decision of the board, as provided in sections twelve and thirteen hereof, or in the event review be taken of the order of the board of commissioners within ten days after affirmance of such order, the owner shall commence in good faith the work ordered and continue until completion. If the work has not been so commenced and continued to completion, the supervisor shall appoint agents as he deems necessary who shall enter the premises and perform the work. Accurate account of such expenditures shall be kept and the amount paid from the fund hereinafter created upon the warrant of the state controller. Any amount so expended shall constitute a lien against the property upon which the work is done. The decision of the board of commissioners in such case may be reviewed by writ of certiorari from the superior court of the county in which the district is situated, if taken within ten days after the service of the order upon said owner, operator or agent of said owner or operator as herein provided; or within ten days after decision by the board of commissioners upon petitions by the supervisor. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than ten days after the issuance thereof and shall direct the district board of oil and gas commissioners to certify their record in the cause to such court. On the return day the cause shall be heard by the court unless for good cause the same be continued, but no continuance shall be permitted for a longer period than thirty days. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in the court before the cause shall be heard upon the record of the district board of oil and gas commissioners. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether or not—

1. The commission acted without or in excess of its jurisdiction.
2. The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
3. The order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.
4. The order, decision, regulation or award is clearly unsupported by the evidence.

If no review be taken within ten days, or if taken in case the decision of the board is affirmed, the lien upon the property shall be enforced in the same manner as the other liens on real property are enforced, and shall first be enforced against the owner of the well, against the operator and against the personal property and fixtures used in the construction or operation thereof, and then if there be any deficiency against the land upon which the work is done, upon the request of the supervisor, the state controller must, in the manner provided in section forty-four of this act, bring an action for the enforcement of said lien. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

Wells to be cased. Shut-off test.

§ 15. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well now drilled, or that may be drilled in the state of California, on lands producing or reasonably presumed to contain petroleum or gas, to properly case such well or wells with metal casing, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with the most approved methods to effectually shut off all water overlying or underlying the oil or gas-bearing strata, and to effectually prevent any water from penetrating such oil or gas-bearing strata.

Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any water is penetrating oil or gas-bearing strata, he may order a test of water shut-off and designate a day upon which the same shall be held. Said order shall be in written form and served upon the owner of said well at least ten days prior to the day designated in said order as the day upon which said shut-off test shall be held. Upon the receipt of such order it shall be the duty of the owner to hold said test in the manner and at the time prescribed in said order. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1595.]

Abandonment of well.

§ 16. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well referred to in this act, before abandoning the same, or before removing the rig, derrick or other operating structure therefrom, or removing any portion of the casing therefrom, to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, to shut off and exclude all water from entering oil bearing strata encountered in the well. Before any well is abandoned the owner shall give written notice to the supervisor, or his local deputy, of his intention to abandon such well and of his intention to remove the derrick or any portion of the casing from such well and the date upon which such work of abandonment or removal shall begin. The notice shall be given to the supervisor, or his local deputy, at least five days before such proposed abandonment or removal. The owner shall furnish the supervisor, or his deputy with such information as he may request showing the condition of the well and proposed method of abandonment or removal. The supervisor, or his deputy, shall before the proposed date of abandonment or removal, furnish the owner with a written order of approval of his proposal or a written order stating what work will be necessary before approval, to abandon or remove will be given. If the supervisor shall fail within the specified time to give the owner a written order such failure shall be considered as an approval of the owner's proposal to abandon the well, or to remove the rig or casing therefrom. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1596.]

Notice of intention to drill.

§ 17. The owner or operator of any well referred to in this act shall, before commencing the work of drilling an oil or gas well, file with the supervisor, or his local deputy, a written notice of intention to commence drilling. Such notice shall also contain the following information: (1) Statement of location and elevation above sea level of the floor of the proposed derrick and drill rig; (2) the number or other designation by which such well shall be known, which number or designation shall not be changed after filing the notice provided for in this section, without the written consent of the supervisor being obtained therefor; (3) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth of the point at which water will be shut off, together with the method by which such shut-off is intended to be made and the size and weight of casing to be used; (4) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth at which oil or gas producing sand or formation will be encountered.

After the completion of any well the provisions of this section shall also apply, as far as may be, to the deepening or redrilling of any well, or any operation involving the plugging of any well or any operations permanently altering in any manner the casing of any well; and provided, further, that the number or designation by which any well heretofore drilled has been known, shall not be changed without first obtaining a written consent of the supervisor. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1596.]

Drilling log. Prospect wells.

§ 18. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act, to keep a careful and accurate log of the drilling of such well, such log to show the character and depth of the formation passed through or encountered in the drilling of such well, and particularly to show the location and depth of the water bearing strata, together with the character of the water encountered from time to time (so far as ascertained) and to show at what point such water was shut off, if at all, and if not, to so state in such log, and show completely the amounts, kinds and size of casing used, and show the depth at which oil-bearing strata are encountered, the depth and character of same, and whether all water overlying and underlying such oil-bearing strata as successfully and permanently shut off so as to prevent the percolation or penetration into such oil-bearing strata; such log shall be kept in the local office of the owner or operator, and together with the tour reports of said owner or operator, shall be subject, during business hours, to the inspection of the supervisor, or any of his deputies, or any of the commissioners of the district, except in the case of a prospect well as hereinafter defined. Upon the completion of any well, or upon the suspension of operations upon any well, for a period of six months if it be a prospect well, or for thirty days, if it be in proven territory, a copy of said log in duplicate, and in such form as the supervisor may direct, shall be filed within ten days after such completion, or after the expiration of said thirty-day period, with the field supervisor, and a like copy shall be filed upon the completion of any additional work in the deepening of any such well.

The state oil and gas supervisor shall determine and designate what wells are prospect wells within the meaning of this act and no reports shall be required from such prospect wells until six months after the completion thereof.

The owner or operator of any well drilled previous to the enactment of this act shall furnish to the supervisor or his deputy a complete and correct log in duplicate and in such form as the supervisor may direct, or his deputy, of such well, so far as may be possible, together with a statement of the present condition of said well. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1597.]

Notice of shut-off test.

§ 19. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act to notify the deputy supervisor of the time at which the owner or operator shall test the shut-off of water in any such well. Such notice shall be given at least five days before such test. The deputy supervisor or an inspector designated by the supervisor shall be present at such test and shall render a report in writing of the result thereof to the supervisor, a duplicate of which shall be delivered to the owner. If any test shall be unsatisfactory to the supervisor he shall so notify the owner or operator in said report and shall within five days after the completion of such test, order additional tests of such work as he deems necessary to properly shut off the water in such well and in such order shall designate a day upon which the owner or operator shall again test the shut-off of water in any such well, which day may, upon the application of the owner, be changed from time to time in the discretion of the deputy supervisor. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1597.]

Statement of oil produced.

§ 20. It shall be the duty of every person, association or corporation producing oil in the state of California, to file with the supervisor, at his request but not oftener than once in each month, a statement showing amount of oil produced during the period indicated from each well, together with its gravity and the amount of water produced from each well, estimated in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and the number of days during which fluid was produced from each well, the number of wells drilling, producing, idle or abandoned, owned or operated by said person, association or corporation; provided, that, upon request and satisfactory showing a longer interval may be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor as to such reports in the case of any specific owner or operator.

This information shall be in such form as the supervisor may designate. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

Penalties.

§ 21. Any owner or operator of a well referred to in this act, or employee thereof, who refuses to permit the supervisor, or his deputy, to inspect the same, or who willfully hinders or delays the enforcement of this act, and every person, firm, or corporation, who violates any provision of this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Primary interest of state.

§ 21a. The charges hereinafter provided for are directed to be levied by the state of California as necessary in the exercise of its police power and to provide a means by which to supervise and protect deposits of petroleum and gas within the state of California, in which deposits the people of the state of California are hereby declared to have a primary and supreme interest. [New section added June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

Charges for support of department.

§ 22. Charges levied, assessed and collected as hereinafter provided upon the properties of every person, firm, corporation or association operating any well or wells for the production of petroleum in this state, or operating any well or wells for the production of natural gas in this state which gas wells are situate on lands situate within two miles, as near as may be, of any petroleum or gas well the production of which is chargeable under this act, shall be used exclusively for the support and maintenance of the department of petroleum and gas hereinbefore created, and shall be assessed and levied by the state mineralogist, and collected in the manner hereinafter provided. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

Annual charge on oil produced.

§ 23. Every person, firm, corporation or association operating any petroleum well or wells in this state shall annually pay a charge to the state treasurer at a uniform rate per barrel of petroleum produced for the preceding calendar year at the time and in the manner hereinafter provided, based upon a verified report as herein provided.

Annual charge on gas.

§ 24. Every person, firm, corporation or association operating any gas well or wells in this state shall annually pay a charge to the state treasurer based upon the amount of gas sold in the preceding calendar year, at a fixed rate per thousand cubic feet, at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, based upon a verified report as herein provided. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

Annual charge per acre.

§ 25. Every person, firm, corporation or association owning any oil land, as determined by the supervisor, shall annually pay a charge to the state treasurer at the time and in the manner hereinafter provided, which charge shall be a uniform rate per acre. Said charge shall be based upon a verified report as provided herein; provided, however, that such lands so assessed shall not be called upon to pay more than one-tenth of the total charges or moneys proposed to be assessed, levied and collected under the provisions of this act for any one year.

In addition to taxes.

§ 26. The charges assessed, levied and to be collected under the provisions of this act shall be in addition to any and all charges, taxes, assessments or licenses of any kind or nature paid by or upon the properties assessed hereunder.

Estimate of moneys required.

§ 27. The state mineralogist shall annually, on or before the first Monday in March, acting in conjunction with the state board of control, make an estimate of the amount of moneys which shall be required to carry out the provisions of this act.

At the time of making such estimate, the state mineralogist shall report to the state board of control the amount of money in the petroleum and gas fund on the day such estimate is made, less the amount of money necessary for the support of the department of petroleum and gas for the remainder of the fiscal year, and the amount of such estimate shall in no event exceed the difference between the amount thus determined as remaining in the petroleum and gas fund at the end of the fiscal year and the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

Form of report prescribed.

§ 28. The state mineralogist shall prescribe the form and contents of all reports for making the charge or other purposes to carry out the intent and provisions of this act, which form shall be mailed in duplicate to the person, firm, corporation or association owning property or assessed under the provisions of this act.

Annual report of corporations.

§ 29. Every person, firm, corporation or association chargeable under the provisions of this act, shall within ten days after the first Monday in March of each year, report to and file with the state mineralogist, a report in such form as said officer may prescribe, giving any and all items of information as may be demanded by said report, and necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which report shall be verified by such person or officer as the state mineralogist may designate.

Failure or refusal to act.

§ 30. If any person, firm, corporation or association chargeable under the provisions of this act shall fail or refuse to furnish the state mineralogist within the time prescribed in this act the verified report provided for in this act, the state mineralogist must note such failure or refusal in the record of assessments hereinafter in this act provided for, and must make an estimate of the petroleum or gas production, or landed area to be assessed of any such person, firm, corporation or association and must assess the same at the amount thus estimated and compute the charge thereon, which assessment and charge shall be the assessment and charge for such year. And if in the succeeding year any such person, firm, corporation or association shall again fail and refuse to furnish the verified report required by this act, the state mineralogist shall make an estimate as aforesaid, which estimate shall not be less than twice the amount of the estimate made by him for the previous year, and shall note such failure or refusal as above provided, and the said estimate so made shall be the assessment or charge for said year. In case of each succeeding consecutive failure or refusal the said state mineralogist shall follow the same procedure until a true statement or report shall be furnished.

Penalty.

§ 31. Any person, firm, corporation or association failing or refusing to make or furnish any report which may be required pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who wilfully renders a false or fraudulent report, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both such fine and imprisonment for each such offense. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

Extension of time of reports.

§ 32. The state mineralogist may, for good cause shown, by order entered upon his minutes, extend for not exceeding thirty days, the time fixed in this act for filing any report herein provided for.

Determination of rate.

§ 33. On or before the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year, the state mineralogist shall determine the rate or rates which shall produce the sums necessary to be raised as provided in section twenty-seven of this act. Within the same time the said state mineralogist shall extend into the proper column of the record of assessments hereinafter provided for, the amount of charges due from each person, firm, corporation or association. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

Assessments.

§ 34. Between the first Monday in March and the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year, the state mineralogist must assess and levy the charges as and in the manner provided for in this act. The assessments must be made to the person, firm, corporation or association owning or operating the property subject to assessment hereunder on the first Monday in March. If the name of the owner is unknown to the state mineralogist, such assessment must be made to unknown owners. Clerical errors occurring or appearing in the name of any person, firm, corporation or association whose property is properly assessed and charged, or in the making, or extension of any assessment or charge upon the records, which do not affect the substantial rights of the payer, shall not invalidate the assessment or charge.

Board of review.

§ 35. The state mineralogist and the chairman of the state board of control and the chairman of the state board of equalization shall constitute a board of review, correction and equalization, and shall have all the powers and perform such duties as usually devolve upon a county board of equalization under the provisions of section three thousand six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code. The state mineralogist shall act as secretary of said board, and shall keep an accurate minute of the proceedings thereof. Said board of review, correction and equalization shall meet at the state capitol on the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year, and remain in session from day to day until the first Monday in July for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section.

Notice of assessment published.

§ 36. On the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year the state mineralogist shall cause to be published a notice, one or more times, in a daily, or weekly, or semiweekly newspaper of general circulation published in the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under and pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest to such county designated herein in which no such paper is published, that the assessment of property and levy of charges under and in pursuance of this act has been completed and that the records of assessments containing the charges due will be delivered to the state controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any person, firm, corporation or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made or charge fixed by the state mineralogist, he or it may, at any time before said first Monday in July, apply to said board of review, correction and equalization to have the same corrected in any particular. The said board shall have the power at any time before said first Monday in July to correct the record of assessments and may increase or decrease any assessment or charge therein if in its judgment the evidence presented or obtained warrants such action. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund; provided, however, that the omission to publish said notice as hereinbefore and in this section provided, shall not affect the validity of any assessment levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

Record of assessments and charges.

§ 37. The state mineralogist must prepare each year a book in one or more volumes, to be called the "Record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund," in which must be entered, either in writing or printing, or both writing and printing, each assessment and levy or charge made by him upon the property provided to be assessed and charged under this act, describing the property assessed, and such assessments may be classified and entered in such separate parts of said record as said state mineralogist shall prescribe. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

Record delivered to controller.

§ 38. On the first Monday in July the state mineralogist must deliver to the state controller the record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund, certified to by said state mineralogist, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: "I,, state mineralogist, do hereby certify that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19...., made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and persons, firms, corporations and associations subject to assessment for the purpose of the petroleum and gas fund as required by the provisions of the act of legislature approved June 10, 1915, providing for the assessment and collection of charges for oil protection; that I have faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon me by law; that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any person, firm, corporation or association or property to escape a just assessment or charge through favor or regard, or otherwise." But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments and charges for oil protection, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment or charge. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

Charges due and payable.

§ 39. The charges levied and assessed under the provisions of this act shall be due and payable on the first Monday in July in each year, and one-half thereof shall be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock p. m. and unless paid prior thereto, fifteen per cent shall be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock p. m., an additional five per cent shall be added to the amount thereof, and the unpaid portion, or the remaining one-half of said charges shall become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable, at six o'clock p. m.; and if not paid prior thereto five per cent shall be added to the amount thereof.

Publication of controller's notice.

§ 40. Within ten days after the receipt of the record of assessments and charges for oil protection, the state controller must begin the publication of a notice to appear daily for five days, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under or pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise for at least two times in a weekly or semiweekly paper of general circulation published therein, or if there be neither a daily nor weekly nor semiweekly paper of general circulation published in any one of such counties, then the publication of the notice for such county shall be made in a similar manner in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest such county, specifying: (1) That he has received from the state mineralogist the record of assessments and charges for oil protection; (2) that the charges therein assessed and levied are due and payable on the first Monday in July and that one-half thereof will be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock p. m., and that unless paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, fifteen per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock p. m., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one-half of said charges will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable, at six o'clock p. m. and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 41. The assessments and charges levied under the provisions of this act shall constitute a lien upon all the property of every kind and nature belonging to the persons, firms, corporations and associations assessed under the provisions hereof, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Such lien shall be enforced and said charges collected by an action by the state controller as provided in section forty-four of this act. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

Charges paid to state treasurer.

§ 42. All charges assessed and levied under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer upon the order of the state controller. The controller must mark the date of payment of any charge on the record of assessments for the petroleum and gas fund and shall give a receipt for such payment in such form as the controller may prescribe. Errors appearing upon the face of any assessment on said record of assessments or overcharges may be corrected by the controller by and with the consent of the state board of control, in such manner and at such time as said controller and said board shall agree upon. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

Action to recover damages.

§ 43. Any person, firm, corporation or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made or charges assessed against him or it by the state mineralogist is void, in whole or in part, may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such charges, penalties or costs paid on such assessment, upon the grounds stated in said protest, but no action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day upon which the charges were due, nor unless such person, firm, corporation or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such charges, a written protest stating whether the whole assessment or charge is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded, and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary.

Procedure.

Whenever, under the provisions of this action, an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney employed by the state oil and gas supervisor must defend such action; provided, however, the said mineralogist may at the request of the said oil and gas supervisor employ additional counsel, the expense of which employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

Failure to bring action.

A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such charges. In any such action the court shall have the power to render judgment for the plaintiff for any part or portion of the charge, penalties, or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

Action to collect delinquent charges. Procedure.

§ 44. The state controller shall, on or before the thirtieth day of May next following the delinquency of any charge as provided in this act, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the people of the state of California, in the county in which the property assessed is situated, to collect any delinquent charges or assessments, together with any penalties or costs, which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this act and appearing delinquent upon the records of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund in this action provided for.

The attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor shall commence and prosecute such action to final judgment and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. The state mineralogist may employ additional counsel to assist the attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor, and the expense of such employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund.

Payments of the penalties and charges, or amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the state treasurer. In such actions the record of assessment and charges for oil protection, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the controller showing unpaid charges against any person, firm, corporation or association assessed by the state mineralogist is prima facie evidence of the assessment upon the property, the delinquency, the amount of charges, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the state, and that the person, firm, corporation or association is indebted to the people of the state of California in the amount of charges and penalties therein appearing unpaid and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment of such charges have been complied with. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1603.]

First assessment.

§ 45. The first assessment under the provisions of this act shall be as of the first Monday in March, nineteen hundred sixteen, and the reports of petroleum production and sales of gas herein provided to be assessed shall be reported for the calendar year ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred fifteen. The lands herein provided to be assessed and charged shall be assessed to the owners thereof as of the first Monday in March, nineteen hundred sixteen.

Petroleum and gas fund.

§ 46. All the moneys heretofore paid to the state treasurer under or pursuant to the provisions of this act and deposited to the credit of the oil protection fund, shall be withdrawn from said fund, which is hereby abolished, and deposited to the credit of the petroleum and gas fund which is hereby created. All of the moneys hereafter paid to the state treasurer under or pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be deposited to the credit of the petroleum and gas fund. All moneys in such fund shall be expended under the direction of the state mineralogist, drawn from such fund for the purpose of this act upon warrants drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the state mineralogist, and audited by the state board of control. Of the moneys in said petroleum and gas fund, when such action has been authorized by the state board of control, the state mining bureau may withdraw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars, said sum so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn shall be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1603.]

Repair work.

§ 47. All moneys received in repayment of repair work done under the order and direction of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, shall be returned and credited to the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

Supervisor's annual report.

§ 48. On or before the first day of October of each and every year the supervisor shall submit a report in writing to the state mineralogist showing the total number of barrels of petroleum produced in each county in the state during the previous calendar year, together with the total cost of said department for the previous fiscal year and the net amount remaining in the petroleum and gas fund available for the succeeding fiscal year's expense, also the total amount delinquent and uncollected from any assessments or charges levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Such report shall also include such other information as the supervisor may deem advisable. The state mineralogist shall make public such statements promptly after receipt of the same from the supervisor for the benefit of all parties interested therein. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

Certificate showing names of persons claiming interest.

§ 49. The owner or operator of any lands or tenements subject to assessment under this act shall, within six months after this act goes into effect, file with the supervisor a certificate which shall contain the names of all the parties claiming an interest in or to said lands and full description of the property and the names of all parties in interest where such interest is held by lease, license or assignment. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

Definitions.

§ 50. Whenever the term "supervisor" is used in this act it shall be taken to mean the "state oil and gas supervisor," the term "oil" shall include "petroleum," the term "petroleum" shall include "oil," the term "gas" shall mean natural gas coming from the earth, the term "operator" shall mean any person, firm or corporation drilling, maintaining, operating, pumping, or in control of a well in any territory which the supervisor determines to be oil or gas producing territory, the term "owner" shall include "operator" when any oil or gas well is operated or has been operated or is about to be operated by any person, firm or corporation other than the owner thereof, and the term "operator" shall include "owner" when any such well is or has been or is about to be operated by or under the direction of the owner, except that all the provisions of this act relating to assessments for the purposes of this act based upon the annual production of oil or petroleum or sale of gas, as set forth in sections 22 to 45, inclusive of this act, shall apply only to a person, firm or corporation operating an oil or petroleum or gas well, and shall not apply to the owner of such well if some person, firm or corporation, other than such owner, has been actually operating the well during the whole period for which such annual charge is made, but in the event that the actual operation of any such well changes hands during such period, the charge shall be apportioned upon the basis of the oil or petroleum or gas produced, and the lien provided for in section 41 of this act shall be a lien against the property of each and all such operators.

Appropriation.

§ 51. There is hereby appropriated out of the moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty thousand dollars which said sum shall be immediately transferred by the state controller on the books of his office from the general fund to the "oil protection fund" created by section 46 of this act.

The above mentioned fund shall be available for the uses of the state mineralogist for the maintenance of the department of the petroleum and gas and for the necessary expenses of the controller in carrying out the provisions of this act. When the collections paid to the state treasurer, as herein provided, equal the sum of thirty thousand dollars then said sum of twenty thousand dollars shall be re-transferred from the oil protection fund to the general fund. The moneys received into the state treasury through the provisions of this act are hereby appropriated for the uses and purposes herein specified.

Constitutionality.

§ 52. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Construction of act.

§ 53. This act shall be liberally construed to meet its purposes and the supervisor shall have all powers which may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, but the provisions of this act shall not apply to any land or wells situated within the boundaries of an incorporated city where the drilling of oil wells is prohibited.

Repealed.

§ 54. That certain act entitled "An act to prevent injury to oil, gas or petroleum-bearing strata or formations by the penetration or infiltration of water thereon," approved March 20, 1909, together with all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto and all acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Nothing herein shall be construed as affecting the provisions of the act of June 16, 1913, establishing a state mining bureau.

GOVERNMENT BREAKWATER.

ACT 2970—An act making an appropriation to aid in the construction of a breakwater in Monterey bay, California.

History: Approved May 14, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 475. Prior act of March 15, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 371, superseded by present act (§ 5).

Appropriation: breakwater in Monterey bay.

§ 1. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be applied toward the construction of a breakwater in Monterey bay, California, in accordance with such plans therefor as shall have been or may hereafter be adopted by the government of the United States and approved by congress.

Conditions.

§ 2. This act shall become operative only upon condition that the government of the United States shall, under, by and through the war department, assume full charge and control of all work to be done as provided by this act, and also upon condition that the sum of not less than two hundred thousand dollars shall have been appropriated in furtherance thereof by the congress of the United States.

Paid to treasurer of United States.

§ 3. The amount hereby appropriated shall be paid to the treasurer of the United States whenever the sum of not less than two hundred thousand dollars shall have been appropriated by the congress of the United States conditioned on the payment of two hundred thousand dollars for the prosecution of the work hereinbefore set forth by the state of California; provided, that the whole of such amount appropriated by the congress of the United States and by the state of California shall be expended under the direction of the secretary of war and the supervision of the chief of engineers of the United States.

Controller's warrant.

§ 4. The controller of the state of California is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of the United States for the amount hereby appropriated, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

Stats. 1911, p. 371, superseded.

§ 5. This act is a revision of and shall supersede an act entitled "An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of constructing a breakwater in Monterey bay, California, as recommended in the report of the chief of engineers, United States army, and printed in a document of the United States house of representatives, No. 1084, sixty-first congress, third session, calling for an expenditure of eight hundred thousand dollars and making an appropriation for such work," approved March 15, 1911.

ACT 2974. FREEHOLDER'S CHARTER OF MONTEREY.

2976. WATERFRONT GRANT.

FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER OF MONTEREY.ACT 2974—Freeholder's charter of the city of Monterey.

History: Voted for and ratified at a special municipal election December 12, 1910; filed with the Secretary of State March 2, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1742. Originally incorporated in 1850, Stats. 1850, p. 131. Act of incorporation repealed and city reincorporated in 1851, Stats. 1851, p. 367. This act repealed and city reincorporated May 11, 1853, Stats. 1853, p. 159. This last act was amended (1) March 4, 1857, Stats. 1857, p. 5; (2) April 13, 1862, Stats. 1862, p. 274; (3) April 2, 1864, Stats. 1863-64, p. 834; and repealed March 16, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 227. The city was incorporated in the general act of 1883, in 1889, which incorporation was superseded by the present charter.

1. Pueblo lands—Acquisition of—Conditions.—The city of Monterey acquired control by its acts of incorporation of the pueblo lands as successor of the former pueblo, and held them in trust as a chartered agent of the state, and could hold them only under the conditions and for such time as the state might permit.—Monterey v. Jacks, 139 Cal. 542, 73 Pac. 436.

2. Same—Legislative power to authorize conveyance.—There was no provision in the constitution of 1849 preventing the legislature from authorizing the town of Monterey to convey the pueblo lands, and to confirm a conveyance thereof follows as a matter of course.—Monterey v. Jacks, 139 Cal. 542, 73 Pac. 436.

3. Same—Intention of act of 1866.—By the act of 1866 the legislature intended to confirm a conveyance theretofore made of pueblo lands by the city.—Monterey v. Jacks, 139 Cal. 542, 73 Pac. 436.

4. Same—Construction of act of 1866.—The act of 1866 not only ratified and unauthorized conveyance of pueblo lands by the town of Monterey, but it operated to cure all defects in the manner and form of the conveyance itself, including want of a corporate seal.—Monterey v. Jacks, 139 Cal. 542, 73 Pac. 436.

5. Same—Legislative power to ratify conveyance.—The California legislature was empowered to pass an act ratifying conveyances made by the corporate authorities of the city of Monterey of pueblo lands confirmed and patented to that city by the United States.—City of Monterey v. Jacks, 203 U. S. 360, 51 L. ed. 220, 27 Sup. Ct. 67.

6. Same—Van Ness ordinance.—The power of the legislature to dispose of the pueblo lands is fully discussed in Hart v. Burnett, 15 Cal. 530.—Monterey v. Jacks, 139 Cal. 542, 73 Pac. 436.

See, also, Payne v. Treadwell, 16 Cal. 233; San Francisco v. Canavan, 42 Cal. 552; and as to the power of disposition of such lands in the local authorities under Mexican law.—Grogan v. San Francisco, 18 Cal. 590, 615; Redding v. White, 27 Cal. 282.

WATER FRONT GRANT.

ACT 2976—An act granting to the city of Monterey the title to the water-front of said city in the bay of Monterey.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1359. Prior act of March 21, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 202, amended March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 299, presumably superseded by the present act.

Lands granted to Monterey.

§ 1. The state of California does hereby cede, grant and relinquish forever, unto the city of Monterey, a municipal corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of California, all the right, title, interest and estate whatsoever of the said state of California, of, in and to, all the real estate, lands and property situate within the corporate limits of said city of Monterey, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point where the line of the corporation limits of said city strikes the bay of Monterey on the north, and running along the entire water front thereof in a southerly and westerly direction to the point where the southern or western boundary of said city strikes the said bay, comprising the entire water front of said city, out to a depth of sixty feet at low tide water; provided, that the rights of all persons, if any exist, under any title derived from said state of California, in and to any part of said property and premises hereby ceded and granted, be and the same are hereby reserved from the operation of this act.

Conditions of grant.

§ 2. The entire water front hereby granted shall be held by the city of Monterey and its lawful successors forever, for the use and benefit of said city, and shall not be subject to execution upon any judgment against said city, but from time to time, may be let or leased for a term not exceeding fifty years, as the said city or its successors may deem to be most advantageous to said city; provided, that not more than three hundred feet frontage of said water front shall be leased to one lessee; and provided, further, that at and upon any wharf erected or built upon property so leased any and all vessels shall have a right to dock, land and discharge passengers or merchandise upon payment to such lessee or lessees of reasonable dockage and wharfage. The dockage and wharfage shall be regulated and prescribed in such lease, and as thereafter, from time to time, may be determined by ordinance or resolution of said city of Monterey or by statute of the state of California.

Repealed.

§ 3. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

No mention was made in the title of the act of 1913 of the repeal of the act of 1905, but section 40 of that act expressly repealed the prior act; so, also, of the present act, which makes no mention of the repeal of the act of 1913 in its title, but in section 38 it is expressly repealed.

Words and phrases defined.

§ 1. The words and phrases used in this act shall for the purposes of this act, unless the same be contrary to or inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows: (1) "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles propelled otherwise than by muscular power, except trailers and such vehicles as run upon stationary rails or tracks; (2) "automobile" shall include all motor vehicles excepting motoreycles; (3) "motoreycle" shall include all motor vehicles designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, and of not exceeding ten horsepower, and of not exceeding the weight of five hundred pounds unladen; provided, however, that any motor vehicle which shall be operated on the public highway drawing a trailer shall be deemed to be an automobile for all the purposes of this act; and provided, further, that for the purposes of this act a trailer shall be deemed to be any vehicle which is at any time drawn upon the public highway by a motor vehicle, excepting any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon such highway; (4) "highway" shall include any public highway, county road, state highway or state road, public street, avenue, alley, park, parkway, driveway, square or place, bridge, viaduct, trestle, or any other territory or structure, whether public or private, designed, intended or used by or for the general public for the passage of vehicles, in any county, or incorporated city and county, city or town within the state of California, including driveways, upon the grounds of universities, colleges, schools, and other institutions, whether public or private; (5) "business district" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway mainly built up with structures devoted to business; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such business district, signs which shall be placed on the right side of such highway looking toward such district, and which shall be triangular in shape, apex upward, the sides thereof being of equal length and not less than twenty-four inches in length, which shall bear in white letters of a size to be easily readable by a person using the highway the words and figures: "15 miles speed limit." Such letters shall be on a background colored dark green and the back of such sign shall also be colored dark green; (6) "closely built up" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway not mainly devoted to business, where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling houses and business structures on such highway average less than one hundred feet apart; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such district, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words and figures "20 miles speed limit" which words shall be printed in white letters on a red background; such signs shall also be colored red on the back thereof and shall be of the same size and shape as those specified in subdivision five of this section and shall be similarly placed on the highway; (7) "local authorities" shall include all boards of supervisors, trustees or councils, commissions, committees, and other public officials of counties, incorporated cities and counties, cities or towns, or municipal or quasi-municipal corporations when such officials possess or exercise legislative or police powers; (8) "chauffeur" shall mean any person who operates an automobile in the transportation of persons or property and who receives any compensation for such service in wages, commission or otherwise, paid directly or indirectly, or who as owner or employee operates an automobile carrying passengers or property for hire; provided, however, that this definition shall not include manufacturers' agents, proprietors of garages and dealers, salesmen, mechanics, or demonstrators of automobiles in the ordinary course of their business; (9) the term "state" as used in this act, except where otherwise expressly provided, shall also include the territories, federal districts and insular possessions of the United States; (10) "non-residents" shall mean residents of states or countries other than the state of California whose sojourn in this state, or whose occupation of their regular place of abode or business in this state, if any, covers a total period of less than three months in the calendar year; (11) "owner" shall include any person, firm, association, or corporation, having the lawful use or control, or the right to the use or control, of a vehicle, under a lease or otherwise, for a period of ten or more successive days; (11a) the legal owner is hereby defined as the owner of the legal title; (12) "manufacturer" or "dealer" shall signify a person, firm, association, or corporation regularly in the business of having in his, its or their possession vehicles for sale or trade and for use and operation pursuant thereto, and shall be considered owners of vehicles manufactured or dealt in by them for the purposes of this act, prior to sale and delivery thereof, and of all vehicles in their possession and operated or driven by them or by their employees; provided, however, that anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the determination of the motor vehicle department shall be final and conclusive upon the question whether or not an applicant for registration shall be a manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; (13) "garage" shall mean every place of business where motor vehicles are received for housing, storage or repair, for compensation; (14) "intersecting highway" shall mean any highway which joins another at an angle, whether or not it crosses the other; (15) "operator" shall mean any person other than a chauffeur who operates a motor vehicle and any person who operates, rides, drives or propels any vehicle other than a motor vehicle; (16) "person" shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals; and where the term "person" is used in connection with the registration of a vehicle, it shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals which owns or controls such vehicle as actual owner, or for the purpose of sale or for renting, whether as agent, salesman, or otherwise; (17) "department" as used in this act shall mean the motor vehicle department of California, acting directly or through its duly authorized agent; (18) "vehicle" shall include every wagon, hack, coach, carriage, omnibus, bicycle, tricycle, automobile, cyclecar, motorcycle, truck, trailer, traction engine, tractor, or other conveyance or contrivance for moving persons, animals or things, in whatever manner and by whatever force or power the same may be ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved, which is ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved on the public highway, including implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway, and excepting only conveyances drawn or propelled by pedestrians, and railroad, street or interurban cars, engines and motors moving upon stationary rails or tracks; (19) the city and county of San Francisco shall be considered a county; (20) "net receipts" shall signify the balance remaining of the money paid to the department in conformity with the provisions of this act after the payment of all salaries, expenses and refunds incident to the administration and enforcement of this act; (21) "specially constructed" motor vehicle shall mean a motor vehicle which shall not have been originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model or type by a generally recognized manufacturer of motor vehicles; provided, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of construction of any such motor vehicle shall be conclusive; (22) "reconstructed motor vehicle" shall mean a motor vehicle which shall have been assembled or constructed largely by means of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles of various names, models or types, or which, if originally otherwise constructed, shall have been materially altered by the removal of essential parts or by the addition or substitution of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles; provided, that for the purpose of this act the term "essential parts" shall include not only integral parts but also body parts, such as fenders, hood, cowl, and other parts the removal, alteration or substitution of which will tend to conceal the identity or substantially alter the appearance of the motor vehicle; and provided, further, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of such assembly, reconstruction or alteration shall be conclusive; (23) "imported motor vehicle" shall mean any motor vehicle which shall be brought into this state from another country or state otherwise than in the ordinary course of business by or through a manufacturer or dealer, and which has not been registered in this state, except such motor vehicles, owned by nonresidents, as are provided for by section twenty-seven of this act; (24) "highway commission" shall mean the appointed members of the advisory board of the department of engineering of the state of California. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 193.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 382.

Exempt from tax.

§ 2. All motor vehicles owned and used in the transaction of official business by the representatives of foreign powers or by officers, boards or departments of the government of the United States, and all motor vehicles owned by and used in the operative work of such corporations as are taxed solely for state purposes under the provisions of the constitution of this state and such self-propelling vehicles as are used neither for the conveyance of persons for hire, pleasure, or business, nor for the transportation of freight, are hereby exempted from the payment of the fees in this act prescribed. The department shall furnish, free of charge, distinguishing plates for motor vehicles thus exempt.

Application for registration. Horsepower formula. Steam-driven motor vehicle. Specially constructed motor vehicle. Imported motor vehicle. Trailers.

§ 3. Every owner of a motor vehicle which shall be operated or driven upon the public highways shall, for each motor vehicle owned, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, cause to be filed, by mail, or otherwise, with the department an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and post-office address of the applicant and the name and post-office address of the legal owner, a description of such motor vehicle, including the name of the maker, the number, if any, affixed to the motor or engine by the maker, the character of the motive power, and the diameter of the cylinder bore and the number of cylinders; and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; provided, that for all the purposes of this act the horsepower of any motor vehicle, except electric or steam-driven vehicles, shall be determined by the formula commonly known as that of the association of licensed automobile manufacturers (A. L. A. M.), being as follows: Square the diameter of the cylinder in inches, multiply by the number of cylinders, and divide by two and five-tenths; provided, further, that for the purpose of this act the horsepower of any steam-driven motor vehicle shall be the horsepower rating fixed and advertised by the manufacturer thereof; provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be a specially constructed or a reconstructed motor vehicle, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle; and provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be an imported motor vehicle, within the meaning of this act, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration, and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle, and in case such vehicle shall have been theretofore registered in any other state or country, the applicant shall with his original application for registration supply the department with full information relating to such former registration and shall surrender to the department any number plates, seals, certificates of registration or other evidences of such former registration as may be in the applicant's possession or control. Every owner of a trailer or trailers which shall be drawn upon a public highway when any such trailer shall exceed one ton in weight shall cause to be filed by mail or otherwise, with the department, an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and post-office address of the applicant, and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee, as provided in section seven of this act.

Notice of change of address.

Whenever the owner of any motor vehicle shall after making application for registration of any motor vehicle move from the address named in such application or change his post-office address he shall within ten days after such moving or change of address notify the department in writing of such change and of his new post-office address. Failure to so notify the department shall constitute a misdemeanor. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 196.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 385.

Registration. Record posted.

§ 4. Upon the receipt by the department of an application for registration of a motor vehicle or trailer or trailers accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act, the department shall file such application and if satisfied that the applicant is entitled to registration of said vehicle or vehicles as the owner thereof, within the meaning of this act, and if all fees theretofore payable to the department in connection with the registration, or any renewal thereof, of said vehicle or vehicles shall have been duly paid, shall alphabetically, and also numerically, register such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers with the name and post office of the owner, and of the legal owner together with the facts stated in such application, in a book or on index cards to be kept for the purpose, under a distinctive number assigned to such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers by the department, which book or index cards shall be opened to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. A full record of all motor vehicle registration shall be posted daily by the department upon a bulletin board so located as to be easily accessible to the public, and no information relative to any such registrations shall be made public by any employee of the department in advance of such posting.

Assignment of number.

Upon the filing of such application and the payment of the fee provided in this act, the department shall upon registration assign to such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers, a distinctive registration number. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 197.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 386.

Number plates. Annual change.

§ 5. The department shall furnish to every person whose motor vehicle or trailer or trailers shall be registered as aforesaid, on original registration, one number plate for motoreycles and trailers, and two number plates for automobiles, the same to have displayed upon them the registration number assigned to such vehicle, together with the abbreviation "Cal."; provided, however, that number plates furnished for trailers and for such motor vehicles as are exempted by section two of this act from the payment of the fees in this act prescribed shall contain suitable distinguishing marks or symbols, and the numbers assigned in such cases shall run in different numerical series from the numbers assigned to other vehicles registered under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, that it shall not be necessary to apply for registration of implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, moved or otherwise propelled upon the public highway, nor shall it be necessary for the department to assign any distinguishing numbers to such implements of husbandry or to furnish number plates for display thereon; the number plates assigned as herein provided shall be and remain with the motor vehicle for the period of registration mentioned in the application therefor; such number plates shall be changed annually and shall be of a distinctly different color each year, and there shall be a marked contrast between the color of the number plates and that of the numerals or letters thereon. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 198.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 387.

Renewal of registration.

§ 6. All motor vehicle registrations under this act shall expire January 31 of each year and shall be renewed annually in the same manner and upon the payment of the same fee as provided for original registrations, such renewal to take effect on the first day of February of each year. The plates and certificates of registration furnished by the said department as heretofore provided shall be valid during the year only in which they are furnished or issued. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 198.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 387.

Registration fees. Motorcycles. Automobiles. Electric motor vehicles. Chauffeur's license. Duplicates.

§ 7. The following fees shall be paid to the department upon the registration of a vehicle in accordance with the provisions of this act and shall accompany the application hereinabove provided for: For the registration of every motorcycle, two dollars; for the registration of every automobile, except electric automobiles, the sum of forty cents for each horsepower, or major fraction thereof, according to the formula specified in section three of this act; for the registration of every motor vehicle equipped with other than pneumatic tires, and used for commercial purposes, weighing under four thousand pounds unladen, five dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing four thousand pounds and over and less than six thousand pounds unladen, ten dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle, weighing six thousand pounds and over and less than ten thousand pounds unladen, fifteen dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing ten thousand pounds and over unladen, twenty dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horsepower rating or for electric motor vehicles; for the registration of every electric motor vehicle, five dollars; for the registration of motor vehicles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles, ten dollars for the first set of number plates, and five dollars for each additional set, two number plates of the same kind shall constitute a set; for the registration of the motorcycles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of or dealer in motorcycles five dollars for the first number plate and one dollar for each additional number plate; for every registration number plate for trailers, two dollars; for every chauffeur's license, two dollars; for an original operator's license no fee shall be charged; for the registration of every transfer of ownership shall be charged a fee of one dollar. Upon the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss or mutilation or illegibility, the fees for additional number plates, duplicate container, certificate of registration, chauffeur's badge, chauffeur's certificate, or duplicate operator's license shall be as follows; provided, that no affidavit will be required for duplicate operator's license: For every such number plate, one dollar; for every such duplicate container, twenty-five cents; for every such certificate of registration, fifty cents; for every such chauffeur's badge, one dollar; for every such chauffeur's certificate, fifty cents; for every such operator's license, twenty-five cents.

Portion of Year.

Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, if application for the registration of a motor vehicle or for chauffeur's license is made during the period beginning on the first day of May and ending on the thirty-first day of July in any year, three-fourths of the annual fee shall be paid; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of August and ending on the thirty-first day of October, one-half of such annual fee; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of November and ending on the thirty-first day of January, one fourth of such annual fee. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 198.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 387.

Certificate of registration. Legal owner designated. Container.

§ 8. The department shall also furnish with each number plate for motorcycles and with each pair of number plates for automobiles, and on each annual renewal of registration, a certificate of registration which shall contain upon the face thereof the following data: The name of the registered owner of the motor vehicle, his post-office address, the name and address of the legal owner, and the make of the vehicle, the year model denoted by the manufacturer, the model or letter denoted by the manufacturer, if any, the engine or motor number, the registered horsepower, the registration number and the amount of annual registration fee, together with the date of issue of the certificate; provided, however, the name and address of the legal owner shall appear on the bottom line of the certificate of registration. In case of motorcycles, the manufacturer's serial number shall be stated in lieu of the engine number. Such certificate shall contain a blank space for the signature of the registered owner and shall be signed by such owner. The reverse side of said certificate shall contain forms (a) for notice to the department by the registered owner and the legal owner in case of transfer of ownership, as hereinafter required, and (b) for application to the department by the transferee, in case of transfer of said motor vehicle, for registration thereof in his name, said application to be in the form of a joint statement to be signed by both transferor and transferee and the legal owner and to contain in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the post-office address of the transferee so applying for registration. Said certificate shall contain the identical registration number denoted on the number plate or plates in connection with which such certificate is issued, and it shall be valid only for the year in which it is issued. Said certificate shall be enclosed in a suitable container, to be furnished by the department, such container to have a frame of aluminum or other metal and to have a cover of isinglass or other transparent material, through which such certificate can be easily inspected, and with such container said department shall furnish screws or other suitable means of attachment to the motor vehicle. Said number plates, certificates and containers shall be furnished by the department without further charge than the fees specified in section seven of this act, with transportation prepaid, and shall be of substantial character and suitable form and design, to be determined by the department.

Transfer of ownership.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle registered under section three of this act the person in whose name such vehicle is registered shall forthwith (a) file with the department a notice, upon the form furnished by the department and attached to the certificate of registration, containing the date of such transfer of ownership and the name and post-office address of the transferee, and upon such transfer the title of the number plates shall vest in the transferee.

Joint statement.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle, the person in whose name such vehicle is registered and the person to whom ownership of such vehicle is to be transferred shall forthwith join in a statement of said transfer endorsed upon the reverse side of the certificate of registration of said motor vehicle in the space provided for said purpose, which statement shall be signed by the transferor and the legal owner in the manner and form of his signature contained on the face of said certificate and which statement shall likewise be signed by the transferee, who shall also set forth below his signature his post-office address. Said statement shall include an application by the transferee for registration of said vehicle in his name. Said certificate so endorsed and bearing upon the reverse side thereof the signatures of the transferor and transferee, shall be forwarded by the transferee within ten days to the department together with proper fee of one dollar required by section seven of this act. The department shall file said certificate so jointly endorsed by transferor and transferee and upon receipt of the proper fee as above provided, the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer, shall register said motor vehicle in the name of said transferee.

New registration certificate. Transfer by operation of law.

Upon such registration the department shall issue and forward to the applicant without further charge than as provided in section seven of this act, a new registration certificate in the manner and form as hereinabove provided for original registration. Until said transferee has received said certificate of registration and has written his name upon the face thereof in the blank space provided for said purpose by the department, delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; provided, that where such transfer is made to a manufacturer or dealer to whom has been assigned a general distinguishing number and who intends to resell or otherwise retransfer said vehicle the provisions of this act relative to the joint statement of transferor and transferee endorsed thereon, shall be complied with upon such sale or transfer. In case of transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle, registered under the provisions of this act, by operation of law, as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, order in bankruptcy or insolvency, execution sale, repossession upon default in performance of the terms of a lease or executory sales contract, or otherwise than by the voluntary act of the registered owner, the notice of transfer as well as the joint statement hereinabove provided for shall be signed by the executor, administrator, receiver, trustee, sheriff, or other representative or successor in interest of the registered owner, in lieu of such owner, and the transferee's application for registration shall be accompanied by a statement of the special facts in the premises; provided, that the department may in its discretion require from the transferee, before registering such motor vehicle, such additional information respecting such involuntary loss of ownership by the former registered owner as may be satisfactory to the department.

When vehicle not to be operated on highway.

Anything to the contrary hereinabove notwithstanding, upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle to a person not intending either to operate the same or to cause or permit the same to be operated upon the public highways and not intending to transfer such motor vehicle to another person, a statement by said transferee of such fact or intent shall accompany the application for registration, in which case no fee for registration need be paid by the applicant, whereupon the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer and if satisfied of the facts stated in said application for registration, shall register, without any charge whatever, such motor vehicle in the name of said transferee and shall issue and forward to him a new registration certificate in a distinctive form to be determined by the department; provided, that until said transferee has received said registration certificate, delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made, and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to permit such motor vehicle to be operated upon the public highway under such distinctive certificate of registration last hereinabove provided for.

Registration refused or revoked.

If the department shall determine, at any time, that for any reason a motor vehicle or trailer is unsafe or is improperly equipped or is otherwise unfit to be operated, or that the applicant for registration thereof is not entitled as owner thereof to such registration, the department may refuse to register such vehicle and may, for a like reason, revoke any registration already acquired. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 199.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 388.

Dealer's registration. Unlawful use of dealer's registration.

§ 9. Every manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles may make application to the department, by mail or otherwise, upon a blank provided by the department, for a general distinguishing number or symbol, instead of registering each motor vehicle owned by him, and with such application he shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; and the department shall grant the application if satisfied of the facts stated in the application and shall issue to the applicant a certificate of registration containing the name and business address of the applicant and the general distinguishing number or symbol assigned to him, and made in such form and containing such further information as the department may determine; and every motor vehicle owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer shall be regarded as registered under such general distinguishing number or symbol until ten days after being sold, or until let for hire, or until loaned for a period of more than ten successive days. The department shall furnish, without other charge than the fee specified in section seven of this act, with transportation charges prepaid, to every manufacturer of or dealer in automobiles or motorcycles applying therefor whose vehicles are registered in accordance with the provisions of this section, one pair of automobile plates or one single motorcycle number plates, of suitable design, the plates to have displayed upon them the registration number which is assigned to the motor vehicles of such manufacturer or dealer, with a different symbol on each pair of automobile number plates and on each single motorcycle plate. The department shall furnish such additional number plates as required by any dealer, upon the payment of the fee therefor set forth in section seven of this act. If the department shall determine at any time for due cause that any such manufacturer or dealer to whom the certificate of registration provided for in this section has been issued and to whom such general distinguishing number or symbol has been assigned has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained with reference to notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may revoke said certificate of registration and recall and cancel said general distinguishing number of symbol, in which event said manufacturer or dealer, after notice of such action on part of the department, shall, without further demand, return to the department any and all number plates that may have been furnished him by the department under said certificate so revoked; provided, that no manufacturer or dealer or any employee of such manufacturer or dealer, shall cause or permit the display, or other use, of any number plate, or certificate of registration which may have been furnished to such manufacturer or dealer under the general distinguishing number or symbol hereinbefore provided for, excepting upon motor vehicles owned by such manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; provided, further, that no person shall display or otherwise use or have in his possession any number plate, or certificate of registration furnished by the department under a general manufacturer's or dealer's distinguishing number or symbol, except such manufacturer or dealer or his employees; and provided, further, that if the department, upon receiving from any manufacturer or dealer an application for the issuance for the ensuing calendar year of the certificate of registration and general distinguishing number or symbol provided for in this section, shall determine upon due cause that such manufacturer or dealer during the previous calendar year has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained respecting the filing of notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may refuse such application.

Moving unregistered vehicle.

When it shall become necessary for a manufacturer of, or dealer in, or consignee of, motor vehicles to move any vehicles owned by or consigned to him, not being registered under any of the provisions of this act, from any vessel, railroad depot, or warehouse, to the salesrooms or other place of business of such manufacturer or dealer, or to a warehouse or other place of storage, over the public highways, he may operate such vehicle, either under its own power or otherwise, over such public highways as are necessary for said purpose, without first registering said motor vehicle or affixing thereto any number plates issued to him under the general distinguishing number or symbol hereinabove specified; provided, however, that in such event he shall first obtain from the police authorities or marshall of the city or town in which said vessel, railroad depot or warehouse is situated, a written permit authorizing such operation; and there is hereby conferred upon police authorities, including town marshals, within the state of California, authority to issue such permits in proper cases as hereinbefore provided.

Dealer's notice of sale. Notice of dismantling.

Upon the transfer of any motor vehicle by a manufacturer or dealer, whether by sale, lease or otherwise, such motor vehicle not being registered under the provisions of section three hereof, such manufacturer or dealer shall, forthwith upon such transfer, file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer, a description of such motor vehicle, and the name and post-office of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee. Before any person, firm or corporation shall wreck, dismantle or dissemble any motor vehicle, or substantially alter the form thereof, such person, firm or corporation shall give notice in writing upon forms to be furnished by the motor vehicle department of the intention so to do to the chief of police or marshal of the city or town in which such work is to be done or if such work is to be done outside of an incorporated city or town, such notice shall be given to the sheriff of the county in which the work is to be done.

Notice of transfer of engine.

Upon the transfer of any automobile engine or motor, except a new engine or motor transferred with intent that the same be installed in a new automobile, and whether such transfer be made by a manufacturer or dealer or otherwise, and whether by sale, lease or otherwise, the transferor shall within three days after such transfer file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer and a description, together with the maker's number of said engine or motor, the name and post-office address of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 202.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 392.

Display of number plates. Visibility.

§ 11. Except as in this act otherwise provided, no person shall operate or drive, or cause to be operated or driven, a motor vehicle, or cause a trailer to be drawn by a motor vehicle, on the public highways unless such vehicle shall at all times have displayed the number plate or plates furnished for it as hereinbefore provided; in case of automobiles, each such vehicle shall display one number plate on the front and the other on the back thereof; in case of motorcycles and trailers, but one number plate shall be required to be displayed and such number plate upon motorcycles and trailers shall be at the rear thereof; in all cases such number plates shall be securely fastened to the motor vehicle or trailer so as to prevent said plates from swinging, and at a minimum distance of sixteen inches from the ground. Nothing in this act shall be construed to require the display of any number plate on other than the rear trailer, when more than one trailer is drawn by a motor vehicle. No person shall attach to, or display on, such motor or other vehicle, any number plate, or registration seal or certificate other than as assigned to it for the current year, or a fictitious, or altered number plate, registration certificate, or a number plate, or registration certificate that shall have been canceled by the department. All letters, numbers, printing, writing and other identification marks upon said plates, and certificates, shall be kept clear and distinct and free from grease, dust or other blurring matter, so that they shall be plainly visible at all times during daylight and under artificial light in the night time; provided, that in case any such plate, or certificate of registration, operator's license or chauffeur's license or badge shall be lost, mutilated or shall have become illegible, the person to whom such plate, seal, certificate, license or badge shall have been furnished shall immediately apply to the department for a duplicate thereof, accompanying his application with the fee specified in section seven of this act.

Display of registration certificates.

No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on the public highway unless such vehicle shall at all times carry in or upon it, subject to inspection by any peace officer, or employee of the department, the registration certificate furnished for it as hereinabove provided, which in case of an automobile shall be affixed, in the container furnished by the department, in plain sight in the driver's compartment of the automobile and which, in case of a motorcycle, shall be carried either in plain sight affixed to said motorcycle, or in the tool bag or some other convenient receptacle attached to said motorcycle.

Added penalty for failure to register. Operation pending renewal of registration.

The registration fee required under this act to be paid upon a motor vehicle or trailer shall become delinquent in the case of any such vehicle forthwith upon the operation of the vehicle on the public highways without the registration fee required by this act first having been paid to the department, accompanied by the application for registration provided herein. It is hereby provided, in addition to any and all other penalties provided by this act, that if, at the expiration of thirty days after any registration fee becomes delinquent, such fee has not been paid and registration applied for, a penalty shall be added to the amount of such fee in an amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the fee required by section seven of this act, and that such fee, together with the amount of said penalty, shall be a lien upon the motor vehicle or trailer in regard to which said registration fee is delinquent, and the department shall have power and it is hereby made its duty to collect the said registration fee, together with the penalty, by seizure of such motor vehicle or trailer from the person in possession thereof, if any, and by the sale thereof. The seizure and sale herein authorized shall be conducted and carried out by the department in the same manner as is provided by law for the seizure and sale of personal property by the county tax collector for the collection of taxes due on said personal property; provided, however, that in case of annual renewal of registration, where the applicants have in all things complied with the requirements of this act and have duly applied for such annual renewal of registration before the commencement of the ensuing calendar year, accompanying their applications with the proper fees for such registration, they shall be entitled to operate said vehicles during the month of February without displaying the registration certificates of the current year, on condition that they have at all times displayed upon said vehicles the number plates assigned to said vehicles respectively, together with the registration seals and certificates assigned thereto for the previous year. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 204.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 395.

Warning bell, horn, etc.

§ 12. Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with a bell, gong, horn, whistle, or other device in good working order, capable of emitting an abrupt sound adequate in quality and volume to give warning of the approach of such vehicle to pedestrians and to the riders or drivers of animals or of other vehicles and to persons entering or leaving street, interurban and railroad cars. Every person operating a motor vehicle shall sound said bell, gong, horn, whistle or other device whenever necessary as a warning of danger, but not at other times, or for any other purpose.

Lights. Tail lights. Horse-drawn vehicles.

§ 13. (a) Where there is not sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway to reveal all persons, vehicles or other substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of at least two hundred feet, and all times during the period from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, every automobile while on the public highway shall carry at the front at least two lighted lamps, and every such automobile and every trailer, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, shall carry at the rear a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible, under normal atmospheric conditions, for a distance of five hundred feet toward the rear and so constructed and placed that the number plate carried on the rear of such automobile or trailer shall be illuminated by a white light in such manner that the number thereon can be plainly distinguished under normal atmospheric conditions at a distance of not less than fifty feet toward the rear; provided, however, that where more than one trailer is attached to a motor vehicle, only the rear trailer shall be required to exhibit said light. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, all other vehicles, except bicycles, motorcycles and motor trucks of two tons carrying capacity or over which are so governed or mechanically constructed or controlled that they can not exceed a speed of fifteen miles per hour, shall carry one or more lighted red lamps or lanterns so arranged that said red lamp or lamps shall be visible from every direction for a distance of not less than two hundred feet.

Bicycles.

(b) At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every bicycle while on the public highway shall carry a lighted lamp visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least three hundred feet in the direction toward which such bicycle is faced, and shall also carry at the rear of such bicycle a reflex mirror or a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions for a distance of at least two hundred feet toward the rear.

Motorcycles.

(c) At the time and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every motorcycle while on the public highway shall carry at the front at least one lighted lamp which shall give a light of sufficient power and so distributed as provided in subdivision (f) and shall also carry at the rear of such motoreycles a lighted lamp, exhibiting a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions for a distance of at least two hundred feet towards the rear.

Motor trucks.

(d) At the time and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every motor truck of two tons carrying capacity or over, which is so governed or mechanically constructed or controlled that it can not exceed a speed of fifteen miles per hour, shall carry at the front at least two lighted lamps which shall be visible at least two hundred feet in the direction in which the motor truck is proceeding, and when the vehicle is proceeding on a street or highway not so lighted as to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object on the street or highway straight ahead of such motor truck for a distance of at least two hundred feet, such front light shall be sufficient to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object on the road straight ahead for a distance of seventy-five feet or over, and shall be equipped with a tail light such as is required on other motor vehicles.

Overhanging loads. Red flag.

(e) In any case where a motor or other vehicle shall be loaded with any material in such a manner that any portion of such load extends toward the rear four feet or more beyond the rear of the bed or body of such vehicle, there shall be displayed at the extreme end of the load, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, in addition to the ordinary rear or tail light hereinbefore required to be displayed on such vehicle, a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least two hundred feet from the rear; provided, further, that at other times while such vehicle is upon the highway a red flag or cloth not less than sixteen inches in length nor less than sixteen inches in width shall be displayed at the extreme rear end of said load as a warning signal to persons operating vehicles approaching from the rear.

Headlights. Sidelights when lights not required.

(f) At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified the headlights of all automobiles upon the highways shall give a light of sufficient power and so distributed as provided herein in addition to and irrespective of any other requirements concerning headlights in this section contained. The term "headlight" as used herein, shall denote any light, located upon any portion of the said motor vehicle other than on the windshield, the windshield supports or top thereof, the rays of which are projected forward, except sidelights of not to exceed four candle power; provided, further, anything to the contrary notwithstanding, that where there is sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway within any incorporated city, town or city and county, to reveal all persons, vehicles or substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of two hundred feet, no lights shall be required to be displayed on any vehicle while the same is not in operation, providing that a wheel of such standing vehicle nearest the sidewalk is located within twelve inches of such sidewalk.

Candle power.

(g) The headlights of motor vehicles shall be so arranged, adjusted, and constructed when the car is fully loaded, that any pair of headlights under the conditions of use must produce a light which:

1. When measured on a level surface on which the vehicle stands at a distance of two hundred feet directly in front of the car and at some point between the said level surface and a horizontal passing through the top of the headlight reflector or lens, is not less than one thousand two hundred apparent candle power.

2. When measured at a point one hundred feet directly in front of the car, and at a height of sixty inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands, does not exceed two thousand four hundred apparent candle power nor shall this value be exceeded at a greater height than sixty inches.

3. When measured at a distance of one hundred feet ahead of the car and seven feet or more to the left of the axis of same, and at a height of sixty inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands, does not exceed eight hundred apparent candle power.

Tests of devices for controlling. Specifications.

(h) Any device or adjustment used in connection with a light upon a motor vehicle to enable the same to comply with the requirements of subdivision (f) hereof shall not be used upon a motor vehicle operated upon the highways of this state until the same shall have been tested as provided herein; such test shall be made by a skilled testing agency, appointed for that purpose by the superintendent of motor vehicle department and such tests shall be laboratory tests according to the following specifications:

Two pairs of samples of the device submitted shall be subject to test. In the case of front glasses the sample shall be of nine and one-fourth inches diameter when practicable.

The reflectors used in connection with the laboratory tests shall be of standard high-grade manufacture of one and one-fourth inch focal length, with clean and highly polished surfaces and as nearly truly paraboloidal in form as practicable, and as approved for this purpose by the testing agency selected by the superintendent of the motor vehicle department.

The incandescent lamps used in connection with the laboratory test shall be of standard high quality manufacture and as approved for this purpose by the testing agency selected by the superintendent of motor vehicle department.

The manufacturer of the device shall be given due notice of the date and place of test. Manufacturers' representatives present at the test shall be privileged to adjust their devices in any way which represents an ordinary and legitimate adjustment including tilting the lamps or reflectors, which can be carried out by purchasers of the device, or such adjustment may be made by the laboratory expert acting on the instructions of the manufacturer. The character of the adjustments so made shall be carefully noted and stated in the report as manufacturer's adjustment.

Tests.

The tests shall be as follows:

Test 1.

Test 1. Four-point test of pairs of samples. A pair of testing reflectors, mounted similarly to the headlamps on a car shall be set up in a dark room, or at the request of the applicant, out of doors in darkness under such conditions that no light thrown or reflected from any source other than from the device being tested shall materially affect the test readings, at a distance of not less than sixty feet, nor more than one hundred feet from a vertical white screen. If a testing distance of one hundred feet is taken the reflectors shall be set twenty-eight inches apart from center to center, and if a shorter testing distance is taken, the distance between reflectors shall be proportionately reduced. The axes of the lamps shall be parallel and horizontal, or as tilted in accordance with the manufacturer's adjustment. The intensity of the combined light shall then be measured with each pair of samples in turn, with the reflectors fitted with a pair of each of the following types of incandescent lamps in turn:

- (1) Vacuum type, 6—8 volts, 17 msep.
- (2) Gas-filled type, 6—8 volts, 20 msep.

The lamps shall be adjusted to give their rated candle power. Measurements shall be made at the following points at the surface of the screen:

- A. In the median vertical plane parallel to the lamp axes, on a level with the lamps.
- B. In the same plane one degree of arc below the level of the lamps.
- C. In the same plane one degree of arc above the level of the lamps.
- D. Four degrees of arc to the left of this plane and one degree of arc above the level.

In an acceptable device both pairs of samples shall conform to the following specifications for observed apparent candle power. Points A and B. At at least one of these points the apparent candle power shall not be less than one thousand two hundred. Point C. The apparent candle power shall not exceed two thousand four hundred. Point D. The apparent candle power shall not exceed eight hundred. Provided, however, that if the test indicates that a device which is unacceptable with either of the test lamps will come within the specifications with lamps of another candle power or of the other type, the device may be passed with corresponding limitations as to the incandescent lamps to be used in connection with it.

Test 2. Complete test of single sample.

A single sample taken as an average representative of the device as manufactured shall be submitted to a complete test with a vacuum incandescent lamp of seventeen candle power 6—8 volt rating. This test shall show its light distribution characteristics by actual measurements made according to recognized and exact methods.

One pair of the samples shall be retained by the testing agency for the purpose of future reference and as samples of construction and the other pair shall be returned to the office of the superintendent of the motor vehicle department.

The report of the tests shall be rendered in duplicate to the superintendent of the motor vehicle department, and shall be signed or initialed not only by the expert making the test, but also by an executive officer of the institution making the test.

It shall include a statement by the testing agency or the testing official as to whether or not the device when properly applied substantially complies with the requirements of section thirteen of the California motor vehicle act.

Report to local authorities.

(i) The superintendent of the motor vehicle department shall immediately upon the completion of the tests made as herein provided, prepare a written report of the results of such tests and transmit a copy thereof to the clerk of each county within the state of California, who shall thereupon immediately file such report. A copy shall also be sent to the city, town or county traffic departments, whose duty it is to enforce the law. The superintendent of the motor vehicle department shall endorse upon such report the statement of the testing agency or the testing officials as to whether or not the said device when properly applied, substantially complies with the requirements of section thirteen of the California motor vehicle act.

Homemade devices.

(j) It shall be unlawful for any manufactured device that is sold commercially to be used in connection with the headlight upon a motor vehicle to enable the same to comply with the provisions of subdivision (f) hereof unless such device shall have been first tested as provided in subdivision (h) hereof, and the testing agency shall have reported that such device, when properly applied, substantially complies with the requirements of section thirteen of the California motor vehicle act; and such reports shall have been incorporated in the said report of the said superintendent of the motor vehicle department and a copy thereof filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which said device is used and a copy sent to city, town or county traffic departments whose duty it is to enforce the law.

Submission of device for test. Fee. Certificate of approval. Diffusing lens.

(k) Any person, firm or corporation may submit to the superintendent of motor vehicle department a device for controlling the front lights of motor vehicles, so that they shall comply with the provisions of this section, together with an application that such device be tested as prescribed by this section. Such applicant shall pay to the motor vehicle department a fee of fifty dollars. Thereupon the superintendent of motor vehicle department shall upon notice to the applicant submit such device to the testing agency appointed for this purpose as hereinbefore provided with the request that it be tested as to its compliance with the provisions of this section. Upon notice from such testing agency that such test has been made and that such device, when properly applied, substantially complies with the provisions of this section, and specifying the maximum candle power to be used therewith, the superintendent of motor vehicle department shall issue a certificate to the applicant describing the device, certifying that such test has been made, that the device, when applied, complies with the provisions of this section and prescribing the said maximum candle power to be used therewith. All fees paid into the department with said applications shall be paid into the state treasury and deposited in a fund to be known as the "testing fee fund," and the moneys in said fund are hereby appropriated, or so much thereof as may be necessary to meet the expenses of the test provided for in this section, and the balance thereof, if any, after meeting all expenses incurred in connection with said test shall be paid into the motor vehicle fund. Diffusing type of lens may be used with a candle power not sufficiently great to produce a dangerous glare. The maximum of such candle power shall be established by the testing agency selected by the superintendent of the motor vehicle department, based upon tests as herein above provided. Any device so certified shall be equipped with light bulbs labeled with the true candle power thereof, not exceeding that prescribed.

Spotlights.

(1) The term "spotlights" as used herein shall denote any light fastened to the windshield, the windshield support or top of a motor vehicle, the rays of which are projected forward, except sidelights of not to exceed four candle power.

All spotlights used upon motor vehicles shall be so constructed or arranged that no portion of the main, substantially parallel beam of light when measured one hundred feet or more ahead of said lights shall rise or shall be capable of being raised from the driver's seat, to more than forty-two inches above the level surface upon which the vehicle stands directly ahead of such vehicle. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 206.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 396.

Brakes.

§ 14. All motor vehicles must be provided at all times with adequate brakes kept in good working order.

Cleats, etc., on tires.

§ 15. (a) Other than on vehicles actually engaged at the time in construction or repair work on public highways, no tire on any motor or other vehicle operated on or over any public highway or bridge shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bead or any other protuberance of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread or traction surface of the tire; but this section shall not be so construed as to prohibit the use of tire chains of reasonable proportions on motor vehicles when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause such motor vehicle to slide or skid; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, may be operated upon the public highways with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of said movable tracks, on condition that a permit shall first have been obtained as hereinafter in this section provided.

Total weight limit.

(b) No motor or other vehicle shall be operated on or over any public highway or bridge, nor shall any object be moved over or upon any public highway or bridge on wheels, rollers, or otherwise, except when transported in or upon vehicles running exclusively on stationary rails or tracks, in excess of a total weight, including load, of thirty thousand pounds, when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance is equipped with four wheels running on the highway, or in excess of a total weight, including load, of forty thousand pounds when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance shall be equipped with six wheels running on the highway and with three axles not less than ninety-six inches apart, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided.

Weight limit per inch of tire width. In freeholders' charter cities.

(c) No motor or other vehicle or other object, or contrivance for moving loads, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge, the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds eight hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, when said vehicle is equipped with tires made of other material than metal; and no motor or other vehicle, object, or contrivance for moving loads shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds six hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, roller, wheel or other object supported on the surface thereof when such tires or the rolling surface of such rollers, wheels or other objects are made in whole or in part of metal, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, shall not be subject to the foregoing limitations upon permissible weights per inch of width of tire if the portions of the movable tracks in contact with the surface of the highway present plane surfaces; and provided, further, that cities heretofore or hereafter organized under freeholders' charters may permit or prohibit the increase, beyond the maximum weight per inch of width of tire hereinabove prescribed, of the weight of loads carried within the limits of such cities in or upon metal-tired vehicles drawn by muscular power, but where any such city has not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permitted or prohibited such increase of maximum weight of loads, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply.

Regulation by county. Penalty.

The supervisors of any county shall have power to require a lighter load on county roads in their respective counties. Any person violating the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a penalty of twenty dollars for each full ton in excess of the limitation herein imposed, and any peace officer making the arrest of the owner or driver of any vehicle violating the provisions of this subsection shall keep said vehicle with its load in his custody until such time as said penalty shall have been paid; provided, that the owner or driver of any such vehicle may give to said peace officer a bond in favor of the state of California in case of state highways, and in the name of the county in which the offense has occurred in the case of county roads, conditioned to secure the payment of said penalty within the time prescribed in said bond. Furthermore, any peace officer may require the owner or the driver to drive any such vehicle to the nearest public scales to be designated by such peace officer for the purpose of establishing the weight and the load of any such vehicle.

Trailer limitation.

(d) No motor vehicle shall be operated or driven over any public highway or bridge drawing or having attached thereto more than two trailers; provided, that all four-wheeled trailers excepting light camping trailers shall be equipped with suitable brakes.

Permits by department of engineering.

(e) Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, upon application in writing to the state department of engineering, said department of engineering in its discretion may issue a special permit to the owner or operator of any vehicle allowing heavier or wider loads than hereinabove in this section or elsewhere in this act permitted to be moved or carried over and on the public highways and bridges, or allowing more than two trailers to be drawn by a motor vehicle; and may also issue such special permit to increase the permissible weights per inch of width of tire and may also permit the use of corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks of traction engines or tractors propelled not by wheels resting upon the ground but by flexible bands or chains. Such permits shall be in writing and they may limit the time of use and operation over the particular highways and bridges which may be traversed and may contain such special conditions and provisions and require such undertaking or other security as the said department of engineering shall deem to be necessary to protect the public highways and bridges from injury, or provide indemnity for any injury resulting from such operation. All such special permits shall be carried in the vehicles to which they refer and shall upon demand be open to the inspection of any peace officer, any authorized agent of the department of engineering or of the motor vehicle department, or any officer or employee charged with the care or protection of the public highways. It shall be unlawful for any person to violate, or to cause or permit to be violated, the limitations or conditions of such special permits and any such violation shall be deemed for all purposes to be a violation of the provisions of this act.

Weight on bridges, etc.

(f) Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the state department of engineering may in its discretion limit the maximum load to be carried over or on any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, below the maximum established by law; provided, however, that in such event said department of engineering shall cause suitable signs to be erected and maintained, specifying such limitation of load, such signs to be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet nor more than one hundred fifty feet from the approaches to such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam.

Liability for damages.

(g) Anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, the owner and the operator, driver or mover of any vehicle, object or contrivance over a public highway or bridge, shall be jointly and severally responsible for all damages which said highway or bridge may sustain as the result of so operating or driving or moving such vehicle and the amount of such damages may be recovered in an action at law by the authorities in control of such highway or bridge. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 212.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 393.

Prevention of noise, smoke, etc.

§ 16. Every motor vehicle must have devices in good working order which shall be at all times in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise, annoying smoke and the escape of gas, steam or oil, as well as the falling out of residue from fuel, and all exhaust pipes carrying exhaust gases from the engines shall be directed parallel to the ground or slightly upward. Devices known as "muffler cut-outs" shall not be used within the limits of any incorporated city and county or city or town or on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up.

Intoxicated driver, penalty.

§ 17. No person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor and no person who is an habitual user of narcotic drugs shall operate or drive a motor or other vehicle on any public highway within this state. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months nor more than one year or by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one or more than three years or by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 214.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 400.

Chauffeur to be licensed.

§ 19. No person shall employ for hire as a chauffeur of a motor vehicle any person not licensed as in this act provided. No person shall allow a motor vehicle owned by him or under his control to be operated by any person who has no legal right to do so, or in violation of the provisions of this act. No person having control or charge of a motor vehicle shall allow such vehicle to stand in any public street or public highway unattended without first effectively setting the brakes thereon and stopping the motor of said vehicle.

Rules of the road. Right side of road.

§ 20. (a) The driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall drive or operate such vehicle in a careful manner with due regard for the safety and convenience of pedestrians and of all other vehicles or traffic upon such highway, and wherever practicable shall travel on the right-hand side of such highway. Two vehicles which are passing each other in opposite directions shall have the right of way, and no other vehicle to the rear of either of such two vehicles shall pass or attempt to pass such two vehicles. On all occasions the driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall travel upon the right half of such highway unless the road ahead on the left-hand side is clear and unobstructed for at least one hundred yards ahead and in all cases while crossing an intersecting highway. For the purposes of this section and its subdivisions, an animal or animals attached to any conveyance shall, with such conveyance, be deemed to constitute one vehicle.

Passing vehicles.

(b) Vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, each giving to the other one-half the road as nearly as possible.

Overtaking vehicles.

(c) Vehicles overtaking other vehicles proceeding in the same direction shall pass to the left thereof and shall not again drive to the right until reasonably clear of such overtaken vehicle.

(d) It shall be the duty of the driver, rider or operator of a vehicle about to be overtaken and passed to give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle, on suitable and audible signal being given by or on behalf of the operator, driver or other person in charge and control of such overtaking vehicle if such overtaking vehicle be a motor vehicle.

Distance between vehicles.

(e) Vehicles must be operated so as to allow a safe distance between such vehicles and any persons, vehicles or animals preceding them upon the highway, and outside of the business district of any county, incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway as such business district is defined in this act, no vehicle shall, while in motion, be closer than fifteen feet to any vehicle, person or animal in front thereof.

Intersections, right of way.

(f) Excepting where controlled by such traffic ordinances or regulations as are permitted under this act the operator of a vehicle shall yield the right of way at the intersection of their paths to a vehicle approaching from the right unless such vehicle approaching from the right is further from the point of the intersection of their paths than such first named vehicle.

(g) Any vehicle traveling on a public highway which is divided longitudinally by a parkway or an isle of safety, shall keep to the right of such parkway or isle of safety unless otherwise directed by the provisions of any ordinance, rule or regulation of competent local authorities.

(h) It shall be the duty of the person operating or in charge of an overtaking vehicle to sound audible and suitable signal before passing a vehicle proceeding in the same direction.

Turning at intersections.

Horses, precautions on meeting.

(j) In all passing and overtaking such assistance shall be given by the occupants of each vehicle respectively to the other as the circumstances shall reasonably demand in order to obtain clearance and avoid accidents; every person having control or charge of any motor vehicle or other vehicle upon any public highway and approaching any vehicle drawn by a horse or horses, or any horse upon which any person is riding, shall operate, manage and control such motor vehicle or other vehicle in such manner as to exercise every reasonable precaution to prevent the frightening of any such horse or horses and to insure the safety and protection of any person riding or driving the same; and if such horse or horses appear frightened the person in control of such motor vehicle or other vehicle shall reduce its speed, and if requested by signal or otherwise by the driver or rider of such horse or horses shall not proceed further toward such animal or animals unless such movement be necessary to avoid accident or injury, until such animal or animals be under the control of the driver or rider thereof.

(k) The operator of any vehicle shall not operate or drive the same so as to pass or overtake any other vehicle going in the same direction at any street intersection unless directed so to do by a traffic or police officer.

Slowly moving vehicle.

(l) The person in control of any vehicle moving slowly along and upon any public highway shall keep such vehicle as closely as practicable to the right-hand boundary of the highway, allowing more swiftly moving vehicles reasonably free passage to the left.

Mirror required, when.

(m) No person shall operate or drive any motor vehicle that is so covered, loaded or constructed as to obscure the driver's view of the highway to the rear, nor any vehicle which is so covered, loaded or constructed that any portion thereof to the rear of the driver projects more than twelve inches beyond the extreme left side of the driver's seat, unless there is placed on said vehicle a mirror so located as to reflect to the driver a view of the highway for at least two hundred feet behind such vehicle.

Arm signals. Mechanical or electrical device.

(n) The person in charge of any vehicle in or upon any public highway, before turning, stopping, or changing the course of such vehicle, and before turning such vehicle when starting the same, shall see first that there is sufficient space for such movement to be made in safety, and if the movement or operation of other vehicles may reasonably be affected by such turning, stopping or changing of course, shall give plainly visible signal to the persons operating, driving or in charge of such vehicles of his intention so to turn, stop, or change his course, either by the use of his hand and arm, which shall be visible from the rear, or by the use of an approved mechanical or electrical device. Any such device shall upon application to the motor vehicle department be tested and certified as adequate to give the signal herein required, in the same manner and upon the payment of the same fee as in the case of headlights.

When the signal required by this section is given by the use of the hand and arm the intention to turn such vehicle toward the right or the left shall be indicated by extending the hand and arm horizontally from and beyond the side of the vehicle toward which the turn is to be made or by extending the hand and arm vertically with the hand pointing upward from the side opposite the direction toward which the turn is to be made; when the signal to be given is to indicate the intention to stop a vehicle or to abruptly or suddenly check its speed, such signal if given with the hand and arm shall be given by extending the hand and arm out from and beyond either side of the vehicle and pointed in a downward direction.

(o) In passing any railroad, interurban or street-car while passengers are alighting from or boarding the same, vehicles shall be operated or driven on the right hand side of such cars and at a rate of speed not exceeding ten miles an hour and no portion thereof or of any load thereon shall come within six feet of the running board of steps of such cars, and shall at all times be operated with due care and caution so that the safety of such passengers shall be assured; provided, however, that where local authorities have plainly marked upon the surface of the highway safety zones for the protection of such passengers, vehicles shall not, at any time, be operated or driven within such zones; provided, further, that said safety zones shall only be marked at street corners or at other regularly established stations or stopping places of such railroad, or interurban, or street cars, and shall not extend beyond seven feet toward the boundary of the highway from the outer rail of such railroad, interurban or street car line.

(p) Every motor vehicle when moving in defiles, canyons, or mountain passes where the curvature of the road or highway prevents a clear view for a distance of one hundred yards shall be held under control and not permitted to coast and the operator thereof in approaching curves shall give a warning of his gong or other adequate signaling device.

(q) No vehicle except vehicles operated by the fire department or police department of any incorporated city and county, city or town, shall be turned so as to proceed in the opposite direction except at an intersection of the public highway. In so turning vehicles shall pass beyond and around the center of such intersection. This provision shall not apply except in a business district or closely built up territory, as such district and such territory are defined in this act.

Police and fire department vehicles.

(r) Police and fire department vehicles shall at all times be equipped with a siren and it shall be unlawful for any other vehicle to be equipped with or use such a device.

(s) Vehicles of the police or fire department of any incorporated city or county, city or town, shall in all cases while being operated as such, have right of way over all other vehicles with due regard to the safety of the public; but this provision shall not protect the driver or operator of any such vehicle or his employer or principal from the consequence of the arbitrary exercise of this right, nor shall it be construed as permitting the violation by the operators of any such vehicles of any of the provisions of section twenty-two of this act, except the operators of police vehicles when such vehicles are being operated in the chase or apprehension of violators of the law or of persons charged with or suspected of any such violation.

(t) Upon the approach of any police or fire department vehicle it shall be the duty of the operator of any street car, upon the sounding of a signal by such police or fire department vehicle, to stop such street car forthwith, unless at the time such street car is crossing an intersection of the public highways, in which event it shall be operated so as to clear the intersection of the highways and then stopped, and every other vehicle shall immediately be moved to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right-hand curb, and shall remain there until the police or fire department apparatus has passed such vehicle.

Fire hydrants protected.

(u) No person shall hitch or leave standing, or cause or permit to be hitched or left standing, any animal, or leave standing or cause or permit to be left standing, any vehicle, or stop or cause or permit to be stopped any animal or vehicle at any time upon the public highway within fifteen feet of any public fire hydrant located upon the public highway or sidewalk, unless such animal is under the charge of some person capable of driving the same or unless such vehicle is in the charge of some person capable of operating or driving the same.

Width of vehicle. Luggage, trunks, etc. Hay wagons, etc.

(v) No motor or other vehicle as defined in this act shall be operated or driven on or over any public highway or bridge if the outside width of tread exceeds one hundred twelve inches or if the total outside width of the bed of said vehicle and any load thereon shall exceed one hundred two inches, nor shall any pleasure type automobile be operated on or over any public highway or bridge if any luggage, package, trunk, crate, box or other load carried thereon extends to the left side more than twelve inches beyond the body of such automobile; provided, however, that any city now or hereafter organized under freeholders' charter may permit or prohibit an increase beyond the maximum hereinbefore prescribed of the total outside width of the beds of vehicles and any loads thereon, where such vehicles are operated or driven and said loads are carried wholly within the limits of said city, but where any such city shall not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permit or prohibit such increased width, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply; and provided, that the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act relative to the maximum widths of vehicles and their loads shall not apply to implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon the highway; and provided, further, that loads not exceeding ten feet in width of loosely-piled material not crated, baled, boxed, sacked or carried otherwise than loosely in bulk, may be carried upon vehicles on the highway; provided, that the extreme width of such vehicles, including any loading racks thereon, shall not exceed one hundred twenty inches, as hereinbefore prescribed.

Repairing vehicle on highway.

(w) No person shall leave standing, or cause or permit to be left standing upon the main traveled portion of any public highway, a vehicle undergoing repair, or which has been stopped for the purpose of having repairs made thereon, or for the purpose of camping: provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to a vehicle which shall be disabled, while on such main traveled portion of the highway, in such manner and to such extent that it shall be impossible to avoid stopping such vehicle on said main traveled portion of the highway, and impracticable to remove the same therefrom until repairs shall have been made.

Riding animals regulated.

(x) The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (g), (j), (k), (l) of this section shall be applicable to the rider of every horse, mule or other riding animal ridden upon the public highway, to the end and effect that the same duties, rules and regulations imposed thereon upon the drivers or operators of vehicles upon the public highway, including the care to be exercised in driving or operating vehicles, the portion of the highway upon which they shall travel, the right of way as between vehicles passing or overtaking each other, or upon approaching intersections, the duty of giving way in favor of overtaking vehicles, the manner of turning at intersections and at other places upon the highway and of stopping or changing the course of the vehicles and the duties imposed upon operators or drivers of vehicles in passing railroad, interurban or street cars, shall be imposed, and they are hereby imposed, upon the riders of animals upon the public highways.

Livestock on highway.

(y) No person owning, or controlling the possession of, any horse, cow, mule, ass, sheep, goat, hog or other live stock, shall voluntarily or negligently permit such animal to stray upon or remain unaccompanied by a herder or other person in charge or control thereof upon a public highway, either side of which is adjoined by property which is separated from such highway by a fence, wall, hedge, sidewalk, curb, lawn or building, or shall permit the tether or any portion thereof to which such animal may be attached, to lie across or upon any public highway, and no person shall feed, pasture or camp any such live stock upon any public highway between the hours of sunset and sunrise without keeping a sufficient number of herders on continual duty to keep open the road so as to admit at all times of the ready passage of vehicles, and also keeping red lanterns or lights burning to warn the public of the presence of such stock.

Firearms.

(z) No person shall discharge any firearms on any public highway.

Leaking contents, etc.

(aa) No vehicle shall be operated on any public highway unless it is so constructed as to prevent its contents from dropping, sifting, leaking, or otherwise escaping from such vehicle.

Windshields.

(ab) Every motor vehicle used for commercial purposes shall be equipped with an adequate windshield. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20. Stats. 1919, p. 215.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 400.

Duty in case of accident.

§ 21. Whenever an automobile, motorcycle, or other motor vehicle or any vehicle whatsoever, regardless of the power by which the same may be propelled or drawn, strikes any person, or collides with any vehicle containing a person, the driver of, and all persons in, such automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle, or other vehicle, who have or assume authority over such driver, shall immediately cause such automobile, motorcycle, or other motor vehicle, or other vehicle, to stop and shall render to the person struck, or to the occupants of the vehicle collided with, all necessary assistance including the carrying of such person or occupant to a physician or surgeon for medical or surgical treatment, if such treatment be required, or if such carrying is requested by the person struck or any occupant of the vehicle struck; and such driver, and person having or assuming authority over such driver, shall further give to the occupants of such vehicle or person struck, the number of such automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle, or other vehicle, also the name of the owner thereof and the name of the passenger or passengers not exceeding five in each automobile, motorcycle or other motor vehicle, or other vehicle, at the time of such striking or collision. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Speed limits. General. Maximum. Crossings and intersections. Signs at railway crossings. Regulations by highway commission, signs.

§ 22. (a) Any person operating or driving a motor or other vehicle on the public highways shall operate or drive the same in a careful and prudent manner and at a rate of speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, and no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on a public highway at such rate of speed as to endanger the life or limb of any person or the safety of any property; provided, that it shall be unlawful to operate or drive at a rate of speed in excess of thirty miles an hour, except in the daytime and except when the operator or driver has a clear and uninterrupted view of the highway on which he is traveling in the direction toward which he is traveling and of all highways which intersect such highway within four hundred feet ahead of such operator or driver, to a distance of at least four hundred feet from the highway on which he is traveling and there is no person, vehicle or other object visible ahead on such highway on which such operator or driver is traveling within four hundred feet of such operator or driver or on any such intersecting highway within four hundred feet of the point of the intersection of the center lines of such highways; provided, also, that in no case shall any vehicle be operated at a rate of speed in excess of thirty-five miles an hour; and provided, further, that in any event no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up, at a greater rate of speed than twenty miles an hour, or in the business district of any incorporated city and county, city or town, at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour; provided, further, that no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour in approaching any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade, or in approaching or traversing an intersecting highway, or crossing or intersection of highways, or in approaching or going around corners or curves in the highway, when in any of the foregoing cases the operator's or driver's view of the road or railway traffic is obstructed, but anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than ten miles an hour in traversing any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade when the operator's or driver's view of the crossing or of any traffic on such railway within four hundred feet of such crossing is obstructed; provided, further, that the board of supervisors of any county and city and county within this state, and the board of trustees, city council or other governing body of every municipality within this state, within six months after the passage of this act, shall place and thereafter maintain warning signs on every public highway approaching a crossing at grade of such highway and the tracks of any railway, at a reasonable distance, not less than three hundred feet, from such crossing, and on either side thereof. Such sign shall consist of a metal disc twenty-four inches in diameter, the field enameled white, with an enameled black border line one inch wide, and with an enameled black vertical and horizontal cross-line two and one-half inches wide; the reverse side of such disc to be colored black. In each of the upper quarters shall appear in black enamel the letter "R," five inches high, three and three-quarter inches wide, lines one inch stroke. Anyone defacing, injuring, knocking down or removing any such sign shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, further, that the maximum rate of speed over any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct as well as the maximum rate of speed over any state highway or portion of state highway may be established by the state highway commission at less than the rate established by law, when in the judgment of said commission the safety of persons using the highway or the protection of the highway shall be promoted thereby, but whenever any such different rate of speed is so established by said commission, the commission shall cause to be erected suitable signs to mark the location and limits of the highway to which said different rate of speed shall apply, and such signs shall be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet or at a greater distance than one hundred fifty feet from the highway or portion of highway or from the approaches of any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct with respect to which such different rate of speed may be so established. In the case of a bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct, such maximum rate of speed so established by said commission shall not be less than ten miles an hour, and in the case of any other highway or portion of highway, such maximum rate of speed so established shall not be less than fifteen miles an hour.

Speed limit of trucks. Equipped with pneumatic tires.

(b) No motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of nine thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than twenty-five miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twelve thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than fifteen miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twenty-four thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than ten miles an hour; provided, however, that no motor vehicle or trailer equipped with tires made wholly or partly of metal shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than six miles an hour; provided, further, that any such motor vehicle or trailer, with tires made wholly or partly of metal, may be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved, subject to the other provisions of this act, up to ten miles an hour, if it be equipped with springs and if the rear wheels be not less than forty-six inches in diameter, with a bearing surface of not less than eighteen inches; and provided, further, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no motor or other vehicle constructed or otherwise adapted for carrying loads weighing four tons or more, exclusive of such vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved upon the public highway, whether laden or unladen, at a rate of speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour; and provided, further, that nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to motor vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires.

Arrests for speeding. Place of trial.

(c) In case of any person arrested for violation of the provisions of this section, unless such person shall demand that he be taken forthwith before the most accessible magistrate, the arresting officer shall take the name and address of such person and the number of his motor vehicle and notify him in writing to appear before a magistrate of the township in which the offense for which such person is arrested is alleged to have been committed at a time and place to be specified in such writing at least five days subsequent to the date of such notice upon the promise in writing of such person to appear at such time and place, such officer shall forthwith release him from custody. In the event that any person arrested for any violation of the provisions of this section, demands to be or is taken forthwith after his arrest before a magistrate he shall be entitled to at least five days continuance of his case within which time to prepare to plead or prepare for trial and he shall not be required to plead or to be tried within such five days unless he waives such time in writing or in open court; provided, that he promises in writing, after notice in writing of the time and place for his further appearance in court to appear at such time and place. Upon the giving of such written promise or, if he refuse to give such promise, on bail fixed by the magistrate he shall thereupon be forthwith released from custody. Any person wilfully violating such promise shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested.

Local regulations.

(d) Limitations as to the rate of speed herein fixed shall be exclusive of all other limitations fixed by any law of this state or any political subdivision thereof. Local authorities shall have no power to enact, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation in any way in conflict with, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any section or other subdivision thereof, and no such ordinance, rule, or regulation of said local authorities heretofore or hereafter enacted shall have any force or effect, excepting, however, that (1) such powers as are now or may hereafter be vested in local authorities to enact ordinances and regulations, applicable equally and generally to all vehicles and other users of the highways, and providing for traffic or crossing officers or semaphores, to bring about the orderly passage of vehicles and other users of the public highways on certain portions thereof, where the traffic is heavy and continuous, as well as (2) the powers now or hereafter vested in local authorities to license and to regulate the operation of vehicles offered to the public for hire, and to regulate the use of the highways for processions or assemblages, shall remain in full force and effect, and all ordinances, rules and regulations which may have been or which may be hereafter enacted in pursuance of such powers, shall remain in full force and effect; and provided, further, that local authorities may by general rule, ordinance or regulation, exclude vehicles from any cemetery or ground used for the burial of the dead, or exclude vehicles used solely or principally for commercial purposes from any park or part of a park system where such general rule, ordinance, or regulation is applicable equally and generally to all other vehicles used for the same purpose; provided, that at the entrance, or at each entrance if there be more than one, to such cemetery or park from which vehicles are so excluded, there shall have been posted a sign plainly legible from the middle of the public highway on which such cemetery or park opens, plainly indicating such exclusion and prohibition; and provided, further, that the local authorities of any city, town, or city and county may impose additional restrictions to those herein contained applicable to vehicles exclusively used in the carrying of merchandise or articles of freight and of a capacity in excess of one ton in weight and may designate certain streets whereon heavily laden vehicles may be excluded or declared to be "one way" streets, may, further, restrict or prohibit, the use of trailers. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 220.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 404.

Operator's and chauffeur's licenses. Certificate. Chauffeur's badge. Minor's license.

§ 24. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway unless licensed by the department as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that the requirements of this section shall not apply to the operators or drivers of any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway. Before operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway, application for a license to operate such vehicle shall be made by mail or otherwise to the department upon a blank to be prepared and furnished on request by said department. To each person shall be assigned some distinguishing number or mark and the department shall issue to the licensee a certificate in such form as the department shall determine; it shall contain the distinguishing number or mark assigned to the licensee, his name, age, place of residence, business address if any, and a brief description of the licensee for the purpose of identification, and such other information as the said department shall deem necessary. Every person licensed to operate motor vehicles as aforesaid, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall indorse his usual signature in the space on the license certificate provided for the purpose, immediately upon the receipt of said certificate and his license shall not be valid until the certificate is so indorsed. Licenses, to chauffeurs shall be valid during the calendar year only in which issued. Licenses issued to operators shall be valid until revoked. The department shall furnish to every chauffeur licensed a suitable metal badge with the distinguishing number assigned to him stamped thereon, without extra charge therefor, such badge to have stamped thereon the words "Registered Chauffeur No., Cal." with the said license number and year of issue inserted therein. This badge shall thereafter be worn by such chauffeur, affixed to his clothing in a conspicuous place, at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, and the license certificate issued to each chauffeur or operator, under the provisions of this section, shall be carried by the licensee at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway and shall be produced by him for inspection upon request of any peace officer. In case of the loss of such badge or certificate a duplicate will be issued by the department on the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss, and on payment of a fee of one dollar to the department in the case of a badge and fifty cents in case of a certificate. Duplicate license certificates shall be issued by the department to operators other than chauffeurs upon application therefor, whether in case of loss or otherwise, upon payment of a fee of twenty-five cents to the department. Applications for the annual renewal of licenses by chauffeurs shall be accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act. No chauffeur's license or badge shall be issued to any applicant under the age of eighteen years; provided, that it shall be unlawful for any person to cause or knowingly to permit his or her child, ward or employee to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as a chauffeur or operator, without having first obtained such license as is hereinbefore specified; provided, that the application to the department of a minor to operate or drive a motor vehicle, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall not be granted by the department unless the parent or parents having the custody of such applicant or the guardian of such applicant shall have joined in said application by signing the same; and provided, further, that any negligence of a minor, so licensed, in operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall be imputed to the person or persons who shall have signed the application of such minor for said license, which person or persons shall be jointly and severally liable with such minor for any damages caused by such negligence. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 223.]

This section was also amended May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 407.

Register of licenses.

§ 25. Upon the receipt of an application as provided in section 24 of this act, the department shall thereupon file the same, and register the applicant in a book or on index cards which shall be kept in the same manner, subject to public inspection, as the books or index cards for the registration of motor vehicles.

Use of fictitious name, etc.

§ 26. (a) No person shall use a fictitious name in applying for such chauffeur's or operator's license, nor shall any chauffeur or operator licensed as herein provided voluntarily permit any other person to possess or use his license certificate or badge; nor shall any person while operating or driving a motor vehicle use or possess any license certificate or badge belonging to another person.

(b) No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed, or have in his possession, any canceled, revoked, suspended, altered or fictitious registration number plate, registration seal, registration certificate, operator's license certificate, chauffeur's license certificate or chauffeur's badge, as the same are respectively provided for in this act.

(c) No person shall knowingly buy, sell, receive, dispose of, conceal or have in his possession any motor vehicle from which the manufacturer's serial number or motor number or any other distinguishing number or identification mark has been removed, defaced, covered, altered or destroyed for the purpose of concealment or misrepresenting the identity of said motor vehicle. [Amendment of May 10, 1917. In effect—see section 29, Stats. 1917, p. 408.]

In effect after December 31, 1917. Nonresident operator.

§ 27. No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or cause a trailer to be drawn upon a public highway after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, nor shall any owner of a motor vehicle or of any trailer permit such motor vehicle or trailer to be so operated, driven or drawn after said date, unless the requirements of this act relative to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and to licensing of chauffeurs and operators shall have been in all respects complied with; provided, however, that a nonresident operator or chauffeur who has complied with the provisions of the country or state of his residence relative to the operation of motor vehicles and who, while operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of this state shall wear such badge and carry such license certificate as may have been assigned to him in the country or state of his residence, shall be exempt from license hereunder for a period not to exceed three months in any calendar year; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act relative to registration and the payment of the fees therefor and the display of registration number plates and seals shall not apply to a motor vehicle or trailer owned by a nonresident, other than a foreign corporation doing business in this state, who is only sojourning within this state; provided, that the registration number plate assigned and furnished for said motor vehicle or trailer for the current calendar year by the country or state of which such owner is a resident shall be displayed on such motor vehicle or trailer substantially as provided in this act for vehicles registered pursuant to the provisions hereof; provided, however, that a nonresident owner of a motor vehicle or trailer so registered in such other country or state shall, not later than twenty-four hours after commencing to operate said vehicle, or to cause or permit the same to be operated, on any public highway within this state, apply to the department for registration of such vehicle, said application to be made upon a form to be prepared and to be furnished on request by the department, and shall state in addition to such other matters as may be required by the department, the name and postoffice and residence address of the applicant, together with the registration number of said vehicle in the country or state in which the same shall be registered, which country or state shall be designated by the applicant in said application.

Registration certificate.

Upon receipt of said application, the department, if satisfied of the facts stated therein, shall, without charge to the applicant, register said motor vehicle or trailer and shall furnish to the applicant a registration certificate or device, of a distinctive form to be determined by the department, indicating that the holder thereof has complied with the requirements of this act and containing such other matter as may be deemed suitable by the department, which certificate or device shall be valid not to exceed three months from the date of its issuance, at the end of which period it shall be returned by said owner, transportation prepaid, to the department. In case of a motor vehicle, said certificate or device shall be carried, at all times while said motor vehicle is being operated or driven upon the public highways, in plain sight in or upon said motor vehicle, in the manner required of resident owners with respect to registration certificates, and in case of a trailer, such certificate or device shall be displayed in such manner as the department shall determine. The department shall file said applications for registration by nonresident owners, and shall suitably index said applications and registrations, which files and index shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. [Amendment of May 10, 1917. In effect December 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 409.]

Using car without owner's consent.

§ 28. It shall be unlawful for any person to drive or operate, or cause to be driven or operated, upon the public highway any motor vehicle not his own, whether with or without intent to steal the same, in the absence of the owner thereof without such owner's consent; provided, such consent shall not be implied in any instance because of the fact that upon a previous occasion such owner had consented to the use of the same or another motor vehicle by such person. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than five years. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20; Stats. 1919, p. 225.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 410.

Putting glass, etc., on highway.

§ 29. Any person who throws or deposits any glass bottle, glass, nails, tacks, hoops, wire, cans, or any other substance likely to injure any person, animal, or vehicles upon any public highway, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Injuring motor vehicle.

§ 30. (a) Any person who shall, individually or in association with one or more others, willfully break, injure, tamper with or remove any part or parts of any motor vehicle, for the purpose of injuring, defacing or destroying such vehicle, or temporarily or permanently preventing its useful operation, or for any purpose against the will or without the consent of the owner of such vehicle or who shall in any other manner willfully or maliciously interfere with or prevent the running or operation of such vehicle, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Getting into vehicle without owner's consent.

(b) Any person who shall, without consent of the owner or person in charge of a motor vehicle, climb upon or into such vehicle, whether the same be in motion or at rest; or who, while such vehicle is at rest and unattended, shall attempt to manipulate any of the levers, the starting crank, or other device, brakes, or mechanism thereof, or to set said vehicle in motion shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Discounts on supplies.

§ 31. No chauffeur or other person having the care of a motor vehicle for the owner shall receive or take, directly or indirectly, without the written consent of such owner, any bonus, discount or other consideration for supplies or parts furnished or purchased for such motor vehicle, or on any work or labor done thereon by others, or on the purchase of any motor vehicle for his employer, and no person furnishing such supplies or parts, work or labor, or selling any motor vehicle shall give or offer any such chauffeur or other person having the care of a motor vehicle for the owner thereof, directly or indirectly, without such owner's written consent, any bonus, discount, or other consideration thereon. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

General penalties.

§ 32. (a) Excepting as in this act otherwise provided, or where a different penalty is expressly fixed by this act, any person violating any of its provisions, or knowingly making a false statement or knowingly concealing a material fact or otherwise committing a fraud in an application for the registration of a vehicle, or in an application for an operator's or chauffeur's license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, unless in this act otherwise provided, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Revocation of license. Complaints of reckless driving. Hearing.

(b) Immediately upon receipt by the department of information concerning the conviction of any person for the violation of section seventeen of this act, or concerning the third conviction within one year of any person for the violation of any of the provisions of section twenty-two of this act, the department shall forthwith revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license issued to such person by the department and shall issue no operator's or chauffeur's license to any such person within one year thereafter.

Upon the suspension or revocation of any chauffeur's or operator's license, the department shall demand the surrender of the license certificate, and any duplicates thereof that may have been issued, and also the license badge, if any, and it shall be unlawful for any person whose license has been suspended or revoked as herein provided to fail or neglect forthwith to surrender to the department any such certificates or badge in his possession or under his control. Upon receiving within one year verified written complaints made by one or more persons of two or more separate instances of reckless, negligent or unlawful operation of a vehicle on any public highway in this state by any person to whom the department has issued a valid unrevoked operator's or chauffeur's license the department may, in the discretion of the superintendent thereof, fix a time and place for a hearing to determine whether or not the operator's or chauffeur's license held by such person should be revoked on the ground that such person is an unfit person to be so licensed. The person so complained of shall be served with a written notice, at least ten days prior to the date of said hearing, to appear and show cause, at such hearing, why his license to operate a motor vehicle upon the public highways should not be suspended or revoked. Such hearing shall be held by the superintendent of the department or by any person or persons, not exceeding three, officers or employees of the department whom he may designate. If upon such hearing it is determined that there is good and sufficient reason therefor findings and an order shall be made by the superintendent or by the person or persons holding such hearing on his behalf to the effect that such license should be revoked. The department shall thereupon cause such person's license as an operator or chauffeur to be forthwith revoked if the findings hereinbefore provided for show or declare that such operator or chauffeur is a reckless or negligent driver or that he is incompetent or unfit to operate a motor vehicle because of mental or physical infirmities or disabilities.

If in any case the respondent shall fail to appear at the time and place fixed for any such hearing as is provided in this section, he shall be in default, and if in the opinion of the superintendent or of the person or persons holding such hearing on his behalf, there is sufficient reason therefor, the license of the respondent may be ordered revoked or suspended, whereupon the department shall upon notice of such order, revoke or suspend, as the case may be, such license.

The superintendent or the person or persons holding such hearing may summon witnesses in behalf of the state and may administer oaths and take testimony, may cause depositions to be taken, and may order the production of books, papers, agreements and documents.

The fees for the attendance and travel of witnesses shall be the same as for witnesses before the superior court, and shall be paid by the state upon demand by the department filed with the controller.

The supreme court, any district court of appeal or any superior court shall have jurisdiction, upon the application, to enforce all lawful orders of the department under this section.

Suspension of license by court.

(c) In addition to any or all other punishments provided in this act and imposed by the court upon any person for violation of any of the provisions of this act, the court may, in its discretion, suspend an operator's or chauffeur's license for a period of not to exceed thirty days, in which case the court shall take up the license certificate of such person together with, in case of a chauffeur, the license badge, and shall forward them to the department.

Return of license.

(d) Upon the expiration of the period of suspension of any license as hereinbefore in this section provided for, the department shall return to the licensee his license certificate, or in its discretion may issue to him a new certificate, and such license shall be valid for the remainder of the current calendar year, subject to the other provisions of this act; and in like manner the department shall return to any chauffeur whose license badge may have been forwarded to the department upon suspension of his license, such license badge or issue to such licensee a new badge. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 225.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 410.

Motor vehicle fund. Transfer and operator's license fund. Payments to counties. State highway expenditures.

§ 34. There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "motor vehicle fund." All moneys received by the department under any of the provisions of this act must be paid into the state treasury within twenty-four hours after the receipt thereof and shall be deposited to the credit of the motor vehicle fund, but if at any time such payment can not be made because of the intervention of a Sunday or a holiday, then such money shall be paid into the state treasury before twelve o'clock noon of the first business day following such Sunday or holiday; provided, however, that there is also hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "transfer and operators' license fund," and the moneys received by the department for transfers and for operators' and chauffeurs' licenses shall not be credited to the motor vehicle fund but to the credit of said transfer and operators' license fund. One-half of the net receipts under this act except those credited to the transfer and operators' license fund shall be paid from the motor vehicle fund to the counties from which the moneys were received, as determined by the places of residence of the persons to whom the registration certificates are issued, and all such amounts so returned shall be paid into the road funds of the several counties receiving the same, and shall be expended by such counties exclusively in the construction and maintenance of roads, bridges and culverts in said counties respectively. In the event that any county has not established a road fund, its proportion of said net receipts shall be retained by the state until provision for such road fund has been made, and it shall then be paid over. In the months of February and August of each year the department shall make to the controller a report setting forth the gross and net receipts for the preceding six months, and thereafter the controller shall draw his warrants upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amount to which such county is entitled; provided, nevertheless, that the controller shall not draw such warrant in favor of any county which theretofore shall not have established a road fund or which shall be delinquent in its annual report to the state department of engineering as hereinafter required. Of the moneys in said motor vehicle fund, when such action has been authorized by the board of control, the department may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller. All moneys remaining in the motor vehicle fund after the expenditure herein authorized, in addition to all sums that have been heretofore or that may be appropriated hereafter by the legislature for the same purpose, shall be expended under the direction of the state department of engineering for the maintenance and improvement of the state roads and highways under the jurisdiction of said department of engineering, and for the maintenance and improvement of roads and highways in state parks subject to the approval of the official or officials charged by law with the management and control of such parks, such moneys to be so drawn from said motor vehicle fund for the purpose of such maintenance and improvement upon warrants executed by the state controller upon demand made by the state department of engineering, and allowed and audited by the board of control. The transfer and operators' license fund and so much of the motor vehicle fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to be expended by the department in carrying out the provisions of this act; provided, however, that there shall not be so expended out of the motor vehicle fund in any one year more than ten per cent of said fund; and provided, further, that the board of supervisors of each county in the state shall make an annual report to the state department of engineering not later than three months after the close of the county's fiscal year, upon forms to be provided by the state department of engineering, showing the amount of moneys received from the motor vehicle fund during the preceding fiscal year and the disposition of said moneys, specifying in such detail as may be required by said department of engineering the roads, bridges and culverts constructed or maintained out of said moneys and the sums applied to the several items of such construction or maintenance; and provided, further, that whenever said report shall not have been duly filed in the manner and form hereby provided at or before the time hereinbefore specified, no further warrants shall be drawn upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of such delinquent county until said report has been furnished. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect —see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 227.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 412.

Disposition of fines.

§ 35. (a) All fines or forfeitures collected in cases of conviction for violation of any of the provisions of this act following arrests by any officer employed by an incorporated municipality, except a city and county, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which such municipality is situated and such moneys shall belong to the several counties, to be used by them, when authorized and permitted by law, in the discretion of the respective boards of supervisors in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within the limits of the incorporated municipalities of said counties, and for no other purpose; provided, however, that when not so authorized or permitted by law to use such moneys for said purposes, said counties shall receive said moneys for the benefit of, and said moneys shall belong to, the several incorporated municipalities in said counties respectively, excepting as herein otherwise provided, and at quarterly intervals the supervisors shall apportion and pay over said moneys to said municipalities according to their population ascertained in the manner provided by law, which moneys shall be expended by such municipalities solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of streets, bridges and culverts within the city limits along routes directly connecting interurban public highways entering such cities respectively; provided, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no (1) incorporated city and county, (2) city of more than twenty-five thousand population, or (3) city operating under a freeholder's charter and enforcing or seeking to enforce any ordinance, rule, or regulation in conflict with or covering the same or any part of the ground covered by this act, except as expressly permitted therein, shall be entitled to share in said moneys.

(b) Any and all other fines or forfeitures collected by or in any court for violation of any of the provisions of this act, whether by a justice of the peace, police court, city recorder's court, city justice of the peace, or otherwise, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county or incorporated city and county in which the court is held, and said moneys shall be used by the several counties and incorporated cities and counties solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within their respective limits, and for no other purpose. [Amendment of May 10, 1917. In effect—see section 29, Stats. 1917, p. 414.]

Record of cases by court.

§ 36. A full record shall be kept by every justice of the peace or police judge or court in this state of every case in which a person is charged with violation of any provision of this act, and an abstract of such record shall be sent forthwith by the justice of the peace, or police judge or court to the clerk of the county in which the justice of the peace, police judge, or other magistrate holds his court, whereupon said clerk shall forward said abstract to the department. Said abstracts shall be made upon forms prepared by the department and shall include all necessary information as to the parties to the case, the nature of the offense, the date of hearing, the plea, the judgment, the amount of the fine or forfeiture as the case may be, and every such abstract shall be certified by the justice of the peace, police judge or clerk of such police court as a true abstract of the record of the court. Each clerk of any court of record of this state shall also, within ten days after any final judgment of conviction of any violation of any of the provisions of this act, send to the department a certified copy of such judgment of conviction, together with any other information concerning said conviction required by said department. The said department shall keep such records in its office, and they shall be open to the inspection of any person during reasonable business hours.

Failure, refusal or neglect to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall constitute misconduct in office and shall be ground for removal therefrom. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect—see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 229.]

Motor vehicle department. Inspectors. Distribution of act and synopsis.

§ 37. There is hereby created a department to be known as the motor vehicle department of California. The chief officer shall be known as the superintendent, who shall be a civil executive officer and shall be appointed by the governor and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars. He shall receive an annual salary of three thousand six hundred dollars to be paid monthly upon a warrant of the controller. He shall have the power to appoint one chief clerk, who shall be a civil executive officer; one cashier, and, with the approval of the board of control, such additional employees as the proper and economical conduct of the business of the department may demand, and shall fix and prescribe their duties, compensation and term of employment; provided, that such employees shall include field deputies or inspectors, upon whom are hereby conferred, for the purposes of the enforcement of this act, the powers now or hereafter vested by law in peace officers, and who may exercise said powers in any portion of the state or of any political subdivision thereof, but solely in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. The cashier shall execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars. The salaries herein provided for shall be payable monthly, and the expenditures authorized by this act, shall be made upon the certificate of the superintendent of the department, allowed and audited by the board of control, and the warrant of the state controller.

There shall be printed fifty thousand copies of the vehicle act, as amended by this act, which shall be distributed to the public on request, without charge by the department, and in addition thereto a synopsis of said act as amended shall be prepared and printed by the motor vehicle department, and distributed free of charge to each person who shall obtain a vehicle license, or who shall receive a transfer of a vehicle license under the provisions hereof. Such copies shall be transmitted together with the certificate of registration or transfer. [Amendment of May 2, 1919. In effect —see section 20, Stats. 1919, p. 229.]

This section was also amended May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 415.

“Vehicle Act.”

§ 38. This act shall be known and cited as the “Vehicle Act.” An act entitled, “An act to regulate the use and operation of vehicles upon the public highways and elsewhere; to provide for the registration and identification of motor vehicles and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles; to prohibit certain persons from operating vehicles upon the public highways; to prohibit the possession or use of a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof, and to prohibit the offer to or acceptance by certain persons of any bonus or discount or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts for motor vehicles, or for work or repair done thereon; to provide penalties for violations of provisions of this act, and to provide for the disposition of fines and forfeitures imposed thereon; to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected hereunder; to provide for carrying out the objects of this act and to make an appropriation and to create a revolving fund therefor; and to repeal all acts or parts of acts either in conformity or in conflict with this act,” approved May 31, 1913, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby expressly repealed; provided, however, that the said motor vehicle act approved May 31, 1913, shall remain in full force and effect until midnight of the thirty-first day of December, 1915.

This act continuation of existing acts.

§ 39. The provisions of this act, so far as they are the same as those of existing statutes, shall be construed as a continuation thereof, and not as new enactments; and a reference in a statute which has not been repealed to provisions of law which have been revised and re-enacted herein shall be construed as applying to such provisions as so incorporated in this act. The repeal of a law by this act shall not affect any act done, ratified or confirmed, or any right accrued or established, or any action, suit or proceeding begun under any of the laws repealed before the repeal took effect; but the proceedings in such case shall, when necessary, conform to the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.

§ 40. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

In effect.

§ 41. The provisions of section 37 of this act and such other provisions hereof as relate to the creation and conduct of the motor vehicle department, the preparation and purchase of forms, supplies, and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and to the licensing of the operators thereof shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature, and the remainder of this act shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred fifteen.

The amending act of May 10, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 415, contains the following:

Printed copies of act.

§ 28. There shall be printed two hundred and fifty thousand copies of said vehicle act, as amended by this act, which shall be distributed to the public on request, without charge, by the department.

In effect, when.

§ 29. Excepting the provision of section eleven hereof requiring that the light displayed upon a trailer shall illuminate the number plate carried upon such trailer, each and all of the provisions of sections one, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-five, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this act, together with such provisions of section twenty-six of this act as relate to the salaries of the officers or employees of the department, and such other provisions³ of this act as relate to or require the preparation or purchase of forms and supplies, and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and the licensing of operators and chauffeurs, shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature, and the remainder of this act shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen.

The amending act of May 2, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 230, contains the following:

When in effect.

§ 20. Each and all of the provisions of this act except sections one, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen and eighteen, together with such provisions of section nineteen of this act as relate to the salaries of officers and employees of the department, and such other provisions of this act as relate to or require the preparation or purchase of forms and supplies and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and the licensing of operators and chauffeurs, shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of January in the year 1920.

Constitutionality.

§ 21. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Repealed.

§ 22. All acts or parts of acts in any ways in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed.

- 73. Same—Evidence sufficient to show driver negligent.
- 74. Same—Same—Unobstructed view.
- 75. "Business district"—Erroneous instruction not prejudicial.

I. CONSTITUTIONALITY.

1. Constitutionality—Prohibition of local legislation.—Mere prohibition by the legislature of local legislation upon the matter of motor vehicle traffic regulation, without any affirmative action occupying the field, would be unconstitutional and void, and in violation of the express authority granted by the state constitution to the municipality to enact local regulations.—Ex parte Daniels, (Cal.) 192 Pac. 442.

2. Same—"Due process."—In view of the fact that under section 3 the owner of a motor vehicle has the right to present his entire case to the department of engineering, it can not be said that the motor vehicle act is unconstitutional as in violation of the due process of law clause of the federal constitution, in that the department of engineering is given the duty of determining the horsepower of each vehicle.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 292, 139 Pac. 635, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

3. Same—Same—Tax based on horsepower.—The motor vehicle act of 1913 is not violative of the due process clause of the federal constitution, because the tax imposed is based upon horsepower.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 291, 139 Pac. 635, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

4. Same—Local or special legislation.—The motor vehicle act of 1913 is not objectionable on constitutional grounds as local or special in its nature, because the greater portion of the funds derived from the licenses are expended outside of the cities of the state.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 291, 139 Pac. 635, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

5. Same—Section 24, article IV, of the constitution not violated.—The motor vehicle act of 1913, is not obnoxious to section 24, article IV, of the constitution, because of the provisions of section 31, prohibiting chauffeurs from accepting gratuities, or because of the provisions of section 20 relating to rules of the road.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 293, 139 Pac. 635, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

6. Same—Section 13 as amended in 1919—Not a delegation of power in contravention of the constitution.—Section 13 of the act, as amended in 1919, is not an unconstitutional delegation of power to a testing agency, and is valid.—Ex parte Hinkelman, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 682; Ex parte Teatsen, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 684.

7. Same—Return of one-half fees to counties—Sections 7, 35, 42.—In view of section 42 of the motor vehicle act of 1913, that act will not be held unconstitutional, even if it be conceded that the provisions of section 35, requiring the return of one-half the fees collected under the act to the counties for road purposes, are unconstitutional, since section 7, provides for the collection and application of fees, and the invalidity of section 35 would not therefore materially affect the operation of the act.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 285, 139 Pac. 635, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

8. Same—Same—Same.—It is held that, in view of section 42 of the motor vehicle act of 1913, that the legislature intended to impose the tax provided in that act irrespective of the disposition of the proceeds; and that, therefore, general effect must be given to section 35, no matter whether the "net proceeds" therein mentioned are to be expended by the state authorities alone, or not, if it be not vulnerable to other constitutional objections.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 289, 139 Pac. 635, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

9. Same—Power of legislature to classify.—The power of the legislature being plenary in the matter of imposing the privilege tax exacted under the motor vehicle act it may designate any class properly subject to such exaction, and it may exempt any class.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 293, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

10. Same—Arbitrary classification.—The motor vehicle act of 1913 is not unconstitutional because of an arbitrary and unwarranted classification in requiring professional chauffeurs or drivers of motor vehicles for hire to pay an annual license, but exempts all others.—In re Stork, 167 Cal. 294, 296, 139 Pac. 684.

11. Same—Exemption of public service corporations.—The effect of section 14, article XIII, of the constitution, is to exempt public service corporations from the payment of the license required by the motor vehicle act upon the motor vehicles used by them in their public service business.—Pacific, etc., Co. v. Roberts, 168 Cal. 420, 421, 143 Pac. 700.

12. Same—Exemption of non-residents.—The exemption of non-residents from paying the tax under the motor vehicle act of 1913, for a period of three months, is not an unlawful one.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 294, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

13. Same—Not illegally discriminatory—Motor vehicles alone affected.—The motor vehicle act is not illegally discriminatory either because it applies to motor vehicles and not to other kinds, or because it places dealers in a class by themselves and exacts from them a fee of fifty dollars if they operate not more than five vehicles and ten dollars for every motor vehicle in excess of five.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 293, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

13a. Ordinance—Discriminatory, when.—An ordinance regulating the speed of motor vehicles and making the greatest punishment for a speed limit exceeding thirty miles an hour is not discriminatory; and whether it is reasonable or not depends upon the purpose and the condition requiring it to be made, and such an ordinance is held reasonable.—Ex parte Snowden, 12 Cal. App. 521.

14. Same—Chauffeur's business proper subject of regulation.—The occupation of a chauffeur is a profession or business attended with danger, and requiring a certain degree of scientific knowledge, and is, therefore, a proper subject of regulation.—In re Stork, 167 Cal. 294, 295, 139 Pac. 684.

15. Same—Effect of section 42.—Such legislative provisions as section 42 of the motor vehicle act of 1913 impose upon the courts the duty of supporting the legislative will as far as possible.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 289, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

16. Same—Cases decided.—In re Towne, 167 Cal. 282. See In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

17. Same—Same.—In re Schuler, 167 Cal. 282. See In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

18. Same—Inclusion of San Francisco—Exclusion of other cities.—The motor vehicle act does not violate subdivision 10, section 25, article IV, of the constitution by including San Francisco as a county for the purposes of the act and excluding all other cities.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 291, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

19. Same—Ad valorem tax added.—The fact that besides the excise or privilege tax imposed by the motor vehicle act of 1913, an ad valorem tax is levied by the local authorities upon all automobiles as property does not make double taxation.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 290, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

20. Same—Tax is in nature of a charge of compensation for damages to public roads.—The imposition of the license or privilege tax of the motor vehicle act of 1913 is in the nature of a charge of compensation for the damage done to the roads of the state by the driving of motor vehicles over them, and is properly based not upon the value of the machine, but upon the amount of destruction caused by it.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 290, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

21. Same—Tax provides a road fund.—The motor vehicle act of 1913 imposes an excise or privilege tax for the purpose of providing a fund for roads under the dominion of the state authorities.—In re Mitchell, 167 Cal. 282, 289, 139 Pac. 685, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 706.

21a. Same—License charge is a privilege tax for revenue and for use of highways.—The license charge in the motor vehicle act is a privilege tax established for the purposes of revenue and forbidding automobiles to use the public highways until payment thereof.—Pacific, etc., Co. v. Roberts, 168 Cal. 420, 428, 143 Pac. 700.

21b. Same—Question of unreasonable speed left to jury.—The motor vehicle act leaves the question as to whether a motor car is operated in a given case at an unreasonable speed or not, to the jury, and is not for that reason invalid.—Ex parte Daniels, (Cal.) 192 Pac. 442.

II. CONSTRUCTION OF ACT.

21c. Construction of act—Not a "municipal affair."—The regulation of motor vehicle traffic is not a municipal affair, even as to the streets of a chartered city, and such city has no power to pass a traffic ordinance inconsistent with the motor vehicle act.—Helmer v. Superior Court, (Cal. App.) 191 Pac. 1001.

22. Same—Same.—Regulation of motor vehicle traffic is not a municipal affair, and municipal regulations by a chartered city, inconsistent with the motor vehicle act are void.—Ex parte Daniels, (Cal.) 192 Pac. 442.

23. Same—Freeholder charter cities—City charter prevails.—A city ordinance of a municipality having a freeholder's charter will prevail, in case of conflict, over the motor vehicle act.—Muther v. Capps, 38 Cal. App. 721, 177 Pac. 882.

24. Same—Same—No ordinance.—Where there is no city ordinance in a freeholder charter city, the motor vehicle act will govern.—Muther v. Capps, 38 Cal. App. 721, 177 Pac. 882.

25. Same—Entire field of speed regulation covered.—The legislature intended by the enactment of section 22d to occupy the entire field of speed regulation.—Ex parte Daniels, (Cal.) 192 Pac. 442.

26. Same—Additional police regulations not intended to be prohibited.—The legislature did not intend by the extension of the motor vehicle act to city streets to prohibit the municipality from enacting additional police regulations upon the subject as might appear reasonable and proper in a given locality.—Mann v. Scott, 180 Cal. 550, 182 Pac. 281.

26a. Same—Same.—The mere fact that the legislature has made certain police regulations does not prohibit a municipality from securing additional requirements so long as there is no conflict and so long as the requirements of the municipal ordinance are reasonable and not discriminatory.—Ex parte Snowden, 12 Cal. App. 521.

27. Same—Conflict with city ordinances—Los Angeles ordinance—Rules of road.—There is no difference in effect between the terms of the Los Angeles ordinance requiring the driver of a motor vehicle to turn to the right when meeting other vehicles and to travel on the right-hand side of the street, or as near the right-hand curb as possible, and the provision of the motor vehicle act requiring such driver to travel on the right side of the highway wherever practicable.—Humphrey v. United States, etc., Co., (Cal. App.) 193 Pac. 609.

28. Same—Same—Traffic ordinance.—The Los Angeles traffic ordinance is not in violation of the motor vehicle act.—Mann v. Scott, 180 Cal. 550, 182 Pac. 281. See, also, Ex parte Snowden, 12 Cal. App. 521, 107 Pac. 724.

29. Same—Motor vehicle department, intention of legislature to transfer.—By the enactment of the statute of 1913 the legislature intended to entirely disconnect the motor vehicle department as established by the acts of 1905 and 1913 from the office of secretary of state, and by such transfer, the secretary of state was relieved of all responsibility and duty in connection with that department.—Mansfield v. Chambers, 26 Cal. App. 499, 147 Pac. 595.

30. Same—Same—Irreconcilable conflict of acts.—The act of 1905 is in irreconcilable conflict with the act of 1913, in so far as the former statute established the motor vehicle department as a department of the office of secretary of state and vested in the secretary the authority and power to employ clerical assistance to carry out the provisions of the act.—Mansfield v. Chambers, 26 Cal. App. 499, 147 Pac. 595.

31. Same—Same—Power of legislature.—The effect of the act of 1913 was to abolish the office of superintendent and cashier of the motor vehicle department as a branch of the office of secretary of state, and the legislature had power to abolish said office.—Mansfield v. Chambers, 26 Cal. App. 499, 147 Pac. 595.

32. Same—Driving while intoxicated—Not a mere traffic regulation.—The provisions of the act making the act of driving an automobile while intoxicated a felony, is not a mere traffic regulation, and a person charged with such act may be prosecuted under the state law, although occurring in a chartered city having an ordinance making the same a misdemeanor.—Helmer v. Superior Court, (Cal. App.) 191 Cal. 1001.

33. Same—Emergency clause in traffic ordinance.—As to the meaning and effect of an emergency clause in a traffic ordinance.—Collins v. Marsh, 176 Cal. 639, 169 Pac. 389.

34. Same—Duty of driver after collision—Intention of act.—The purpose of section 21 of the motor vehicle act as to the requirement that persons driving motor vehicles who collide with another vehicle containing a person stop and render assistance was to prohibit negligent or wanton drivers of motor cars from seeking to evade civil or criminal prosecution by escape before their identity could be established, and to prohibit all drivers, whether negligent or not, from leaving persons injured in collisions with cars driven by them, in distress or danger for want of medical or surgical treatment.—People v. Kaufman, 33 Cal. App. Dec. 338.

35. Same—Section 367c, Penal Code, not repealed.—The motor vehicle act of 1913 did not have the effect of repealing the provisions of section 367c of the Penal Code as to requiring the driver of a motor vehicle to stop and render assistance to a person injured in a collision with the vehicle driven by him.—People v. Finley, 27 Cal. App. 291, 149 Pac. 779.

36. Same—Rule of road as to driving on right side of highway—Purpose of act.—It is the purpose of the motor vehicle act of 1905 to make it the duty of all persons using the public highways of the state for motor vehicle traffic to keep to the right side of the highway at all times when possible whether they were meeting persons traveling in the opposite direction or not.—Stohman v. Martin, 28 Cal. App. 338, 152 Pac. 319.

III. ACTIONS FOR DAMAGES.

37. Negligent driving by borrower from dealer—Estoppel of dealer.—In view of section 32 of the motor vehicle act an automobile dealer is not estopped from denying that an automobile, negligently driven by a borrower, was being used in its business by reason of having obtained a dealer's license therefor, under section 9, providing for cancellation in case of violation of its provisions.—Brown v. Chevrolet, etc., Co., 39 Cal. App. 738, 179 Pac. 697.

38. Negligence of driver on meeting horse-drawn vehicle.—The question of what will amount to negligence of the operator of a motor vehicle when meeting a horse-drawn vehicle, in view of the requirements of the motor vehicle act, is a question for the jury, and can not be fixed, according to a standard, as a matter of law.—Eddy v. Stowe, (Cal. App.) 185 Pac. 1024.

39. Same—Duty of driver.—Instruction as to duty of driver of motor vehicle in approaching horse-drawn vehicle, under section 20 of the motor vehicle act, approved.—Freiburg v. Israel, (Cal. App.) 187 Pac. 130.

40. Rule of road—Duty to keep to right.—Under the motor vehicle act the driver of a truck was required to keep to the left in passing a steam roller and to not turn to the right again until entirely clear thereof.—Moreno v. Los Angeles, etc., Co., (Cal. App.) 186 Pac. 800.

41. Same—Violation of rule by passing to left.—Plaintiff's violation of the provision of the motor vehicle act in passing to the left of the center of intersecting streets held not to have been the proximate cause of a collision, after he had passed into the intersecting street and was on the right side of the street.—Wilkinson v. Rohrer, (Cal. App.) 190 Pac. 650.

42. Same—Cutting corners in turning to left.—Where an automobile accident resulted from the cutting of corners in turning to the left at a street intersection in violation of the motor vehicle act, the driver is liable for injuries sustained by reason of such accident, notwithstanding the fact that the accident occurred at a point fifteen or twenty feet from the curb line of the street on which the automobile was traveling after entering the intersecting street.—Perez v. Hartman, 39 Cal. App. 601, 179 Pac. 706.

43. Same—Failure to keep to the right until beyond intersection.—The driver of an automobile who fails to keep to the right of and to run beyond the center of the intersection, in approaching and passing an intersection of a street or highway, is guilty of negligence.—Perez v. Hartman, 39 Cal. App. 601, 179 Pac. 706.

44. Same—Starting to turn—Intersection on right.—Where the driver of a vehicle in approaching an intersecting street, with intention to pass into the same, started to turn at such an angle as would bring the center of the intersection on his right, his act was a violation of the city ordinance from the moment he began to make the turn, inasmuch as it is not the mere passing of the intersection on the driver's right that constitutes the unlawful act.—Squier v. Davis, etc., Co., 181 Cal. 533, 185 Pac. 391.

See, also, as to rights of motor vehicles, meeting or passing at street intersections.—Lawrence v. Goodwill, (Cal. App.) 186 Pac. 781.

45. Same—Traveling in same direction and turning into intersecting street.—As to rights of way of vehicles traveling in the same direction and turning into intersecting streets, under the motor vehicle act.—Barton v. Studebaker Corporation, (Cal. App.) 189 Pac. 1025.

46. Same—Accident 145 feet before reaching intersection—Rule does not apply.—The provisions of section 20, subdv. (e) of the motor vehicle act as to the right of way of drivers of motor vehicles approaching street intersections, does not apply where one of the vehicles was 145 feet from the intersection at the time the other reached it.—Ward v. Gildea, (Cal. App.) 186 Pac. 612.

47. Same—Operation in violation of rule is negligence.—One who operates his motor vehicle at a street crossing in violation of the right of way provisions of the motor vehicle act is negligent.—Mathes v. Aggeler & Musser Seed Co., 179 Cal. 697, 178 Pac. 713.

48. Same—View obstructed.—One who drives his automobile in approaching a street crossing, where the view is obstructed at more than ten miles an hour, is negligent.—Mathes v. Aggeler & Musser Seed Co., 179 Cal. 697, 178 Pac. 713.

49. Same—Same—Instruction as to rate of speed.—Where the chauffeur's view of road traffic is obstructed, an instruction as to the negligent rate of speed was unwarranted in an action for death.—Muther v. Capps, 38 Cal. App. 721, 177 Pac. 882.

49a. Same—Passing to right of vehicle going in same direction not negligence at law.—It is not negligence as matter of law to attempt to pass a vehicle going in the same direction, on the right, if a reasonably prudent man might well consider it the course to take to avoid or escape a situation of peril.—Squier v. Davis, etc., Co., 181 Cal. 533, 185 Pac. 391.

49c. Same—Driver of steam roller—Right to assume motorist will obey.—One sitting on a steam roller with his feet hanging down the right side, was not guilty of contributory negligence in failing to watch the rear, since he was justified in assuming that the driver of a truck would obey the motor vehicle act and pass to the left.—Moreno v. Los Angeles, etc., Co., (Cal. App.) 186 Pac. 800.

49d. Same—Paramount right of way of fire department.—As to plea of paramount right of way of fire department in an action for damages for negligent disregard of same.—King v. San Diego Electric Ry. Co., 176 Cal. 266.

50. Same—"Intersecting highway," defined.—Where two streets meet but do not cross, it is an "intersecting highway" within the meaning of the motor vehicle act.—Muther v. Capps, 38 Cal. App. 721, 177 Pac. 882.

51. Same—Misleading instruction as to "crossing of ways."—The words "regular crossing for pedestrians" does not occur in the motor vehicle act, and its use instead of "crossing of ways," which might refer to the same place, is misleading in an instruction in an action for negligent death in a crossing accident.—Muther v. Capps, 38 Cal. App. 721, 177 Pac. 882.

52. Same—"Intersecting highway" only can be properly applied.—The definition of "intersecting highway" given by the motor vehicle act is the only one that can be properly applied to the facts in this case.—Muther v. Capps, 38 Cal. App. 721, 177 Pac. 882.

See same case, 27 Cal. App. Dec. 685.

53. Speed—Violation of act.—The violation of the requirement of the act as to the speed in approaching an intersecting crossing will not bar recovery of damages when such violation could not have contributed to the accident.—Robinson v. Clemens, (Cal. App.) 190 Pac. 203.

54. Same—Evidence insufficient to show violation of act.—Verdict of jury set aside, in view of the fact that the evidence demonstrates that the automobile was traveling ten miles an hour or less.—Varcoe v. Lee, 180 Cal. 338, 181 Pac. 223.

55. Same—At intersections.—Section 22 of the motor vehicle act is complied with if speed is reduced to ten miles an hour in the territory common to both intersecting streets at or within the lines of intersection.—McPhee v. Lavin, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 23.

56. Same—Ten miles an hour not negligence at law.—It is not negligence as matter of law to operate a motorcycle along a city street at a speed of ten miles an hour.—Squier v. Davis, etc., Co., 181 Cal. 533, 185 Pac. 391.

57. Same—Approaching intersection at speed of fifteen miles—Not negligence.—Where a motor vehicle driver traveling fifteen miles an hour could stop in fifteen or twenty feet he could not be held guilty of contributory negligence in driving fifteen miles an hour at a point twenty-five or thirty feet from a street intersection.—McPhee v. Lavin, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 23.

58. Sounding horn—Duty when following another vehicle.—The failure of a motorcycle operator to sound his horn when following another vehicle and approaching from the rear was not negligence as matter of law, in the absence of an intention or immediate attempt to pass such vehicle.—Squier v. Davis, etc., Co., 181 Cal. 533, 185 Pac. 391.

59. Same—Approaching pedestrian from rear.—Failure to sound horn when approaching from the rear a pedestrian walking near the paved portion of the state highway was not excused by the pedestrian's observation of the glare of the automobile headlights.—Woodhead v. Wilkinson, (Cal.) 185 Pac. 851.

60. Lens — "Diffusing type of lens" a trade name.—The phrase "diffusing type of lens" is a trade name of recent origin, the use of which has not become sufficiently general to enable the court to take judicial notice of its trade meaning and such meaning was matter of proof.—Ex parte Hinkelman, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 682; Ex parte Teatsen, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 684.

61. Same—Use of untested lens.—The use of a type of lens with a light bulb, sold commercially that had not been tested and sanctioned by a testing agency, as reported by said agency to the superintendent of the motor vehicle department as substantially complying with section 13 of the act, is in violation of subdivisions (h) and (j) of the section, although the light did not produce a dangerous glare.—Ex parte Hinkelman, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 682; Ex parte Teatsen, (Cal.) 191 Pac. 684.

62. Duty of owner of motor vehicle.—It is the duty of the owner of an automobile, who lends it to another and rides therein as a passenger, to prevent the driver from operating it in a reckless manner.—Randolph v. Hunt, (Cal. App.) 183 Pac. 358.

63. Proof of ownership and use with owner's permission establishes prima facie case.—Proof of ownership at the time of the accident and the use of the automobile with the permission of such owner establishes a prima facie case against such owner of responsibility for injuries received.—Brown v. Chevrolet Motor Co., 39 Cal. App. 738, 179 Pac. 697.

64. Operation for owner's benefit—Presumption.—The presumption is that an automobile is being operated for the owner's benefit and such presumption warrants a jury in finding in favor of such presumption against testimony.—Randolph v. Hunt, (Cal. App.) 183 Pac. 358.

See same case, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 65.

65. Operation by minor son—Liability of owner.—The parents of a minor son are liable for injuries sustained as a result of the negligent driving of their automobile by such son, in view of section 19 of the motor vehicle act of 1915.—Crittenden v. Murphy, 36 Cal. App. 803, 173 Pac. 595.

66. Workmen's compensation—Liability of third party not dependent on award.—The liability to pay compensation is created by the act and not by the award, and suit may be brought by the injured employee and insurance carrier without an award under the act.—Moreno v. Los Angeles, etc., Co., (Cal. App.) 186 Pac. 800.

67. Same—Control of master over servant.—The control of a master over his servant which is a test of the relationship is "complete control" or the full and unqualified right to control and direct the details of or the means by which the work is accomplished.—Barton v. Studebaker Corporation, (Cal. App.) 189 Pac. 1025.

68. Same—Independent contractor—Test.—The real test as to whether a person is an independent contractor or a servant is whether the person alleged to be master, under his arrangement with the other party, has or has not any authoritative control of the latter with respect to the manner in which the details of the work are to be performed.—Barton v. Studebaker Corporation, (Cal. App.) 189 Pac. 1025.

69. Same—Same.—An independent contractor is one who, in rendering services, exercises an independent employment or occupation, and represents his employer only as to the results of his work and not as to the means whereby it is accomplished.—Barton v. Studebaker Corporation, (Cal. App.) 189 Pac. 1025.

70. Duty of automobile driver, in general.—It is the duty of an automobile driver under sections 20 and 22 of the act of 1915 to drive his car in a careful and prudent manner, in relation to others using the highway, and at a rate of speed that may be reasonable and proper under the circumstances, and in no event, in excess of thirty miles an hour.—Randolph v. Hunt, (Cal. App.) 183 Pac. 358.

71. Same.—The driver of a motor vehicle is required under the motor vehicle act to use reasonable care to anticipate the presence on the streets of other persons having equal rights with himself to be there.—Zarzana v. Neve Drug Co., 180 Cal. 32, 179 Pac. 203.

72. Same—Injured person not guilty of contributory negligence.—Plaintiff in action for damages for injuries sustained by being struck by an automobile while crossing a street held not to have been guilty of contributory negligence.—Lewis v. Tanner, (Cal. App.) 193 Pac. 287.

73. Same—Evidence sufficient to show driver negligent.—In this case it is held that the evidence was sufficient to show driver of a motor truck, in collision with a bicycle to have been guilty of negligence.—Konig v. Lyon, (Cal. App.) 192 Pac. 875.

74. Same—Same—Unobstructed view.—Driver of truck held guilty of negligence in driving into an automobile and causing death of the owner, where he had a clear and unobstructed view for a hundred feet or more, before striking the automobile, and must have seen it and knew in ample time that he would have to turn to the left to avoid it.—Depons v. Ariss, 28 Cal. App. Dec. 1059.

75. "Business district"—Erroneous instruction not prejudicial.—Where it was an actual fact that the accident took place in the "business district" as defined by the Motor Vehicle Act, an instruction to that effect, though error, was not prejudicial.—Varcoe v. Lee, 180 Cal. 338, 181 Pac. 223.

REPAYMENT OF ILLEGALLY IMPOSED FEES UNDER "MOTOR VEHICLE ACT."

ACT 3013—An act to provide for the repayment to such persons as are or may become entitled thereto of moneys by them, or their assignors, paid to the state of California in consequence of illegally imposed charges for the registration of motor vehicles, or paid to the state by mistake or inadvertence in connection with the registration of such motor vehicles, and thereafter deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the motor vehicle fund pursuant to the provisions of chapter 326 of California Statutes of 1913, approved May 31, 1913, and known as the motor vehicle act; making an appropriation for such purpose; prescribing certain duties with respect thereto; and providing for the retention by the state of proportionate deductions from the moneys which would otherwise be apportioned to the several counties under the provisions of said motor vehicle act.

History: Approved May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 513.

Appropriation: repayment motor vehicle tax paid by mistake.

§ 1. From the moneys in the state treasury to the credit of the motor vehicle fund there is hereby appropriated the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be used exclusively for the purpose of repaying to such persons as are or may become entitled thereto any moneys by them, or their assignors, paid to the state of California in consequence of any illegally imposed charge for the registration of any motor vehicle, or paid to the state by mistake or inadvertence in connection with the registration of any such motor vehicle, and thereafter deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the motor vehicle fund.

Claims.

§ 2. All claims for the repayment of any such moneys shall be verified by the applicant, or some person in his behalf, and shall be presented to the motor vehicle department, upon forms to be prescribed by the department, and shall contain all data necessary to enable the department to identify the payment upon which such claim is based and to determine whether or not the averments set forth in such claim are correct as shown by the records of the office. If found to be incorrect the claim shall be rejected and returned to the applicant with a brief statement of the reason therefor endorsed thereon. Such rejection shall be without prejudice to the presentation by such applicant of a corrected claim. If found to be correct, the claim shall be approved by the motor vehicle department and transmitted to the board of control with such approval endorsed thereon, and shall be by the latter audited and approved or rejected in the manner provided by law.

Controller's warrants.

§ 3. If such claim be approved by the board of control the same shall be transmitted to the state controller with such approval endorsed thereon, and the controller shall thereupon draw his warrant upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of said claimant for the amount of such claim and the state treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that the aggregate sum of all warrants so drawn and paid shall not exceed the amount by this act appropriated.

Report on repayments.

§ 4. At the time of rendering its semi-annual statements to the controller, as in said motor vehicle act provided, the motor vehicle department shall also submit a statement showing the aggregate amount, by counties, of all repayments made on account of registration fees collected from persons residing in such counties at the time of collection, and the controller shall thereupon deduct from the amounts which would otherwise be apportioned to each of such counties, in conformity with the provisions of said motor vehicle act, one half the amount of all such repayments so made, and draw his warrant in favor of the treasurer of each of such counties for the amount so apportioned, less such deduction.

Balance.

§ 5. Any balance of said appropriation remaining unexpended on the first day of September, A. D. 1917, shall, without further action, revert to and become a part of the motor vehicle fund.

AUTO-BUS TRANSPORTATION ACT.

ACT 3014—An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; providing for the issue by incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties of permits for the operation of such automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; empowering incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties to enact ordinances for the supervision and regulation of automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages and providing penalties for the violation of such ordinances; defining transportation companies and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the railroad commission; providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

History: Approved May 10, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 330. Amended May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 457.

Title.

An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; defining transportation companies and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the railroad commission; providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 458.]

Words and phrases defined.

§ 1. (a) The term "corporation" when used in this act, means a corporation, a company, an association or a joint stock association.

(b) The term "person," when used in this act, means an individual, a firm or copartnership.

(c) The term "transportation company," when used in this act, means every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing, any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage used in the business of transportation of persons or property, or as a common carrier, for compensation, over any public highway in this state between fixed termini or over a regular route, and not operating exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city or town or of a city and county; provided, that the term "transportation company," as used in this act, shall not include corporations or persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, in so far as they own, control, operate or manage taxicabs, hotel busses or sightseeing busses, or any other carrier which does not come within the term "transportation company" as herein defined.

(d) The term "public highway," when used in this act, means every public street, road or highway in this state.

(e) The words "between fixed termini or over a regular route," when used in this act, mean the termini or route between or over which any transportation company usually or ordinarily operates any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage, even though there may be departures from said termini or route, whether such departures be periodic or irregular. Whether or not any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage is operated by a transportation company "between fixed termini or over a regular route" within the meaning of this act shall be a question of fact and the finding of the railroad commission thereon shall be final and shall not be subject to review. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 458.]

Jitney bus, etc., must be operated according to law.

§ 2. No corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, shall operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, state or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property for compensation on any public highway in this state except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Power of railroad commission over transportation companies.

§ 4. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with power and authority to supervise and regulate every transportation company in this state; to fix the rates, fares, charges, classifications, rules and regulations of each such transportation company; to regulate the accounts, service and safety of operations of each such transportation company; to require the filing of annual and other reports and of other data by such transportation companies; and to supervise and regulate transportation companies in all other matters affecting the relationship between such companies and the traveling and shipping public. The railroad commission shall have power and authority, by general order or otherwise, to prescribe rules and regulations applicable to any and all transportation companies. The railroad commission, in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred upon it by the constitution of this state and by this act, shall have power and authority to make orders and to prescribe rules and regulations affecting transportation companies, notwithstanding the provisions of any ordinance or permit of any incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, and in case of conflict between any such order, rule or regulation and any such ordinance or permit, the order, rule or regulation of the railroad commission shall in each instance prevail.

Certificate from railroad commission.

§ 5. No transportation company shall hereafter begin to operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property, for compensation, on any public highway in this state without first having obtained from the railroad commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation, but no such certificate shall be required of any transportation company as to the fixed termini between which or the route over which it is actually operating in good faith at the time this act becomes effective, or for operations exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city, town, or city and county. Any right, privilege, franchise or permit held, owned or obtained by any transportation company may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred or inherited as other property, only upon authorization by the railroad commission. The railroad commission shall have power, with or without hearing, to issue said certificate as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of said privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity may require.

The railroad commission may at any time for a good cause suspend and upon notice to the grantee of any certificate and opportunity to be heard revoke, alter or amend any certificate issued under the provisions of this section. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 459.]

Order authorizing issue of stock and bonds. Application of public utilities act. Fees.

§ 6. No transportation company may issue any stock or stock certificate, or any bond, or any note or other evidence of indebtedness payable at a period of more than twelve months after the date thereof unless such transportation company, in addition to the other requirements of law, shall first have secured from the railroad commission an order authorizing such issue and stating the amount thereof and the purpose or purposes to which the issue or the proceeds thereof are to be applied and that, in the opinion of the railroad commission, the money, property or labor to be procured or paid for by such issue is reasonably required for the purpose or purposes specified in the order and that, except as otherwise permitted in the order in the case of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, such purpose or purposes are not, in whole or in part, reasonably chargeable to operating expenses or to income. Such order may be made, in the discretion of the railroad commission, either with or without a public hearing. Except as in this section otherwise provided, the provisions of section fifty-two of the public utilities act referring to the purposes for which stocks and stock certificates, bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, may be issued and the application of and accounting for the proceeds thereof, the powers and duties of the railroad commission and the rights and duties of public utilities with reference thereto, the legal status of stocks and stock certificates and of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, issued without an order of the railroad commission then in effect, and the relationship of the state of California to such stocks and stock certificates, and such bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, shall apply to and govern the issue of stocks and stock certificates, and of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, of transportation companies with the same force and effect as though section fifty-two of the public utilities act were restated in this section with the substitution of the words "transportation company" for the words "public utility" and of the words "transportation companies" for the words "public utilities." The provisions of section fifty-seven of the public utilities act referring to fees to be charged and collected by the railroad commission for certificates authorizing the issue of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of public utilities shall apply to and govern authorizations by the railroad commission of the issue by transportation companies of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 459.]

Application of public utilities act.

§ 7. In all respects in which the railroad commission has power and authority under the constitution of this state or this act, applications and complaints may be made and filed with the railroad commission, process issued, hearings held, opinions, orders and decisions made and filed, petitions for rehearing filed and acted upon, and petitions for writs of review or mandate filed with the supreme court of this state, considered and disposed of by said court, in the manner, under the conditions and subject to the limitations and with the effect specified in the public utilities act.

Violation

§ 8. Every officer, agent or employee of any corporation, and every other person who violates or fails to comply with, or who procures, aids or abets in the violation of any provision of this act, or who fails to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand or requirement or any part or provision thereof, of the railroad commission, or who procures, aids or abets any corporation or person in his failure to obey, observe or comply with any such order, decision, rule, direction, demand or regulation, or any part or provision thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Foreign or interstate commerce.

§ 9. Neither this act nor any provision thereof shall apply or be construed to apply to commerce with foreign nations or commerce among the several states of this union, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution of the United States and the acts of congress.

Constitutionality.

§ 10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Repealed. Stats. 1905, p. 177, not to apply.

§ 11. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. The provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the sale of street railroad and other franchises in counties and municipalities and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies, and repealing conflicting acts (approved March 22, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 777)," are declared not to apply to the use of highways for the kind of transportation herein regulated.

1. Jitney bus franchises.—Under the act of 1917 relating to the operation of auto stages, trucks, etc., as carriers on the public highways, vehicles operating wholly within the limits of municipalities are under the exclusive jurisdiction of such municipalities.—In re Transportation Companies, 14 R. C. D. 378.

2. Same—Necessity of franchise from local bodies.—Carriers operating over regular routes between fixed termini must secure a permit from all public authorities through whose territory they operate, and must obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the railroad commission, if they do not operate wholly within the limits of a municipality.—In re Transportation Companies, 14 R. C. D. 378.

3. Same—Same—Issue of bonds.—Before a carrier by auto stage or truck under the act of 1917, can issue bonds or stock, note or other evidence of indebtedness, payable at a time more than twelve months from date, permission must be obtained from the commission.—In re Transportation Companies, 14 R. C. D. 378.

4. Same—Jurisdiction of railroad commission.—The railroad commission has jurisdiction to fix rates, classifications and rules and to regulate the accounts, service and safety of transportation companies, and such jurisdiction supersedes the jurisdiction of municipal or county authorities.—In re Transportation companies, 14 R. C. D. 378.

5. Same—Same—Issue of certificate of convenience and necessity.—The commission can not issue to a public utility a certificate permitting the exercise of rights under a franchise unless the franchise is valid and conforms to the law governing the granting of franchises.—In re Winterhaven Imp. Co., 15 R. C. D. 334.

CLASSIFICATION ACT.

ACT 3016—An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations.

History: Approved March 2, 1883, Stats. 1883, p. 24. Amended (1) March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 218; (2) April 1, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 421; (3) March 20, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 141; (4) March 5, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 94; (5 and 6) February 8, 1911, Stats. 1911, pp. 11, 12; (7) March 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 476.

Classification of municipal corporations.

§ 1. All municipal corporations within the state are hereby classified as follows: Those having a population of more than 400,000 shall constitute the first class; those having a population of more than 250,000 and not exceeding 400,000 shall constitute the first and one-half class; those having a population of more than 100,000 and not exceeding 250,000 shall constitute the second class; those having a population of more than 35,000 and not exceeding 100,000 shall constitute the second and one-half class; those having a population of more than 23,000 and not exceeding 35,000 shall constitute the third class; those having a population of more than 20,000 and not exceeding 23,000 shall constitute the fourth class; those having a population of more than 6,000 and not exceeding 20,000 shall constitute the fifth class; those having a population of not exceeding 6,000 shall constitute the sixth class; provided, that nothing herein shall change the classification of existing cities organized under the municipal corporation act. [Amendment approved March 24, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 476.] ●

There was another amendment of the same section at the same session as follows:

Classification of municipal corporations.

§ 1. All municipal corporations within the state are hereby classified as follows: Those having a population of more than 400,000 shall constitute the first class; those having a population of more than 250,000 and not exceeding 400,000 shall constitute the first and one-half class; those having a population of more than 100,000 and not exceeding 250,000 shall constitute the second class; those having a population of more than 23,000 and not exceeding 100,000 shall constitute the third class; those having a population of more than 20,000 and not exceeding 23,000 the fourth class; those having a population of more than 6000 and not exceeding 20,000 the fifth class; those having a population of not exceeding 6000 shall constitute the sixth class; provided, that nothing herein shall change the classification of existing cities organized under the municipal corporation act. [Amendment approved February 8, 1911. Stats. 1911. p. 11.]

This section was also amended April 1, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 421; March 5, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 94.

Municipal corporations. Population.

§ 2. For the purpose of classifying municipal corporations as in this act provided, the population of all municipal corporations within the state is hereby determined to be the population of such municipal corporations as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. nineteen hundred and ten; provided, however, that whenever a new federal census is taken, the municipal corporations within the state are not, by operation of law, reclassified under such census, but shall remain in the old classification until reclassified by the legislature, unless a direct enumeration of the inhabitants thereof be made, as in section 3 of this act provided. [Amendment approved February 9, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 12.]

Question of reorganization.

§ 3. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any municipal corporation, may at any time cause an enumeration of the inhabitants thereof to be made and in such manner and under such regulations as such body may, by ordinance, direct. If upon such enumeration it shall appear that such municipal corporation contains a sufficient number of inhabitants to entitle it to reorganize under a higher or lower class, the common council, trustees, or other legislative body, shall, upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than one-fifth of the qualified electors thereof, submit to the electors of such city or town, at the next general election to be held therein, the question whether such city or town shall reorganize under the laws relating to municipal corporations of the class to which such city or town may belong. And thereupon such proceedings shall be had and election held, as provided in the general law for the reorganization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations. If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of such reorganization, thereafter such officers shall be elected as are, or may be, and at the time prescribed by law for municipal corporations of the class having the population under which such reorganization is had, and from and after the qualification of such officers, such corporation shall belong to such class. Whenever the result of such enumeration shall have been declared by the council, board of trustees, or other governing body, and entered in the minutes of such body, thereupon the number of such inhabitants so ascertained shall be deemed the number of the inhabitants of such city for all the purposes of this act, and for the purposes of legislation affecting municipalities. The clerk of the council, board of trustees, or other governing body of such city shall cause a certified copy of such minute order to be filed with the board of supervisors of the county wherein such city is situated. [Amendment approved March 20, 1899. Stats. 1899, p. 141.]

This section was also amended March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 218.

1. Power of legislature to classify municipalities.—The legislature is empowered under the constitution to pass a general law for the classification of municipalities according to population, and the manner of their classification is a subject within its control and the courts may not interfere with the discretion vested in a co-ordinate branch of the government.—People v. Henshaw, 76 Cal. 436, 18 Pac. 413.

2. Same—Classification subject of legislative control—No jurisdiction in courts.—The matter of the classification of municipal corporations is a subject for legislative control and the courts may not interfere with the discretion vested in a co-ordinate branch of the government.—People ex rel. Daniels v. Henshaw, 76 Cal. 436, 18 Pac. 413.

3. Classification must not be arbitrary.—The classification of a municipal corporation must not be arbitrary for the mere purpose of classification that legislation really local or special may seem to be done, but for the purpose of meeting different conditions requiring different legislation.—Darcey v. Mayor, etc., of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500.

4. Classification—Law not special legislation when applicable to all of a class.—To so classify municipal corporations that general laws applicable to the separate classes will meet the necessities of the case, was a wise provision, and a law which applies to one or more but not to all of these cases is not, for that reason, special legislation.—People ex rel. Daniels v. Henshaw, 76 Cal. 436, 18 Pac. 413.

See, also, Darcey v. Mayor of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500.

5. Same—Same.—A law which applies alike to all cities within the class is a general law.—Darcey v. Mayor, etc., of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500.

6. Classification must be founded upon natural differences.—A classification must be founded upon differences which are either defined by the constitution or natural, which will suggest a reason which might recently be held to justify the diversity in the legislation.—Darcey v. Mayor of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500.

See, also, Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604; Daugherty v. Austin, 94 Cal. 601.

7. Classification only for purposes of incorporation and organization.—It is intimated that the classification of municipalities is authorized only for the purpose of incorporation and organization.—Daugherty v. Austin, 94 Cal. 601, cited in Darcey v. Mayor, etc., of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500.

8. Same—Classification applicable to all of class not invalid.—Section 6 of article XII of the constitution, empowers the legislature to classify cities and towns in proportion to population for the purpose of incorporation and organization, and a law limited to these purposes is not unconstitutional because it makes different regulations for the different classes.—Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604.

9. Same—Rule distinguished.—While a law touching upon matters of incorporation and organization will not be held a special law because it operates only upon one or several of the classes though not all, it does not follow that there may not be legislation not affecting incorporation or organization which would be general without reference to the classification act of 1883.—Rauer v. Williams, 118 Cal. 401, 50 Pac. 691.

10. Same—Legislation not for incorporation or organization.—While the legislature can not pass laws touching the organization and incorporation of municipalities except by conforming to the requirements of the classification act, upon matters not affecting the incorporation or organization, it may pass laws which will be general if they operate uniformly and generally upon all cities of the class created by and designated in the act itself.—Rauer v. Williams, 118 Cal. 401, 50 Pac. 691.

11. Classification applicable to only one city—Salaries of policemen.—The legislature is not empowered to create a class of cities of a population of between ten thousand and twenty-five thousand inhabitants for the purpose of increasing the salaries of policemen in a particular city.—Darcey v. Mayor, etc., of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500.

12. Classification for special purpose—Act unconstitutional.—The act of March 28, 1895, adding a new article to the Political Code (article IV of chapter I title II part III) is unconstitutional so far as it provides in section 1075 for boards of election commissioners in cities and counties having 150,000 or more inhabitants, as an improper attempt to create a class of municipal corporations for a special purpose without reference to existing classifications by general law.—Denman v. Broderick, 111 Cal. 96, 43 Pac. 516.

13. Classification creating special class invalid.—A law in conformity with the special permission of the constitution in section 6 of article XI must be a law classifying all cities in the state or a law amendatory of such a law, and a law which creates a special class and does not leave all municipalities classified, is invalid.—Darcey v. Mayor, etc., of San Jose, 104 Cal. 642, 38 Pac. 500. See, also, Denman v. Broderick, 111 Cal. 96, 43 Pac. 516.

14. Act is general law.—The classification act is a general law within the meaning of section 6 of article II of the constitution.—Pritchett v. Stanislaus County, 73 Cal. 310, 14 Pac. 795.

15. Act of 1891, creating police courts in certain cities is invalid.—The act of 1891 assuming to create police courts in certain cities, does not conform to the provisions of the classification act and is not amendatory of that act.—Ex parte Giambonini, 117 Cal. 573, 49 Pac. 732.

16. Increase in population operates automatically to change class.—Under section 2 the census of 1910 operated, as of the 15th of April of that year, without action by the legislature or the people of San Diego, to place that city which had been a city of the third class in the second class.—Puterbaugh v. Wadham, 162 Cal. 611, 123 Pac. 804.

17. Same—Salary of justice of the peace.—Under section 2 of the act of 1883 as to the classification of municipal corporations, the United States census of April 15, 1910, operated, without action of the legislature or of the people of San Diego, to change the city of San Diego from the third to the second class as of that date, and on that date the justice of the peace for that city became entitled to the salary provided for by law for justices of the peace in cities of the second class.—Puterbaugh v. Wadham, 162 Cal. 611, 123 Pac. 804.

18. Same—Same.—Section 9, article XI, of the constitution, is an inhibition upon the legislature, and has no application to an automatic increase of an official salary due to the passing of a city from one class to another because of increase of population and not by act of the legislature.—Puterbaugh v. Wadham, 162 Cal. 611, 123 Pac. 804.

ABANDONMENT OF FREEHOLDER CHARTER.

ACT 3017—An act to enable cities incorporated and operating under a charter framed under section 8, article 11, of the constitution, to abandon and annul such charter, and organize under general laws.

History: Approved March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 200.

Annulment of charters framed under article XI of the constitution.

§ 1. The common council, or other legislative body of any city in this state, operating under a charter framed under section 8, article 11, of the constitution, shall have power, and it shall be their duty, whenever a petition is presented to them, signed by one-half of the qualified electors of such city, by ordinance, to submit to the qualified electors of such city at any general election, the question whether such city shall abandon such charter and reorganize under the general laws of the state providing for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations. Such election shall be called and held in accordance with the provisions of such charter for calling and holding elections, and if two-thirds of such qualified electors voting at such election shall vote to abandon such charter and reorganize under the general laws of the state providing for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations, such city shall, from and after the thirtieth day after such election, cease to be organized under such charter, and such charter shall be superseded by said general laws, and organized thereunder. In case such proposition shall fail to receive the vote of two-thirds of such electors, then the proposition for the abandonment of such charter and reorganization under the general laws shall not be again submitted for two years.

Continuation of incumbents in office.

§ 2. All officers of such city shall continue in office, and their powers under said charter shall not cease until officers shall have been elected and qualified under said general laws.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

VALIDATION ACT OF 1919.

ACT 3018—An act to validate the organization and incorporation of municipal corporations.

History: Approved April 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 118. Prior acts of the same tenor and effect: (1) acts of March 9, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 31; (2) March 17, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 168; (3) March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 400; (4) April 12, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 826; (5) May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1423; (6) June 4, 1913; in effect August 10, 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 382; (7) May 4, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 342.

Organization of municipal corporations validated. Exceptions.

§ 1. All municipal corporations, the organization and incorporation of which have been authenticated by the board of supervisors in this state declaring the same incorporated, as municipal corporations of the classes to which such corporations may respectively belong, and a certified copy of which order has been filed by such board of supervisors in the office of the secretary of state, and which corporations thereafter have acted in the form and manner of municipal corporations under the provisions of "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, and the amendments thereto, are hereby declared to be and to have been municipal corporations from the date of filing the certified copy of said order of the board of supervisors with the secretary of state; and all acts of the said municipal corporation heretofore performed according to the act aforesaid, are hereby validated, and declared to be legal; provided, however, that all municipal corporations shall be excepted from this act where the right to act as such is being contested or inquired into in legal proceedings brought within six months after a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors was filed in the office of the secretary of state.

REORGANIZATION VALIDATION ACT OF 1909.

ACT 3027—An act to validate proceedings for the reorganization of municipal corporations taken since the passage of the act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883; and also, since the passage of the act entitled "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," approved March 3, 1883.

History: Approved March 18, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 403. Prior acts of the same tenor and effect: (1) Acts of March 15, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 150; (2) March 16, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 203; (3) March 11, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 92.

Validating certain municipal corporations.

§ 1. All cities or towns, reorganized, or claiming to have been reorganized, since the passage of the acts the titles of which are recited in the title hereof, or which have attempted since said dates to reorganize or incorporate under the provisions of said acts, or either of them, and have acted as municipal corporations since such reorganization, are hereby declared to be and to have been from the date of such reorganization, or attempted reorganization, duly and legally incorporated and reorganized cities, and all proceedings for the reorganization of such municipal corporations are hereby validated and declared legal; provided, that this act shall not affect any municipal corporation where an action is pending to test the validity of such municipal corporation.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

DISPOSITION OF PUBLIC LANDS IN TOWNSITES.

ACT 3029—An act to authorize and direct the municipal authorities of the several cities and incorporated towns of this state to execute certain trusts in relation to the town lands granted to the incorporated cities and towns in this state, by the act of congress entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

History: Approved March 24, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 487. Amended March 4, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 237. Continued in force by the Political Code. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 4442.

See, also, Act 3030.

This act authorized the supervisors to enter at the proper land office such quantity of land as the inhabitants were entitled to claim.

1. Payment of fees by husband, conveyance to wife—Not wife's separate property.—Where a husband enters into possession of public land under deeds from prior occupants and thereafter the land is conveyed by the government to the corporate authorities of a town in trust for its inhabitants and such authorities convey the said lots to the wife on the application of the husband and the payment of the necessary fees therefor by such husband, the property is not the separate property of the wife.—Morgan v. Lones, 78 Cal. 58, 20 Pac. 248.

2. Enforcement of trust against co-heir of beneficiary.—A member of the class for whose benefit the townsite acts were passed may enforce a trust for his interest as the heir of a deceased person against a co-heir who obtains title under the townsite acts and against the grantee of such person who purchases from such co-heir with notice of plaintiff's rights.—Eversdon v. Mayhew, 85 Cal. 1, 21 Pac. 431, 24 Pac. 382; see, also, Coffey v. Greenfield, 62 Cal. 602.

DISPOSITION OF PUBLIC LANDS IN TOWNSITES.

ACT 3030—An act to authorize and direct the county judges of the several counties of this state to execute certain trusts in relation to the town lands granted to the unincorporated towns in this state by the act of congress entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March 2, 1867.

History: Approved March 30, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 692. Amended (1) January 26, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 37; (2) March 12, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 115; (3) March 9, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 93. The amendatory act of 1885 was also supplemental, and it was amended March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 936.

This act authorized the county judges, as the previous act authorized the supervisors (see ante Act 3029), to enter at the proper land office such quantity of land as the inhabitants were entitled to claim. By the amending and supplemental act of 1885, the superior judge replaced the county judge whose office was abolished by the constitution of 1879.

1. Townsite deed does not carry title to mineral land.—A townsite and patent does not carry title to a mine known to be valuable for gold, silver, cinnabar or copper at the date of such entry or to any valid mining claim thereon held at that time under existing laws and it is immaterial whether the claim then known to contain minerals sufficient to justify exploration or not.—Callahan v. James, 141 Cal. 291, 74 Pac. 853. (Callahan v. James, 7 Cal. Unrep. 82, 71 Pac. 104.)

2. Deed to land reserved for a plaza or public square.—Land dedicated on a townsite map as a plaza or public square is not land which the judge as trustee is authorized to sell under the townsite acts unless by special order of the board of supervisors of the county and a deed to such land by such judge without the authority of the supervisors, is void.—County of Amador v. Gilbert, 133 Cal. 51, 65 Pac. 130.

3. Townsite title not acquired by adverse possession.—Title to property covered by the townsite acts could not be acquired by adverse possession while held by the government or by the judge in trust for a school district.—Howard v. Oroville School District, 22 Cal. App. 544, 135 Pac. 689.

4. Land unsold at end of six months—Highest bidder for cash.—Under the act of congress supplemented by the state townsite acts a superior judge can execute his trust as to the lands remaining unsold at the end of six months after the filing of the town plat only by selling the unsold land at public auction to the highest bidder for cash and a deed by him not in compliance with these conditions, is void and conveys no title.—County of Amador v. Gilbert, 133 Cal. 51, 65 Pac. 130.

5. Action to quiet title—Deed not conclusive against defendant in possession.—A deed of the superior judge under the authority of this act to the plaintiff in an action to quiet title, is not conclusive against the defendant who was in the occupancy of the land at the time of the issuance of the patent and prior to the application therefor, and such defendant is entitled to prove his occupancy and his right thereto.—Biddick v. Kobler, 110 Cal. 191, 42 Pac. 578.

6. Mandate to compel county judge to convey land—Decree of court has same effect.—Mandate is the proper remedy to compel a judge of the superior court to convey land under townsite title act, but the decree of the court in a suit to quiet title has the same effect.—Howard v. Oroville School District, 22 Cal. App. 544, 135 Pac. 689.

ACQUISITION OF LAND FOR CEMETERY PURPOSES.

ACT 3032—An act authorizing municipalities of less than the first class to obtain, by purchase, donation, or devise, lands for cemetery purposes; and authorizing the board of trustees of said municipalities to make all necessary rules and regulations for the government and disposition of the same.

History: Approved February 21, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 22.

Municipalities of less than first class may acquire property for cemetery purposes.

§ 1. Cities and towns of less than the first class are hereby authorized to purchase, or receive by donation or devise and dispose of, all and any necessary property for cemetery purposes.

§ 2. The board of trustees or other governing body of said municipalities shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the government, embellishment, and disposition of the same.

§ 3. The boards of trustees or other governing body of said municipalities shall, by ordinance, prescribe the method and conditions by which burial lots may be sold in said cemetery, and may authorize any officer of the municipality to execute conveyances in behalf of said municipality, subject to the restrictions that may be deemed proper.

§ 4. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

PRIVATE SPUR TRACKS.

ACT 3034—An act to authorize the construction, maintenance and operation of private spur tracks in municipalities.

History: Approved March 21, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 710.

Construction of spur tracks to connect with railroads in.

§ 1. The council or other legislative governing body of any city or town, or city and county, by a majority vote, may grant the right to property owners or to the proprietors of manufacturing or industrial enterprises to construct, maintain and operate spur tracks from their premises to a connection with any railroad. Such grant shall, nevertheless, be revocable at the pleasure of the granting authority.

DISPOSITION OF RESIDUE OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT FUNDS.

ACT 3037—An act to provide for the disposal of moneys raised by cities or towns for public improvement after the same have been completed and paid for.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without the Governor's approval, March 16, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 105.

Disposal of residue after completion of specific public work.

§ 1. Whenever any city or town hereafter raises, or has heretofore voted to raise, any sum of money for a specific public improvement, and after such improvement has been fully completed and paid for, a residue remains, for the disposition of which there is now no provision of law, such residue shall be paid into the general fund of such city or town and form part thereof.

ACQUISITION OF PUBLIC UTILITIES ACT OF 1913.

ACT 3040—An act to provide for the acquisition, installation, construction, reconstruction, extension, repair and maintenance by municipalities of water works, electric power works, gas works, lighting works, and other public works and utilities; for the assessment of the cost and expenses thereof upon the property benefited; and for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent such assessments, and to repeal an act entitled "an act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905.

History: Approved June 6, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 421. Amended May 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 987. Prior act of March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 191, amended March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 210; repealed February 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 32. Prior act of March 21, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 564, amended (1) February 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 69; (2) April 3, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 583.

Cities may maintain public utilities.

pipes, conduits, tunnels, hydrants and other necessary works and appliances, for the purpose of providing water service; lines, conduits, and other necessary works and appliances, for the purpose of providing electric power service; mains, pipes and other necessary works and appliances, for the purpose of providing gas service; poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, lamps and other necessary works and appliances, for lighting purposes; or any of said improvements, or any works, utility or appliances necessary or convenient for providing any other public service, to be installed, constructed, reconstructed, extended, repaired or maintained in and along the whole or any part of any one or more of the public streets, alleys or other places in such municipality, or in and along any right of way owned or held by said municipality for the purpose; also to order any works or appliances already installed in or along the whole or any part of any one or more of the public streets, alleys, or other places in such municipality, and which are necessary or convenient for the purpose of supplying such municipality or its inhabitants with water, electricity, gas, or other means of heat, illumination or power or with any other public service, together with any plants, lands and rights of way, whether located within or without the city, necessary or convenient for the use and operation thereof, to be acquired, or to order the use of any such works, appliances and other property to be acquired; also to order electric current, gas, or other illuminating agent, to be furnished for such power or lighting service, in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter described.

Resolution of intention. Kinds of work. Reference to officer for report.

§ 2. Before ordering any improvement to be made which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention to do so, briefly describing the proposed improvement, and specifying the exterior boundaries of the district to be benefited by said improvement and to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof, and to be known as the assessment district; provided, however, that the city council may, in its discretion, order, in said resolution of intention, that a certain portion or percentage of the cost and expenses of said improvement, the amount of which portion or percentage shall be specified in said resolution, shall be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, from such fund as the city council may designate. Said proposed improvement may include any or all of the different kinds of work mentioned in section one of this act; provided, however, that the maintenance of appliances or the furnishing of electric current, gas, or other illuminating agent, shall be for a period stated in the resolution of intention, but not exceeding two years. The city council shall also, in the same resolution, refer the proposed improvement to the board, commission or officer of the city having charge and control of the construction of public improvements of the kind described in such resolution, or to the city engineer, or to such other board or officer of the city, or competent person employed by the city for the purpose, as the council may name in said resolution, and direct such board, commission, officer or person to make and file with the clerk of the council a report in writing, presenting the following:

Plans and specifications.

1. Plans and specifications of the proposed improvement, excepting in so far as said improvement includes the acquisition of works or appliances already installed and any other property necessary or convenient for the operation thereof, or the acquisition of the use of any such works, appliances and property, as provided for in section one of this act, as to which works, appliances and property such report shall contain a general description thereof.

Estimate of cost.

2. An estimate of the cost of said improvement and of the incidental expenses in connection therewith.

Diagram of district.

3. A diagram showing the assessment district above referred to, and also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of land within said district as the same existed at the time of the passage of the resolution of intention, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink upon said diagram.

Assessment according to benefits. Amount paid out of treasury deducted.

4. A proposed assessment of the total amount of the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement upon the several subdivisions of land in said district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by such subdivisions, respectively, from said improvements; provided, that whenever any portion or percentage of the cost and expenses of such improvement is ordered to be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, as hereinbefore provided, the amount of such portion or percentage shall first be deducted from the total estimated cost and expenses of such improvement, and the assessment upon property, proposed in said report shall include only the remainder of said estimated cost and expenses. Said assessment shall refer to such subdivisions under said diagram by the respective red ink numbers thereof, and shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown. No mistake in the name of the owner of any parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon.

Consideration of report. Hearing of protests.

§ 3. Upon the filing of the report provided for in section two of this act, the said clerk shall present the same to the city council for consideration, and said council may modify the same in any respect, and, in case of any such modification, the report, as modified, shall stand as the report for the purpose of all subsequent proceedings. Thereafter, the council, by resolution, shall appoint a time and place for hearing protests in relation to the proposed improvement, which time shall not be less than twenty days from the date of the passage of said resolution, and shall direct the clerk of the city council to give notice of said hearing, and shall designate a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city in which such notice shall be published.

Notices of local improvement posted. Publication.

§ 4. After the passage of the resolution of intention, the clerk of said city council shall cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets and parts of streets or other public places and rights of way held or owned by the municipality, as aforesaid, where any work is to be done or improvement made or acquired, at not more than three hundred feet apart, but not less than three in all, notices of the passage of said resolution. Said notices shall be headed "Notice of Local Improvement," in letters of not less than one inch in length, and shall, in legible characters, state the fact and date of the passage of the resolution of intention and of the filing of said report and the date set for the hearing of said protests, and briefly describe the improvement proposed to be made as acquired, and refer to said resolution and report for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice similar in substance to be published by two successive insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper, published and circulated in said municipality, and designated by said council for that purpose. Said notices must be posted and published, as above provided, at least ten days before the date set for the hearing of said protests.

Written protest. Majority may bar resolution. Decision final. Order of improvement.

§ 5. Any person interested, objecting to said improvement, or to the extent of the assessment district, or to the proposed assessment provided for in section two of this act, may file a written protest with the clerk of the city council at or before the time set for the hearing referred to in section three hereof. The clerk shall endorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said council all protests so filed with him. If such protests be against said improvement and said city council find that the same are signed by the owners of a majority or more of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, all further proceedings under said resolution of intention shall be barred, and no new resolution of intention for the same improvement shall be passed within six months after the presentation of such protests in the city council, unless the owners of a majority or more of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district shall be in the meantime petitioned therefor. If such protests are against the improvement, and the council find that they are not signed by the owners of a majority or more of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within the assessment district, or if such protests are against the extent of the assessment district, the council shall hear said protests at the time appointed therefor, as above provided, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same and its decision shall be final and conclusive, and if such protests are sustained the proceedings shall be abandoned, but may be renewed at any time, and if such protests are denied the proposed assessment shall be confirmed. If such protests are against the proposed assessment, the council shall hear said protests at the time appointed therefor, as above provided, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and may confirm, modify or correct said proposed assessment.

When, upon the hearing, said proposed assessment is confirmed, modified or corrected, or in case no protests are filed, the report provided for in section two hereof shall be adopted as a whole, with any modifications or corrections that have been made therein, and the city council shall, by resolution, order said proposed improvement to be made or acquired, and declare its action upon said report and assessment, which resolution shall be final and conclusive on all persons, and the assessment shall be thereby levied upon the respective subdivisions of land in the assessment district.

Contest of validity.

§ 6. The validity of an assessment levied under this act shall not be contested in any action or proceeding unless the same is commenced within thirty days after the time said assessment is levied, and any appeal from a final judgment in such an action or proceeding must be perfected within thirty days after the entry of such judgment.

Diagram to city collector.

§ 7. Upon the passage of the resolution provided for in section five hereof, the clerk of said city council shall transmit to the city tax collector the diagram and assessment provided for in subdivisions three and four of section two hereof, and any modifications or corrections thereof made by said city council.

Diagram recorded. Assessments delinquent.

§ 8. Upon receipt of the diagram and assessment referred to in the last preceding section, the tax collector shall record the same in a substantial book, to be kept for that purpose, in his office, and shall thereupon fix a day not less than twenty, nor more than thirty, days from the date of the receipt by him of said diagram and assessment after which all assessments unpaid shall become delinquent, and ten per cent shall be added to the amount thereof, and shall also fix a day for the sale of the various parcels of land upon which the assessments are unpaid, which said date shall not be less than fifty days, nor more than sixty days, from the date of the receipt by him of said diagram and assessment.

Notice of sale for delinquency. Payment prior to sale. Sale of land.

§ 9. The tax collector shall, within ten days after the date of such delinquency, begin the publication of a notice of sale of the property upon which the assessments have not been paid, which publication must be made by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper, published and circulated in the city. The description of the various parcels of land need not be set out at length, but they may only be designated in such notice by the respective numbers of the same as they appear upon the assessment and diagram, which shall be properly referred to therein. Opposite the description or designation of each parcel of land shall be set out in such notice the name of the owner as stated in the assessment, the amount assessed against the same, the penalty for delinquency, and its portion of the costs of the sale.

At any time after such delinquency, and prior to the sale of any parcels of land assessed and delinquent, any person may pay the assessment thereon, together with the penalties and costs due thereon, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of the notice of sale.

At the time and place fixed therefor, the tax collector shall proceed with such sale, commencing at the head of the list of lands contained in such notice, and continuing in the numerical order thereof until all the property is sold; provided, that he may postpone or continue the sale from day to day until the sale is completed. The tax collector shall separately sell each parcel of land listed in such notice, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to realize the amount assessed against the same together with the penalties and costs as aforesaid, and fifty cents for a certificate of sale. In case there is no other purchaser, the same shall be struck off to the city as purchaser.

Certificate of sale.

§ 10. The tax collector shall issue for each sale an original and duplicate certificate of sale, referring to the proceedings, describing the parcels sold, and giving the name of the purchaser and the amount for which said parcel was sold. The original certificate he shall deliver to the purchaser, and the duplicate he shall keep on file in his office, in the form of a stub, in the certificate book.

Redemption of property sold.

§ 11. At any time before the expiration of one year from the date of the sale, any property sold under the provisions of the preceding sections may be redeemed by the payment to the tax collector of the amount for which the property was sold, with an additional penalty of twenty per cent of said amount. Said redemption money shall be paid by the tax collector to the person holding the original certificate of sale upon his delivering up the same and receipting for the amount received from the tax collector therefor. Upon redemption of any parcel of land the tax collector shall enter the fact and date of such redemption upon the duplicate certificate of sale thereof.

Deed to property.

§ 12. If the property is sold, and is not redeemed within said period of twelve months from the date of the sale, the tax collector shall execute to the person named in the original certificate, or to his assignee, a deed of the property described in said certificate, which said deed shall refer in general terms to the proceedings under which the same is issued, and shall contain a description of the property. Such deed shall convey title in fee to said property, and the grantee is immediately, upon the receipt thereof, entitled to possession of the property described therein.

Special improvement fund. Loan from general fund.

§ 13. The funds collected by the tax collector under the proceedings herein provided for, either upon voluntary payment or as the result of sales, shall be paid by said tax collector, as fast as collected, to the treasurer of the city, who shall place the same in a special fund designated by the name of the improvement proceeding, and payment shall be made out of said special fund only for the purposes provided for in this act. To expedite the making of any such improvement, the city council may, at any time, transfer into said special fund, out of any money in the general fund, such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed a loan to such special fund, and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this act.

Letting contract for improvement. Certified check. Work done according to plans.

Abandonment by contractor. City may do work. City may not call for bids.

§ 14. At any time after the funds for the proposed improvement, or any part thereof, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the city council may let the contract or contracts for such improvement, or the respective parts thereof, and, in so far as said improvement includes the acquisition of works or appliances already installed and any other property necessary or convenient for the operation thereof, or the acquisition of the use of any such works, appliances and property, as hereinabove provided, the council may authorize such acts and proceedings as may be necessary for the purpose of effecting such acquisition. Every such contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice published by two insertions in some newspaper published in such municipality, and designated by the city council for that purpose, or if there be no such newspaper, then by such posting as the city council may provide. Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check, amounting to ten per cent of the bid, payable to the order of the clerk of said city council, and the same shall be forfeited to the municipality in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the municipality for the work, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sum as the city council shall require, with sureties satisfactory to said council. The contract must provide that the work shall be done, and the work must be done, strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in sections two and three of this act. The work must be done under the supervision of the board, officer or person by whom the report provided for in section two of this act was made, and no work shall be paid for until it has been accepted by said board, officer or person. If the contractor abandons the work, or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the said city council may re-let the work in the same manner as in the case of the first letting thereof, and retain the amount of the cost of the same, and of any expense incidental to the re-letting out of any funds due or to become due, to the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure upon his bond; provided, however, that the city council, in its discretion, may, at any time within ten days after the award of any contract, as above provided, or at any time within ten days after the time fixed for the opening of bids, if no bids have been received, order by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that said proposed contract be not made, and that the municipality itself execute the work embraced therein, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies and illuminating agent necessary therefor; and the cost and expenses of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds; and provided, further, that the amount appropriated and used from said funds for said purpose shall not exceed the amount of the bid upon which the award of contract aforesaid was made, or, if no bids have been received and the work is to be executed by the municipality itself, as herein provided, such cost and expense shall not exceed the amount of the estimate thereof provided for in section two of this act; and if such cost and expense shall exceed the amount of said bid, or of said estimate in case no bids are received, then such excess shall be met out of any moneys in the general fund in the treasury of said city; and provided, further, that at any time after the funds for the proposed improvement, or any part thereof, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the city council, in its discretion, may, without calling for bids, order, by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that the municipality itself perform the work of such improvement, or the respective parts thereof, in accordance with the specifications and plans adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies, and illuminating agent necessary therefor; in which case the cost and expense of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds and if such cost and expense shall exceed the amount of such estimates, then such excess shall be met out of the moneys in the general fund of the treasury of said city. [Amendment of May 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 987.]

§ 15. In case the first assessment for any improvement provided for in this act proves insufficient, a supplemental assessment may be made to raise the deficit, in the same manner as nearly as may be, as the first assessment, except that protests may only be made against such supplemental assessment, and so on until sufficient money shall have been realized to pay for such improvement.

Refund of excess.

§ 16. If at any time an assessment for any such improvement shall realize a larger sum than is necessary therefor, the excess shall be refunded pro rata to the parties by whom it was paid.

Assessment lien on land.

§ 17. Every special assessment levied under this act shall, from the date of the levy thereof, be a lien upon the land upon which it is levied paramount to all other liens, except prior assessments and taxation, and such lien shall continue until such special assessment is paid, or until the property is sold and a deed is made therefor to the purchaser, as hereinbefore provided, and all parties shall have constructive notice of such lien from the date of the passage of the resolution referred to in section five hereof.

Improvement bonds. Bonds not sold.

§ 18. The city council may, in its discretion, at or before the time of levying an assessment in proceedings taken under the provisions of this act, determine, by resolution or ordinance, that improvement bonds may issue to represent assessments included in such levy, and amounting each to $25 or over, and whenever such determination is made, the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds," approved April 27, 1911, or of any act or acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, shall, except as to the minimum amount of any such bond, be applicable in respect to the issuance, effect and enforcement of such bonds; provided, that any bonds not sold after advertisement for bids, as provided in said act, shall be deposited in the fund of the improvement for which said assessments were levied, and be deemed and treated, at their par value, as so much money in said fund, and shall, upon final acceptance of the improvement by the city, be issued to and accepted by the contractor in payment, pro tanto, of the contract or purchase price, or shall, in case the city performs the work, be issued to and accepted by the city in payment, pro tanto, of the cost and expenses of said improvement; and provided further, that when said bonds, or any thereof, are so issued and accepted, the contractor, or city, or other person taking the same, shall have the same rights with reference thereto as other purchasers.

Definitions.

§ 19. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meanings:

(1) The term "improvement" includes all work and improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

(2) The terms "municipality" and "city" includes every incorporated city, city and county or other corporation organized for municipal purposes.

(3) The terms "city council" and "council" include any body or board in which by law is vested the legislative power of any city.

(4) The terms "treasurer" and "city treasurer" include any person or officer who has charge and makes payments of the city funds.

Repealed.

§ 20. That an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905, and the amendments thereof, are hereby repealed; provided, that proceedings commenced thereunder prior to the taking effect of this act may be continued to completion in the same manner, and with the same force and effect, as if said act and the amendments thereof were not hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality—Provision germane to subject of act.—A provision in section 6 of the act of 1905 with reference to the time to take appeals from judgments in actions to invalidate assessments under the act, is held to be germane to the general subject of the act, and that, therefore, such provision is not obnoxious to section 24, article IV, of the constitution.—Cohen v. Alameda, 168 Cal. 265, 269, 142 Pac. 885.

2. Appeal taken more than 30 days after entry of judgment is too late.—In view of the provision of section 6 of the act of 1905 requiring an appeal from a judgment in an action to invalidate an assessment under the act to be taken within 30 days after entry of judgment, an appeal from such a judgment, taken more than 30 and less than 60 days, after entry, will be dismissed, notwithstanding such appeal was in time under sections 939 and 941b of the Code of Civil Procedure.—Cohen v. City of Alameda, 168 Cal. 265, 269, 142 Pac. 885.

3. Same—Provision not unconstitutional.—The provision of section 6 of act of 1905 that an appeal from a judgment in an action to declare an assessment under the act void must be taken within 30 days after entry of judgment, is not unconstitutional as a special law.—Cohen v. City of Alameda, 168 Cal. 265, 267, 142 Pac. 885.

4. Constitutionality—Legislative discretion as to procedure provided.—The legislative discretion as to the different modes of procedure or rules of practice to be prescribed for the numerous and various actions and proceedings allowed in courts of justice is very wide, and its judgment on the question whether or not a particular provision shall be made for any class of cases, and as to the classification thereof, is not to be interfered with except for very grave causes, and also where it is clear beyond reasonable doubt that no sound reason for the legislative classification and for the different provisions, exists.—Cohen v. City of Alameda, 168 Cal. 265, 267, 142 Pac. 885.

5. Act of 1911, authorized installation of street lighting plant.—A municipality is authorized under the improvement act of 1911 (Stats. 1911, p. 730) to install an electric lighting plant although that act provides for street work, inasmuch as section 2 of subdivision 79 was intended to include street lighting systems.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

6. Act need not be embodied in demand to let contract—Board of trustees charged with notice.—Under the act of 1895 the city council or board of trustees of a municipality is charged with notice and it is not necessary under the act to embody in the formal demand for the letting of a contract for lighting the streets the provisions of the act or to point out specifically the steps required to be taken and it is sufficient so far as the demand is concerned to merely make the same upon the council.—Santa Rosa Lighting Co. v. Woodward, 119 Cal. 30, 50 Pac. 1025.

7. Mandamus will not lie to control discretion.—Mandamus will not lie to compel a city council or board of trustees to exercise its discretion as to whether the streets of its municipality should be lighted or not.—Santa Rosa Lighting Co. v. Woodward, 119 Cal. 30, 50 Pac. 1025.

8. Act of 1895—Mandamus to advertise for bids.—Mandamus will lie against the city council or board of trustees to compel it to advertise for bids as required by the act, where there is no binding contract standing in the way of proceeding under the act of 1895, and where the past and present official conduct of such council or board unmistakably show that it has been determined to light the city by electricity, and it is not necessary for the petitioner to show actual pecuniary damage, but it will be presumed that disregard of the requirements of the statute by the board or council is injurious in itself.—Santa Rosa Lighting Co. v. Woodward, 119 Cal. 30, 50 Pac. 1025.

“STREET LIGHTING ACT OF 1919.”

ACT 3040a—An act to provide for the maintenance by municipalities of lighting systems along public streets, alleys and other public places and for the lighting thereof by electric current, gas or other illuminating agent; and for the assessment of the cost and expense thereof upon the property benefited and the manner of collecting such assessments.

History: Approved May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 612.

Authority to order works for municipal lighting district.

§ 1. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality in this state in which a district has been established for lighting streets, alleys and other public places, shall have full power and authority to order the poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, lamps and other necessary works and appliances already installed in or along the whole or any part of any one or more of the public streets, alleys, or other public places in such municipality, for lighting purposes, to be maintained, and to order electric current, gas or other illuminating agent to be furnished for such lighting service for a period to commence at a time to be stated in the contract hereinafter provided, but not to exceed five years, from the date thereof, in the manner and under proceedings hereinafter provided.

Resolution of intention. Report of board in charge of public improvements.

§ 2. Before ordering any improvement to be made which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention so to do, briefly describing the proposed improvements and designating said district by describing the exterior boundaries thereof to be benefited by said improvements and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, and to be known as the assessment district; provided, however, that the city council may, in its discretion, order in said resolution of intention that a certain portion or percentage of the costs and expenses of said improvement, the amount of which portion or percentage shall be specified in said resolution, shall be paid out of the treasury of such municipality from such fund as the city council may designate. The city council shall, in said resolution of intention, provide that the maintenance of said appliances and the furnishing of said electric current, gas or other illuminating agent shall be for a period stated in said resolution of intention, but not exceeding five years. The city council shall also in the same resolution refer the proposed improvement to the board, commission or officer of the city having charge and control of the construction of public improvements of the kind described in such resolution or to the city engineer or to such other board or officer of the city, or competent person employed by the city for such purpose, as the council may name in said resolution, and direct such board, commission, officer or person to make and file with the clerk of the council a report in writing, presenting the following:

What report shall contain.

- (a) Plans and specifications of the proposed improvement.
- (b) An estimate of the cost of said improvement, for the period of time specified in the resolution of intention.
- (c) A diagram showing the assessment district above referred to and also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of land within said district as the same existed at the time of the passage of the resolution of intention, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink upon said diagram. The said diagram shall govern for all details as to the extent of said assessment district.

(d) A proposed assessment of the total amount of the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement upon the several subdivisions of land in said district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by such subdivisions, respectively, from said improvements; provided, that whenever any portion or percentage of the costs and expenses of such improvement is ordered to be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, as hereinbefore provided, the amount of such proportion or percentage shall first be deducted from the total estimated cost and expense of such improvement, and the assessment upon property, proposed in said report, shall include only the remainder of said estimated costs and expenses. Said assessment shall refer to such subdivisions upon said diagrams by the respective red ink numbers thereon and it shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown. No mistakes in the name of the owner of any parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon.

Consideration of report. Hearing of protests.

§ 3. Upon the filing of the report as provided in section two of this act, the said clerk shall present the same to the city council for consideration, and said council may modify the same in any respect and in case of any such modification, the report as modified shall stand as the report for the purpose of all subsequent proceedings. Thereafter, the council by resolution, shall appoint a time and place for hearing protests in relation to the proposed improvement, which time shall not be less than twenty days from the date of the passage of said resolution, and shall direct the clerk of the city council to give notice of said hearing in the manner hereinafter provided.

“Notice of local improvement” to be posted and published.

§ 4. After the passage of the resolution of intention, the clerk of said city shall cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets and parts of streets or other public places where said improvement is proposed to be made, at not more than three hundred feet apart, but not less than three in all, notices of the passage of said resolution. Said notice shall be headed: “Notice of local improvement,” in letters of not less than one inch in length and shall, in legible characters, state the fact and date of the passage of the resolution of intention, and of the filing of said report and the date fixed for the hearing of protests and briefly describe the improvement proposed to be made and refer to said resolution and report for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice similar in substance to be published by two successive insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said municipality and designated by said council for that purpose. Said notices must be posted and published as above provided, at least ten days before the date set for the hearing of said protest.

Objections. Hearing. Adoption of report. Assessment levy. Report. Unexpended balance.

§ 5. Any person interested, objecting to the proposed improvement or to the assessment therefor, may file a written protest stating his objections thereto, with the clerk of the city council at or before the time set for the hearing provided in section three hereof. The clerk shall endorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and at the time appointed for the hearing as above provided, shall present to said council all protests so filed. The council shall hear and consider said protests, at the time appointed therefor, as above provided, or at any time to which the hearings thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and may confirm, modify or correct said proposed assessment, and its decision shall be final and conclusive and, if such protests are sustained, the proceedings shall be abandoned but may be renewed at any time; and if such protests are denied, the proposed assessment shall be confirmed, and the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to further proceed in accordance with the provisions of this act. When, upon the hearing, said proposed assessment is confirmed, modified or corrected, or in case no protests are filed, the report provided for in section two hereof shall be adopted as a whole, with any modifications or corrections that have been made therein, and the city council shall, by resolution, declare its action upon said report and assessment, and order said proposed improvement to be made. And the city council shall thereupon levy the assessment for the proportion or percentage required to pay for said improvement for the period of time beginning with the date of such levy and ending with the close of the following fiscal year, upon the respective subdivisions of land in the assessment district, and thereafter during the period of time provided in the resolution of intention, the city council shall on or before the beginning of the following fiscal year, levy in like manner the assessment for the proportion or percentage required to pay for such improvement for such year, and said board, commission or officer of the city authorized therefor shall, on or before sixty days prior to the commencement of such fiscal year, make and file with the city council a report in writing, presenting the following:

1. An estimate of the cost of said improvement for the ensuing fiscal year.
2. A diagram showing the assessment district referred to in the resolution of intention, as provided by section two of this act, also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of land within said district as the same existed at the time of the making of said last-mentioned diagram, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink on said diagram.
3. A schedule showing the proportionate amount of said assessment to be charged in proportion to the benefits to be received by each subdivision shown on the last above mentioned diagram.

Any unexpended balance remaining in such fund at the expiration of any year shall be credited to the fund to be raised for the next ensuing fiscal year, and the assessment to be levied, as herein provided, for such ensuing year, shall be only for the amount required therefor after deducting from such estimated amount the amount of any such unexpended balance. Any unexpended balance remaining in such fund at the expiration of the period of time provided for in said resolution of intention shall, upon demands therefor made upon the city council of any such city, within one year from and after the expiration of the time specified in said ordinance of intention, be repaid pro rata to the persons by whom such assessments were paid; provided, however, that any such unexpended balance remaining in such fund and not demanded within said period of one year, as herein provided, shall be placed in such fund as the city council may order.

Contest of validity of assessment.

§ 6. The validity of any assessment levied under this act shall not be contested in any action or proceeding unless the same is commenced within thirty days after the time said assessment is levied, and any appeal from a final judgment in such an action or proceeding must be perfected within thirty days after the entry of such judgment.

Duty of clerk of council.

§ 7. Upon the levying of such assessment as provided in section five hereof, the clerk of said council shall transmit to the city tax collector the diagram and assessment upon which such levy is based.

Assessment roll. Assessments payable immediately. Lien. Publication of notice of record of assessment roll. Delinquent assessments.

§ 8. Upon the receipt of the diagram and assessment referred to in the last preceding section, the tax collector shall record the same in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose, and append thereto his certificate of the date of such recording, and such record shall be the assessment roll. From the date of such recording all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment roll. Immediately upon such recording, the several assessments contained in such assessment roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made, paramount to all other liens except liens for state, county and municipal taxes, and shall only be discharged by payment of the assessment or by redemption of the land after sale for delinquency. The tax collector shall, upon the recording of such assessment, give notice by publication for five days in a daily newspaper, published and circulated in said city, or by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated, that said assessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that payment of said sums must be made to him within thirty days after the date of the first publication or posting, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall also contain the statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of the said thirty days shall be delinquent, and thereupon ten per cent of the amount of each such assessment shall be added thereto. When payment of any assessment is made, the tax collector shall mark opposite such assessment the word, "paid," with the date of the payment thereof, and shall give a receipt therefor. Upon the expiration of said period of thirty days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent, and the tax collector shall mark each such assessment "delinquent," and shall add ten per cent to the amount thereof.

Sale of property upon which assessments are delinquent.

§ 9. The tax collector shall, within thirty days after the date of such delinquency, begin the publication of a notice of sale of the property upon which the assessments have not been paid, which publication must be made by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in the city. The dates fixed for the sale of the property upon which assessments have not been paid shall be not less than five days, nor more than ten days, after the last publication of said list, or after the completion of posting—as the case may be. The list so published must contain a description of each lot or parcel of land delinquent, and opposite each description the name of the owner in the assessment roll, and the amount of the assessment and costs due, including the cost of advertisement, which cost of advertisement shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each parcel of land separately assessed. He shall append to and publish with said delinquent list a notice that unless each assessment delinquent, together with the penalty and cost thereon, is paid, the property upon which the assessment is a lien will be sold at public auction, at a time and place to be specified in said notice.

At any time after such delinquency and prior to the sale of any parcels of land assessed and delinquent any person may pay the assessment thereon, together with the penalties and costs due thereon, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of notice of sale.

At the time and place fixed therein the tax collector shall proceed with such sale, commencing at the head of the list of lands contained in such notice and continuing in the numerical order thereof until all the property is sold; provided, that he may postpone, or continue, the sale from day to day until the sale is completed. The tax collector shall separately sell each parcel of land described in such notice, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to realize the amount assessed against the same, together with the penalties and costs as aforesaid, and fifty cents for a certificate of sale. In case there is no other purchaser the same shall be struck off to the city as purchaser.

Certificate of sale.

§ 10. The tax collector shall issue for each sale an original and duplicate certificate of sale, referring to the proceedings, describing the parcel sold, and giving the name of the purchaser and the amount for which said parcel was sold. The original certificate he shall deliver to the purchaser, and the duplicate he shall keep on file in his office.

Redemption of property.

§ 11. At any time before the expiration of one year from the date of the sale, any property sold under the provisions of the preceding sections may be redeemed by the payment to the tax collector of the amount for which the property is sold, with an additional penalty of twenty per cent of said amount. Said redemption money shall be paid by the tax collector to the person holding the original certificate of sale upon his delivering up the same and receipting for the amount received from the tax collector therefor. Upon redemption of any parcel of land the tax collector shall enter the fact and date of such redemption upon the duplicate certificate of sale thereof.

Deed to property. Notice to owner. Owner to pay for service of notice.

§ 12. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale, the tax collector must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The tax collector shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor. The purchaser or his assignee must, at least thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice setting forth a description of the property, that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice, and the time when such purchaser or assignee will apply to the tax collector for a deed. If the said owner can not be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the application for a deed will be made. The person applying for a deed must file with the tax collector an affidavit or affidavits showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally that due diligence was used to find said owner; which affidavit or affidavits must be filed by the tax collector in his office. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the purchaser or his assignee in the same manner as other sums paid for redemption. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until the purchaser or his assignee has complied with all the provisions of this section, and filed the proper affidavits with the tax collector.

Deed prima facie evidence.

§ 13. The deed of the tax collector shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all matters recited therein, and of the regularity of all proceedings prior to the execution thereof, and of title in the grantee.

Collection and disbursement of fund for improvement.

§ 14. The funds collected by the tax collector under the proceedings herein provided for, shall be paid by said tax collector, as fast as collected, to the treasurer of the city, who shall place the same in a special fund designated by the name of the improvement proceeding, and payment shall be made out of said special fund only for the purpose provided for in this act. To expedite the making of any such improvement, the city council may at any time, transfer into said special fund, out of any money in the general fund, such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed a loan to such special fund, and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this act.

Contracts to lowest bidder. Supervision of work. Work done without contract.

§ 15. At any time after the transmission of the diagram and assessment to the city tax collector, as in this act provided, the city council may let the contract or contracts for such improvement. Every such contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice published by two insertions in some newspaper published in such municipality and designated by the city council for that purpose. Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check amounting to ten per cent of the bid, payable to the order of said city clerk, and the same shall be forfeited to the municipality in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen days after the notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the municipality for the work, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sums as the city council shall require, with sureties satisfactory to said council. The contract must provide that the work shall be done, and the work must be done, strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in this act. The work must be done under the supervision of the board, officer or person designated by the city council, and no work shall be paid for until it has been accepted by said board, officer or person. If the contractor abandons the work, or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the said city council may relet the work in the same manner as in the case of the first letting thereof and retain the amount of the cost of the same, and of any expense incidental to the reletting out of any funds due or to become due to the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure upon his bond; provided, however, that the city council, in its discretion may, at any time within ten days after the award of any contract, as above provided, or at any time within ten days after the time fixed for the opening of bids, if no bids have been received, order by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that said proposed contract be not made, and that the municipality itself execute the work embraced therein, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies and illuminating agent necessary therefor; and the cost and expenses of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds; and provided, further, that the amount appropriated and used from said funds for said purpose shall not exceed the amount of the bid upon which the award of contract aforesaid was made, or, if no bids have been received and the work is to be executed by the municipality itself, as herein provided, such cost and expense shall not exceed the amount of the estimate thereof provided for in section two of this act; and if such cost and expense shall exceed the amount of said bid, or of said estimate in case no bids are received, then such excess shall be met out of any moneys in the general fund in the treasury of said city: and provided, further, that at any time after the funds for the proposed improvement, or any part thereof, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the city council, in its discretion, may, without calling for bids, order, by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that the municipality itself perform the work of such improvement, or the respective parts thereof, in accordance with the specifications and plans adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies, and illuminating agent necessary therefor; in which case the cost and expense of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds and if such costs and expense shall exceed the amount of such estimates, then such excess shall be met out of the moneys in the general fund of the treasury of said city.

Abandonment of proceedings.

§ 16. The city council may, at any time prior to the awarding of the contract for the improvement herein provided, by resolution abandon such proceedings and upon such abandonment all money collected for such improvement shall be repaid to the several parties paying the same.

Application of act.

§ 17. This act shall in no wise affect an act entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition, installation, construction, reconstruction, extension, repair and maintenance by municipalities of water works, electric power works, gas works, lighting works, and other public works and utilities; for the assessment of the cost and expenses thereof upon the property benefited; and for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent such assessments, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905, approved June 6, 1913, or amendments thereto, or any other acts on the same subject, or applied to proceedings had thereunder, but it is intended to and does provide an alternate system of proceedings for making the improvements provided for by this act; and it shall be within the discretion of the city council of any municipality to proceed in making such improvements either under the provisions of this act, or under the provisions of such other acts; but when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereof as may be hereafter adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings, and any provisions contained in said acts or any acts in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under the provisions of this act. The election of the city council to proceed under the provisions of this act shall be expressed in its resolution of intention to order said improvement to be made.

In cities having no newspaper.

§ 18. Any notice required by this act to be published in a daily or weekly newspaper may be given in municipalities where there is no such daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated, by posting such notice for four days in three public places in such municipalities.

Definitions.

§ 19. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meanings:

1. The term "improvement" includes all of the improvements mentioned in section one of this act.
2. The terms "municipality" and "city" include all incorporated cities, cities and counties, and other corporations organized for municipal purposes.
3. The term "city council" and "council" include any body or board in which by law is vested the legislative power of any municipality.
4. The term "clerk" and "city clerk" include any person or officer who acts as clerk of said city council.

5. The term "treasurer" and "city treasurer" include any person or officer who has charge and makes payment of the city funds.

6. The term "tax collector" includes any person or officer who is charged with the duty of collecting municipal assessments.

Construction. Title.

§ 20. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof. This act may be designated and referred to as the "street lighting act of 1919."

JOINT SYSTEM OF WATER SUPPLY ACT OF 1903.

ACT 3041—An act to authorize cities to acquire and operate a joint system or systems of water supply.

History: Approved March 24, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 405.

Joint city water supply.

§ 1. Any two or more cities incorporated under the constitution and laws of this state are hereby empowered to jointly acquire and develop a source or sources of water supply for municipal and domestic purposes, and to construct the works necessary for their joint and several purposes and needs.

Conference commission.

§ 2. Whenever the legislative body of a city deems it advisable to investigate the desirability of joint action with any other city, or cities, for acquiring and maintaining a water supply, such legislative body shall pass a resolution to that effect, and thereupon the mayor of said city shall, with the consent and advice of said legislative body, appoint three commissioners to confer with like commissioners from any other city. Said commissioners from the respective cities shall meet and consider the question of the desirability of their respective cities taking joint action to acquire and develop water supply for their respective cities, and the plans, terms and conditions they deem feasible, just and equitable, and if they agree upon such plans, terms and conditions they shall report the same to the legislative bodies of their respective cities.

Approval to be submitted to voters. Bond issue.

§ 3. If the legislative bodies of two or more cities approve the plans, terms and conditions of the joint action reported by the commissioners they shall, by resolution, declare such approval, and shall submit the same to the qualified voters of their respective cities for their approval or rejection at the next city election, or at a special election called for that purpose. If the terms, conditions and plans are approved by a majority of the voters voting thereon at such election the said cities may enter upon the work of developing or acquiring water supply for the said cities in accordance with such plans, terms and conditions. And any city may, in the manner required by law, issue bonds for the purpose of prosecuting and completing the work of acquiring a water supply jointly with other cities. All proceedings relating to the issue of such bonds shall be taken as now required by law for the issue of bonds to acquire a water supply.

Restrictions on joint ownership.

§ 4. Joint ownership and costs shall be restricted to those portions of the sources and works which shall be common to all the municipalities served, and each municipality shall exclusively own, construct and operate those sources and works which are for its exclusive use.

Application of costs.

§ 5. The apportionment of all costs of acquisition, construction, operation and maintenance of the joint properties shall be made upon the basis of the amount of water proposed to be apportioned to the several municipalities, unless a different apportionment of costs shall be agreed upon.

When not to be apportioned.

§ 6. The total costs of works which shall exclusively serve any municipality shall be borne by such municipality exclusively.

Conditions may be modified.

§ 7. The plans, terms, conditions, or other agreement for acquiring said water supply, may be modified from time to time by agreement between the respective cities, which agreement shall be declared by the action of their respective legislative bodies.

“City,” etc., defined.

§ 8. The term “city” and the term “municipality,” as used in this act shall include a consolidated city and county, and the same rights and privileges by this act given to an incorporated city shall pertain to a consolidated city and county.

Resolutions must be signed by mayor.

§ 9. Before any resolution or ordinance relating to the joint acquisition of a water supply becomes binding upon any city or municipality it shall be approved by the mayor of such city, or passed over his veto, in the manner provided by law or the charter of such city for the passage of ordinances.

§ 10. This act shall be in force from and after its passage.

SALES OF EXCESS WATER ACT OF 1911.

ACT 3043—An act to provide for the sale of an excess of water when owned by a municipality, and repealing an act entitled “An act to provide for the sale of an excess of water when owned by a municipality,” approved March 27, 1897.

History: Approved April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 854. Prior act of March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 182.

Cities supplying own water may sell excess.

§ 1. Whenever the water supply owned by any city, incorporated town, county, or city and county, is in excess of the amount required to supply the water required by the inhabitants thereof, it may be declared by ordinance that such excess exists, and such excess of water may be sold outside of the limits of the corporation; but in no case shall a contract be made for a supply of any excess of water sold by a city, incorporated town, county, or city and county, outside the corporate limits, for a period longer than one year; and in no case shall such a contract be made, unless the legislative authority of a city, incorporated town, county, or city and county, declare by ordinance that there exists an excess of water not required to supply the inhabitants of the city, incorporated town, county, or city and county, within the term of the contract, but water not required to supply the inhabitants of the city, incorporated town, county, or city and county, may be sold by the authorities thereof outside the corporate limits, from month to month, during the existence of such excess, and shall be sold only at the rates fixed for consumers inside the corporate limits; provided, however, that the terms of this act shall not apply to any city, or city and county having a charter framed and adopted under the authority of section 8 of article XI of the constitution of this state, and which charter contains provisions inconsistent herewith.

Repeal of act of 1897.

§ 2. An act entitled “An act to provide for the sale of an excess of water when owned by a municipality,” approved March 27, 1897, is hereby repealed.

1. Duty of municipality to supply as assignee of plant to another municipality.—Where a portion of the water of a water company was appropriated to the use of a city and the property, business, and franchises of such company were purchased by another city, the latter is required as trustee to continue to supply water to the former city, and such water is not surplus water within the meaning of the act of 1897 and the purchasing city is not authorized to sell the same under said act.—South Pasadena v. Pasadena Land, etc., Co., 152 Cal. 579, 93 Pac. 490.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING ACT OF 1895.

ACT 3044—An act conferring power upon the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of cities, or cities and counties, of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, to acquire or condemn land for a suitable site, and erect thereon a suitable building or buildings for municipal purposes.

History: Approved March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 242. Amended March 2, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 50.

Governing body in certain cities may provide for municipal building.

§ 1. Power and authority is hereby conferred upon the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of every city, or city and county, in this state having a population of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, to provide for the erection and construction in such city, or city and county, and at the expense of the same, such additional or other municipal building or buildings as the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, may determine upon for the accommodation of the criminal department of the superior court, police courts, police stations, prisons, morgues, or coroner's offices of such city, or city and county, and for such other municipal uses as may be deemed necessary.

Powers of governing body and method of procedure. Ad valorem tax.

§ 2. In the event that the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, shall deem it expedient, and in their judgment that the public good requires the construction of such building or buildings, for the construction of which power is conferred upon them by section 1 of this act, in the manner and mode prescribed by this act, they are hereby authorized and empowered to express such judgment by resolution or order, in such manner as they may deem proper. And for the purpose of raising the money necessary to complete said building or buildings, the said common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, is hereby authorized and empowered to levy and collect, in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes are levied and collected in such city, or city and county, for municipal purposes, an ad valorem property tax on real and personal property, which shall not in the aggregate exceed the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, which sum shall cover all the expense of the said building or buildings.

May condemn site.

§ 3. As a site for the erection and construction of said building or buildings, power is hereby conferred upon the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, to acquire by purchase, or to condemn and acquire under the laws of eminent domain, such land as may be necessary therefor.

Public building fund.

§ 4. The money arising from the tax hereby authorized to be levied and collected shall be kept by the city, city and county treasury of such city, or city and county in a fund to be known as the "Public Building Fund," and out of which said fund all claims for work, labor, and materials used in the construction of said building, and all other expenses authorized to be incurred under the provisions of this act, shall be paid. All claims against the said fund shall be allowed by the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, by resolution entered upon the minutes in the same manner and form as other expenditures are authorized, before the auditor shall be authorized to audit the same; and in no case shall any portion of said fund be used or expended for any other purpose than those herein indicated, nor shall any part of the cost of the construction of said building be paid out of any other or different fund; nor shall any lien for work, labor, or material at any time attach to the said building or buildings, nor the land upon which the same is located in any manner whatever.

Advertising for proposals. Bids. Execution of contract. Changes of plans. Drawing of contract. Plans, etc., to be in triplicate.

§ 5. When work is to be done upon said building or buildings, or materials to be furnished, it shall be the duty of the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, to advertise for at least ten days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in such city, or city and county, for sealed proposals for doing both said work and furnishing said material. The said work and material shall be of the best quality. The advertisement shall contain a general description of the work to be done and the materials to be furnished, the time within which the same is to be done or furnished, and may refer to plans and specifications for such other details as may be necessary to give a correct understanding regarding the work or materials. The advertisement shall also state the day and an hour of said day within which bids will be received. At the hour and day stated in the advertisement, the said board or body shall proceed to open the bids in the presence of the bidders, and an abstract of each shall be recorded in the minutes by the clerk. A day and hour shall then be fixed for considering the bids and awarding the contract. An abstract of said bids, showing the name of each bidder, the price at which work, labor, and materials are offered to be done or furnished by each, and such other things as may be necessary to show or explain the offer, shall be made by the clerk and published for five days in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in such city, or city and county. At the expiration of five days after the first publication of the abstract, on the day and at the hour fixed by said board or body, said board or body shall proceed to consider the several bids and award the contract for doing the work and supplying the material for which proposals are invited, and for none other, to the lowest bidder who shall furnish sufficient sureties to guarantee the performance of the contract; provided, the advertisement hereinbefore provided for, shall invite proposals and bids, in one total sum or amount, for the performance of all the work and the furnishing of all the materials called for in the said advertisement for the erection of the entire building or buildings. Said board or body shall have the right to reject any or all bids, when in their judgment the public interests may be thereby promoted. Such contract shall be executed on behalf of such city, or city and county, by the mayor, or president of the common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county. No change in the plans or specifications shall be made after proposals for doing work and furnishing materials have been called for, nor shall any contractor be allowed a claim for work done or materials furnished in excess of his contract, except on the approval of said common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of cities, or cities and counties; provided, that the aggregate cost of any change, or changes, shall not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars. All contracts shall be in writing, and shall be carefully drawn by the city attorney, city and county attorney, or other law officer of such city, or city and county, and shall contain detailed specifications of the work to be done, the manner in which the same shall be executed, the quality of the material, and the time within which the same shall be completed; and such penalty for the nonperformance of such contract as said board or body may deem just and reasonable. All contracts shall be signed in triplicate—one copy of which, with the plans and specifications of the work to be done, shall be filed with the clerk or secretary of said board or body, and shall at all times, in office hours, be open to the inspection of the public; one, with the plans and specifications, shall be kept in the office of said board or body, and the other copy, with plans and specifications, shall be delivered to the contractor. [Amendment approved March 2, 1897. Stats. 1897, p. 50. In effect immediately.]

Payments on contract.

§ 6. The common council, board of supervisors, or other governing body of such city, or city and county, may make payments on such contract from time to time, as work progresses or materials are furnished; but until the contract is completed, at no time shall the payments exceed seventy-five per centum of the value of the labor or materials furnished.

Plans and specifications.

§ 7. The plans and specifications herein referred to shall be secured by said board or body after the publication for ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in such city, or city and county, of a resolution inviting the submission of competitive plans and specifications for said building or buildings. Said resolution shall contain a general statement of the purposes for which said building or buildings are to be used, the cost thereof, and the character of the design required. Said plans and specifications may be submitted to such board or body under such requirements and conditions, and at such time as said board or body may prescribe.

§ 8. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

MUNICIPAL GRAVEL-BEDS AND QUARRIES.

ACT 3045—An act authorizing municipal corporations to lease, purchase, own, and operate gravel-beds and quarries, and to transport gravel and rock therefrom to such municipal corporations, for the purpose of making, improving, and repairing roads.

History: Approved March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 217.

Municipal corporations may acquire gravel-beds and quarries.

§ 1. Any incorporated city or town in this state may acquire, lease, purchase, and operate any gravel-bed or quarry within the county where such city or town is situated, and may equip and operate a plant at such gravel-bed or quarry, or within such town or city, for the purpose of breaking, crushing, or otherwise preparing gravel or rock to be used in making, paving, improving, or repairing its streets. Any such city or town may acquire, lease, or purchase and maintain all necessary roads, rights of way and tramways over which to transport gravel or rock from such gravel-bed or quarry to such city or town, and all necessary appliances for that purpose.

Two-thirds vote necessary.

§ 2. No money shall be expended or expense incurred for any of the purposes set forth in section 1, unless the same is authorized at a regular meeting of the legislative body of such city or town, and by a vote of two-thirds of the members thereof.

§ 3. This act shall not extend or enlarge any limitation upon municipal taxation or the expenditure of municipal funds, now existing by reason of state laws or city charters in any of the cities or towns of this state.

DRAINAGE AND PROTECTION FROM OVERFLOW.

ACT 3046—An act to promote the protection of cities, towns, and municipal corporations from overflow by water and the drainage of the same, and for such purposes authorizing the incurring of indebtedness and the issuance of bonds therefor by the same, and providing for the disposition of the proceeds of such bonds, and for the supervision of the protective and other works.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 95.

Municipal corporations may incur debts to prevent overflow.

§ 1. Any city, town, or municipal corporation incorporated under the laws of this state may, by procedure hereinafter prescribed, incur indebtedness and liability, although in excess of the income and revenue by it provided for the current fiscal year, but not so that the aggregate funded indebtedness thereof shall exceed six per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property in the municipality, for the purpose of protecting such city, town, or municipal corporation from overflow by water, and for the purpose of draining such city, town, or municipal corporation, and for the purpose of securing an outlet for such overflow water and drainage, or for any part of said purposes, whether by means of canals, ditches, levees, dikes, embankments, dams, and any of the same, whether situated within or without the territorial limits of such city, town, or municipal corporation.

Manner of procedure. Duties of city council. Publication and election.

§ 2. The procedure mentioned in section 1 aforesaid shall be as follows, to wit: The city council or legislative body of such city, town, or municipal corporation shall, first, have made by some competent person general plans and estimates of the cost of such canals, ditches, levees, dikes, embankments, dams, machinery, and other means or works as may be contemplated, which general plans and estimates shall, after adoption, be filed in the office of the clerk of such municipality, and which general plans shall be substantially adhered to thereafter in proceedings under this act. Said city council or legislative body shall, secondly, after the filing of such general plans and estimates, and by resolution or ordinance passed at a regular meeting by a vote of two-thirds of all its members and approved by the executive of the municipality, determine, if so advised, that the public good demands the construction, acquisition, and completion, or either, of canals, ditches, levees, dikes, embankments, dams, machinery, and other like appropriate or ancillary means, or works, or any of the same, for any or all of the purposes mentioned in section 1 aforesaid; and shall further, by the same resolution or ordinance, determine, if so advised, that the cost of the same will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary income or revenue of the municipality; and such resolution or ordinance, shall, after its passage and approval, be published as hereinafter prescribed. Said city council or legislative body shall, within one month after the publication aforesaid, and by resolution or ordinance passed at a regular meeting by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, and approved by the executive of the municipality, call a special election, and submit to the qualified voters of such city, town, or municipal corporation the proposition to incur a debt for any or all of the purposes mentioned in section 1 aforesaid, and which have been as aforesaid determined to be demanded for the public good. The resolution or ordinance calling such special election shall specify the purpose for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the things proposed, that bonds of the municipality will issue in the amount of such estimated cost, the number and character of such bonds, the rate of interest to be paid, and the amount of the tax levy for each year during the outstanding of such bonds to be made for their payment. Such last-named resolution or ordinance shall be published as hereinafter prescribed. Such city council or legislative body shall cause to be published, after the publication last named and prior to the day of holding such special election, a notice of the same, which notice shall set forth substantially all the matters contained in the aforesaid resolution or ordinance calling such special election.

Newspaper publication.

§ 3. Every publication hereinbefore mentioned or required shall be in some newspaper published in such city, town, or municipal corporation; if in a daily paper in at least ten issues thereof, and if in a weekly paper at least two issues thereof; and no publication shall be deemed to have begun until any one required preceding the same shall have been completed.

Elections, how held.

§ 4. Such special election shall be held in the manner provided by law for holding elections in such city, town, or municipal corporation.

Two-thirds vote necessary.

§ 5. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such special election to authorize the incurring of any indebtedness or the issuance of any bonds under this act. If two-thirds of all the votes cast at such special election be in favor of the proposition submitted, the city council or legislative body may, by ordinance reciting the result of said election, provide for the issuance of the proposed bonds and any matter incidental thereto.

Bonds. How payable. Where payable.

§ 6. All municipal bonds issued under this act shall be of the kind known as serials, and of such denominations as the city council or legislative body may determine; provided, that no bond shall be for less than one hundred dollars nor for more than one thousand dollars, and that not less than one-fortieth part of the whole indebtedness evidenced by the whole of the issue of such bonds shall be, by the terms of such bonds, made payable each and every year. Each bond shall be made payable either in gold coin or other lawful money of the United States as may be expressed in such bond, on a day and at a place designated therein, with interest at the rate specified therein, which rate shall not exceed seven per cent per annum, to be fixed by such city council or legislative body. Said place of payment shall be either at the office of the treasurer of the municipality, or at some designated bank in San Francisco, Chicago, or New York. Said bonds shall be executed on the part of such municipality by the mayor or other executive thereof, and by the treasurer thereof, and countersigned by the clerk of the municipality. The interest coupons shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer.

Must not be sold at less than par. Proceeds.

§ 7. Any of such bonds may be issued by the city council or legislative body of such city, town, or municipal corporation, and by the same sold, at not less than their face value; and the proceeds of such sale shall be deposited in the municipal treasury to the credit of a designated fund and be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects for which, as aforesaid, the electors have voted to incur indebtedness or liability, until such purposes and objects shall have been accomplished, after which, the surplus, if any, may be transferred to the general fund of the municipality.

Sinking fund.

§ 8. Such city council or legislative body shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually, each year, for the term of forty years, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds and also one-fortieth part of the aggregate amount of such indebtedness so incurred. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected.

Powers of city council.

§ 9. The city council or legislative body of every city, town or municipal corporation wherein or for which any public works or improvements are being had or constructed for the purposes hereinbefore specified, and for which indebtedness has been incurred under the provisions of this act, shall have power to make all needful rules and regulations for acquisition, construction, and completion of such works and improvements; to appoint all needful agents, superintendents, and engineers to supervise and construct the same, and shall have power in all lawful ways to protect and preserve the rights and interests of the municipality in respect thereof.

Contracts, how let.

§ 10. All contracts as to said works and improvements shall be let, in such parcels as the city council or legislative body may determine, to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice given for at least ten days by publication in one or more newspapers published in the municipality, inviting sealed proposals. Security or bonds may be required in order to guarantee good faith in bidding and in the performance of contracts, or either, in such amount as such council or legislative body may determine, and such council or legislative body may reject any or all bids.

Additional bonds by treasurer.

§ 11. The city council or legislative body of the municipality may, by resolution, if it deem the same necessary, require the treasurer of the municipality to give additional bonds for the safe custody and care of public funds derived under this act.

Provisions of act paramount and controlling.

§ 12. The provisions of this act are intended to be paramount and controlling as to all matters provided for therein and as to all questions arising in or out of procedure thereunder.

§ 13. This act shall take effect from and after the time of its passage.

ACQUISITION OF WATER RIGHTS, ETC.

ACT 3048—An act authorizing incorporated cities to acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation, water, water rights, reservoir sites, etc.

History: Approved March 14, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 102.

How to acquire water rights.

§ 1. Any incorporated city in this state may acquire by gift, purchase, or condemnation proceedings, under the power of eminent domain, water, water rights, reservoir sites, rights of way for pipes, aqueducts, flumes, or other conduits, and all other property and appliances suitable and proper for supplying such city and its inhabitants with water.

§ 2. This act shall go into effect immediately upon its passage.

1. Municipality may accept transfer of existing plant of water company.—The city of Pasadena is authorized by its charter and by the act of 1891 (Stats. 1891, p. 102) to accept the transfer of the property, business and franchises of a water company supplying water to a portion of itself and South Pasadena and may undertake and perform the public service imposed upon such property in the hands of the trans-ferer.—South Pasadena v. Pasadena Land, etc., Company, 152 Cal. 579, 93 Pac. 490.

2. Municipality may condemn land for reservoir site.—Under the provisions of the act of 1891 the city of Los Angeles is authorized to condemn land as a reservoir for the purpose of the collection of subterranean waters, and the fact that the water does not rise to the surface is immaterial.—City of Los Angeles v. Pomeroy, 124 Cal. 597, 616, 57 Pac. 585.

MUNICIPAL INDEBTEDNESS ACT OF 1889.

ACT 3049—An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations, incorporated under the laws of this state, for the construction of waterworks, sewers, and all necessary public improvements, or for any purpose whatever, and to repeal the act approved March 9, 1885, entitled "An act to authorize municipal corporations of the fifth class, containing more than three thousand and less than ten thousand inhabitants, to obtain waterworks," also to repeal an act approved March 15, 1887, entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations, incorporated under the laws of this state."

History: Approved March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 399. Amended (1) March 11, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 84; (2) March 11, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 94; (3) March 19, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 132; (4) March 1, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 61. Of the last amendment, the code commissioners say: "This latter amendment attempted to be repealed by 1897, p. 76, but such repeal declared unconstitutional in City of Los Angeles v. Hance, 122 Cal. 78." Prior act of March 9, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 42, and act of March 15, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 120; amended February 16, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 14, were repealed by the present act.

Municipal corporations may incur indebtedness.

§ 1. Any city, town, or municipal corporation, incorporated under the laws of this state, may, as hereinafter provided, incur indebtedness to pay the cost of any municipal improvement, or for any purpose whatever requiring an expenditure greater than the amount allowed for such improvement by the annual tax levy.

Manner of procedure.

§ 2. Whenever the legislative branch of any city, town, or municipal corporation shall, by ordinance passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, and approved by the executive of said city, town, or municipal corporation, determine that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition, construction, or completion of any municipal buildings, bridges, waterworks, water rights, sewers, or other municipal improvements, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality, they may, after the publication of such ordinance for at least two weeks in some newspaper published in such municipality, and at their next regular meeting after such publication, or at an adjourned meeting, by ordinance passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, and also approved by the said executive, call a special election and submit to the qualified voters of said city, town, or municipal corporation, the proposition for the purpose set forth in the ordinance, and no question other than the incurring of indebtedness for said purpose shall be submitted. The ordinance calling such special election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed public improvement, the necessity for such improvement, and that the bonds of the municipality shall issue for the payment of the cost of such improvement, as in such ordinance set forth, if the proposition be accepted by the qualified voters, as hereinafter provided, and shall fix the day on which such special election shall be held, the manner of holding such election, and the voting for or against incurring such indebtedness; such election shall be held as provided by law for holding such elections in such city, town, or municipal corporation; provided, however, that where by the terms or provisions of the charter of any city, town, or municipal corporation, the cost of making the proposed improvements is to be or must be paid from a special fund created by such charter for that purpose, the proposition of incurring such an indebtedness may be submitted to the qualified voters at any general election for officers of the state of California or of such city, town, or municipal corporation. [Amendment approved March 11, 1891. Stats. 1891, p. 94.]

Publication of intention to incur indebtedness.

§ 3. Such ordinance shall be published once a day for at least ten days, or once a week for two weeks, before the publication of the notice of the special election, in some newspaper published in such municipality. After said publication, said legislative body shall cause to be published, for not less than two weeks, in at least one of the newspapers published in such municipality, a notice of such special election, the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred, the number and character of the bonds to be issued, the rate of interest to be paid, and the amount of tax levy to be made for the payment thereof. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such special election to authorize the issuance of the bonds herein provided.

Plans and estimates of improvements.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the legislative branch of any municipality contemplating permanent public improvements, to first have plans and estimates of the cost of such improvements, made by a competent engineer or architect who has had successful experience in such work, before the question of incurring an indebtedness for such improvement is submitted to vote.

Limit of indebtedness.

§ 5. No city, town, or municipal corporation shall incur an indebtedness for public improvements which shall, in the aggregate, exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the taxable real estate and personal property of such city, town, or municipal corporation. [Amendment approved March 11, 1891. Stats. 1891, p. 84.]

Character of bonds.

§ 6. All municipal bonds for public improvements issued under the provisions of this act shall be of the character of bonds known as serials, and shall be payable in gold coin or lawful money of the United States, in the manner following: One fortieth part of the whole amount of indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, on a day and at a place to be fixed by the legislative branch of the municipality issuing the bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the legislative branch of the municipality may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars each, payable on the day and at the place fixed in such bond, and with interest at the rate specified in the bond, which rate shall not be in excess of the legal rate of the state of California, and may be payable annually or semi-annually. Such bonds may be issued and sold by the legislative branch of the city, town, or municipal corporation, as they may determine, at not less than their face value, in gold coin of the United States, and the proceeds of such sale shall be placed in the municipal treasury to the credit of the proper improvement fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance, until such objects are fully accomplished, after which, if any surplus remains, such surplus shall be transferred to the general fund of such municipality. [Amendment approved March 1, 1893. Stats. 1893, p. 61. In effect immediately. Repealed all conflicting acts.]

This section was in turn repealed by the act of March 9, 1897. Stats. 1897, p. 75. This repeal was declared unconstitutional.

See history note at head of this act.

Rate of interest.

§ 7. The legislative branch of any city, town, or municipal corporation, issuing bonds under authority of this act, shall have the right to determine the rate of interest such bonds shall bear; provided, that in no case shall it exceed seven per cent per annum, and to name the date and place where such bonds and interest shall be paid; provided, that the place of payment shall be either at the office of the treasurer of the municipality, or at some designated bank in San Francisco, Chicago, New York, or Boston. The said bonds shall be signed by the executive of the municipality, and also by the treasurer thereof, and shall be countersigned by the clerk. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, and signed by the treasurer.

Tax levy.

§ 8. The legislative branch of said city, town, or municipal corporation shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually, each year, for the term of forty years, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, and also one fortieth part of the aggregate amount of such indebtedness so incurred. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected. [Amendment approved March 1, 1893. Stats. 1893, p. 61. In effect immediately. Repealed all conflicting acts.]

This section was in turn repealed by the act of March 9, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 75. See history note at head of this act.

Duty of corporation.

§ 9. It shall be the duty of the legislative branch of every city, town, or municipal corporation wherein public improvements are being made under the provisions of this act, to make all needful rules and regulations for carrying out and maintaining such improvements; to appoint all needful agents, superintendents, and engineers to properly look after the construction and operation of such public works, and in all lawful ways to protect and preserve the rights and interests of the municipality; provided, however, that in cities, towns, or municipalities operating under a charter heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article XI of the constitution, and having a board of public works, all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the legislative branch of the municipality shall be done and performed by the board of public works of such city, town, or municipality. [Amendment approved March 19, 1891. Stats. 1891, p. 132.]

Letting of contracts.

§ 10. All contracts for the construction or completion of any public works or improvements, or for furnishing labor or materials therefor, as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The legislative branch of the municipality shall advertise for at least ten days, in one or more newspapers published in the municipality, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the labor and materials for the proposed improvements, before any contract shall be made therefor. The said legislative branch shall have the right to require such bonds as they may deem best, from the successful bidder, to insure the faithful performance of the contract work. They shall also have the right to reject any or all bids; provided, however, that in cities, towns, or municipalities operating under a charter heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article XI of the constitution, and having a board of public works, all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the legislative branch of the municipality shall be done and performed by the board of public works of such city, town, or municipality. [Amendment approved March 19, 1891. Stats. 1891, p. 132.]

Additional bonds of treasurer.

§ 11. Whenever the legislative branch of any municipality shall, by resolution, deem it necessary, they may require the treasurer of such municipality to give additional bonds for the safe custody and care of the public funds.

Repealing acts of 1885, 1887.

§ 12. The act approved March ninth, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, entitled An act to authorize municipal corporations of the fifth class, containing more than three thousand and less than ten thousand inhabitants, to obtain public waterworks, and the act approved March fifteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, entitled An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations, incorporated under the laws of this state, and all general acts, or special acts, or parts of acts, conflicting with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 13. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1. Section 6—Not repealed by later act.—Section 6 of the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 was not repealed by section 4 of the act of March 9, 1897 (Stats. 1897, p. 75).—Los Angeles v. Hance, 122 Cal. 77, 54 Pac. 387.

2. Section 865—Municipal corporation act has no application to proceedings.—Section 865 of the municipal corporation act has no application to a proceeding under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, and the latter act is controlling in the cases therein provided for.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

3. Ordinances passed under act governed thereby.—Ordinances passed under the authority of the act of 1889 are specially governed by the provisions of that act and may be passed on the day of their introduction without reference to the provisions of section 801 of the municipal government act.—Derby v. City of Modesto, 104 Cal. 515, 38 Pac. 892; see, also, Santa Barbara v. Davis, 6 Cal. App. 342, 92 Pac. 398.

4. Departure in ordinance from notice of election as to rate of interest fatal.—Where the notice of election under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 contained a notification that the bonds proposed to be issued were to bear annual interest at 4 per cent and to be payable at the office of the city treasurer, an ordinance passed after the election changing the form of the bonds so as to make them payable semi-annually in gold coin of the United States, and in the city of New York, is a fatal departure from such notice of election, and the sale and delivery of the bonds will be enjoined.—Skinner v. City of Santa Rosa, 107 Cal. 464, 40 Pac. 742.

5. Place of payment—Kind of money—Not necessary to specify.—It is not necessary to submit to the voters the place of payment and the kind of money in which the bonds are to be paid, but if these matters are submitted, the vote authorizing the indebtedness imports the particulars named upon which the assent was given; and where the question arises prior to delivery of the bonds, the city has no power to issue the same otherwise than in substantial compliance with the terms of the ordinance of submission and the notice of election.—Skinner v. Santa Rosa, 107 Cal. 464, 40 Pac. 742.

6. Rate of interest specified in notice of election—No departure therefrom.—The governing body of a municipality in issuing bonds under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, can not depart at all from the rate of interest specified in the notice of election; and where the notice of election states that the interest was to be paid annually, the adoption of a provision in the final ordinance for the payment of interest semi-annually, is an unauthorized increase of the rate.—Skinner v. City of Santa Rosa, 107 Cal. 464, 40 Pac. 742.

7. Notice of election sufficient—Mandamus to issue bonds.—A notice of election stating the cost of each of certain municipal improvements, and its purpose, and specifying number and face value of the bonds to be issued for each purpose, and the rate of interest thereon and fixing the proportion of the indebtedness to be paid each year, sufficiently states the amount of tax levy required during the existence of the date, and mandamus will lie to compel the issuance of the bonds after the same have been favorably voted on by the voters.—San Luis Obispo v. Haskin, 91 Cal. 549, 27 Pac. 929.

8. Bond election ordinance has force of statute—Ballots containing improper notice.—An ordinance designating the manner of holding an election under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 has the force of a statute and is to receive the same construction as if its terms had been prescribed by an act of the legislature and where the ordinance provides the manner of writing or causing to be written the words "yes" or "no," such requirement is mandatory and to disregard it renders the vote nugatory; and where the ballots contain an improper notice printed thereon and more than two-thirds of the voters followed the direction of such notice instead of following the direction of the ordinance, the election is invalid.—Murphy v. City of San Luis Obispo, 119 Cal. 624, 51 Pac. 1085 (5 Cal. Unrep. 665, 48 Pac. 974); City of San Luis Obispo v. Fitzgerald, 126 Cal. 279, 58 Pac. 699.

9. Indebtedness—Bonds and interest—Time of payment—Expression of voters' wishes.—It is only the amount of the bonds and the rate of interest, and not the time of payment of interest, which constitute the indebtedness proposed to be incurred and upon which the voters are to express their wishes.—Murphy v. City of San Luis Obispo, 119 Cal. 624, 51 Pac. 1085.

10. Same—Same — Same — Ordinance of submission.—In an election to authorize the issue of bonds under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, it is not necessary to submit to the voters the alternative of making the interest upon the proposed bonds payable annually if semi-annually, and it is sufficient if the ordinance of submission states the times at which the interest shall be payable.—Murphy v. City of San Luis Obispo, 119 Cal. 624, 51 Pac. 1085.

11. Interested party—Taxpayer—Judge of superior court.—A judge of a superior court who is a taxpayer is "interested" in a litigation to declare a contract between a city and a water company involving the expenditure of a large sum of money obtained by the sale of the bonds of the city under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, within the meaning of section 170 of the Code of Civil Procedure and is therefore disqualified from sitting in a judicial character as to such litigation.—Meyer v. City of San Diego, 121 Cal. 102, 53 Pac. 434.

11½. Bond election—Ballot—Expression of choice—Void election.—Where the ordinance provided that in an election to authorize the issue of bonds under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 that the voter should indicate his wish in writing or printing upon his ballot the word "yes" or "no" opposite the proposition to be voted on, the voter had a right to express his choice without any suggestion and where the word "yes" was printed in one column of the ballots used in voting, the same was in effect a suggestion to the voter and was a substantial departure from the provisions of the ordinance in a material matter and rendered the election void.—City of San Luis Obispo v. Fitzgerald, 126 Cal. 279, 58 Pac. 699.

12. Ordinance mandatory—Clerical error.—The ordinance providing for the manner of voting upon an issue of bonds under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 is mandatory and must control the voters, notwithstanding a misdirection caused by clerical error in draughting the ordinance.—Los Angeles v. Hance, 130 Cal. 278, 62 Pac. 484.

13. Proceeds of bonds must be devoted to purposes specified.—The municipal indebtedness act of 1889 does not authorize the issuance of bonds which must be paid out of the revenue derived from taxes from real and personal property unless the money raised upon the bonds is to be devoted to purposes to justify the expenditure of the ordinary revenues of the city.—Redondo Beach v. Cate, 136 Cal. 146, 68 Pac. 586; San Diego v. Potter, 153 Cal. 288, 99 Pac. 146.

14. Issue of bonds for sewer under the Vrooman act not authorized.—Under the Vrooman act the cost of grading and opening streets must be assessed against the lots fronting on such streets and can in no case become a charge against the ordinary revenues of the city; nor does the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 authorize the incurring of a bonded indebtedness therefor.—Redondo Beach v. Cate, 136 Cal. 146, 68 Pac. 586; but see Mill Valley v. House, 142 Cal. 698, 76 Pac. 658.

15. Issue of bonds for sewer—Vrooman act—Discretion of governing body.—Under the Vrooman act it is entirely within the discretion of the governing body of a city to make the cost of a sewer a charge upon the lands of an assessment district or upon its ordinary revenue and the construction of sewers is one of the special enumerated objects under which the act of 1889 authorizes the issuance of municipal bonds.—Redondo Beach v. Cate, 136 Cal. 146, 68 Pac. 586; Peckham v. Watsonville, 138 Cal. 242, 71 Pac. 169; but see Mill Valley v. House, 142 Cal. 698, 76 Pac. 658.

16. Issue of bonds for school house, as a municipal affair, not exclusive.—The authority of a city under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 to issue bonds for the erection of a school house within city limits as a "municipal affair," is not exclusive and does not and can not affect the power of the trustees of the school district as to the issuance of bonds under sections 1880 et seq., for the same purpose.—Los Angeles City School District v. Longden, 148 Cal. 380, 83 Pac. 246; see In re Wetmore, 99 Cal. 146, 33 Pac. 769.

17. Issue of bonds for street lighting authorized.—The municipal indebtedness act of 1889 authorizes a city of the sixth class to create a bonded indebtedness for supplying electric power upon the streets, parks, places and buildings of such city.—Hammond v. San Leandro, 135 Cal. 450, 67 Pac. 692.

18. Written plans and specifications not required.—The municipal indebtedness act of 1889 does not require written plans and specifications, and it is the purpose of the statute to inform the board of such facts merely as will enable the trustees to fix the cost of the improvement.—Hammond v. San Leandro, 135 Cal. 450, 67 Pac. 692.

19. Same—Presumption as to plans and specifications.—Proof that parts of the plans and estimates of a municipal improvement were made by different persons not shown to be disqualified and that no written or complete plan was made by any one person, does not overcome the presumptions in favor of the action of the board and the statutory qualifications of such persons where all the plans and specifications were made and were before the board and were adopted by it.—Hammond v. San Leandro, 135 Cal. 450, 67 Pac. 692.

20. Same — Presumption — Burden of proof.—Where the ordinances of the board of trustees relating to the issue of bonds for an electric light system under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 declared that the public interest and necessity demanded the construction of an electric light plant at a cost specified and that the board of trustees had plans and estimates made which had been adopted and were then on file in the office of the city clerk, it is presumed that the board performed its duty and that the plans and estimates were made by a qualified person and the burden is upon one who assails such bond issue to overcome these presumptions.—Hammond v. San Leandro, 135 Cal. 450, 67 Pac. 692.

21. Act superseded by San Francisco charter.—The municipal indebtedness act of 1889 was superseded so far as San Francisco was concerned by the city charter of 1900.—McHugh v. San Francisco, 132 Cal. 381, 64 Pac. 570; see, also, Fritz v. San Francisco, 132 Cal. 373.

22. Acts in pari materia.—The municipal indebtedness act of 1889 and the municipal improvement act of 1901 are to be deemed in pari materia and may be considered in construing the other.—Redondo Beach v. Barkley, 151 Cal. 176, 90 Pac. 452.

23. Payment of bonds—Option as to kind of money.—Under the original act the municipality was not required to designate the kind of money in which the bonds should be payable and could elect at their maturity to pay them any lawful money in the absence of a designation of any particular money.—Murphy v. City of San Luis Obispo, 119 Cal. 624, 51 Pac. 1085.

24. Intention of legislature—Payment in gold coin.—The purpose of the legislature in enacting the amendment of 1893 providing that bonds issued under the act should be payable in gold coin or lawful money of the United States "shall be payable in gold coin or lawful money of the United States," was not to require that the bonds should express that alternative but to confer upon the municipality power of election to pay the bonds in gold coin only.—Murphy v. City of San Luis Obispo, 119 Cal. 624, 51 Pac. 1085.

25. Publication of notice sufficient.—The publication, from October 6th to October 19th, both days inclusive, in a daily newspaper, of the preliminary ordinance determining that the public interests or necessity demands the construction and completion of a system of water works and sewers, is a sufficient compliance with the statute, and the final ordinance may be passed at a regular meeting held October 20th.—Derby v. City of Modesto, 104 Cal. 515, 33 Pac. 892; see, also, Santa Barbara v. Davis, 6 Cal. App. 342, 92 Pac. 308.

26. Municipality may issue bonds for construction of school house.—The city council of the city of Oakland was authorized under the provisions of the act of 1889 (Stats. 1889, p. 399) to determine the public interest and necessity of the city demanded the acquisition, construction and completion of certain designated school houses and that the cost thereof would be too great for payment out of the ordinary income and revenue of the municipality, and to submit the question of the issue of bonds therefor to the voters of the city at a special election, and to issue such bonds pursuant to the provisions of that act, if the same was authorized by a vote of two-thirds of such voters.—In re Wetmore, 99 Cal. 146, 33 Pac. 769.

ACQUISITION OF PROPERTY SOLD FOR DELINQUENT ASSESSMENTS.

ACT 3050—An act authorizing any city, city and county, county, town, municipality or other political subdivision to acquire certain liens or property offered for sale for the non-payment of certain assessments.

History: Approved June 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1171.

Exclusive right of cities, etc., to acquire property sold for unpaid assessments.

§ 1. Whenever any city, city and county, county, town, municipality, or other political subdivision, shall have instituted any proceeding for the construction or maintenance of any public improvement or for the acquisition of land or property necessary therefor, and the cost or expense of the construction, acquisition or maintenance of any such improvement, or of such land or property, is required by law to be paid for in whole or in part by an assessment levied upon property benefited thereby in the manner provided by the law pursuant to which such improvement is constructed, acquired or maintained, and which law provides for the sale of the property upon which any such assessment is levied in case of the non-payment thereof, the city council or other legislative body of the city, city and county, county, town, municipality or other political subdivision instituting such proceedings, shall by one of its officers designated by the city council, or other legislative body for such purpose, have the right, to the exclusion of other bidders, to acquire, at the sale for delinquency authorized by the law appertaining to the proceedings so instituted, any lien which shall accrue, or any property which is required to be sold, for the non-payment of any such assessment or any delinquency incurred by the non-payment thereof.

Property may be assigned, etc.

§ 2. Any lien, or any property acquired by any city, city and county, county, town, municipality, or other political subdivision under the provisions of this act, may be released, assigned, sold or otherwise disposed of by such city, city and county, county, town, municipality, or other political subdivision in the manner prescribed by ordinance adopted by the city council or other legislative body thereof; provided, however, that no such release, assignment, sale or other disposition of any such lien or any such property shall be so made unless there shall be first paid to such city, city and county, county, town, municipality or other political subdivision, a sum of money equal to not less than the amount paid therefor, all accrued penalties and delinquencies and necessary expenses incurred, plus interest on said sum at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of the acquisition of such lien or property.

Fund for such purchase.

§ 3. Any city, city and county, county, town, municipality, or other political subdivision, is hereby authorized to provide a fund and to expend the same or to expend money from the general fund, for the purchase or acquisition, as herein provided, of any lien which shall accrue, or any property which is required to be sold, for the non-payment of any such assessment or any delinquency incurred by the non-payment thereof.

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1901.

ACT 3051—An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without the Governor's approval February 25, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 27. Amended (1) March 18, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 570; (2) March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 609; (3) March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 634; (4) March 25, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 720; (5) April 4, 1913; in effect August 10, 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 13; (6) April 15, 1913; in effect August 10, 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 29; (7) April 16, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 97; (8) June 11, 1915; in effect August 10, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 1453; (9) April 6, 1917; in effect July 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 79.

Incurring indebtedness by municipal corporations.

§ 1. Any city, town or municipal corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, may as hereinafter provided incur indebtedness to pay the cost of any municipal improvement requiring an expenditure greater than the amount allowed for such improvement by the annual tax levy.

Cities may submit question of issuing bonds for public improvements. Purpose. Interest.

§ 2. Whenever the legislative branch of any city, town or municipal corporation shall, by resolution passed by vote of two-thirds of all its members determine that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement, including bridges, waterworks, water rights, sewers, light and power works or plants, buildings for municipal uses, wharves, breakwaters, jetties, seawalls, schoolhouses, fire apparatus, and street work, or other works, property or structures necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes and powers of the municipality, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality, it may at any subsequent meeting of such legislative branch, by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, order the submission of the proposition of incurring a bonded debt for the purpose set forth in said resolution, to the qualified voters of said city, town or municipal corporation, at an election held for that purpose; provided, that propositions of incurring indebtedness for more than one object or purpose may be submitted at the same election. The ordinance calling such election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed public improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such election will be held, the manner of holding such election and the voting for or against incurring such indebtedness, and in all particulars not recited in such ordinance, such election shall be held as provided by law for holding municipal elections in such municipality; provided, however, that if the rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed four and one-half per centum per annum payable semi-annually, the rate of interest need not be recited in such ordinance, but in its discretion the said legislative branch may recite in such ordinance a maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, not exceeding six per centum per annum payable semi-annually, which rate when so recited, shall not be exceeded in the issuance of bonds for such indebtedness. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1453.]

This section was also amended (1) March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 609; (2) April 4, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 13; (3) April 16, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 97. The amendment of 1915 (Stats. 1915, p. 97) was identical with the present amendment except for the omission of the words "breakwaters, jetties, seawalls," in the first sentence of the section.

Publication of ordinance. Vote necessary to carry.

§ 3. Such ordinance shall be published once a day for at least seven days in some newspaper published at least six days a week in such municipality, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance shall be posted in three public places therein for two succeeding weeks. No other notice of such election need be given. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such election to authorize the issuance of the bonds herein provided; provided, however, should the proposition so submitted at such election fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified voters, voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purpose specified, the legislative body of such municipality shall have no power or authority within six months after such election to call or order another election for incurring any indebtedness for improvements, substantially the same as voted upon at such prior election, unless a petition signed by fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of such municipality computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for governor at the last preceding election at which a governor was elected be filed with the legislative body of such municipality, requesting that such proposition, or a proposition substantially the same, be submitted at an election to be called for the submission of such proposition and to be held in accordance with the provisions of this act. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1454.]

This section was also amended April 15, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 29; April 16, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 98. The amendment of 1915 was identical with the present amendment.

Limit of indebtedness.

§ 4. No city, town or municipal corporation shall incur an indebtedness for public improvements which shall in the aggregate exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such city, town or municipal corporation.

Payment of bonds. Denomination of bonds. Coupons.

§ 5. All municipal bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be payable substantially in the following manner: A part to be determined by the legislative body of the municipality, which shall be not less than one fortieth part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be paid each and every year on a day and date, and at a place or places to be fixed by the legislative body of the municipality issuing the bonds and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date; provided, however, that, in case of bonds issued for the acquisition, construction or completion of water works or light or power works or plants, or any other authorized revenue-producing public works, plant, utility or property, the legislative body of the municipality may, in its discretion, determine and fix a date for the earliest maturity of the principal of such bonds not more than ten years from the date of the issue of such bonds, but, in this event, the whole amount of such indebtedness must be made payable in equal annual parts in not to exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the legislative body of the municipality may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in the bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six per cent per annum, and shall be payable semi-annually, and said bonds shall be signed by the executive of the municipality, or by such other officer thereof as the council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of the municipality shall, by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorize and designate for that purpose; and also signed by the treasurer thereof, and shall be countersigned by the clerk. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds. [Amendment approved April 15, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 30. In effect August 10, 1913.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 610; March 25, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 720.

Sale of bonds.

§ 6. Such bonds may be issued and sold by the legislative branch of the city, town or municipal corporation as they determine, but for not less than their par value, and the proceeds of such bonds shall be placed in the municipal treasury to the credit of the proper improvement fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance.

Cancellation of unsold bonds.

§ 6½. At any time after three years after the date of any election, heretofore or hereafter held, at which an issue of any of the bonds herein provided has or shall have been authorized, the legislative body of the municipality may, by ordinance duly adopted by a two-thirds vote of all of the members of such legislative body, determine that no part of such bond issue, or, if a portion of the bonds so authorized at such election shall have been sold, that no part of the remainder of such issue then remaining unsold, shall be thereafter issued or sold, and upon the taking effect of such ordinance the authority to issue the bonds authorized at such election and described in such ordinance shall cease, and the whole or that portion of the bonds issued pursuant thereto remaining unsold and described in such ordinance shall become void. [New section added April 6, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 79.]

Tax levy to pay bonds. Sinking fund.

§ 7. The legislative branch of said city, town or municipality shall at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of said city, town or municipality set apart for that purpose to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy. Provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest. [Amendment approved March 19, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 611. In effect immediately.]

Duty of governing authority. Municipalities under charter.

§ 8. It shall be the duty of the legislative branch of every city, town or municipal corporation, wherein public improvements are being made under the provisions of this act, to make all needful rules and regulations for carrying out and maintaining such improvements, to appoint all needful agents, superintendents and engineers to properly look after the construction and operation of such public works, and in all lawful ways to protect and preserve the rights and interests of the municipality; provided, however, that in cities, towns, or municipalities operating under a charter heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article 11 of the constitution, and having a board of public works, all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the legislative branch of the municipality shall be done and performed by the board of public works of such city, town or municipality.

Contracts. Bonds of contractors. Charters to govern.

✓ § 9. All contracts for the construction or completion of any public work or improvement or for furnishing labor or materials therefor, as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The legislative branch of the municipality shall advertise for at least ten days in one or more newspapers published in the municipality, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the labor and materials for the proposed work or improvement before any contract shall be made therefor. The said legislative branch shall have the right to require such bonds as they may deem best from the successful bidder to insure the faithful performance of the contract work, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting the municipality itself from constructing or completing such works or improvements, and employing the labor necessary therefor; and provided further, that, in cities, towns or municipalities operating under a charter, heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article 11 of the constitution and providing for a board of public works all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the legislative branch of the municipality shall be done and performed by the board of public works of such city, town or municipality, and, in case such charter also prescribes the manner of letting and entering into contracts for the furnishing of labor, materials or supplies for the constructing or completion of public works or improvements, the contracts therefor shall be let and entered into in conformity with such charter. [Amendment approved March 19, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 611. In effect immediately.]

* Approved March 19, 1907 p 611

Expenditure of money raised by sale of bonds; consent to use for other than original purpose, how given.

§ 9½. Whenever the legislative branch of any municipality shall by resolution deem the expenditure of money raised by the sale of bonds under the terms of this act for the purpose for which said bonds were voted impracticable or unwise, said legislative branch of said city, town, or municipal corporation may call a special election to obtain the consent of the people of said city, town, or municipal corporation to use said money for some other specified municipal purpose. The ordinance calling such special election shall recite the new object or purpose for which the said money is proposed to be expended, and shall fix the date on which such special election will be held, the manner of holding such election and the voting for or against the expenditure of said money for said purpose, and in all particulars not recited in said ordinance such election shall be held as provided by law for holding of such municipal elections in such municipality. Such ordinance shall be published once a day for at least seven days in some newspaper published at least six days a week in such municipality, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance shall be posted in three public places therein for two succeeding weeks. No other notice of such election need be given. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters at such special election to authorize the expenditure of the money for the purpose mentioned in the ordinance calling said special election. [New section approved March 19, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 634. In effect immediately.]

Treasurer's bond.

§ 10. Whenever the legislative branch of any municipality shall by resolution deem it necessary, they may require the treasurer of such municipality to give additional bonds for the safe custody and care of the public funds.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 11. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

What acts not repealed.

§ 12. This act shall not be deemed to repeal, conflict with or modify any provision of any statute of this state concerning the levy of special taxes for specific public improvements when bond issues are not contemplated.

Proceedings prior to this act declared valid.

§ 12½. All proceedings which may have been prior to the passage of this act, taken by any city, town or municipal corporation, incorporated under the laws of this state, in the manner prescribed by the said act of which this act is amendatory, for the incurring of indebtedness for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, completing or repairing any wharf or wharves, shall be and the same are hereby declared to be valid as fully as though the incurring of indebtedness for such purpose had been expressly authorized by said act, and any and all indebtedness incurred, or which may hereafter be incurred, by any such city, town or municipal corporation, or any bonds which may have been or may hereafter be issued pursuant to any such proceedings so taken or had shall be and the same are hereby declared to be valid, as fully as though the creation of said indebtedness or the issuance of said bonds had been expressly authorized by said act. [New section added March 18, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 570. In effect immediately.]

Consolidation of elections. [Separate or consolidated elections.]

§ 12¾. Any election submitting the proposition of incurring indebtedness and the issuance of bonds called pursuant to the provisions of this act, may be held separately, or may be consolidated with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified voters of such city, town or municipal corporation are entitled to vote; provided, however, that in the event any such election called pursuant to the provisions of this act is consolidated with any other election, the provisions of this act setting forth the procedure for the calling and holding of the election called pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be complied with, except, that the ordinance calling such election need not set forth the election precincts, polling places and officers of election, but may provide that the precincts, polling places and officers of election shall be the same as those set forth in the ordinance, notice or other proceedings calling the election with which the election called pursuant to the provisions of this act, is consolidated, and shall refer to such ordinance, notice or other proceeding by number and title, or by other definite description. [New section added April 16, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 98.]

This section was again added by the act of June 11, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1454.

The amendatory act of March 19, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 609, contained the following section:

“§ 5. That nothing in this act contained shall be construed as affecting the issue or sale of bonds in pursuance of proceedings begun prior to the taking effect of this act and under the provisions of the act amended hereby.”

1. Code commissioner's note.—“This act was not repealed by ‘local improvement act’ 1901, p. 34 (Town of Mill Valley v. House, 142 Cal. 698), [76 Pac. 658]. The provisions of the San Francisco charter for a bonded indebtedness for municipal improvements, including school houses, prevail on that subject over the provisions of this act, so far as there may be any conflict between them (Law v. San Francisco, 144 Cal. 384), [77 Pac. 1014]. See, also, 1889, p. 361, and Oakland v. Thompson, 34 Cal. Dec. 91, [151 Cal. 572, 91 Pac. 387].”

2. Superseded by San Francisco charter.—Wherever a conflict is found to exist between the charter of San Francisco and the municipal improvement act of 1901, the charter provisions supersede the requirements of the act.—Law v. San Francisco, 144 Cal. 384, 77 Pac. 1014; see, also, Santa Barbara, 6 Cal. App. 342, 92 Pac. 308.

3. “Local improvement act” not repugnant to present act.—The “local improvement act” of 1901 is not necessarily repugnant to the municipal improvement act of 1901, does not cover the same ground as the latter act, and the latter act was not repealed by the former.—Mill Valley v. House, 142 Cal. 698, 76 Pac. 658.

4. Construed as standing together.—The municipal improvement act of 1901 and the local improvement act of 1901 should be construed as standing together and as affording different schemes for similar ends.—Mill Valley v. House, 142 Cal. 698, 76 Pac. 658.

5. Park and boulevard act—Municipal improvement act of 1901—Independent schemes.—Conceding that no repugnancy exists between the park and boulevard act of 1889 and the municipal improvement act of 1901, it does not necessarily follow that the act of 1889 provides the only and exclusive method by which a municipal corporation may acquire lands for park purposes; and inasmuch as the act of 1901 is sufficiently general and broad enough to include the acquisition of lands for park and boulevard purposes, and that there is no constitutional inhibition forbidding the legislature from providing independent schemes, to either of which a municipality may resort as it shall deem expedient, it must be held that a municipality may consider it more to its advantage to adopt the provisions of the act of 1901 allowing the issue of forty-year bonds rather than the act of 1889 authorizing the issue of twenty-year bonds.—Oakland v. Thompson, 151 Cal. 572, 91 Pac. 387.

6. Section 866—Municipal corporation act—Repeal of by present act not decided.—The question as to whether section 866 of the general municipal corporation act of 1883 was repealed by the present act in so far as authority to create a bonded indebtedness for the sole purpose of permanent improvements, the cost of which could not be paid out of the ordinary annual income of the city, is concerned, raised, but not decided.—Redlands v. Brook, 151 Cal. 474, 91 Pac. 150.

7. Amendment of 1907, purpose.—The 1907 amendment to the municipal improvement act of 1901 does not authorize a municipality to construct a sewer system without letting the same to the lowest bidder, but was intended merely to preserve to municipal corporations the power given the municipal corporation act to construct various public works of small cost without contract or the taking of bids.—Matthews v. Livermore, 156 Cal. 294, 104 Pac. 303.

8. Purpose of act—Work authorized under existing law.—This act does not purport to give a municipality the power to engage in the carrying on of the public utilities therein mentioned, but its purpose and object is to give the power to issue the bonds necessary for the construction and maintenance of such public utilities in any case where, under the provisions of existing law, the power to build works and operate such enterprises may have been conferred.—Hyatt v. Williams, 148 Cal. 585, 84 Pac. 41.

9. Act authorizes construction and completion of public works without contract—Authorized by charter.—There is nothing in the municipal improvement act of 1901 which prevents the city of Los Angeles from constructing and completing public works or improvements without contract where authorized so to do by its charter.—Perry v. Los Angeles, 157 Cal. 146, 106 Pac. 410.

10. San Diego charter—Expenditure of money must be in compliance with act.—Inasmuch as the charter of San Diego does not contain any provision for the expenditure of money arising from the issue of bonds under the municipal improvement act of 1901, the act must be followed and the work done according to contract.—Clouse v. San Diego, 159 Cal. 434, 114 Pac. 573.

11. Bonds can not be issued except for purpose for which ordinary revenues may be expended.—Municipal bonds can not be issued under the municipal improvement act of 1901 except for a purpose for which the ordinary revenues of the city might be lawfully expended.—San Diego v. Potter, 153 Cal. 288, 95 Pac. 146.

12. Act requires annual payment of one-fortieth of bond principal.—The act requires payments of not less than one-fortieth part of the whole amount of the indebtedness incurred thereunder and does not require annual payments in equal amounts.—Calistoga v. Adams, 36 Cal. App. 486, 172 Pac. 624.

13. Bonds issued under act—Expending of proceeds without advertising and letting of contract.—After bonds have been authorized and issued under the municipal improvement act of 1901, the city of San Diego has no authority under its charter to pass an ordinance authorizing the board of public works to expend the proceeds of such bonds in employing teams and men for the construction of the improvements without advertisement and letting of contracts therefor to the lowest bidder.—Clouse v. San Diego, 159 Cal. 434, 114 Pac. 573.

14. Los Angeles charter authorizes issue of bonds under act.—Under subdivision 51, section 2, article 1 of its charter, city of Los Angeles was empowered to issue bonds under the provisions of the improvement act of 1901.—Morgan v. Los Angeles (Cal.), 187 Pac. 1050.

15. Acquiring land for public park authorized.—A municipality has the power under the municipal improvement act of 1901 to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of acquiring land for a public park.—San Diego v. Potter, 153 Cal. 288, 95 Pac. 146.

16. Bond validation act of 1913—Irregularities cured—Legislative authorization in advance.—The bond validation act of 1913 had the effect to cure all irregularities in the proceedings leading up to the issue of bonds under the municipal improvement act of 1901, where such irregularity might have been validated by legislative provision in advance.—Venice v. Lawrence, 24 Cal. App. 350, 141 Pac. 406.

17. "Executive officer"—Cities without mayors.—It was intended by the municipal improvement act of 1901 to authorize any city, town or municipal corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, to issue bonds for the purposes stated in the act, and it was not intended that cities of the sixth class or otherwise which have no mayor or other "executive" officer should be denied this power, and as to such cities the word "executive" must be taken to refer to the officer whose duties proximate most closely to those of the mayor.—Redondo Beach v. Barkley, 151 Cal. 176, 90 Pac. 452.

18. "Completion" defined.—If the words "acquisition" and "construction" in the bond act are given an effect as broad as their ordinary meaning the word "completion" would seem to be unnecessary, and it serves no purpose, other than to prevent doubts from arising where an issue of bonds was proposed to finish an uncompleted improvement, and it adds nothing to the effect that would be given the other words.—Hartigan v. Los Angeles, 170 Cal. 313, 320, 149 Pac. 590.

19. Calling bond election at "subsequent meeting"—Requirement complied with.—The requirement of the act that a special election for the authorization of improvement bonds under this act may be called at a "subsequent meeting" after the adoption of the resolution of public interest and necessity, is substantially complied with and the purpose of the statute fully accomplished where such election was called at and adjourned as well as at a new meeting.—Redondo Beach v. Barkley, 151 Cal. 176, 90 Pac. 452.

20. Ordinance has force and effect of statute—Manner of voting.—Where authority is conferred upon a municipality to specify the manner of voting upon a bond issue, an ordinance providing therefor has the force and effect of a statute and is mandatory and a disregard therefor by the voters renders their vote nugatory.—Inglewood v. Kew, 21 Cal. App. 611, 132 Pac. 780.

21. Ordinance—Designation of act not required—Notice under act of 1901.—The municipal improvement act of 1901 does not require that the ordinance calling the bond election or some order or record prior to such election designate whether the bonds proposed to be issued were to be issued under the park and boulevard act of 1889 or the act of 1901, where the provisions of the latter act as to notice, etc., were literally complied with in the proceedings leading up to the issuance of the bonds.—San Diego v. Potter, 153 Cal. 288, 95 Pac. 146.

22. Discretion of trustees—Notice to electors.—The duty of determining the necessity for the expenditure and the propriety of submitting it to the electors and the particular phraseology in which it shall be expressed, is cast upon the trustees subject to a reasonable and practicable regard for the right and privilege of the electors to be informed as to the purposes and cost of the proposed improvement that they may exercise at the polls an intelligent and discriminating judgment as to their own interests and the public welfare.—Cary v. Blodgett, 10 Cal. App. 463, 102 Pac. 668.

23. Notice of election held published in compliance with act.—Publication of notice of an election to be held on June 26, 1911, in a weekly newspaper in its issue of June 14 and June 21, 1911, is a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the act, two weeks' notice of such election being required only in the case where by reason of the fact that there is no newspaper published in the municipality the notice is given by posting.—Lindsay v. Mack, 160 Cal. 647, 117 Pac. 924.

24. Section 5 complied with.—It is held in the present case that the provisions of section 5 of the act as to the number, denomination and order of payment of the bonds provided for by ordinance subsequent to the election authorizing the same, was complied with.—San Diego v. Potter, 153 Cal. 288, 95 Pac. 146.

25. Election board—Employees of city within ninety days of election.—A municipal bond election was not rendered invalid because two members of the election board had been employed by the city within ninety days prior to the election, there being no fraudulent conduct shown.—Clark v. City of Manhattan Beach, 175 Cal. 637, 638, 166 Pac. 806; 1 A. L. R. 1632.

26. Application for positions on election board—Code provisions do not apply.—Section 1142, Political Code, as amended (Stats. 1915, p. 1851), as to notice inviting applications for positions as election officers has no application to municipal improvement bond elections.—Clark v. City of Manhattan Beach, 175 Cal. 637, 638, 166 Pac. 806, 1 A. L. R. 1632.

27. Slight delay in opening polls, a trivial matter.—A slight delay in opening the polls at a municipal improvement bond election was a trivial matter, such delay not being shown to have worked the slightest injury to any voter.—Clark v. City of Man- hattan Beach, 175 Cal. 637, 639, 166 Pac. 806; 1 A. L. R. 1632.

27. Single proposition separately stated.—A proposition to incur indebtedness by the city of Los Angeles for "works for supplying said city and its inhabitants with electricity," etc., held to be a single proposition, not requiring to be separately stated, within the meaning of the act of 1901 as amended in 1913, so as to show one purpose to acquire an electric generating system and another purpose to acquire a distributing plant, for the electricity so supplied.—Hartigan v. Los Angeles, 170 Cal. 313, 315, 149 Pac. 590.

28. Municipal waterworks—Electric light plant—Separate estimates not required.—Where the proposition for the construction of a municipal water and electric light plant contemplated a definite sum for a single definite plant, it is not essential that separate estimates should be made of the cost of each separate unit prior to the election.—Cary v. Blodgett, 10 Cal. App. 463, 102 Pac. 668.

29. Combined water and electric light plant—Vote on units separately not essential.—Where the proposition is for the construction and acquisition of a combined water and electric light plant and the same is valid, the voters can not complain that they are not afforded an opportunity to vote for one unit or proposition and against the other.—Cary v. Blodgett, 10 Cal. App. 463, 102 Pac. 668.

30. Wharves at foot of different streets—Not separate and distinct propositions.—In a municipal improvement bond election a proposition to construct one wharf at the foot of one street and a proposition to construct another wharf at the foot of another street, being parts of a general scheme of municipal improvement, need not be submitted to the voters as distinct and independent propositions.—Clark v. City of Manhattan Beach, 175 Cal. 637, 640, 166 Pac. 806, 1 A. L. R. 1632.

31. Four different propositions—Issuance of separate bonds.—Where four different propositions for the issue of bonds under the municipal improvement act of 1901 for four different purposes were presented to the voters and favorably passed upon by them at an election held for the purpose, there is nothing in the act, nothing in principle, and nothing in the interests of the taxpayers, requiring the issuance of separate bonds for each of the indicated purposes.—Mill Valley v. House, 142 Cal. 698, 76 Pac. 658.

32. Same—Question determined solely on facts.—In determining whether a certain proposition to incur indebtedness is really two propositions required to be separately stated under the act of 1901 as amended in 1913, the court must determine the question solely upon the facts set forth in the complaint and such other facts as are susceptible of judicial notice.—Hartigan v. Los Angeles, 170 Cal. 313, 317, 149 Pac. 590.

33. Submission of unauthorized bond issue at same election—Authorized bond issue not invalidated.—An election for the issue of bonds for improvements authorized by the municipal improvement act of 1901 is not invalidated because of the mere submission at the same election of a proposition to incur a bonded indebtedness for an unauthorized purpose.—San Diego v. Potter, 153 Cal. 288, 95 Pac. 146.

PUBLIC ASSEMBLY AND CONVENTION HALLS.

ACT 3052—An act authorizing cities, towns, and municipal corporations to establish and maintain public assembly or convention halls, and to incur indebtedness for such improvements.

History: Approved March 25, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 412.

Public assembly hall.

§ 1. Any city, town, or municipal corporation in this state may acquire, by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, all necessary land whereon to construct, and may construct and maintain thereon, a public assembly or convention hall, and may incur indebtedness, as hereinafter provided, to pay the cost of such improvement.

Resolution of intention. Special bond election may be called. Publication.

§ 2. Whenever the legislative body of any city, town or municipal corporation, shall, by resolution passed by a vote of a majority of its members, determine that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition of the necessary land whereon to construct, and the construction or completion thereon, of a public assembly or convention hall, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality it may at any subsequent meeting of such body, by an ordinance, passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, call a special election, and submit to the qualified voters of said municipality, the proposition of incurring a debt for the purpose set forth in said resolution. The ordinance calling such special election shall recite the object and purpose for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed improvement, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness; and shall fix the date on which such special election will be held, the manner of holding such election, and of voting for or against such proposition; and in all other particulars not recited in said ordinance, such election shall be held as provided by law for holding municipal elections in such municipality. Such ordinance shall be published once a day for a period of five days in a daily newspaper published in said municipality, or once a week for three successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published in said municipality. No other notice of such election need be given.

Two-thirds vote prevails.

§ 3. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such special election to authorize the issuance of the bonds herein provided for.

Limitation of indebtedness.

§ 4. No city, town, or municipal corporation shall incur an indebtedness under the provisions of this act, which together with all other indebtedness of said city, town, or municipal corporation, shall, in the aggregate, exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property in said city, town or municipal corporation.

Issue and sale of bonds.

§ 5. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be issued, sold, and made payable, in the manner and form prescribed for the issue, sale, and payment of municipal bonds, by an act entitled, "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof," which became a law, under the provisions of the constitution, without the governor's approval, February 25, 1901.

Proceeds.

§ 6. The proceeds of the sale of bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be placed in the municipal treasury to the credit of a fund to be known as the public hall fund, and shall be applied, exclusively, to the purpose and object mentioned in the ordinance.

Tax levy.

§ 7. The legislative body of said municipality shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect, annually, each year until said bonds are paid, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest and the part of the principal of such bonds, that shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy, and is not at the time of fixing such annual tax levy, otherwise provided for by funds then in the treasury and set apart for that purpose. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be collected at the same time, and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest.

Application of moneys derived from use of hall.

§ 8. All moneys derived from the use or hire of such assembly or convention hall shall be deposited in the treasury of the municipality to the credit of said public hall fund, and shall be applied, exclusively, to the following purposes, to wit:

First—For the necessary expenses of conducting, maintaining, and insuring such hall, and of making all improvements and repairs thereof.

Second—For the payment of installments of interest or principal becoming due on said bonds until the whole of said bonded indebtedness shall have been paid.

Third—Any surplus remaining after providing for the purposes, first and second above specified, may be appropriated and used for general municipal purposes.

Employment of architects, etc. Contracts.

§ 9. The legislative body of any city, town, or municipal corporation wherein bonds have been issued for the construction or completion of a public assembly or convention hall, under the provisions of this act, shall have the power to appoint and employ all needful architects, engineers, superintendents, and agents, to prepare plans for the construction or completion of such public assembly or convention hall, and to superintend such work. All contracts for the construction or completion of such public assembly or convention hall, or for the furnishing of labor or materials therefor, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The legislative body of the municipality shall advertise for at least ten days in one or more newspapers published in such municipality, inviting sealed proposals for the construction or completion of said improvement, or for the furnishing of labor and materials therefor before any contracts shall be made. The said legislative body shall have the right to acquire from the successful bidder, such bonds as they may deem best to insure the faithful performance of his contract. They shall also have the right to reject any and all bids. Said legislative body shall have power to appoint such officers, or agents, and to make and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the management, control, letting, and use of such public assembly or convention hall; provided, however, that in cities, towns, or municipal corporations, operating under a charter, heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article 11 of the constitution, and providing for a board of public works, all matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the legislative body of the municipality, shall be done and performed by said board of public works; provided, further, that in cities, towns, or municipal corporations not having such board of public works, the legislative body may, by ordinance, appoint a commission to select the site for said hall, to have charge and supervision of its construction, and to manage and control the letting and use thereof, and may, by ordinance, prescribe and regulate the powers and duties of said commission.

§ 10. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Construction of auditorium.—City acts in proprietary capacity.—Where a municipal corporation constructs and maintains an auditorium in pursuance of the permissive authorization given by the act of 1903, it acts in its private and proprietary as distinguished from its governmental capacity. —Chafor v. Long Beach, 174 Cal. 478; Ann. Cas. 1918D, 106, L. R. A. 1917E, 685, 163 Pac. 670.

2. Same.—Constructed on tidelands.—Ultra vires.—A municipal corporation acts in its proprietary and not in its governmental capacity in constructing and maintaining an auditorium under the authority of this act, and this is unaffected by the fact that the municipality reaps no pecuniary benefit from the structure, nor by the fact that it is erected in part upon state tidelands, and to that extent its construction and maintenance is ultra vires.—Chafor v. Long Beach, 174 Cal. 478, 481, 163 Pac. 670, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 106, L. R. A. 1917E, 685.

3. Same.—A municipal corporation is liable for personal injuries to one lawfully on premises constructed and maintained by it in its proprietary capacity under the authority of this act, who incurs personal injuries resulting from its negligence while there.—Chafor v. Long Beach, 174 Cal. 478, 481, 163 Pac. 670, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 106, L. R. A. 1917E, 685.

ANNEXATION ACT OF 1889.

ACT 3054—An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory.

History: Approved March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 358. Amended (1) March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 551; (2) April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 857; May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1459; (3) May 11, 1917; in effect July 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 419.

Procedure for annexing new territory to cities. Election on question. Notice. Voting precincts. Officers. Ballots. Canvass of returns. Annexation completed.

§ 1. The boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized, or reorganized, may be altered and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory asked to be annexed to such corporation, and signed by not less than one-fifth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, must, without delay, submit to the electors of such municipal corporation and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal incorporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law; and such legislative body is hereby empowered to and it shall be its duty to cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof in a newspaper printed and published in such municipal corporation, and also in a newspaper, if any such there be, printed and published outside of such corporation, but in the county in which the territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, in each case at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, i. e., that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of such municipal corporation the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof; and in said notice the qualified electors of said municipal corporation, and the qualified electors residing in said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be invited to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "For annexation" or "Against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty, to establish, and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be annexed, and also in such municipal corporation. And such place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such municipal corporation, and also that or those commonly used within such new territory, if any such there be. Such legislative body is empowered to, and it shall, appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such municipal corporation, and for each voting place in said new territory, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as far as may be, with the general laws of this state concerning elections; and the judges and inspectors of such election shall immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up and certify the tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, seal, and then immediately return the same as below provided, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the election laws of this state; but the ballots, tally sheets, and returns shall be so returned to and deposited with the clerk of such legislative body. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, if possible, until said canvass is completed. Said canvass by such legislative body shall be conducted and completed as follows: The returns of the votes cast in said outside territory, so proposed to be annexed shall be canvassed separately; and the returns of the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation shall be canvassed separately. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of votes cast in such outside territory, the whole number of votes cast in such municipal corporation, the number thereof cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation; and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory, and a majority of all the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation, are in favor of annexation, the clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, of such legislative body, shall promptly make and certify, under the seal of said municipal corporation, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of said record, so entered upon said minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as provided in section one of this act. No territory which, at the time such petition for such proposed annexation is presented to such legislative body, forms any part of any incorporated town or city, shall be annexed under the provision of this act. [Amendment of May 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 419.]

This section was also amended April 11, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 857.

Question of making annexed territory liable for share of indebtedness may be submitted.

§ 1a. Whenever any municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall have incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition presented to the legislative body of such municipal corporation, as hereinabove provided, may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, shall be, whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of, said municipal corporation, and the property therein be, after such annexation, subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay any such bonded indebtedness of such corporation, outstanding at the date of such annexation, or theretofore authorized. If such request shall be made in said petition proceedings shall be had thereon the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of the preceding section, excepting that the notice of election shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, i. e., that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of, such municipal corporation, the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof, and that the property therein, shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay such bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the said annexation, or theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued. The said notice shall, in addition, distinctly specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness; and upon the canvass of the returns of the votes cast at any election held under the provisions of this section, if it shall appear that two-thirds of all the votes cast in such outside territory, and a majority of all the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation, are in favor of annexation, and not otherwise, a copy of the record of such canvass shall be transmitted to the secretary of state in the same manner as provided in the preceding section. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be deemed, and shall be, complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, and the property within such annexed territory shall be taxed to pay the bonded indebtedness or liability of such corporation, specified in said notice, equally with the property within such municipal corporation as it existed prior to such annexation. [New section approved April 11, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 859.]

Altering boundaries of wards.

§ 2. The legislative body of any incorporated town or city which is or shall be divided into wards, and to which territory has been heretofore or shall be hereafter annexed, must by ordinance either so alter the boundaries of the wards of such municipal corporation as to include such annexed territory in one or more wards adjoining such annexed territory, or make of such annexed territory one or more additional wards; provided, that the number of wards shall not be so increased as to exceed the number which such municipal corporation may according to law have. In altering the boundaries of wards, or creating new wards, regard must be had to the number of inhabitants, so that each ward shall contain, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, exclusive of persons incapable of citizenship in this state.

§ 3. Nothing in this act provided for shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district.

Expenses, how paid.

§ 4. All proper expenses of proceedings for annexation of territory under this act, whether such annexation shall be made and completed or not, shall be paid by the municipal corporation so annexing or attempting to annex such territory. In the event that a tax for road purposes has been levied by the board of supervisors of any county against property situate in territory which, subsequent to such levy, is annexed by any town or city under the provisions of this act, but which, at the time of such annexation has not been collected, then all such taxes so uncollected shall be and become the property of the town or city to which such territory is annexed, and same shall, with other county taxes, be collected by the county tax collector, and by him paid into the county treasury of said county, after which the same shall, by the county treasurer, be paid to such town or city, upon proper warrant therefor. The town or city clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such town or city, shall, at any regular meeting of the board of supervisors of said county, present, and file a verified claim for any money thus due such town or city, setting forth the fact, and the date of such annexation, and the amount in the hands of said county treasurer so due such town or city. Said claim shall be audited by the board of supervisors in the manner in which other claims against the county are audited, and if the amount thereof is correct, the same shall be allowed, and the county auditor instructed to draw his warrant for said amount against the road fund of the district in which such annexed territory is situated. The law shall apply to all such taxes not paid into the county treasury prior to the passage of this act. [Amended 1905, p. 551, took effect immediately.]

Taxes of annexed territory becomes property of city. City clerk to file claim. Claim audited by supervisors. Claims against annexed territory. City clerk to act as redemption officer.

§ 4½. All taxes levied by the board of supervisors of any county, or by the legislative body of any sanitary or other political district other than school districts, for the purpose or purposes of such sanitary or other political district, against property situated in territory which subsequent to such levy is annexed by any town or city under the provisions of this act, but which, at the time of such annexation, has not been collected, shall be and become the property of the town or city to which that territory is annexed, and the same shall, with other county taxes, be collected by the county tax collector, and by him paid into the county treasury of said county, after which the same shall, by the county treasurer, be paid to such town or city, upon proper warrant therefor, and all such taxes which are at the time of such annexation in the county treasury, shall be and become the property of the town or city to which such territory is annexed, and shall be by said county treasurer paid to such town or city, upon the proper warrant therefor, as hereinafter provided. The town or city clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such town or city shall, at any regular meeting of the board of supervisors of said county, present and file a verified claim for any money thus due said town or city, setting forth the fact and the date of such annexation, and the amount in the hands of said county treasurer so due such town or city. Said claim shall be audited by the board of supervisors in the manner in which other claims against the county are audited, and if the amount thereof is correct, the same shall be allowed and the county auditor instructed to draw his warrant for said amount against the several funds of the several districts herein referred to, in which such annexed territory is situated, said funds upon such transfer shall not be used for any purpose other than that for which it was originally intended. The city or town to which such territory is annexed, shall have the power, and it is hereby authorized to adjust, settle and pay any and all lawful claim or claims outstanding against any part of the territory so annexed contracted for before said territory became annexed, of any such sanitary or other political district or districts within the territory so annexed. Provided, however, if any such taxes shall have been illegally collected within the meaning of section 3804 of the Political Code of the state of California, such illegally collected taxes shall remain in the county treasury until after the time for the repayment of such taxes as provided by section 3804 of the Political Code of the state of California shall have expired, after which time such taxes, if any remaining, shall be and become the property of the town or city to which said territory is annexed, as in this act provided. The city or town clerk of the city or town to which such territory is annexed shall be and he is hereby authorized to act as the redemption officer for the purpose of effecting redemption of property sold for delinquent sanitary taxes prior to such annexation in any such sanitary districts within the territory so annexed, in accordance with the provisions of section 12, Act 3349, approved March 20, 1909. [New section approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1459.]

§ 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval.

See, post, Act 3055.

1. Code commissioners' note: "See 1889, pp. 356, 433; 1899, p. 37.—Constitutional (People v. Town of Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205)."

2. Constitutionality—Sufficiency of notice.—The annexation act of 1889 is not unconstitutional because the notice of election is not a sufficient provision of notice nor because it does not require notice of hearing as to the sufficiency of the petition or as to the sufficiency of the description of the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

3. Same—Not special legislation.—The act of 1889 is not special legislation in conferring the privilege of petitioning for a proposed annexation upon the electors of the municipality to the exclusion of the electors of the annexed territory and is constitutional.—Vernon School District v. Board of Education of Los Angeles, 125 Cal. 593, 58 Pac. 175.

4. Same—Title sufficiently broad.—The title of the annexation act of 1889 is sufficiently broad to include the provision of the act that the annexed territory shall not be taxed to pay any prior indebtedness or liability of the municipality.—Vernon School District v. Board of Education of Los Angeles, 125 Cal. 593, 58 Pac. 175.

5. Same—Delegation of legislative power.—The annexation act of 1889 is not unconstitutional as comprising an unwarranted delegation of legislative power.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

6. Alteration of boundaries—Power of legislature—Section 3, article XI, constitution.—The legislature may in the absence of any other constitutional limitation, except that contained in section 3 of article XI of the constitution, adopt any method of altering the boundaries of municipalities it sees fit.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

7. Annexation of territory not a "municipal function."—The fixing of the proposed boundaries of territory to be annexed to a municipal corporation is not a "municipal function" within the meaning of section 13, article XI, of the constitution; and the question as to whether the power to fix such proposed boundaries shall be given to a legislative body or to the electors of the locality affected, is purely one of policy upon which determination of the legislature is conclusive.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

8. Same.—Annexation of territory to a municipality is not a "municipal affair," as that term is used in the constitution, and the subject is controlled entirely by the general act of 1889 and not by conflicting provisions of the charter of the municipality to which the annexation is made.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

9. Same.—The annexation of territory to a city is not a municipal affair but is a matter pertaining to the state at large and within its general powers and functions, and the general law controls.—People ex rel. Scholler v. Long Beach, 155 Cal. 604, 102 Pac. 664.

10. Derivation of legislative power to provide for annexation—Section 6, article XI, constitution.—The legislative power to provide for the annexation of territory to existing municipalities is derived from the provisions of section 6, article XI, of the constitution and the mode of such annexation is left to the wisdom of the legislature to determine by general laws.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

11. Annexation of territory—Legislative power absolute—Question as to effect of.—The power of the legislature over the organization, dissolution, extent, powers and liabilities of municipal and other public corporations is, in the absence of constitutional restriction, absolute and the question as to what shall be the effect of the enlargement or diminution of the boundaries of such corporation or of their consolidation or of the annexation of one territory to another, is one for the determination of the legislative intent.—In re East Fruitvale Sanitary District, 158 Cal. 453, 111 Pac. 368.

12. Same—Purely political.—The question whether any particular territory of the shape, extent and character fixed should be annexed to a municipality, is purely political for the exclusive determination of the voters of the municipality and of the territory in question, and with the wisdom of that determination, the courts have no power to interfere.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

13. Municipalities not consolidated without consent.—Under the act municipalities can not be consolidated without their consent; and if they do consent no one else can complain.—People ex rel. Peck, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

14. Same—Annexation of territory without consulting inhabitants—Freeholders' charters.—Freeholder charter cities have no power under the constitution to provide by their charter for annexation of adjacent territory without consulting the inhabitants of that territory.—People ex rel. Scholler v. Long Beach, 155 Cal. 604, 102 Pac. 664.

15. Same—Same—Same—Legislative approval, effect of.—The approval by the legislature of a freeholders' charter adopted by a municipality and describing its boundaries as including adjacent territory previously attempted but not legally annexed thereto, does not have the legal effect of fixing the city's boundaries so as to include the territories illegally annexed.—People ex rel. Scholler v. Long Beach, 155 Cal. 604, 102 Pac. 664.

16. Annexation of one municipality by another—Effect.—When one municipality is annexed to another the latter takes over the functions of the former and the former is extinguished and its property, powers and duties are vested in the corporation of which it has become a part.—In re East Fruitvale Sanitary District, 158 Cal. 453, 111 Pac. 368.

17. Sanitary district—"Consolidation" not required—May be annexed.—A sanitary district, although a public corporation, is not organized under the municipal corporation act, and it may be annexed to an incorporated city under the provisions of the act of 1889 without the necessity of the "consolidation" provided for in section 8 of the municipal corporation act of 1883.—People ex rel. Cuff v. Oakland, 123 Cal. 598, 56 Pac. 445.

18. Annexation of sanitary district—Extinction.—The annexation of a sanitary district to an adjacent municipality which has every power conferred by the sanitary district, operates to extinguish and dissolve the district, and such district had no power to issue bonds after the completion of the annexation although authorized by an election held prior thereto.—In re East Fruitvale Sanitary District, 158 Cal. 453, 111 Pac. 368.

19. Same—Issue of previously voted bonds.—After the annexation to a municipality of a sanitary district the municipality is not authorized to assume the validity of a bond election of the district held prior to the completion of such annexation, or to take the further steps necessary to the issuance of the bonds and the construction of the work initiated by the district.—In re East Fruitvale Sanitary District, 158 Cal. 453, 111 Pac. 368.

20. Annexed school property belongs to city.—Where school property forms a part of annexed territory it belongs to the city to which the territory is annexed and is under the control of the city's board of education; and the fact that the school district still maintains the organization and name of the original school district and that the property still forms a part of the district, is immaterial.—Vernon School District v. Board of Education of Los Angeles, 125 Cal. 593, 58 Pac. 175.

21. Jurisdiction of courts to interfere.—The courts can interfere only where some substantial provision of the annexation act has been violated or where fraud has been perpetrated in the matter of the boundaries or the extent of the annexed territory.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

22. Quo warranto—State not estopped by lapse of nineteen months.—The state is not estopped by allowing a mere lapse of nineteen months after annexation proceedings had culminated to commence quo warranto to test the validity of the attempted annexation, when it appears that during that time the validity of the annexation was being tested by a private person and that during that time portions of the territory had been annexed to another municipality.—People ex rel. Scholler, 155 Cal. 604, 102 Pac. 664.

23. Scope of act—Annexation and consolidation—Contiguous territory.—The annexation act of 1889 provides for the consolidation of municipalities only when they are contiguous and contemplates an annexation of territory so as to make them contiguous.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

24. Sufficient signatures to petition—Power and duty of board.—The annexation act of 1889 contains no provision requiring the determination as to whether the petition for annexation is signed by a sufficient number of electors, nor does it require any record of such determination to be made, but the duty of the board to determine the question is entirely implied from the fact that the board has no power to order an election except upon a petition signed by the requisite number, such petition alone giving the power and creating the duty to order the election and not the determination as to the sufficiency of the petition.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

25. Same—Character of proof—Record.—The act makes no provision as to the character of the proof necessary to a determination as to whether the petition is signed by the requisite number of electors or not, and the minutes of the board need not show that sworn evidence as to the genuineness of the signatures or that it made any other investigation than such as may be reasonably employed from the words "taken up and discussed."—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

26. Action of trustees as to sufficiency of petition is judicial, and subject to review.—The initial action of the board of trustees of a municipality in determining whether a petition for annexation is sufficient, is judicial in its nature and subject to review by certiorari.—Capuchino Land Co. v. Board of Trustees, 34 Cal. App. 239, 167 Pac. 178.

27. Annexation of inhabited territory—Portions uninhabited.—Where the territory proposed to be annexed, as a whole, may be fairly said to be inhabited, the fact that portions are uninhabited does not require that proceedings for the annexation of such uninhabited portions should be taken under the act of 1899, particularly in view of the fact that the act of 1899 expressly provides that nothing in that act shall be deemed to repeal the provisions of any act providing for the annexation of inhabited territory.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

28. Inhabited and uninhabited territory—Different proceedings should be followed.—Where a part of a body of land to be annexed to a municipality is inhabited and another part uninhabited, the procedure of the act of 1913 should have been followed as to the inhabited portions, and the procedure laid down in the act of 1899 as to the uninhabited portions.—People v. Lemoore, 37 Cal. App. 79, 174 Pac. 93.

29. Territory held to be uninhabited.—A compact rectangular body of land embracing one thousand eight hundred and ninety acres, which has apparently never been subdivided or intersected with streets, has not a house upon it and consists entirely of grazing, marsh and tidelands, is not "inhabited territory" within the meaning of the annexation act.—Capuchino Land Co. v. Board of Trustees, 34 Cal. App. 239, 167 Pac. 178.

30. Inhabited or uninhabited territory—Review of question.—The question as to whether territory is inhabited or not within the meaning of the annexation statute of 1889 is in many cases a difficult one, and its determination should be rightly left to the electors occupying such territory to decide; but where the particular tract of land sought to be annexed is of such size, area, location, isolation and state of unoccupancy as to render it perfectly apparent that it falls clearly without and beyond the scope and intent of the act, the determination of the governing officials of the adjacent municipality to bring such area within its territory should be the subject of review.—Capuchino Land Co. v. Board of Trustees, 34 Cal. App. 239, 167 Pac. 178.

31. Size and shape of annexed territory not limited.—The annexation act of 1889 contains no limitation upon the size or the shape of the territory proposed to be annexed or its adaptability for municipal purposes or its contiguity to another municipality.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

32. Registration—Section 1094, Political Code, has no application.—The provisions of section 1094 of the Political Code requiring registration to cease for a period of forty days prior to the election and that notice of a special election should be given long enough prior to such period of forty days as to afford every qualified elector a reasonable opportunity to register in the interim, have no application to an election under the annexation act, and a notice of the special election to determine the question of annexation published for four weeks prior to the election is a sufficient compliance with the provisions of the act.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

33. Qualifications of voters—Residence.—No one is entitled to vote in the territory proposed to be annexed unless he was at the time a permanent resident therein, in the sense that he would be a qualified elector therein at a general election, if prior thereto his residence therein had continued for the required time; and a mere summer residence without intent to remain in the territory is not a qualified elector.—People ex rel. Scholler v. Long Beach, 155 Cal. 604, 102 Pac. 664.

34. Election may be ordered by ordinance or by resolution—Charter provision.—The annexation act does not make any provision for the method of ordering the election, and the legislative body of the city may order it either by ordinance or by resolution and charter provisions as to the manner of holding elections; and ordering the same have no relation to elections for annexation of outside territory.—People ex rel. Peck v. Los Angeles, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

35. Annexation election—Error in establishing ward precincts—Election not vitiated.—An honest error of a city council in establishing ward precincts for a special election for the annexation of territory to the city, instead of the usual voting places where the statutory provisions as to special municipal elections are conflicting, in the absence of fraud or any showing that any one who desired to vote was unable to do so, does not vitiate the election.—People ex rel. Skelton v. Los Angeles, 133 Cal. 338, 65 Pac. 749.

36. Number of votes in favor of annexation held sufficient.—Two hundred and thirteen votes cast in favor of annexation, in the annexed territory, is held sufficient to be a sufficiently fair and competent body to determine the matter, inasmuch as the determination of question of annexation is left to the voters of the territory to be annexed together with the voters of the municipality.—People ex rel. Peck, 154 Cal. 220, 97 Pac. 311.

37. Ballots—Substantial compliance with act.—The fact that the ballots used at an election held under the annexation act of 1889 contained the words "for annexation—yes" and "for annexation—no," could not make them misleading, and such ballots constituted a substantial compliance with the provisions of the act.—People v. Ontario, 148 Cal. 625, 84 Pac. 205.

38. Same—Marking—Intention of act.—The provisions of the annexation act of 1889 as amended in 1905 making the provisions of the general election laws as to the ballots, opening and closing polls, etc., was not intended to make the general law applicable to the mode of marking the ballots and the voters may express their intention by marking the ballot in any manner which will indicate such intention.—Haskell v. Long Beach, 153 Cal. 543, 96 Pac. 92.

39. Same—Direction to voter — Other mode of stamping to express intention.—A direction "to vote, stamp the cross in the voting square," in the notice of election is territorial merely and a failure to comply therewith will not invalidate a ballot where the voter has indicated his intention by any other mode of stamping his ballot.—Haskell v. Long Beach, 153 Cal. 543, 96 Pac. 92.

40. Same—"Distinguishing mark."—The stamping of the ballot anywhere between the parallel lines indicating "for annexation" or "against annexation," instead of in the voting square, does not make the cross a "distinguishing mark."—Haskell v. Long Beach, 153 Cal. 543, 96 Pac. 92.

41. Same—Same—Any method showing intent allowable.—The annexation act of 1889 is quite liberal in its terms and allows the voter to adopt any method of stamping a cross on his ballot which will show the intent to which he voted on the proposition submitted. — Haskell v. Long Beach, 153 Cal. 543, 96 Pac. 92.

"ANNEXATION ACT OF 1913."

ACT 3055—An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations, for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the districting, government and municipal control of such annexed territory.

History: Approved June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 587. Amended (1) April 29, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 305; (2) April 2, 1917; in effect July 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 26.

Municipal corporations may annex contiguous territory.

§ 1. The boundaries of any municipal corporation may be altered and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. Any such new territory so proposed to be annexed to a municipal corporation must be contiguous thereto, or contiguous to territory that is contiguous to said municipal corporation, and which the voters of the territory have voted in favor of annexation to said municipal corporation but the proceedings upon the annexation of said last named territory have not yet been determined by the vote thereon of said municipal corporation. [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 305.]

City council to call election. Petition. Notice of election. Date and proposition.

Voting precincts. Election officers. Ballots. Count of ballots. Canvass of returns.

§ 2. The legislative body of any municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor, signed as hereinafter provided, containing a description of the new territory proposed to be annexed to such municipal corporation, and asking that such territory be annexed thereto, must, without delay, call a special election, and submit to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such municipal corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such petition shall be signed by not less than one fourth in number of the qualified electors residing within the territory described therein, as shown by the registration of voters of the county in which such territory is situated. Such legislative body is hereby empowered to, and it shall be its duty to cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof in a newspaper of general circulation, if any such there be, printed and published outside of such municipal corporation, but in the county in which the territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. If there be no such newspaper, then such legislative body shall cause such notice of such election to be given by the posting thereof in three public places within the territory so proposed to be annexed at least four weeks next preceding the date of such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the date of such election, and the proposition to be submitted, to wit, that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of such municipal corporation the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof. In addition to said description, such territory shall also be designated in such notice by some appropriate name or other words of identification, by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at any election at which the question of such annexation is submitted as in this act provided. The electors in such territory shall be directed by such notice to vote upon such question in the manner hereinafter set forth in this section. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty to establish, and in such notice of election to designate, the voting precinct or precincts and the place or places at which the polls will be open for such election in such territory so proposed to be annexed, which said place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such territory, if any such there be. The legislative body of such municipal corporation is empowered to, and it shall, appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such territory, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. Upon the ballots to be used at such election, there shall be printed the words "shall (giving the name or other designation of the territory proposed to be annexed, as stated in the notice of election) be annexed to the city of (stating name of city)?—Yes," and "shall (giving the name or other designation of the territory proposed to be annexed, as stated in the notice of election) be annexed to the city of (stating name of city)?—No," and there shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the annexation of the territory referred to in such proposition to the municipal corporation named therein; and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No," the vote of such elector shall be counted against such annexation. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the laws of this state concerning general elections, except as herein otherwise provided. The judges and inspector of such election for each polling place shall immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections, and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets, and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, until said canvass is completed. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted and showing the whole number of votes cast thereon in the territory proposed to be annexed, the number of votes cast therein in favor of annexation, and the number of votes cast therein against annexation.

Should majority in outside territory favor. Question submitted in city.

§ 3. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election held in the territory proposed to be annexed to any municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory on the question of such annexation are in favor of annexation, such legislative body may, by ordinance, approve such annexation, or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such annexation, shall then submit to the electors of such municipal corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law. Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election in the territory proposed to be annexed. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as above provided, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting, holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election. [Amendment of April 2, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 26.]

Record of votes cast. Should majority favor. Annexation complete. Territory of a city may not be annexed.

§ 4. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in any municipal corporation at which the question of annexation of new territory thereto was submitted, as in this act provided, the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall cause a record to be made, and entered upon its minutes, showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon such question at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast against annexation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting on the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such new territory and of the election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of the said new territory was submitted and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, together with a statement showing the dates of such elections in said new territory and in said municipal corporation, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such elections, and containing a description of such territory. If such annexation has been approved by ordinance of such legislative body, as herein authorized, a certified copy of such ordinance, giving the date of its passage, shall be substituted in said document in place of the copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation provided for in case such annexation was not approved by ordinance. Said document, in either case, shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed and described therein, shall be deemed to be and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as hereinafter provided. No territory which, at the time of the presentation of a petition to the legislative body of any municipal corporation for the annexation of such territory thereto forms any part of any municipal corporation, shall be annexed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment of April 2, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 27.]

Question of taxing annexed territory to pay indebtedness of city. Proposition submitted. Notice to specify improvements, etc. Should majority favor. Annexation complete. When property subject to taxation.

§ 5. Whenever any municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall have incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition presented to the legislative body of such municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such municipal corporation, shall be, whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of, said municipal corporation, and the property therein be, after such annexation, subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay any specified portion of such bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the filing of such petition or theretofore authorized. If such request shall be made in said petition, proceedings shall be had thereon, and an election shall be called and held in the territory proposed to be annexed, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two of this act, excepting that the notice of election shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted to wit: that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of, such municipal corporation, the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof, and that the property therein, shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay such specified bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the said annexation, or indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds of such municipal corporation thereafter to be issued. The said notice shall, in general terms, specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness; and upon the canvass of the returns of the votes cast in any territory proposed to be annexed at any election held therein under the provisions of this section, if it shall appear that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory are in favor of annexation, the legislative body of such municipal corporation may, by ordinance, approve such annexation; or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such annexation, shall submit to the electors thereof the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation in the same manner as provided in section three of this act, and if it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation at which such question shall have been submitted, that a majority of the qualified electors thereof voting upon the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, like proceedings shall thereupon be taken, and with the same force and effect as provided in sections three and four of this act. The provisions of sections two, three and four of this act, so far as applicable, shall apply to annexation under the provisions of this section. From and after the date of the filing in the office of the secretary of state of the document containing a copy of the record of the proceedings for the annexation of such new territory to such municipal corporation, as provided in section four of this act, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed, and described therein, shall be deemed, and shall be, complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, and the property within such annexed territory shall be taxed to pay the bonded indebtedness or liability of such corporation, specified in said notice, equally with the property within such municipal corporation as it existed prior to the filing of such petition.

The property in any such new territory annexed to any municipal corporation, under the provisions of this act, after twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March, and before the completion of the assessment roll of such municipal corporation, shall be subject to taxation for municipal purposes for the fiscal year following said first Monday in March. [Amendment of April 2, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 28.]

This section was also amended April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 305.

Propositions to annex two or more bodies of territory may be voted on at one time.

Failure of one proposition does not affect others. Case of territory not contiguous; exception.

§ 6. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent the submission to the electors of any municipal corporation as separate propositions to be voted upon separately at one and the same election therein, of the questions of the annexation to any such municipal corporation of two or more bodies of outside territory, each of which is contiguous to such municipal corporation, or to one such body of outside territory that is contiguous. Whenever, upon proceedings had and taken and at elections called and held in accordance with the provisions of this act, the electors of each of two or more such bodies of outside territory have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to the same municipal corporation, the legislative body of such municipal corporation must submit to the electors thereof, as separate propositions, each to be voted upon separately and without regard to the others, the question whether each such bodies of new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such questions may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or they may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special election at which the submission of such questions is not prohibited by law. The notice of such election shall state, as separate propositions to be submitted at such election, the question of the annexation of each body of new territory, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the notice of an election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of only one body of new territory thereto is submitted; and the question as to each such body of new territory, shall be printed upon the ballots to be used at such election and the same shall be voted upon, separately, in like manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the submission of the question of the annexation of one body of such new territory. The provisions of section three of this act shall apply to such election in all respects the same as in the case of an election where only one such question is submitted; provided, however, that the annexation of any such body or bodies of new territory, upon the question or questions of the annexation of which a majority of the votes cast thereon at such election shall have been cast in favor thereof, shall not be affected or prejudiced in any manner, in the event that a majority of the votes cast at such election upon the question or questions of the annexation of any other body or bodies of new territory, shall have been cast against the annexation thereof, except that in the case of any such body of new territory which is not contiguous to said municipal corporation, but which is contiguous to one of said bodies of new territory that is contiguous to said municipal corporation, no majority vote in favor of such annexation of such body of new territory not contiguous to said municipal corporation shall be effective for any of the purposes of this act, unless also there shall have been cast at said election a majority vote in favor of the annexation of the said intervening body of new territory which is contiguous to said municipal corporation, and through which last named body of new territory contiguity with said municipal corporation is established by said body of new territory theretofore not contiguous with said municipal corporation.

Questions deemed adopted. Record of canvass of returns. Records not to include propositions that failed.

If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting separately upon the question or questions of the annexation of any one or more bodies of new territory, except as last above provided in this section, are in favor thereof, such question or questions shall be deemed adopted, and the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall forthwith make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in each such body of new territory, at which the electors residing therein shall have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, as hereinbefore provided, and of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation at which the questions of the annexation of each such bodies of new territory were submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, together with a statement showing the date of the elections in each such body of new territory, and in such municipal corporation, and the time and result of the canvass of the returns of such elections; provided, however, that the aforesaid record and statement as to any number of such annexations may be included in one document; and provided, further, that said clerk, or other officer, shall not include in said copy or statement any record of the votes cast or the elections held upon the proposition of the annexation of any such body of new territory, which proposition shall have failed of adoption under the provisions of this section. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of each body of new territory described therein, and so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed to be, and shall be complete, and thereafter each such body of annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, with the same force and effect as in the case of other annexations under this act. [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 307.]

Petition for annexation to be made to only one municipality.

§ 7. Whenever a petition for the annexation of any new territory to any municipal corporation has been received by the legislative body thereof, as in this act provided, no petition, filed under this or any other act, asking for the annexation, in whole or in part, of the territory described in such petition, to any other municipal corporation, shall be presented to the legislative body of such other municipal corporation, and the last mentioned legislative body shall not submit the question of the annexation of such territory or any part thereof to the electors of such other municipal corporation, until the question of the annexation thereof to the municipal corporation whose legislative body received the petition first in this section mentioned shall have been submitted to the electors residing in such territory, and a majority of electors voting upon such question in such territory, shall have voted against the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, or, in the event that a majority of the electors in such territory voting therein shall have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, until the question of such annexation shall have been submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation, and a majority of the electors thereof voting upon such question, shall have voted against the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation. In the event any election authorized by this act is not called or held in the manner or within the time specified in this act, all proceedings relating to such consolidation shall be and become null and void.

Five electors may file notice of intention to circulate petition for annexation. Resolution acknowledging notice of intention. Adverse result of election; no new petition within fifteen days.

Any five electors of a district in which it is proposed to circulate a petition asking for annexation of the territory included in such district as herein provided, may file with the legislative body of the municipal corporation to which such territory is sought to be annexed, a notice declaring their intention to circulate and file a petition asking for the annexation of the territory included in such district and described in said notice. Upon the receipt of any such notice of intention, such legislative body may, within five days thereafter, adopt a resolution acknowledging the receipt thereof and approving the intention of the petitioners to circulate such petition. Within thirty days after the adoption of such resolution no petition filed under this or any other act, asking for the annexation of all or any portion of the territory described in said notice of intention shall be filed with any other municipal corporation. If, upon the holding of the election in the territory sought to be annexed to said municipal corporation in the manner herein provided, the result of such election is adverse to such annexation, no new petition embracing the same territory, or any portion thereof, shall be filed with said municipal corporation within fifteen days after the result of such election has been canvassed and declared. [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 309.]

Adding territory to wards of city.

§ 8. The legislative body of any municipal corporation which is or shall be divided into wards, and to which territory has been heretofore or shall be hereafter annexed, under the provisions of this act, must by ordinance either so alter the boundaries of the wards of such municipal corporation as to include such annexed territory in one or more wards adjoining such annexed territory, or make of such annexed territory one or more additional wards; provided, that the number of wards shall not be so increased as to exceed the number which such municipal corporation may have according to law. In altering the boundaries of wards, or creating new wards, regard must be had to the number of inhabitants, so that each ward shall contain, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, exclusive of persons ineligible to citizenship in this state.

Legislative districts not affected.

§ 9. Nothing in this act contained shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district.

Expenses. Road tax uncollected to belong to city. Applies to all taxes.

§ 10. All proper expenses of proceedings for annexation of territory under this act, whether such annexation shall be made and completed or not, shall be paid by the municipal corporation so annexing or attempting to annex such territory. In the event that a tax for road purposes has been levied by the board of supervisors of any county against property situated in territory which, subsequent to such levy, is annexed to any municipal corporation under the provisions of this act, but which, at the time of such annexation has not been collected, then all such taxes so uncollected shall be and become the property of the municipal corporation to which such territory is annexed, and the same shall, with other county taxes, be collected by the county tax collector, and by him paid into the county treasury of said county, after which the same shall, by the county treasurer, be paid to such municipal corporation, upon proper warrant therefor. The town or city clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such municipal corporation, shall, at any regular meeting of the board of supervisors of said county, present, and file a verified claim for any money thus due such municipal corporation, setting forth the facts, and the date of such annexation, and the amount in the hands of said county treasurer so due such municipal corporation. Such claim shall be audited by the board of supervisors in the manner in which other claims against the county are audited, and if the amount thereof is correct, the same shall be allowed, and the county auditor instructed to draw his warrant for said amount against the road fund of the district in which such annexed territory is situated. This section shall apply to all such taxes not paid into the county treasury prior to the taking effect of this act.

Act of 1889 not repealed. Alternative method provided. Title of act.

§ 11. This act shall not repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19, 1889, or acts amendatory to said act, but is intended and does provide an alternative method for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations. When any proceedings for the annexation of territory to any municipal corporation are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereof as may hereafter be adopted, and no other, shall apply to such proceedings. This act may be designated and referred to as the "annexation act of 1913." [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 310.]

See, ante, Act 3054.

1. Jurisdiction to annex—School district.

—It is immaterial, so far as the jurisdiction of a board of trustees of a municipality is concerned, to annex contiguous territory, that the territory proposed to be annexed lies in a school district separate from that in which the city is located.—Mitchell v. Henry, 31 Cal. App. Dec. 597.

2. School district—Annexation of part—Becomes a part of city school district.

—Upon the annexation by a city of the sixth class of part of a school district of which the city is not a part, thus bringing about a division of the territory of the city between two school districts, the annexed territory is ipso facto taken out of the school district of which it was formerly a part and made a part of the district of which the city is either the whole or a part.—Mitchell v. Henry, 60 Cal. Dec. 532.

3. Territory part inhabited and part uninhabited—Procedure.

—Where a part of a body of land to be annexed to a municipality is inhabited and another part uninhabited, the procedure of the act of 1913 should have been followed as to the inhabited portions, and the procedure laid down in the act of 1899 as to the uninhabited portions.—People v. Lemoore, 37 Cal. App. 79, 174 Pac. 93.

4. Sources of information as to sufficiency of petition not limited to registration lists.

—The city council is not limited as to the method to be pursued in informing its members as to the sufficiency of a petition for annexation of territory under the municipal corporations annexation act (Stats. 1913, p. 587, as amended, Stats. 1915, p. 305); but they are limited as to the source of their information to the records of the last registration of voters in the designated territory to be annexed.—Wolfskill v. City Council of Los Angeles, 178 Cal. 610, 614, 174 Pac. 45.

5. Signatures to petition—Report of city clerk—Determination of sufficiency.

—Where the city clerk, under instructions from the city council, performs the ministerial duty of examining the last registration of electors within the designated territory to be annexed under the municipal corporations annexation act, and reports the result to the city council, the latter is sufficiently informed to enable them to determine as to the sufficiency of the petition for annexation.—Wolfskill v. City Council of Los Angeles, 178 Cal. 610, 614, 174 Pac. 45.

6. Pending annexation proceeding—Organization of city including territory.—

Where valid annexation proceedings were pending the board of supervisors had no jurisdiction to entertain or act upon a proceeding to organize a city including the territory sought to be annexed, since the annexation act of 1913 as amended in 1915, in effect provided for the exclusiveness of annexation proceedings.—People ex rel. Pasadena v. Monterey Park, 40 Cal. App. 715, 181 Pac. 825.

7. Mandamus to compel calling special election.—

Under the municipal annexation act of 1913 a petition signed by one-fourth of the qualified electors of a city filed with the legislative body thereof, gave to such body the power and imposed the duty to call a special election for the consolidation of such municipality with an adjacent and contiguous one, and a certificate of sufficiency by the city clerk is not necessary.—Hirons v. Clare, 38 Cal. App. 608, 177 Pac. 291.

ANNEXATION OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY ACT OF 1899.

ACT 3056—An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of incorporated towns and cities by the annexation of uninhabited territory thereto, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipality, and for the districting, government and municipal control of annexed territory.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval March 2, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 37.

Petition, notice, hearing, protest. Election. Annexation, when complete. Indebtedness.

§ 1. The boundaries of any incorporated town or city may be altered and new uninhabited territory annexed thereto, incorporated, and included therein, upon proceedings being taken as in this act provided. The legislative body of any such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor, containing a description of the new uninhabited territory asked to be included in such corporation, and signed by not less than one-tenth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, must, without delay, notify the board of supervisors of the county in which said town or city is located of the fact of the filing of such petition. Upon the receipt of such notification, it shall be the duty of said board of supervisors to cause notice to be published for a period of five days, setting forth by general description the land sought to be annexed to the said municipality, and announcing the time and place when and where objections to said annexation will be heard. Any person owning any land so sought to be annexed, may object to said annexation by filing a written remonstrance with the said board of supervisors. At the time specified in said notice, or at such other time as may be fixed by postponement, the said board of supervisors shall hear the said protestations, and unless the remonstrances are filed by the owners of any single tract of land exceeding five acres in area, or by the owners of more than one-half of the land sought to be annexed, the decision of said board of supervisors upon said protestations shall be final and conclusive. In the event that the owners of more than one half of the land so sought to be annexed, or the owners of any single tract of land exceeding five acres in area, file remonstrances against such annexation, said protestations shall be sustained by said board of supervisors, and shall be a bar to any further proceedings under the provisions of this act for the period of one year. In the event that there are no protestations filed, or, if filed, if the same are overruled by said board of supervisors, and the said board shall, by resolution, consent to the annexation of said new uninhabited territory by the municipality, it shall then be the duty of the legislative branch of said municipality to submit to the electors of such municipality the question whether or not said new territory shall be annexed to, and incorporated in, and made a part of, such municipal corporation. Such question shall be submitted at a special election to be held for that purpose, or at any municipal election. Notice of said election shall be published in a newspaper, printed in such city or town, at least once a week for a period of two weeks next preceding such election. Said notice shall state that it is proposed to incorporate the territory sought to be annexed as a part of such municipal corporation, and invite the electors of said city or town to vote upon such proposition, by marking their ballots "For annexation," or "Against annexation." In said notice, the territory sought to be annexed may be generally described in such manner as to apprise the voters of the particular land sought to be annexed. Said legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty to establish, and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places at which the polls will be opened in said city or town, and said elective body is empowered to appoint the officers of such election, who shall be for each voting place at least two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be qualified elector of said city. The judges and inspectors of such election shall, immediately upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up and certify the returns of the ballots cast at their respective polling places as quickly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this state, and deposit all said returns with the clerk of said city or town. Said legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the said returns are filed with the said clerk of said city or town, meet and proceed to open and canvass said returns, and immediately upon the completion of such canvass cause a report thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of votes cast, and the number cast in favor of annexation, and the number cast against annexation; and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the votes cast is in favor of annexation, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of the clerk of such legislative body shall make and certify, under the seal of said municipal corporation, and transmit to the secretary of state, and to the board of supervisors of the county in which said city or town is located, a copy of said report so entered upon its minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election, and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the secretary of state and the clerk of said board of supervisors. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be a part of such municipal corporation for all intents and purposes, except only that no part of such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation. No territory which at the time the said petition for proposed annexation is presented to said legislative body forms any part of any incorporated city or town shall be included under the provisions of this act.

Altering boundaries of wards on annexation.

§ 2. The legislative body of any incorporated city or town which is or shall be divided into wards, and which territory has been heretofore or shall be hereafter annexed, must by ordinance so alter the boundaries of the wards of said municipal corporation as to include such annexed territory, in one or more wards adjoining such annexed territory, or may form such annexed territory into one or more additional wards; provided, that the number of wards shall not be so increased as to exceed the number which said municipal corporation may, according to law, have.

Senatorial and assembly districts not affected.

§ 3. Nothing in this act provided for shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district.

Expenses, city annexing territory to pay.

§ 4. All proper expenses of proceedings for annexation of territory under this act, whether such annexation shall be made and completed or not, shall be paid by the municipal corporation so annexing or attempting to annex such territory.

Effect on prior laws.

§ 5. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to repeal the provisions of any act now providing for the annexation of inhabited territory, but territory shall be deemed uninhabited, for the purposes of this act, unless the occupants are bona fide residents thereof.

Time of taking effect.

§ 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval.

See Act 3054 and notes.

1. Territory part inhabited and part uninhabited.—Procedure.—Where a part of a body of land to be annexed to a municipality is inhabited and another part uninhabited, the procedure of the act of 1913 should have been followed as to the inhabited portions, and the procedure laid down in the act of 1899 as to the inhabited portions.—People v. Lemoore, 37 Cal. App. 79, 174 Pac. 93.

ANNEXATION VALIDATION ACT OF 1915.

ACT 3057—An act to validate proceedings for the annexation of territory to, incorporation in, and inclusion thereof, within municipal corporations.

History: Approved May 25, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 835. Prior act, having the same tenor and effect, of May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1424.

Annexation of territory to cities validated.

§ 1. Any territory which purports to have been heretofore annexed to, incorporated in, and included within a municipal corporation under "An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory, in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19, 1889, and the acts amendatory thereof, the certified record whereof, showing the facts required in said act, shall have heretofore been filed by the secretary of state as required in said act, is hereby declared to be and to have been since the filing of said record, duly annexed to, incorporated in, and included within such municipal corporation; and all proceedings for the annexation of such territory are hereby validated and declared legal.

EXCLUSION ACT OF 1889.

ACT 3059—An act to provide for changing the boundaries of cities and municipal corporations, and to exclude territory therefrom.

History: Approved March 20, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 433. Amended March 21, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 715. Prior act of March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 356, was probably superseded in part by the present act, and entirely by the amending act of 1905. See notes.

Exclusion of territory and changing boundaries of municipal corporations.

§ 1. The boundaries of any city or municipal corporation may be altered, and territory excluded therefrom after proceeding had, as required in this section. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of such corporation, shall upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than a majority of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal election held therein, submit to the electors of such corporation the question whether such territory as is proposed by such petition shall be excluded from such municipal corporation and cease to be a part thereof. Such question shall be submitted at a special election to be held for that purpose, and such legislative body shall give notice thereof by publication in a newspaper printed and published in such corporation for a period of four weeks prior to such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be so submitted, and shall designate specifically the boundaries of the territory so proposed to be excluded. And the electors shall be invited thereby to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "For exclusion" or "Against exclusion," or words equivalent thereto; such legislative body shall also designate the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be excluded, which place or places shall be that or those usually used for that purpose within such territory, if any such there be, and for the purposes of this act, the qualified electors residing in the territory proposed to be excluded shall be entitled to vote at the polls in such territory, and not elsewhere. Such legislative body shall also appoint and designate in such notice the names of the officers of election. Such legislative body shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat. The votes cast in such territory so proposed to be excluded shall be canvassed separately, and if it shall appear on such canvass that a majority of all the votes cast in such territory, and a majority of all the votes in such corporation, shall be for exclusion, such legislative body shall, by an order entered upon their minutes, cause their clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, to make and transmit to the secretary of state a certified abstract of such vote, which abstract shall show the whole number of electors voting in such territory, the whole number of electors voting in such corporation, exclusive of such territory, the number of votes cast in each for exclusion, and the whole number of votes cast in each against exclusion. From and after the date of filing such abstract, such exclusion of territory from such municipal corporation shall be deemed complete, and thereafter such territory shall cease to be a part of such municipal corporation; provided, that nothing contained in this act shall be held to relieve in any manner whatsoever any part of such territory from any liability for any debt contracted by such municipal corporation prior to such exclusion; and provided further, that such municipal corporation is hereby authorized to levy and collect from any territory so excluded, from time to time, such sums of money as shall be found due from it on account of its just proportion of liability for any payment on the principal or interest of such debts. Such assessment and collection shall be made in the same manner and at the same time that such assessment and collection is levied and made upon the property of such municipal corporation for any payment on account of such debts; and provided further, that any such territory so excluded from any municipal corporation may at any time tender to the legislative body of such municipal corporation the amount for which such territory is liable on account of such debts, and after such tender is made, such authority as is herein given such municipal corporation to levy and assess taxes on such excluded territory shall cease; provided, however, that after an election shall have been held for the exclusion of any portion of a municipal corporation, if the vote shall be against exclusion, no election for the exclusion of the same territory shall again be held within three years from the date of such former election. [Amended 1905, p. 715.]

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

The amending act of 1905, contained the following:

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Editor's note: The code commissioners say the act of March 19, 1889, was superseded, in part at least, by the present act. They give no reasons. With trifling exceptions the only difference between the two acts is the omission from the later act of section 2 of the former, which made certain provisions for rights and remedies in case exclusion was voted down. This section was certainly not superseded, either by the present act or by the amending act of 1905, and it is probably still in force.

A doubt may be said to exist upon the point, to which attention is called. As to the remainder of the earlier act, it was undoubtedly superseded, if not repealed, by the amending act of 1905.

1. Constitutionality.—Act is general law.—The act is a general law and constitutional.—People ex rel. Connolly v. Coronado, 100 Cal. 571, 572, 35 Pac. 162.

2. Comparison between acts.—For a comparison between the two acts approved March 19th and March 20th, respectively, 1889, both dealing with the exclusion of territory from municipalities.—See People ex rel. Miller v. Common Council, 85 Cal. 369, 24 Pac. 727.

3. Purpose of act—Right of elector and property owner—Mandamus denied.—The exclusion act of 1889 (Stats. 1889, p. 356) was intended to provide for ordinary reasonable changes of the boundaries of cities and not as a means for the practical disincorporation of cities; and where it appears that the extent and proportion of the population sought to be excluded from a city would leave less than one-half the population necessary to form a municipal corporation, the right of an elector and property owner to a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to call an election for the purpose of submitting the question of exclusion to the electors will be denied.—Wiedwald v. Dodson, 95 Cal. 450, 30 Pac. 580.

4. Applies to San Diego.—The act applies to the city of San Diego, and empowered that city to exclude the territory known as Coronado Beach thereof.—People ex rel. Connolly v. San Diego, 100 Cal. 571, 35 Pac. 162.

5. Adjustment of corporate debts.—In case of exclusion of territory from a municipality the legislature is empowered to adjust the burden as to existing corporate debts, and may change such adjustment at will where constitutional rights are not involved.—Johnson v. San Diego, 109 Cal. 468, 42 Pac. 468.

6. Equitable imposition of burden.—Where the existing corporate debt was for moneys expended within the territory remaining after exclusion, and none invested in the excluded territory, it is not inequitable to impose the whole burden on the former.—Johnson v. San Diego, 109 Pac. 468, 42 Pac. 468.

EXCLUSION OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY ACT OF 1913.

ACT 3060—An act to provide for changing the boundaries of cities and municipal corporations, and to exclude uninhabited territory therefrom.

History: Approved June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 703.

Excluding uninhabited territory from cities. Notice to be published. Objection to exclusion. When more than half of owners remonstrate. Election. Voting places, etc. Election returns. Exclusion deemed complete.

§ 1. The boundaries of any city or municipal corporation may be altered, and uninhabited territory excluded therefrom, after proceedings had, as required in this section. The legislative body of any municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor, containing a description of the uninhabited territory proposed to be excluded from said corporation, and signed by not less than one tenth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed on the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, must, without delay, notify the board of supervisors of the county in which said town or city is located of the fact of filing such petition. Upon receipt of such notification it shall be the duty of said board of supervisors to cause a notice to be published in said county for a period of five successive days in case there is a daily newspaper therein, or in case where there is only a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper published therein then, for two successive weekly or semi-weekly publications, setting forth by general description the land sought to be excluded from the said municipality and announcing the time and place when and where objections to said exclusion will be heard. Any person owning any land so sought to be excluded may object to said exclusion by filing a written remonstrance with the said board of supervisors. At the time specified in said notice, or at such other time as may be fixed by postponement, the said board of supervisors shall hear the said protestations, and unless the remonstrances are filed by the owners of more than one half of the land sought to be excluded, the decision of said board of supervisors upon said protestations shall be final and conclusive. In the event that the owners of more than one half of the land sought to be excluded, or the owners of any single tract of land exceeding five acres in area, file remonstrances against such exclusion, said protestations shall be sustained by the board of supervisors and shall be a bar to any further proceedings under the provisions of this act for the period of one year. In the event that there are no protestations filed or if filed, if the same are overruled by said board of supervisors, and the said board shall by resolution consent to the exclusion of said uninhabited territory by the municipality, it shall then be the duty of the legislative branch of said municipality to submit to the electors of such municipality the question whether or not said territory proposed to be excluded shall be excluded from said municipal corporation. Such question shall be submitted at a special election to be held for that purpose, or at any municipal election. Notice of said election shall be published in a newspaper, printed in such city or town, at least once a week for a period of two weeks next preceeding such election. Said notices shall state that it is proposed to exclude the territory sought to be excluded from said municipal corporation and invite the electors of said city or town to vote upon such proposition by placing a cross (X) opposite the words "For exclusion" or the words "Against exclusion" to indicate whether they vote for or against the exclusion of such territory. In said notice the territory sought to be excluded may be generally described in such manner as to apprise the voters of the particular land or territory sought to be excluded. Said legislative body is hereby empowered and it shall be its duty to establish and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, or places at which the polls will be opened in said city or town, and said elective body is empowered to appoint the officers of such election, who shall be for each voting place at least two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of said city or town. The judges and inspectors of such election shall immediately upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up and certify the returns of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, as quickly as possible, in the manner provided in the laws of this state, and deposit all said returns with the clerk of said city or town. Said legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after said returns are filed with the clerk of said city or town, meet and proceed to open and canvass said returns, and immediately upon the completion of such canvass cause a report thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of votes cast and the number cast in favor of exclusion and the number cast against exclusion; and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of votes cast is in favor of exclusion, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of the clerk of such legislative body shall make and certify, under the seal of such municipal corporation, and transmit to the secretary of state and to the board of supervisors of the county in which said city or town is located, a copy of said report so entered upon its minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the secretary of state and the clerk of said board of supervisors. From and after the date of filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the exclusion of such territory so proposed to be excluded shall be deemed and shall be complete and thenceforth such extended territory shall cease to be a part of such municipal corporation, for all intents and purposes; provided, that nothing contained in this act shall be held to relieve in any manner whatsoever any part of said territory from any liability for any debt contracted by such municipal corporation prior to such exclusion; and provided, further, that such municipal corporation is hereby authorized to levy and collect from any territory so excluded from time to time such sums of money as shall be found due from it on account of its just proportion of liability for any payment on the principal or interest of such debts.

Legislative district not affected.

§ 2. Nothing in this act shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district.

Expenses.

§ 3. All proper expenses of proceedings for exclusion of uninhabited territory under this act, whether such exclusion shall be made and completed or not, shall be paid by the municipal corporation so excluding or attempting to exclude such territory.

CENSUS.

ACT 3062—An act to authorize any city, or city and county of this state to take its census.

History: Approved February 25, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 28.

Legislative body may take census.

§ 1. The council, or other legislative body of any city in this state, and the board of supervisors, or other legislative body of any city and county of this state, is hereby authorized, whenever said council, board of supervisors, or other legislative body, may deem it necessary, between the years of taking the federal census, to take the census of such city, city and county, in the manner prescribed by section 2 of this act.

Manner of taking census.

§ 2. Said council, board of supervisors, or other legislative body of any city, or city and county of this state electing to take a census, as in this act provided for, shall pass a resolution of intention declaring its intention to cause such census to be taken by one or more suitable persons appointed therefor by such council, board of supervisors, or other legislative body, at the expense of said city or cities desiring such census taken, and such census shall, by such persons so appointed, be taken of all the inhabitants of such city, or city and county, and in said census the full name of each person shall be plainly written and the names alphabetically arranged and regularly numbered in one complete series, and when completed shall be verified before any officer authorized to administer oaths, and be filed with the clerk of such city, or city and county.

Certified copy.

§ 3. A certified copy of such census shall be prepared by said clerk after being so filed, and shall be filed by him with the secretary of state for this state, and thereupon the same shall be known and be the official state census of said city, or city and county.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Taking of census: See Political Code, § 4055.

CONSOLIDATION ACT OF 1909.

ACT 3063—An act to provide for the consolidation of municipal corporations.

History: Approved March 11, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 282. Amended April 27, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1199.

Consolidation of municipalities, proceedings for.

§ 1. Two or more municipal corporations, each one of which is contiguous to the other, or to one of the others of said municipal corporations, either one or more of which shall be incorporated under general laws, or operating under a freeholders' charter, may become consolidated into one municipal corporation, to be thereafter governed in the name and under the general municipal incorporation law, or freeholders' charter, as the case may be, under which the greater or greatest in population of such municipal corporations, as shown by the last federal census, may be governed, pursuant to proceedings had and taken in accordance with the provisions of this act. If any one or more of said municipal corporations shall have been incorporated subsequent to the taking of the last federal census, the greater or greatest in population of such municipal corporations shall, for the purposes of this act, be deemed to be the municipal corporation in which the larger or largest vote was cast at the last preceding general state election.

Submission of question to electors. Special election.

§ 2. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of the one of said municipal corporations having the greater or greatest population, ascertained as hereinbefore provided, shall, upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than one-fifth of the qualified voters of each of said municipal corporations designated in said petition and proposed to be consolidated, as shown by the total number of votes cast at the last preceding general state election in each of said municipal corporations respectively, forthwith submit to the qualified electors of each of such corporations the question whether such municipal corporations shall become consolidated into one municipal corporation, to be governed in the name, and under the freeholders' charter, or as a city of the class under the general municipal incorporation law, as the case may be, under which the greater or greatest in population of such municipal corporations, ascertained as hereinbefore provided, may be governed at the time such petition is so received. Such legislative body shall designate a day upon which a special election shall be held in each of such municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of each of said municipal corporations the question whether such consolidation shall be effected, and shall cause written notice that such petition has been received, and of the date of such election, to be given by the clerk thereof to the council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of each of the other of such municipal corporations.

It shall thereupon be the duty of the legislative body of each of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated to forthwith give notice of such election by publication in a newspaper printed, published and circulated in such municipal corporation, and designated for that purpose, by such legislative body, if any such newspaper be printed and published therein, at least once a week for four successive weeks prior to such election. If there be no newspaper printed, published and circulated in any one or more of such municipal corporations, the legislative body thereof shall cause such notice to be posted in three of the most public places in such municipal corporation in which there is no such newspaper for at least four weeks prior to such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition so to be submitted, the names of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, the date of such election, which date shall be within twenty days after the expiration of the publication or posting of such notice, and shall be the same for all such municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated. The legislative body of each of such municipal corporation shall establish, and in such notice of election shall designate the election precinct or precincts for said special election and the place or places at which the polls therefor will be opened in each municipal corporation proposed to be consolidated respectively; and in establishing such election precincts, such legislative body may consolidate the precincts which existed in such municipal corporation for the holding of the last preceding general state election, into special election precincts and to a number not exceeding three for each such special election precinct, and shall number such special election precincts so established consecutively, and each such special election precinct so established shall, for the purpose of such election, be known by the number so designated. Such notice shall direct the electors of each municipal corporation so proposed to be consolidated to vote upon the proposition of such proposed consolidation in the manner hereinafter provided. The legislative body of each such municipal corporation shall appoint officers of election from the registered electors of each precinct, or special election precinct, so established, as aforesaid, whose names appear upon the last assessment-roll of such municipal corporation, to serve as election officers only in the election precinct in which they are registered and actually reside, to constitute the election board for such precinct, which shall consist of two judges and one inspector. Upon the ballots to be used at such election there shall be printed the words "for consolidation," and "against consolidation," in separate lines, and there shall be a voting square at the right of and opposite to each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X), in the voting square after and opposite to the printed words "for consolidation," his vote shall be counted in favor of consolidation; if he shall stamp a cross

(X) in the voting square after and opposite to the printed words against consolidation, his vote shall be counted against consolidation. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the general laws of this state concerning general elections, except as herein provided.

The judges and inspectors of each such election precinct shall immediately on the closing of the polls canvass the ballots, make up and certify the tally-sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling-places, seal up, and immediately return the ballots and tally-sheets as hereinafter provided. As soon as all the ballots are counted and sealed up, a statement must be attached to the tally-sheets showing the total number of votes cast, the number of votes cast in favor of consolidation, the number of votes cast against consolidation in each such election precincts and such statement must be signed by the members of the election board. The ballots and tally-sheets and returns shall be delivered to and deposited with the clerk of the legislative body of the municipal corporation, which received the petition hereinbefore mentioned, and submitted the question of such consolidation. In all particulars except as hereinbefore provided said canvass shall be conducted and said ballots and tally-sheets shall be returned as provided by law for general elections. The legislative bodies of each of such municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated shall meet in joint convention at the regular place of meeting of the legislative body of the one of such municipal corporations that received the petition hereinbefore mentioned and submitted such question of consolidation as hereinbefore provided, on the Monday next succeeding the day of such election at the hour of ten o'clock a. m. of said day, for the purpose of canvassing the returns of said election and certifying the result thereof; provided, however, that the presence of a majority of the members of each of such legislative bodies at such joint convention shall constitute a quorum thereof, and shall be sufficient to enable such joint convention to perform the duties herein prescribed. The president of the council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of the municipal corporation in which such joint convention is held, shall be ex-officio president of such joint convention, and the city clerk of such municipal corporation shall be ex-officio the clerk thereof. Such joint convention shall at the time hereinbefore appointed, meet and proceed to canvass said returns, and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting if practicable, and in any event, within three days thereafter. Such canvass by such joint convention shall be conducted and completed as follows: The returns of the votes cast in each such municipal corporations shall be canvassed separately, and in such order as said joint convention, by a majority vote, shall direct. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass said joint convention shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the total number of votes cast in each such municipal corporation, the number thereof cast in each in favor of consolidation, and the number thereof cast in each against consolidation. If it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of the votes cast in each such municipal corporation shall be in favor of such consolidation, such joint convention, by an order entered upon its minutes shall declare the result and cause the clerk thereof to make an original abstract of the result of such election in each such municipal corporation, which abstract shall show the total number of votes cast at such election in each such municipal corporation, the number of votes cast in each for consolidation, and the number of votes cast in each against consolidation. Said abstract shall be signed by the president of such joint convention, and attested by the clerk thereof, under the seal of the municipal corporation in which such joint convention shall be held. Said clerk shall also make certified copies of such abstract equal in number to the number of municipal corporations in which such election was held; one of which he shall file in his office, as city clerk of the municipal corporation in which such joint convention was held, and the other certified copies of such abstract shall be delivered one to each of the clerks of the other municipal corporations in which such election was held, within three days after the completion of such canvass by such joint convention; and the same shall be presented to the legislative body of each such municipal corporations by the clerk thereof at its next regular meeting after the delivery thereof to him, as aforesaid, and recorded upon the minutes of such legislative body. The clerk of such joint convention shall keep a record of its proceedings, and upon the completion of such canvass shall file such record in his office, as clerk of the municipal corporation in which such joint convention shall be held. Upon the recording of such abstracts in the minutes of the legislative body of each municipal corporation, the clerk thereof shall certify that fact to the city clerk of the municipal corporation in which such joint convention was held, who shall transmit to the secretary of state the said original abstract of the result of said election, made and signed as hereinbefore provided, and said original abstract shall be filed by the secretary of state in his office immediately upon receiving the same, and a certificate of the filing of such original abstract in his office shall be by the secretary of state transmitted forthwith to the clerk of the municipal corporation in which such joint convention was held.

In the event that the one of such municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, having the greater or greatest population ascertained as hereinbefore provided, shall be operating under a freeholders' charter, such consolidation shall be deemed to be completed, and such municipal corporations shall be deemed to be consolidated into a new municipal corporation upon the filing of such original abstract in the office of the secretary of state, as aforesaid; and thereupon, said freeholders' charter shall ipso facto be and become the charter of such consolidated municipal corporation, which shall operate and be governed as a new municipal corporation in the name of and under such freeholders' charter of the one of such municipal corporations so consolidated having the greater or greatest population, and the other or others of the municipal corporations so consolidated shall be ipso facto dissolved, and disincorporated, and any freeholders' charter thereof shall be deemed to be surrendered and annulled. And upon the completion of such consolidation, such other or others of the municipal corporations so consolidated shall be deemed to be annexed to and joined to and merged into the one of said municipal corporation so operating under a freeholders' charter and having the greater or greatest population, as aforesaid.

In the event that the one of such municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, having the greater or greatest population, ascertained as hereinbefore provided, shall not be operating under a freeholders' charter, and the electors of all such municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated shall vote in favor of consolidation, and all other acts and proceedings for the consolidation of such municipal corporations into one municipal corporation shall have been severally, duly and regularly done and performed as hereinbefore provided, and the original abstract mentioned in this section of this act shall have been filed in the office of the secretary of state as aforesaid, thereupon the legislative body of the one of such municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated having the greater or greatest population, shall proceed to call a special election to be held in all the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, for the election of the officers required by law to be elected in corporations of the class to which the consolidated municipal corporation shall belong when such consolidation is completed. Such election shall be held within ninety days after the filing of such original abstract in the office of the secretary of state, as hereinbefore provided, and shall be called and conducted in all respects in the manner prescribed, or that may hereafter be prescribed by law for municipal elections in municipal corporations of such class.

The returns of such election shall be canvassed by the legislative body calling the same at its next regular meeting after such election, in the manner provided by law, and upon the completion of such canvass shall declare the result thereof, and cause the same to be entered upon its minutes. From and after the date of such entry, such consolidation shall be deemed to be completed, and such municipal corporation shall be deemed to be consolidated into a new municipal corporation; and thereupon such new corporation shall be governed in the name of and under the general law applicable to municipal corporations of the class to which such new corporation shall belong, with the powers conferred, or that may be hereafter conferred upon municipal corporations of such class. The officers elected at such election shall be entitled immediately to enter upon the duties of their respective offices, upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold said offices respectively only until the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Submitting question of payment of bonds at elections proposing the consolidation of municipalities. Two-thirds vote necessary to carry.

§ 2a. Whenever any one or more, or all of the municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated under the provisions of this act shall have incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition provided for in section 2 of this act may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors of such municipal corporations shall be whether such municipal corporations shall become consolidated as hereinbefore provided, and the property in any one or more, specified in said petition, of such municipal corporations, be, after such consolidation, subject to taxation, equally with the property in any other one or more, specified in said petition, of said municipal corporations, to pay any such bonded indebtedness, specified in said petition, of said other municipal corporation or corporations, outstanding at the date of such consolidation, or theretofore authorized. If such request shall be made in said petition, proceedings shall be had thereon, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of the preceding section, excepting that the notice of election shall, in addition to the matters required by the preceding section, distinctly state that it is proposed that such property as it may be proposed in said petition shall be taxed to pay such bonded indebtedness of any one or more of such municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, as specified in said petition, other than that in which such property is situated, shall, after the date of such consolidation, be taxed equally with the property within the municipal corporation or corporations originally incurring, or authorizing the incurring of, such indebtedness, to pay the same. The said notice shall, in addition, distinctly specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred outstanding at the date of the first publication or posting of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable or to be payable on such indebtedness; and upon the canvass of the returns of the election held in pursuance of such notice, if it shall appear that two-thirds of all the ballots cast in each municipal corporation the property in which it is proposed, as aforesaid, shall, after consolidation, be subject to taxation to pay any bonded indebtedness of any other of the said municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated shall be in favor of such consolidation, and that a majority of the votes cast in each of the other municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated shall be in favor of consolidation, and not otherwise, the same proceedings shall be had as in the preceding section it is provided shall be taken when a majority of the votes cast in each such municipal corporation shall be in favor of such consolidation, and such consolidation shall be deemed to be completed in the same manner, and with the same effect, as in said section provided. After the completion of the consolidation of such municipal corporations as hereinabove provided, the property in each of said municipal corporations which, in said petition and notice, it was proposed should be taxed to pay any specified bonded indebtedness of any other of said municipal corporations so consolidated, shall thereafter be taxed equally with the property within the municipal corporation originally incurring, or authorizing the incurring of, such bonded indebtedness for the payment of such specified indebtedness. [New section approved April 27, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1199.]

Titles to municipal property. Vested rights. Officers. Debts. Ordinances.

§ 3. Any municipal corporation created by the consolidation of municipal corporations under the provisions of this act, shall for all purposes be deemed and taken to be the successor of the several municipal corporations so consolidated therein; and the title to any property owned or held by any such municipal corporations or in trust therefor, or by any officer or board of any such municipal corporations, in trust or otherwise for public use, shall, upon such consolidation being completed, as hereinbefore provided, ipso facto be vested in such new municipal corporation, or any officer or board thereof which has the power to hold, or control such property under the freeholders' charter, or other law under which the greater or greatest in population of the municipal corporations so consolidated was theretofore governed.

That upon the completion of such consolidation, if the greater or greatest population of such municipal corporations so consolidated be operated under a freeholders' charter, all persons then in possession or occupancy of the several offices in each of the other municipal corporations so consolidated, shall immediately quit and surrender the possession of such offices, which shall thereupon cease and determine, and they shall forthwith deliver all moneys, funds, books, papers, archives, and records in their official custody, and all other property of such municipal corporations in their hands, or under their control to the proper officers under the freeholders' charter of such greater or greatest municipal corporation; and if the greater or greatest in population of such municipal corporations so consolidated be theretofore organized and existing under the general municipal incorporation laws of this state, all persons then in possession or occupancy of the several offices and in each of the municipal corporations so consolidated, shall, upon the completion of such consolidation, immediately upon the entry of the officers of the new municipal corporation created by such consolidation, upon the duties of their respective offices as hereinbefore provided, deliver all moneys, funds, books, papers, archives, and records in their official custody, and all other property of such municipal corporations in their hands, or under their control, to the proper officers of such new municipal corporation.

That any consolidation of municipal corporations effected under the provisions of this act shall not affect any debts, demands, liabilities or obligations of any kind existing in favor of or against any such municipal corporations so consolidated, at the time of such consolidation or any action or proceeding then pending in any court in which any such debt, demand, liability or obligation of any kind may be involved, or any action or proceeding brought by or against any such municipal corporation prior to such consolidation; but all such proceedings shall be continued and concluded, by final judgment or otherwise, in all respects the same as if such consolidation had not been effected. All ordinances of any municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act, except those of the one having the greater or greatest population shall immediately, upon such consolidation being effected, be deemed to be repealed and of no further force and effect; provided, however, that such repeal shall not operate to discharge any person, from any liability, civil or criminal, then existing, nor to affect any prosecution then pending for any violation of any such ordinances; and all cases then pending in any justices' court, police court or court of any recorder, or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of any of the municipal corporations so consolidated, except of the one having the greater or greatest population shall, upon such consolidation being effected be deemed ipso facto to be transferred to justices' court, police court or court of any recorder, or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of the one of such municipal corporations of the greater or greatest population having jurisdiction of proceedings or misdemeanors or of other actions civil or criminal of the character so transferred; provided further, that such repeal shall not apply to ordinances under which vested rights have accrued, or to ordinances relating to proceedings for street or other public improvements, or to proceedings for opening, extending, widening or straightening streets or other public places, or to proceedings for changing the grade thereof, all of which proceedings shall be continued and conducted by and under the authority of the new consolidated municipal corporation, with the same force and effect as if continued and conducted by and under the authority of the municipal corporation by which they were commenced. And all ordinances of the one of the municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act having the greater or greatest population, shall, upon the completion of such consolidation, ipso facto have full force and effect in and throughout the new consolidated municipal corporation.

No property to be taxed for prior indebtedness except in accordance with section 2a.

§ 4. That no property in any of the municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of any of the other such municipal corporations, contracted or incurred prior to or existing at the time of such consolidation, unless the proceedings for such consolidation shall have been had in accordance with the provisions of section 2a of this act, in which event the property in such municipal corporations shall be taxed as provided in said section. The legislative body of any consolidated municipal corporation, consolidated under the provisions of this act, shall provide for the payment of the indebtedness or liability of each of the municipal corporations consolidated therein, and shall levy and collect the necessary taxes therefor, and for that purpose, and for all other purposes, such consolidated municipal corporation and its officers, shall be deemed the successor and successors of such municipal corporations so consolidated and their respective officers. [Amendment approved April 27, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1201.]

Boroughs, right to establish.

§ 5. In the event that the greater or greatest in population of any municipal corporations, consolidated under the provisions of this act, shall be operating under a freeholders' charter, which charter shall at any time provide that a borough or boroughs may be established in any territory, or incorporated city or town, annexed to or joined to such municipal corporation, such borough or boroughs to be governed as in such charter provided; nothing in this act contained shall prevent or be construed to prevent any other municipal corporation, or any portion thereof so consolidated with the municipal corporation so operating under such freeholders' charter, from becoming a borough under such freeholders' charter, to be established and governed as therein provided.

Expenses of consolidation.

§ 6. All proper expenses of proceedings for the consolidation of municipal corporations under this act, shall, if such consolidation be made and completed, be paid by the consolidated municipal corporation; and if such consolidation be not completed, each municipal corporation shall pay the expenses of calling and holding said election within such corporation.

§ 7. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality—Act is general law.—The consolidation act is not in conflict with the provisions of the constitution restricting the formation of municipal corporations by general laws, and the act is not a "special" law within the meaning of section 6, article XII of the constitution.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

2. Same—Requirement as to government of consolidated city.—The requirement of the consolidation act that the consolidated city shall be governed by the laws and ordinances, and shall have the name, of the city having the largest population, is natural and reasonable.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

3. Same—School district destroyed or dissolved—Legislative discretion—Not special legislation.—If the result of the consolidation of two cities is to destroy or dissolve a school district, it is sufficient to say that the matter is entirely within the control of the legislature subject to the constitutional restrictions relative to special legislation.—Allen v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 720, 109 Pac. 486.

4. Petition—Finding as to sufficiency, conclusive.—A finding in a city council that a petition for the consolidation of two municipal corporations was signed by sufficient number of qualified voters of one of the corporations, is conclusive upon the courts in an action to compel the city clerk of that city to give notice of a consolidation election under the consolidation act of 1909, at least in the absence of a showing of conduct amounting to fraud on the part of the council.—Teague v. Board of Trustees, 156 Cal. 351, 104 Pac. 581.

5. Time of election—Provisions of act directory.—The provisions of the consolidation act as to the time for holding an election to complete the consolidation is directory and an election may be held for that purpose upon a proper notice even though statutory time has elapsed without an election being held.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

6. Calling election—Trustees of larger city act as agents of state.—The trustees of the city having the larger population, after consolidation, act as agents of the state in calling an election of officers to complete the consolidation, and not as the legislative body thereof.—Allen v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 720, 109 Pac. 486.

7. Same—Same—Mandamus.—Mandamus will lie to compel the trustees of the larger in population of two consolidated cities, neither of which have wards, to pass an ordinance calling an election to complete consolidation by directing the election of trustees at large instead of by wards.—Allen v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 720, 109 Pac. 486.

8. Same—Same—Same—Exercise of authority under act.—The act of the board of trustees of the larger of two consolidated cities in calling an election for officers to complete the consolidation are merely taking one of the steps required by the consolidation act; and in doing so, they exercise only the authority specially delegated to them by that act; and the fact that they are the legislative body of the larger municipality, is a mere mandatory circumstance and adds nothing to the powers conferred by the act.—Allen v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 720, 109 Pac. 486.

9. Class of consolidated city—Is not automatically changed on consolidation.—The mere fact that the consolidated city will have an aggregate population to justify reorganization as a city of a larger class is immaterial in an election of officers to complete the consolidation as required by the consolidation act of 1909, and such officers must be officers of the municipality of the class of the city having the larger population, and a taxpayer of the municipality having the lesser population is not entitled to a writ of mandate to compel the particular election of officers of the class which may be justified by the aggregate population of the future consolidated city.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

10. Same—Same—Population of consolidated city as shown by federal census immaterial.—In a proceeding to consolidate two municipalities where it appeared that, by either method of enumeration, the municipality having the larger population would become a municipal corporation of the fifth class if it were incorporated for the first time, it is immaterial whether the federal census or a special enumeration is accepted.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

11. Power of legislature absolute—Consolidated city governed by class of larger.—In the absence of a prohibition in the constitution the power of the legislature in reference to the consolidation of municipalities, is absolute, and the consolidation act is not affected by the provision that the consolidated municipality shall be governed by the class of the larger in population, without regard to the aggregate population of the consolidated cities.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

12. Same—Intent of act—Smaller city ceases.—The intent of the consolidation act is that the municipality having the least population shall cease upon consolidation; that all its ordinances shall be deemed repealed and that the consolidated corporation shall be governed and exist in accordance with the law in force in the municipality having the largest population.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

13. Same—Consolidation does not automatically create city of higher class.—The consolidation of a city of the fifth class and a city of the sixth class does not ipso facto result in the creation of a city of a fourth class although the consolidated city may thereupon be entitled to a classification as a city of the fourth class, and the consolidated city must retain the organization and laws of a city of the fifth class until organization into a city of the fourth class results in the manner prescribed by the classification act.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

14. Change of class after consolidation.—Where under the provisions of the consolidation act a consolidated city becomes a city of the fifth class, the election held to complete the consolidation must provide for the election of officers of a city of that class including a board of education of five members; and this entirely independent of what school district a city of the lesser class belonged to, the consolidated city will constitute one school district composed of the consolidated territory and governed as prescribed as a city of the sixth class.—Allen v. Board of Education, 157 Cal. 720, 109 Pac. 486.

15. Division of consolidated territory into wards, not provided for.—The consolidation act contains no authority for the division of the combined territory to the consolidated cities into wards, and the election of trustees of the consolidated city must be at large; and if the trustees of the consolidated city after the consolidation has been completed see fit, in the case of a city of the fifth class, to divide the consolidated city into wards, they may do so under the power conferred upon them by the municipal corporation act.—Allen v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 720, 109 Pac. 486.

16. Consolidation substantially an annexation.—A consolidation of two municipalities under the provisions of the present act is practically and substantially an "annexation" of the smaller city to the larger, and the same reasons exist for the continuation of the name, laws and organic act of the municipality having the greater population as in the case of the annexation of enumerated territory.—Williams v. Board of Trustees, 157 Cal. 711, 109 Pac. 482.

MUNICIPAL ANNEXATION ACT OF 1913.

ACT 3064—An act to provide for the consolidation of municipal corporations.

History: Approved June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 577. Amended (1) April 29, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 311; (2) April 2, 1917; in effect July 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 30.

Consolidation of municipal corporations.

§ 1. Municipal corporations situated in the same county may be consolidated in accordance with proceedings had and taken under the provisions of this act. Whenever municipal corporations are proposed to be consolidated under the provisions of this act, the one of such municipal corporations which has the greatest population as shown by the last federal census, or, in the event that any of said municipal corporations shall have been incorporated subsequent to the taking of the last federal census, the one of such municipal corporations which has the largest number of electors, as shown by the registration of electors of the county in which such municipal corporations are situated, shall, for the purpose of this act, be deemed to have the greatest population.

Petition. Election. Notice by publication. Voting precincts. Election officers. Ballot. Count of ballots. Canvass of returns. Declaration of result.

§ 2. Whenever a petition, signed by not less than one-fourth in number of the qualified electors of any municipal corporation, as shown by the registration of electors of the county in which such municipal corporation is situated, is filed with the legislative body thereof, asking that such municipal corporation and any other municipal corporation contiguous thereto, designated in such petition, and having a greater population, be consolidated, such legislative body must, without delay call a special election and submit to the electors of such municipal corporation the question whether such municipal corporations shall be consolidated. Such legislative body shall cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, if any such there be, printed and published in such municipal corporation so proposed to be consolidated with such other municipal corporation, at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. If there be no such newspaper, then such legislative body shall cause notice of such election to be given by the publication thereof in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the county in which such municipal corporation is situated, and by posting such notice in three public places in such municipal corporation, at least four weeks prior to such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, the names of the municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, and the date of such election, which date shall be within twenty days after the expiration of the publication of such notice. Such notice shall direct the electors to vote upon the question of such proposed consolidation in the manner hereinafter provided. Such legislative body is hereby empowered to, and it shall be its duty, to establish, and in such notice to designate, the voting precinct or precincts and the place or places at which the polls will be open for such election, which place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places in the municipal corporation in which such election is held, if any such there be. The legislative body of such municipal corporation is hereby empowered to, and it shall appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he or she is appointed to act as an officer of such election. Upon the ballot to be used at such election, there shall be printed the words, "Shall the cities of (giving names of municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated) be consolidated?" And opposite such proposition to be voted upon, and to the right thereof, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed on separate lines, with voting squares. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of such consolidation; and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No," the vote of such elector shall be counted against such consolidation. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the general laws of this state concerning municipal elections, except as herein otherwise provided. The judges and inspector of such election for each polling place shall, immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections, and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets, and returns to, and deposit the same with the clerk of the legislative body of the municipal corporation in which such election was held. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, until said canvass is completed. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall declare the result of such election and shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted, and showing the whole number of votes cast thereon in such municipal corporation, the number of votes cast therein in favor of consolidation, and the number of votes cast therein against consolidation.

Should majority favor. Question submitted to larger city.

§ 3. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election mentioned in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in the municipal corporation in which such election was held, upon the question of consolidation submitted at such election, are in favor of such consolidation, the clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall forthwith make, under the seal thereof, and deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of the other of the municipal corporations proposed to be so consolidated, to wit, the municipal corporation having the greater population, a copy in duplicate of the record of such canvass, together with a statement of the proposition submitted at such election. The clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation so having the greatest population shall present one such copy of said record and said statement to such legislative body without delay, and retain the other to be filed as hereinafter provided. Upon receiving the copy of such record so presented such legislative body may, by ordinance, approve such consolidation, or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such consolidation, shall then submit to the electors of such other of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated and having the greatest population, the question whether such consolidation shall be effected. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law. Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election mentioned in section two of this act. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as provided in this section, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting, holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election. [Amendment of April 2, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 30.]

Declaration of result. Should majority favor. Consolidation complete.

§ 4. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in the municipal corporation having the greater population of two municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, at which the question of such consolidation was submitted, as provided in section three of this act, the legislative body of such municipal corporation having the greater population shall declare the result of such election, and shall cause a record to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted, and showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon the question of such consolidation at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of consolidation, and the number thereof cast against consolidation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, voting on the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall promptly make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation having the greater population, at which the question of such consolidation was submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, and one copy theretofore delivered to him as aforesaid, of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in the other of the municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, together with a statement showing the date of each such election in each such municipal corporation, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of each such election. If such consolidation has been approved by ordinance of such legislative body, as herein authorized, a certified copy of such ordinance, giving the date of its passage, shall be substituted in said document in place of the copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipality provided for in case such consolidation was not approved by ordinance. Said document, in either case, shall be filed in his office by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof. Upon the filing of said document in the office of secretary of state, such consolidation shall be deemed to be complete and such municipal corporations shall be deemed to be consolidated and the one of such municipal corporations not having the greatest population, shall be deemed to be, and shall be, annexed and joined to and merged into the one of said municipal corporations having the greatest population. [Amendment of April 2, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 31.]

Question of taxation to pay bonded indebtedness. Notice to specify improvements.

Canvass of returns. Should majority favor. Question submitted to larger city.

When property subject to taxation.

§ 5. Whenever any two municipal corporations are proposed to be consolidated, under the provisions of this act, and either or both of such municipal corporations shall have theretofore incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition provided for in section two of this act may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors of the municipal corporation proposed to be consolidated shall be, whether such municipal corporation shall be consolidated, as hereinbefore in this act provided, and the property in such municipal corporations, shall after such consolidation, be subject to taxation at the same rate, to pay any of such bonded indebtedness specified in said petition; provided, however, that if such petition contains a request that the property in such municipal corporations be, after such consolidation, subject to taxation to pay all of the bonded indebtedness incurred or authorized of such municipal corporations, such bonded indebtedness and improvements for which such bonded indebtedness was incurred or authorized may be described in such petition and in all other proceedings hereunder as "the bonded indebtedness of (insert the names of the municipal corporations)," without specifying the improvements. If such request be made in such petition, proceedings shall be had thereon and the question of such consolidation shall be submitted to the electors in such municipal corporation not having the greatest population, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two, excepting that the notice of election shall, in addition to the matters required by said section, distinctly state that it is proposed that the property in such municipal corporations shall be taxed at the same rate to pay such bonded indebtedness set forth in said petition. Except as hereinabove provided, the said notice shall, in addition, in general terms specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness.

The returns of such election held in pursuance of such notice shall be canvassed, as provided in section two of this act, by the legislative body of the municipal corporation in which such election was held, and immediately upon the completion of such canvass, such legislative body shall declare the result of such election and shall cause a record of such canvass to be made and entered upon its minutes, as provided in said section two, and there shall be included in such record a statement of such bonded indebtedness incurred and outstanding, or authorized, as set forth in the notice of such election, for the payment of which the property in said municipal corporations shall be subject to taxation as set forth in the notice of such election. If it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all votes cast at such election upon the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the clerk of such legislative body in which such election was held shall forthwith deliver a copy in duplicate of such record and statement to the clerk of the legislative body of the other of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, and having the greatest population. Thereupon the legislative body of such other municipal corporation having the greatest population may, by ordinance, approve such consolidation; or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such consolidation, shall submit the question of such consolidation to the electors of such other municipal corporation at an election therein in the same manner in all respects as provided in this section for submitting to the electors in such municipal corporation not having the greatest population, and, in other respects, in the same manner as provided in section three of this act. After the passage of said ordinance approving such consolidation, or, if such consolidation was not approved by ordinance if, upon the canvass of the returns of such election it shall appear therefrom, that a majority of the votes cast at such election in such other municipal corporation having the greatest population, upon the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the same proceeding shall be had as provided in section four of this act, and such consolidation shall be deemed to be, and shall be, completed in the same manner, and with the same effect as in said section provided. After the completion of the consolidation of such municipal corporations, as hereinbefore provided, the property in said municipal corporations, so consolidated shall thereafter be taxed at the same rate, to pay such bonded indebtedness set forth in said petition. [Amendment of April 2, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 32.]

This section was also amended April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 311.

Questions of consolidation with more than one city may be separately submitted in larger city. When submitted. Notice. Consolidation with one not affected by rejection of another. Should majority favor. Consolidation completed on filing document.

§ 6. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent the submission to the electors of any municipal corporation having a greater population than either of the other municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated therewith, as separate propositions to be voted upon separately at one and the same election in the municipal corporation so having the greater population, of the questions of the consolidation therewith of two or more such other municipal corporations, each of which is contiguous to such municipal corporation having the greatest population. Whenever, upon proceedings had and taken, and at elections called and held in accordance with the provisions of this act, the electors of each of two or more such other municipal corporations have voted in favor of the consolidation thereof with the same municipal corporation, having the greatest population, the legislative body of such municipal corporation must submit to the electors thereof, as separate propositions, each to be voted upon separately and without regard to any of the others, the question whether each such other municipal corporation shall be consolidated with such municipal corporation so having the greatest population. Such questions may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or they may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special election therein, except an election at which the submission of such questions is prohibited by law. The notice of such election shall state, as separate propositions to be submitted at such election, the question of the consolidation of each such other municipal corporation, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the notice of an election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the consolidation of only one other municipal corporation therewith is submitted; and the question, as to each such other municipal corporation, shall be printed upon the ballots to be used at such election and the same shall be voted upon, separately, in like manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the submission of the question of the consolidation therewith of one such other municipal corporation. The provisions of this act shall apply to the holding and conducting of such election in all respects the same as in the case of an election when only one such question is submitted; provided, however, that the consolidation of such municipal corporation having the greatest population and any other municipal corporation or corporations, upon the question or questions of which consolidation a majority of votes cast thereon at such election shall have been cast in favor thereof, shall not be affected or prejudiced in any manner, in the event that a majority of the votes cast at such election upon the question or questions of the consolidation of such municipal corporation having the greatest population and any other municipal corporation or corporations shall have been cast against such consolidation. If it shall appear from a canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation having the greatest population, voting separately upon the question of the consolidation of the same and any one or more other municipal corporations are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation having the greatest population shall promptly make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation having the greatest population at which the questions of such consolidations were submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, and one of the copies, delivered to him as aforesaid, of the record of the canvass of the returns in each of the other municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, together with a statement showing the date of the elections in such municipal corporations and in each such other municipal corporation proposed to be consolidated therewith, and the time and result of the canvass of the returns of such elections; provided, however, that the aforesaid record and statement as to any number of such consolidations may be included in one document. Upon the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, each such consolidation shall be deemed to be, and shall be complete, and each municipal corporation so consolidated with the municipal corporation having the greatest population, shall be deemed to be, and shall be consolidated with, annexed and joined to and merged into the one of such municipal corporations having the greatest population.

Municipalities to petition for only one consolidation at a time. Five electors may file notice of intention to circulate petition for annexation. Resolution acknowledging notice of intention. Adverse result of election; no new petition within fifteen days.

§ 7. Whenever a petition for the consolidation of any two municipal corporations has been received by the legislative body of one of them as in section two of this act provided, no other petition, filed under this or any other act, asking for the consolidation of the municipal corporation, whose legislative body received such petition, to any other municipal corporation shall be presented to the legislative body of such municipal corporation, and such legislative body shall not submit the question of the consolidation of such municipal corporation to any other municipal corporation, until the question of the consolidation of the municipal corporation whose legislative body received the petition first in this section mentioned, shall have been submitted to the electors residing therein, and a majority of electors voting upon such question in such municipal corporation, shall have voted against such consolidation; or, in the event that a majority of the electors of such municipal corporation shall have voted in favor of such consolidation, until the question of such consolidation shall have been submitted to the electors of the one of such municipal corporations having the greater population and a majority of the electors of such last mentioned municipal corporation voting upon such question, shall have voted against such consolidation. In the event any election authorized by this act is not called or held in the manner or within the time specified in this act, all proceedings relating to such consolidation shall be and become null and void. Any five electors of a municipal corporation in which it is proposed to circulate a petition asking for the consolidation of said municipal corporation with another municipal corporation having a greater population as herein provided, may file with the legislative body of the municipal corporation having the greater population a notice declaring their intention to circulate and file a petition asking for the consolidation of the said municipal corporation having the lesser population described in said notice. Upon the receipt of any such notice of intention, such legislative body may, within ten days thereafter, adopt a resolution acknowledging the receipt thereof and approving the intention of the petitioners to circulate such petition. Within thirty days after the adoption of such resolution no petition filed under this or any other act, asking for the consolidation of the municipal corporation described in said notice of intention shall be filed with the legislative body thereof. If, upon the holding of the election in the municipal corporation having the lesser population in the manner herein provided, the result of such election is adverse to such consolidation, no new petition or notice of intention to circulate such petition for the consolidation of the same municipalities, shall be filed within fifteen days after the result of such election has been canvassed and declared. [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 312.]

Smaller municipal corporations consolidated deemed dissolved. New charter may be framed.

§ 8. Upon the completion of the consolidation, under the provisions of this act, of one or more municipal corporations with another municipal corporation having a greater population than any of the municipal corporations so consolidated therewith, each such municipal corporation so consolidated, other than the municipal corporation having the greatest population shall ipso facto be deemed to be and shall be dissolved and discontinued, and any freeholders' charter thereof shall be deemed to be, and shall be surrendered and annulled. In the event that the one of any municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act, having the greatest population, is governed under a freeholders' charter framed and adopted under the authority of the constitution of this state, and the other municipal corporation or corporations so consolidated therewith, shall be deemed to be, and shall be merged therein and shall be thereafter governed in the name of, and under the freeholders' charter of, and as a part of, such municipal corporation having the largest population; and in the event that the one of any municipal corporations, consolidated under the provisions of this act, having the greatest population, shall be incorporated and organized as a municipal corporation under the general laws of the state providing for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations, the other municipal corporation or corporations so consolidated therewith shall be deemed to be, and shall be, merged therein and shall be thereafter governed in the name of, and as a part of the municipal corporation having the greatest population, which shall continue as a municipal corporation of the class, under such laws, to which such municipal corporation so having such greatest population belonged at the time of such consolidation; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any such consolidated municipal corporation, so governed under a freeholders' charter from framing and adopting a new charter, after such consolidation, or to prevent any such consolidated municipal corporation so governed as a municipal corporation under said general laws, from changing its class under such laws or from framing or adopting a freeholders' charter for its government, after such consolidation.

Larger city successor of others. Officers of smaller cities to surrender offices.

§ 9. Whenever municipal corporations are consolidated under the provisions of this act, the one of such municipal corporations having the greatest population shall be deemed and taken to be, and shall be the successor of each of the other municipal corporations consolidated therewith; and the title to any property owned or held by each such other municipal corporation, or in trust therefor, or by any officer or board thereof, in trust or otherwise for public use, shall upon such consolidation being completed, as hereinbefore provided, ipso facto be vested in the one of such municipal corporations so consolidated having the greatest population, or in such officer or board thereof as has the power to hold, or control, such property under the freeholders' charter or other law under which the one of such municipal corporations so consolidated having the greatest population was theretofore governed. Upon the completion of such consolidation, all persons then occupying or possessing the several offices of, or under the government of, each of the several municipal corporations so consolidated, other than that of the municipal corporation having the greatest population, shall immediately quit and surrender the occupancy or possession of such offices, which shall thereupon cease and terminate, and they shall severally forthwith deliver all moneys, funds, books, papers, archives and records in their custody, and all other property of such municipal corporations respectively, in their hands, or under their control, to the proper officers of such municipal corporation so consolidated having the greatest population.

Debts, etc., not specified to remain debt of city incurring. Ordinances of municipalities having smaller populations deemed repealed. Exceptions.

§ 10. Except as in this act provided, any consolidation of municipal corporations effected under the provisions of this act shall not affect any debts, demands, liabilities or obligations of any kind existing in favor of or against any such municipal corporations so consolidated, at the time of such consolidation, or any action or proceeding then pending in any court in which any such debt, demand, liability or obligation of any kind may be involved, or any action or proceeding brought by or against any such municipal corporation prior to such consolidation; but all such proceedings shall be continued and concluded, by final judgment or otherwise, in all respects the same as if such consolidation had not been effected. All such rights or liabilities shall be and become the rights and liabilities of the consolidated city. All ordinances of any municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act, except those of the one having the greater or greatest population, shall immediately, upon such consolidation being effected, be deemed to be repealed and of no further force and effect; provided, however, that such repeal shall not operate to discharge any person from any liability, civil or criminal, then existing, nor to affect any prosecution then pending for any violation of any such ordinances; and all cases then pending in any justice's court, police court or court of any recorder, or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of any of the municipal corporations so consolidated, except of the one having the greater or greatest population, shall, upon such consolidation being effected, ipso facto be deemed to be and be transferred to the justice's court, police court or court of any recorder, or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of the one of such municipal corporations having the greater or greatest population which has jurisdiction of proceedings or misdemeanors or of other actions, civil or criminal, of the character so transferred; provided, further, that such repeal shall not apply to ordinances under which vested rights have accrued, or to ordinances relating to proceedings for street or other public improvements, or to proceedings for opening, extending, widening or straightening streets or other public places, or to proceedings for changing the grade thereof, all of which proceedings shall be continued and conducted by and under the authority of the municipal corporation so consolidated having the greater or greatest population, with the same force and effect as if continued and conducted by and under the authority of the municipal corporation by which they were commenced. And all ordinances of the one of the municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act having the greater or greatest population shall, upon the completion of such consolidation, ipso facto have full force and effect in and throughout the consolidated municipal corporations. [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. of 1915, p. 313.]

No property to be taxed for outstanding indebtedness except that acted upon.

§ 11. That no property in any of the municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of any of the other such municipal corporations, contracted or incurred prior to or existing at the time of such consolidation, unless the proceedings for such consolidation shall have been had in accordance with the provisions of section five of this act, in which event the property in such municipal corporations shall be taxed as provided in said section. The legislative body of the one of the municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act, having the greater or greatest population, shall provide for the payment of the indebtedness or liability, not otherwise in this act provided for, of each of the municipal corporations consolidated therewith in the following manner, to wit: Said city shall levy and collect the necessary taxes therefor, in each such city respectively, and for that purpose, and for all other purposes, such greater or greatest in population of any municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act, and its officers, shall be deemed the successor and successors of such other municipal corporations so consolidated therewith and their respective officers. [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 314.]

Borough government.

§ 12. In the event that the greater or greatest in population of any municipal corporations, consolidated under the provisions of this act, shall be operating under a freeholders' charter, which charter shall at any time provide that a borough or boroughs may be established in any territory, or incorporated city or town, annexed to or joined to or consolidated with such municipal corporation, nothing in this act contained shall prevent or be construed to prevent any other municipal corporation, or any portion thereof so consolidated with the municipal corporation so operating under such freeholders' charter, from becoming a borough under such freeholders' charter, to be established and governed as therein provided.

Expenses of proceedings.

§ 13. All proper expenses of proceedings for the consolidation of municipal corporations under this act, shall, if such consolidation be made and completed, be paid by the consolidated municipal corporation; and if such consolidation be not completed, each municipal corporation shall pay the expenses of calling and holding any election within such corporation at which the question of such consolidation was submitted.

Municipal corporations not contiguous may consolidate.

§ 13½. Two municipal corporations not contiguous to each other, may vote upon the question of consolidation and may consolidate in the manner and under the conditions set forth in this section, and not otherwise. Whenever unincorporated territory contiguous to two municipal corporations not contiguous to each other, has voted in favor of annexation to the one of said municipal corporations having the larger population, but the proceedings upon such annexation have not yet been determined by the vote thereon of said municipal corporation having the larger population, then said municipal corporations may vote upon the question of consolidation, and may consolidate as elsewhere in this act provided for voting upon the consolidation of municipal corporations and the consolidation thereof; but no affirmative vote given upon the question of the consolidation of such municipal corporations shall be effective for any purpose whatever, unless at or before the time of the voting upon the question of such consolidation by the said municipal corporation having the larger population, said last named municipal corporation shall vote or shall have voted in favor of the annexation of said unincorporated territory contiguous to both said municipal corporations. [New section added April 25, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 315.]

Act of 1909 not repealed. Alternative method provided. Title of act.

§ 14. This act shall not repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for the consolidation of municipal corporations," approved March 11, 1909, or acts amendatory to said act, but is intended to and does provide an alternative method for the consolidation of municipal corporations. When any proceedings for the consolidation of municipal corporations are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereof as may hereafter be adopted, and none other, shall apply to such proceedings. This act may be designated and referred to as the "municipal consolidation act of 1913." [Amendment of April 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 315.]

1. Quo warranto proper proceeding—Validity contested by taxpayer.—Quo warranto is the proper proceeding to determine whether a consolidation of two municipalities is valid where such validity is contested by taxpayer of the smaller corporation and the larger corporation is attempting to assume jurisdiction over its territory.—Coe v. Los Angeles, (Cal. App.) 183 Pac. 822.

2. Canvass of returns of election—Taxpayer interested.—A taxpayer is beneficially interested in a proceeding to require the trustees of a municipality to canvass the returns of an election held to consolidate such municipality with another, such consolidation bearing a particular relation to the question of the amount of taxes to be paid in the future by such taxpayer.—Taft v. Haas, 34 Cal. App. 309, 167 Pac. 306.

3. Same—Throwing out entire vote of precinct not justified.—A board of city trustees in canvassing the returns of a consolidation election are not justified in throwing out the entire vote of a precinct on the ground that the number of names on the precinct roster fell short of the number of names on the polling list and number of ballots cast, and mandamus will lie at the suit of a taxpayer to compel the counting of the vote of such precinct.—Taft v. Haas, 34 Cal. App. 309, 167 Pac. 306.

RATIFICATION OF CONVEYANCE OF CERTAIN PROPERTY.

ACT 3065—An act to ratify and confirm the conveyance of certain property to trustees for charitable or educational purposes by the city council or trustees of any city of less than fifty thousand inhabitants, or of any incorporated town.

History: Approved March 8, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 94.

Confirming conveyance of property for charitable or educational purposes.

§ 1. Wherever the city council or trustees of any city of less than fifty thousand inhabitants, or of any incorporated town, has by deed of trust conveyed property, or any portion thereof, that has been set apart for a public park, to trustees, for charitable or educational uses, such conveyance is hereby ratified and confirmed; provided, that no institution now existing or to be established on such property shall be private in its benefits, or sectarian in its work or teachings, or be to any extent under the management or control of or in any way tributary to any religious creed or order, church, or sectarian denomination whatsoever; provided further, that land so conveyed shall be kept open as public grounds by the trustees of such institutions as are or may be placed thereon, and that the public visitation of such grounds shall not be restricted, excepting by such reasonable regulations as park property and the proper maintenance of such institutions may require; provided, further, that property so conveyed shall revert to the grantors, whenever and so far as the grantees do not use the same in accordance with the stipulations of the deed of trust and with the requirements of this statute.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHANGE OF NAME OF FREEHOLDER CHARTER CITIES.

ACT 3066—An act authorizing municipal corporations, other than freeholder charter cities, to change their names, and providing the procedure therefor.

History: Approved March 3, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 138.

City, change of name, how accomplished. Statement of election. Where filed.

§ 1. The name of any city or municipal corporation within this state, except a freeholder charter city, may be changed upon proceedings taken as in this act provided. The council board of trustees or other legislative body of such corporation, shall, upon receiving a petition asking that the name of the city be changed, and stating the name to which it is proposed to change it, signed by not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal election held therein, submit to the electors of such corporation the question whether the name shall be changed as proposed in such petition. Such questions shall be submitted at a special election to be held for that purpose, and such legislative body shall give notice thereof by publication at least once a week for a period of four weeks, prior to such election, in a newspaper printed and published in such corporation.

Such notice shall distinctly state the proposed name, and the electors shall be invited thereby to vote for or against such proposed change of name. If upon canvassing the votes cast at such election it is found that two-thirds of the total number of votes so cast are in favor of the proposed change of name, the board of trustees shall file a statement of the holding of such election and the result thereof, with the secretary of state, and also the board of supervisors of the county in which the city or municipal corporation is situated, and from thenceforth and thereon the name shall be changed to that proposed at the said election.

Failure to carry, no further proceedings for ten years.

§ 2. If upon canvassing the votes cast at such election it is found that two-thirds of the total number of votes so cast are not in favor of such change of name, no further proceedings shall be had for a term of ten years thereafter.

§ 3. In all other respects not recited herein, the election herein mentioned, shall be held as provided by law for holding municipal elections in such municipality.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHANGE OF NAME FROM "TOWN" TO "CITY."

ACT 3067—An act authorizing any municipal corporation, using the word "town" in its corporate name, to change such word to "city" and providing the procedure therefor.

History: Approved March 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 93.

Changing "town" to "city," procedure.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation within this state, except freeholder charter city, may eliminate the word "town" in its corporate name and insert in place thereof, the word "city," as in this act provided. The council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such municipal corporation may, by ordinance, upon receiving a petition asking that the word "town" be eliminated or dropped from the corporate name of such municipality and the word "city" be substituted therefor, signed by not less than twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal general election held therein, eliminate the word "town" from the corporate name of such municipality and substitute in place thereof, the word "city." Upon the adoption of such ordinance, the clerk of such municipality must file a statement with the secretary of state and also with the board of supervisors of the county within which the municipal corporation is situate, stating the filing of such petition and the adoption of such ordinance and from thenceforth and thereon, the name "city" shall take the place of and be deemed substituted for the word "town" in such corporate name.

CHANGE OF NAME FROM "CITY" TO "TOWN."

ACT 3067a—An act authorizing any municipal corporation, using the word "city" in its corporate name, to change such word to "town" and providing the procedure therefor.

History: Approved April 2, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 25.

"City" may be changed to "town."

§ 1. Any municipal corporation within this state, except freeholder charter cities, may eliminate the word "city" in its corporate name and insert in place thereof, the word "town," as in this act provided. The council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such municipal corporation may, by ordinance, upon receiving a petition asking that the word "city" be eliminated or dropped from the corporate name of such municipality and the word "town" be substituted therefor, signed by not less than twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal general election held therein, eliminate the word "city" from the corporate name of such municipality and substitute in place thereof, the word "town." Upon the adoption of such ordinance, the clerk of such municipality must file a statement with the secretary of state and also with the board of supervisors of the county within which the municipal corporation is situate, stating the filing of such petition and the adoption of such ordinance and from thenceforth and thereon, the name "town" shall take the place of and be deemed substituted for the word "city" in such corporate name.

APPROVING LEASES OF TIDE LANDS.

ACT 3068—An act approving leases heretofore made by counties or municipalities of certain lands belonging to the state.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 987.

Leases of tide lands by counties confirmed—Improvement of premises.

§ 1. In all cases in which any county or municipality in the state of California has, prior to the first day of January, 1907, and subsequent to the first day of January, 1901, leased to any person or persons any tide or submerged lands belonging to the state, within the municipal boundaries of such county or municipality, or within boundaries over which it was at the time of any such lease, acting in the exercise of de facto authority, the exclusive right to the use and possession of such lands from the date of such lease, for the full term thereof, not exceeding fifty (50) years in any case, is hereby confirmed in the lessee or lessees thereof and their successors in interest; and priority in date of any such leases shall give priority in right; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be deemed or taken to confirm any such leases, unless the property therein described shall at all times during the continuance of such leases be applied by the lessees, or their successors in interest, to public or quasi-public uses; and provided, further, that within one (1) year from the date this act shall take effect said lessee or lessees, or their successors in interest, shall commence in good faith the improvement of said premises for the purposes aforesaid and shall prosecute the same to completion with reasonable diligence; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to extend or revive any lease which by its terms has expired, nor to apply to any interest or claim of interest other than under a lease.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force upon its passage.

1. Constitutionality — Legislature may ratify tideland leases.—The legislature is not precluded by the provisions of section 3 of article XV of the constitution, from ratifying a lease of tidelands made by the city of San Pedro, that section forbidding the grant but not the lease of tidelands within two miles of an incorporated city or town.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 161 Cal. 610, 119 Pac. 1073.

2. Same—"Tidelands"—Grant or sale forbidden.—The phrase "tidelands" as used in the constitution, are to be construed more broadly than as merely including lands covered by the daily efflux and influx of the tide, and such lands embrace those which in their natural condition may be properly described as submerged lands and the phrase will be interpreted so as to prevent such submerged lands from falling into the hands of private monopolistic ownership by grant or sale thereof.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 161 Cal. 610.

3. Same—Not special legislation.—The validating act is general in its terms, applicable to all leases of tidelands by cities of a certain class and is not invalid on the ground that it is special legislation.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 161 Cal. 610.

4. Same—Alienation of tidelands against public policy as well as fundamental law.—It is inconsistent with public policy as well as fundamental law to alienate the tidelands of the state, but it is also in accordance with a wise public policy to lease such lands in the interest of commercial enterprise and in view of the fact that the possession of such lands returns to the state at the expiration of the lease, no apprehension need be felt as to monopolistic control thereof.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 161 Cal. 610.

5. Same—"Grant"—"Lease"—The word "grant" as used in the constitution is to be taken in its ordinary and accepted sense, particularly where used in connection with the word "sale" and it does not embrace the concept of a "lease."—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 161 Cal. 610.

6. Lease of tideland by San Pedro confirmed by act.—The lease of its reclaimed tidelands made by the city of San Pedro on February 14, 1906, was confirmed and validated by the act of March 23, 1907, and a subsequent lease thereof to the same lessee was made to correct the former lease.—Koyer v. Miner, 172 Cal. 448, 454, 156 Pac. 1023.

7. Lease subsequent to act not confirmed.—A lease of submerged and tide lands within two miles of an incorporated town made subsequent to the enactment of the present act was not confirmed by that act.—People v. Banning Co., 166 Cal. 630, 138 Pac. 100; People v. Southern Pacific Co., 166 Cal. 630, 138 Pac. 100.

8. Lease by municipality—Attempted annexation—Void.—An attempted lease of tide and submerged land owned by the state in virtue of its sovereignty by a municipality which has undertaken to incorporate it within its territorial limits, is void; and where such land is attempted to be annexed by two neighboring municipalities and both attempt to lease it, the lease that is prior in time is validated under the curative act of 1907.—Wheatley v. Consolidated Lumber Co., 167 Cal. 441, 139 Pac. 1057.

PERMIT FOR COUNTY HIGHWAYS.

ACT 3069—An act authorizing any incorporated town, city or municipal corporation to permit the construction and maintenance of any state or county highway or boulevard over highways or streets in its incorporated limits, or any portion thereof, by the supervisors or highway commissioners of the county.

History: Approved March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 429. Amended June 4, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 386.

Use of streets as part of highway system permitted.

§ 1. Any incorporated city, town or municipal corporation in this state, is hereby authorized and empowered to permit by ordinance the use of its streets and highways by the board of supervisors or highway commissioners of the county, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining thereon any highway or boulevard, as part of a state or county system of roads in such incorporated limits, or any portion thereof; and the board of supervisors shall have power to construct and maintain such bridge or bridges on such highway or boulevard in such incorporated town or city as such board may deem necessary; and the board of supervisors shall have power to macadamize, or pave, curb or gutter, such highway or boulevard in such manner as it may determine, and the cost or expense thereof shall be paid out of the general fund of the county treasury. [Amendment approved June 4, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 386. In effect August 10, 1913.]

BOTANICAL GARDENS AND HISTORICAL MUSEUMS.

ACT 3070—An act authorizing municipal corporations, counties, and cities and counties to acquire and hold lands by purchase or otherwise, or by lease for a term of years, for the purpose of developing and encouraging agricultural, horticultural, or botanical products and exhibiting the same, or for the purpose of erecting, rebuilding or furnishing historical museums or art galleries thereon.

History: Approved March 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 655.

Exhibition of farm products.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation, county, or city and county in this state is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire and hold by purchase or otherwise, or by lease, lands situated within the limits thereof, for a term not exceeding fifty years, for the purpose of developing and encouraging agricultural, horticultural, or botanical products and for exhibiting the same, or for the purpose of erecting, rebuilding or furnishing historical museums or art galleries thereon under such terms and conditions as may be approved by the city council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of such municipal corporation, or by the board of supervisors of such county or city and county.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

WATERWORKS AND POWER PLANTS.

ACT 3071—An act granting to municipal corporations of the state of California, rights of way over public lands of the state for the location, construction and maintenance of waterworks and power plants; and the right to take material from such lands for the construction of such works and to take any water belonging to the state for the purpose of supplying any such municipality and its inhabitants with water.

History: Approved March 9, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 581.

Grant of rights of way over state lands. Right to take waters.

§ 1. That there is granted to every municipal corporation of the state of California, and right of way for the location, construction and maintenance of waterworks and works for the generation and distribution of electrical power, and for every necessary adjunct thereto, over any swamp, overflowed, or other public lands of the state, not otherwise disposed of or in use, not in any case exceeding in length or width that which is necessary for the construction of such works or adjuncts, or for the protection thereof, and not, in any case, exceeding one hundred feet in width along each side of the marginal limits of such works or adjuncts; also the right to take from any of the lands belonging to the state adjacent to the works of such corporation, all materials, such as wood, stone and earth, naturally appurtenant thereto, which may be necessary and convenient for the original construction of such works and adjuncts; and also the right to take any waters belonging to the state, not otherwise disposed of, now or hereafter flowing or existing in any stream or lake intersected, crossed, or trapped by said waterworks, so far as may be necessary to give such municipality and its inhabitants an ample supply of water for all municipal, domestic, irrigation and manufacturing purposes. Whenever any municipal corporation shall desire to take any of the said waters so belonging to the state, for the purposes mentioned in this act, the legislative authority thereof shall cause a notice that said municipal corporation intends to take such waters, to be posted and recorded in the manner provided in section 1415 of the Civil Code of California. Said notice shall be signed in the corporate name of such municipal corporation by its mayor, or other officer, authorized so to do by the legislative authority thereof. In taking any of said waters, under this act, such municipal corporation shall comply with and be subject to all the provisions of title VIII, sections 1410 to 1422, inclusive, of said Civil Code; provided however, that for the purpose of the taking of any of said waters by such municipal corporation, under the provisions of this act, the words "waterworks," as used herein, shall be construed to be the works by which such municipal corporation proposes to convey said waters, so taken from such stream or lake, to the place of intended use and store the same; and provided further, that the construction of said waterworks shall be deemed to be included in, and to be a part of, the construction of the works in which said municipal corporation intends to divert said waters, within the meaning of section 1416 of the said Civil Code.

Change of route, reversion of lands.

§ 2. If the route or location of any such works or adjuncts is changed so as not to cover or cross the lands selected, or the use of the land selected is abandoned, such selected lands revert, and the title thereto is reinvested in the state of its grantees free from all such uses.

Plat of lands to be furnished certain officers.

§ 3. When any selection of the right of way or land for such waterworks or adjuncts thereto is made by any municipal corporation, the legislative authority thereof must transmit to the surveyor general, controller of state and recorder of the county, in which the selected lands are situated, a plat of the lands so selected, giving the extent thereof and the uses for which the same is claimed or desired, duly verified to be correct, and if approved, the surveyor general must so indorse the plat and issue to the corporation a permit to use such right of way and lands, unless on petition properly presented to a court of competent jurisdiction, a review is had and such use prohibited.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

JOINT SEWERS, WATER MAINS AND OTHER CONDUITS.

ACT 3072—An act authorizing municipal corporations to permit other municipal corporations to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits therein, also to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits for their joint benefit, and at their joint expense, and to make and enter into contracts for said purposes.

History: Approved March 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 677. Amended (1) as to entire act except the title, March 7, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 300; (2) April 16, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 93; (3) May 3, 1919; in effect July 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 153.

One city may construct sewers, etc., for another.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation or sanitary district, under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the city council, or other legislative body thereof, is hereby authorized and empowered to permit any other municipal corporation or sanitary district to construct and maintain sewers, water-mains or other conduits in, across, or along the streets and other public places of such municipal corporation or sanitary district, and to use the same for such purposes, under the provisions of this act, and not otherwise. [Amendment approved March 7, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 300.]

Resolution to construct.

lution shall contain a description of the sewers, water-mains, or other conduits proposed to be constructed and maintained in such other municipal corporation or corporations or sanitary district or districts, and shall designate the streets, or other public places thereof, in, across or along which such sewers, water-mains or other conduits are so proposed to be constructed and maintained. Said resolution shall be accompanied by a request in writing, that the municipal corporation or sanitary district, on behalf of which the same is made, signed by the clerk thereof, be granted permission to construct and maintain the sewers, water-mains or other conduits described in said resolution. The city council, sanitary board or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or sanitary district receiving such request and a copy of such resolution may by ordinance (or by resolution in case of a sanitary district) grant such permission at its discretion, and under such terms and conditions as it shall therein prescribe. If the permission granted under the provisions of this section shall be for the construction and maintenance of sewers, the city council, sanitary board or other legislative body by any municipal corporation or sanitary district granting the same, may, as a condition to the exercising of such permission, require that said municipal corporation or sanitary district shall have the right to connect its sewers with the sewers to be constructed under such permission, and to use the same in connection with its sewer system, upon the payment by it of such proportionate part of the cost of construction and maintenance of such sewers to the municipal corporation or sanitary district by which the same shall be constructed, as may be determined by resolutions of the city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, or both municipal corporations or sanitary districts; such payment to be made at such times and in such amounts as may be so determined. [Amendment approved March 7, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 301.]

Contract to lowest bidder. City may construct.

§ 3. All contracts for the construction or completion of any sewers, water-mains or other conduits, or for furnishing labor or materials therefor, to be constructed by any municipal corporation or sanitary district in, across or along the streets of any other municipal corporation or corporations or sanitary district or districts, as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The city council, sanitary board, or other legislative body of the municipal corporation or sanitary district so constructing such sewers, water-mains or other conduits, under permission granted as in this act provided, shall advertise for at least ten days in one or more newspapers published in such municipal corporation or sanitary district (or in one or more newspapers published in the county in which said municipal corporation or sanitary district is situated, if there be no newspaper published in such municipal corporation or sanitary district), inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the labor and materials for the proposed work before any contract shall be made therefor. The said city council or sanitary board or other legislative body, shall require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder to insure the faithful performance of the contract work, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting such municipal corporation or sanitary district itself from constructing or completing such works, and employing the labor necessary therefor, without such advertisement for proposals or letting of a contract; and provided, further, that in any municipal corporation operating under a freeholders' charter, heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article XI of the constitution, and providing for a board of public works, all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the city council, or other legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall be done and performed by the board of public works thereof; and provided, further, that in case such charter or general law under which such municipal corporation or sanitary district is operating or existing, prescribes the manner of letting and entering into contracts for the furnishing of labor, materials or supplies, for the construction or completion of public works or improvements, the contracts, for such sewers, water-mains, or other conduits shall be let and entered into in conformity with such charter or general law. [Amendment approved March 7, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 302.]

Sewers, water-mains, etc., constructed by municipalities for joint use. Use of streets authorized.

§ 4. Whenever the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of two or more municipal corporations, two or more sanitary districts, or one or more municipal corporations, and one or more sanitary districts, shall by resolutions adopted by them determine and declare that it will be for the interest or advantage of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts to do so, such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, by their respective councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, may enter into a joint agreement authorizing and providing for the joint construction and maintenance of sewers, water mains, or other conduits situated in the streets or other public places of either or any of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, including the joint construction and maintenance of all necessary outfall sewers, whether constructed within or outside of the exterior boundaries of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, and by such joint agreement shall provide for the joint payment of the cost and expense of and for the joint use, benefit and maintenance of all such sewers, outfall sewers, water mains and other conduits, upon such terms and conditions, and under such regulations, as may be approved by the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or sanitary districts; and the city council, sanitary board or other legislative body of each such municipal corporation or sanitary district may, and are hereby vested with power to, bind and obligate such municipal corporations or sanitary districts to pay such proportionate part of the cost of the construction of such sewer, outfall sewer, water mains, or other conduits, at such times and in such installments as may be provided for in such joint agreement. All contracts for the construction of sewers, outfall sewers, water mains, or other conduits, under the provisions of this section shall be made and entered into by the one of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts designated by the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, and in the manner provided in section three of this act. Two or more municipal corporations, two or more sanitary districts, or one or more municipal corporations, and one or more sanitary districts, may also, by their city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, enter into an agreement or agreements with each other for the joint use by such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, of any sewers, outfall sewers, water mains, or other conduits therefore, constructed in whole or in part in the streets or other public places of either or any such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, upon such terms and conditions as they by mutual agreement may by their respective city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies, determine to be proper. Authority is hereby specifically granted to use the streets within the public corporations entering into such an agreement, for the construction and maintenance of sewers provided for by this section, and whenever it is necessary to extend such sewers without the limits of the public corporations entering into such joint or mutual agreement then authority is hereby granted to use public highways without the limits of an incorporated city for the construction and maintenance of such sewers subject only to the right of the board of supervisors to make reasonable police regulations for the protection of the highways so used. [Amendment of May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 153.]

This section was also amended March 7, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 302; April 16, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 93.

Payment for joint construction.

§ 5. Whenever any municipal corporation or sanitary district shall enter into a joint agreement for the joint construction and maintenance of sewers, outfall sewers, water mains or other conduits, as provided for in section four of this act, then the proportionate part of the cost and expense of the construction and maintenance of such sewers, outfall sewers, water mains or other conduits required to be paid by such municipal corporation or sanitary district, as provided for in the joint agreement entered into by any such municipal corporation or sanitary district, may be raised by any means provided by law including the issuance and sale of the bonds of such municipal corporation or sanitary district. [New section added May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 154.]

Right of eminent domain.

§ 6. Whenever, in the construction of any sewer, outfall sewer, water main or other conduit authorized or provided for by this act it shall become necessary to take or damage private property, all such property necessary may be condemned and taken by appropriate action under the right of eminent domain. Such action shall in all respects be subject to and governed by the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain; provided, that all such actions may be brought by and in the name of the one of the municipal corporations or sanitary districts designated by all of the municipal corporations or sanitary districts which have entered into such joint agreement for the construction thereof. [New section added May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 154.]

Original. [§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.]

In numbering the added sections the concluding section of the original act appears to have been overlooked.

TAX FOR PARK, MUSIC AND ADVERTISING.

ACT 3073—An act authorizing municipal corporations, other than freeholder charter cities, to levy and collect a tax for park, music and advertising purposes.

History: Approved April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 846.

City trustees may levy tax for parks, music and advertising purposes.

§ 1. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any city or municipal corporation within this state, except freeholder charter cities, may levy and collect a tax, not exceeding fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars, for the purpose of providing and maintaining parks and music, and for advertising purposes, and use and expend the money realized from such tax in any manner that may be deemed best by such council, board of trustees, or other legislative body. Such tax shall be in addition to all other taxes now authorized by law to be levied, and may be levied and collected for each fiscal year. The manner of using such tax and the time of collecting the same shall be provided by the ordinance levying such tax; provided, however, that such ordinance shall not become effective until the same shall have been submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation at a special election to be held for that purpose; and such legislative body shall give notice of such election by publication at least once a week for a period of four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such municipal corporation. Such notice shall contain a copy of said ordinance and the electors shall be invited thereby to vote for or against the same. If upon canvassing the votes at such an election, it is found that a majority of the votes so cast are in favor of said ordinance, the same shall become effective and said tax shall be levied and collected and used in the manner provided therein.

Election.

§ 2. Except as otherwise provided herein, the election herein mentioned shall be held as provided by law for holding municipal elections in such municipality, and the mode and manner of levying and collecting the tax herein provided shall be the same as apply to and govern in the assessment and collection of other municipal taxes.

PUBLIC UTILITY CROSSINGS OF HIGHWAYS, ETC.

ACT 3074—An act granting to municipal corporations of the state of California the right to construct, operate and maintain water and gas pipes, mains or conduits, electric light and electric power lines, and telephone and telegraph lines, along or upon any road, street, alley, avenue or highway, or across any railway, canal, ditch or flume.

History: Approved April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 852. Amended May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 345.

Municipalities may construct water mains, etc., on roads, etc., of other city, etc. Right granted by other city, etc.

§ 1. That there is granted to every municipal corporation of the state of California, the right to construct, operate and maintain water and gas pipes, mains or conduits, electric light and electric power lines, and telephone and telegraph lines, along or upon any road, street, alley, avenue or highway, or across any railway, canal, ditch, or flume which the route of such works intersects, crosses or runs along, in such manner as to afford security for life and property; but the municipality shall restore the road, street, alley, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch or flume thus intersected to its former state of usefulness, as near as may be; provided, however, that such municipality may not use any street, alley, avenue or highway within any other city and county or incorporated city or town, for such purpose, unless the right so to use the same is granted by a two-thirds vote of the governing body of such other city and county, or incorporated city or town; provided, also, that such grant of authority shall not be necessary in any case where the street, alley, avenue or highway, or portion thereof, proposed to be used for the purpose of constructing, operating or maintaining any such works, or any part thereof, is a necessary or convenient part of the route of such works, and, at the time construction thereof was commenced, or the plans adopted therefor, was located in unincorporated territory. [Amendment of May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 345.]

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Grant of right to construct pipe line—Subsequently incorporated city.—The acceptance by the city of Los Angeles of the grant made by the present act of the right to construct a pipe line across the public roads situated in unincorporated territory, manifested by a survey and location of the general route of such pipe line and by its request to the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county to pass an ordinance granting it such right for such pipe line, amounted to a contract or property right protected by the federal constitution, and such right was measured by the purpose for which the grant was made and accepted, and the city of Beverly Hills incorporated subsequent to the acceptance of such grant, became bound by the same and could not revoke it.—Beverly Hills v. Los Angeles, 175 Cal. 311, 165 Pac. 924.

2. Same—Grant depends on acceptance—Question of acceptance.—The legislative grant under the act of 1911, to construct certain utilities along and upon public highways, under certain conditions, applies to every municipality in the state, but contains no provision for formal acceptance of such grant by any city desiring to avail itself of the grant; hence, in the absence of such requirement, the question as to whether a city has accepted the grant or not must be determined from the action taken by it.—City of Beverly Hills v. Los Angeles, 175 Cal. 311, 165 Pac. 924.

3. Same—Grant accepted.—Where the intention of a city to accept the grant under the act is clearly indicated by the extent and nature of the work prosecuted by it, and has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in reliance upon the grant in the prosecution of a large water supply project, and has received from county supervisors a grant of the use of the highways for the project, the fact that the offer of the grant made by the state in the act in question was accepted by the city admits of no doubt.—City of Beverly Hills v. Los Angeles, 175 Cal. 311, 314, 165 Pac. 924.

4. Same—Acceptance constitutes a contract.—Where a city accepted the offer of the state contained in the act, for the purpose of constructing a pipe line for a water supply, a grant resulted, constituting a contract, the property right in which is protected by the constitution, and the extent of this right is measured by the purpose for which the grant was made and accepted.—City of Beverly Hills v. Los Angeles, 175 Cal. 311, 314, 165 Pac. 924.

5. Same—Grant became complete on acceptance—Right not dependent on actual laying of pipe line.—The grant under the act having been accepted for the construction of a pipe line in an entirety, between two termini, and the right to use the intervening highways for that purpose, the right to use the same attached and became effective as completely as though the pipe line had been actually laid.—City of Beverly Hills v. Los Angeles, 175 Cal. 311, 314, 165 Pac. 924.

FRANCHISES FOR STEAM-HEATING PIPES.

ACT 3075—An act authorizing any city and county or municipality within this state, power to grant franchises, to lay steam-heating pipes in the streets, roads, avenues, alleys and public highways, for the purpose of carrying steam to be used for heating purposes.

History: Approved April 12, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 895.

Franchises to lay steam-heating pipes.

§ 1. Power is hereby given to all cities and counties and municipalities within this state to grant franchises for the purpose of laying pipes in the streets, roads, avenues, alleys and public highways therein, for the purpose of carrying steam heat under high pressure; to be used, distributed and sold to the inhabitants therefor, for heating purposes.

The granting of such franchises shall be subject to the provisions of the act entitled "An act providing for the sale of street railroad and other franchises in counties and municipalities, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies, and repealing conflicting acts," and any act or acts amendatory thereof.

PERMITS FOR PASSAGEWAYS OVER OR UNDER ALLEYS.

ACT 3076—An act authorizing municipalities to grant permits for the construction and maintenance of passageways or other structures under or over public alleys for the purpose of connecting buildings located on abutting property.

History: Approved June 4, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 446.

Passageways over alleys permitted.

§ 1. Whenever the legislative body of any municipality in this state shall determine that the public interest or convenience require the construction and the maintenance of passageways or other structures under or over any public alley or alleys in such municipality, for the purpose of connecting buildings located on abutting property and facilitating the public use of the street or streets with which such alley or alleys connect, such legislative body shall have power to grant permits for the construction and maintenance of such passageways or other structures. Such passageways or other structures shall be so constructed and maintained as not to interfere with public traffic on the surface of the alley, and the use of such passageways or other structures shall at all times be subject to the regulation and control of the municipality. Each such permit shall be revocable at the pleasure of the legislative body.

PUBLIC UTILITIES ACT OF 1907.

ACT 3076a—An act authorizing any incorporated city, town or municipal corporation, to construct, equip, use, maintain and operate any works, road, railroad, tramway, power plant, telephone or telegraph line, or other necessary works or structures, for the preparation, manufacturing, handling or transporting of materials or supplies required in the construction or completion of any public work, improvement or utility, and to lease, acquire, by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, and hold and use lands and other necessary property for said purposes.

History: Approved March 18, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 597.

Cities may acquire and operate works, etc., for construction of public utilities.

§ 1. Any incorporated city, town or municipal corporation in this state is hereby authorized to construct, equip, use, maintain and operate any works, road, railroad, tramway, power plant, telephone or telegraph line, or other necessary works or structures, within or without such city, town or municipal corporation, or the county wherein such city, town or municipal corporation is located, for the preparation, manufacture, handling or transporting of any materials or supplies required in the construction or completion by such city, town or municipal corporation of any public work, improvement or utility, and, for the purpose of constructing, equipping, using, maintaining or operating any such works, road, railroad, tramway, power plant, telephone or telegraph line, or other necessary works or structures, such city, town or municipal corporation is hereby authorized to lease or acquire, by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, and hold and use any land, rights of way, water, water rights, quarry, gravel-bed or other mineral deposits, or any other necessary property, within or without such city, town or municipal corporation, or the county wherein such city, town or municipal corporation is located.

Limitation of act.

§ 2. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as extending or enlarging any limitation prescribed by law or municipal charter upon taxation, expenditure of public funds, or the incurring of indebtedness, by any city, town or municipal corporation.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

PUBLIC UTILITIES ACT OF 1911.

ACT 3077—An act relating to the acquisition, construction and operation of public utilities by municipal corporations.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1394.

Municipalities may acquire public utilities.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation of the state of California may acquire, construct, own, operate, or lease any public utility. A public utility, as the term is used herein, is defined to mean the supply of a municipal corporation alone, or together with the inhabitants thereof, or any portion thereof, with water, light, heat, power, transportation of persons or property, means of communication, or promoting the convenience of the public. The power to acquire and operate any public utility shall include the power to complete, reconstruct, extend, change, enlarge and repair any such public utility acquired, constructed, owned or operated by a municipality.

May acquire, etc., land easements.

§ 2. For such purpose any such municipal corporation may acquire, own, control, sell or exchange lands, easements, licenses and rights of every nature within or without its municipal limits, and may operate any such public utility within or without the municipal limits when necessary to supply such municipality, or the inhabitants, or any portion thereof, with the service desired.

May sell excessive water, etc.

§ 3. Whenever, in the operation of any such utility, any such municipality shall develop an excess of water, light, heat or power, over and above the amount thereof which is necessary for the use of such municipality and its inhabitants, or of such portion thereof as the legislative body of such municipality may determine shall be supplied therewith, then such municipality may sell, lease or distribute such excess of water, light, heat or power, outside of the corporate limits of such municipality.

Term of lease.

§ 4. No lease of any public utility shall be valid for a period of more than fifteen years and all such leases shall be let to the highest bidder at public auction.

§ 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT ACT OF 1915.

ACT 3077a—An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities therein; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements.

Title as amended: An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements.

History: Approved April 20, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 99. Amended May 6, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 670.

Municipal improvement district.

§ 1. Any portion of a municipality incorporated under the laws of this state may be formed into a municipal improvement district for the purpose of creating an indebtedness, to be represented by bonds of said district, the proceeds from the sale of which shall be used for the acquisition or construction of any public improvement work or public utility which such municipality is authorized by law to acquire or construct. Such districts shall be formed and such bonds shall be issued and sold in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth. [Amendment of May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. of 1919, p. 670.]

Petition for election. Ordinance of intention. What ordinance shall contain.

§ 2. Whenever a petition signed by not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors residing in the territory which is proposed to be formed into a municipal improvement district, setting forth a general description of the improvement work or public utility to be acquired or constructed and a general description of the exterior boundaries of such proposed district, shall have been filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of said city, said legislative body may adopt an ordinance declaring its intention to call an election in said proposed district, or as the same may have been modified as herein provided, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said district the proposition of authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds of such district in the manner and for the purpose set forth in said ordinance of intention. Said legislative body shall have power to change or modify the boundaries of said district and the nature, character or extent of such proposed public improvement work or public utility. Said ordinance of intention shall also contain:

1. An accurate description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed municipal improvement district;

2. A general description of the improvement work or public utility proposed to be acquired or constructed therein;

3. An estimate of the cost of the proposed improvement work or public utility and of the incidental expense in connection therewith;

4. That upon a certain date fixed therein an election will be called in said district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of such district to pay the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement work or public utility, and that a map showing the exterior boundaries of said district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto and a general description of the proposed improvement are on file in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of such city; which said map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said district.

5. A date, hour and place fixed for the hearing of protests. [Amendment of May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 670.]

Publication of ordinance.

§ 3. Said ordinance shall be published once a day for at least six days in some newspaper of general circulation published at least six days a week in said city, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days per week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. Such ordinance, unless otherwise provided by law, shall take effect upon the completion of said publication. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published such ordinance shall be posted in three public places therein, and in case of posting notice such ordinance shall take effect two weeks after date of such posting of notice.

Protests.

§ 4. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of said district, or to the extent of said district, or to the proposed improvement, or work, or to the acquiring or construction of the proposed public utility, or to the inclusion of his property in said district, may file a written protest, setting forth such objection, with the clerk of the legislative body at or before the time set for the hearing of said petition. The clerk of said legislative body shall endorse on each such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said board all protests so filed with him. Said legislative body shall hear said protests at the time appointed or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any of such protests against the proposed improvement or work, or against the acquisition or construction of the public utility be sustained, no further proceedings shall be had or taken pursuant to the petition, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained. If any of such protests be against the extent of said district, or against the inclusion of property in said district, then the legislative body shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries so as to include any territory which will not in its judgment, be benefited by said improvement work or public utility.

Modification of boundaries.

Said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries except after notice of its intention so to do, given by one insertion in said newspaper, describing the proposed modification, and specifying a time for hearing objections to such modification, which time shall be at least ten days after the publication of said notice. Written objections to said proposed modification may be filed with the clerk of said legislative body by any interested person at or before the time set for hearing the same. Said legislative body shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such objections, or any of them, be sustained, no further proceedings pursuant to such objection shall be taken, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained.

Jurisdiction deemed acquired.

At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and after hearing be denied, or at the expiration of the time within which objections to the modification of the boundaries of the district, in case such modification be proposed, may be filed, if none be filed, or if such objections be filed, and, after hearing, be overruled, as above provided, then said legislative body shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed further in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Bond question submitted. Rate of interest.

§ 5. At any time after said legislative body shall have so acquired jurisdiction, it may call an election to be held within the district described in said ordinance, and provide for the submission to the qualified voters thereof, the proposition of incurring a debt by the issuance of bonds of such district, for the purposes set forth in said ordinance. The ordinance or resolution calling such election, shall also recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred, the nature of the improvement work or public utility, contemplated thereby, the estimated cost thereof, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness; and shall fix the date on which such election shall be held, the manner of holding the same and the manner of voting for or against said proposition. The maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall be six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually.

Election.

§ 6. For the purposes of said election said legislative body shall in said ordinance, or resolution, establish one or more precincts within the boundaries of said district, designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each such precinct. In all particulars not recited in such ordinance, or resolution, such election shall be held as provided by law for the holding of general municipal elections in such city. Said ordinance, or resolution, ordering the holding of said election shall, prior to the date fixed for such election be published five times in a daily, or twice in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said city and designated by said legislative body for said purpose. In cities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance, or resolution, shall be posted in three public places therein two weeks preceding the date fixed for the holding of such election. No other notice of such election need be given. If at such election two-thirds of all the voters voting at said election, shall vote in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then such legislative body shall thereupon be authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of said district for the amount provided for in such proceedings, payable out of funds of such district, to be provided as in this act prescribed.

Bonds. How payable.

§ 7. Said legislative body shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable in the following manner:

A part, to be determined by said legislative body, and which shall not be less than one-fortieth part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year, on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said legislative body and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid; provided, however, that said legislative body may in its discretion determine and fix a date for the earliest maturity of the principal of such bonds, not more than ten (10) years from the date of the issue of such bonds, but in this event the whole amount of such indebtedness must be made payable in equal annual parts in not to exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same.

Denomination. Interest coupons.

The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as said legislative body may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six per centum per annum, and shall be paid semi-annually; and said bonds shall be signed by the chief executive of the municipality, or by such other officer thereof as the legislative body of the municipality shall, by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and also signed by the treasurer thereof, and shall be countersigned by the clerk. The interest coupons on said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer of such municipality by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officers whose signatures or counter-signatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or counter-signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Sale of bonds.

§ 8. Said legislative body may issue and sell the bonds of such district, authorized as herein above provided, at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of such municipality to the credit of the proper district fund and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance or resolution ordering the holding of the bond election as aforesaid.

Tax levy to pay interest, etc.

§ 9. The legislative body of such city shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect a tax each year upon the taxable property in such district sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of such bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of such issue, such tax shall be levied and collected, at the time and in the manner aforesaid, each year sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. Such tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and when collected shall be paid into the treasury of such city and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on such bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on such bonds shall be paid by the treasurer of such city in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of such city.

Letting of contracts. City may do work.

§ 10. All contracts for the construction or completion of any public work, or improvement or public utility, or for furnishing labor, materials or supplies therefor as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The legislative body of such city shall advertise for two or more days in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in such city, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing labor, materials and supplies for the proposed improvement before any contract shall be made therefor. The said legislative body shall have the right to require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder to insure the faithful performance of the contract, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting the municipality itself from constructing or completing such works improvements or public utilities and employing the labor necessary therefor, without a contractor; and provided, further, that in municipalities operating under a charter heretofore or hereafter framed under the provisions of the constitution of the state of California, all acts required to be performed subsequent to the sale of such bonds by this act, shall be done and performed by the proper body, board, officer or commission of such municipality, as is required or authorized by such charter to perform such acts, and in case such charter also prescribes the manner of letting and entering into contracts for the furnishing of labor, materials or supplies for the constructing or completion of public works or improvements, the contracts therefor shall be let and entered into in conformity with such charter.

Expenditure of proceeds.

§ 11. Said municipality shall, by and through its proper officers, have full power and authority to expend the proceeds acquired from the sale of such bonds for the acquisition or construction of the improvement work or public utility set forth in the ordinance calling said election, and shall also have full power and authority to acquire or construct such improvements, works or public utilities, and such improvements, works or public utilities so acquired or constructed shall be the property of such municipality.

Name of district.

§ 12. Any district formed under the provisions of this act shall be known as Municipal Improvement District No. (inserting number) of city of (inserting the name of the municipality in which such district is located).

§ 13. This act shall not affect any other act or acts relating to the same, or a similar subject, but it is intended to provide an alternative method of procedure governing the subject to which it relates. When proceeding under the provisions of this act, its provisions and none other shall apply.

Construction.

§ 14. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose thereof and no provision hereof shall be deemed or construed to prohibit the inclusion within the boundaries of any district formed under the provisions of this act, of any territory which has heretofore or which may be hereafter included within any other district formed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment of May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 671.]

1. Bonds authorized at maximum rate not invalidated where bonds are issued at less rate.—Where the ordinance calling a special bond election under this act specified the maximum rate of interest at six per cent and the voters authorized the bonds at the maximum rate, the bonds are not invalidated by reason of the fact that the counsel fixed a less rate of interest.—Cole v. Los Angeles, (Cal.) 182 Pac. 436.

2. District is taxing district—Strict construction.—A municipal improvement district formed under this act is nothing more than a taxing district; and as statutes conferring the power of special taxation must be restricted to the plain language thereof, the present act must be strictly construed.—Mulville v. San Diego, (Cal.) 192 Pac. 702.

3. Improvements beyond boundaries not authorized.—Municipalities have no power under this act to construct or acquire improvements beyond their boundaries.—Mulville v. San Diego, (Cal.) 192 Pac. 702.

MUNICIPAL TAX DISTRICT ACT OF 1919.

ACT 3077b—An act to provide for the formation of special municipal tax districts within municipalities for the acquisition, construction or operation of public improvements, works or utilities of local necessity or convenience, or for the furnishing of special local service; and for the acquisition, construction or operation of such improvements, works or utilities, or the furnishing of such service by or for such districts.

History: Approved May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 546.

Special municipal tax districts for constructing improvements, etc.

§ 1. Any portion of a municipality incorporated under the laws of the state may be formed into a special municipal tax district for the purpose of levying upon the taxable property in such district a special tax not to exceed fifteen cents per annum on each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, the proceeds from which shall be used for the acquisition, construction or operation of any public improvement or work or utility of local necessity or convenience, or for the furnishing, performing or doing of any special local service, which such municipality is authorized by law to acquire, construct, operate, furnish, perform or do, including music, recreation or advertising. Such districts shall be formed and such tax levied in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth. Such districts may be formed to continue one, two, three, four or five years, and such special tax may be levied each year for such period of time.

Petition to form district. Resolution of intention. What ordinances shall contain.

§ 2. Whenever a petition signed by not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors residing in the territory which is proposed to be formed into a special municipal tax district, setting forth a general description of the improvement, work or utility to be acquired, constructed or operated, or the special local service to be furnished, performed or done, a general description of the exterior boundaries of such proposed district, and a statement of the duration of such district and the maximum annual special tax proposed to be levied, shall have been filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of said city, said legislative body may adopt an ordinance or resolution declaring its intention to call an election in said proposed district, or as the same shall have been modified as hereinafter provided, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said district the proposition of authorizing the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of a special tax in the manner and for the purpose set forth in said ordinance or resolution of intention. In said ordinance or resolution of intention said legislative body shall have power to change or modify the boundaries of said district and the nature, character or extent of such proposed public improvement, work, utility, or local service. Said ordinance or resolution of intention shall also contain:

1. A description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed special municipal tax district;

2. A general description of the improvement, work, utility or local service proposed to be acquired, constructed, operated, furnished, performed or done;

3. The maximum annual special tax proposed to be levied, and the number of years, not exceeding five years, that it is proposed said special tax shall be levied, and said proposed district shall remain in existence;

4. A statement that an election will be called in said district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors thereof the proposition of the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of said special tax to pay the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement, work, utility or local service, and that a map showing the exterior boundaries of said district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, and a general description of the proposed improvement are on file in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of such city;

5. A date, hour and place fixed for the hearing of protests.

Publication of ordinance.

§ 3. Said ordinance or resolution shall be published once a day for at least six days in some newspaper of general circulation published at least six days a week in said city, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days per week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. Such ordinance or resolution shall take effect upon the completion of said publication. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance or resolution shall be posted in three public places therein, and shall take effect two weeks after the date of such posting of notice.

Objections to formation of district.

§ 4. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of said district, or to the extent of said district, or to the proposed improvement or work, or to the acquisition, construction, or operation of the proposed utility, or to the special local service, to be furnished, performed or done, or to the inclusion of his property in said district, may file a written protest, setting forth such objection, with the clerk of said legislative body at or before the time set for the hearing of said protests. The clerk of said legislative body shall indorse on each such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said body all protests so filed with him. Said legislative body shall hear said protests at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any of such protests against the proposed improvement or work, or against the acquisition, construction, or operation of the utility, or against the special local service to be furnished, performed or done, be sustained, no further proceedings shall be had or taken pursuant to such petition, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained. If any of such protests be against the extent of said district, or against the inclusion of property in said district, then the legislative body shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said legislative body shall not notify such boundaries so as to include any territory which will not, in its judgment, be benefited by said improvement, work, utility, or special local service.

Notice of intention to change boundaries. Objections.

Said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries except after notice of its intention so to do, given by one insertion in said newspaper or by posting in three public places in municipalities where no such newspaper is published, describing the proposed modification, and specifying a time for hearing objections to such modification, which time shall be at least ten days after the publication of said notice. Written objections to said proposed modification may be filed with the clerk of said legislative body by any interested person at or before the time set for hearing the same. Said legislative body shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such objections, or any of them, be sustained, no further proceedings pursuant to such petition shall be taken, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained.

At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and after hearing be denied, or at the expiration of the time within which objections to the modifications of the boundaries of the district, in case such modification be proposed, may be filed, if none be filed, or if such objections be filed, and, after hearing, be overruled, as above provided, then said legislative body shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed further in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Election for formation of district. Ordinance calling election.

§ 5. At any time after said legislative body shall have so acquired jurisdiction, it may call an election to be held within the district described in said ordinance or resolution of intention, or as the same may have been modified as above provided, and provide for the submission to the qualified electors thereof, the proposition of the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of a special tax for the purposes set forth in said ordinance or resolution of intention. The ordinance or resolution calling such election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed special tax is to be incurred, the nature of the improvement, work, utility, or local service contemplated thereby, the estimated cost thereof, the maximum amount of the special tax annually to be levied therefor, and whether such tax shall be levied for one, two, three, four or five years; and shall fix the date on which such election shall be held, the manner of holding the same and the manner of voting for or against said proposition.

Publication of ordinance. Majority vote shall establish district.

§ 6. For the purposes of said election said legislative body shall in said ordinance or resolution establish one or more voting precincts within the boundaries of said district, designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each such precinct. Said ordinance, or resolution, ordering the holding of said election shall, prior to the date fixed for such election, be published five times in a daily, or twice in a weekly or semiweekly newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said city, and designated by said legislative body for such purpose. In cities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance, or resolution, shall be posted in three public places therein, two weeks preceding the date fixed for the holding of such election. No other notice of such election need be given. In all particulars not otherwise provided in this act, such election shall be held as near as may be in conformity with the law for the holding of municipal elections in such city. If at such election a majority of all the voters voting upon such proposition at said election shall vote in favor of the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of such special tax, then such legislative body shall thereupon be authorized and empowered to declare such special municipal tax district formed and to levy such special tax. After an election based upon any such petition, the sufficiency of such petition or any proceedings had prior to such election, in any respect, shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned, nor shall any defect or irregularity in any proceedings prior to such election affect the validity of the formation of such district or any proceedings or acts had or done subsequent thereto in carrying out the objects or purposes of this act.

Tax levy.

§ 7. The legislative body of such city shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect a special tax not exceeding said maximum rate, upon the taxable property in such district as set forth in the ordinance calling said election. Such tax shall be in addition to all taxes levied for municipal purposes and when collected shall be paid into the treasury of such city and be used for the purposes set forth in the ordinance calling said election.

Municipality to act on behalf of district.

§ 8. Said municipality shall, by and through its proper officers, have full power and authority on behalf of such district, to expend the proceeds acquired from such special tax for the purposes or objects set forth in the ordinance or resolution calling said election, and shall also have full power and authority to acquire, construct or operate such improvements, works or utilities, or to furnish, perform or do such special local service, and such improvements, works or utilities, or special local service, so acquired, constructed or furnished shall be the property of such municipality for the benefit of such district.

Municipal officers to be district officers.

The legislative body and all other officers, boards or commissions of such municipality, their assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, shall be ex officio the legislative body, officers, boards, commissions, assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, respectively, of such special municipal tax district, and shall respectively perform, unless otherwise provided by said legislative body, the same various duties for said district as they are lawfully required to perform for said municipality, without additional compensation, in order to carry out the provisions of this act.

Appointment of other officers and employees.

Said legislative body may in its discretion provide for the appointment of such other officers and employees for said district as in its judgment may be deemed necessary, and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which said officers and employees shall hold office during the pleasure of said legislative body and shall not be subject, in their appointment and removal, to the civil service provisions, if any, of such municipality.

Name of district.

§ 9. Any district formed under the provisions of this act shall be known as special municipal tax district number (inserting number) of the city of (inserting the name of the municipality in which such district is located).

Intent of act.

§ 10. This act shall not affect any other act or acts relating to the same, or a similar subject, but it is intended to provide an alternative method of procedure governing the subject to which it relates.

Construction.

§ 11. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose thereof.

HARBOR IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1911.

ACT 3078—An act to authorize certain cities and cities and counties to levy and collect taxes for the purpose of providing a fund for the improvement, repair and maintenance of their harbors, and for the construction of wharves and piers, seawall, state or municipal railroad and spurs therealong, betterments, appurtenances, dredging and filling necessary in connection therewith, and to authorize such cities and cities and counties to issue and sell their bonds to create a fund for such repair, maintenance, improvement or construction, or any part thereof, or for the redemption, retirement and cancellation of any state bonds now or hereafter issued and sold to create a fund for any such purposes.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1462.

Cities may levy taxes or sell bonds to improve harbors.

§ 1. Any city or city and county whose corporate limits include or front upon any harbor, bay or estuary, or other navigable water, whether the tide lands or water-front thereof is owned or controlled by it or by the state, either in whole or in part, is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness for the improvement, repair and maintenance of its harbor, and for the erection of wharves, piers, seawall, state or municipal railroad and spurs therealong, betterments, appurtenances and dredging and filling necessary in connection therewith, and for each, any or all of said purposes, and such city or city and county for the purpose of providing a fund or funds for the payment of such indebtedness, is hereby authorized to levy and collect taxes therefor or to issue and sell its bonds therefor, or to levy and collect taxes and to issue and sell its bonds therefor, whether the fund so provided is now or hereafter by law or by the charter of such city or city and county, under the management and control of a state board of harbor commissioners or under the management and control of such city or city and county, or any officer, board or department thereof, and such city or city and county is also authorized to issue and sell its bonds for the purpose of providing a fund for the redemption, cancellation and retirement of any state bonds now or hereafter issued and sold for the purpose of providing a fund for any improvement or construction in its harbor as aforesaid.

Law applicable.

§ 2. All provisions of law or of the charter of such city or city and county relative to the issuance and sale of the other municipal bonds of such city or city and county, and to the mode and manner of calling, holding and canvassing an election authorizing the same, shall with equal force apply to the issue and sale of the bonds hereby authorized and to the mode and manner of calling, holding and canvassing any election with reference thereto.

City may turn over funds to harbor commissioners.

§ 3. Where by law or by the charter of such city or city and county the management and control and improvement of its harbor or tide lands is vested in whole or in part in a state board of harbor commissioners, such city or city and county is authorized to turn over to such state board of harbor commissioners any fund or funds which it may provide as aforesaid, to be by said state board of harbor commissioners used, managed and controlled for such work of improvement, repair, maintenance and construction aforesaid as said city or city and county may lawfully designate.

Fund for redemption of bonds.

§ 4. Whenever any city or city and county provides any fund under authority of this act for the redemption, cancellation or retirement of any state bonds hereinabove mentioned, such city or city and county through its appropriate officer or officers may transfer the money in such fund to the state treasurer who must upon its receipt place the same in the appropriate sinking fund and apply the same to the redemption, cancellation and retirement of said state bonds.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Long Beach authorized to issue bonds for harbor improvement.—The city of Long Beach is empowered under the harbor improvement act of 1911 (Stats. 1911, p. 1462), to improve its harbor and incur a bonded indebtedness therefor.—Long Beach v. Lisenby, 175 Cal. 575, 166 Pac. 333.

ESTABLISHMENT OF HARBOR LINES.

ACT 3079—An act to authorize and empower municipal corporations which own or possess, or which may hereafter own or possess, tidal lands, or the title thereto, of any harbor or other navigable waters therein to establish harbor lines for such waters; to validate harbor lines heretofore established by such municipal corporations; to provide for the free and unobstructed navigation of such waters, and to authorize and empower such municipal corporations to provide access to such waters by public streets, highways and other public rights of way to such navigable waters and to prevent the exclusion or obstruction thereof; and to authorize and validate the filling in and improving of tidal lands between the mainland and harbor lines fixed by municipal or other authority.

History: Approved June 6, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 497.

Cities may establish harbor lines.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation that, by grant from the state of California, or otherwise, owns, holds or possesses, or may hereafter own, hold or possess tide lands and submerged lands, or the title to such lands, situated within the boundaries of such municipal corporation and fronting on the waters of any harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water within the boundaries of such municipal corporation, is hereby granted power and authority, to be exercised by ordinance, to fix and establish harbor lines, both pier-head and bulk-head lines, in and for such harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water, and to change or abolish such harbor lines as the public interest or the needs of commerce and navigation may require. That the aforesaid power and authority is hereby granted and shall be exercised by any municipal corporation to the same extent to which the state of California might itself exercise the same, or to which it can grant such power to any such municipal corporation; provided, that no such harbor lines shall be fixed or established beyond or outside of any harbor lines established by the United States.

Ordinances confirmed.

§ 2. All ordinances of any municipal corporation of this state, holding and possessing tide lands and submerged lands or the title thereto, fronting on the waters of any harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water situated within the boundaries of such municipal corporation, which ordinances may have been adopted prior to the passage of this act, in the manner prescribed by law for the adoption of ordinances by such municipal corporation, and which ordinances fix or establish harbor lines upon or adjacent to such tide lands and submerged lands, are hereby confirmed, legalized and validated, in so far as the same purport to fix or establish harbor lines, and, except in so far as the harbor lines so established may be located or extend beyond or outside of harbor lines established under the authority of the United States; and all such harbor lines so established, by any such municipal corporation, except as aforesaid, are hereby recognized as and declared to be harbor lines of the harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water for which they were so established; provided, however, that such harbor lines may be hereafter altered, modified or abolished by such municipal corporation as the public interest and the needs of commerce and navigation may require.

Waters to remain open to public. Streets to waters. May fill in tide lands. Power over water frontage. Individuals may not obstruct right of way to waters.

§ 3. That all navigable waters of any harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water situated within or adjacent to any municipal corporation, shall be and remain open to the free and unobstructed navigation of the public, and such waters and the water front thereof shall also be and remain open to free and unobstructed access thereto by the people from the public streets and highways within such municipal corporation, and public streets and highways and other public rights of way shall likewise be and remain open to the free and unobstructed use of the public from such waters and the water front thereof to such public streets and highways; and in order to secure to any such municipal corporation, and to the people generally, the benefits of this act and the benefits of the provisions of article XV of the constitution of the state of California, every municipal corporation in which there is situated any harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water, shall have, and is hereby granted power and authority to establish by ordinance, such public streets, highways and other public rights of way to such waters as are or may be required for any public purpose over, upon or along the tide lands or submerged lands in such municipal corporation, fronting on the waters of such harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water, for the purpose of connecting such navigable waters with public streets and other highways of such municipal corporation, or for any other public purpose, and to lay out, open, widen, narrow, close up, construct, maintain, and improve such streets, highways and other public rights of way; and to fill in or authorize to be filled in all or any part of tide lands and submerged lands lying between said streets and lying between the mainland and harbor lines established by said municipal or other authority; provided, that when any such lands are so filled in, sufficient streets shall be opened and maintained open through or adjacent to such lands so filled in to enable the public to have convenient and adequate access to and along the water front of such lands and to such navigable waters. That the power and authority hereby granted shall apply to, and be exercisable by any such municipal corporation, over, along or upon the water frontage or tide lands or submerged lands of any such harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water that is owned or possessed, or that may hereafter be owned or possessed, or the title to which is now or may hereafter be held by any such municipal corporation, and to any such water frontage or tide land or submerged land that is, or may be, claimed or possessed by any individual, partnership or corporation; and the ordinances of any such municipal corporation that may have heretofore been adopted, in the manner prescribed by law for the adoption of ordinances by said municipal corporation, for the laying out, establishing, opening, constructing, maintaining or otherwise improving of public streets, highways and other public rights of way of the character mentioned in this section, are hereby confirmed, legalized and validated.

Individuals not to obstruct right of way to waters.

§ 4. Whenever any municipal corporation, shall, by ordinance regularly adopted, declare, or shall have heretofore declared, that any right of way to the navigable water of any harbor, bay, inlet, estuary or other navigable water in such municipality is required for any public purpose, over, upon or along the frontage of tide or submerged lands thereof, no individual, partnership or private corporation claiming or possessing such frontage or tide or submerged lands shall obstruct, hinder or impede such municipal corporation, or the officers thereof in any manner, in laying out, establishing, opening, constructing or otherwise improving, or maintaining such right of way, or exclude such right of way, or obstruct or prevent the free use thereof by such municipal corporation or the public generally.

WATER FRONT IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1917.

ACT 3079a—An act granting to any city of the state whose corporate limits include or bound upon any harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, the power to improve the same and to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain in, upon and along the waters thereof works for use in connection therewith.

History: Approved April 6, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 72.

Cities authorized to maintain piers, etc. Property rights not affected.

§ 1. Any city of this state whose corporate limits include or bound upon any harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, is hereby granted power to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain in, upon and along the waters of any such harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, piers, docks, wharves, bulkheads, quays, and other necessary works for use in connection therewith, and power to construct, improve, dredge, deepen or straighten, channels, turning basins, canals, slips and waterways to, from and along any of the aforesaid works, and connecting with any other navigable water either within or without the limits of such city, and to do any and all other things necessary or convenient to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor, and in furtherance of commerce and navigation. Nothing herein, however, shall be deemed or construed to affect or limit the use and enjoyment by persons, firms or corporations of their property or property rights; nor shall anything in this act be construed or deemed to grant to any city the right to destroy, injure, impair or interfere with any private or quasi-public property or property rights, leasehold or otherwise, or to the use and enjoyment thereof.

THIRD CLASS CITIES, WATER FRONT IMPROVEMENT.

ACT 3079b—An act authorizing cities of the third class whose corporate limits include or front upon any harbor, channel, estuary or other navigable body of water, to do certain acts necessary or convenient to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor; to do certain acts, either within or without the corporate limits of such cities, in furtherance of commerce and navigation; to incur indebtedness to carry out the purposes defined herein and to issue and sell bonds for the purpose of securing funds for the payment thereof.

History: Approved May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 712.

Harbor improvements in cities of third class.

§ 1. Any city of the third class of this state, whose corporate limits include or front upon any harbor, channel, estuary, or other navigable body of water is hereby granted power to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain, in, upon or along the waters of any such harbor, channel, estuary or other navigable body of water, piers, docks, bulkheads, quays, railroads, bridges and other necessary works in connection therewith on property owned by said city. Any such city is further granted power to construct, improve, dredge, deepen or straighten channels, turning basins, canals, slips and waterways to, from and along any of the aforesaid works, and connecting with any other navigable water, either within or without the corporate limits of such city, and to do any and all other things necessary or convenient, either within or without said corporate limits, to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor and in furtherance of commerce and navigation.

Authority to incur indebtedness.

§ 2. Any such city is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness for any or all of said purposes hereinabove specified and for the purpose of providing a fund or funds for the payment of such indebtedness, is hereby authorized to issue and sell its bonds therefor.

GRANT OF TIDE LANDS TO UNITED STATES.

ACT 3080—An act authorizing and empowering any municipal corporation to which tide lands and submerged lands, situated within the limits thereof, have been granted by the state of California, to grant portions of such lands to the United States for public purposes and validating and confirming grants of such lands made by such municipal corporations to the United States.

History: Approved May 28, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 437.

Tide lands may be granted to United States by cities.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation to which tide lands and submerged lands situated within the boundaries thereof have been granted by the state of California, is hereby authorized and empowered to grant portions of such lands to the United States, for public purposes of the United States; provided, however, that no such grant shall be made unless authorized and approved by a vote of a majority of the electors of such municipal corporation voting upon the proposition of making such grant at an election therein, at which such proposition shall have been submitted.

Former grants validated.

§ 2. Any grant heretofore made by any municipal corporation to the United States, of any portion of the tide lands or submerged lands, situated within the boundaries of such municipal corporation, which grant was authorized by a vote of the majority of the electors of such municipal corporation, voting upon the question of authorizing such grant, at an election held therein, is hereby confirmed, legalized and declared to be valid; and in any case where a proposed grant of such lands to the United States by a municipal corporation has heretofore been authorized by such vote, but such grant has not been made or completed, such municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to make and complete such grant.

MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL.

ACT 3081—An act conferring power upon the governing body of municipal corporations of the first class to provide for the erection of a municipal hospital, and to levy a tax therefor.

History: Approved February 16, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 9.

Governing body in corporations of the first class may provide for erection of hospital.

§ 1. Power is hereby conferred upon the common council or other governing body of municipal corporations of the first class to provide for the erection and construction in such municipal corporations, and at the expense of the same, of a building to be used for the purposes of a municipal hospital.

Cost to be raised by property tax.

§ 2. In the event that the common council or other governing body of any such municipal corporation shall deem it expedient, and in their judgment shall determine that the public good requires the construction of a building such as is provided for in section one of this act, they are hereby authorized and empowered to express such judgment by resolution or order in such manner as they may deem proper, and for the purpose of raising the money necessary to construct and furnish such building, the said common council or other governing body of any such municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to levy and collect, in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes are levied and collected in such for municipal purposes, an ad valorem property tax on real and personal property, which shall not in the aggregate exceed the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, which sum shall cover all the expense of constructing and furnishing said building; provided, that such tax must be levied in the forty-ninth fiscal year, and not otherwise.

Site.

§ 3. Such building may be constructed upon such site as the common council or other governing body of such municipal corporation may determine.

“Municipal hospital fund.”

§ 4. The money raised from the tax hereby authorized to be levied and collected shall be kept by the treasurer of such municipal corporation in a fund to be known as the “municipal hospital fund,” and out of said fund all claims for work, labor, and materials used in the construction and furnishing of such building, and all other expenses authorized to be incurred under the provisions of this act, shall be paid. All claims against the said fund shall be allowed by the common council or other governing body of such municipal corporation by resolution entered upon the minutes in the same manner and form as other expenses are authorized, before the auditor shall be authorized to audit the same; and in no case shall any portion of said fund be used and expended for any other purpose than such as is herein indicated, nor shall any part of the cost of construction and furnishing of such building be paid out of any other or different fund, nor shall any lien for work, labor, or material at any time attach to such building, or to the land on which the same is located, in any manner whatever.

Bids for work must be advertised for. Advertisement to contain description. Rejecting bids. Mayor to execute contract. No change in plans. Contracts, how drawn.

§ 5. When work is to be done upon such building, or materials be furnished, it shall be the duty of the common council or other governing body of such municipal corporation to advertise for at least ten days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in such municipal corporation for sealed proposals for doing both said work and furnishing said materials. Said work shall be of the best quality. The advertisement shall contain a general description of the work to be done and of the materials to be furnished, the time within which the same is to be done or furnished, and may refer to plans and specifications for such other details as may be necessary to give a correct understanding regarding such work or materials. The advertisement shall also state the day, and an hour of said day, within which bids will be received. At the hour and day stated in the advertisement the said common council or other governing body shall proceed to open the bids in the presence of the bidders, and an abstract of which shall be recorded in the minutes of the clerk. A day and an hour shall then be fixed for considering the bids and awarding the contract. An abstract of said bids, showing the name of each bidder, the price at which work, labor, and materials are offered to be done or furnished by each, and such other things as may be necessary to show or explain the offer, shall be made by the clerk of said common council or other governing body and published for five days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in such municipal corporation. At the expiration of five days after the first publication of the abstract, on the day and at the hour fixed by such common council or other governing body, the said common council or other governing body shall proceed to consider the several bids and award the contract for the work and supplying materials for which proposals were invited, and for none other, to the lowest bidder who shall furnish sufficient sureties to guarantee the performance of the contract; provided, that the advertisement hereinbefore provided for shall invite proposals and bids for the performance of all the work, and the furnishing of all the materials that may be required for the erection and completion of the entire building, and the contract herein provided for shall cover the erection and completion of the entire building, and the whole thereof shall be erected and completed and made ready for occupancy under and by a single contract. Said common council or other governing body shall have the right to reject any or all bids when in their judgment the public interests may be thereby promoted.

Such contract shall be executed on behalf of such municipal corporation by the mayor or president of the common council or other governing body of such municipal corporation. No change in the plans or specifications shall be made after proposals for doing the work and furnishing materials have been called for, nor shall any contractor be allowed a claim for work done or materials furnished not embraced in his contract. All contracts shall be in writing, and shall be carefully drawn by the city attorney or other law officer of such municipal corporation, and shall contain detailed specifications of the work to be done, the manner in which the same shall be executed, the quality of the materials, and the time within which the same shall be completed, and such penalty for the non-performance of such work as such common council or other governing body may deem just and reasonable. All contracts shall be signed in triplicate, one copy of which, with the plans and specifications of the work to be done, shall be filed with the clerk or secretary of said common council or other governing body, and shall at all times, in the office hours, be open to the inspection of the public; one, with the plans and specifications, shall be kept in the office of said common council or other governing body, and the other copy, with the plans and specifications, shall be delivered to the contractor.

§ 6. The common council, or other governing body of such municipal corporation, may make payments on such contract from time to time as the work progresses, or the materials are furnished; but until the contract is completed, at no time shall the payments exceed seventy-five per cent of the value of the labor or materials furnished.

Plans and specifications. Board of health.

§ 7. The plans and specifications herein referred to shall be secured by said common council or other governing body after the publication for ten days in a newspaper of general circulation in such municipal corporation of a resolution inviting a submission of competitive plans and specifications of such buildings. Said resolution shall contain a general statement of the purpose for which such building is to be used, the cost thereof, and the character of the design required. Said plans and specifications may be submitted to such common council or other governing body under such requirements and conditions and at such times as such common council or other governing body may prescribe; provided, that such plan and specifications shall be submitted to the board of health of such municipal corporation for their approval, and shall not be adopted until approved by the board of health, or a committee thereof appointed for that purpose.

§ 8. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 9. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

NOXIOUS AND DANGEROUS WEEDS A NUISANCE.

ACT 3087—An act authorizing municipalities to declare noxious or dangerous weeds growing upon the streets or sidewalks, or upon private property within municipalities, to be a public nuisance, creating a lien upon the property fronting upon such streets or sidewalks or upon which such nuisance exists for the cost of abating the same.

History: Approved May 26, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 841. Prior act of June 6, 1913; in effect immediately; Stats. 1913, p. 398, relating to cities of the fifth and sixth classes, was probably superseded by the present act which applies to all municipalities of every class.

Weeds may be declared public nuisance.

§ 1. All weeds growing upon the streets or sidewalks or upon private property within municipalities, which bear seeds of a wingy or downy nature or attain such a large growth as to become a fire menace when dry, or which are otherwise noxious or dangerous may be declared to be a public nuisance by the legislative body of any municipality, and thereafter abated as in this act provided.

Resolution.

§ 2. Whenever any such weeds are growing upon any street or sidewalk or private property the legislative body of any municipality may, by resolution, declare the same to be a public nuisance. Said resolution shall refer to the street by the name under which it is commonly known, and describe the property upon which or in front of which said nuisance exists by giving the lot and block number of the same according to the official map, or the assessment map of such municipality used for describing property on tax bills; and no other description of said property shall be required. Any number of streets, sidewalks or parcels of private property, may be included in one and the same resolution.

Notice posted.

§ 3. After the passage of said resolution, the street superintendent shall cause to be conspicuously posted in front of the property on which or in front of which such nuisance exists, at not more than one hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, notices headed "Notice to Destroy Weeds," such heading to be in words not less than one inch in height and substantially in the following form:

NOTICE TO DESTROY WEEDS.

Notice is hereby given that on the day of, 19...., the (name of the legislative body) passed a resolution declaring that noxious or dangerous weeds were growing upon or in front of the property on.....street, in said, and more particularly described in said resolution, and that the same constitute a public nuisance which must be abated by the removal of said noxious or dangerous weeds, otherwise they will be removed and the nuisance will be abated by the municipal authorities, in which case the cost of such removal shall be assessed upon the lots and lands from which or in front of which such weeds are removed, and such cost will constitute a lien upon such lots or lands until paid. Reference is hereby made to said resolution for further particulars.

All property owners having any objections to the proposed removal of such weeds are hereby notified to attend a meeting of the (name of the legislative body) of said (city or town) to be held (give date), when their objections will be heard and given due consideration.

Dated this day of, 19.....

Street Superintendent (city or town of.....).

Said notices shall be posted at least five days prior to the time for hearing objections by the legislative body of the municipality.

Hearing.

§ 4. At the time stated in the notices, the legislative body of the municipality shall hear and consider all objections or protests, if any, to the proposed removal of weeds, and may continue the hearing from time to time. Upon the conclusion of said hearing the legislative body, by motion or resolution shall allow or overrule any or all objections, whereupon the legislative body shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed and perform the work of removal, and the decision of the legislative body on the matter shall be deemed final and conclusive.

Order to abate nuisance.

§ 5. After final action has been taken by the legislative body on the disposition of any protests or objections, or in case no protests or objections have been received, the legislative body of the municipality, by motion or resolution, shall order the street superintendent to abate said nuisance by having the weeds referred to removed, and he and his assistants or deputies are hereby expressly authorized to enter upon private property for that purpose. Any property owner shall have the right to have any such weeds removed at his own expense providing the same is done prior to the arrival of the street superintendent or his representatives to do the same.

Report of street superintendent.

§ 6. The street superintendent shall keep an account of the cost of abating such nuisance in front of or on each separate lot or parcel of land where the work is done by him or his deputies, and shall render an itemized report in writing to the legislative body of the municipality showing the cost of removing such weeds on each separate lot, or in front thereof, or both; provided, that before said report is submitted to said legislative body, copy of the same shall be posted for at least three days prior thereto on or near the chamber door of said legislative body, together with a notice of the time when said report shall be submitted to the legislative body for confirmation.

Costs to constitute special assessments.

§ 7. At the time fixed for receiving and considering said report, the legislative body shall hear the same, together with any objections which may be raised by any of the property owners liable to be assessed for the work of abating said nuisance and thereupon make such modifications in the report as they deem necessary, after which by motion or resolution said report shall be confirmed. The amounts of the cost for abating such nuisance in front of or upon the various parcels of land mentioned in said report shall constitute special assessments against the respective parcels of land and as thus made and confirmed shall constitute a lien on said property for the amount of such assessments, respectively. After confirmation of said report, a copy shall be turned over to the assessor and the tax collector of such municipality, whereupon it shall be the duty of said officers to add the amounts of the respective assessments to the next regular bills for taxes levied against the said respective lots and parcels of land for municipal purposes, and thereafter said amounts shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as ordinary municipal taxes are collected, and shall be subject to the same penalties and the same procedure under foreclosure and sale in case of delinquency as provided for ordinary municipal taxes.

ORGANIZATION VALIDATION—CITIES OF SIXTH CLASS.

ACT 3088—An act to validate the organization and incorporation of municipal corporations of the sixth class.

History: Approved February 14, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 29.

§ 1. All municipal corporations of the sixth class, the organization and incorporation of which have been authenticated by an order of a board of supervisors in this state, declaring the same incorporated as municipal corporations of the sixth class, and a certified copy of which order has been filed by such board of supervisors in the office of the secretary of state, showing such copy of said order to have been filed in said office, and which corporations thereafter have acted in the form and manner of municipal corporations under the provisions of "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March thirteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty-three, and the amendments thereto, are hereby declared to be and to have been municipal corporations of the sixth class from the date of filing the certified copy of said order of the board of supervisors with the secretary of state; and all the acts of the said municipal corporations heretofore exercised according to the act aforesaid, are hereby validated and declared as legal.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS—CITIES OF THE SIXTH CLASS.

ACT 3089—An act entitled “An act to enable municipal corporations of the sixth class to elect officers.”

History: Approved March 14, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 136. Amended March 20, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 414.

Appointment of election commissioners in municipalities of sixth class.

§ 1. Whenever a corporation of the sixth class shall have failed, from any cause, to elect officers in accordance with its charter, and there are no officers to carry on the city government, or call an election for officers, in any such case citizens of such corporation may present a petition to the governor for the appointment of three commissioners of election. Such petition shall set forth: First, the name of the corporation, and when and how organized; second, when the last election for officers took place, and whether any of such officers are performing their duties, and if not, how long since they ceased to perform their duties; third, the provision of the charter as to the qualifications of voters; fourth, that the persons signing the petition possess the qualifications provided by the charter for voters, and that each of said signers is a householder and freeholder in said corporation. The petition shall be signed by not less than a majority of all persons in said corporation possessing all the qualifications mentioned in the body of the petition, and shall be verified by at least two of the signers, that, of their own knowledge, the petition is true, and that all the signers possess all the qualifications set forth in the petition. Upon the presentation of the petition to the governor, he may either act upon the petition or require additional evidence of the matters set forth in the petition. Upon being satisfied of the truth of the matters set forth in the petition, the governor is authorized and empowered to appoint three persons as commissioners of election for such corporation. Such commission shall be known and styled board of election commissioners for (here give name of corporation). [Amendment approved March 20, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 414.]

Appointment of commissioners.

§ 2. The governor shall cause a commission to be issued to the commissioners, and the issuance of such commission shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all the proceedings to and including the appointment of such commissioner. Within ten days after their appointment, the commissioners shall take the oath of office before some judge or clerk, which oath shall be indorsed upon the commission, and a copy filed in the office of the secretary of state, and shall organize by the election of a president and secretary from their own members. The board shall cause to be kept minutes of all their proceedings, which minutes shall be signed at the close of each meeting by the president and secretary.

Powers of commissioners.

§ 3. The board of election commissioners shall have power: First, by an order entered in their minutes, to call an election for such officers as are declared in the charter of such corporation to be elected only by the voters in said corporation. Such orders shall specify the names of the offices to be filled, and, when any office is to be filled by an election in any ward or subdivision of said corporation, the order shall so state, and the date fixed for the election. Previous to the election, the board shall appoint officers of election, and fix the places of holding the election, as required in the charter of such corporation. The board shall cause notice of such election to be published in one or more newspapers published in said corporation; or if none be published therein, then by posting notices, for at least twenty days before such election. Such election shall be conducted as required by the charter of said corporation for election of officers, except that it shall not be necessary to use printed registers, but should any voter be challenged on the ground that his name does not appear on the great register of the county, it shall be sufficient for him to state, under oath, that he believes his name is upon the great register, and if no other evidence is offered, the board of election shall accept his statement as true.

Election returns.

§ 4. The boards of election shall make return of the election as required in the charter, except that the returns shall be returned and delivered to the board of election commissioners, of all officers voted for at such election, without reference to whether any of such officers were voted for in the whole, or only a ward or subdivision of the corporation, and no officer of election shall issue a certificate of election.

Canvassing returns.

§ 5. Within five days after the election the board of election commissioners shall proceed to canvass said returns and declare what persons were elected. Said board shall thereupon issue certificates of election to the persons so declared to be elected; such certificate shall be signed by all the commissioners, and shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all the proceedings taken in said election and by said board, except as against any suit or proceeding that may be commenced to oust from office any of said persons holding a certificate.

Officer qualifying.

§ 6. Within ten days after issuance of the certificates, the officers shall be qualified and enter upon the discharge of their duties, in accordance with the charter. If any person chosen at said election shall fail to take the oath of office and enter upon the discharge of the duties within the time above specified, then the office to which he shall have been elected shall be deemed and held to be vacant, the same as if he had never been elected. At the first meeting of the legislative department of the corporation after the election, the board of election commissioners shall deliver to said legislative department all books and papers in their possession, relating to their office of election commissioners, and said legislative department shall cause the same to be filed by their clerk, and shall cause the commission issued by the governor of said commissioners, and the minutes of said commissioners, and notice of the election, to be entered in the book of minutes of said legislative department, and such entries, when so made, shall be evidence of all the matters therein stated, and as conclusive evidence as the original.

Effect of elections.

§ 7. Whenever the officers elected at said election, and the officers authorized by the charter to be elected or appointed by the legislative or executive department of said corporation, shall have qualified and entered upon the discharge of their duties, then said corporation shall be deemed and held to be fully organized and in operation, as if said election had been held at the time and in all respects in the manner required by the charter.

Resolution as to organization.

§ 8. Whenever the government of the corporation is in full operation, as set forth in section seven, the legislative department shall cause a resolution to be entered in their minutes declaring the same; and such resolution shall be conclusive evidence of the same, except as against a direct action or proceeding to set aside or annul said government.

§ 9. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

1. Mandamus to compel appointment of election commissioners.—Where a municipal corporation of the sixth class exists and fails to elect officers, the electors have the right under the act of 1885 (Stats. 1885, p. 136) to petition the governor to appoint election commissioners to provide for an election; and if the governor finds such petition to have been signed by the requisite number of electors and its recitals are true, it is his ministerial duty to appoint commissioners as required by the act and upon his refusal to pass upon the petition and perform such duty, he may be compelled by mandamus to do so; and the doctrine of laches and limitation of actions have no application to the non-user of the corporate franchise to bear the right of action of such electors for such writ.—Elliott v. Pardee, 149 Cal. 516, 86 Pac. 1087.

VALIDATING ELECTION OF OFFICERS—CITIES OF THE SIXTH CLASS.

ACT 3090—An act providing that in the event of no election having been held for the election of officers of municipalities of the sixth class at the time fixed for first election after incorporation thereof, that the officers elected at the time of the incorporation shall continue in office until after the municipal election to be held in 1912.

History: Approved April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 839.

Failure to hold election. Officers.

§ 1. When a municipality of the sixth class has been incorporated under the laws of the state of California less than sixty days prior to the date of the municipal election on the second Monday in April, and for any reason no election was held on said date and the officers of such municipality elected at the time of its incorporation have continued to hold office and have discharged the duties of such offices ever since the date of their said election, their right to hold such offices is hereby confirmed, and they are hereby declared to be the officers of such municipality and their terms shall continue until the next municipal election hereafter to be held on the second Monday in April, 1912.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS—FIFTH AND SIXTH CLASS CITIES.

ACT 3090a—An act to provide for and regulate municipal elections in cities of the fifth and sixth class.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 928.

Elections in cities of the fifth and sixth class.

§ 1. All general municipal elections at which city officials are to be voted for in cities of the fifth and sixth class, shall be held and conducted in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Notice of election.

§ 2. Not earlier than the sixtieth day nor later than the twentieth day before any such election, the city clerk shall cause a notice of the same to be published at least once in one or more newspapers published and circulated in such city. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of Election," and shall contain a statement of the time of the election, the offices to be filled thereat, (specifying short terms, if there be any), propositions to be voted on, if any, and briefly, a general description of the voting precincts and location of the polling places. In case there is no newspaper published and circulated in such city said notice shall be typewritten and copies thereof shall be posted conspicuously within said time in at least three public places in said city. Said notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Form.NOTICE OF ELECTION.

Notice is hereby given that a general municipal election will be held in the..... of, on Monday, the day of April, 19....., for the following offices: (name them). (In case there are any propositions to be submitted, add the following clause.) The following propositions will be submitted at said election: (give brief synopsis of same).

There will be voting precincts for the purpose of holding said election, consisting of a consolidation of the regular election precincts established for holding the last general state or county election as follows: Consolidated voting precinct "A" comprising state and county precincts numbers one, two and three, and the polling place thereof shall be at (stating place); consolidated voting precinct "B" comprising state and county election precincts numbers four, five and six, and the polling place thereof shall be at (stating place).

The polls will be open between the hours of..... ..m. andm.

City clerk.

Dated,

Precincts.

§ 3. The voting precincts for such general municipal elections shall consist of a consolidation of any two or more of the regular election precincts established for the last state or county election.

Election officers.

§ 4. For every such general municipal election the board of trustees shall appoint one inspector, two judges and two clerks as election officers to have charge of such election in and for each such consolidated voting precinct. The board of trustees may, in their discretion, advertise for election officers, or they may appoint such officers from the register of applicants for such positions on file with the county clerk; provided, that other things being equal, preference shall be given for ability and previous experience. Each election officer must be an elector and a resident of the consolidated voting precinct for which he is appointed. Said election officers shall receive such compensation as the board of trustees may deem just.

Nomination of candidates.

§ 5. Candidates may be nominated for any of the elective offices of such city in the manner following:

Not earlier than the sixtieth day nor later than twelve o'clock noon on the twentieth day before such election, the electors may nominate candidates for such election by signing a nomination paper such as hereinafter set forth. Each candidate shall be proposed by not less than five nor more than ten qualified electors, but only one candidate shall be named in any one nomination paper. No elector may sign more than one nomination paper for the same office, but each seat on the board of trustees shall be deemed a different office. Any person or persons may circulate a nomination paper.

The signatures to each nomination paper shall all be appended on the same sheet of paper and each signer shall add thereto his occupation, date and place of residence (giving the street and number [if such there be] otherwise such designation of his place of residence as will enable the location to be readily ascertained). All such nomination papers shall be filed with the city clerk not later than twelve o'clock noon on the twentieth day before such election, and shall be accompanied by a verified statement of the candidate that he will accept the nomination, and also accept the office in the event of his election. Said nomination papers and affidavit shall be substantially in the following form:

Form of nomination paper.

Notary public in and for the county of.....State of California.

Publication of names of nominees.

§ 6. It shall not be necessary to print or send out sample ballots for such election, but the city clerk shall publish a list of the names of the nominees, in alphabetical order and the respective offices for which they have been nominated at least twice before the day of election in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published in such city. Said list shall be headed, "Nominees for public office," in conspicuous type, and be substantially in the following form:

Form of notice.

NOMINEES FOR PUBLIC OFFICE.

Notice is hereby given that the following persons have been nominated for the offices hereinafter mentioned to be filled at the general municipal election to be held in the city of....., on Monday, the.....day of April, 19.....
(Here follow with the list of nominees. In case any propositions are to be voted on, set them forth also.)
Dated,

City clerk.

Election booths and supplies.

§ 7. The city clerk shall procure the necessary voting booths and see that they are properly erected; he shall also have the necessary ballots printed and secure the necessary ballot boxes, stamps, ink pads, voting lists, roster, instruction cards, affidavits of registration and index thereto, tally lists, returns, envelopes, and all other necessary supplies, and see that they are properly distributed to each voting booth prior to the opening of the polls on the day of election.

Ballots.

§ 8. All official ballots shall have the names of the candidates printed thereon in a column four inches in width, each name occupying a separate place divided by fine lines one-half an inch apart, and having below the printed list, the necessary blank space or spaces to permit the elector to write in the name or names of other persons not printed on the ballot. The names shall be printed on the ballot in alphabetical order.

Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be headed by the designation of the office and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two," or more as the case may be, according to the number to be elected to such office; and where the office is for a short or unexpired term, the same shall be so specified. On the top of the face of the ballot the following directions shall be printed:

Instructions to voters.INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS.

To vote for a candidate of your selection, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square next to the right of the name of such candidate. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, stamp a cross (X) after the name of all the candidates for that office for whom you desire to vote not to exceed, however, the number of candidates who are to be elected. If the ballot does not contain the names of candidates for all offices for which you may desire to vote, you may vote for candidates for such offices so omitted by writing the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote in the blank space left for that purpose. To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank space left for that purpose.

To vote on any question, proposition or constitutional amendment, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the word "Yes" or after the word "No." All marks, except the cross (X) are forbidden. All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.

If you wrongly stamp, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election and obtain another.

A separate parallel column four inches in width shall be provided for any questions or propositions to be submitted at such election. The right side of each column shall be set off by a light vertical line so as to form half-inch squares or voting spaces.

Printing, etc., of ballots.

The ballots shall be printed on tinted paper containing a water-marked design, and they shall be kept secret from all persons not engaged in the preparation of the ballots until the day of election. The printing, perforating, padding, numbering, and amount of the ballots, and the kind of type used in printing the same, shall be substantially the same, as nearly as may be, as is used for the preparation of ballots for state and county elections, except as may be otherwise herein provided.

Bound in books.

§ 9. All ballots, when printed, shall be bound in stub books, each book to consist of ten, or some multiple of ten ballots, and so issued. A record of the number of ballots printed by them shall be kept by the city clerk.

Registration.

§ 10. At any such municipal election, the original affidavits of registration, or carbon copies thereof, shall be used therefor, and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he has registered and shall have resided in the city at least thirty days prior to the day of election.

Index to registration books.

§ 11. Before opening the polls the election board must post in separate convenient places, at or near the polling place and easy of access to the electors not less than four of the copies of the index to the book of affidavits of registration furnished for that precinct.

Oath of election officers.

§ 12. Before opening the polls, the election officers must take and subscribe to an oath to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon them by law. Any elector of the city may administer and certify to such oath.

Booths.

§ 13. The clerk shall provide a sufficient number of voting booths or compartments to accommodate the voters, and of such a character that each voter in the marking of his ballot will be screened from the observation of others.

Care of ballot box.

§ 14. Before receiving any ballots the election board shall, in the presence of such persons as may be assembled at the polling place, open, exhibit and close the ballot box; and thereafter it must not be removed from the polling place or presence of the bystanders until all the ballots have been counted, nor must it be opened until after the polls are finally closed.

Opening and closing polls.

§ 15. The polls must be and remain open on the day of such an election between such hours as the board of trustees may determine, but not less than eight consecutive hours. The hours of opening and closing the polls shall be specified in the notice of election, otherwise such hours shall be the same as those provided for general state elections. Before the board receive any ballots, they must cause it to be proclaimed aloud at the place of election that the polls are open.

Manner of voting.

§ 16. Any elector desiring to vote shall write his or her name and address on the roster provided for that purpose. If no challenge is interposed, or if a challenge be interposed and overruled, the election officer shall give him a blank ballot, after registering the number of the same. The voter shall then be permitted to enter the voting booth and stamp his ballot. No persons shall be permitted within six feet of any voting booth except those voting or those assisting voters in the manner authorized by law. Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold the ballot so that the number thereof only is visible. He shall then hand it to the inspector who shall announce the name of the voter and number of his ballot. If found to correspond, the inspector shall tear off the number from the ballot and deposit the ballot in the ballot box. Any member of the election board may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of the election.

Assisting voters.

§ 17. Voters who can not read, or by reason of physical disability are unable to mark their ballots may be assisted in voting in the manner provided by section one thousand two hundred eight of the Political Code.

Challenges.

§ 18. Voters may be challenged and the challenge disposed of as provided in sections one thousand two hundred thirty-one to one thousand two hundred forty-two inclusive of the Political Code.

Spoiled ballot.

§ 19. Any voter who shall spoil a ballot shall return the same to the inspector and obtain another. The inspector shall thereupon cancel the spoiled ballot by drawing two crossed lines over the face thereof in ink.

Closing polls.

§ 20. When the polls are closed that fact must be proclaimed aloud at the place of election; and after such proclamation, no ballot must be received; provided, however, that if at the hour of closing there are any other voters in the polling place, or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote.

Defacing unused and spoiled ballots.

§ 21. Immediately upon the closing of the polls, and before opening the ballot box and proceeding to count the ballots, the inspector shall deface all the unused and spoiled ballots by drawing across the face thereof, in red ink, with a pen, two lines which shall cross each other; and all spoiled and unused ballots shall be placed within and sealed in an envelope before the ballot box is opened.

Canvass of votes.

§ 22. As soon as the polls are finally closed the officers must immediately proceed to canvass the votes given at such election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof is declared.

Ballots folded together.

§ 23. If two or more separate ballots are found so folded together as to present the appearance of a single ballot, they must be laid aside until the count of the ballots is completed; then, if upon comparison of the count with the number of names of electors on the lists which have been kept by the clerks, it appears that the two ballots thus folded together were cast by one elector, they must be rejected.

Ballots in excess of names on list destroyed.

§ 24. The ballots must be immediately replaced in the box, and if the ballots in the box exceed in number the names on the lists, one of the officers must publicly, and without looking into the box, draw out therefrom singly, and destroy, unopened a number of ballots equal to such excess; and the board of election must make a record, upon the poll list of the number of ballots so drawn and destroyed. The number of ballots agreeing or being thus made to agree with the number of names on the lists, the lists must be signed by the members of the board.

Count.

§ 25. After the lists are thus signed, the board must proceed to open the ballots and count and ascertain the number of votes cast for each person voted for. All ballots rejected for illegality must have indorsed upon the ballot the cause of such rejection, and be signed by a majority of the election board, and thereafter strung upon a string.

Tallies.

§ 26. Each clerk must write down each office to be filled, and the name of each person marked in each ballot as voted for, to fill such office, and keep the number of votes by tallies, as they are read aloud. Such tallies must be made with pen and ink as the name of each candidate voted for is read aloud from the respective ballot, and immediately upon the completion of the tallies the clerks who respectively complete the same must draw two heavy lines in ink from the last tally mark to the end of the line in which such tallies terminate, and also write the initials of the person making the last tally in such line. The ballot so read and the tally sheet so kept must, during the reading and tallying, be within the clear view of watchers at the count.

Rules for counting ballots.

§ 27. (a) In canvassing the votes any ballot which is not marked as provided by law shall be void; but such ballot must be preserved and returned with the other ballots; provided, however, that two or more impressions of the voting stamp in one voting square, or a cross (X) made partly within and partly without a voting square or space shall not make such ballot void. Any name written upon a ballot shall be counted for such name for the office under which it is written, provided it is written in the blank space therefor, whether or not a cross (X) is stamped or made with pen or pencil in the voting square after the name so written.

(b) If a voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if, for any reason, it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office.

(c) If a voter stamps in the voting square after the name of any candidate and also writes the name of a person for such office in the blank space, such act does not invalidate his ballot, but his vote shall not be counted for any person for that office, but as to all other offices the ballot must be counted for the candidates opposite whose names the ballot is stamped in the voting squares.

(d) No mark upon a ballot which is unauthorized by this act shall be held to invalidate such ballot, unless it shall appear that such mark was placed thereon by the voter for the purpose of identifying such ballot.

After counting.

§ 28. The ballot, as soon as the names marked on it as voted for are read and verified, must be strung on a string by one of the officers and must not thereafter be examined by any person, but must, as soon as all are counted, be carefully sealed in a strong envelope, each member of the board writing his name across the seal.

Lists containing number of votes.

§ 29. As soon as all the votes are counted and the ballots sealed up, lists must be attached to the tally lists containing the names of persons voted for and for what office, and the number of votes given for each candidate, the number being written at full length, and such lists must be signed by the members of the board.

Lists sent to city clerk. Posting returns. Returns sent to city clerk.

§ 30. The board must, before it adjourns, inclose in a cover, and seal up and direct to the city clerk, the copy of the register upon which one of the officers marked the word "voted" as the ballots were received, all certificates of registration received by it, one of the lists of the persons challenged, one copy of the list of voters, and one of the tally lists, and list attached thereto. The board must also, before it adjourns, post conspicuously, on the outside of the polling place, a copy of the result of the votes cast at such polling place; such copy of the result must be signed by the members of the board. The board must also immediately transmit unsealed to the city clerk a copy of the result of the votes cast at such polling place, which copy must be signed by the members of the board, and which copy shall be open to the inspection of the public. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to remove or deface such posted copy of the result or to delay or change the copy to be delivered to the city clerk.

Other lists sent to county clerk.

§ 31. The other lists of voters, tally list and list attached thereto must be sent to the city clerk or registrar and retained by him open to inspection of all electors for at least six months.

Delivery of sealed packages.

§ 32. The sealed packages containing the register, lists, papers, and ballots, must, before the board adjourns, be delivered to one of its members, to be determined by lot, unless otherwise agreed upon.

§ 33. The member to whom such packages are delivered, must, without delay, deliver such packages without their having been opened, to the city clerk, who shall indorse on such packages the name of the party delivering them and date of such delivery.

One package to contain the voted ballots, only; one package to contain one poll and tally list only; one package to contain the precinct registers, index to register, list of voters challenged, and list of assisted voters; and one package to contain the unused ballots.

Ballots kept twelve months.

§ 34. On receipt of the packages the clerk must file the one containing the ballots, and must keep it unopened and unaltered for twelve months, after which time, if there is not a contest commenced in some tribunal having jurisdiction about such election, he must burn the package without having opened or examined its contents.

Canvass of returns by board of trustees.

§ 35. The board of trustees must meet at their usual place of meeting, on the first Monday after such election, to canvass the returns and install the newly elected officers.

The board of trustees must declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes given for each office. Upon the completion of the canvass and before installing the new officers, the board shall pass a resolution reciting the fact of the election and such other matters as are enumerated in the following section.

Statement of result.

§ 36. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter on the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement must show:

1. The whole number of votes cast in the city;
2. The names of the persons voted for, and the propositions voted upon;
3. The office to fill which each person was voted for;
4. The number of votes given at each precinct to each of such persons, and for and against each of such propositions;
5. The number of votes given in the city to each of such persons, and for and against each of such propositions voted upon.

Certificate of election.

§ 37. The city clerk must immediately make out and deliver to each of such persons elected a certificate of election, signed by him, and duly authenticated; he shall also impose the constitutional oath of office and have them subscribe thereto.

Campaign expenditures.

§ 38. It shall not be necessary, for any candidate or nominee for a municipal office to file a statement of his expenditures used in aid of his election.

General election law of state to apply.

§ 39. In all other respects, not otherwise provided for herein, such general municipal elections shall be held and conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as the same may be applicable. This act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects hereof, and no error, omission or irregularity shall ever be held to invalidate such an election providing the provisions of this act have been substantially complied with.

DISINCORPORATION OF SIXTH CLASS CITIES.ACT 3091—An act to provide for the disincorporation of municipal corporations of the sixth class.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 115. Amended (1) February 23, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 17; (2) February 17, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 13; (3) May 29, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 982.

Disincorporation. Procedure. Election. Property, debts and taxes.

§ 1. A municipal corporation of the sixth class may disincorporate after proceedings had as required in this act. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of such corporation shall, upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than half of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal election held therein, submit to the electors of such corporation the question whether such municipal corporation shall disincorporate. Such question shall be submitted at a special election to be held for that purpose, and such legislative body shall give notice thereof by publication in a newspaper printed or published in said corporation, or if there is no newspaper published in said corporation, then in some newspaper published in the county in which said corporation is situated, for a period of thirty days prior to such election. Said notice shall state that the question of disincorporating said corporation will be submitted to the legal voters of the same at the time appointed for such election, and the electors shall be invited thereby to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the cross, as provided by law, after the words "For disincorporation," or "Against disincorporation." Such legislative body shall also designate in said notice the place or places at which the polls will be open in said municipal corporation; and shall also appoint and designate in such notice the names of the officers of election. The vote at said election shall be taken, canvassed, and returned in the same manner as in other municipal elections. Such legislative body shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat. If it be found by the canvass of said votes that less than two-thirds of the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, such legislative body shall declare the petition for disincorporation denied, in which case no new election shall be held on the question of disincorporating the corporation involved in said petition and vote until after the expiration of two years from the date of the election so held. In case it shall appear from said canvass that two-thirds of all the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, said legislative body shall, under their hands, make and file in their office, and cause to be entered upon their record of proceedings, an order that the petition for such disincorporation be granted, and declaring that such corporation be disincorporated; said order to take effect at the time hereinafter provided.

Said legislative body shall, in case said corporation is so disincorporated, forthwith cause their clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, by an order entered in their minutes, to make and transmit to the secretary of state and board of supervisors of the county in which said corporation is situated, a certified copy and abstract of the notice of election hereinbefore provided for, the whole number of electors voting for said disincorporation, and the number of electors voting against said disincorporation. Thirty days from and after the holding of the election, in case two-thirds of the said votes were cast in favor of said disincorporation, said municipal corporation shall be forever disincorporated. Said legislative body shall forthwith, after ascertaining by said canvass that said disincorporation has been carried, determine the amount of the indebtedness of said municipal corporation, the amount of money in the treasury thereof, and the amount of any tax levy made by said corporation unpaid or not due, and all other indebtedness due or coming due to said corporation, and within thirty days from the date of said election shall transmit a certified statement of said amount to the board of supervisors of the county in which said municipal corporation is situated; and the treasurer of said corporation shall before the expiration of said thirty days, turn over to the treasurer of said county all moneys of said municipal corporation in his possession, and said county treasurer shall place said moneys in a special fund, to be drawn upon as hereinafter provided for. Upon the disincorporation of said municipal corporation, every public officer of said corporation shall immediately turn over to the board of supervisors of the county in which said corporation is situated, all public property of every nature and description in their possession; provided, however, that all court records of the recorder's court of the said municipal corporation shall be retained by said recorder as justice of the peace of the township, and as such justice of the peace he shall have authority to execute and complete all unfinished business standing on the same. Nothing contained in this act shall be held to relieve said municipal corporation, or the territory included within it, from any liability for any debt contracted by such municipal corporation prior to its disincorporation. All warrants for said indebtedness shall be drawn by the board of supervisors of the county in which said municipal corporation is situated, on the fund hereinabove provided for in the county treasury. If, at the time of said disincorporation, a tax shall have been levied by said municipal corporation, and remains uncollected, it shall be the duty of the tax collector of the county in which said municipal corporation was situated to collect said tax when due, and pay the same into the county treasury. All property upon which any municipal tax has been levied and the same has become delinquent, either before or after the date of such disincorporation, and all property sold for any tax levied by said municipal corporation, may be redeemed by any party interested, by the payment to the county treasurer, upon the estimates of the auditor, of the money that would have been necessary to redeem such property, had said city not disincorporated. All moneys paid into the county treasury under the provisions of this act shall be placed to the credit of the special fund hereinbefore provided for. If, at any time after the disincorporation of such municipal corporation, it should be found that there is not sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the fund hereinabove provided for, with which to pay any indebtedness of said municipal corporation, the board of supervisors of said county shall have the power, and it shall be their duty to levy, and there shall be collected from the territory formerly included within said municipal corporation, a tax or taxes sufficient in amount to pay the said indebtedness, of said municipal corporation, as the same shall become due; such tax or taxes, assessments, and collections shall be made in the same manner and at the same time that other taxes of said county are levied and collected, and shall be an additional tax upon the property included within said territory for the payment of said debts. If, after payment of the debts of said municipal corporation, there shall remain any surplus in the hands of said county treasurer to the credit of the fund hereinafter mentioned, the money so remaining shall be transferred to the school fund of the districts or district covered by said municipal corporation. [Amendment approved February 17, 1899. Stats. 1899, p. 13.]

This section was also amended February 23, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 17.

Duty of supervisors.

§ 2. The board of supervisors of the county in which any such municipal corporation has been disincorporated, shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, if the board of trustees or other legislative body of such corporation shall fail or refuse to return to said board of supervisors the statement of said amounts as hereinbefore in this act provided, to ascertain the indebtedness of said municipal corporation at the time of its disincorporation, and the amount of money in its treasury and the amount due to it at the said time. Said board of supervisors shall make provision for the collection of the amounts due to said municipal corporation, and for the closing up of its affairs, and any act or acts necessary for such purpose and not otherwise herein provided for, shall, upon the order of said board of supervisors directing the same, be as fully done and performed by the officer or officers performing similar duties for the said county, and with as full effect as if the same had been performed by the proper officer of said municipal corporation, before disincorporation, and said county shall succeed to and possess all the rights of said municipal corporation in and to said indebtedness, and shall have power to sue for or otherwise collect any such debts, in the name of the county. All costs and expenses of ascertaining the facts hereinbefore mentioned, and all other costs and expenses incurred by the board of supervisors in the execution of the powers and duties of said board of supervisors, provided for in this act, shall be paid out of the special fund in said county treasury hereinbefore in this act provided for. All provisions of this act relating to the settlement of a municipal corporation after disincorporation shall be applicable to the winding up of the affairs of any disincorporated municipality whether disincorporated before or after the passage of this act. [Amendment approved February 17, 1899. Stats. 1899, p. 14.]

Supervisors may take over public utilities of disincorporated municipalities.

§ 2a. In the event of the disincorporation of any municipality under the provisions of this act, the board of supervisors of the county in which such municipality was situated may by ordinance assume control and authority over all electric, power, lighting or gas plants, or all systems of water-works, or street lighting or other public utilities owned by such municipality at the time of its disincorporation, and thereafter continue to administer and conduct the same. In case the revenues from any such public utility are not sufficient for the administration, conduct or improvement thereof, then said board of supervisors shall have power to levy a special tax upon all properties within the former corporate limits of said municipality, said special tax to be levied upon the assessed value of such properties as shown by the assessment thereof by the county assessor as of March first of that year, and shall be collected in the same manner and form as other county taxes are collected, and all sums so collected shall be placed in a separate fund with the county treasurer for the administration, conduct and improvement of the public utility for which said tax is levied. [New section added May 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. of 1915, p. 982.]

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1. Constitutionality.—Not in conflict with subdv. 33, section 25, article IV, constitution.—The disincorporation act of 1895 is not unconstitutional as in conflict with subdv. 33, section 25, article IV, of the constitution.—Mintzer v. Schilling, 117 Cal. 361, 49 Pac. 209.

2. Petition.—Not objectionable for failure to represent subscribers as qualified electors.—A petition for disincorporation is not objectionable on the ground that it did not represent the subscribers as qualified electors where they were described as citizens of the city and were in fact qualified electors.—Frederick v. San Luis Obispo, 118 Cal. 391, 50 Pac. 661.

3. Petition.—Prayer for disincorporation not necessary.—The petition for disincorporation need not directly and specifically pray for disincorporation, and it is sufficient if it contains a prayer for the submission of the question to a vote of the electors.—Mintzer v. Schilling, 117 Cal. 361, 49 Pac. 209.

4. Notice of election.—Publication sufficient.—Where the notice of election to be held July 27, 1896, was published weekly beginning June 27, 1906, and ending July 25, 1906, such publication sufficiently complied with the requirements of the statute.—Mintzer v. Schilling, 117 Cal. 361, 49 Pac. 209.

5. Notice of election—Signature of members of board not required.—The notice of election need not be signed by the members of the board and it is sufficient if the notice is published over the initial signature of the clerk showing that it was by the authority of the board.—Mintzer v. Schilling, 117 Cal. 361, 49 Pac. 209.

6. Duty of board of trustees—Petition signed by requisite number of qualified electors.—The fact that a petition for disincorporation was received by the board of trustees imposes upon such board the duty to call the election where such petition shows that it was signed by the requisite number of qualified electors and not the fact that it describes the subscribers as "electors"; and whether the subscribers were electors is for the consideration of the board and a mere affirmative allegation that there were such electors would not preclude or materially aid the inquiry.—Frederick v. San Luis Obispo, 118 Cal. 391, 50 Pac. 661.

7. Complaint in mandamus—Sufficient.—In a complaint for mandamus to compel the board of trustees of a city to call a disincorporation election, it is sufficient under the requirement of section 1086 of the Code of Civil Procedure to aver that the complainant is a property owner and taxpayer.—Frederick v. San Luis Obispo, 118 Cal. 391, 50 Pac. 661.

8. Action to compel board to rescind order fixing date of election—Board necessary party defendant.—Individuals composing the board of trustees of a municipality can only rescind the action of such board in fixing a date for a disincorporation election by an action taken as a board and such board is a necessary party defendant in an application for a writ of mandate to compel such decision.—Taylor v. Burks, 6 Cal. App. 225, 91 Pac. 814.

REORGANIZATION ACT OF 1899.

ACT 3092—An act to provide for the reorganization of municipal corporations and for determining the population thereof.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision, without governor's approval, March 8, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 75.

Reorganization of municipal corporations.

§ 1. The legislative body of any municipal corporation of the sixth class, upon receiving a petition for the reorganization of said corporation under a higher or lower class, according to the classification now provided by law, signed by not less than one-fifth of the qualified electors of said corporation, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal election held therein, shall submit to the electors of such city, at a special election to be called within two weeks after receiving such petition, the question whether such city shall so reorganize under and in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such election shall be held within four weeks after the time when so called. Notice of such election shall be given by publication for at least ten days in a newspaper published in said city; or, if there be no newspaper published therein, by printing and posting the same in at least four public places therein. Such notice shall state the proposition to be submitted at said election. The ballots to be used at such election shall contain the words: "reorganization—yes," and "reorganization—no." Such election shall be held in accordance with the general laws of the state so far as applicable. The legislative body of said city shall, at the time of the next regular meeting of said body after such election, canvass the votes cast thereat and declare the result. If a majority of all the electors voting at said election shall be found to have voted for such reorganization such legislative body shall, at said time, and by an order to be entered in its minutes, cause the clerk of said city to forthwith make and transmit to the secretary of state a certified abstract of such vote showing the whole number of electors voting at said election, the number of votes cast for reorganization, and the number of votes against reorganization; and thereafter, at the time prescribed by law for a general municipal election in municipal corporations of the class under which it has been so voted to reorganize, such officers shall be elected in said city as are or may be by law required to be elected at such general municipal election; and from and after the qualification of such officers, said city shall belong to such class; provided, that if such canvass of votes, on reorganization, shall occur within less than thirty-five days prior to the time of a general municipal election in cities of the class into which it has been so voted to reorganize, or within three months after such time, then the said legislative body shall immediately call a special election, to be held within at least six weeks after said canvass of votes, which election shall be in lieu of, and be conducted, as far as may be, as by law prescribed for such general municipal elections, and with like effect.

Title to property, etc.

§ 2. The reorganization of any city under the provisions of this act shall not affect the title to any property held by such city, or in trust therefor, or any debts, liabilities, or obligations in favor of or against such city, or any proceedings then pending, or any ordinances theretofore adopted, or any liability incurred for the violation of any ordinance; provided, such ordinance or ordinances are not in conflict with such general laws.

Duties of officers.

§ 3. As soon as the officers elected under the provisions of section one of this act shall have qualified in accordance with law, all persons in possession of the offices of said city shall surrender such possession to such elected officers, and deliver to them all moneys, books, papers and other things in their official custody, and all property of such city in their hands, notwithstanding the terms of office for which they were elected, or appointed, respectively, may not then have expired.

Basis of population.

§ 4. The census taken under the direction of the congress of the United States in the year eighteen hundred and ninety, and every ten years thereafter, shall be the basis upon which the respective populations of municipal corporations shall be determined, unless a direct enumeration of the inhabitants thereof has been made since such census; in which case such enumeration shall constitute such basis; provided, that if no such census, or no direct enumeration, shall have been taken or made within three years next preceding the presenting of the petition for reorganization mentioned in section one of this act, such population shall be determined by multiplying by five the number of voters voting at the last general election held in such city.

Repeal of inconsistent acts.

§ 5. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

OWNERSHIP OF PROPERTY OF DISINCORPORATED MUNICIPALITY.

ACT 3093—An act to provide for the ownership of property and the winding up of the affairs of municipal corporations disincorporated under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled "An act to provide for the disincorporation of municipal corporations of the sixth class," approved March 26, 1895, when two-thirds or more in value of assessable property within the former limits thereof shall be included within the boundaries of any subsequently incorporated city or town.

History: Approved February 17, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 17.

Ownership of property of disincorporated cities of sixth class. Liability for debts.

§ 1. Any city or town heretofore or hereafter incorporated that, at the time of incorporation, shall embrace within the corporate limits thereof two thirds or more in value of assessable property formerly contained within the corporate boundaries of any city or town disincorporated under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California, approved March twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, entitled "An act to provide for the disincorporation of municipal corporations of the sixth class," shall succeed to and become the owner of all public property formerly belonging to such disincorporated city or town; and also to such proportion of the corporate debts, liabilities, and credits due or owing and unpaid, as the total value of assessable property of such former city or town lying within its boundaries, as aforesaid, shall bear to the total value of all assessable property situated within the former limits of said municipal corporation so disincorporated; such valuation to be determined by the assessment roll of the county in which such city or town is situated for the fiscal year in which said municipality was disincorporated; provided, that any territory contained therein that was not included within the former limits of said disincorporated municipality shall not be liable to be taxed for any debt or liability of said disincorporated city or town.

Valuation of property. Apportionment of debts. Title to public property.

§ 2. The board of supervisors of the county in which said city or town is situated shall, upon written request of the board of trustees or other legislative body thereof, forthwith cause the county auditor to prepare a statement of the total valuation of assessable property in said disincorporated municipality and the total amount thereof contained in said incorporated city or town, as aforesaid, and said auditor shall prepare the same without cost. If it appears from said statement that two thirds or more in value of said assessable property is contained within the boundaries of said incorporated city or town, said board of supervisors shall, by an order duly entered upon their minutes, fix the relative proportion thereof, which proportion so fixed shall be the proportion of the debts and liabilities of said disincorporated municipality for which said incorporated city or town shall be liable; and shall forward a certified copy of said entry to the secretary of state and also to the city clerk of said incorporated city or town, and forthwith turn over to the board of trustees or other legislative body thereof, all public property taken by them under the provisions of said act providing for the disincorporation of cities of the sixth class, and such proportion of all moneys in the special fund provided for in said act, as said incorporated city or town is entitled to, estimated as in the case of debts and liabilities, as aforesaid. And thereupon the ownership and title to all public property of every description formerly belonging to said disincorporated municipality, which under the provisions of said act has been taken possession of by the board of supervisors and passed into the control of the county or passed into the ownership and possession of the state of California by reason of said disincorporation, shall immediately be vested in said incorporated city or town as fully as if said property had been originally acquired by it.

Bonded indebtedness, payment of.

§ 3. If there be a bonded indebtedness of said disincorporated municipality existing on its former territory, a portion of which is included in said city or town as aforesaid, the board of trustees or other legislative body of such city or town shall make provisions to pay its proportion thereof, estimated as aforesaid, in the same manner it should have been paid had said city or town not disincorporated; and for that purpose shall annually levy and collect, at the same time other city taxes are levied and collected, a special tax on the territory of said disincorporated municipality within the limits of said city or town, sufficient to pay its proportion thereof as the same shall become due; and the board of supervisors of said county shall annually levy and collect, at the same time other county taxes are levied and collected, a special tax on the remainder of said territory not included in said city or town, sufficient to pay the balance thereof, and cause the same to be paid to the treasurer of said city or town, and it shall be the duty of said city treasurer to pay said bonded indebtedness as the same becomes due with said moneys levied and collected as aforesaid, in conformity with the laws under which such indebtedness was incurred.

Property sold for taxes.

§ 4. Any property within the limits of said disincorporated city or town that has been sold for any tax levied by such disincorporated municipality may be redeemed or a tax deed issued therefor, in the same manner and with the same effect as if said municipality had not disincorporated. Such proceedings to be had and deed issued in the corporate name of said city or town in which said land is situated.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 5. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

CITY PLANNING COMMISSIONS.

ACT 3093a—An act to provide for the establishment, government, and maintenance of city planning commissions within municipalities, and prescribing their powers and duties.

History: Approved May 21, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 708.

City planning commission.

§ 1. The city council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any incorporated city or town in the state of California may, by ordinance, create a city planning commission for such city or town.

Membership. Term. Vacancies. Compensation.

§ 2. Such city planning commission shall consist of five members, to be appointed by the mayor or other executive head of the municipality, by and with the consent of the legislative body thereof, one of which shall be a member of the legislative body of such municipality; and in addition thereto the city attorney and city engineer, if such there be, of such municipality, shall be ex officio full members of said commission; and provided, further, that the mayor or other executive head of such municipality shall also in addition thereto be an ex officio member of said commission but without any right of vote in the deliberation thereof except in case of a tie. The five members of the first commission so appointed hereunder shall so classify themselves by lot that one of their number shall go out of office at the end of the current calendar year, two at the end of one year thereafter, and the other two at the end of two years thereafter. Vacancies for any unexpired term shall be filled by appointment as in the first instance. Non-residents shall be eligible to appointment on the city planning commission. Excepting the secretary hereinafter mentioned the members of the commission shall not receive any compensation for their services, but the said legislative body shall fix the amount of compensation, if any, to be paid to the secretary.

Meetings. Officers.

§ 3. The members of the city planning commission shall meet at least once a month at such times and places as they may fix by resolution. They shall select one of their number as president and another as secretary, and both shall serve for one year and until their successors are appointed; in case of their absence, the members of the commission shall select a president or secretary pro tem, as the case may be. Special meetings may be called at any time by the president or three members, by written notice served upon each member of the commission at least three hours before the time specified for the proposed meeting. Four members of the commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The commission shall cause a proper record to be kept of its proceedings.

Powers.

§ 4. City planning commissions shall have power, except as otherwise provided by law:

First—To recommend to the proper officers of the municipality plans for the regulation of the future growth, development and beautification of the municipality in respect to its public and private buildings and works, streets, parks, grounds, and vacant lots;

Second—To recommend to the proper officer of the municipality, plans, consistent with the future growth and development of the municipality in order to secure to the city and its inhabitants sanitation, proper service of all public utilities, harbor, shipping and transportation facilities;

Third—To make recommendations to any public authorities or any corporation or individuals of such city with reference to the location of any proposed buildings, structures or works;

Fourth—To recommend to the proper officers of the municipality the approval or disapproval of maps or plats of subdivisions of land. Every such map or plat shall, prior to its final approval or disapproval by the proper officers of the municipality be submitted to said commission for its recommendations thereon to such officers.

Fifth—To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act.

Map of city. Recommendations.

§ 5. The city planning commission shall make or cause to be made, at the direction of the city council, a map or maps of the city or any portion thereof, including adjacent territory lying outside of the corporate boundaries thereof, showing the streets, highways and other natural or artificial features therein; also the locations or relocations proposed for any new public buildings, civic center, street, parkway, boulevard, park, playground, or other public ground or improvement; also any proposed widening, extension, closing, or relocation of any street or highway, or any change in the plan of the city that it may deem advisable. Said commission may, at its discretion, prepare such maps or plans as aforesaid for the purpose of making recommendations in connection therewith to the proper officers of such municipality having charge, superintendence or control of the matters set forth in such recommendations.

It shall make suggestions or recommendations to the city council from time to time, concerning any of the matters and things aforesaid for action by the council thereon, having due regard for the present conditions and the future needs and growth of the city, including the distribution and relative location of all public buildings, grounds and open spaces devoted to public use; also the planning and laying out for urban uses of all private grounds brought into the market from time to time, and the division of the city into zones or districts for the purpose of conserving and protecting the public health, comfort and convenience.

Public buildings, playgrounds, etc.

§ 6. Any officer or department whose duty it is to prepare ordinances and resolutions relating to the location of any public building of the city, or location, extension, widening, enlargement, ornamentation, or parking of any street, boulevard, alley, parkway, park, playground, or other public grounds, or to the vacation of any street, or other alteration of the city plan of streets and highways, or the location of any bridge, tunnel, or subway, or of any surface, underground or elevated railway or public utility, or ordinances relating to housing, building codes or zones, shall, prior to the submission to the proper board or officer of the municipality, of the ordinance or resolution required to be adopted before such proceedings are instituted, give notice to the commission of the pendency before the officer or department of proceedings with reference to any of the above matters.

Tax levy.

§ 7. The city council of each municipality may, in making its annual tax levy and as a part thereof, levy and collect a tax for the purpose of defraying the lawful expenses incurred by the city planning commission of such municipality not to exceed two mills on the dollar of assessed valuation; provided, however, that no expense of any kind shall be incurred by the commission unless first authorized and approved by the city council.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

ACT 3093b—An act to provide for direct legislation by cities and towns, including initiative and referendum.

History: Approved January 2, 1912, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 131.
Amended May 3, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 319;
May 17, 1917; in effect July 27, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 655.

Manner of enacting ordinances. Petition. Contents. Affidavit. Examination by clerk. Supplementary petitions when needed. Petition submitted to legislative body.

§ 1. Ordinances may be enacted by and for any incorporated city or town of the state in the manner following: Any proposed ordinance may be submitted to the legislative body of such city or town by a petition filed with the clerk of such legislative body after being signed by qualified electors of the city or town not less in number than the percentages hereinafter required. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper. Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence and occupation, giving street and number, where such street and number, or either, exist, and if no street or number exist, then such a designation of the place of residence as will enable the location to be readily ascertained. Each such separate paper shall have attached thereto an affidavit made by a qualified elector of the city or town, and sworn to before an officer competent to administer oaths, stating that the affiant circulated that particular paper and saw written the signatures appended thereto; and that according to the best information and belief of the affiant, each is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereunto subscribed, and of a qualified elector of the city or town. Within ten days from the date of filing such petition, the clerk shall examine, and from the records of registration, ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination. If by the clerk's certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be supplemented within ten days from the date of such certificate by the filing of additional papers, duplicates of the original petition except as to the names signed. The clerk shall, within ten days after such supplementing papers are filed, make like examination of the supplementing petition, and if his certificate shall show that all the names to such petition, including the supplemental papers, are still insufficient, no action on the petition shall be mandatory on the legislative body; but the petition shall remain on file as a public record; and the failure to secure sufficient names shall be without prejudice to the filing later of an entirely new petition to the same or similar effect. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the legislative body at its next regular session. If the petition accompanying the proposed ordinance be signed by not less than fifteen per cent of the electors of such city or town, and contains a request that such ordinance be submitted forthwith to a vote of the people at a special election, then the legislative body shall either:

Ordinance passed.

(a) Pass such ordinance without alteration at the regular session at which it is presented and within ten days after it is presented; or,

Special election.

(b) Forthwith, the legislative body shall proceed to call a special election at which such ordinance, without alteration, shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the city or town.

Regular election. Ballots. Ordinance adopted. Ordinance proposed by people repealed only by vote of people. Any number may be voted on at once. Argument for measure submitted by legislative petition. Legislative body may submit ordinances. Sample ballot mailed to voters. Liberal construction. Enacting clause. Time of calling special election. Time ordinances go into effect. Protest.

If the petition be signed by not less than ten per cent of the electors of such city or town, and the ordinance petitioned for is not required to be, or for any reason is not, submitted to the electors at a special election, and is not passed without change by said legislative body, then such ordinance, without alteration, shall be submitted by the legislative body to a vote of the electors at the next regular municipal election. The ballots used when voting upon said proposed ordinance shall have printed thereon the words "Shall the ordinance (stating the nature thereof) be adopted?" Opposite such proposition to be voted on, and to the right thereof, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed on separate lines, with voting squares. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," his vote shall be counted in favor of the adoption of the ordinance, and if he shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No," his vote shall be counted against the adoption of the same. If a majority of the qualified electors voting on said proposed ordinance shall vote in favor thereof, such ordinance shall thereupon become a valid and binding ordinance of the city or town, and be considered as adopted upon the date that the vote is canvassed and declared by the canvassing board, and go into effect ten days thereafter. Such ordinance shall have the same force and effect as one passed by the legislative body of the city or town, except that no ordinance proposed by petition as in this section provided, and thereafter passed by the vote of the legislative body of the city or town without submission to a vote of the people, or voted upon and adopted by the people, shall be repealed or amended, except by a vote of the people, unless provision otherwise be made in the ordinance itself. Any number of proposed ordinances may be voted upon at the same election in accordance with the provisions of this statute; provided, that there shall not be held under this statute more than one special election in any period of six months. If any measure be submitted upon an initiative petition of registered voters, as hereinbefore provided, the persons filing said petition shall have the right, if they so choose, to present and file therewith a written argument in support thereof not exceeding three hundred words in length, which argument shall be printed upon the sample ballot issued for said election. Upon the same ballot shall also be printed any argument of not exceeding three hundred words in length in opposition thereto which may be prepared by the legislative body. If the provisions of two or more ordinances adopted at the same election conflict, then the ordinance receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall control. The legislative body of the city or town may submit to the people, without a petition therefor, a proposition for the repeal of any adopted ordinance, or for amendments thereto, or for the enactment of any new ordinance, to be voted upon at any succeeding regular or special municipal city or town election, and if such proposition so submitted receive a majority of the votes cast thereon at such election, such ordinance shall be repealed, amended or enacted accordingly. Whenever any ordinance or proposition is required by this statute to be submitted to the voters of a city or town at any election, the clerk of the legislative body shall cause the ordinance or proposition to be printed and he shall mail a copy thereof, enclosed in an envelope with a sample ballot to each voter at least ten days prior to the election. All the provisions of this statute are to be liberally construed for the purpose of ascertaining and enforcing the will of the electors. The enacting clause of an ordinance passed by the vote of the electors shall be substantially in the following form: "The people of the city (or town) of do ordain as follows:". When a special election is to be called under the terms of this section, it shall be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the date of the presentation of the proposed ordinance to the legislative body, and shall be held as nearly as may be in accordance with the election laws of the state; provided, however, that, to avoid holding more than one such election within any six months, the date for holding such special election may be fixed later than sixty days, but at as early a date as practicable after the expiration of such six months; provided, further, that when under any of the terms of this statute fixing the time within which a special election shall be held it is made possible to hold the same within six months prior to a regular municipal election, the legislative body may in its discretion, submit the proposed ordinance at such regular election instead of at a special election. Except an ordinance calling or otherwise relating to an election, no ordinance passed by the legislative body of a city or town, except when otherwise specially required by the laws of the state, and except an ordinance for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, which contains a declaration of, and the facts constituting its urgency and is passed by a four-fifths vote of the legislative body of a city or town, and no ordinance granting a franchise shall go into effect before thirty days from its final passage; and if, during said thirty days, a petition, signed by not less than ten per cent of the electors of such city or town, protesting against the passage of such ordinance, be presented to the legislative body, the same shall thereupon be suspended from going into operation, and it shall be the duty of the legislative body to reconsider such ordinance. If said legislative body shall thereupon not entirely repeal said ordinance, it shall submit the same to a vote of the electors either at a regular municipal election or a special election to be called for the purpose, and such ordinance shall not go into effect or become operative unless a majority of the voters voting upon the same shall vote in favor thereof. Such petitions and the provisions of the law relative to the duty of the clerk in regard thereto and the manner of voting thereon, shall conform to the rules provided herein for the initiation of legislation by the electors.

In cities having mayor with veto power. Duty of legislative body also duty of mayor.

In cities or towns having a mayor (or like officer), with the veto power, the passage of an ordinance petitioned for by the electors, followed by its veto by the mayor (or like officer) and the failure of the legislative body to pass the same over such veto, shall be deemed and treated as a refusal of the legislative body to pass the ordinance, within the meaning of this statute; and a vote of the legislative body in favor of the repeal of an ordinance previously passed (but protested against by the electors as herein provided for) followed by a veto of such repeal by the mayor (or like officer) and the failure of the legislative body to pass said repeal over said veto, shall be deemed and treated as a refusal to repeal the ordinance so protested against. In such city or town the date of approval of an ordinance by the mayor or like officer (or of the expiration without his action thereon of the time within which he may veto the same, if such expiration of time for his action without his approval or veto has the effect of making the ordinance a law) shall be deemed the date of final passage of the ordinance by the legislative body, within the meaning of this statute. Any duty herein in terms, or by reasonable implication, imposed upon the legislative body in regard to calling an election, or in connection therewith, shall be likewise imposed upon any mayor, or any other officer having any duty to perform connected with the elections, so far as may be necessary to fully carry out the provisions of this statute. [Amendment of May 3, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 319.]

Not applicable to street proceedings.

§ 2. This act is not intended to apply to those cities having a freeholders' charter adopted and ratified under the provisions of section eight of article XI of the constitution and having in such charter provision for the direct initiation of ordinances by the electors; nor to proceedings had for the improvement of streets in or rights of way owned by municipalities, the opening or closing of streets, the changing of grades or the doing of other work, the cost of which or any portion of which is to be borne by special assessments upon real property. [Amendment of May 17, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 655.]

Repeal of former law.

§ 3. Sections 2 and 3 of the act approved March 14th, 1911, entitled "An act adding three new sections to an act entitled 'An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations,' approved March 13, 1883, to be numbered 10, 11 and 12 and relating to the government of municipal corporations and providing for the recall, initiative and referendum," are hereby repealed.

1. Certificate of city clerk.—Where the certificate of the city clerk attached to an initiative petition recites that that officer has examined the same and the records of registration and has ascertained that the petition was signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, such petition sufficiently shows that the requisite number of such subscribers were registered qualified electors of such city, although the certificate contains no recital that the register examined was the only existing great register of the county.—Minges v. Board of Trustees, 27 Cal. App. 15, 148 Pac. 816.

2. Same—Personal examination necessary.—The city clerk is not authorized by the initiative and referendum act to make any certificate as to the sufficiency of an initiative petition until he has personally examined the registration records and ascertained thereby whether the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and he can not delegate his duty in this respect to the county clerk.—Gabbert v. Perry, 36 Cal. App. 690, 173 Pac. 472.

3. Act relates to legislative, not ministerial or administrative, matters.—The provisions of section 1 of article IV of the constitution reserving to the people themselves the right to propose laws and amendments to the constitution and to adopt or reject the same at the polls independent of the legislature, refers exclusively to matters of strictly legislative cognizance as distinguished from matters that are ministerial or administrative.—Chase v. Kalber, 28 Cal. App. 561, 153 Pac. 397.

4. Same.—The provision of section 1, article IV of the constitution whereby power is given to the legislative body of a city, or city and county, or town to provide for the exercise of the right of initiative or referendum until the legislature shall otherwise provide, applies to legislative matters.—Chase v. Kalber, 28 Cal. App. 561, 153 Pac. 397.

5. Later effect of ordinance than act provides.—Where a proposed municipal ordinance contains a provision that the ordinance shall take effect at a later date than that provided in the initiative and referendum act, such ordinance is not for that reason in conflict with the provisions of that act.—Minges v. Board of Trustees, 27 Cal. App. 15, 148 Pac. 816.

6. Street improvement proceedings in freeholders' charter cities—Legislative.—Street improvement proceedings of municipalities not governed by freeholders' charters are legislative in character and not ministerial or administrative; and they are none the less so because expressed or evidenced by resolution instead of ordinance.—Chase v. Kalber, 28 Cal. App. 561, 153 Pac. 397.

7. Same—Power of initiative and referendum can not coexist with street improvement system.—The power of initiative and referendum conferred by the constitution can not coexist with the system established by the legislature for the improvement of public streets; and notwithstanding the fact that such proceedings are legislative in their character, it is held that the intention of the people with respect to the scope and nature of the constitutional provision referred to, was not that it should be applied to such proceedings since the practical application thereof would wholly destroy the power to compel the improvement of streets indispensable to the convenience, comfort and well-being of the inhabitants affected.—Chase v. Kalber, 28 Cal. App. 561, 153 Pac. 397.

8. Same—Same—Intention of people.—It is reasonable to suppose that the people in enacting the initiative and referendum, did not intend to vest the right in voters to a voice in the matter of a proposed improvement in which their property was not to be affected.—Chase v. Kalber, 28 Cal. App. 561, 153 Pac. 397.

9. Same—Same—Effect of application of initiative and referendum power.—The application of the initiative and referendum to street improvement proceedings would have the effect not only to deprive the persons interested of their right to hearings upon the proposed improvement but also would delay the improvement to the great inconvenience of the public and give to the bonds voted for such improvement a precarious and doubtful value.—Chase v. Kalber, 28 Cal. App. 561, 153 Pac. 397.

10. Bakersfield charter—Act not applicable to Bakersfield.—The initiative and referendum act has no application to the city of Bakersfield although the referendum provisions of the charter of that city are modeled upon the terms of the statute.—

Bakersfield, etc., Co. v. Hay, 29 Cal. App. 289, 155 Pac. 132.

11. "Wyllie local option law"—Electors may exercise powers.—Under the initiative and referendum act of 1911 the electors of a municipality may exercise powers of the board of trustees of such municipality under the Wyllie local option act, and may by proper petition make it incumbent upon the board to pass a prohibitive ordinance or call an election submitting such an ordinance to the electors under such initiative act.—Giddings v. Board of Trustees, 165 Cal. 695, 133 Pac. 479.

HOURS OF LABOR OF MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES.

ACT 3093c—An act providing for hours of rest for persons employed by municipal corporations during more than one hundred twenty hours per week, and prescribing penalties for violations hereof.

History: Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1644.

Hours off for certain municipal employees.

§ 1. Any person in the employ of a municipal corporation and whose hours of labor exceed one hundred twenty hours in a calendar week of seven days, shall be entitled to be off duty at least three hours during every twenty-four hours for the purpose of procuring meals and no deduction of salary shall be made by reason thereof.

Penalty.

§ 2. Any officer or agent of a municipal corporation having supervision and control of the employees referred to in section one hereof who shall violate the provisions hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as provided in section nineteen of the Penal Code.

FISCAL YEAR OF FREEHOLDER CHARTER CITIES.

ACT 3093d—An act providing for changing the fiscal year of cities in this state operating under a charter framed under section 8, article 11, of the constitution.

History: Approved March 16, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 128.

Editor's note: This act provided that the legislative body of such a city might, by ordinance, change the date of the fiscal year of such city, by adding to the tax rate for the new fiscal year a sufficient amount in addition to the limit provided by the charter, to raise enough money to pay claims contracted between the end of the previous fiscal year to the commencement of the new fiscal year.

REFUNDING ACT OF 1897.

ACT 3093e—An act authorizing the common council, board of trustees, or other governing body of any incorporated city or town other than cities of the first class to refund its indebtedness, to issue bonds therefor and to provide for the payment of the same.

History: Approved March 9, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 75. Amended March 12, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 274; May 10, 1919; in effect July 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 498. Prior act of March 15, 1883, Stats. 1883, p. 370. Amended March 1, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 59; March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 203. Repealed by the present act.

Refunding bonded indebtedness of municipal corporations. Interest. "Serials." "Funding fund." When election necessary. Application of proceeds of sale of bonds.

§ 1. The common council, board of trustees, or other governing body of any incorporated city or town other than cities of the first class in this state, having an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof, or by judgment or judgments, is empowered, by a two-thirds vote of its number, to fund or refund the said indebtedness and issue bonds of such city or town therefor in sums of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each, and having not more than forty years to run, and bearing a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semiannually; provided, that no indebtedness shall be refunded at a higher rate of interest than that borne by the original debt. Such bonds shall be of the character known as "serials," not less than one-fortieth of the principal being payable each year, together with the interest due on all sums unpaid. Principal and interest on said bonds shall be payable in gold coin or other lawful money of the United States, as may be expressed in said bonds, at the office of treasurer of said city or town. Said bonds shall be sold in the manner provided by such city council or other governing body, to the highest bidder therefor, for not less than their face value, in the same character of money as that in which they are payable. The proceeds of such sale shall be placed in the treasury of such city or town to the credit of the "funding fund," and shall be applied only to refunding the indebtedness for which said bonds are issued. Said trustees, or other governing body, shall at the time for fixing the general tax levy for each year, and in the same manner as such tax levy is made, levy and collect sufficient money to pay such part of the principal of said bonds issued under this act, as one year bears to the number of years for which the bonds are to run, and also the annual interest upon the sums unpaid.

Where such indebtedness is evidenced by judgment or judgments obtained for indebtedness or liability incurred by any such incorporated city or town exceeding the income and revenue provided for the year in which such indebtedness or liability was incurred, within the meaning of section eighteen of article eleven of the constitution, bonds to fund the same shall not be issued unless authorized by the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such incorporated city or town voting at an election to be called and held for that purpose. The election shall be called and held in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction or completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, and amendments thereto, and the ordinance calling the election shall recite the object and purposes for which such bonded indebtedness is proposed to be incurred. The proceeds arising from the sale of such bonds shall be applied by the treasurer to the satisfaction of such judgment or judgments. [Amendment of May 10, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 498.]

This section was also amended March 12, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 294.

Duty of treasurer.

§ 2. Whenever sufficient money is in the funding fund, in the hands of the treasurer, to redeem one or more of the outstanding bonds proposed to be refunded, he shall publish once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in such city or town, if there be any, a notice to the effect that he is prepared to pay such bond or bonds (giving the number thereof), and if the same are not presented for redemption within thirty days after the first publication of such notice, the interest on such bonds will cease. He shall, at the same time, deposit in the postoffice a copy of such notice, inclosed in a sealed envelope, with the postage paid thereon, addressed to the owner or owners of such bond or bonds, at the postoffice address of such owner or owners, as shown by the record thereof kept in the treasurer's office. If such bond or bonds are not presented within the time specified in such notice, the interest thereon shall then cease, and the amount due be set aside for the payment of the same, whenever presented. All redemption of bonds shall be made according to the priority in the order of their issuance, beginning at the first number. Whenever such outstanding bonds are surrendered and paid, the treasurer shall proceed to cancel the same by indorsing on the face thereof the amount for which they are received, the word "canceled" and the date of cancellation. He shall also keep a record of such bonds so redeemed, and shall make a report of the same to the common council, or other governing body of such city or town, at least once a month, accompanying the same therewith by the bonds which have been taken up and canceled.

Disposition of balance in fund.

§ 3. All moneys which shall remain in said funding fund after all outstanding bonds or indebtedness as were proposed to be refunded have been taken up and canceled, shall be paid into the general fund of such city or town, and become a part thereof. [Amendment of March 12, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 275.]

Repeal of conflicting statutes.

§ 4. Chapter eighty-two of the statutes of eighteen hundred and eighty-three, chapter forty-eight of the statutes of eighteen hundred and ninety-three, and chapter one hundred and seventy-six of the statutes of eighteen hundred and ninety-five, all being laws of the state of California in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

§ 5. This act shall take affect and be in force immediately after its passage.

1. Constitutionality—Title fails to express subject of section 4.—Section 4 of this act is unconstitutional and void for failure of the title of the act to express the subject of that section, and can not operate as a valid repeal of section 6 of the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 as amended in 1893; and mandamus will lie to compel the city clerk of the city of Los Angeles to countersign improvement bonds authorized by said act of 1889.—Los Angeles v. Hance, 122 Cal. 77, 54 Pac. 387.

1a. Constitutionality—Not discriminatory.—The act of 1883 is not discriminatory because not applicable to cities of the first class.—Los Angeles v. Teed, 112 Cal. 319, 44 Pac. 580.

1b. Same—Submission of question of issue of bonds to voters.—As to indebtedness incurred after January 1, 1880, the act is unconstitutional as authorizing the issue of bonds without submission to the voters.—Los Angeles v. Teed, 112 Cal. 319, 44 Pac. 580.

1c. Same—Payment in New York.—Act of 1883 was unconstitutional so far as it provided for payment out of the state.—Los Angeles v. Teed, 112 Cal. 319, 44 Pac. 580.

2. Act not repealed.—The refunding act of 1897 was not repealed either expressly or by implication by the act of 1901 (Stats. 1901, p. 794); but the two acts are complementary.—Long Beach v. Lisenby, 180 Cal. 52, 179 Pac. 198.

3. Act deals with "municipal affair"—Application.—This act deals with a municipal affair and applies only to cities organized under the municipal corporation act, and not to a city organized under a freeholders' charter.—Morton v. Broderick, 118 Cal. 474, 50 Pac. 644.

See, also, Popper v. Broderick, 123 Cal. 456, 56 Pac. 53.

4. Act does not apply to cities whose mayor or chief executive is member of governing body.—This act has no application to municipalities in which the mayor or other chief executive is a member of the governing body, and the act of the mayor of a city of the fifth class in refusing to sign an ordinance must be considered under the provisions of the general municipal corporation act; and it being his ministerial duty under that act to authenticate ordinances passed by the board, it is one subject to enforcement by writ of mandate.—San Buena Ventura v. McGuire, 8 Cal. App. 497, 97 Pac. 526, 528.

5. Act has no application to freeholders' charter cities.—This act has no application to municipalities organized under a freeholders' charter and can apply only to cities organized under the general municipal corporation act.—San Buena Ventura v. McGuire, 8 Cal. App. 497, 97 Pac. 526, 528.

See Los Angeles v. Davidson, 150 Cal. 59, 88 Pac. 42; Sacramento Paving Co. v. Anderson, 1 Cal. App. 672, 82 Pac. 1069.

6. Judgment for personal injuries.—Under the refunding act of 1897 a municipality is authorized to issue a refunding bond to cover a warrant issued to pay a judgment for personal injuries.—Long Beach v. Lisenby, 180 Cal. 52, 179 Pac. 198.

7. "Fund"—"Refunding"—To "fund" an outstanding debt of a municipal corporation is to convert such indebtedness into a permanent form with an extended time of payment and with interest which is regular and which may also be reduced, and the usual method of "funding" such a debt is by the issuance of bonds.—Long Beach v. Lisenby, 180 Cal. 52, 179 Pac. 198.

DESTRUCTION OF UNSOLD BONDS.

ACT 3093f—An act providing for the destruction of municipal bonds of municipal corporations where the same have been executed and remained unsold.

History: Approved February 26, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 34.

Providing for destruction of municipal bonds unsold. Notice and manner of destruction.

§ 1. Whenever there remain in the possession of any municipal corporation in this state any bonds voted to be issued for municipal purposes, which have been executed but not sold and disposed of, and the sale and disposal of such bonds shall be deemed by the board of trustees or other governing body of such city to have become impossible or inexpedient, and that their destruction is desirable, it shall be lawful for said board to give public notice of its intention publicly to destroy such bonds by a notice published for four successive weeks in the official newspaper of said city, if there be such a paper, and otherwise, in any newspaper published and circulated in said city which may be designated by said board; such notice shall specify the time and place of such intended destruction, and the reason alleged therefor, together with a general description of the character and amount of said bonds. And it shall be lawful for said board, at the time and place and in accordance with the terms of said notice, publicly to destroy said bonds unless at least three days prior to said time, written objections to such destruction shall be filed with the clerk of said city, signed by a majority of the legal voters of said city as appears by the vote cast at the last preceding general municipal election.

No other issue of bonds.

§ 2. No further or other issue of bonds in place of those thus destroyed shall be made by such city, or its board of trustees, or other governing board, unless again authorized by a vote of the people as provided by law.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

BONDS DECLARED DUE BEFORE MATURITY.

ACT 3093g—An act to authorize municipal corporations to declare all or any of their bonded indebtedness to be at once due and payable, to compromise such bonded indebtedness and to consent to a judgment in favor of the holders of the same.

History: Approved March 16, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 164.

Election to declare bonded indebtedness due and payable. Notice of election. Duty of common council.

§ 1. Whenever any incorporated city or town in this state has an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by the bonds thereof the common council, board of trustees or other governing body thereof, shall have the power to submit to the qualified electors of such city or town at any election to be held for that purpose, the question of declaring all or any of such bonds to be at once due and payable, of compromising such bonded indebtedness, of consenting to a judgment in favor of the holders of such bonds, and of providing for the payment of such judgment in installments.

Said election shall be called and held in the same manner in which other elections are held in such city or town. The notice of such election shall specify the bonded indebtedness which it is proposed to declare at once due and payable, the terms of the proposed compromise of the same, of the proposed judgment by consent in favor of the holders of such bonds, and the proposed method of paying such judgment in installments.

The question shall be voted upon as an entirety. If at such election two-thirds of the qualified electors vote in favor of the question submitted, the said common council, board of trustees or other governing body shall, by ordinance, declare the bonds described in said notice of election, to be at once due and payable and thereupon shall be authorized to carry into effect the compromise and to consent to the judgment specified in such notice of election, and to the proposed method of paying the same in installments, and to designate by resolution the officers and attorneys who shall sign the necessary documents, and to provide for the collection of an annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such judgment as it falls due, and such a proportion of the principal thereof as is designated in such notice of election.

Nonconsenting bondholders.

§ 2. No proceeding under section 1 hereof shall affect the rights of any nonconsenting holder of any bond or bonds specified in the notice of election.

Regularity of proceedings.

§ 3. In any action brought upon any of the bonds described in the notice of election, the judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction in such action, shall be conclusive as to the regularity of all proceedings taken under the provisions of section 1 of this act.

Judgment of court.

§ 4. Whenever any action is brought upon any of the bonds described in the notice of election, the plaintiff shall be required to deposit in the court in which such action is brought, the bonds upon which he sues and when the judgment of such court, rendered in accordance with the terms of the proposed compromise described in such notice of election, becomes final, the bonds sued upon shall be delivered to the treasurer of the city or town against which such judgment is rendered, to be held by him and his successors in office until such judgment shall have been satisfied in full. If for any reason such judgment should be reversed or set aside or any orders or writs thereunder should be disobeyed by the defendant or its officers, it shall be the duty of such treasurer to return said bonds to the plaintiff who thereupon may at his own option be relegated to all the rights which he held and enjoyed under such bonds, crediting, however, on such rights, all amounts already received on such judgment. The performance of the duty imposed herein upon such treasurer may be enforced by the court in which such judgment is rendered.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 5. All acts or parts of acts conflicting with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

PAYMENT OF BONDS BEFORE MATURITY.

ACT 3093h—An act to provide for the payment of municipal bonds before maturity.

History: Approved June 6, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 397.

Payment of bonds before maturity.

§ 1. The legislative body of any municipality of this state proposing to incur indebtedness by the issuance of bonds may, in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds and prescribing the manner in which the same shall be payable, also provide that a certain portion of such bonds, to be determined and specified in such ordinance or resolution, will be paid by the municipality each year after the incurring of such bonded indebtedness and prior to maturity of such portion of said bonds, at the option of the holders thereof, subject, however, to the conditions herein-after prescribed. Such advance payment of bonds shall be in addition to and exclusive of the payment, at maturity, of bonds of the same issue.

Determination of bonds to be paid.

§ 2. The legislative body of the municipality shall, in the ordinance or resolution wherein provision is made for the payment, prior to maturity, of bonds of such municipality, also prescribe the method or procedure for determining the particular bonds to be so paid, and the manner in which the same shall be so payable, and also fix the amount to be paid by the municipality in lieu of interest on such bonds accrued but not due at the time of the payment of the bonds, which amount shall not exceed the amount of such accrued interest.

Tax to meet such payment.

§ 3. In case provision shall be made for the payment of bonds of a municipality in advance of the maturity thereof, as hereinabove prescribed, such municipality, through its proper officers, shall levy and collect each year, until all such bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of such municipality, set apart for that purpose, to meet all sums due or to become due on the principal of such bonds, a tax which, with any other funds in such treasury, set apart for the purpose, shall be sufficient to pay the portion of such bonds which may become payable, under the terms of the ordinance or resolution aforesaid, before the maturity thereof and prior to the time for fixing the next general tax levy. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied and collected for municipal purposes and for meeting payments on the principal and interest of such bonded indebtedness as they fall due, and shall be levied and collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are levied and collected, and be used for the purpose of paying bonds prior to the maturity thereof, as hereinabove provided, and for no other purpose.

From what fund payable.

§ 4. The amount fixed by such legislative body to be paid in lieu of interest, accrued but not due, on bonds, as provided in section two of this act, shall be paid by the municipality out of the fund provided in its treasury for meeting sums coming due for interest on such bonds, and, at the time of the payment of such bonds, said amount, together with all interest due and unpaid thereon, shall be paid by the municipality upon presentation and surrender of all outstanding coupons for interest on such bonds.

REGISTRATION OF BONDS.ACT 3093i—An act in relation to municipal bonds.

History: Approved February 28, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 61.

Registered municipal bonds. Form of registration.

§ 1. Whenever the owner of any coupon bond, or of any bond payable to bearer, already issued or hereafter issued by any municipal corporation now or hereafter existing in this state, shall present any such bond to the treasurer or other officer of such corporation, who by law performs the duties of treasurer, with a request for the conversion of such bond into a registered bond, such treasurer, or such other officer, shall cut off and cancel the coupons of any such coupon bond so presented, and shall stamp, print, or write upon such coupon bond, or such other bond payable to bearer, so presented, either upon the back or upon the face thereof, as may be convenient, a statement to the effect that the said bond is registered in the name of the owner, and that thereafter the interest and principal of said bond are payable to the registered owner. Thereafter, and from time to time any such bond may be transferred by such registered owner in person, or by attorney duly authorized on presentation of such bond to such treasurer, or such other officer, and the bond be again registered as before, a similar statement being stamped, printed, or written thereon. Such statement stamped, printed, or written upon any such bond may be in substantially the following form.

(Date, giving month, year, and day.)

This bond is registered pursuant to the statute in such cases made and provided in the name of —— (here insert name of owner) and the interest and principal thereof are hereafter payable to such owner.

_____,
Treasurer (or such other officer).

After any bond shall have been registered as aforesaid, the principal and interest of such bond shall be payable to the registered owner. Such treasurer, or such other officer, shall keep in his office a book or books which shall at all times show what bonds are registered and in whose names respectively.

Municipal option as to form of bonds.

§ 2. Whenever under any statute of this state or any charter of any municipal corporation in this state, any bonds are issued, whether the proceedings for the issuance of such bonds have been had in whole or in part prior to the enactment of this statute, or whether the same have been had in whole or in part after the enactment of this statute, such bonds may be issued either in the form of coupon bonds, or in the form of registered bonds, or some in the form of coupon bonds, and some in the form of registered bonds, as has been or hereafter may be provided in the proceedings for the issuance of such bonds, and notwithstanding any language or provision to the contrary contained in any such statute or charter authorizing the issuance of the bonds, or in any other law of the state. The provisions of section 1 of this act shall apply to coupon bonds, so issued, as well as to other coupon bonds, or other bonds payable to bearer.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

INVESTMENT BOND ACT OF 1909.

ACT 3093j—An act to authorize municipal corporations to issue bonds, for the purpose of investing the proceeds arising from the sale thereof, in other bonds issued for public improvements.

History: Approved April 26, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1096.

Bonds to provide funds for improvement.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation in the state of California may incur a bonded indebtedness to provide a fund to be called a "general improvement fund," and said fund may be invested or reinvested in any bonds issued by such municipality, or bonds issued for street work or other public improvements, under any act of the legislature providing for the performance of street work or other public improvements.

How issued.

§ 2. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act shall be called "investment bonds," and shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, and amendments thereto; provided, that the ordinance calling for the election therein provided for, need not contain any statement as to the estimated cost of the proposed public improvement. Such bonds when issued, shall be redeemed and paid as provided in the above herein mentioned act.

Investment of bonds. Reinvestment.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the legislative branch of every town, city or municipal corporation availing itself of this act, to keep the funds arising from the sale of bonds issued under this act, separate and distinct from all other municipal funds, and to invest and reinvest the same in the serial improvement bonds issued for street, sewer, drainage or other improvements within said municipality, and to collect the interest on said bonds and credit the same to said fund, and said municipality shall have the right to sell, at the discretion of its legislative branch, any of said serial bonds by it purchased, provided that they shall not sell said bonds at a price less than the price paid therefor, and said purchase price of said bonds so sold, together with the accrued interest thereon, shall be credited to the said "general improvement fund," and may be again reinvested in serial bonds, as aforesaid, the intention being that said general improvement fund shall constitute a revolving fund, for the purpose of enabling the property owners to pay their serial bonds in annual installments to the city, and thus enable the municipality to let contracts for the completion of said improvement, on a cash basis.

§ 4. The provisions of this act shall not repeal nor modify the provisions of any other act.

§ 5. This act shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

INVESTMENT BOND ACT OF 1915.

ACT 3093k—An act authorizing any municipality to incur indebtedness by the issuance and sale of bonds for the purpose of investing the proceeds arising from the sale thereof in other bonds, evidences of debt or liens issued for public improvements in said municipality.

History: Approved April 22, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 109.

Municipal investment bonds. Bonds may be resold.

§ 1. Any municipality incorporated under the laws of the state of California may incur a bonded indebtedness by the issuance and sale of bonds to be known as "municipal investment bonds," the proceeds from the sale of which shall be used for the purchase of municipal securities or evidences of debt, either of the municipality or of boroughs or districts therein; including municipal bonds, borough bonds, district bonds, or any bonds or liens arising out of the construction or acquiring of public improvements by local assessment within such municipality. Bonds, securities or other evidences of debt so purchased may at any time be resold at a price not less than that at which they were originally purchased by the city. The proceeds from the sale of investment bonds may also be used for the temporary financing of public improvements which shall have been legally authorized to be paid for by special assessments. Money expended from a municipal investment bond fund shall, as soon as practicable, be returned to said fund from the receipts derived from the securities in which it was invested, or from the proceeds of the special assessments levied and collected to meet the cost of such improvements in accordance with the legal procedure that may be prescribed therefor.

How bonds may be issued.

§ 2. Bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, and amendments thereto; provided, however, that the ordinance calling the election therein provided for, need not contain any statement as to the proposed public improvement, or the estimated cost thereof. Such bonds when issued shall be redeemed and paid as provided in the hereinabove mentioned act.

Municipal investment bond fund.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the legislative branch of every municipality availing itself of this act to keep the funds arising from the sale of bonds issued under this act separate and distinct from all other municipal funds, in a fund to be known as the "municipal investment bond fund," and to invest and reinvest the same in bonds of said municipality, or of boroughs or districts therein, or in bonds, or liens or other evidences of debt arising out of the construction or acquisition of public improvements therein by local assessments, and to collect the principal thereof and the interest thereon and place the same in said fund; and said municipality shall have the right to sell, at the discretion of its legislative branch, any such bonds, evidences of debt or liens acquired or held by it; provided, that none of such bonds, evidences of debt or liens shall be sold at a price less than the cost or expense to such municipality of such bonds, evidences of debt or liens respectively. The amount received from the sale of such bonds, evidences of debt or liens so sold, together with the accrued interest thereon, shall be paid into said "municipal investment bond fund," and may be again reinvested as aforesaid.

§ 4. The provisions of this act shall not repeal or modify the provisions of any other act.

LEGALIZATION ACT OF 1919.

ACT 3093 I—An act to legalize bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by municipalities where authority for such issuance has already been given by vote of not less than two-thirds of the electors of such municipality voting upon the question of incurring such indebtedness.

History: Approved May 2, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 144. Curative acts of like tenor and effect, and in practically identical language, were approved March 4, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 104; March 24, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 689; March 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 421; May 29, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 329; April 19, 1917, Stats. 1913, p. 143.

Municipal bond issues legalized.

§ 1. In all cases where the legislative branch of any municipality in this state has deemed it necessary to incur an indebtedness in excess of the ordinary annual income and revenue of such municipality, and has called an election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of such municipality the question whether such indebtedness shall be incurred, and where at such election not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting thereat shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, and the mode of creating such indebtedness has been by the proposed issuance of the bonds of such municipality, the power of such municipality to issue such bonds and all the acts and proceedings of such municipality leading up to and including the issuance and sale or the proposed issuance and sale of such bonds are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such municipality so issuing and selling the same, and the faith and credit of such municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

§ 2. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

VALIDATION ACT OF 1915.

ACT 3093m—An act to validate municipal bonds, and to provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on such bonds.

History: Approved April 10, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 41. Curative acts of like tenor and effect, in practically the same phraseology were enacted February 28, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 95; April 4, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 14.

Municipal bonds validated.

§ 1. Where in any municipal corporation, proceedings have been taken for the purpose of issuing and selling bonds of such municipal corporation, for any purpose or purposes, all such acts and proceedings leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds, if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared validated to all intents and purposes, and the power of said municipal corporation and of the legislative body thereof, to issue such bonds, is hereby, ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds already sold are declared to be, and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligation of and against the municipal corporation, having heretofore issued or hereafter issuing such bonds, and the faith and credit of such municipal corporation is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

Tax levy for interest and principal.

§ 2. The legislative branch of such municipal corporation shall at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of said municipal corporation, set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for the principal and interest on such bonds a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

Bonds sold for less than par not legalized.

§ 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor to legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

VALIDATION OF IMPROVEMENT AND PUBLIC UTILITY BONDS.

ACT 3093n—An act to validate bonds issued and sold, or to be issued and sold for the purpose of the acquisition or construction of any public improvement work or public utility in any portion of a municipality.

History: Approved May 4, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 229.

Bonds issued by portion of municipality validated.

§ 1. Where, in any portion of a municipality of this state proceedings have been taken for the purpose of creating an indebtedness, to be represented by bonds of such district, the proceeds from the sale of which are to be used for the acquisition or construction therein of any public improvement work or public utility which the municipality of which such district forms a part is authorized by law to acquire or construct, all acts and proceedings leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds, if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes, and the power of said district and of the legislative body of such municipality to issue such bonds is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds already are declared to be, and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligation of and against such district for which such bonds have heretofore, or may hereafter be, issued, and the full faith and credit of such district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds; provided, that this act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any district that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors in said district voting at an election held for the purpose of voting upon the question of the issuance of such bonds, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

SPECIAL TAX LEVY.

ACT 3093o—An act authorizing counties, cities and counties and municipalities to levy a tax necessary to pay principal and interest on bonds authorized and unsold at the time the annual tax levy is made.

History: Approved June 4, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 446.

Tax levy for interest on unsold bonds.

§ 1. The legislative body of any county, city and county or municipal corporation, at the time of the fixing of the annual tax levy shall estimate the amount of money required to meet the payment of the principal and interest on any bonds the issuance of which may have been authorized by the electors, and which have not been sold but which in the judgment of the legislative body will be sold prior to the making of the next subsequent tax levy, and may levy a tax sufficient to raise the money to pay the principal and interest so estimated. In case any bonds are declared invalid or for any reason are not issued, any tax levied as herein provided shall be refunded.

ORDINANCES.

ACT 3093p—An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the city council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval.

History: Enacted March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 190.

Ordinances and resolutions to be approved by chief executive. Objections. Passage on reconsideration by three-fourths. Exception.

§ 1. Every ordinance and every resolution of the city council of any municipality, providing for any specific improvement, or the granting of any franchise, or other privilege, or affecting real property interests, or the expenditure of more than one hundred dollars of the public moneys, or levying tax or assessment, or establishing rates for artificial light, and every ordinance or resolution imposing a duty or penalty, which shall have passed the city council, shall, before it takes effect, be presented to the mayor for his approval. The mayor shall return such ordinance or resolution to the city council within ten days after receiving it. If he approve it he shall sign it, and it shall then take effect. If he disapprove it he shall specify his objections thereto in writing. If he do not return it with such disapproval within the time above specified, it shall take effect as if he had approved it. The objections of the mayor shall be entered at large on the journal of the city council, and the city council shall cause the same to be immediately published. The city council shall, after five, and within thirty days after such ordinance or resolution shall have been returned with the mayor's disapproval, reconsider and vote upon the same; and if the same shall, upon reconsideration, be again passed by the affirmative vote of not less than three-fourths of all the members, the presiding officer shall certify that fact on the ordinance or resolution, and when so certified, it shall take effect as if it had received the approval of the mayor; but if the ordinance or resolution shall fail to receive upon the first vote thereon after its return with the mayor's disapproval, the affirmative votes of three-fourths of all the members, it shall be deemed finally lost. The vote on such reconsideration shall be taken by ayes and noes, and the names of the members voting for or against the same shall be entered in the journal; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to cities in which the mayor is a member of the city council, or other governing body.

Municipality and city defined.

§ 2. The word "municipality," and the word "city," as used in this act, shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing, and those hereafter organized, for municipal purposes.

City council, what includes.

§ 3. The term "city council" is hereby declared to include any body or board which, under the law, is the legislative department of the government of any city.

Cities without mayors.

§ 4. In municipalities in which there is no mayor, then the duties imposed upon said officer by the provisions of this act shall be performed by the president of the board of trustees, or other chief executive officer of the municipality.

§ 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATION BILL.

CHAPTER I.ORGANIZATION OF MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.*City or town may incorporate.

§ 1. Any portion of a county containing not less than five hundred inhabitants, and not incorporated as a municipal corporation, may become incorporated under the provisions of this act, and when so incorporated, shall have the powers conferred, or that may be hereafter conferred, by law, upon municipal corporations of the class to which the same may belong.

Manner of proceeding in organizing a municipal corporation.

§ 2. A petition shall first be presented to the board of supervisors of such county, signed by at least fifty of the qualified electors of the county, residents within the limits of such proposed corporation, and the affidavit of three qualified electors residing within the proposed limits, filed with the petition, shall be prima facie evidence of the requisite number of signers. The petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such corporation, and state the number of inhabitants therein, as nearly as may be, and shall pray that the same may be incorporated under the provisions of this act. Such petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of such board, and shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented, in some newspaper printed and published in such county, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented. When such petition is presented, the board of supervisors shall hear the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding two months in all, and on the final hearing, shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as they may find to be proper and shall establish and define such boundaries, and shall ascertain and determine how many inhabitants reside within such boundaries; provided, that any changes made by said board of supervisors shall not include any territory outside of the boundaries described in such petition. The boundaries so established by the board of supervisors shall be the boundaries of such municipal corporation until by action, authorized by law for the annexation of additional territory to, or the taking of territory from, said municipal corporation, such boundaries shall be changed; provided, whenever it shall appear to the board of supervisors that the boundaries of any municipal corporation have been incorrectly described, the board shall direct the county surveyor to ascertain and report a description of the boundaries. The board of supervisors shall, at their first regular meeting after the filing of the report of the county surveyor, cause notice to be published in some newspaper published in the county, that the report will be acted upon at the next regular meeting of the board, and at said meeting the board shall ratify the report of the county surveyor, with such modifications as they shall deem necessary, and the boundaries so established shall be the legal boundaries of said municipal corporation. They shall then give notice of an election to be held in such proposed corporation for the purpose of determining whether the same shall become incorporated. Such notice shall particularly describe the boundaries so established, and shall state the name of such proposed corporation, and the number of inhabitants so ascertained to reside therein, and the same shall be published for at least two weeks prior to such election, in a newspaper printed and published within such boundaries, or posted for the same period in at least four public places therein. Such notice shall require the voters to cast ballots, which shall contain the words "For incorporation," or "Against incorporation," or words equivalent thereto, and also the names of persons voted for to fill the various elective municipal offices prescribed by law for municipal corporations of the class to which such proposed corporation will belong. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 371. In effect immediately.]

Election, how conducted.

§ 3. Such elections shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, and no person shall be entitled to vote thereat unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county, enrolled upon the great register thereof, and shall have resided within the limits of such proposed corporation for at least sixty days next preceding such election. The board of supervisors shall meet on the Monday next succeeding such election, and proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat; and if, upon such canvass, it appears that the majority of the votes cast are for the incorporation, the board shall, by an order entered upon their minutes, declare such territory duly incorporated as a municipal incorporation of the class to which the same shall belong, under the name and style of the city (or town, as the case may be) of — (naming it), and shall declare the person[s] receiving, respectively, the highest number of votes for such several offices to be duly elected to such offices. Said board shall cause a copy of such order, duly certified, to be filed in the office of secretary of state, and from and after the date of such filing, such incorporation shall be deemed complete, and such officers shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their respective offices, upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold such offices respectively only until the next general municipal election to be held in such city or town and until their successors are elected and qualified; and it shall not be necessary in any action, civil or criminal, to plead and prove the organization or existence of such corporation, and the courts shall take judicial cognizance thereof without proof. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 372. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended on March 4, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 12.

How incorporated city or town may incorporate under this law.

§ 4. The common council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any city or county, city, or town, organized or incorporated prior to the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty, at twelve o'clock, meridian, shall, upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than one-fifth of the qualified electors of such city and county, city, or town, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal election held therein, submit to the electors of such city and county, city, or town, at the next general election to be held therein, the question whether such city and county, city, or town shall become organized under the general laws of the state relating to municipal corporations of the class to which such city and county, city, or town may belong. Notice that such question will be so submitted shall be given by publication in a newspaper printed and published in such city and county, city, or town; or if there be no newspaper printed and published therein, by printing and posting the same in at least four public places therein, including the place or places where such election is to be held. Such notice shall be so published or posted for at least four weeks prior to such election, and shall also be made a part of the general election notice. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be so submitted, and shall designate the class to which such corporation belongs, and shall invite the electors thereof to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "For reorganization," or "Against reorganization," or words equivalent thereto. The votes so cast shall be canvassed at the time and in the manner in which the other votes cast at such election are canvassed. If, upon such canvass, a majority of all the electors voting at such election shall be found to have voted for such reorganization, the said council, board, or other legislative body shall, by an order entered upon their minutes, cause their clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, to make and transmit to the secretary of state a certified abstract of such vote; which abstract shall show the whole number of electors voting at such election, the number of votes cast for reorganization, and the number of votes cast against reorganization. Said council, board, or other legislative body shall immediately thereafter call a special election for the election of the officers required by law to be elected in corporations of the class to which such city and county, city, or town shall belong, which election shall be held within six weeks thereafter. Such election shall be held in all respects in the manner prescribed, or that may hereafter be prescribed by law for municipal elections in corporations of such class, and shall be canvassed by the council, board, or other legislative body calling the same, who shall immediately declare the result thereof, and cause the same to be entered upon their journal. From and after the date of such entry, such corporation shall be deemed to be organized under such general laws, under the name and style of the city and county (or city or town, as the case may be) of — (naming it), with the powers conferred, or that may hereafter be conferred, by law upon municipal corporations of the class to which the same may belong; and the officers elected at such election shall be entitled immediately to enter upon the duties of their respective offices, upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold such offices, respectively, only until the next general municipal election to be held in such city and county, city, or town, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Effect of reincorporation.

§ 5. Any city and county, city, or town organized under the provisions of section 4 of this act shall, for all purposes, be deemed and taken to be in law the identical corporation theretofore incorporated and existing; and such reorganization shall in no wise affect or impair the title to any property owned or held by such corporation, or in trust therefor, or any debts, demands, liabilities, or obligations existing in favor of or against such corporation, or any proceeding then pending; nor shall the same operate to repeal or affect in any manner any ordinance theretofore passed or adopted and remaining unrepealed, or, to discharge any person from any liability, civil or criminal, then existing, for any violation of any such ordinance; but such ordinances, so far as the same are not in conflict with such general laws, shall be and remain in force until repealed or amended by competent authority; provided, that proceedings theretofore commenced shall, after such reorganization, be conducted in accordance with the provisions of such general laws.

Duty of outgoing officers.

§ 6. As soon as the officers elected under the provisions of either section 3 or section 4 of this act shall have qualified in accordance with law, all persons, if any, then in possession of the offices of such corporation, shall immediately quit and surrender up the possession of such offices and shall deliver to the officers so elected all moneys, books, papers, or other things in their official custody, and all property of such corporation in their hands, notwithstanding that the terms of office for which they were respectively elected or appointed may not then have expired; and all officers, boards, and persons holding any property in trust for any public use, the administration of which use is vested by such general laws in such corporation or such officers, convey such property to such corporation or such officers, by good and sufficient deeds of conveyance, in trust for such public use.

Boundary, how changed.

§ 7. The boundaries of any municipal corporation may be altered, and new territory included therein, after proceedings had as required in this section. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of such corporation shall, upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than one-fifth of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal election held therein, submit to the electors of such corporation, and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such territory shall be annexed to such corporation and become a part thereof. Such question shall be submitted at a special election, to be held for that purpose, and such legislative body shall give notice thereof by publication in newspaper printed and published in such corporation, and also in a newspaper printed and published outside of such corporation, and in the county in which such territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, in both cases for a period of four weeks prior to such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be so submitted, and shall designate specifically the boundaries of the territory so proposed to be annexed; and the electors shall be invited thereby to vote upon such annexation, by placing upon their ballots the words "For annexation." or "Against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such legislative body shall also designate the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be annexed, which place or places shall be that of those usually used for that purpose within such territory, if any such there be. Such legislative body shall also appoint and designate in such notice the names of the officers of election. Such legislative body shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat. The votes cast in such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be canvassed separately, and if it shall appear upon such canvass that a majority of all the votes cast in such territory and a majority of all the votes cast in such corporation shall be for annexation, such legislative body shall, by an order entered upon their minutes, cause their clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, to make and transmit to the secretary of state a certified abstract of such vote; which abstract shall show the whole number of electors voting in such territory, the whole number of electors voting in such corporation, the number of votes cast in each for annexation and the number of votes cast in each against annexation. From and after the date of the filing of such abstract, such annexation shall be deemed complete, and thereafter such territory shall be and remain a part of such corporation, contracted prior to or existing at the date of such annexation. If the territory so proposed to be annexed consists, in whole or in part, of any municipal corporation, or part thereof, such territory shall not be annexed under the provisions of this section.

Municipal corporations, how consolidated.

§ 8. Two or more contiguous municipal corporations may become consolidated into one corporation after proceedings had as required in this section. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of either of such corporations shall, upon receiving a petition therefor, signed by not less than one-fifth of the qualified electors of each of such corporations, as shown by the votes cast at the last municipal election held in each of such corporations, submit to the electors of each of such corporations the question whether such corporations shall become consolidated into one corporation. Such legislative body shall designate a day upon which a special election shall be held in each of such corporations to determine whether such consolidation shall be effected, and shall give written notice thereof to the council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of each of the other of such corporations, which notice shall designate the name of the proposed new corporation. It shall thereupon be the duty of such legislative body of each of the corporations so proposed to be consolidated to give notice of such election, by publication in a newspaper printed and published in such corporation, for a period of four weeks prior to such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be so submitted, the name of the corporations so proposed to be consolidated, the name of the proposed new corporation, and the class to which such proposed new corporation will belong; and shall invite the electors to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "For consolidation," or "Against consolidation," or words equivalent thereto. The legislative bodies of each of such corporations shall meet in joint convention at the usual place of meeting of the legislative body of that one of such corporations having the greatest population, as shown by the last federal census, on the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat. The votes cast in each of such corporations shall be canvassed separately; and if it shall appear upon such canvass that a majority of the votes cast in each of such corporations shall be for consolidation, such joint convention, by an order entered upon their minutes, shall cause the clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, of the legislative body at whose place of meeting such joint convention is held, to make a certified abstract of such vote; which abstract shall show the whole number of electors voting at such election in each of such corporations, the number of votes cast in each for consolidation, and the number of votes cast in each against consolidation. Such abstract shall be recorded upon the minutes of the legislative body of each of such corporations; and immediately upon the record thereof, it shall be the duty of the clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, of each of such legislative bodies to transmit to the secretary of state a certified copy of such abstract. Immediately after such filing, the legislative body of that one of such corporations having the greatest population, as shown by the last federal census, shall call a special election, to be held in such new corporation for the election of the officers required by law to be elected in corporations of the class to which such new corporation shall belong, which election shall be held within six months thereafter. Such election shall be called and conducted in all respects in the manner prescribed, or that may hereafter be prescribed, by law for municipal elections in corporations of such class, and shall be canvassed by the legislative body so calling the same, who shall immediately declare the result thereof, and cause the same to be entered upon their journal. From and after the date of such entry, such corporations shall be deemed to be consolidated into one corporation, under the name and style of the city and county (or city or town as the case may be) of — (naming it), with the powers conferred, or that may hereafter be conferred, by law upon municipal corporations of the class to which the same shall so belong; and the officers elected at such election shall be entitled immediately to enter upon the duties of their respective offices, upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold such offices, respectively, only until the next general municipal election to be held in such city and county, city, or town, and until their successors are elected and qualified. All the provisions of sections 5 and 6 of this act shall apply to such corporation and to the officers thereof; provided, that no property within either of the former corporations so consolidated shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness of either of the other of such former corporations contracted prior to or existing at the date of such consolidation.

City clerk or city recorder, powers and duties of.

§ 9. The city clerk of each municipal corporation and the city recorder of each municipal corporation where there is no city clerk shall have the powers and shall perform the duties of a registrar within such municipality which are prescribed and required by the provisions of an act entitled, "An act for the registration of deaths, the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits, and the establishment of registration districts in counties, cities and counties, cities, and incorporated towns, under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics and prescribing the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and fixing penalties for the violation of this act.'" CHAPTER II.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS OF THE FIRST CLASS.

(Cities having a population of more than 100,000.)

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL POWERS.

First class.

§ 19. Every municipal corporation of the first class shall be entitled the city and county of —, or the city of — (naming it), as the case may be, and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue and be sued in all courts and places, and in all proceedings whatever; shall have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the city authorities, and may purchase, lease, receive, hold, and enjoy real and personal property, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit.

ARTICLE II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO OFFICERS.

Names, numbers, and terms of officers.

§ 20. There shall be elected by the qualified voters of such city, or city and county, at the general state election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the month of November in each even-numbered year, the following officers, viz.: A mayor, sheriff, auditor, tax collector, treasurer, county clerk, recorder, district attorney, city or city and county attorney, coroner, surveyor, superintendent of streets, twelve school directors, six justices of the peace, public administrator, and two police judges, who shall hold office for two years. The terms of such officers shall commence on the first Monday after the first day of January next following their election. Also, twelve aldermen, in the manner, and who shall hold office, as provided in section 41 of this chapter, and twelve assistant aldermen, who shall hold office as provided in section 43 of this chapter.

What offices kept open.

§ 21. The mayor, sheriff, county clerk, county recorder, treasurer, district attorney, auditor, tax collector, assessor, city or city and county attorney, superintendent of streets, and surveyor shall keep public offices, which shall be kept open for the transaction of business every day in the year except Sundays, Christmas, New Year's, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, the twenty-second of February, and on any days during which a general election shall be held, between the hours of nine o'clock a. m. and five o'clock p. m.

Manner of filling vacancies.

§ 22. Whenever vacancies occur in any of the elective offices of such city, or city and county, and provision is not otherwise made in this or some other act for filling the same, the mayor shall appoint, subject to the confirmation of the board of aldermen, a person to discharge the duties of such office until the next election, when the vacancy shall be filled by election for the unexpired term. All persons so appointed shall, before entering upon their duties, take the oath of office, and give bonds as required by law.

What fees paid out of treasury.

§ 23. No fees or compensation to be paid out of the treasury, other than those expressly allowed in this chapter, shall be allowed or received by any officer of such city, or city and county, or of any district, or other subdivision thereof; nor shall any allowance or provision be made for them, or any of them, at the public expense beyond the fixed compensation herein provided under the name of office rent, fuel, lights, stationery, contingencies, extra services, or otherwise, except the compensation or percentage allowed to the tax collector and to the assessor in the collection of poll taxes, and except that the necessary and proper books, stationery, and official blanks may, at the discretion of the municipal council, be purchased and supplied for all the courts of such city, or city and county, its officers, municipal council, and other boards, and officers, the expense whereof, when the amount in each particular case shall have been previously authorized and fixed by the municipal council, may be paid out of the general fund, upon demand upon the treasury duly audited, as in this chapter provided.

Bonds, how given.

§ 24. All officers of such city, or city and county, must, before they can enter upon their official duties, give a bond as required by law. The bonds and sureties of such officers must be approved by the president of the board of aldermen, auditor, and a judge of the superior court, in and for such city and county, or in and for the county in which such city may be situated. When the amount of such official bond is not fixed by law, it shall be fixed by the municipal council. No banker residing or doing business in such city, or city and county, nor any such banker's partner, clerk, employee, agent, attorney, father, or brother, shall be received as surety for the treasurer, mayor, sheriff, auditor, or any officer having the collection, custody, or disbursement of money. No person can be admitted as surety on any such bond unless he be worth, in fixed property, including mortgages, situated in such city, or city and county, the amount of his undertaking over and above all sums for which he is already liable, or in any manner bound, whether as principal, indorser, or security, or whether such prior obligation or liability be conditional or absolute, liquidated, or unliquidated, certain or contingent, due or to become due. All persons offered as sureties on official bonds must be examined on oath touching their qualifications. The official bond of the auditor shall be filed and kept in the office of the clerk of such city, or city and county. All other official bonds shall be filed and kept in the office of the auditor; provided that the bonds and sureties of the mayor must be approved by the chairman of the house of assistant aldermen, auditor, and a judge of the superior court in and for such city and county, or in and for the county in which such city may be situated; and that the bonds and sureties of the auditor must be approved by the president of the board of aldermen, the chairman of the house of assistant aldermen, and a judge of the superior court in and for such city and county, or in and for the county in which such city may be situated.

Compensation.

§ 25. The compensation or salary of any officer provided for in this chapter shall not be increased or reduced after his election or during his term of office.

Salaries.

§ 26. The salaries of the officers, clerks, deputies, or employees of such city and county, except as otherwise in this chapter provided, shall be as follows, and payable in monthly installments at the end of each and every month, viz:

Officers not to be interested in contracts, etc.

§ 27. Any officer or commissioner of such city, or city and county, or any officer or member of any house, board, or department of the government thereof, who shall be directly or indirectly interested in, or a beneficiary or participant of, the profits of any contract made with or for such city, or city and county, or any board or department thereof, or who shall participate in the profits made by any person or persons upon services, labor, purchases, sales, subsistence, supplies, materials, or any article or thing furnished to or done for such city, or city and county, or any institution, public work, or branch, or department of the government thereof, or sold by the same, which contract, profit, purchase, sale, or supply is made or could have been made, influenced, or brought about, through or by means of the official action or conduct of such officer, commissioner, or member of such board, except the official salary or compensation of such officer, commissioner, or member of such board or department provided expressly by law, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, on conviction by any court of competent jurisdiction, punished accordingly. Any commissioner, officer, clerk, or other person having custody of or access to any bids or proposals, whether sealed or otherwise, for supplying or furnishing any goods, provisions, subsistence, labor, material, printing, or other thing of any nature, or constructing, cleaning, repairing any work or thing, or doing or furnishing anything whatsoever to such city and county, or any department, board, commissioner, or officer thereof, who shall open or examine into any one or more of such bids, proposals, or change, interline, alter, or otherwise tamper with the same, or shall purposely find out the contents thereof, or who shall aid, abet, assist, or permit another so to do, before or in advance of the time prescribed by law for the opening thereof, or any lawful postponement of such time, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, on conviction by any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished accordingly.

Questions of difference, how settled.

§ 28. All questions of differences between the officers of such city, or city and county, as to their relative duties, may be referred by either of them to the city, or city and county, attorney, who shall examine and determine such questions, and his decision shall be final as between such officers.

Reports of officers.

§ 29. The following officers, and the heads of the following departments of such city, or city and county, shall report to the municipal council on or before the first day of August of each year the condition of their respective departments during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth previous thereto, embracing all their operations and expenditures: Auditor, assessor, tax collector, county clerk, superintendent of streets, fire department, hospital, almshouse, park commissioners, treasurer, sheriff, county recorder, city, or city and county surveyor, license collector, public schools, fire-alarm and police telegraph, poundkeeper, board of health, city or city and county attorney, industrial school, police, coroner, health officer, justices' court, city hall commissioners, home for the care of the inebriate, board of election directors, commissioner of elections, house of correction, city cemetery, free public library, and the building committee of the municipal council. Immediately after the first Monday in February, the mayor and municipal council shall make up and publish an extract from these several reports and other sources, of the operations, expenditures, and condition of all departments of government of such city, or city and county.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Legislative power, how vested.

§ 40. The legislative power of such city, or city and county, shall be vested in a body to be styled the "municipal council," which shall be composed of two boards or houses of legislation, one to be called the "board of aldermen," and the other the "house of assistant aldermen."

Board of aldermen, how elected.

§ 41. The board of aldermen shall consist of twelve persons, to be elected by general ticket, from the city, or city and county, at large, the members of which shall hold office for the term of four years, to commence on the first Monday after the first day of January next following their election, except that of the aldermen, who are elected at the first election under this chapter; the six receiving the smallest number of votes shall hold their office for two years only; so that thereafter only six shall be elected every two years. In case of a tie vote at such first election, the question of which aldermen shall hold the full and which the short term shall be determined between the candidates so tied by lot. The aldermen shall receive each a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars a year, payable in monthly installments, out of the general fund.

Secretary.

§ 42. The board of aldermen shall appoint a secretary, with a salary not to exceed two hundred dollars a month, who shall keep the records of said board. He shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. He shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations in all cases, and to certify and authenticate copies of all records, papers, and documents in his official custody, and shall perform any other services required by the board.

Assistant aldermen.

§ 43. The house of assistant aldermen shall consist of twelve persons, to be elected every two years, one each by the qualified electors of the respective wards, into twelve of which such city, or city and county, shall be divided for such purpose. The assistant aldermen shall hold office for the term of two years, to commence on the first Monday after the first day of January next following their election, and shall receive each a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars a year, payable monthly out of the general fund.

Salary of clerk.

§ 44. The house of assistant aldermen may appoint a clerk, who shall keep their records, and hold office during their pleasure. He shall have a salary not to exceed two hundred dollars a month; shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, and to certify and authenticate all records, documents, and papers in his official custody. He shall perform any other service required of him by the house.

Vacancy, how filled.

§ 45. Any vacancy occurring in either board shall be filled by the mayor; and the person appointed to fill such vacancy shall hold office till the next election by the people, and until his successor is qualified.

Qualification.

§ 46. Every member of the board of aldermen shall be a qualified voter, at least twenty-five years of age, and shall have been a citizen of the United States and of this state, and a resident of such city, or city and county, for three years next before his election or appointment.

Qualification.

§ 47. Every member of the house of assistant aldermen shall be a qualified voter, at least twenty-five years of age, shall have been a citizen of the United States and of this state, and a resident of such city, or city and county, at least two years, and of the ward from which he is elected or appointed at least one year next before his election or appointment.

Qualification.

§ 48. Every member of either branch of the municipal council shall, at all times during his incumbency of said office, possess the following qualifications: He shall not be, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract with such city, or city and county, or any department or institution thereof. He shall not have been convicted of malfeasance in office, bribery, or other corrupt practices or crimes. Any member who fails to possess, or who shall at any time during his term of office cease to possess, any of the qualifications mentioned in this act as a qualification shall thereby forfeit his seat in the board or house to which he belongs, and the vacancy shall be filled as in other cases. If any member of either branch absent himself from the state, or neglect to attend the meeting of the board or house to which he belongs, for a period of thirty days, his office shall be declared vacant by said board, and a successor must be appointed, to hold till the next election by the people, as provided in other cases.

Rules of houses of aldermen.

§ 49. Each board or house shall elect its own officers, except as to the presiding officer of the board of aldermen. The mayor shall preside at all the sessions of the board of aldermen, without the right to vote. In his absence, during any session, the board shall appoint one of its members as president pro tempore, who shall, however, have the same right to vote as other members. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members, and may determine the rules of its own proceedings, except as herein provided. Each house shall keep a record of its acts, and allow the same to be published, and the yeas and nays on any question shall, at the request of any member, be entered on the journal of the house; may arrest and punish by fine, not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment as provided by ordinance, not exceeding thirty days, or both, any person not a member who shall be guilty of disrespect to the board or house by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence during its session; may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elect, may expel a member.

Quorum.

§ 50. The house of assistant aldermen shall elect one of their own number presiding officer of said house, who shall be designated as the "chairman" thereof. A majority of the members of either house shall constitute a quorum to do business; and no regulation, resolution, ordinance, or order of either house can pass without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected or appointed to such house; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as the house or board may provide.

Sessions shall be public.

§ 51. All sessions, acts, and resolutions of each house shall be public. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than seven days at any one time, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses may be sitting.

Not eligible to any other office.

§ 52. No member of the municipal council shall during the time for which he is elected, be eligible or appointed to any other office under the city, or city and county, except such offices as may be filled by election by the people; nor shall any member, while such, be an employee of such city, or city and county, or any board or department thereof, or of either branch of the municipal council, in any capacity whatever; and no compensation shall be audited or paid for services as such officer or employee; and no act, ordinance, or resolutions shall ever be passed whereby any member of either house shall become the disbursing officer of such city, or city and county, or any board or department thereof, or pay out any of its money upon any pretense whatever.

Limitations on contracts.

§ 53. No member of the municipal council, or of the board of education, or any officer of such city, or city and county, or of any ward thereof, shall have any power to contract any debt or liability whatsoever against such city, or city and county, nor shall the people, or taxpayers, or any property therein, ever be liable to be assessed for or on account of any debt or liability hereafter contracted, or attempted to be contracted, in contravention of this chapter.

Finance committee.

§ 54. The municipal council shall appoint a joint committee of five, three from the board of aldermen, and two from the house of assistant aldermen, to be denominated the "finance committee," which committee may at any time, and shall whenever required by the municipal council, or either branch thereof, investigate the transactions and accounts of any and all officers appertaining to the government of such city, or city and county, having the collection, custody, or disbursement of public money, or having the power to approve, allow, or audit demands on the treasurer, and report thereon to the municipal council. Said committee shall have full power to send for all persons and papers, and enter into, examine, inquire, and investigate all offices and places, to administer oaths and affirmations, to examine witnesses, and compel their attendance by subpoena and attachment for contempt, and the production of records, books, and papers, and may imprison in the city or county jail any person refusing to appear or testify, as well as any officer or person failing or refusing obedience to the orders to show records, papers, or books, or to testify when required so to do. The sheriff or any policeman of such city, or city and county, shall enforce all orders of said committee, and attend upon it in like manner as upon courts of record. The mayor may be present and participate in such investigations.

When municipal council shall meet.

§ 55. The municipal council shall meet on the first Monday after the first day of January, and on the first Mondays of April, July, and October of each year, and at such other times as required by law, and may be specially convoked by the mayor as herein provided.

Passage of ordinances.

§ 56. No ordinance shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so amended in its passage as to change its original object. No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be expressed by its title. On the final passage of all bills the vote shall be by "yeas" and "nays" upon each bill, separately, and the names of the members voting for and against the same shall be entered on the journal. Bills may originate in either house, and no bill shall be passed by either house except by a majority vote of all the members elected or appointed to either house.

Amendments, how concurred in.

§ 57. No amendments to bills by either house shall be concurred in by the other except by a vote of a majority of all the members elected or appointed thereto, taken by "yeas" and "nays," and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the journal thereof; and reports of committees of conference shall be adopted by either house only by the vote of a majority of all the members elected thereto, taken by "yeas" and "nays," and the names of those voting recorded upon the journals.

Re-enacting ordinances.

§ 58. No ordinance shall be revived, re-enacted, or amended, by mere reference to its title, but such ordinance or section shall [be] set forth at length, as if revived, re-enacted, or amended.

Reconsideration.

§ 59. When a bill is put upon its final passage in either house, and failing to pass, a motion is made to reconsider the vote by which it was defeated, the vote upon such motion to reconsider shall be taken up, and the subject finally disposed of at the next meeting of the council, unless such house, by a two-thirds vote, decides to act upon such reconsideration at the same meeting.

Signing bills.

§ 60. No bill shall become an ordinance until the same shall have been signed by the presiding officer of each of the two houses in open session, in authentication of its adoption by such house. In signing such bill for authentication, the presiding officer shall call the attention of the house to the bill, and that he is about to sign it, and if any member request, the bill shall be read at length for information as to its correctness as enrolled. If any member object that the bill is not the same in substance and form as when considered and passed by the house, such objection shall be passed upon, and if sustained, the presiding officer shall withhold his signature and the bill shall then be corrected, and finally disposed of, and signed, before the house proceeds to any other business.

Appropriation bills.

§ 61. No general appropriation act or authorization shall ever be passed, but all appropriations shall be for the specific amount of the claim to be paid, and no more; and each ordinance or resolution authorizing the payment of money shall contain one claim only, which shall be expressed in the title. Every ordinance or resolution of the municipal council providing for any specific improvement, the granting of any privilege, or involving the lease or appropriation of public property, or the expenditures of public moneys, except for sums less than five hundred dollars, or levying tax or assessment, and every ordinance or resolution imposing a new duty or penalty, shall, after its introduction in either house, be published, with the "yeas" and "nays," in a newspaper doing the city and county printing, at least five successive days before final action upon the same by the house in which it was introduced; and in case such ordinance or resolution shall be amended before final passage in said house, then the bill as amended, shall be so published, in the same manner, before final action by such house thereon; and every such ordinance, after the same shall have passed both houses, shall, before it takes effect, be presented to the mayor for his approval. If he approves, he shall sign it; if not, he shall return it within ten days to the house in which the same originated, with his objections in writing. Said house shall then enter the objections on the journal, and publish them in the newspaper doing the city printing. At the next stated meeting thereafter, said house shall proceed to reconsider such bill. If, after such reconsideration, it again passes both houses by the votes of nine of the members elected or appointed to each house voting therefor, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the mayor's objections. Should any such ordinance or resolution not be returned by the mayor within ten days after he receives it, it shall become valid, the same as if it had received his signature. Where a claim against the treasury amounts to more than five hundred dollars it shall not be lawful to divide or break up the same into several sums of less than that amount so as to evade the provisions of this section concerning claims; and any effort or attempt to accomplish such unlawful division, or breaking up a claim, shall be deemed, as to every member of the municipal council or other officer consenting thereto, or aiding the same, a misdemeanor in office, and be cause for his removal. All ordinances authorizing the payment of any money out of the treasury, or any claim thereon, shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee of the house where the bill is introduced, who shall present the same to the auditor, in order that he may certify that there is sufficient money in the proper fund out of which such claim can lawfully be paid, and that such appropriation can be made without violating the provisions of this chapter; and until the auditor certifies in writing, signed by his name, that there is sufficient money in the proper fund, and that the authorization can be made without violating the provisions of this chapter, no further proceedings shall be had with such bill. It shall be the duty of the auditor with reasonable promptness, to ascertain the facts, and to give the certificate when the facts warrant him in doing so, and not otherwise.

Powers.

§ 62. The powers of the municipal council, and all other boards, commissioners, and officers, are those specially named in this chapter, and they are prohibited from exercising any other.

Enacting clause.

§ 63. The enacting clause of ordinances shall be in the following terms: "The municipal council of the city and county of —, or city of — (as the case may be), hereby ordains as follows."

Further powers.

§ 64. The municipal council shall further have power by regulation or ordinance:

Selling and leasing property.

1. To provide for the security, custody and administration of all property of such city, or city and county, and to purchase land required for municipal purposes without any power to sell or encumber the same, or lease any part thereof for more than three years; except, however, that such personal property belonging to the fire, street, or other departments, as they deem unsuited to the uses and purposes for which the same was designed, or so much worn and dilapidated as not to be worth repairing, may be sold or exchanged.

Opening streets.

2. To provide for cases omitted in this chapter, and in conformity with the principles adopted in it, for opening, altering, extending, constructing, repairing, or otherwise improving public streets and highways at the expense of the property benefited thereby, without any recourse in any event upon such city, or city and county, or the public treasury, for any portion of the expense of such work, or any delinquency of the property holders or owners.

Lighting streets.

3. To provide for lighting the streets. But no contract for lighting streets or public buildings shall ever be made for more than one year in duration; nor shall any contract to pay more for gas or other illuminating material than is legally charged to ordinary consumers, or than the usual market rates, be valid.

To provide water.

4. To provide water for all municipal purposes and to pay for the same where lawful and necessary. In case water is supplied to such city, or city and county, for municipal purposes, any person, corporation, or association holding a valid franchise under the laws of this state to collect water rates for the use of water, then such city, or city and county, when it is lawful and necessary, shall pay the lawful rates, and no more, as established each year for water supplied for other municipal purposes; and it shall not be lawful to make any special contract with such person, corporation, or association for water so as to vary from the rates fixed by law.

To regulate markets.

5. To regulate market-houses and market-places.

Regulating public grounds.

6. To provide for inclosing, improving, and regulating all public grounds of such city, or city and county.

Establish fire limits, etc.

7. To prohibit the erection of wooden buildings or structures within any fixed limits where the streets have been established and graded, or ordered to be graded, or to restrict and limit the height of such buildings or structures; to regulate the sale, storage, and use of gunpowder, and to restrict the limits within which may be manufactured or kept giant-powder, dynamite, nitroglycerine, or other explosive or combustible materials and substances, and the maintenance of acid works; and make all useful regulations in relation to the manufacture, storage, and transportation of all such substances, and the maintenance of acid works, slaughter-houses, brick-burning, tanneries, and all other manufactures and works of every description that may jeopardize the public safety, and to exclude them from the city, or city and county, when necessary, or to restrict them, or any of them, to a district. To make all necessary regulations for protection against fire, as well as such rules and regulations concerning the erection and use of buildings as may be necessary for the safety of the inhabitants.

To permit laying down railroad tracks.

8. To permit the laying down of railroad tracks and the running of cars thereon along any street, or portion of street, for the sole purpose of excavating and filling in a street, or a portion of a street, or adjoining lots, and for such limited time as may be necessary for the purpose aforesaid, and no longer.

Fix penalties.

9. To determine the fines, forfeitures, and penalties that shall be incurred for the breach of regulations established by the said municipal council, and also for a violation of the provisions of this chapter, where no penalty is affixed thereto or provided by law; but no penalty to be imposed shall exceed the amount of one thousand dollars, or six months' imprisonment, or both. And every violation of any lawful order or regulation, or ordinances of the municipal council, is hereby declared a misdemeanor or public offense, and all prosecutions for the same shall be in the name of the people of the state of California.

Employment of prisoners.

10. To regulate and provide for the employment of prisoners sentenced to labor on the public works of such city, or city and county, and to maintain and regulate city, or city and county, jails and prisons, with manufacturing or other laboring establishments, or appliances connected therewith.

To provide certain offices.

11. To provide a suitable office and jury-room and dead-house or morgue, with the furniture necessary to enable the coroner to efficiently discharge the duties of his office, and to make the necessary appropriation therefor; and to audit and pay for the necessary expenses of maintaining the morgue and officers attached, such sum as may be necessary, not to exceed seventy-five dollars per month, out of the general fund.

Regulate home of inebriate.

12. To maintain and regulate a home of the inebriate, in its discretion.

City prison.

13. To provide and maintain a city prison.

Improve cemeteries.

14. To maintain and improve the city cemeteries, and to pay out of the general fund a keeper thereof, to be appointed by the board of health, at a salary not to exceed one hundred dollars a month.

Grant licenses.

15. To license and regulate hackney carriages and other public passenger vehicles, and to fix the rates to be charged for the transportation of persons, baggage, goods, merchandise, and property, or either, thereon; and to license and regulate all vehicles used for the conveyance of merchandise, earth, and ballast, or either; and also to license and regulate persons and parties employed in conveying baggage, property, and merchandise, or either, to or from any of the wharves, slips, bulkheads, or railroad stations within the limits of such city, or city and county; to fix and establish the amount of every license paid into the city, or city and county, treasury for city, or city and county, purposes; to provide for the summary removal and disposition of any or all vehicles found in the streets, highways, and public squares during certain hours of the day or night, to be designated by the council; and, in addition to all other remedies, to provide by regulation for the sale or other disposition of such vehicles; to protect the public from injury by runaways, by punishing persons who negligently leave horses or carriages in the street; to prescribe the width of the tires of all drays, trucks, and carts, in accordance with the weight to be carried thereby, for the preservation of the streets and highways.

Regulation of intelligence offices.

16. To regulate, license, and control the business of keeping intelligence offices, prescribe the method of conducting said business, and to enforce, by fines and penalties, the payment of the license, and by any violation of the regulation touching said business. To license and regulate pawnbrokers, and to enact regulations to protect the public in dealing with them.

Fix fees.

17. To fix the fees and charges to be collected by the surveyor of such city, or city and county, for certificates or surveys for buildings or other purposes, and to provide for a sufficient corps of deputy surveyors to perform such work, to be paid from such fees only; also, to regulate the fees to be charged by the superintendent of streets, the county recorder, and any and all other municipal officers where their fees are not otherwise fixed by law, and compel the payment of all such fees and charges into the city and county treasury into the proper fund, in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Enforce collection of certain moneys.

18. To license and regulate, for the purposes of city, or city and county, revenue, all such callings, trades, and employments as the public good may require to be licensed and regulated, and as are not prohibited by law; to provide for and enforce, with penalties, or otherwise, the collection and due payment into the city, or city and county, treasury of all moneys so due or raised, and to make all needful rules and regulations to govern the official conduct and duties of the collector of licenses.

Construction of hydrants.

19. To provide and pay for the construction and repair of hydrants, fire plugs, cisterns, and pumps in the streets.

Pay for celebrating.

20. To allow and order paid out of the general fund a sum not to exceed three thousand dollars in any year, for the celebration in such city, or city and county, of the anniversary of our national independence.

Election expenses.

21. To allow and order paid out of the general fund for the election expenses of such city, or city and county, not to exceed forty dollars for each election precinct for each election in said city, or city and county.

Prosecute claims.

22. To provide ways and means for the prosecution of the claims of such city, or city and county, to any land or other property or right claimed by such municipality.

Appoint weigher of coal.

23. To provide for the appointment by the mayor for a weigher of coal, without salary, and to regulate and define his duties, and establish rates of charges to be collected from persons requiring his services, and for his compensation from such rates and charges alone, and with no claim upon such city, or city and county.

Abatement of nuisances.

24. To authorize and direct the summary abatement of nuisances; to make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the preservation of the public health and the prevention of contagious diseases; to provide fines and penalties against individuals who may be guilty of maintaining any nuisances, and enforcing the same until such nuisance be removed or abated; to provide by regulation for the prevention and summary removal of all nuisances and obstructions in the streets, alleys, highways, and public grounds of such city, or city and county, and to prevent or regulate the running at large of dogs, and to authorize the destruction of the same when at large contrary to ordinance.

Regulate or prohibit houses of ill-fame.

25. To prohibit, suppress, regulate, or exclude from certain limits all houses of ill-fame, prostitution, and gaming; to prohibit, suppress, regulate, or exclude from certain limits all occupations, houses, places, pastimes, amusements, exhibitions, and practices which are against good morals, contrary to public order and decency, or dangerous to the public safety.

Regulate manner of street work.

26. To require, by ordinance, all contractors for street work, or other persons lawfully undertaking to improve, grade, or alter streets or public highways, to erect fences or barriers, to keep lights at night, and to take other necessary precautions to protect the public from damage, loss, or accident by reason of such grading, alteration, or improvement, and to fix and prescribe penalties for the violation of the provisions of such ordinance.

Safekeeping of lost property.

27. To provide for the safekeeping and disposition of lost, stolen, or unclaimed property of every kind, which may at any time be in the possession or under the control of the police of such city, or city and county.

Suppress public demonstrations.

28. To regulate, and when necessary to suppress, all public demonstrations and processions which interfere with public traffic.

Regulation of fire department.

29. To appoint a fire marshal. Such appointment shall be made on the nomination of the board of fire underwriters of such city, or city and county, if such board shall exist therein. If more than one such board shall exist therein, then upon the nomination of the board which shall have been longest organized. His salary shall be fixed and paid by such board of fire underwriters. Such fire marshal shall, before entering upon the office, take and subscribe the oath of office, and execute a bond to the state of California in the sum of five thousand dollars, with two or more sureties, to be approved by a judge of the superior court, for the faithful discharge of his duties. Any person aggrieved by any misconduct of such marshal, or his deputy, may bring an action in his own name upon such official bond, which bond shall be filed in the office of the county clerk. It shall be the duty of such fire marshal to attend all fires which may occur in such city, or city and county, with a badge of office, conspicuously displayed. He shall take charge of and protect all property which may be imperiled at any such fire, and safely keep the same under his possession and control until satisfactory proof of ownership be made thereto; and shall, as far as practicable, prevent such property from being injured at such fire, and direct, when in his opinion it shall be necessary, the removal of goods, merchandise, and other property to a place of safety. He shall be authorized and empowered to exercise the functions of a peace officer of such city, or city and county. Any person who shall willfully hinder or obstruct said officer in the lawful discharge of his duties shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to authorize such fire marshal to interfere in any manner with the proper discharge of the lawful duties and authority of any chief engineer of any fire department of such city and county. It shall be the duty of such fire marshal to institute investigations into the cause of such fires as occur in such city, or city and county; and for this purpose he shall have power to issue subpoenas and administer oaths, and compel the attendance of witnesses before him by attachment or otherwise. All subpoenas issued by him shall be in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be directed to and served by any police officer, or by any peace officer of such city, or city and county. Any witness who refuses to attend or testify in obedience to such subpoena shall be deemed guilty of contempt, and be punishable by him as in cases of contempt in justices' courts in civil cases. He shall make a written report of the testimony to the district attorney, and institute criminal prosecutions in all cases in which there appears to him to be a reasonable and probable cause for believing that a fire has been caused by design. It shall be the duty of such fire marshal to aid in the enforcement of the fire ordinances of such city, or city and county, and for this purpose he is duly authorized to visit and examine all buildings in process of erection or undergoing repairs, and to institute prosecutions for all violations of the ordinances of such city, or city and county, which relate to the erection, alteration, or repairs of buildings, and for the prevention of fires. He shall exercise such additional powers as may be conferred upon him by the ordinances of such city, or city and county, to enable him fully to carry out the object and purpose of his appointment, and for the prevention of fires. He shall have the power to appoint a deputy, who may exercise all the powers and perform all the duties of such marshal. The salary of such deputy shall be paid in the same manner as the fire marshal. Any person who saves from fire, or from a building endangered by fire, any property, and who willfully neglects for two days to give notice to such fire marshal, or to the owner of such property, of his possession thereof, shall be deemed guilty of grand or petit larceny, as the case may be, according to the value of said property; and any person who shall be guilty of false swearing in any investigation under this subdivision shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished therefor as in other cases of perjury. Such fire marshal may be removed at any time by the same power or powers that appointed him. And in case of the removal, resignation, or death of such fire marshal, his successor shall be appointed in the same manner as hereinbefore provided. Such fire marshal is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint one or more persons, during the time of fire, for the purpose of saving and protecting property at such fire, and until it shall be delivered to the owner or claimant thereof, and such person or persons so appointed shall have, during such period, the authority and power of a policeman of such city, or city and county, and shall be known as the fire marshal's police; and each of such persons shall wear, while in the discharge of his duty, conspicuously displayed on his person, such badge or device as such fire marshal shall designate. No person shall be entitled to any property in the hands of such fire marshal, saved from fire, until satisfactory proof of ownership be made, and until the actual expenses incurred by such officer for the preservation and keeping of the same shall be paid to him by the owner or claimant of said property; and in case of dispute as to the amount of such expenses, said dispute to be determined by the justices' court of such city, or city and county. Such fire marshal is hereby duly authorized and empowered to hold and sell, or cause to be sold, at public auction, all property in his possession, saved from a fire or fires, for which no owner can be found, after advertising the same in two daily newspapers published in such city, or city and county, for the period of thirty days; provided, however, that if, upon application of such fire marshal to the police judge, it shall appear that such property is perishable, such judge may order such fire marshal to make sale thereof upon such notice as in the opinion of such judge may be reasonable. The proceeds of all such sales, together with an account thereof, after deducting all expenses, shall be by him deposited with the treasurer of such city, or city and county, to be held by such treasurer, subject to the claim of the owner of such property. Such fire marshal shall, from time to time, file with the clerk of such city, or city and county, under oath, a statement and description of all property in his possession, or under his control and sold by him, together with the amount of money by him deposited with the treasurer of such city, or city and county.

Maintain fire-alarm.

30. To maintain a fire-alarm and police telegraph in such city, or city and county.

Regulate drifting of sand.

31. To require the owners of lots to prevent sand from drifting, being blown, or otherwise moved therefrom, into or deposited upon any paved, planked, or macadamized street, alley, place, park, thoroughfare, or other public property, and to enforce all such regulations by sufficient fines and penalties.

Maintain house of correction.

32. To maintain, regulate, govern, manage, and carry on a house of correction, and to utilize therein and thereby the labor of all persons committed to the jail or house of correction of such city, or city and county, by the police courts and the superior courts; to prescribe rules of commitment and detention of prisoners, hours of labor, and all necessary rules, regulations, and restrictions for the proper operation of said institution. All prisoners sentenced to a term in the county jail, or house of correction, shall be deemed to have been sentenced to labor during such term. The judges of police courts and of the superior courts in such city or city and county, may sentence criminals to the house of correction when, in the judgment of such judge, the criminal is too young to be sentenced to the state prison, or when it is deemed better for the well-being of the prisoner. No person shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the house of correction for a shorter or longer term than that for which he might be sentenced in the jail of such city, or city and county, or in the state prison; and in no case whatever for a shorter term than three months nor for a longer term than three years. No person who might be sentenced to imprisonment in the state prison shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the house of correction if he is more than twenty-five years of age, if he has been once before convicted of a felony, or twice before convicted of petit larceny, nor unless, in the opinion of the court, imprisonment in the house of correction will be more for his interest than imprisonment in the state prison, and equally for the interest of the public. The fact of a previous conviction may be found by the court upon evidence introduced at the time of sentence. The board of aldermen of the city, or city and county, shall appoint a competent superintendent of the house of correction of such city and county, who shall also be treasurer of said house of correction, and who shall give good and sufficient bonds, in a sum, and with sureties, to be approved by said board of aldermen, for the faithful discharge of his duties, and to whom shall be paid a salary, to be fixed by them, not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars per month, payable monthly. Said superintendent shall only be removed for just and sufficient legal cause, after a fair and impartial investigation of his case by said board of aldermen. He shall, immediately after his appointment, and when authorized by said board of aldermen, appoint, subject to the approval thereof, such subordinates as may be deemed necessary by the board of aldermen; and the pay of such subordinates shall be fixed by said board of aldermen, not exceeding one hundred dollars per month to each party so appointed. The superintendent shall manage the general interests of the institution; see that its affairs are conducted in accordance with the requirements of this chapter and of such by-laws as the board of aldermen may from time to time adopt for the orderly and economical management of its concerns; to see that strict discipline is maintained therein; to provide employment for the inmates; adjust and certify all claims against the institution. And all by-laws made by said board of aldermen for the management of said institution, and not contrary to the laws of this state, shall be binding, in all respects, upon said superintendent, officers, and inmates; and said superintendent shall each year prepare and submit, under oath, to the board of aldermen a report of the concerns of said institution. The superintendent shall reside at the house of correction, have charge of its inmates and property, and be its treasurer; keep accounts of all his receipts and expenditures, and of all such property and account in such manner as the said municipal council may require, and hold all books and papers open to their inspection.

Maintain an industrial school.

33. To maintain and regulate an industrial school for the detention, management, reformation, education, and maintenance of such children, under the age of eighteen years, as shall be committed or surrendered thereto by the courts of such city, or city and county, as vagrants, living an idle or dissolute life, or who shall be convicted by the police or superior court of any crime or misdemeanor, or who, being tried for any crime or misdemeanor in such court, shall be found to be under fourteen years of age, and to have done an act which, if done by a person of full age, would be a crime or misdemeanor; and said council is empowered to regulate the commitment, detention and discharge of such children, and to designate and prescribe the causes, terms, and conditions thereof; and the said police court and superior court shall have power to adjudge that such persons so convicted shall be so imprisoned; and persons so convicted shall remain at said industrial school until he or she shall attain majority, unless a shorter time shall be fixed by said court in the commitment. Such children shall be kept at such employments and be instructed in such branches of useful knowledge as may be suitable to their age and capacity. The municipal council may provide for binding out such children as apprentices during their minority, to learn proper trades and employments. There shall be a superintendent of said industrial school, to be appointed by the board of aldermen. He shall be deemed a public officer, whose salary shall not exceed two hundred and fifty dollars per month, and such other employees as may be necessary, with salary not to exceed one hundred dollars per month each. Such police and superior court, or either of them, upon the application of the board of aldermen, and upon its certificate that it is expedient to do so, shall have power to discharge any child committed to said industrial school, and who is not bound out as an apprentice, or adopted, and may in like manner discharge such child upon the application, in writing, of the parents or guardian of such child, who shall not have been bound out or adopted, and after ten days' notice, in writing, to the board of aldermen, if, upon the hearing of the application, such police court or superior court shall consider that such discharge is expedient.

Maintain almshouse, etc.

34. To establish and maintain an almshouse, a city and county hospital, a smallpox hospital, and such other institutions of the same character as are or may be necessary, and to perpetuate such institutions as may have been heretofore established in such cities, or cities and counties, heretofore incorporated.

Payment of judgment.

35. To order paid out of the general fund any final judgment against such city, or city and county.

Public pound.

36. To maintain, regulate, and govern a public pound, fix the limits within which animals shall not run at large, and appoint poundkeepers, who shall be paid for out of the fines imposed and collected of the owners of impounded animals, and from no other source.

Improvement of waterfront.

37. To allow and order paid out of the street department fund such sums as may be deemed necessary for improvement of streets bordering on the waterfront, and improvement of sewers and streets in front of public property.

Burial of indigent dead.

38. To allow and order paid out of the general fund such sums as may be necessary for burying the indigent dead.

Pay of special counsel.

39. To allow and order paid out of the general fund such sums, not to exceed five thousand dollars in any one fiscal year, as may be deemed necessary for the employment of special counsel.

Enact certain regulations.

40. To enact such general and special police regulations for such city, or city and county, as shall secure the health, comfort, and security of the inhabitants, the safety and security of property and life, and to enforce the same therein.

Regulation of offices and departments.

41. To make needful rules and regulations for the administration, care, and maintenance and conduct of all departments and offices of such city, or city and county, when not otherwise in this chapter provided for, so as to secure more perfect safety of the public funds, and greater efficiency in all departments of the service, and to enforce the observation of such rules and regulations, and to authorize the appointment of such additional clerks, assistant deputies, and employees as in their judgment may be necessary for the proper discharge of the duties of such offices and departments.

General fund.

42. To appropriate the moneys derived from the revenue of such city, or city and county to a general fund, and such funds as have been heretofore or shall be hereafter established by law, or the said council, and as shall be necessary for the proper and economical administration of such city, or city and county.

Free library.

43. To establish, maintain, and regulate free public libraries and reading-rooms, and to perpetuate such free libraries and reading-rooms as may have been heretofore established in such cities, or cities and counties, heretofore incorporated.

Law library.

44. To provide, fit up, and furnish, and provide with fuel, lights, stationery, and all necessary attendance, conveniences, and care, rooms convenient and accessible to the courts, sufficient for the use and accommodation of a law library and those who have occasion to use it, and approved by the officers having the government of said library, and to perpetuate and in the same manner provide for any law library now existing in such city, or city and county, the use of which has been secured by law to the courts, the bar, and the city, or city and county government. The municipal council shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to appropriate, allow, and order paid out of the proper fund such sums as may be necessary therefor.

Medical dispensary.

45. To establish and maintain a free medical dispensary, and to perpetuate any such heretofore existing in such city, or city and county.

Building committee.

46. To appoint a committee of five, three from the board of aldermen and two from the house of assistant aldermen, to be denominated the "Building Committee," to superintend the construction of buildings hereafter to be constructed for such city, or city and county, or now in progress of construction therefor, and to appoint a secretary for such committee, and to fix his compensation, and, if necessary, also to appoint a superintendent and architect therefor, fix their respective compensation, and require of such superintendent and architect to execute bonds, with two sureties, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duty, in such sums as may be deemed necessary.

Division of city into wards.

47. To divide the city, or city and county, by ordinance, into twelve wards, to fix the boundaries thereof, and to change the same from time to time; provided, that no change in the boundaries of any ward shall be made within sixty days next before the date of said general election, nor within twenty months after the same shall have been established or altered.

Levy and collection of revenue.

48. To provide for the levy, collection, and appropriation of revenue heretofore by law provided to be collected for the erection and completion of any public building in and for such city, or city and county, in the manner as heretofore provided by any law of this state for the levy, collection, and appropriation of the same.

Board of equalization.

§ 65. The municipal council shall constitute a board of equalization for such city, or city and county, and as such shall have the powers conferred by the general laws regulating the assessment and collection of taxes, when not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

Definition of public streets.

§ 66. All the streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts, as laid down on the official map of such city, or city and county, and all other streets, lanes, alleys, places or courts now dedicated or open to public use, are hereby declared to be open public streets, lanes, alleys, places or courts for the purpose of this chapter; and the municipal council is invested with jurisdiction to order any of the work mentioned in section 67 of this act to be done on any of said streets, alleys, places, or courts, when the grade and width of said streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts have been officially established; and for the purposes of this chapter the grade of all intermediate or intersecting streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts in any one block shall conform to the grades as established of the crossings of the main streets.

Grading streets.

§ 67. The municipal council is hereby authorized and empowered to order the whole or any portion of the said streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts graded or regraded to the official grade, planked or replanked, paved or repaved, macadamized or remacadamized, piled or repiled, capped or recapped, and to order sidewalks, sewers, cesspools, man-holes, culverts, curbing, and cross-walks to be constructed, and to order any streets and sewers cleaned, and to order any other work to be done which shall be necessary to make and complete the whole or any portion of said streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts, and they may order any of the said work to be improved; and when any street, or portion of a street has been or shall hereafter be constructed to the satisfaction of the municipal council and the superintendent of streets, and shall have a brick sewer, or cement or iron-stone pipe constructed therein, under such regulations as said municipal council shall adopt, the same shall be accepted by it, and thereafter shall be kept open and improved by such city, or city and county, the expense thereof, together with all work done in front of city, or city and county, property, to be paid out of the street department fund, or other proper fund; provided, that the municipal council shall not accept of any portion of the street less than the entire width of the roadway (including the curbing and one block in length, or one entire crossing); and provided further, that it may, partially or conditionally, accept any street, or portion of a street, without a sewer or pipe therein as above stated, if a sewer or pipe therein shall be deemed by them unnecessary; but the lots of land previously assessable for the cost of construction of a sewer or pipe shall still remain and be assessable for such cost, and for the cost of repair and restoration of the street damaged in the said construction, when thereafter a sewer or pipe shall be deemed necessary, the same as if no partial or conditional acceptance had ever been had. The said superintendent of streets shall keep in his office a register of all accepted streets, the same to be indexed so that reference may be easily had thereto.

Special assessment for work on private property.

§ 68. The municipal council may order work authorized by this chapter, the cost and expense of which is made chargeable, or may be assessed upon private property by special assessment, to be done, after notice of its intention so to do in the form of a resolution describing the work, and signed by the clerks of both branches of the municipal council, has been published for the period of five days in the paper doing the printing for such city, or city and county, and also in two daily newspapers, one of which newspapers shall be published as a morning edition and one as an evening edition, printed and published in such city, or city and county, for five days, Sundays and nonjudicial days excepted; provided, that no such notice shall be given or order made for the grading of any street, unless the majority of the frontage of the lots and land fronting on the work proposed to be done, and described in said resolution, or which is to be made liable for such grading, except public property, shall have been represented by the owners thereof, or by their agents, in a petition to the said municipal council, stating that they are the owners and in possession or agents of the lots named in the petition, and also requesting that such improvements or street work shall be done. All owners of lands, or lots, or portions of lots, who may feel aggrieved, or have objection to the ordering of the work described in said notice, or who may have objection to any of the subsequent proceedings of the municipal council in relation to the work mentioned in such notices of intention, or may have any objection to any of the acts of the superintendent of streets, and the city, or city and county, surveyor of such city, or city and county, in the discharge of any of the obligations or duties imposed upon him or them by virtue of their offices, shall file with the clerk of either branch of the municipal council a petition or remonstrance, wherein they shall set forth in what respect they feel aggrieved, or the acts or proceedings to which they object, which petition or remonstrance shall be passed upon by the municipal council, and its decisions thereon shall be final and conclusive; but the municipal council shall not order the work described in said notice to be done unless all objections and protests that may have been presented and filed as aforesaid shall have been by them disposed of. Should the owners or agents of more than one-half in frontage of the lots and lands fronting on the work proposed to be done, and designated in said notice of resolution or liable to be assessed for work, file with the clerk of either branch of the municipal council written objections against any grading described in said notice, at any time before the expiration of the publication of said notice of intention, and the publication thereof, as hereinbefore provided, then and thereupon the municipal council shall be barred from proceeding further for the period of six months; and shall not renew the notice of intention for doing any street work so protested against within six months, unless the owners or agents of a majority of the frontage of the lots and land fronting on said street work, or liable to be assessed therefor as aforesaid, shall petition anew for the work to be done. At the expiration of any notice of intention, the municipal council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order any work to be done which is authorized by this chapter; and it is further provided, that where any public street shall have been graded, or graded and macadamized, or graded and paved, for the distance of one or two blocks upon each side thereof of any one or two blocks or crossing of a street which is not improved, it shall be the duty of the municipal council, upon the recommendation of the superintendent of streets, to order the notice provided in this section to be given without the petition provided first aforesaid; and if the owners of three-fourths of the frontage of the land and lots fronting on such portions of said streets to be graded or improved shall, within the time prescribed in said notice, file written objections to the improvement of the said street, such objection shall be a bar for six months for the doing of said work or making said improvement, except when the work or improvement proposed to be done is the construction of sewers, man-holes, culverts, cross-walks, and sidewalks, the municipal council shall duly consider said objections before ordering said work; and if it shall decide and declare by an entry in the minutes of both branches thereof that the objections so made are not good, thereupon it shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order any such street work to be done that is described in said notice; provided further, that when one-half or more of the grading, planking, macadamizing, paving, sidewalking, or sewerage of any one street, lying between two main street-crossings, has been already performed, the municipal council may order the remainder of such grading, planking, macadamizing, paving, sidewalking, or sewerage to be done, notwithstanding the objections of any or all of the property owners.

Manner of compelling certain street work to be done.

§ 69. The owners of more than one-half in frontage of lots and lands fronting on any street, lane, alley, place, or court, mentioned in section 66 of this act, or their duly authorized agents, may petition the said municipal council to order any of the work mentioned in section 67 of this act to be done; and the said board may order the work mentioned in said petition to be done, after notice of their intention so to do has been published as provided in section 68 of this act. No order or permission shall be given to grade, or pile and cap, any street, lane, alley, place, or court, in the first instance, or any portion thereof, without extending or completing the same throughout the whole width of said street, lane, alley, place, or court. When any such work has heretofore been done, or when any such work shall hereafter be done, in violation of this section, neither the lots nor portions of lots in front of which such work has been or may be done hereafter, nor the owners thereof, shall be exempt from assessments made for the payment of the work afterwards done to complete said street, lane, alley, place or court to its full width, as provided in this chapter.

May be transmitted.

§ 70. At the expiration of publication of such notice, the clerk of either branch of the municipal council shall cause to be transmitted to the city, or city and county, surveyor, and to the superintendent of streets of such city, or city and county, a copy of the resolution, order or ordinance authorizing the said street work. The said surveyor shall thereupon, within fifteen days from the completion of the publication mentioned in the last section, transmit to said municipal council a map of the district to be benefited by said street improvement; which map shall show the relative location of each lot to the work proposed to be done, and be signed by said surveyor. The superintendent of streets shall also thereupon, within fifteen days from the completion of said publication, transmit to the municipal council an estimate of the cost and expense of said improvement, which said estimate shall contain the items composing the gross sum estimated, and shall be signed by said superintendent.

Adoption or modification of map.

§ 71. The municipal council shall, at the first meeting after the receipt of such map and estimate, or as soon as may be practicable, either adopt, modify, or reject the same, and after its final action upon said map and estimate, the same shall be transmitted to said superintendent of streets, who shall record the same in a book to be kept by him for such purpose; and the said superintendent shall forthwith prepare plans and specifications for such street work, and the clerk of either branch of the municipal council shall cause to be conspicuously posted in the office of said superintendent, and also published for five days (nonjudicial days excepted) in the newspapers hereinbefore mentioned, a notice inviting sealed proposals to contract for the work contemplated to be performed; such work not to be performed, nor any contract for the same made or entered into, until after the moneys sufficient for the payment of the costs and expenses thereof shall have been levied, collected, and paid into the treasury of such city, or city and county, as hereinafter provided; which notice shall substantially contain the plans and specifications above mentioned; and all notices, resolutions, and orders required to be posted or published under the provisions of this chapter shall be posted or published, or both posted and published, as the law may require, by said clerk, as a matter of course, and without any special direction or authority from said municipal council. The said superintendent shall furnish specifications for the performance of any and all street work ordered by the municipal council and authorized by this chapter, and the time within which said work must be completed after entering into the contract for doing the same. All proposals shall be delivered to the clerk of either branch of the municipal council, and the house of which he is the clerk shall, in open session, open, examine, and publicly declare the same; and all proposals shall be for a price payable in gold coin of the United States; provided, said municipal council may reject any and all proposals should they deem it for the public good, and also may reject the proposals of any party who may be proved delinquent or unfaithful with any former contract with such city, or city and county; and if all proposals shall be rejected, the municipal council shall direct the clerk of either house thereof to again post said notice, and publish the same as in the first instance. All proposals shall be accompanied with a bond to such city, or city and county, to be approved by the clerk of either house of said municipal council, in the sum of one thousand dollars, and in such additional amount as may be fixed by said superintendent of streets, with two good and sufficient sureties, who must be freeholders of such city, or city and county, said sureties to justify in double the amount, conditioned that the party making such proposal shall, or will, within ten days after notice from said superintendent that the moneys for the cost and expenses for such work have been paid into the treasury, enter into a contract with such city, or city and county, in pursuance of such proposal, and to commence such work within five days after the execution of such contract, and complete the same within the time mentioned in the said plans and specifications, or either of them, or within any extended time; it is further provided, that all persons proposing, owners included, who shall fail to enter into any contract as herein provided, or to complete the contracts entered into, are hereby prohibited from proposing a second time for the same work; and in case of owners, they are hereby prohibited from electing to take the same work a second time, and from entering into any contract concerning the same. At any time within five days after such money has been paid into the treasury, the owners of a majority of the frontage of lots and lands liable to be assessed for said work, or their agents, and who shall make oath that they are such owners, or the agents of such owners, may elect to do the said work, and to enter into a written contract to do the whole work at the price for which the same is awarded, upon giving the bond as hereinafter provided; and they shall commence said work within five days after the execution of such contract, and shall prosecute it diligently and continuously, and complete it within the time limited in the contract, or within any extended time; but should the said contractor, or the property owners, fail to prosecute the same diligently or continuously, in the judgment of said superintendent, or complete it within the time prescribed in the contract, or within the extended time, then it shall be the duty of said superintendent to report the same to the municipal council, who shall immediately order the clerk of either branch of the municipal council to advertise for proposals as in the first instance, and relet the contract in the manner hereinbefore provided; and it is further provided that all contractors for street work shall, at the time of entering into said contract, execute a bond payable to such city, city or county, with two or more sureties, in the sum of not less than one thousand dollars, and in such additional amount as may be fixed by said superintendent, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract; and said sureties shall justify in double the amount of the penalty fixed in said bond; such sureties to justify before said superintendent or his deputy, and the qualifications and responsibility of such sureties shall be the same as prescribed for sureties on the official bonds of the officers of such city, or city and county; and it is further provided that in case of the nonfulfillment by the obligor in either of the bonds mentioned in this section, of the conditions thereof, it shall be the duty of the city, or city and county, attorney to sue for and collect the sum in said bond mentioned, in any court of competent jurisdiction, and pay the same into the city and county treasury, to the credit of the proper fund.

Assessment.

§ 72. After the proposal shall have been received and considered by the municipal council, the superintendent of streets shall make an assessment in proportion to the benefit upon all the land in the district shown upon said map. Said assessment shall show the work proposed to be done, the estimated cost thereof, the rate per front foot assessed against each lot within the assessment district, the amount of each assessment, the name of the owner of each lot, or portion of lot, if known to the superintendent, and if such owner be unknown, the word "unknown" shall be written opposite the number of the lot (but an assessment made to a person not the owner shall not render such assessment illegal), and the amount assessed thereon, the number of each lot, or portion of lot, assessed, and shall have attached thereto a diagram showing the assessment district, and the relative location of each lot assessed to the work proposed to be done, each lot being numbered in said assessment and diagram; and when completed, shall be signed by said superintendent, and transmitted to the board of aldermen.

Notice of hearing objections to assessment-roll.

§ 73. At the first meeting of the board of aldermen, after the receipt by it of the assessment made by said superintendent, as soon thereafter as may be practicable, it shall cause notice of the time and place of the hearing of all objections to said assessment to be published for at least five days (Sundays and nonjudicial days excepted), prior to the time of such hearing, in two daily newspapers, one published as a morning edition and one as an evening edition, in such city, or city and county. All objections shall be heard in open session of said board of aldermen. At said hearing said board of aldermen may alter, modify, or confirm said assessment, as it shall deem proper; and said superintendent shall thereupon record said assessment and diagram in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. When so recorded, the several amounts assessed shall be deemed a tax levied upon the lands described in said assessment and diagram, upon which they are respectively assessed, and shall be a lien upon such parcels of land. Said superintendent shall give to each assessment a number by which the fund collected for said work shall be known, and shall immediately after the record of said assessment, as hereinbefore provided, deliver the said assessment and diagram to the tax collector of such city and county, who shall thereupon cause to be published for ten successive days (Sundays and nonjudicial days excepted), in two newspapers of general circulation, one of which shall be published as a morning edition and one as an evening edition, published in such city, or city and county, a notice containing a description of the proposed improvement, and of the portion of street or streets upon which the same is proposed to be done, that the same is in his hands for collection; that if said assessment is not paid within fifteen days from the date of the last publication of such notice, that the same will be delinquent; that the property assessed, and upon which the assessment remains unpaid, will be sold by said tax collector for said assessment, a brief description of the property assessed, the amount assessed thereon, and the time and place of sale, which shall be not less than five days nor more than ten days after such delinquency.

Sale of property for unpaid taxes.

§ 74. On the day fixed for the sale, said tax collector, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., must commence the sale of the property advertised, upon which the assessment remains unpaid, and sell the same at public vendue, in the office of said tax collector, to the person who will take the least quantity of the respective parcels of land assessed, and pay the assessment thereon, together with two dollars to said tax collector for the duplicate certificate of sale. If the purchaser does not forthwith pay the amounts of the assessment and costs by him bid, the tax collector shall immediately proceed to sell such parcel or parcels again, in the same manner, for the amount of said assessment and costs.

Duplicate certificate.

§ 75. After receiving the amount of the assessment and costs, said tax collector must make out in duplicate a certificate, dated on the day of sale, showing the name of the person assessed, when known, a brief description of the property sold, the street improvement for which the assessment was levied, the number of the assessment, that it was sold for an assessment, the amount thereof, that the same is subject to redemption at any time within one year after sale, and specifying the date when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed; and upon payment to said tax collector of the fee for recording the same, said tax collector shall deliver one of such duplicates to the purchaser, and the same day file the other in the office of the recorder of the county, or city and county, who shall record the same.

Vesting of lien.

§ 76. Upon filing the said duplicate in the office of said recorder, the lien aforesaid is vested in the purchaser, and is only divested by payment to him, or to the treasurer of such city, or city and county, for his use, of the purchase money and costs, and two per cent per month and fraction of a month up to date of redemption thereon. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase.

Deed to purchaser and conclusions of law.

§ 77. If property is not redeemed within twelve months from the date of such sale, the tax collector must make to the purchaser, or his assignee, a deed, reciting substantially the matters contained in the certificate, and that no person redeemed the property during the time allowed by law for its redemption. The matters recited in the certificate of sale must be recited in the deed, and such deed, duly acknowledged, shall be prima facie evidence that:

1. The property was assessed as required by law.
2. That the assessment was not paid.
3. That the property was sold at the proper time and place, and by the proper officer.
4. That the person who executed the deed was the proper officer therefor.
5. That the title to the property therein described is vested in the purchaser, his heirs, or assigns, free from all encumbrances, except taxes for purposes of revenue.

Payment into treasury by tax collector.

§ 78. Said tax collector shall daily pay into the treasury of such city, or city and county, to the credit of the proper street improvement fund, all moneys collected by him on account of such fund, and shall, upon the receipt of any assessment, mark the same paid upon the assessment-roll, and shall receipt to the person paying the same therefor, which receipt shall show the number of the street improvement fund, the work done, the number of the lot upon which the assessment is paid, and the amount thereof.

Certificate of payment into treasury.

§ 79. When the full amount of such assessment has been collected by said tax collector, the said collector shall certify to the superintendent of streets that the same has been collected and paid into the treasury of such city, or city and county. Upon the receipt of such certificate from the tax collector, the said superintendent shall forthwith notify the person whose proposal shall have been accepted by the municipal council, as aforesaid, of the payment of such money into the treasury, and that such city, or city and county, is ready to enter into a contract with such person for such work, in pursuance of said proposal; and said superintendent shall hold himself in readiness to execute said contract on behalf of such city, or city and county. The board of aldermen may extend the time of performance of the contract, as fixed by the contract of specifications, upon the recommendation of said superintendent; but the time of the performance shall in no event be in any manner extended beyond sixty days after the time fixed in such specifications or contract for the completion of said work.

Certificate to contractor and publication of notice.

§ 80. Whenever any contract shall have been completed to the satisfaction and acceptance of the superintendent of streets, he shall deliver to the contractor a certificate to that effect, and shall also notify said board of aldermen that said work and improvement, and the contract therefor, having been completed to his satisfaction and acceptance, and that he has given to said contractor his certificate to that effect. Thereupon said board of aldermen shall direct the clerk of said board to give notice by publication for five days, in a newspaper published and circulated in such city, or city and county, that said work and improvement, and the contract therefor, have been completed to the satisfaction and acceptance of the superintendent of streets of such city, or city and county.

Appeal of property owner.

§ 81. Any person owning property which has been assessed to pay the cost and expenses of such work and improvement, feeling aggrieved at the manner in which such work and improvement shall have been done, or feeling aggrieved at any act or determination of said superintendent of streets in relation to said work and improvement subsequent to the date of the execution of the contract therefor, shall, within five days from the first publication of said notice, appeal to said board of aldermen by briefly stating their objections in writing, and by filing the same with the clerk of said board. At the meeting of the board next ensuing after the expiration of said five days allowed above for filing said objections, the said board, if no objections have been filed, shall, by resolution, ratify and confirm all said acts of said superintendent of streets, and shall accept such work and improvement. But if any such objections last aforesaid shall have been filed within said five days, then said board shall fix the time for hearing such objections, and shall direct the clerk of said board to notify all persons desirous of being heard upon said objections of the time and place when and where said board will hear all parties desiring to be heard upon the same. Said notice shall be in writing, and shall be given by posting the same in three of the most conspicuous public places in such city, or city and county, and published five days in two daily newspapers (one morning and one evening edition), at least five days before the time set for said hearing. At the time and place fixed for said hearing of said objections, said board shall proceed to hear all parties present and desiring to be heard upon the matters specified in such objections. And whenever said board shall have determined, by personal inspection or otherwise, that said work and improvement objected to have been completed in all respects according to the contract therefor, they shall, by resolution, accept said work and improvement, and ratify and confirm all said acts of said superintendent of streets in relation thereto.

Notice to superintendent of streets.

§ 82. If, upon such hearing, said board of aldermen shall determine, by personal inspection or otherwise, that said work and improvement have not been performed according to the contract therefor, then they shall notify the said superintendent of streets to that effect, specifying in said notice to him the particulars in which said contract has not been performed. And said superintendent of streets shall thereupon at once cause said contractor to complete said work and improvement under the contract therefor in those particulars specified by said board in said notice to said superintendent of streets. Whenever said board shall ascertain that said work and improvement have been completed in all respects according to the terms of the contract therefor, they shall, by resolution, accept such work and improvement. All acts and determinations of said board of aldermen upon appeals, under the provisions of this and the next preceding section, shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to an appeal thereunder.

Payment to contractor.

§ 83. Whenever any work or improvement shall have been so completed upon any street, lane, alley, court, or place in such city, or city and county, for the payment of costs and expenses of which an assessment shall have been levied and collected under the provisions of this act, the said board of aldermen shall, by resolution, direct the treasurer to pay out of the appropriate fund, at the expiration of fifteen days from the passage of such resolution, to the contractor who shall have so completed said work and improvement, the amount to which he is entitled under the terms of his contract; provided, however, that such payment by the treasurer shall be made subject to the following provisions, to wit: that any person or persons who have performed labor upon or furnished materials for the construction of said work or improvement, may file within said fifteen days, with the treasurer, any written claim or claims he or they may have on account of such labor performed or materials furnished; and at the expiration of said fifteen days, said treasurer shall pay to said contractor the amount specified in said last named resolution, less the aggregate amount of all such claims, if any, theretofore filed in accordance with the provisions of this section. Should any money be retained by said treasurer on account of such claim or claims, he shall pay over the amount of each claim only upon the order therefor of said contractor, indorsed by the claimant entitled thereto, or upon the order therefor of any court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 84. And when all moneys required to be paid by the said treasurer, under the last preceding section, shall have been by him paid, as required in said section, if there is any money remaining in the fund out of which said payments shall have been made as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of said treasurer immediately to report the amount of said remaining moneys to said board of aldermen. Thereupon it shall be the duty of said board to empower and direct said treasurer to distribute and repay such remaining moneys, and in the proportion of the amounts of the original assessments, to the persons by or for whom said original assessments were paid, or to their legal representatives. And it shall be the duty of said treasurer, in each instance of such repayment, to require, receive and file away a receipt of said proportionate amount from said persons or their legal representatives. And in no case shall a contractor who has failed to fulfill the terms and conditions of his contract be entitled to receive any portion of the contract price therefor, and he shall be deemed to have forfeited all right to recover or receive any compensation whatever under said contract.

Kind of labor on accepted streets.

§ 85. No contract to do any work upon any accepted streets, other than cleaning streets and sewers, shall be let, but such work shall be done under the direction of the superintendent of streets, by laborers employed by such city, or city and county, through said superintendent, at such wages as may be from time to time fixed by the municipal council. All contracts for materials necessary to be used for work on accepted streets must be given by the municipal council to the lowest bidder offering adequate security, after due public notice, for not less than five days, in at least two newspapers published in such city, or city and county.

Repairing streets, sewer, etc.

§ 86. In case of urgent necessity, the superintendent of streets may, and it shall be his duty to, repair any of the unaccepted public streets, sewers, or crossings cornering thereon; and the expense of the same shall be paid out of the street department fund, in the same manner as provided for the improvement of accepted streets; and all such repairs shall be made in uniformity with the work to be repaired, but such repairs between two main streets shall not exceed in cost the sum of two hundred dollars, and the repairs of any crossing shall not exceed in cost the sum of one hundred dollars; provided, the sums so expended shall not exceed the sum of two thousand dollars in any one month. Such work, and the material therefor, shall be performed and provided in the same manner as provided in the foregoing section concerning labor and material for accepted streets.

No recourse against city for damage for accident on defective street.

§ 87. No recourse shall be had against such city, or city and county, for damage to person or property suffered or sustained by or by reason of the defective condition of any street or public highway of such city, or city and county, whether originally existing or occasioned by construction, excavation, or embankment, or want of repair of said street or public highway; and whether such damage be occasioned by accident on said street or public highway, or by falling from or upon the same; but if any person, while carefully using any street or public highway of such city and county, graded, or in course of being graded, or carefully using any other street or public highway leading into or crossing the same, be injured, killed, lost, or destroyed; or any horses, animals, or other property be lost, injured, or destroyed, through any defect in said street or public highway, graded, or in course of being graded, as aforesaid, or by reason of any excavation or embankment in or of the same, or by falling from or upon such embankment or excavation, then the person or persons upon whom the law may impose the duty either to repair such defect or to guard the public from the excavation, embankment, or grading aforesaid, and also the officer or officers through whose official neglect such defect remained unrepaired, or said excavation or embankment remained unguarded as aforesaid, shall be jointly and severally liable to the person or persons injured for the damages sustained.

Improvement of streets by property owners.

§ 88. The superintendent of streets may require, at his option, by notice in writing, to be delivered to them personally or left on the premises, the owners, tenants, or occupants of lots or portions of lots liable to be assessed for work done under the provisions of this chapter, to improve forthwith any of the work mentioned in section 67 of this act in front of the property of which he is the owner, tenant, or occupant, to the center of the street or otherwise, as the case may require, or to remove all filth, sand, earth, or dirt from the street in front of the premises; and, by a like notice, to be served personally upon the president or any officer of a railroad corporation or company, or to be left at the office of said corporation or company, to require such corporation or company to improve forthwith any work mentioned in this chapter, which said corporation or company are required by law to do and perform; said notice to specify what improvement is required or work is to be done. After the expiration of five days, if such notice shall not have been complied with, such proceedings shall be taken by the proper authorities to cause the moneys necessary for the doing of such work to be paid into the treasury as is hereinbefore provided in reference to work and improvements upon unaccepted streets, and to be paid for in the same manner.

Notice, how served.

§ 89. Notices in writing, which are required to be given by the superintendent of streets, under the provisions of this chapter, may be served by any police officer, or by any male citizen over the age of twenty-one years, and the fact of such service shall be verified by the oath of the person making it, taken before the superintendent (who is hereby authorized to administer oaths) or any other person authorized to administer oaths. The superintendent of streets shall keep a record of the fact of giving such notices and proof of service, and shall keep the original proof thereof.

Levy of taxes.

§ 90. 1. On or before the fourth Monday of July, annually, the municipal council of such city, or city and county, shall levy the amount of taxes for city, or city and county, purposes, required by law to be levied upon all property not exempt from taxation; said amount to be such as the said council may deem sufficient to provide for the payment of all demands upon the treasury authorized by law to be paid out of the same; provided, that such taxation, exclusive of any and all special taxes, now or which hereafter may be authorized by law, shall not in the aggregate exceed the rate of one dollar upon each one hundred dollars valuation of the property assessed; provided further, that the said municipal council shall, in making the said levy of taxes, apportion and divide the taxes so levied, and to be collected and applied to the several specific funds known as the corporation debt fund, general fund, school fund, street-light fund, street-department fund, or other fund provided for by law or by the said council, according to the estimate of said council of the necessities of the said funds, except that the rate for the school fund shall not exceed thirty-five dollars for each pupil who shall have attended and been taught the preceding year; and provided further, that the said municipal council shall authorize the disbursement of said money for the purposes hereafter mentioned; and at the close of each fiscal year the said council shall direct the treasurer to transfer all surplus moneys of all funds, excepting the school fund, after liquidating or providing for all outstanding demands upon said funds, to the general fund; but no money shall be transferred from either of the said funds to another, nor used in paying any demands upon such other fund, until all the indebtedness arising in any fiscal year, and payable out of said funds so raised for said fiscal year, shall have been paid and discharged.

Corporation debt fund.

2. The corporation debt fund shall be applied to and used for the payment of the interest, and to extinguish or provide for the extinguishment of the lawfully contracted funded debts of such city, or city and county, in accordance with laws in force at the time of the organization of such city, or city and county, under this act.

General fund.

3. The general fund shall be applied and used for the payment of all sums authorized by law to be paid out of the general fund, and not otherwise provided for in this chapter.

School fund.

4. The school fund shall be applied and used for the payment of all sums authorized by law to be paid out of the school fund.

Street-light fund.

5. The street-light fund shall be applied and used in the payment for lighting the streets of such city and county, and for the repair of lamps and posts, in pursuance of any existing or future legal contract of such city and county.

Street-department fund.

6. The street-department fund shall be applied and used for repairing and improving all streets, lanes, and the crossings thereof, which shall have been or hereafter may be accepted, so as to become a charge upon such city and county; for cleaning streets, lanes, crossings and sewers; and for the expense of improvements of streets in front of school lots; for all street work in front of or assessable upon property belonging to such city and county; for all street work on the waterfront of such city and county, not by law assessable upon private property; for all work authorized by the said council, upon the recommendation of the superintendent of streets, as immediately essential for the safety of life, limb, or property, or necessary for public health, or which can not be by law assessed upon private property, and for such other objects relating to streets and highways as shall be directed by law or said council to be paid therefrom. All moneys received from licenses on vehicles, from the income from street railroads, from fines and penalties for violation of any law or ordinance regulating vehicles on the public streets, shall be paid into the street-department fund.

No payment of public funds unless authorized by law.

§ 91. No payment can be made from the treasury or out of the public funds of such city, or city and county, unless the same be specifically authorized by law, nor unless the demand which is paid be duly audited, as in this chapter provided, and that must appear upon the face of it. No demand upon the treasury shall be allowed by the auditor in favor of any person, officer, company, or corporation, in any manner indebted thereto without first deducting the amount of such indebtedness, nor to any person or officer having the collection, custody, or disbursement of public funds, unless his account has been duly presented, passed, approved, and allowed, as required by law; nor in favor of any officer who shall have neglected to make his official returns or his reports, in writing, in the manner and at the time required by law, or by the regulations established by the municipal council; nor to any officer who shall have neglected or refused to comply with any of the provisions of this or any other act of the legislature regulating the duties of such officer, on being required in writing to comply therewith by the president of the board of aldermen, or any member of the finance committee of the municipal council; nor in favor of any officer for the time he shall have absented himself without lawful cause, from the duties of his office, during the office hours prescribed in this chapter; and the auditor may examine any officer receiving a salary from the treasury, on oath, touching such absence.

Definition of "audited."

§ 92. The term "audited," as used in this chapter with reference to demands upon the treasury, is to be understood [as] their having been presented to and passed upon by every officer and board of officers, and finally allowed as required by law; and this must appear upon the face of the paper representing the demand, or else it is not audited.

What demands to be audited.

§ 93. Every demand upon the treasury, except the salary of the auditor, and including the salary of the treasurer, must, before it can be paid, be presented to the auditor for such city, or city and county, to be allowed, who shall satisfy himself whether the money is legally due and remains unpaid, and whether the payment thereof from the treasury of such city and county is authorized by law, and out of what fund. If he allow it, he shall indorse upon it the word "Allowed," with the name of the fund out of which it is payable, with the date of such allowance, and sign his name thereto; but the allowance or approval of the auditor, or the municipal council, or either branch thereof, or any board, committee, or officer, of any demand which, upon the face of it, appears not to have been expressly made by law payable out of the treasury or fund to be charged therewith, shall afford no warrant to the treasurer or other disbursing officer for paying the same. No demand can be approved, allowed, audited, or paid, unless it specify each several item, date, and value composing it, and refer to the law, by title, date, and section, authorizing the same.

Demands of auditor, how allowed.

§ 94. The demand of the auditor for his monthly salary shall be audited and allowed by the president of the board of aldermen. All other monthly demands on account of salaries, allowances, or compensations fixed by law or this act, and made payable out of the treasury of such city, or city and county, may be allowed by the auditor without any approval. All demands payable out of the school fund must, before they can be allowed by the auditor, or paid, be previously approved by the board of education, or by the president thereof, and superintendent of schools, acting under express authorization of said board. Demands for teachers' wages, or other expenses appertaining to any school, can not be approved, allowed, or audited to any amount exceeding the share of school money which such school will be entitled to have apportioned to it during the current fiscal year. All other lawful demands payable out of the treasury, or any public funds of such city, or city and county, and not hereinbefore in this section specified, must, before they can be allowed by the auditor in any manner, or recognized or paid, be first approved by the municipal council, except, if the demand be under two hundred dollars, by the mayor and two members of the board of aldermen, appointed by the said board for that purpose, with power to act under and subject to its instructions and regulations during recess of the said board. The auditor must number and keep a record of all demands on the treasury allowed by him, showing the number, date, amount, and name of the original and present holder, on what account allowed, out of what fund payable, and, if previously approved, by what officer, officers, or board it has been so approved; and it shall be deemed a misdemeanor in office for the auditor to deliver any demand with his allowance thereon until this requisite shall have been complied with.

Who may administer oaths.

§ 95. The mayor, mayor's clerk, auditor, auditor's clerk, chief of police, police commissioners, president of the board of education, each member of the municipal council, and every other officer required by law or ordinance to allow, audit, or certify demands upon the treasury, or to perform any other official act or function, shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, and take and head testimony, concerning any matter or thing concerning any demand upon the treasury, or otherwise relating to their official duties. Every officer who shall approve, allow, or pay any demand on the treasury not authorized by law, or by a valid ordinance of the municipal council, passed in accordance with the same, or in case it is the act of a board, who shall, as a member thereof, vote for the same, shall be liable to the city, or city and county, individually, and on his official bond, for the amount of the demand so illegally approved, allowed, or paid. Every citizen shall have the right to inspect the books of the auditor, treasurer, secretary of the board of aldermen, and clerk of the house of assistant aldermen, at any time during business hours. Copies or extracts from said books, duly certified, shall be given by the officer having the same in custody, to any citizen demanding the same and paying fifteen cents per folio of one hundred words for such copies or extracts.

Payment of audited demands.

§ 96. Every lawful demand upon the treasury, duly audited as in this chapter required, shall in all cases be paid on presentation, and canceled, and the proper entry thereof be made, if there be sufficient money in the treasury belonging to the fund out of which it is payable; but if there be not sufficient money belonging to said fund to pay such demand, then it shall be registered in a book to be kept by the treasurer for that purpose, showing its number, when presented, date, amount, name of the original holder, and on what account allowed, and out of what fund payable, and being so registered, shall be returned to the party presenting it, with an indorsement of the word "Registered," dated and signed by the treasurer.

Investigation of nonpayment of audited demands.

§ 97. Whenever any audited demand has been presented to the treasurer and not paid, and it be made known to the president of the board of aldermen, he shall proceed immediately to investigate the cause for such nonpayment, and if it be ascertained that the demand has been illegally and fraudulently approved or allowed, he shall cause the officer guilty of such illegal and fraudulent approval or allowance to be suspended and proceeded against for misconduct in office. If he ascertains that the demand has been duly audited and that the treasurer has funds applicable to the payment thereof, which, without reasonable grounds for doubt as to the legality of such payment, he refuses to apply thereto, he shall proceed against him as a defaulter. If it be ascertained that the demand was not paid for want of funds, then he shall cause the tax collector, or other officer or person who ought to have collected or to have paid the money into the treasury, if they have been grossly negligent therein, to be proceeded against according to law and without delay.

Receipts for money by all officers.

§ 98. The treasurer, for all money received into the treasury, and all other officers of such city, or city and county, receiving money from the treasury for disbursement, shall give receipt for all moneys by them received, which receipt shall be presented to and countersigned by the auditor. The auditor, before countersigning any such receipt, shall number it and make an entry in a book of record to be kept in his office for that purpose, of the number, date, and amount, by whom and in whose favor given, and on what account. No such receipt shall be valid as evidence in favor of the person or officer receiving it till presented to the auditor and countersigned as aforesaid; and any person or officer using or offering to use such receipt as evidence in favor of such person or officer, of the payment specified in it, without being first countersigned as above required, shall forfeit to such city, or city and county, double the amount of money specified in such receipt.

Remedy against auditor and other officers.

§ 99. If any person feel aggrieved by the decision of the auditor, or other proper officer or officers of such city, or city and county, except the board of education, in the rejection of or refusal to approve or allow any demand upon the treasury presented by such person, he may appeal and have the same passed upon by the municipal council, whose decision thereon shall be final; and if the said council shall approve and allow the demand, it shall afterwards be presented to the auditor, and entered in the proper book, in like manner as other demands allowed by him, and an indorsement must be made of its having been so entered before it can be paid; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to bar the party presenting the claim from prosecuting the same in any court of competent jurisdiction; provided, that from the decision of the president of the board of education and superintendent of schools, refusing or not agreeing to allow any demand payable out of the school fund, the appeal shall be taken to the board of education, whose decision shall be final; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to bar the party presenting the claim from prosecuting the same in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Opinion of city attorney.

§ 100. In all cases of such appeals to the municipal council, or the board of education, if, in the opinion of said council or of said board deemed expedient, the opinion of the city, or city and county, attorney shall be required, and obtained in writing, read, and filed; any upon such appeal, and in all other cases upon the approval or allowance of any demand upon the treasury or school fund, the vote shall be taken by "yeas" and "nays," and entered upon the records.

Examination of books of treasurer and other officers.

§ 101. The president of the board of aldermen, in conjunction with the auditor and the chairman of the house of delegates of such city, or city and county, shall, every month, examine the books of the treasurer and other officers of such city, or city and county, having the collection and custody of the public funds, and shall be permitted, and it shall be their duty, to see and count over all the moneys remaining in the hands of such treasurer, or other officer, after having previously ascertained the amount which should be remaining in his hands. The finance committee shall also, twice a year, viz., on the first Monday in July and January, make the same examination of books, count said money, and report the result to the municipal council. If they ascertain clearly that such treasurer, or other officer, is a defaulter, they shall forthwith take possession of all funds, books, and papers belonging to such office, and the president of the board of aldermen shall appoint a person to fill the same until the said defaulting officer can be proceeded against according to law, which shall be done without delay, and until the said officer shall be restored to duty, or office, or until his successor shall be appointed, or elected and qualified. The person so appointed shall give bonds and take the oath of office in the same manner as was required of the officer whose place he is appointed to fill. If the treasurer, or other officer so discharged as defaulter, be acquitted thereof, he shall resume his duties.

One-twelfth law.

§ 102. Neither the municipal council, the board of education, nor any other board, commission, committee, officer, or person, shall have power to authorize, allow, contract for, pay, or render payable, and they are prohibited from authorizing, allowing, contracting, paying, or rendering payable, in present or future, in any one month, any demand or demands, liability or liabilities, against the treasury of such city, city and county, or the funds thereof, which shall, in the aggregate, exceed one-twelfth part of the amount allowed by laws existing at the time of such contract, authorization, allowance, payment or liability, to be expended within the fiscal year of which said month is a part; provided, however, that if, at the beginning of any month, any money remains unexpended in any of the funds set apart for maintaining the municipal government of such city, or city and county, and which might lawfully have been expended the preceding month, such unexpended sum or sums may be carried forward and expended by order of the municipal council, for the same purpose allowed by law in any succeeding month of the fiscal year. All contracts, authorizations, allowances, payments, and liabilities to pay, made or attempted to be made, in violation of this section, shall be absolutely void, and shall never be the foundation or basis of a claim against the treasury of such city, or city and county; and all officers of such city, or city and county, are hereby charged with notice of the condition of the treasury of such city, or city and county, and the extent of the claims against the same.

Duties of certain officers under the one-twelfth law.

§ 103. It is the duty of the superintendent of streets to keep an exact account of all street and sewer work upon accepted streets, and it shall be the duty of the building committee to keep an account of all work done on all public buildings and every other expenditure chargeable against the treasury in any of the departments under charge of said building committee and officers; and it is the duty of the superintendent of schools, the president of the board of education, the president of the board of fire commissioners, the president of the board of election directors, the president of the board of police commissioners, and every other officer and board having the power to contract any demand, or to aid in the contraction of any demand, against said treasury, to keep an exact and full account of all purchases, expenditures, and liabilities made or contracted in their respective departments; and for the purpose of making such accounts, said officers shall have power to demand and receive from every other city, or city and county, officer, detailed statements in writing, when necessary to keep said accounts, and it is hereby made the duty of any and all officers to furnish said statements when demanded; such accounts shall be constantly posted up to date, so that it can be known exactly at any time what part or proportion of the monthly sum allowed by this chapter and existing laws has been contracted for, paid, or rendered liable to pay in the present and future. Such accounts shall show every contract for street and sewer work, public buildings, purchases of material, or supplies, or other expenditure, in whatever department it is made, from its incipency through the various stages of progress to completion, with the amount to be paid for the same so far as the same is capable of exact estimation, and when not, then a sworn estimate by the proper officer of the probable cost. Whenever, at any time, the contracts performed or unperformed, claims due or to become due, exceed said one-twelfth part of the amount that can be lawfully expended out of any fund in the current fiscal year, the president of the board, head of department, or other officer or board having the supervision of such expenditure, shall give notice thereof in writing, as to his or their department, to the auditor and the treasurer, and to the municipal council a notice in writing, served upon the clerks of each branch thereof, and shall post the same in his or their office, from which time no further contracts shall be made or expenditures authorized or allowed, until such time has elapsed as will allow of further proceedings consistent with the provisions of the law.

Penalty for noncompliance with law.

§ 104. Any failure or neglect on the part of any of said officers or boards, or members of boards, to comply with any of the provisions of the preceding sections, shall render such officer, and each member of such board consenting thereto, liable personally and upon his official bond to any contractor or other person suffering damage by said failure or neglect; but such contractor or person damaged shall have no remedy against such city, or city and county, and the said officers or members of boards authorizing or aiding to authorize, auditing, or allowing any claim or demand upon or against said treasury, or any fund thereof, in contravention thereof, shall be liable in person and on his official bond to the contractor or person damaged, to the extent of his loss. The treasurer paying any claim authorized, allowed, or audited in contravention of the provisions thereof shall be liable on his official bond to refund the same to such city, or city and county, and it shall be the duty of the city, or city and county, attorney to sue for the same, if necessary.

Exception to operation of one-twelfth law.

§ 105. In case of any great public calamity or danger, such as earthquakes, conflagrations, pestilence, invasion, insurrection, or other great and unforeseen emergency, the provisions of the three preceding sections may be temporarily suspended, as to any lawful contract, authorization, or expenditure necessary to avert, mitigate, or relieve such evil; provided, that such expenditure, contract, or authorization shall be passed by the unanimous vote of all members elected or appointed to each house of the municipal council, and entered in the journals of each house, and the character and fact of such emergency must be recited in the ordinance authorizing such action; and such ordinance must be approved by the mayor, auditor, and treasurer of such city, or city and county.

Printing and advertising must be let to lowest bidder.

§ 106. All city, or city and county, official printing and advertising, for all departments thereof, excepting that of the sheriff's office, shall be let by the municipal council, during the month of January of each year, to the lowest responsible bidder, printing, publishing, and proposing to advertise in a newspaper of general circulation in such city, or city and county, and that has been in existence at the time of the letting of said contract at least three years; and provided, that any such newspaper may bid for the whole or any part of the advertising. The bids shall be opened by the board of aldermen, and all bidders may be present thereat. No bid shall be considered in which there shall be any erasure or interlineation. All such contracts, when awarded, shall be entered into and bonds taken by the clerk of the board of aldermen, in such sum and containing such conditions as the board of aldermen shall provide.

Contracts, how made.

§ 107. All contracts relating to city, or city and county, affairs shall be in writing, signed and executed in the name of the city, or city and county, by the officer authorized to make the same; and in cases not otherwise directed by the law, such contracts shall be made and entered into by the mayor. All contracts shall be countersigned by the auditor, and registered, by number and dates, in his office, in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. In all cases of letting contracts to bidders, when for any reason a contract fails of completion, new bids shall be invited, opened, and awarded, as provided in this chapter in the first instance, until a sufficient contract is executed. In all cases when the board of aldermen have reason to think the prices too high, or that bidders have combined together to prevent genuine bidding, or for any reason that the public interests will be subserved, it may in its discretion, reject any and all bids, and cause the same to be readvertised. The provisions of this act, as to bids and contracts, shall be enforced by the municipal council by appropriate ordinances as to all bids, proposals, and contracts with such city, or city and county, or any department thereof.

ARTICLE IV.—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Qualifications and duties of mayor.

§ 118. The mayor shall be the chief executive officer; shall be a qualified voter, at least twenty-five years of age, and shall have been a citizen of the United States and of this state, and a resident in such city, or city and county, for three years. It shall be his duty vigilantly to observe the official conduct of all public officers of such city, or city and county, and to take note of the fidelity and exactitude, or the want thereof, with which they execute their duties and obligations, especially in the collection, custody, administration, and disbursement of the public funds and property, for which purpose the books, records, and official papers of all boards, officers, and magistrates of such city, or city and county, shall at all times be open to his inspection. He shall take especial care to see that the books and records of all such officers are kept in legal and proper form; and any official defalcation, or willful neglect of duty, or official misconduct, which he may have discovered, or which shall have been reported to him, shall at the earliest opportunity be laid before the municipal council, and before the grand jury, in order that the public interests shall be protected and the officer in default be proceeded against according to law. He shall, from time to time, give the municipal council information relative to the state of such city, or city and county, and shall recommend to their consideration such measures as he may deem expedient in the interests of the city. He shall take care that the laws of the state and the ordinances of the municipal council are enforced.

Mayor pro tempore.

§ 119. Whenever and so long as the mayor, from any cause, is unable to perform his official duties, the board of aldermen shall designate one of their number as mayor pro tempore, who shall perform the same.

Special sessions of council

§ 120. The mayor may, by due notice, call special sessions of the municipal council, and shall specially state to them, when assembled, the objects for which they have been specially convened, and their actions shall be confined to such objects.

Duties of auditor.

§ 121. The auditor shall be the head of the finance department of such city, or city and county, and as such required to be constantly acquainted with the exact condition of the treasury, and every lawful demand upon it. He shall keep a public office, and give his personal attendance there daily during the office hours fixed in this chapter, and shall not follow or engage in any other occupation or calling while he holds said office. If he absents himself from his office during such office hours, except on indispensable official business or urgent necessity, he shall lose his salary for the day; and it shall be a part of his official duty to keep account of the times and occasions when he shall be so absent from duty. He shall be the general accountant of such city, or city and county, and as such it shall be his duty to receive and preserve in his office all accounts, books, vouchers, documents, and papers relating to the accounts or contracts of such city, or city and county; its debts, revenues, and other fiscal affairs, and to adopt a proper mode and manner of double-entry bookkeeping, and keep the accounts of such city, or city and county, general and special, in a systematic and orderly manner. He shall state and render all accounts filed or kept in his office between the city and other persons or body corporate, except when otherwise provided by law or ordinance. He shall have power to administer oaths, and shall require settlements of accounts to be verified by affidavit whenever he thinks proper. He shall be responsible for all acts of his employees.

Duties of treasurer.

§ 122. The treasurer of such city, or city and county, shall receive and safely keep in a secure fire-proof vault, to be prepared for that purpose, all moneys belonging to or which shall be paid into the treasury, and shall not loan, use, or deposit the same, or any part thereof, to or with any banker or other person, nor pay out any part of said moneys except on demand authorized by this chapter, and after they have been duly audited. He shall keep the key of said vault, and not suffer the same to be opened except in his presence. At the closing up of the same each day he shall take an account and enter in the proper book the exact amount of money on hand, and at the end of every month he shall make and publish a statement of all receipts into and payments from the treasury, and on what account. If he violates any of the provisions of this section he shall be considered a defaulter, and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and be liable to removal, and shall be proceeded against accordingly. If he loan or deposit said moneys, or any part thereof, contrary to the provisions of this section, or apply the same to his own use, or the use of any other person, in any manner whatsoever, or suffer the same to go out of his personal custody, except in payment of audited demands upon the treasury, he shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, on conviction thereof, shall suffer imprisonment in the state prison for a period not less than three months nor more than ten years.

§ 123. The treasurer shall keep the money belonging to each fund separate and distinct, and shall in no case pay demands chargeable against one fund out of moneys belonging to another, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, without an express ordinance of the municipal council, which can only be made during or after the end of the third quarter of the fiscal year, by a vote of two-thirds of each house. The said treasurer shall give his personal attendance at his public office during the office hours fixed by this chapter, and if he be absent himself therefrom, except on account of sickness or urgent necessity during such office hours, he shall lose his salary for the entire day on which he was absent.

Duties of county clerk.

§ 124. The county clerk of such city and county shall take charge of and safely keep, or dispose of according to law, all books, papers, and records which are or may be filed or deposited in his office, and of all the courts of which he is clerk; and he shall not allow any paper, files, or records to leave his custody, except when required by the judges of the courts, to be used by them or any of them.

Original papers not to be produced in court except on subpoena.

§ 125. No judge or officer of any court shall make any order for the delivery by the county clerk of such city and county, of any paper, files, or records in his custody, except bills of exceptions and statements on motion for a new trial; nor shall the courts, or judges thereof, have any power to make orders for the delivery of any certificate of incorporation, bonds, or other papers filed with the said county clerk. Whenever any of said papers are required for evidence in any of the courts within such city and county, the county clerk, or his deputies, shall produce the same under subpoena or order of the court, or furnish certified copies of the same on application, on payment to said clerk for said copy at the rate of ten cents per folio for each hundred words, which shall be paid into the city and county treasury by him.

County clerk not to attend as witness outside of city, unless his expenses are paid.

§ 126. Neither the county clerk nor any of his deputies shall be required to attend as witnesses, in their official capacities, outside of such city and county, except in criminal cases, unless his expenses be paid at the rate of ten cents per mile to and from the place where he may be required, and three dollars a day for each day's attendance. A sufficient number of deputies shall be assigned by him as courtroom clerks to the various courts of which he is the official clerk, while such courts are in session, and to do duty in the office when such courts are not in session. He shall transfer such deputies to duty in court, or at his office, as the exigency of the service may require, so as to efficiently perform the work in the most economical manner possible.

Fee for law library.

§ 127. On the commencement in or removal to the superior court of such city and county of any civil action or proceeding, he shall collect from the plaintiff, or party instituting such proceeding or filing the first papers therein, the sum of one dollar, and pay over the same at the end of each month to the treasurer of the law library provided for in this chapter; and the payment of the sum of one dollar shall be a condition precedent to the commencement of such action or proceeding, for which sum so required to be collected he and his sureties shall be responsible on his official bond.

Tax collector to be charged with moneys, etc., coming into his hands.

§ 128. The tax collector, upon the final settlement to be made by him as such tax collector, according to the requirements of the law, shall be charged with, and shall pay into the hands of the treasurer, the full amount of all taxes paid to him under protest or otherwise, or by him collected and not previously paid over, without any deduction of commissions, fees, or otherwise; he shall also be charged with and be deemed debtor to the treasury for the full amount of all taxes due upon the delinquent list delivered to him for collection, unless it be made to appear that it was out of his power to collect the same by levy and sale of any property liable to be seized and sold therefor. If the impossibility to collect any portion of such delinquent taxes have resulted from such negligence or defects in such assessment caused by the willful misconduct of the assessor, then the assessor whose duty it was to make the assessment shall be liable and be deemed debtor to the treasury for the amount remaining uncollected for that cause.

Election of assessor and his duties.

§ 129. There shall be elected by the qualified voters of such city, or city and county, at the general state election, an assessor, who shall take office on the first Monday after the first day of January next following his election, and hold for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. It shall be his duty to assess all taxable property within such city, or city and county.

Duty of sheriff.

§ 130. The sheriff shall attend in person, or by deputy, all the courts in and for such city and county, except the police courts. He shall obey the lawful orders and directions of such courts, and in all other respects conform to the laws regulating sheriffs in this state.

Duties of recorder.

§ 131. The recorder of such city and county shall have the custody of all books, records, maps, and papers deposited in his office. He, or his chief deputy, when any papers are presented for registration, or to be copied, shall write on the margin of each paper so presented the number of folios paid for, and shall, in his monthly return to the treasurer, certify under oath the number of folios copied or registered by each deputy or copyist appointed by him; and such certificate of the recorder or his chief deputy shall be conclusive evidence to authorize the auditor to audit such certified accounts of such deputies or copyists monthly. He shall appoint as many copyists as he shall deem necessary to the proper discharge of the duties of his office, who shall be paid at the rate of twelve cents per folio of one hundred words for all matters registered or copied by them respectively.

Duties of district attorney.

§ 132. The district attorney is the public prosecutor, and shall be an attorney of the supreme court, and shall attend the superior court of this state, in and for such city and county, and such other courts as may be hereafter established in and for the same, and conduct therein, on behalf of the people, all prosecutions for public offenses. He shall perform such other duties as are prescribed by law.

Duties of city and county attorney.

§ 133. The city, or city and county, attorney shall be an attorney of the supreme court, and shall prosecute and defend all suits and actions at law and in equity, and conduct all legal proceedings, in the courts and elsewhere, necessary to preserve and protect such city's, or city and county's, rights, whether such suits or proceedings be conducted in the name of such city, or city and county, or in the name of others. He shall give legal advice to the city government, and all the officers, boards, and departments thereof, when required so to do, and perform such other duties as such attorney as the municipal council shall from time to time prescribe. He shall keep in his office well-bound books of registry, in which shall be entered and kept a register of all actions, suits, and proceedings in which such city, or city and county, is interested. Each outgoing city, or city and county, attorney shall deliver such books and all other records, law reports, quarterly reports from municipal boards and officers, documents, statutes, papers, furniture, and property, in his possession, to his successor in office, who shall give him duplicate receipts therefor, one to be filed in the office of the auditor and one to be retained by the outgoing city, or city and county, attorney.

Public administrator.

§ 134. The public administrator of such city, or city and county, shall be subject to the orders of the superior court in and for such city, or city and county, and shall perform all the duties prescribed by law.

Duties of coroner.

§ 135. The coroner of such city, or city and county, in addition to the duties imposed by law upon every coroner, shall keep a record of all inquests held by him, with a copy of all testimony and the inquisition of the jurors in full; and in case of loss of the original records, the same shall be admissible in evidence with like effect as the original would have been. He may appoint such deputies, and a messenger or messengers, as are allowed in this act, or as may be hereafter allowed by the municipal council of such city, or city and county. He shall receive no fees for any services rendered by him.

Duties of superintendent of streets.

§ 136. The superintendent of streets shall keep a public office, in some convenient place, to be designated by the municipal council. His office shall be kept open as in this chapter provided. He shall not, during his continuance in office, follow any other profession or calling, but shall be required to devote himself exclusively to the duties of his said office. He shall have under his special charge the construction, reconstruction, repairing, and cleansing of all public sewers, man-holes, sinks, drains, cess-pools, and of the public streets, highways, alleys, places, and squares, excepting the parks. It shall be his duty to see that the laws, orders, and regulations relative to the public streets and highways, alleys, places, and squares are carried into execution, and that the penalties therefor are rigidly enforced, as may be prescribed by the municipal council. He shall keep himself informed of the condition of all public streets, highways, alleys, places, and squares; and should he fail to see that the laws, ordinances, and regulations relating to the public streets, highways, alleys, places, and squares are carried into execution, after notice from any citizen of a violation thereof, such superintendent and his sureties shall be liable upon his official bond to any person injured in person or property by such official neglect.

Duties of surveyor.

§ 137. The city, or city and county, surveyor shall be engineer-in-chief of such city, or city and county, and of the sewerage system; shall make all necessary plans, surveys, maps, and drawings, and other necessary things, and keep the same in his office; and all such maps, plans, machinery, and drawings shall be the property of such city, or city and county, and remain in the office, and be transferred by the outgoing to the incoming officer. He shall do all necessary surveying and engineering for the streets, alleys, highways, and squares, at the request of the municipal council, or of any committee appointed by either branch of the same, and all or any other surveying and engineer[ing] work that such city, or city and county, may require, and of the public parks, at the request of the park commissioners.

Appointment of collector of licenses and his duties.

§ 138. Within twenty days after their first meeting, the municipal council of such city, or city and county shall appoint a suitable person as collector of licenses of such city, or city and county, who shall hold office for two years from and after his appointment, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. In case of a vacancy occurring by death or otherwise in the office of the collector of licenses of such city, or city and county, holding his office under the provisions of this chapter, the same shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by appointment of the board of aldermen; and in case of the inability of said collector of licenses to act, his place shall, in the same manner, be temporarily filled until such disability is removed. The collector of licenses and his deputies are hereby authorized, empowered, and required to collect all the municipal licenses now required to be collected, or which shall hereafter be required to be collected by them, or either of them; and it shall be the duty of said collector of licenses, and his deputies, or assistant collectors, to attend to the collection of licenses, and examine all places of business and persons liable to pay licenses, and to see that licenses are taken out and paid for. They shall each have and exercise, in the performance of their official duties, the same powers as police officers in serving process or summons, and in making arrests; also shall each have and exercise the power to administer such oaths and affirmations as shall be necessary in the discharge and exercise of their official duties; and they, and each of them, are hereby empowered to enter any place of business for which a license by law is provided and required, free of charge, at their pleasure, and to demand the exhibition of any license for the current time from any person, or firm, or corporation engaged or employed in the transaction of any business for which a license is by law rendered necessary; and if such person, or firm, or corporation, or either of them, shall be unable, or refuse, or neglect, or fail, to then and there exhibit such license, he, she, or they, as the case may be, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished accordingly.

License moneys.

§ 139. The collector of licenses shall daily pay to the treasurer of such city, or city and county, all moneys so collected for licenses sold, or by him received as fees; and shall, under oath, at least once in each calendar month, and oftener when required so to do by the auditor, make to the auditor a report of all such licenses sold and on hand, and of all amounts so paid to the city, or city and county, treasurer; shall at such time exhibit to the auditor all unsold licenses in his hands, and the treasurer's receipts for all moneys paid into the treasury; and all licenses so signed by the license collector, or deputy license collector, or either of them, shall be as valid as if signed by the city, or city and county, treasurer. All fees so paid to him shall be placed to the credit of the proper fund by the treasurer.

Department of police.

§ 140. The department of police of such city, or city and county, shall consist of:

Police commissioners, how appointed.

First—A board of police commissioners of such city, or city and county, consisting of five members, each of whom shall be a qualified voter, at least thirty years of age, and shall have been a citizen of the United States and of this state, and a resident of such city, or city and county, for five years next preceding his appointment, four of whom shall be appointed by the governor and chief justice of the supreme court of the state of California, within thirty days after the organization of such city, or city and county, under this act, and who shall hold office for the term of four years from and after the first Monday next succeeding the date of their appointment, and until their successors are appointed and qualified; and in the month next preceding the expiration of the said term, and every four years thereafter, the said governor and chief justice of the supreme court shall appoint their successors, who shall hold office for the term of four years from and after the first Monday next succeeding the date of their appointment; but in making such appointments, the said governor and chief justice shall elect two qualified persons from each of the two dominant national political parties. Vacancies that may occur in the office of any of the members so appointed shall be filled by appointment by said governor and chief justice, of some suitable person of the same political party as that to which the last incumbent belonged, and for the remainder of the vacant term only. The four members appointed, as hereinbefore provided, shall meet in such city, or city and county, on the first Monday next succeeding the date of their appointment, and shall forthwith organize by electing one of their number president, and shall appoint the other member of said board, who shall be the chief of police of such city, or city and county. Every member of said board shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of California; that I will faithfully discharge the duties of police commissioner according to the best of my ability; and that in the discharge of my duties I will make no appointment to, or removal from the police force for political or partisan reasons; and that I will, to the best of my ability, discharge the duties of said office impartially and uninfluenced by political considerations, or any consideration other than that of the public good." Every member of said board who shall absent himself from such city, or city and county, for the continuous period of sixty days, shall, by force thereof, cease to be a police commissioner, and his office shall become vacant. No member of said board shall be eligible to any other office during his incumbency of the office of police commissioner. No member of said board shall, during his term of office, be a member of any convention, the purpose of which is to nominate candidates for office, nor act as a judge, inspector, clerk, or officer of any election, or primary election, or take part in any election except to deposit his vote; nor shall any member of said board, directly or indirectly, influence, or attempt to influence or control, the political action of any member of the police force of such city, or city and county, or any employee of said department; nor shall any member of said board collect, or suffer to be collected, from any member or employee of said department, any assessment or contribution for political purposes. A violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be a misdemeanor and shall be cause for the immediate removal from office of the person guilty of such violation. The said board shall hold sessions at least once a month in the office of chief of police, or in such other convenient place as the municipal council of such city, or city and county, shall designate, or, in case of emergency, at such place as it shall select, and the clerk of the chief of police, hereinafter provided for, shall act as clerk of said board. Every member of said board, and the clerk of said board, shall have power to administer oaths in all matters pertinent to the business of their respective offices, and in all investigations pending before said board, or any member thereof. The said board shall keep a record of its proceedings. The said board shall have power:

Powers of board.

1. To appoint, suspend, or remove any person from the police force of such city, or city and county; provided, however, that the chief of police shall only be removable in the manner provided by law for the removal of other municipal officers.

Prescribe rules.

2. To prescribe all needful rules and regulations for the control, government, and discipline of said police force, and from time to time to alter or repeal the same, and prescribe penalties for the violation of any of them.

Determine complaints.

3. To hear and summarily determine all complaints of misconduct, inefficiency, or other charge against any member of said police force, and to take such action thereon as shall be conducive to the maintenance of the discipline and efficiency of the same.

Grant permits.

4. To grant permits to all persons desiring to engage in the retail liquor business in such city, or city and county, and to revoke any such permit whenever it shall be made to appear to said board that the retail liquor business of the person to whom such permit was given is conducted in a disorderly or improper manner, or whenever it shall be made to appear that the person to whom such permit was granted has, after the grant of such permit, been convicted in the police or other court of such city, or city and county, of disorderly or improper conduct, or of the commission of any criminal offense upon the premises whereon such retail liquor business is conducted; provided, however, that whenever said board refuses to grant such permit, or proposes to revoke such permit, the person who is refused such permit or whose permit is proposed to be revoked, shall be entitled to be heard before said board in person or through counsel, and to have free of charge all reasonable facilities for the full, fair, and impartial hearing on the merits of his application or opposition. In such permit shall be distinctly stated and described the name of the person to whom the same is given, and the premises on which such retail business is proposed to be carried on.

Appoint special officers.

5. Upon the petition of any person, firm, or corporation, to appoint a special officer to do special service to be paid for by such person, firm, or corporation, specifying the boundary or locality at or within which he is to act as such special officer, which boundary or locality shall be described in his warrant of appointment; provided, that no special officer shall be appointed to act in any part of such city, or city and county, commonly known as the Chinese quarter; and provided further, that all special officers shall report daily to the chief of police, and be subject to his orders in case of emergency; and in no event shall such officers be paid by such city, or city and county.

Badge.

6. To prescribe the badge of office and uniform to be worn by all members of the police force, and the badge of office to be worn by all special officers.

Contingent expenses.

7. To allow and order paid out of the police contingent fund, for contingent expenses, any and all orders signed by the chief of police; provided, that the aggregate of such orders shall not exceed the sum of seven thousand two hundred dollars a year, which sum shall be set apart annually in the treasury of said city and county for this purpose.

Appoint substitutes.

8. To appoint substitutes, not to exceed four per cent of the police force, to serve under such regulations, and subject to such restrictions, as it may prescribe, and without pay from such city, or city and county.

Issue subpoenas, etc.

9. To issue subpoenas, tested in the name of its president, and to enforce obedience thereto, and punish disobedience thereof, in the same manner and to the like extent as the justices' court of such city, or city and county; and to exercise the same powers as the said justices' court in preserving decorum in all open sessions of said board, and to punish any contempt committed thereat.

Designate prisons.

10. To designate the prisons to be used for the reception of all persons arrested, convicted, or sentenced for public offenses in cases not provided for by law or by ordinance; to establish stations and station-houses, or substations and substation-houses, at its discretion, for the accommodation thereof of members of the police force, and as places of temporary detention for persons arrested.

Discretionary powers.

11. In its discretion, on conviction of a member of the force of any legal offense or neglect of duty, or violation of the rules of the board, or neglect of or disobedience of orders, or incapacity, or absence without leave, or any conduct injurious to the public peace or welfare, or other breach of discipline, or immoral conduct, or any conduct unbecoming an officer, to punish the offending party by reprimand, forfeiting and withholding pay for a special time, suspension, or dismissal from the force; all such fines shall be immediately paid into the treasury to the credit of the police life and health insurance fund.

Warrant of appointment.

12. To issue to every member of the police force a proper warrant of appointment, signed by the president and countersigned by the clerk of the board, which warrant shall contain the date of his appointment and his rank.

Supplies.

13. To make requisition on the municipal council of such city, or city and county, for all supplies or necessities that may be required in the administration of the department; provided, that the aggregate amount of the same, exclusive of salaries, shall not, in any one fiscal year, exceed the sum of five thousand dollars.

Report, when made.

14. To annually, on or before the first day of August, report to the municipal council an estimate of the amount of money that will be required to pay all salaries of the department, and of the amount of money that will be required for the administration and support of the department in such year, specifying in detail the purposes and items for which the same will be required, with the estimated cost thereof, respectively.

Sale of property.

15. To provide for the custody, care, restitution, sale, time, place, and manner of sale of all property that may come into the possession of the property clerk hereinafter provided for.

Control police life insurance fund.

16. To control, care for, and manage the police life and health insurance fund, hereinafter mentioned, which fund shall consist of the moneys retained from the monthly salaries of the members of the police force, fines collected from members of said force, and of such other moneys as may be contributed thereto by law, or ordinance, or by gift, devise, or bequest, and of all moneys to the credit of said fund at the time said board shall take office, and to invest the moneys of said fund in such of the following securities as shall seem most safe and profitable, viz.: the bonds of such city, or city and county, the bonds of the state of California, and the bonds of the United States of America. The moneys and securities shall be held by the treasurer of such city, or city and county, who shall have no power to deposit, pledge, or in any other way part with the same, except on the order of said board.

Payment to heirs out of fund.

17. To order paid, upon the death of any member of the police force, out of the police life and health insurance fund, to the heirs of such member, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Repayment to infirm officers.

18. To order paid, out of the police life and health insurance fund, to any police officer who shall resign by reason of bad health or bodily infirmity, the amount of the principal sum which such officer shall have contributed thereto.

Repayment to incompetent officers.

19. To order paid, out of the police life and health insurance fund, to any officer dismissed for mere incompetency, not coupled with any offense against the laws of this state, an amount not exceeding one-half of the principal which such officer may have contributed thereto; provided, that any officer dismissed for gross neglect or violation of duty, or upon conviction of any misdemeanor or felony, shall forfeit all claim upon said fund.

Registration of demands.

20. In case said police life and health insurance fund shall not be sufficient to pay the demands on it, to cause such demands to be registered, and to be paid in their order out of the fund as received.

Repayment of excess to certain officers.

21. When the police life and health insurance fund shall exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars, to allow and order paid out of the same, to any officer who shall have been permanently disabled while in the discharge of his duty as such officer, such sum as in their judgment they shall deem proper, not to exceed one thousand dollars; but in no case shall said fund be reduced thereby below the sum of fifty thousand dollars. The president of said board shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum. The other members of said board shall each receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, at the end of each and every month.

Chief of police, his powers and duties.

Second. A chief of police, appointed as hereinbefore provided, who shall have power to select and designate one police officer to serve as clerk to the chief of police; one police officer to serve as property clerk, who, before entering upon his duties, shall give bond, with good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to such city, or city and county, to be approved as in cases of other official bonds, which bond shall be filed with the auditor of such city, or city and county; twelve detective officers, and thirty sergeants of police. He shall have the sole and exclusive control, direction, and superintendence of the city prisons of such city, or city and county, and may detail to duty therein such number of officers as the exigencies shall require. In the suppression of any riot, public tumult, disturbances of the public peace, or organized resistance against the laws, or public authorities, in the lawful exercise of their functions, he shall have all the powers that now are or may be conferred upon sheriffs by the laws of this state; and his lawful orders shall be promptly executed by all police officers, and every citizen shall also lend him aid, when required, for the arrest of offenders and the maintenance of public order. In case of great public emergency or danger, he may appoint an additional number of policemen of approved character for honesty and sobriety, who shall have the same powers as other police officers, but who shall act without pay. In case of imminent danger of riot, or actual riot, or organized resistance to the laws, he shall have power, and it shall be his duty, if in his opinion, the organized police force be insufficient in number or unequal in strength to preserve the peace and maintain public order, to make his requisition on the governor, or in case of urgency on the nearest military commander in the national guard of California, for such military force as may be necessary for the occasion; and such military force shall be placed under his command until the restoration of order and tranquillity, or until the governor declares such city, or city and county, in a state of insurrection, as provided by law. He shall keep a public office, which shall be open, and at which he, or in case of his necessary absence, a captain of police or sergeant of police by him designated for that purpose, who shall have, during such absence, the same powers as are conferred by law upon the chief of police, shall be in attendance at all hours of the day and night. In case of his absence from his office, it shall be made known to the captain or sergeant of police in attendance where he can be found if needed. He shall designate one or more police officers to attend constantly upon the police court to carry on the business, and to execute the orders and process of said court. He shall command, supervise, and direct the police force; and shall observe, and cause to be observed and enforced, the laws and ordinances within such city, or city and county. He shall see that all lawful orders and process of the police court are promptly executed; and shall exercise such other powers connected with his office as may be prescribed by law, or by the rules and regulations adopted by the board of police commissioners. He shall acquaint himself with all the statutes and laws in force in this state defining public offenses and nuisances and regulating the criminal proceedings; and shall procure and keep in his office the statutes of this state and of the United States, and all elementary works on those subjects. He shall give information and advice touching said laws gratuitously to all police officers asking for it. He shall have power from time to time to dispose of such sum or sums for incidental expenses as in his judgment shall be for the best interest of such city, or city and county; provided, that the aggregate of all such sums shall not, in any one fiscal year, exceed the sum of seven thousand two hundred dollars; but all sums so disbursed or paid shall be subject to the approval of the said board. He may, for good cause, grant leave of absence for not more than thirty days to any member of the police force; but officers absent from the city within or without the state on official business shall not be deemed to be absentees. As chief of police, he shall hold office for the term of four years from his appointment, and shall receive a salary of four thousand dollars per annum, payable monthly, at the end of each and every month.

Captains of police, how appointed.

Third. Six captains of police, who shall be appointed by the board of police commissioners from the members of the police force, who shall be assigned to such duty, and who shall be subject to such rules and regulations, as the chief of police shall prescribe. They shall receive a salary of two hundred dollars per month each, payable monthly at the end of each and every month.

Police officers, their qualifications, powers, and duties.

Fourth. As many police officers, not exceeding five hundred, as the board of police commissioners may determine to be necessary, to be appointed by said board; but it shall be the duty of said board, on its first organization, to appoint as members of the police force the members of the police force, if any, then in service, unless such members be incompetent or incapable to serve. Every person applying for appointment to said police force, unless he be a member of the police force then existing in such city, or city and county, shall produce and file with the said board a certificate, signed by not less than twelve freeholders and qualified voters of the smallest political subdivision of such city, or city and county, stating that they have been personally and well acquainted with the applicant for one year or more next preceding the application, and that the applicant is of good repute for honesty and sobriety, and they believe him to be, in all respects, competent and fit for the office. All such certificates shall be preserved in the office of said board, and shall not be returned to the applicant. Every appointee to said police force must be a citizen of the United States and of this state, able to read and write the English language, and a resident of such city, or city and county, at least five years previous to his appointment, except such member of said police force as may be in service at the time of the organization of said board; every appointee shall not be less than twenty-five nor more than forty years of age, and not less than five feet and seven inches in height, and shall, after his nomination, and before his appointment, pass a thorough examination by the surgeon of police, or by any physician appointed by said board, and be found on such examination to be sound in health, and to possess the physical qualifications required for recruits for the United States army. The police officers, in subjection to the rules and regulations of the said board, to the orders of the respective captains, and under the general direction of the chief of police, shall be prompt and vigilant in the detection of crime, the arrest of public offenders, the suppression of all riots, frays, duels, and disturbances of the public peace, the execution of process from the police court in causing the abatement of public nuisances, and the enforcement of the laws and regulations of the police. They shall, as soon as practicable, upon an arrest, under penalty of dismissal from the force, or of a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or of both, at the discretion of the board, convey in person the offender before the nearest sitting magistrate. If the arrest is made during the hours that the magistrate does not regularly hold court, or if the magistrate is not holding court, such offender may be detained in a station-house until the next public sitting of the magistrate, and no longer, unless discharged on bail, according to law. No member of the police force shall be eligible to any other office while a member of such force, nor shall he take any part whatever in any convention held for the purposes of a political party; nor shall he be a member of any political club; nor shall he be allowed to interfere with politics on the day of election, or at any time while employed on said force, except to cast his vote. No member of said police force while on duty shall enter into any liquor-saloon, bar-room, or place where liquors are retailed, except when necessary in the discharge of his duties, on penalty of reprimand, fine, suspension, or removal from office. No member of the police force shall devote his time to any other profession or calling, become bail for any person charged with any offense whatever, solicit counsel or attorneys for prisoners, receive any present or reward for official services rendered, or to be rendered, unless with the knowledge and approbation of a majority of said board; such approbation to be given in writing and certified by the clerk of said board. Police officers who shall be selected to act as sergeants of police, and police officers who shall be selected to act as detective police officers, shall each receive a salary of one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month, payable monthly, at the end of each and every month. The police officer who shall be selected to act as clerk to the chief of police, and the police officer who shall be selected to act as property clerk, shall each receive a salary of one hundred and fifty dollars per month, payable monthly, at the end of each and every month. All other police officers shall each receive a salary of one hundred and two dollars per month, payable monthly, at the end of each and every month; provided, that the treasurer of such city, or city and county, is hereby authorized to deduct and retain from the salary of each member of said police force two dollars from every month's salary, to be paid into the fund of the police life and health insurance fund herein mentioned.

Surgeon of police, and his duties.

Fifth. A surgeon of police, whose duty it shall be to attend to all cases of accident or sickness at the several police stations, to attend all officers who may be taken sick or injured in the discharge of their duty, to examine all applicants for appointment on the police force, and to perform such other duties as the board of police commissioners may from time to time prescribe. He shall be appointed by the said board, and shall hold office during its pleasure, but he shall not be removed without just cause. He shall receive a salary of two hundred dollars per month, payable monthly, at the end of each and every month.

Fire commissioners, how appointed and term of office.

§ 141. There shall be a board of fire commissioners of such city, or city and county, consisting of five persons, possessing the same qualifications of eligibility as are herein prescribed for the members of the board of aldermen, who shall be appointed by the mayor, with the advice of the board of aldermen, and shall hold office for the term of four years from and after the time of their appointment, and no more than three of whom shall belong to the same national political party; provided, that the fire commissioners now acting as such in such city, or city and county, shall continue to hold their respective office[s] until the expiration of the term for which they may have been respectively elected or appointed.

Powers and duties of fire commissioners.

§ 142. The said board of fire commissioners shall supervise and control said fire department, its officers, members, and employees, subject to the laws governing the same, and shall see that the officers, members, and employees thereof faithfully discharge their duties, and that the laws, orders, and regulations relating thereto are carried into operation and effect. They shall not, nor shall either of them, or the chief engineer, or assistant chief engineer, or assistant engineers, of said fire department, be interested in any contracts pertaining in any manner to said fire department, or the sale, furnishing of apparatus, or supplies for the same; and all contracts in violation of this section are declared void, and any of said persons violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be punished accordingly. The municipal council of such city, or city and county, shall have power to contract and provide for all cisterns, hydrants, apparatus, horses, supplies, engine, hose and hook-and-ladder houses, and all alterations and repairs required; and said board of fire commissioners shall supervise all contracts awarded, and work done for the said fire department, and shall see that all contracts awarded and work done are faithfully performed. The said board of fire commissioners shall have power to prescribe the duties of the officers, members, and employees of said fire department, and to adopt rules and regulations for the management and discipline thereof; and a majority of them shall certify to the correctness of all claims and demands before the same shall be paid. And the municipal council is authorized and required to provide and furnish for the use of the board of fire commissioners a suitable room or rooms in some of the buildings of such city, or city and county, to serve as an office for their meetings and the transaction of business relating to said fire department, in which their clerk, janitor, and messenger shall be in attendance daily during office hours. The chief engineer, assistant chief engineer, and assistant engineer[s] of said department shall also make it their headquarters daily during office hours, when not otherwise engaged in official duties. And the said municipal council shall furnish the chief engineer, and also the assistant chief engineer and assistant engineers hereinafter mentioned, with a horse and buggy, and shall provide for keeping the same.

Officers of fire department.

- § 143. The officers of the fire department of such city, or city and county, shall be:
1. Five fire commissioners, to be appointed as aforesaid;
 2. One chief engineer;
 3. One assistant chief engineer;
 4. Four assistant engineers;
 5. One superintendent of steam fire-engines.

Members and employees of fire department.

- § 144. The members and employees of said fire department shall be:
1. One assistant superintendent of steam fire-engines;
 2. One clerk and storekeeper for the corporation yard;
 3. One corporation yard drayman;
 4. One night watchman of corporation yard;
 5. Two hydrantmen;

6. One veterinary surgeon;
7. One foreman of each company;
8. One engineer for each steam fire-engine;
9. One substitute engineer and machinist;
10. One driver for each company;
11. One fireman for each steam engine company;
12. One carpenter;
13. One tillerman for each hook-and-ladder company;
14. One steward for each hose company;
15. One janitor and messenger;
16. One clerk.

Paid members of department to give entire time to duties.

§ 145. All paid members of said fire department, except the veterinary surgeon, foreman, assistant foreman, company clerks, hosemen, hook-and-ladder men, and stewards of volunteer companies shall give their undivided attention to their respective duties, but the foreman, assistant foreman, company clerks, hosemen, and hook-and-ladder men, and stewards of volunteer companies, shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by said board of fire commissioners and ordered to be executed by the chief engineer.

Certain officers, how appointed.

§ 146. The chief engineer, the assistant chief engineer, the superintendent of steam fire-engines, the assistant engineers, the clerk, and all members and employees of the fire department, shall be appointed by the fire commissioners, and retain their positions during good behavior; and it shall be the duty of such fire commissioners, on their first organization under this act, to appoint as members thereof the officers and members of any fire department which shall be in service in any such city, or city and county, at the time of its organization under this act. No officer, member, or employee of said fire department shall be removed for political reasons.

Fire department to consist of what.

§ 147. The fire department of such city, or city and county, shall consist of such engine, hook-and-ladder, and hose companies as shall be recommended by the board of fire commissioners, and determined by the municipal council necessary to afford protection against fire; provided, that as an auxiliary thereto patent fire-extinguishers may also be purchased and employed; if, in the judgment of said board, deemed advisable; provided, that no hand-engine shall be purchased for the use of said department, but such as shall be in possession of such city, or city and county, prior to its organization under this act, may be used in such localities and under such regulations as the board of fire commissioners may prescribe. The companies of said department shall be organized as follows: Each steam fire-engine company shall consist of (1) one foreman, one (1) engineer, one (1) driver, one (1) fireman, and eight (8) hosemen; one (1) of whom shall act as assistant foreman, and one (1) as clerk. Each hook-and-ladder company shall consist of one (1) foreman, one (1) driver, one (1) tillerman, and twelve (12) hook-and-ladder men; one (1) of whom shall act as assistant foreman, and one (1) as clerk. Each hose company shall consist of one (1) foreman, one (1) driver, and one (1) steward, and six (6) hosemen; one (1) of whom shall act as assistant foreman, and one (1) as clerk.

Duties of chief engineer.

§ 148. The chief engineer shall be the executive officer of said fire department, and it shall be his duty (and that of the assistant chief engineer and assistant engineers) to see that the laws, orders, rules, and regulations concerning the same are carried into effect, and also to attend to such duties as fire wardens as may be required, and to see that all laws, orders, and regulations established in such city, or city and county, to secure protection against fire, are enforced. It shall also be the duty of the chief engineer to enforce the rules and regulations made from time to time to secure discipline in said fire department, and he shall have power to suspend any subordinate officer, member, or employee for a violation of the same, and shall forthwith report in writing, with his reasons therefor, to the board of fire commissioners for their action. He shall diligently observe the condition of the apparatus and workings of said department, and shall report in writing, at least once in each week, to said board of fire commissioners, upon the same, and make such recommendations and suggestions respecting it, and for securing its greater efficiency, as he may deem proper; and in the absence or inability of the chief engineer to act, the assistant chief engineer shall assume the duties of said office of chief engineer.

Clerk of board, his bond and duties.

§ 149. The person elected as clerk by said board of fire commissioners shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, execute a bond, with two or more sureties, in the penal sum of twelve thousand ($12,000) dollars, for the faithful discharge of his duties, which bond shall be approved by said board of fire commissioners, and the mayor of such city, or city and county, and when so approved shall be filed in the office of the auditor. The amount of said bond may be increased from time to time, when directed by the board of fire commissioners, should it deem it necessary for the public good; said clerk shall attend daily, during office hours, at the office of the board of fire commissioners (which shall be the office of the chief engineer, assistant chief engineer, and assistant engineers); shall perform the duties of clerk to said board and chief engineer, and shall perform such other duties from time to time as said board may prescribe. The clerk and storekeeper for the corporation yard shall, before entering upon his duties, furnish a bond in the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, to be approved in the same manner as the bond provided for in this section, to be given by the clerk of said board of fire commissioners, and filed with the auditor.

Property of department, how sold.

§ 150. The mayor of such city, or city and county, upon the recommendation of the board of fire commissioners, with the approval of the municipal council, is authorized to sell at private or public sale from time to time any or all of the engines, hose-carriages, engine-houses, lots on which such houses stand, or parts of lots (or to exchange any of said lots, when in their judgment demanded by the public good), or other property which shall not be required for the use of the department, and to execute, acknowledge, and deliver good and sufficient deeds or bills of sale for the same, paying the proceeds of such sales into the county treasury, to the credit of the proper fund.

Appropriation for purchase of horses, supplies, etc.

§ 151. The municipal council of such city, or city and county, is hereby authorized and required to appropriate, allow, and order paid annually out of the general fund of such city, or city and county, the salaries hereinafter specified and allowed, and salaries at similar rates to the several officers and men of any additional companies created as aforesaid, and the municipal council is required to appropriate, allow, and order paid, out of the general fund, a sum not to exceed eighty thousand ($80,000) dollars annually for running expenses, horse-feed, repairs to apparatus, and for the construction and erection of cisterns and hydrants, and for the erection and repair of buildings, and other expenses of the fire department. To appropriate a sum not to exceed thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars for the purchase of horses and apparatus for the fire department.

Allowance to disabled member.

§ 152. Whenever a member of the paid fire department of such city, or city and county, shall become disabled by reason of injuries received at any fire, so as to be unable to perform his duties, the municipal council, upon the recommendation of the board of fire commissioners, is hereby authorized and empowered to allow said disabled man a sum not exceeding fifty ($50) dollars per month for not to exceed three (3) months, payable out of the general fund of such city, or city and county, in the same manner and form as other payments are made out of said fund.

“Fireman’s charitable fund.”

§ 153. The municipal council shall provide, by ordinance, for the payment into a “Fireman’s Charitable Fund” of such city, or city and county, of all moneys received for licenses for the storage, manufacture, or sale of gunpowder, blasting-powder, gun-cotton, fireworks, nitro-glycerine, dualine, or any explosive oils or compounds, or as a municipal tax upon the same; also all fines collected in the police court, for violations of fire ordinances. Said fund shall be under the direction and control of and subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the board of fire commissioners.

Assistant foreman and clerk.

§ 154. The chief engineer shall have power to appoint one member of each company to act as assistant foreman; also, one member to act as clerk; said clerk to receive five ($5) dollars per month extra pay.

Organization of board and time of meeting.

§ 155. The fire commissioners shall organize said board immediately upon their appointment, and on the first Monday after the first day of January of each and every year thereafter, by selecting one of their number as president and they shall meet at least once in each month publicly at their office to transact the business of said fire department; and, in addition to the stated meetings, they shall meet twice in each month for the purpose of investigating charges against officers, members, and employees of said department for violating any of the rules and regulations thereof; and shall hold such intermediate sessions as they shall deem necessary to the proper administration of the fire department. No person shall be eligible to any position in said department who is not a citizen of the United States, or a resident of such city, or city and county, at least two years, nor under twenty-one (21) years of age at the time of his appointment.

Investigations, how conducted.

§ 156. In all investigations for violation of the rules and regulations of the fire department, the president of the board of fire commissioners shall have power to issue subpoenas, and administer oaths, and compel the attendance of witnesses before him by attachment or otherwise. All subpoenas issued by him shall be in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be served by any police officer or by any peace officer of such city, or city and county. Any person who refuses to attend or testify in obedience to such subpoenas shall be deemed guilty of contempt, and be punished by him as in cases of contempt in justices’ court in civil cases.

Members, how dismissed.

§ 157. No officer, member, or employee of the fire department shall be dismissed unless for cause, nor until after a trial. The accused shall be furnished with a written copy of the charges against him at least five (5) days previous to the day of trial, and he shall have an opportunity to examine witnesses in his behalf, and all witnesses shall be examined under oath, and all trials shall be public.

Workshop at corporation yard.

§ 158. The municipal council of such city and county is hereby authorized and empowered to establish and maintain at the corporation yard a workshop for making repairs and improvements upon the apparatus of the fire department, and such workshop and such repairs and improvements to be under the supervision of the board of fire commissioners, and the municipal council shall allow and order paid, out of the proper fund, all the expenses of such workshops, repairs, and improvements.

Restrictions on members.

§ 159. No member of said board of fire commissioners shall, during his term of office, be a member of any party convention, the purpose of which is to nominate candidates for political office, nor shall the officers, members, or employees of said fire department take any part whatever in any partisan convention, held for the purposes of a political party; nor shall any member of the said board of fire commissioners, directly or indirectly, attempt to control or influence the action of any member of said fire department, or any employee thereof, in any primary or general election. No member of the fire department shall levy, collect, or pay any amount of money as an assessment or contribution for political purposes. Any violation of the foregoing provisions of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

5. The salary of each of the two assistant repairers herein provided for shall be one thousand and eighty dollars per annum;
6. The salary of the batteryman shall be nine hundred dollars per annum.

Appropriation.

§ 164. The municipal council shall appropriate such sum as may be necessary, not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars per annum, for the maintenance, repair, and extension of said telegraph, and to defray the cost of instruments and machinery therefor, and for such horses and vehicles as may be necessary for the use of said superintendent.

Board of health, how constituted.

§ 165. There shall be a board of health for such city, or city and county, which board shall consist of the mayor of the city and county, and five physicians in good standing, residing in such city, or city and county, who shall be appointed by the governor, and who shall hold office for the term of four years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified; and in case any vacancy shall at any time occur in said board by removal, or resignation, or otherwise, the same shall be filled by appointment by the governor.

Meetings.

§ 166. The mayor of such city, or city and county, shall be ex-officio president of the board of health, and in his absence, at any meeting, the board may elect a chairman, who shall, for the time, be clothed with all the power of the president. Said board shall hold a regular meeting at least once in each month, and at other times, when called thereto by the president, or by a majority of the board.

Jurisdiction of board of health.

§ 167. Said board of health is hereby invested with general jurisdiction over all matters appertaining to the sanitary condition of such city, or city and county, and over all quarantine regulations and the enforcement thereof, and hospitals and almshouses, and all municipal institutions created and maintained for charitable purposes and not herein enumerated, within the corporate limits of such city, or city and county, and adopt such orders and regulations as may be necessary to the complete exercise of the powers hereinbefore enumerated, and may appoint or discharge such attendants and employees as may seem best to promote the public welfare.

Salary.

§ 168. The members of said board of health shall receive no salary.

Salaries of officers appointed by board of health.

§ 169. Said board of health shall have power to appoint the following officers and employees, who shall receive the salaries hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments at the end of each month, viz.:

1. One health officer, who shall be executive officer of said board, at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum;
2. One quarantine officer, at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum;
3. One secretary, at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum;
4. Six health inspectors and one market inspector, at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum each; one messenger at nine hundred dollars per annum;
5. One superintendent of the city, or city and county, hospital, who shall be a physician and graduate of some medical college in good standing, at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum;

24. Sixteen nurses, at a salary of thirty-five dollars each.

Appointing power.

§ 170. The appointing power of all and every of the aforesaid officers and employees is vested solely in said board of health, and said board shall have power to prescribe the duties of every and all of said officers and employees, and to remove the same at pleasure; and said board of health is hereby empowered to employ such additional employees as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, at such compensations as said board of health may fix.

Salaries, how paid.

§ 171. The salaries of the officers and employees of said board of health, and all other expenses legally incurred by said board under the provisions of this charter, shall be payable out of the general fund of the treasury of such city, or city and county; and the auditor of such city, or city and county, is hereby directed to audit all such demands, and the treasurer of such city, or city and county, is hereby directed to pay the same out of said general fund. The said board of health shall, annually, upon the third Monday of April of each year, transmit, in writing, to the municipal council of such city, or city and county, an estimate of the amount of money necessary to defray all of the expenditures of said board of health for the next fiscal year; and the board of health shall not expend, in any one fiscal year, an amount exceeding the amount of such estimate so transmitted by said board of health for such fiscal year, allowed upon such estimate by the municipal council, except in case of an epidemic of any contagious disease, when such board of health is hereby authorized to increase such expense as may be deemed necessary for the public safety; and all such expenses shall be payable out of the general fund of such city, or city and county, at the same time and in the same manner provided for other expenses of said board. Nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize said board of health to contract for or purchase supplies for any of the charitable institutions placed under its control by this chapter. All contracts for any of the work authorized by this charter to be caused to be performed by said board of health shall be awarded by said board to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice, for not less than five days, in two daily newspapers published in such city, or city and county, under such regulations and requirements as said board of health may adopt.

Restriction on officers.

§ 172. It shall not be lawful for any superintendent, or other principal officer in charge of any almshouse in such city, or city and county, to have or receive any perquisites, or to derive any income or revenue therefrom, either directly or indirectly, other than the salary allowed to him by the board of health; nor shall it be allowable for any subordinate officer or employee to have or receive any perquisites, either directly or indirectly; and it shall be the duty of the board of health to remove any such superintendent, or other principal officer, or any subordinate officer or employee who violates any provision of this section. All fees authorized by any of the provisions of this chapter, to be collected by any officer or employee of the board of health, shall be immediately paid by such officer or employee to the secretary of said board of health, who shall, upon the first Monday of each month, pay the same into the treasury of such city, or city and county, to be credited to the proper fund.

Report of shipmasters of contagious diseases.

§ 173. Shipmasters bringing vessels into the harbor of any such city, or city and county, and all masters, owners, or consignees having vessels in such harbor, which have on board any cases of Asiatic cholera, smallpox, yellow, typhus, ship-fever, or any other contagious disease, must report the same in writing, to the quarantine officer before landing any passengers, casting anchor, or coming to any wharf, or as soon thereafter as they, or either of them, become aware of the existence of either of these diseases on board of their vessel.

Restrictions on shipmasters, etc.

§ 174. No captain or other officer in command of any vessel sailing under a register, arriving at the port of any such city, or city and county, nor any owner, consignee, agent, or other person having charge of such vessel, must, under a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, land, or permit to be landed, any freight, passengers, or other persons from such vessels, until he has reported to the quarantine officer, presented his bill of health, and received a permit from that officer to land freight, passengers, and other persons.

Duty of pilot.

§ 175. Every pilot who conducts into the port of any such city, or city and county, any vessel subject to quarantine, or examination by the quarantine officer, must:

1. Bring the vessel no nearer such city, or city and county, than is allowed by law;
2. Prevent any person from leaving such vessel, and any communication being made with the vessel under his charge, until the quarantine officer has boarded her and given the necessary orders and directions;
3. Be vigilant in preventing any violation of the quarantine laws, and report, without delay, all such violations that come to his knowledge, to the quarantine officer;
4. Present the master of the vessel with a printed copy of the quarantine laws, unless he has one;
5. If the vessel is subject to quarantine, by reason of infection, place at the masthead a small yellow flag.

Duty of master of vessel.

§ 176. Every master of a vessel subject to quarantine, or visitation by the quarantine officer, arriving in the port of any such city, or city and county, who refuses or neglects either:

1. To proceed with and anchor his vessel at the place assigned for quarantine, when legally directed so to do; or,

2. To submit his vessel, cargo, and passengers to the quarantine officers, their inspection, examination, and direction, and furnish all necessary information to enable that officer to determine to what quarantine or other regulations they might respectively be subject; or,

3. To report all cases of disease and of death occurring on his vessel, and to comply with all the sanitary regulations of such port or harbor;

Is liable in the sum of five hundred dollars for every such neglect or refusal.

Master of infected vessel must report.

§ 177. All vessels arriving off the port of any such city, or city and county, from ports which have been legally declared infected ports, and all vessels arriving from ports where there is prevailing, at the time of their departure, any contagious, infectious, or pestilential diseases, or vessels with decaying cargoes, or which have usually foul or offensive holds, are subject to quarantine, and must be by the master, owner, pilot, or consignee reported to the quarantine officer without delay. No such vessel must pass within the bounds prohibited them by the board of health, until the quarantine officer has boarded her and given the order required by law.

Duty of quarantine officer.

§ 178. The quarantine officer must board every vessel subject to quarantine or visitation by him, immediately on her arrival, make such examinations and inspection of vessels, books, papers, or cargo, or of persons on board, under oath, as he may judge expedient, and determine whether the vessel should be ordered to quarantine, and if so, the period of quarantine.

Masters of certain vessels not to permit landing until he receive permit.

§ 179. No captain, or other officer, in command of any passenger-carrying vessel of more than one hundred and fifty tons burden, nor of any vessel of more than one hundred and fifty tons burden having passengers on board, nor any consignee, owner, agent, or other persons having charge of such vessel or vessels, must, under a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, land, or permit to be landed, any passenger from the vessel until he has presented his bill of health to the quarantine officer and received a permit from that officer to land such passengers, except in such cases as the quarantine officer deems it safe to give the permit before seeing the bill of health.

Fees.

§ 180. The following fees shall be collected by the quarantine officer for giving a permit to land freight or passengers, or both: From any sailing vessel of less than five hundred tons burden, from any port out of this state, two dollars and fifty cents; five hundred and under one thousand tons burden, five dollars; each additional one thousand tons burden, or fraction thereof, an additional two dollars and fifty cents; for steam vessels, propelled in whole or in part by steam, of one thousand tons burden or less, five dollars, and two dollars and fifty cents additional for each additional one thousand tons burden or fraction thereof. But vessels not propelled in whole or in part by steam, sailing to and from any port or ports of the Pacific states of the United States, or territories, and whaling vessels entering the harbor of any such city and county, are excepted from the provisions of this section.

Duty of board of health.

§ 181. The board of health may enforce compulsory vaccination on passengers or [on] variola-infected ships, or coming from ports infected with the same.

Same.

§ 182. The board of health shall establish quarantine grounds at such points and places as in its judgment may best conduce to public safety; may provide suitable hospitals whenever the same are required for the public safety, and furnish and supply the same with nurses and attaches, and remove thereto all persons afflicted with cholera, smallpox, yellow, typhus, ship-fever, or other contagious diseases; provided, said quarantine grounds and hospitals shall not be established within one mile of the main land on the north side of the bay of San Francisco.

Duty of board of health.

§ 183. The board of health must cause to be kept a record of all births, deaths, and interments occurring in such city, or city and county, coming under the provisions of this chapter. Such records, when filed, must be deposited in the office of the city, or city and county, recorder, and produced when required for public inspection.

Duty of physicians and midwives.

§ 184. Physicians and midwives must, on or before the fourth day of each month, make a return to the health officer of all births, deaths, and the number of stillborn children occurring in their practice during the preceding month. In the absence of such attendants, the parents must make such report within thirty days after the birth of the child. Such returns must be made in accordance with rules adopted by, and upon blanks furnished by, the board of health.

Human bodies not to be buried without permit.

§ 185. No person shall deposit in any cemetery, or inter in any such city, or city and county, any human body, without first having obtained and filed with the health officer a certificate, signed by a physician or midwife, or coroner, setting forth as near as possible the name, age, color, sex, place of birth, occupation, date, locality, and the cause of death of deceased, and obtain from such health officer a permit. The physicians, when death occurs in their practice, must give the certificate herein mentioned. It shall be the duty of the said board of health to see that the dead body of a human being is not allowed to remain in any public receiving vault for a longer period than five days. At the expiration of that time it shall cause the body to be buried, or to be placed in a vault or niche, constituted of brick, stone, or iron, and hermetically sealed. It shall also be the duty of said boards to require all persons having in charge the digging of graves, and the burial of the dead, to see that the body of no human being who has reached ten years of age shall be interred in a grave less than six feet deep, or if under the age of ten years, the grave to be not less than five feet deep. The board of health shall have entire charge of all cemeteries belonging to such city, or city and county, and may employ a superintendent thereof, at a salary not to exceed seventy-five dollars per month, the same to be paid out of the general fund as the salaries of the other employees are paid.

Duty of superintendent of cemeteries.

§ 186. Superintendents of all cemeteries in any such city, or city and county, must return to the health officer, on each Monday, the names of all persons interred or deposited within their respective cemeteries during the preceding week, and no superintendent of a cemetery, or any other person, can remove, or cause to be removed, or cause to be disinterred, any human body or remains that have been deposited in a cemetery, without a permit therefor from the health officer, or by order of the coroner.

Human body not to be disinterred without permit.

§ 187. It shall be unlawful to disinter or exhume from a grave, vault, or other burial-place within the limits of such city, or city and county, the body or remains of any deceased person, unless a permit for so doing shall have first been obtained from the health officer of such city, or city and county. Nor shall any body or remains disinterred, exhumed, or taken from any grave, vault, or other place of burial or deposit, be transported in or through the streets or highways of any such city, or city and county, unless the person or persons removing or transporting such body or remains shall first obtain from the health officer a permit, in writing, therefor, as aforesaid. But when an applicant for a permit to disinter a body shall desire to remove said body beyond the limits of such city, or city and county, and shall so state on making application, the permit, if the same be issued, shall include the right to disinter and remove, and said permit shall accompany the remains.

Discretion of health officer.

§ 188. Permits to disinter or exhume the bodies or remains of deceased persons and to transport the same, or to exhume, or to transport, as in the last section provided, may be granted, in the discretion of the health officer, and under such restrictions and conditions only as he, in his judgment, may affix, so as in the best possible manner to protect the public health. The health officer shall prepare a book of blank permits in proper form, and consecutively numbered, containing stubs, on which, as well as in the permit, shall be entered a record of the transaction, giving the name, age, sex, nativity, date of death, destination of remains sought to be removed, and upon granting each permit shall be required to be paid to him the sum of ten dollars therefor, for the use and benefit of the general fund of such city, or city and county.

Penalty of disinterring without permit.

§ 189. Any person or persons who shall disinter, exhume, or remove, or cause to be disinterred, exhumed, or removed, from a grave, vault, or other receptacle or burial-place, the remains of a deceased person, without a permit therefor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by fine not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Penalty for transporting body without permit.

§ 190. Any person or persons who shall transport, or cause to be transported, on or through the streets or highways of any such city, or city and county, the body or remains of a deceased person which has been disinterred or exhumed without a permit therefor, in accordance with this chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished as provided in the preceding section.

Exception.

§ 191. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be taken to apply to the removal of the remains of the deceased person from one place of interment to another place of interment, or cemetery, within this state.

Penalties.

§ 192. No person, master, captain, or conductor in charge of any boat, vessel, or railroad car, or public or private conveyance, shall receive for transportation, or shall transport, the body of any person who has died within the limits of such city, or city and county, without said body is accompanied by a permit for such transportation from the health officer, which permit shall accompany the body to its destination; and no person, master, captain, or conductor as aforesaid, shall bring into or transport through any such city, or city and county, the dead body or remains of any person unless it be accompanied with a certificate from some proper authority of the place from whence it came, stating the name, age, sex, and cause of death, which certificate shall be filed at the health office; provided, that in no case shall the body of any person who died of contagious disease be brought to such city, or city or county, within one year after the day of death.

Nuisances, how abated.

§ 193. Whenever a nuisance shall exist on the property of any nonresident, or any property the owner or owners of which can not be found by either health inspector, after diligent search, or on the property of any owner or owners upon whom due notice may have been served, and who shall for three days refuse or neglect to abate the same, or any property belonging to such city, or city and county, it shall be the duty of the board of health to cause the said nuisance to be at once removed or abated, and to draw upon the general fund in such sums as may be required for such removal or abatement, not to exceed two hundred dollars; provided, that whenever a larger expenditure is found necessary to be made in the removal or suppression of any nuisance, the municipal council of such city, or city and county, shall, upon the written application of the board of health, by ordinance, appropriate, allow, and order paid, out of the general fund, such sum or sums as may be necessary for that purpose; provided further, that in all cases where such expenditure will exceed five hundred dollars, no appropriation shall be made for that purpose unless the city, or city and county, attorney shall first give his opinion in writing that such expenditure would be a legal charge against the property affected thereby. And the auditor shall audit and the treasurer shall pay all appropriations of money made in pursuance of this section, in the same manner as is now provided by law for auditing and paying demands upon the treasury.

Fee-book open to public inspection.

§ 194. The health officer and the quarantine officer must each keep a book open to public inspection, in which must be entered daily all fees collected by them, and they must pay all fees collected to such city, or city and county, treasurer, daily, to the credit of the general fund.

Bond of health officer.

§ 195. The health officer must execute an official bond, with two sureties, to be approved by the board of health, in the sum of ten thousand dollars; and the quarantine officer must execute a like official bond, with two sureties, in the sum of ten thousand dollars; which bonds shall be filed with the auditor of such city, or city and county.

Who may administer oaths.

§ 196. Any member of the board of health, the health officer, and the quarantine officer, and the secretary of the board of health, is hereby authorized to administer oaths on business connected with the health department.

Suits, where maintained.

§ 197. Whenever any cause of action arises under any of the provisions of this chapter relating to the health department, suit may be maintained thereon in the name of the health or quarantine officer, as the case may be, in any superior court or justice's court of this state.

Duty of physicians in certain cases.

§ 198. Every physician in any such city, or city and county, shall report to the health officer, in writing, every patient he shall have laboring under Asiatic cholera, variola, diphtheria, scarlatina, or other contagious diseases, immediately thereafter, and report to the same officer every case of death from such disease.

Duty of householders in certain cases.

§ 199. Every householder in any such city, or city and county, shall forthwith report, in writing, to the health officer the name of every person boarding, or an inmate of his or her house, whom he or she shall have reason to believe sick of cholera, or small-pox, and any deaths occurring at his or her house from such disease.

Park commissioners, how appointed and their duties.

§ 200. There shall be a board of park commissioners of such city, or city and county, consisting of three persons, to be appointed by the governor of this state, who shall hold their office for four years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services. In case of a vacancy, the same shall be filled by the remaining members of the board for the residue of the term then vacant; and all vacancies occasioned by expiration of terms of office, or neglect, or incapacity, shall be filled by the governor aforesaid. Each of said commissioners shall be a freeholder and resident of such city, or city and county. Said board shall have full and exclusive control and management of all the parks of such city, or city and county, which at the time of the organization of such city, or city and county, under this act, were treated and improved as public parks, with the avenues and great highways connected therewith. Two of said commissioners shall constitute a quorum to do business, but no money shall be expended or contract entered into authorizing the expenditure of money without the approval of the mayor and a majority of said board of park commissioners.

Powers.

§ 201. Said board shall have power to govern, manage, and direct said parks and avenues leading thereto as have heretofore been operated or managed in connection therewith; to lay out, regulate, and improve such parks and avenues; to pass ordinances for the regulation and government of the same; to appoint one general superintendent, who shall perform the duties of overseer and managing gardener, who shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The city, or city and county, surveyor shall be ex-officio engineer of the works, and shall perform such engineering work as the commissioners may require of him. Prisoners over the age of twenty-one years, sentenced to hard labor in any of the jails, prisons, houses of correction, work-houses, or other penal establishments of such city, or city and county, may be put to work upon the parks. The commissioners may employ such other laborers as shall be necessary; within the amount allowed by law to be expended on said parks, at wages not to exceed the current wages paid in such city, or city and county, for labor. They shall in no year incur any debt or deficit, nor expend any money beyond the amount realized by the tax herein provided for. All persons violating any of the ordinances of the commissioners regulating the parks shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and punished accordingly.

Taxes for park improvement, how levied.

§ 202. The municipal council shall have the power to levy and collect, in the mode prescribed by law for the levy and collection of taxes, each year, upon all property in such city, or city and county, the sum of one and one-half cents upon each one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property therein, for the purpose of preserving and improving the parks and avenues under control and management of said commissioners. Said money shall be paid into the treasury, and paid out for said purpose; all claims to be first allowed by said commissioners and audited by the auditor. The jurisdiction of the park commissioners shall not extend to unimproved parks, nor squares and places not hitherto treated as parks, unless extended thereto by an ordinance of the municipal council. The commissioners may lease, for terms not to exceed three years, any portion of said grounds not immediately required for improvement, the proceeds to go to the improvement of the parks and avenues.

Reports of park commissioners.

§ 203. The park commissioners shall make semi-annual reports to the mayor and municipal council of all their proceedings, and a detailed statement of all the receipts and expenditures.

Duties of mayor and other officers in reference to contracts.

§ 204. The mayor shall see that all contracts and agreements with the city are faithfully kept and performed, and to this end he shall cause legal proceedings to be instituted and prosecuted against all persons or corporations failing to fulfill their agreements. And it is the duty of any and every city, or city and county, officer, when it shall come to his knowledge that any contract with such city, or city and county, relating to the business of any office whatever, has been or is about to be violated by the other contracting party, forthwith to report the fact to the mayor. A failure to do so shall be a sufficient cause for the removal of any officer of any department. The mayor shall give a certificate, on demand, to any officer giving such information that he has done so, which certificate shall be evidence in exoneration from a charge of neglect of such duty. The city, or city and county, attorney shall prosecute all suits so ordered by the mayor.

ARTICLE V.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Number and jurisdiction of justices.

§ 213. There shall be in and for such city, or city and county, one justice's court, composed of six justices of the peace, which shall have the powers and jurisdiction prescribed and conferred by law upon justices of the peace and justices' courts, in such city, or city and county. All actions, suits, and proceedings whereof justices of the peace and justices' courts in such city, or city and county, have jurisdiction, shall be commenced, entitled and prosecuted in said court. Such courts shall be always open, nonjudicial days excepted, and causes therein may be tried before the presiding justice, before any one of the justices before whom the original process may be made returnable, or to whom the cause may be assigned or transferred for trial.

Presiding justice.

§ 214. The board of aldermen shall appoint one of the justices of the peace to be presiding justice, who, as such, shall hold office until his successor shall in the same manner be appointed; and any one of the other justices may attend, preside and act as presiding justice during the temporary absence or disability of the justice so appointed. The board of aldermen, within ten days after its organization as such board, shall appoint a justices' clerk, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the appointing power. The clerk shall take the constitutional oath of office, and give bond, with at least two sufficient sureties, to be approved in the same manner as the official bond of other officers of such city, or city and county, in the sum of not less than fifteen thousand dollars, payable to the city, or city and county, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and well and truly to account for and pay into the treasury of such city, or city and county, as required by law, all moneys by him collected or received, and by law designated for that use. A new or additional bond may be required by the municipal council whenever it deems it necessary; and on failure to furnish such new or additional bond within five days after it shall be required, the office shall become vacant. The justices' clerk shall have authority to administer oaths, and take and certify affidavits in any action, suit or proceeding in all courts in such city, or city and county, and to appoint two deputy clerks, for whose acts he shall be responsible on his official bond; the said deputy clerks to hold office during the pleasure of said clerk. Said deputy clerks have the same power as the said clerk, except that of appointment.

Offices for justices, and office hours.

§ 215. The municipal council of such city, or city and county, shall provide, in some convenient locality in the city, or city and county, a suitable office, or suite of offices, for said presiding justice, justices' clerk, deputy clerk, and deputy sheriff, and offices suitable for holding sessions of said court, and separate from one another, for each of said justices of the peace, together with attendants, furniture, fuel, lights and stationery, sufficient for the transaction of business; and if they are not provided, the court may direct the sheriff to provide the same, and the expenses incurred, certified by the justices to be correct, shall be a charge against the city, or city and county, treasury and paid out of the general fund thereof. The said justices, justices' clerk and deputy clerk, shall be in attendance at their respective offices for the dispatch of official business daily, from the hour of 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m.

Legal process, how issued.

§ 216. All legal process of every kind in actions, suits or proceedings in said justices' court, for the issue of service of which any fee is or may be allowed by law, shall be issued by the said justices' clerk, upon the order of the presiding justice, or upon the order of one of the justices of the peace, acting as presiding justice, as in this chapter provided; and the fees for issuance and service of all such process, and all other fees which are allowed by law for any official services of justices, justices' clerk, or sheriff, shall be exacted and paid in advance into the hands of said clerk, and be by him daily, weekly or monthly, as the municipal council may require, and before his salary shall be allowed, accounted for in detail, under oath, and paid into the treasury of such city, or city and county, as part of the special fee fund thereof; provided, that such payment in advance shall not be exacted from parties who may prove, to the satisfaction of the presiding justice, that they have good cause of action, and that they are not of sufficient pecuniary ability to pay the legal fees; and no judgment shall be rendered in any action before said justices' court, or any of said justices, until the fees allowed therefor, and all fees for previous services therein, which are destined to be paid into the treasury, shall have been paid, except in cases of poor persons, as hereinbefore provided.

Sheriff and deputies for justices' courts.

§ 217. The sheriff of such city and county shall be ex-officio an officer of said court, and it shall be his duty to serve or execute, or cause to be served and executed, each and every process, writ, or order that may be issued by said justices' court; provided, that a summons issued from said court may be served and returned as provided in section 849 of the Code of Civil Procedure; and that subpoenas may be issued by the justices' clerk, and served as provided in sections 1987 and 1988 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The said sheriff may appoint, in addition to the other deputies allowed by law, three deputies, whose duty it shall be to assist said sheriff in serving and executing the process, writs, and orders of the said justices' court. Said deputies shall receive a salary of not to exceed one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month each, payable monthly, out of the city and county treasury, and out of the special fee fund, after being first allowed and audited as other demands are by law required to be audited and allowed. One of said deputies shall remain in attendance during the sessions of said court, and at such other times as the said court or the presiding justice thereof may order and direct, for the purpose of attending to such duties as may be imposed on said sheriff or said deputies, as herein provided or required by law. The said sheriff shall be liable on his official bond for the faithful performance of all duties required of him or any of his said deputies.

Style of action.

§ 218. All actions, suits, and proceedings in such city, or city and county, whereof justices of the peace or justices' courts have jurisdiction, except those cases of concurrent jurisdiction that may be commenced in some other court, shall be entitled: "In the justices' court of the city of — (or the city and county of —)," (inserting the name of the city, or city and county), and commenced and prosecuted in said justices' court, which shall be always open. The original process shall be returnable, and the parties summoned required to appear, before the presiding justice, or before one of the other justices of the peace, to be designated by the presiding justice at his office; but all complaints, answers, and other pleadings and papers required to be filed, shall be filed and a record of all such actions, suits, and proceedings made and kept in the clerk's office aforesaid; and the presiding justice, and each of the other justices, shall have power, jurisdiction, and authority to hear, try, and determine any action, suit, or proceeding so commenced, and which shall have been made returnable before him, or may be assigned or transferred to him, or any motion, application, or issue therein (subject to the constitutional right of trial by jury), and to make any necessary and proper orders therein.

In case of disability of justice, case to be tried before another justice.

§ 219. In case of sickness, or disability, or absence of a justice of the peace (on the return of a summons, or at the time appointed for trial) to whom a cause has been assigned, the presiding justice shall reassign the cause to some other justice, who shall proceed with the trial and disposition of said cause in the same manner as if originally assigned to him; and if, at any time before the trial of a cause or matter returnable or pending before any of said justices, either party shall object to having the cause or matter tried before said justice on the ground that such justice is a material witness for either party, or on the ground of the interest, prejudice, or bias of such justice, and such objection be made to appear in the manner prescribed by section 833 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the said justice shall suspend proceedings, and the presiding justice, on motion and production before him of the affidavit and proofs, shall order the transfer of the cause or matter for trial before some other justice, to be designated by him. The presiding justice may, in like manner, assign or transfer any contested motion, application, or issue in law, arising in any cause, returnable or pending before him or any other justice, to some other justice, and the said justice to whom any cause, matter, motion, application, or issue shall be so as aforesaid assigned or transferred, shall have power, jurisdiction, and authority to hear, try, and determine the same accordingly.

Certain cases to be certified to superior court by presiding justice, and justices' clerk.

§ 220. Cases which, by the provisions of law, are required to be certified to the superior court, by reason of involving the question of title or possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, shall be so certified by the presiding justice and justices' clerk; and for that purpose, if such question shall arise on the trial while the case is pending before one of the other justices, such justice shall certify the same to the presiding justice. All abstracts and transcripts of judgments and proceedings in said court, or in any of the dockets or registers of or deposited in said court, shall be given and certified from any of such dockets or registers and signed by the presiding justice and clerk, and shall have the same force and effect as abstracts and transcripts of justices of the peace in other cases. Appeals from judgments rendered in said court shall be taken and perfected in the manner prescribed by law, and the notice of appeal and all papers required to be filed to perfect it shall be filed with the justices' clerk. Statements on appeal shall be settled by the justice who tried the cause. Sureties on appeal, or on any bond or undertaking given in any cause or proceeding in said court, when required to justify, may justify before any one of the justices.

Jurisdiction.

§ 221. The jurisdiction of the justices' court of such city, or city and county, extends to the limits of the city, or city and county, and its process may be served in any part thereof.

Powers of associate justices.

§ 222. The presiding justice, whenever in his judgment the prompt dispatch of business shall demand it, may require the aid of one of the justices of the peace in the discharge either of his own duties or those of the justices' clerk (the collection of fees, accounting for, and paying the same into the treasury excepted), and each of the justices, when so required, shall, for the purpose, have the same power and authority as the presiding justice or clerk in whose aid he shall act; and any one of the justices, when required as aforesaid, may act as a justices' clerk pro tempore during the temporary absence or disability of such clerk, with the same powers, duties, and responsibilities.

'Justices' docket.'

§ 223. In a suitable book, strongly bound, the justices' clerk shall keep a permanent record of all actions, proceedings and judgments commenced, had, or rendered in said justices' court, which book shall be a public record, and be known as the "Justices' Docket," in which docket the clerk shall make the same entries as are provided for in section 911 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and which said docket and entries therein shall have the same force and effect as is provided by law in reference to dockets of justices of the peace. To enable the clerk to make up such docket, each of the justices shall keep minutes of his proceedings in every cause returnable before, or assigned or transferred to, him for trial or hearing; and upon judgment, or other disposition of a cause, such justice shall immediately certify and return the said minutes, together with all pleadings and papers in said cause, to the clerk's office, who shall immediately thereupon file the same, and make the proper entries under the title of the action in the docket aforesaid.

Procedure.

§ 224. The justices' court and the justices of the peace of every such city and county shall be governed in their proceedings by the provisions of law regulating proceedings before justices of the peace, so far as such provisions are not altered or modified in this chapter, and the same are or can be made applicable in the several cases arising before them. The justices' court of such city, or city and county, shall have power to make rules, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws, for the government of such justices' court and the officers thereof; but such rules shall not be in force until thirty days after their publication; and no rule shall be made imposing any tax or charge on any legal proceeding, or giving any allowance to any justice or officer for services.

New justices' court a continuation of old.

§ 225. All actions and proceedings pending and undetermined before the justices' court of such city, or city and county, if any, at the time of its organization under this act, shall be proceeded in, heard, and determined before the court herein provided for, and execution shall be issued thereon, and other proceedings had therein, whether before or after judgment, whether on appeal or otherwise; and the court provided for under this act shall be deemed to be a continuation of the same court before existing, and not a new court.

Prohibition to practice by justices.

§ 226. It shall not be lawful for any justice of the peace, the justices' clerk, or the sheriff, or any of his deputies, of such city, or city and county, to appear or advocate, or in any manner act as attorney, counsel, or agent for any party or person in any cause, or in relation to any demand, account, or claim, pending, or to be sued or prosecuted before said justices, or any of them, or which may be within their jurisdiction. A violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor in office.

Qualifications of attorneys.

§ 227. No person other than an attorney at law, duly admitted and licensed to practice in courts of record, shall be permitted to appear as attorney or agent for any party in any cause or proceeding before said justices, or any of them, unless he produce a sufficient power of attorney to that effect, duly executed and acknowledged before one of said justices, or before some other officer authorized by law to take acknowledgment of deeds; which power of attorney, or a true copy thereof, duly certified by one of the justices aforesaid (who, on inspection of the original, shall attest to its genuineness), shall be filed among the papers in such cause or proceeding.

Appointment of additional justices.

§ 228. If, at the time of the organization of any such city, or city and county, under this act, there shall not be the complement of justices of the peace provided for in this chapter, the municipal council of such city, or city and county, shall appoint a suitable person or persons to fill such complement and the person or persons so appointed shall hold office from his or their appointment, and until his or their successor or successors is or are elected or appointed and qualified.

Police court.

§ 229. The judicial power of such city, or city and county, shall be vested in a "police court," to be held therein by the police judges. The police court shall not be a court of record. Said court shall have a seal. The judges of said court may hold as many sessions of said court at the same time as there are judges thereof. There shall be two departments of said court, denominated, respectively, department one and department two. The court may sit in departments, and shall be always open for the transaction of business. There shall be, as far as practicable, an equal distribution of cases between the said departments, which cases shall be alternately set down for trial to each department in the order in which the warrants are issued or proceedings brought before the court. Said judges shall, as soon as may be after the commencement of the terms of their office, classify themselves by lot for assignment to said departments, and shall be thereby assigned accordingly.

Power and jurisdiction of police court.

§ 230. All the power and jurisdiction of said court shall be enjoyed and may be exercised in bank, or in either department thereof. All the powers of said judges may be exercised by either of them.

Same.

§ 231. The police court of such city, or city and county, shall have jurisdiction:

1. Of an action or proceeding for the violation of any ordinance of such city, or city and county;
2. Of proceedings respecting vagrants and disorderly persons.

Same.

§ 232. The police court shall have jurisdiction of the following public offenses committed in such city, or city and county:

1. Petit larceny; receiving stolen property, when the amount involved does not exceed fifty dollars;
2. Assault and battery, not charged to have been committed upon a public officer in the discharge of his duties or with intent to kill;
3. Breaches of the peace, riots, affrays, committing willful injury to property, and all misdemeanors punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment;
4. Said court or judges shall have jurisdiction of proceedings for security to keep the peace; and also, throughout such city and county, the same powers and jurisdiction, in other criminal actions, cases, prosecutions, and proceedings as are now or hereafter may be conferred by law upon police or justices' courts.

Power to hold examinations.

§ 233. The judges of said court shall have power to hear cases for examination, and may commit and hold the offender to bail for trial in the superior court, and may try, condemn, or acquit, and carry their judgment into execution, as the case may require according to law, and shall have power to issue warrants of arrest, subpoenas, and all other process necessary to the full and proper exercise of their power and jurisdiction.

May commit to home of inebriate.

§ 234. Said court or judges shall also have power to commit to the home for the care of the inebriate, when any such institute may be established, any person who may be convicted before them of habitual intemperance, for a term not exceeding six months, or until sooner released by order of the police judges, or by the board of managers of such institution by a two-thirds vote of all the members of said board.

When may commit to industrial schools.

§ 235. The said court or judges shall have the power to commit all offenders duly convicted, under eighteen years of age, to the industrial school of said city and county, in all cases where such commitment shall by said court or judge be deemed to be more suitable than the punishment otherwise provided by law, not to exceed six months. If, upon any trial, it shall appear that the person on trial is under fourteen years of age, and has done an act which if done by a person of full age would warrant a conviction of the crime of misdemeanor charged, then and in that case said court or judges shall have power to commit such child to the industrial school. In either case said court or judges may sentence such person to be confined in the correctional department of said industrial school for any term not exceeding six months. Upon application of the mayor, or any member of the supervisors, or of any three citizens, charging that any child under eighteen years of age lives an idle, or dissolute life, and that his parents are dead, or, if living, do, from drunkenness or other vices or causes, neglect to provide any suitable employment, or exercise salutary control over such child, the said court or judges shall have power to examine the matter, and upon being satisfied of the truth of such charges, may sentence such child to the industrial school; provided, that no person shall be so sentenced for a longer period than until he arrive at the age of eighteen years.

May sentence to labor on public works, etc.

§ 236. In cases where, for any offense, the said court is or judges are authorized to impose a fine, or imprisonment in the county jail, or both, it or they may instead sentence the offender to be employed at labor on the public works, or in the house of correction or workhouse as the supervisors may prescribe, for a period of time equal to the term of imprisonment which might legally be imposed, and may, in case a fine is imposed, embrace as a part of the sentence that in default of payment thereof the offender shall be obliged to labor on said works, at said house of correction or workhouse, or elsewhere, at the rate of one dollar a day, till the fine imposed is satisfied; provided, that no person under the age of twenty-one years, or who is to be sentenced, on conviction for drunkenness or breach of the peace, shall be sentenced to labor upon the public works away from the house of correction or workhouse.

Punishment of contempt.

§ 237. The said court and judges may punish contempts in the same manner and to the same extent as superior courts, and the laws concerning contempts applicable to superior courts shall be applicable to said police court and judges.

Record to be kept by county clerk.

§ 238. The county clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of the police court, issue all process ordered by said court, and shall render to the auditor, monthly, and before any amount can be paid to him on account of his salary, an exact and detailed account, upon oath, of all fines imposed, and all bail forfeited, and moneys collected, as clerk of said court, since his last account rendered. He shall prepare bonds, justify and accept bail, when the amount has been fixed by the police judges, in cases not exceeding one thousand dollars, and he shall fix, justify, and accept bail after arrest, in the absence of the police judges, in all cases not amounting to a felony, in the same manner and with the like effect as if the same had been fixed by the police judges or police court. The county clerk shall appoint three deputy clerks, who shall act as deputy clerks of said police court. The clerk and the deputy clerks in this section mentioned shall have authority to administer oaths and affirmations, and take and certify affidavits in any proceeding in said police court, in and for said city and county, and to issue subpoenas.

Office hours.

§ 239. The police judges and the deputy clerks shall attend at the courtrooms of said court for the dispatch of business daily, from the hour of 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m., and during such other reasonable hours as may be necessary for the discharge of their respective duties, except on legal holidays.

Payment of fines by clerk into treasury.

§ 240. The county clerk, as clerk of the police court, shall pay to the treasurer of said city and county, immediately, all fines collected and bail forfeited, accompanied by a verified written statement showing from whom each fine was collected, when collected, in what case, specifying the offense, and in what amount, and in what case and by whom such bail was forfeited. He shall immediately upon the forfeiting of any bail bond in the police court, transmit to the district attorney a copy of such bail bond, duly certified by him under the seal of that court to be a true copy, stating in such certificate the fact of such forfeiture, and the date thereof.

Justice of the peace may preside in police court.

§ 241. Any justice of the peace of the said city and county who may be designated, in writing, by the mayor for the purpose, shall have power to preside in and hold the police court of said city and county, or any department thereof, in the event of the temporary absence of the police judges, or either of them, or of their inability to act from any cause; and during such temporary absence or disability the justice so designated shall act as police judge, and shall have and exercise all the powers, jurisdiction, and authority which are or may be by law conferred upon said court or judges.

Duty of assistant district attorney.

§ 242. It shall be the duty of the assistant district attorneys, acting in the police court, or either and each of them, whenever they shall have been credibly informed that any person criminally injured by another is likely to die, to take the dying statement of such person, and to immediately reduce the same to writing. It is also hereby made the duty of attending physicians, and others knowing of such cases, to report the same immediately to such assistant district attorneys.

Attorney before police court.

§ 243. No person shall be permitted to act as attorney or counsel before the police court or the police judges, unless he shall be an attorney and counselor admitted to practice in the supreme court of this state.

Bailiffs for court.

§ 244. The chief of police shall designate two or more policemen, who shall attend constantly upon the police court, act as bailiffs therein, and execute the orders and process of said court and the judges thereof.

Abolition of courts and transfer of records.

§ 245. The police judge's court and the police judge's court number two of said city and county, and the offices of the judges thereof, shall be abolished at 12 o'clock noon, of the first Monday after the first day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-five, and at that time all records, registers, dockets, books, papers, actions, warrants, judgments, and proceedings lodged, deposited, or pending before the said last-mentioned courts, or the judges thereof, shall be by force hereof transferred to said police court, which police court and the police judges herein provided for shall have the same power and jurisdiction over them as if they had been in the first instance lodged, deposited, or commenced in said police court, or before the judges last aforesaid; but nothing herein contained shall affect any judgment rendered or proceeding had before that time in said police judge's court or said police judge's court number two, or before the judges thereof, or either of them.

Interpreters.

§ 246. There shall be appointed by the judges of the superior court of such city and county five competent persons deputies to act as interpreters and translators of the following languages: French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Chinese, and Slavonian. The said deputies shall each receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of other officers are paid. It shall be the duty of each of said deputies to attend in all the courts in and for such city and county, when required by any of the judges thereof, without further compensation than the salaries above provided.

ARTICLE VI.—EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

Boards of education.

§ 247. There shall be a board of education for such city, or city and county, which shall be composed of twelve school directors, elected as provided in this chapter, who shall hold office for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. They shall have the same qualifications as to eligibility requisite for members of the board of aldermen. Said board shall organize immediately after the election and qualification of its members, by electing a president from among the directors elected, and annually thereafter, and shall hold meetings monthly, and at such times as the board shall determine. A majority of all the members elected shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from time to time. The board may determine the rules of its proceedings. Its sessions shall be public, and its record shall be open to public inspection.

Superintendent of schools.

§ 248. There shall be elected by the qualified voters of such city and county, at the general state election, a superintendent of schools, who shall take office on the first Monday after the first day of January next following his election, and hold office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall perform such duties as are prescribed by law.

Powers of board.

§ 249. The board of education shall have power:

Establish districts.

1. To establish school districts, and to fix and alter the boundaries thereof.

Maintain schools.

2. To maintain public schools as organized at the time of the organization of such city, or city and county, under this act, and to consolidate and discontinue the same as the public good may require.

Establish high schools.

3. To establish high, normal, and experimental schools for the education of teachers.

Employ and dismiss teachers, etc.

4. To employ and pay and to dismiss teachers, janitors, school-census marshals, and such mechanics and laborers, and such other persons as may be necessary to carry into effect the powers and duties of the board, and unless otherwise provided by law, to fix, alter, and allow paid their salaries and compensations, and to withhold, for good and sufficient cause, the whole or any part of the salary or wages of any person or persons employed as aforesaid.

Make and establish rules, etc.

5. Also to make and establish and enforce all necessary and proper rules and regulations for the government and efficiency of the schools, teachers, and pupils, and for the carrying into effect of the school system; and to establish and regulate, and grade the schools, the course of studies and mode of instruction therein; to investigate all charges of misconduct on the part of teachers and other employees of the board; to administer oaths and take testimony; to summon and enforce the attendance of and examine witnesses for such purpose before the board, or a member or committee thereof. Any person summoned and refusing to attend and testify shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person testifying falsely shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction punished accordingly.

Provide fuel, stationery, etc.

6. To provide for the school department of such city, or city and county, fuel, lights, blanks, blank-books, books, printing, and stationery, and such other articles, materials, or supplies as may be necessary and appropriate for use in the schools, or in the office of the superintendent.

Provide schoolhouses.

7. To build, alter, repair, rent, and provide schoolhouses, and furnish them with proper school furniture, apparatus, and appliances, and to insure any and all school property, and to use and control such buildings as may be necessary for the uses of the board and its committees.

To purchase school lots.

8. To receive, purchase, lease, and hold in fee, in trust for such city, or city and county, any and all real estate and personal property that may have been or which hereafter may be acquired for the use and benefit of the schools of such city, or city and county.

Grade school lots.

9. To grade, fence, and improve school lots, and in front thereof.

To sue and be sued.

10. To sue for any and all lots, lands, and property belonging to or claimed by the school department of such city, or city and county, and to prosecute and defend all actions at law or in equity necessary to recover the full enjoyment and possession of said lots, lands, and property, and to require the services of the city, or city and county, attorney in all such suits and proceedings.

To superintend disbursement of school moneys.

11. To establish regulations for the just and equal disbursement of all moneys belonging to the school department, or to the public school fund, and to make rules and regulations to secure economy and accountability in the expenditure of school money.

To sell certain personal property.

12. To discharge all legal encumbrances existing upon any school property; to dispose of and sell such personal property used in the schools as shall no longer be required, and all moneys realized by such sales shall be paid into the city treasury to the credit of the public school fund.

To lease lots, etc.

13. To lease, for the benefit of the public school fund, for a term not exceeding five years, any unoccupied property of the school department not required for school purposes; to prohibit any child under six years of age from attending the schools; and generally to do and perform such other acts as may be necessary and proper to carry into force and effect the powers conferred on said board.

Who may administer oaths.

§ 250. The president of the board of education, the superintendent, and the secretary shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations concerning any demands upon the treasury payable out of the public school fund, or other matters relating to their official duties or the school department.

Reports.

§ 251. It shall be the duty of each director to make quarterly reports to the board of the condition of the schools in their respective districts.

Supplies, how furnished.

§ 252. It shall be the duty of the board of education to furnish all necessary supplies for the public schools. All supplies, books, stationery, fuel, printing, goods, material, building, repairs, merchandise, and every other article and thing supplied to or done for the public schools, or any of them, when the expenditure to be incurred is likely to exceed two hundred dollars, shall be done by contract, let to the lowest responsible bidder, after advertisement by the superintendent of schools; and the contract shall be entered into by the superintendent with the party to whom the contract is awarded; and the superintendent shall take care that such contract is carried out in strict accordance with the terms thereof.

Bids and contracts, how made and awarded.

§ 253. All bids or proposals made under the preceding section shall be delivered to the superintendent of schools, and said board shall, in open session, open, examine, and publicly declare the same, and award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder; provided, said board may reject any and all bids, should they deem it for the public good, and also the bid of any party who may be proved delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with such city and county, or said board, and cause a republication of the notice for proposals as above specified. Any person may bid for any one article.

Not to be interested in contract.

§ 254. Any school director, officer, or other person officially connected with the school department, or drawing a salary from the board of education, who shall, while in office, or so connected, or drawing salary, be interested, either directly or indirectly, in, or who shall gain any benefit or advantage from any contract, payments under which are to be made in whole or in part of the moneys derived from the school fund, or raised by taxation or otherwise for the support of the public schools, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and on conviction, punished accordingly; and this provision shall not be construed to relieve such persons from any other penalty, but shall be deemed cumulative to and with other penalties and disabilities as to such acts and offenses.

Annual report.

§ 255. The board shall make and transmit, between the fifteenth day of January and the first day of February of each year, to the state superintendent of public instruction, and to the mayor and municipal council of such city, or city and county, a report, in writing, stating the whole number of public schools within the jurisdiction, the length of time they have been kept open, the number of pupils taught in each school, the whole amount of money drawn from the treasury by the department during the year, distinguishing the amounts drawn from the general fund of the state from all other, and from what sources, and the manner and purpose in which such money has been expended, with particulars, and such other information as may be required from them by the state superintendent, the municipal council, or the mayor.

Evening school.

§ 256. The board shall provide evening schools, to be held in the public school-houses, for the benefit of those unable to attend the day schools. They shall make and enforce regulations requiring the teachers to keep records of the names, ages, and residences of all pupils, and the names and residences of their parents, and the aggregate attendance of each pupil during the year, and to verify and report the same on the thirty-first day of December to the board; and such other rules and regulations for the purpose of ascertaining the attendance and efficiency of the department and progress of education.

Superintendent a member of board.

§ 257. The superintendent of schools shall be ex-officio member of the board of education without the right to vote.

§ 258. Said superintendent shall appoint a clerk, subject to the approval of the board of education, who shall act as secretary of said board. His salary shall be two hundred dollars a month. Said clerk may be removed at the pleasure of the superintendent, and shall perform such duties as shall be required of him by the board or the superintendent.

Report of superintendent.

§ 259. The superintendent shall report to the board annually, on or before the first day of August, and at such other time as the board may require, all matters pertaining to the expenditures, income, condition, and progress of the public schools of such city, or city and county, during the preceding fiscal year, with such recommendations as he may deem proper. He shall observe and cause to be observed, such general rules for the regulation, government, and instruction of the schools, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as may be established by the board. He shall attend the sessions of the board, and inform himself, at each session, of the condition of schools, school-houses, school funds, and other matters connected therewith, and to recommend such measures as he may deem necessary for the advancement of education in such city, or city and county. He shall acquaint himself with all the laws, rules, and regulations governing the public schools in such city, or city and county, and the judicial decisions thereon, and give advice on subjects connected with the public schools gratuitously to officers, teachers, pupils, and their parents and guardians.

Shall visit schools.

§ 260. The superintendent of schools shall visit and examine the schools, and see that they are efficiently conducted, and that the laws and regulations of the board are enforced in all things, and that no religious or sectarian books or teachings are allowed in the schools, and to report monthly to the board. He shall also report to the state superintendent at such times as such officer shall require.

Vacancy, how filled.

§ 261. Any vacancy in the office of school director shall be filled for the remainder of the term by a person to be appointed by the board of aldermen.

Vacancy in office of superintendent, how filled.

§ 262. In case of a vacancy in the office of superintendent, the board of aldermen may appoint a person to fill the vacancy until the next regular election, when the office shall be filled by the people.

School fund.

§ 263. The school fund of such city, or city and county, shall consist of all moneys received from the state school fund; of all moneys arising from taxes which shall be levied annually by the municipal council of such city, or city and county, for school purposes; of all moneys arising from sale, rent, or exchange of any school property, and of such other moneys as may, from any source whatever, be paid into said school fund. Said fund shall be kept in the city, or city and county, treasury, separate and distinct from all other moneys, and shall only be used for school purposes under the provisions of this chapter. No fees or commissions shall be allowed or paid for assessing, collecting, keeping, or disbursing any school moneys; and if at the end of any fiscal year any surplus remains in the school fund, such surplus money shall be carried forward to the school fund of the next fiscal year, and shall not be, for any purpose whatever, diverted or drawn from said fund, except under the provisions of this chapter.

School fund, how used.

§ 264. The said school fund shall be used and applied by said board of education for the following purposes, to wit:

1. For the payment of the salaries or wages of teachers, janitors, school-census marshals, and other persons who may be employed by said board.

2. For the erection, alteration, repair, rent, and furnishing of schoolhouses;
3. For the expenses of high, normal, and experimental schools;
4. For the purchase money or rent of any real or personal property purchased or hired by the board;
5. For the insurance of all school property;
7. For the discharge of all legal encumbrances now or hereafter existing on any school property;
8. For lighting schoolrooms, and the office and rooms of the superintendent and the board of education;
9. For supplying the schools with fuel, water, apparatus, blanks, blank-books, and necessary school appliances, together with books for indigent children;
10. For supplying books, printing, and stationery for the use of the superintendent and board of education, and for the incidental expenses of the board and department;
11. In grading, fencing, and improving school lots.

Claims, how allowed.

§ 265. All claims payable out of the school fund (excepting coupons for interest in school bonds), shall be filed with the secretary of the board, and after they shall have been approved by a majority of all the members elect of the board, upon a call of "yeas" and "nays" (which shall be recorded), they shall be signed by the president of the board and the superintendent of the public schools, and be sent to the city and county auditor. Every demand shall have indorsed upon it a certificate of its approval by the board, showing the date thereof, and the law authorizing it, by title, date, and section. All demands for teachers' salaries shall be payable monthly.

Demands on school funds.

§ 266. Demands on the school fund may be audited and approved in the usual manner, although there shall not, at the time, be money in the treasury for the payment of the same; provided, that no demand on said fund shall be paid out of or become a charge against the school fund of any subsequent fiscal year; and further provided, that the entire expenditures of the said school department, for all purposes, shall not, in any fiscal year, exceed the revenues thereof for the same year.

Auditor to designate fund.

§ 267. The city, or city and county, auditor shall state, by indorsement upon any claim or demand audited in the school fund, the particular money or fund out of which the same is payable, and that it is payable from no other source.

Audited bills receivable for taxes.

§ 268. Audited bills for the current fiscal year for wages or salaries of the teachers in the public schools shall be receivable for school taxes due upon real estate.

Demands audited and paid in the usual manner.

§ 269. All lawful demands authorized by this chapter for school purposes shall be audited and approved in the usual manner, and the auditor and treasurer of such city, or city and county, are respectively authorized to audit and pay the same, when so ordered paid and approved by the said board; provided, that the said board shall not have the power to contract any debt or liability, in any form whatsoever, against such city, or city and county, in contravention of this chapter; and provided, further, that the allowance or approval by the board of demands not authorized by this chapter shall be no warrant or authority to the auditor or treasurer to audit or pay the same.

Board of education to make estimate.

§ 270. It shall be the duty of the board of education of such city, or city and county, on or before the second Monday of September of each year, to report to the municipal council an estimate of the amount of money which will be required during the year for the purpose of meeting the current annual expenses of public instruction in such city, or city and county, specifying the amount required for supplies furnished pupils, for purchasing and procuring sites, for leasing rooms, or erecting buildings, and for furnishing, fitting up, altering, enlarging, and repairing buildings; for the support of schools organized since the last annual apportionment; for salary of teachers, janitors, clerks, and other employees, and other expenditures authorized by law; but the aggregate amount so reported shall not exceed the sum of thirty-five dollars for each pupil who shall have actually attended and been taught in the preceding year in the schools entitled to participate in the apportionments. The number of pupils who shall be considered as having attended the schools during any one year shall be ascertained by adding together the number of days' attendance of all the pupils in the common schools during the year, and dividing the same by the number of school days in the year. Said municipal council is authorized and empowered to levy and cause to be collected, at the time and in the manner of levying state and other city, or city and county, taxes, the amount of tax, not to exceed thirty-five dollars per pupil, determined and reported by the board of education. The amount so levied and collected shall not include the amount received annually from poll taxes.

No sectarian school shall receive school money.

§ 271. No school shall receive any portion of the school moneys in which the religious doctrines or tenets of any particular Christian or other religious sect are taught, inculcated, or practiced, or in which any book or books containing compositions favorable or prejudicial to the particular doctrines or tenets of any particular Christian or other religious sect is used; nor shall any such books or teachings be permitted in the common schools.

No member of board shall disburse school money, or accept gift.

§ 272. No member of the board of education shall ever become the disbursing agent of such board, or handle or pay out any of its money under or upon any pretense whatever. Any violation of this provision shall be a misdemeanor, and shall subject the offender, besides the punishment, to removal from office. Any member or officer of the board of education who shall, while in office, accept any donation or gratuity in money, or of any valuable thing, either directly or indirectly, from any teacher, or candidate, or applicant for a position as teacher, upon any pretense whatever, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office and shall be ousted by the board, or by any court of competent jurisdiction, from his seat, on proof thereof. Any member or officer of the board of education who shall accept any money, or valuable thing, or the promise thereof, with an agreement or understanding, express or implied, that any person shall, in consideration thereof, get the vote or influence of such member or officer for a situation as a teacher or employee of any kind in the school department, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction, shall be punished accordingly.

ARTICLE VII.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.Laws which do not conflict with this act are continued in force.

§ 286. All the existing provisions of law defining the duties of county officers, excepting those relating to supervisors and boards of supervisors, so far as the same are not inconsistent with, repealed, or altered by the provisions of this chapter, shall be considered as applicable to officers of any consolidated cities and counties, acting or elected under this chapter. Provisions shall be made from the revenues of any city, or city and county, heretofore existing and reorganized under this act, for the payment of the legal indebtedness of the municipal corporation to which such reorganized city, or city and county, shall succeed, or of which it is a reorganization, as well as for that of such city, or city and county, after its organization, and all funding acts and other laws providing for the payments of principal and interest on any funded debt of such former corporation shall remain in force. The taxes which may be levied and collected in such city, or city and county, shall be uniform throughout the same.

Where provisions of this chapter shall apply.

§ 287. The provisions of this chapter concerning the following named officers, to wit: Sheriff, county clerk, recorder, coroner, and public administrator, shall apply only to consolidated cities and counties. The provisions of this chapter relating to the district attorney shall, except in consolidated cities and counties, be deemed to apply to the city attorney; and no sheriff, county clerk, recorder, district attorney, coroner, or public administrator shall be elected in any municipal corporation under the provisions of this chapter, except in consolidated cities and counties.

Duty of municipal council in the levy of taxes.

§ 288. The municipal council of any such consolidated city and county shall perform such duties in and about the levy and equalization of state and county taxes, and all other matters and things as are or may be prescribed by law for boards of supervisors of counties in like cases, and not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

CHAPTER III.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS OF THE SECOND CLASS.

(A charter for cities having a population of more than 30,000 and not exceeding 100,000.)

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL POWERS.

Powers of municipal corporations of the second class.

§ 300. Every municipal corporation of the second class shall be entitled the city of — (naming it), and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue, be sued, in all courts and places, and in all proceedings whatever, shall have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the city authorities, and may purchase, lease, receive, hold, and enjoy real and personal property, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit; provided, that it shall purchase without the city no property except such as shall be deemed necessary for establishing hospitals, prisons, cemeteries, and industrial schools.

ARTICLE II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO OFFICERS.

Election, when held.

§ 301. The municipal election shall be held on the second Monday of March of each even-numbered year, and such election shall be subject to all the provisions of the law regulating elections for state officers, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. At such election there shall be elected, for the government of the city the following officers: Seven councilmen, who shall constitute a board to be known as the city council; a mayor; a treasurer, who shall be ex-officio clerk of the city council; a city attorney; a school superintendent, and a street superintendent, who shall respectively hold office for the term of two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. One councilman shall be elected from each ward, by the vote of the city at large, and shall hold office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Bonds.

§ 302. The clerk and treasurer, superintendent of public schools, street superintendent, and all other officers when required by the city council by ordinance, shall each, before entering upon his official duties, and within ten days after receipt of his certificate of election or appointment, execute a bond, in such sum as the council may direct, payable to the city; which bond shall be subject to the law concerning the official bonds of officers, and to approval by the mayor. And the council may at any time require an additional amount, or new sureties, upon any bond which it may deem insufficient. If such additional security be not given, the council, upon notification thereof by the mayor, may, by vote of two-thirds of the members, declare the office vacant.

Fees, etc., to be paid into treasury.

§ 303. All fees, percentages, and all other moneys received or collected by any officer of the city, shall be paid by such officer, at the end of each month, into the city treasury, for the use of the city; and no payment shall be made to any officer for salary until he shall have taken, and filed with the clerk, an affidavit that he has paid into the city treasury, all fees, percentages, and all other moneys by him theretofore received or collected.

No city officer shall be surety on bond of any corporate officer.

§ 304. No member of the city council, or of the board of education, nor any officer of the city, shall be surety upon the official bond of any corporate officer, nor shall he be, directly or indirectly, interested with or be surety for any person who may be interested in any franchise, contract, appropriation, work, or business, or in the sale of anything the price of or consideration for which is paid or payable by the city, or by assessments levied under an ordinance of the council; nor shall any contract be awarded or franchise granted to any person who may be surety on the official bond of any officer of the city.

Vacancy, how filled.

§ 305. If any officer of such city, or member of the city council, or board of education, shall remove from the city, or absent himself therefrom for more than thirty days, or shall fail to qualify by taking the oath of office as prescribed by law, or to file his official bond, whenever such bond is required, within ten days from the time his election is duly ascertained and declared, his office shall be thereby absolutely vacated, and the city council shall thereupon fill the vacancy upon nomination by the mayor.

Oath of office.

§ 306. Every officer provided for in this chapter shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and file with the treasurer the constitutional oath of office; provided, that the oath of office of the treasurer shall be filed with the mayor.

Salaries.

§ 307. The salaries of the officers of such city shall be as follows: Mayor, one thousand dollars per annum; clerk and treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum; assistant to the clerk and treasurer, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; clerk of the police court, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; clerk to the police court, nine hundred dollars per annum; city attorney, two thousand dollars per annum; street superintendent, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; captain of police, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; police detective, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; school superintendent, two thousand dollars per annum; assistant school superintendent, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; policemen, nine hundred dollars per annum each. The mayor may appoint a clerk, who shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. The salaries of all officers shall be paid in monthly installments, at the end of each and every month of service.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Time of meeting.

§ 319. The city council shall meet on the first Monday after their election, and at such other times as they may by ordinance appoint. A majority of the council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. They shall determine the rules of their proceedings, and judge of the qualification and election of all officers; and shall provide, by ordinance, the method of calling special meetings of the council. Their sittings shall be public. A journal of their proceedings shall be kept by the clerk, under their direction; and the ayes and noes shall be taken and entered on the journal at the request of any member. They shall prescribe, by ordinance, the duties of all officers whose duties are not defined in this act. They shall have the power to raise, by tax, not exceeding one per cent for all purposes (except for the redemption of bonds) on the assessed value of the real and personal property within the limits of such city, moneys for the establishment and support of free common schools, and to provide suitable grounds and buildings therefor, and defraying the ordinary expenses of the city, as well as for paving, planking, or otherwise improving the streets of the city. They shall also have power to pass all proper and necessary ordinances for the regulation and sale of city property, and to give deeds therefor. They shall have power to open, alter, establish, grade, or otherwise improve and regulate, streets, alleys, and lanes, and the sidewalks upon the same; to construct and keep in repair bridges, so as not to interfere with navigation, fences, public places, wharves, docks, ferries, piers, slips, sewers, and wells, and to make assessments therefor; to regulate and collect tolls, wharfage, dockage, and cramage, upon all water craft, and all goods landed; to make regulations for securing the health, cleanliness, ornament, peace, and good order of the city; for preventing and extinguishing fires, and appointing and regulating firemen, policemen, and such other officers as may be necessary to appoint; for the care and regulation of prisons and markets; for licensing, taxing, and regulating all such vehicles, business, and employments as the public good may require, and as may not be prohibited by law; to levy a tax license upon all dogs, or otherwise prevent the same from running at large in the streets and public grounds of the city; to regulate and suppress all occupations, houses, places, amusements, and exhibitions which are against good morals, or contrary to the public order and decency; for the regulation and location of slaughter-houses, markets, stables, and gas-works, and houses for the storage of gunpowder and other combustible materials, and limit the quantity of combustible or explosive materials to be stored in any one place; for prohibiting or suppressing the erection of slaughter-houses, or the slaughtering of animals within the limits of the city, and for prohibiting or suppressing the erection or carrying on of any soap or glue factory, tan-yard, powder magazine, or other nuisance within the limits of the city; and to declare what shall constitute a nuisance; and to make and enforce within its limits all such local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws; and provide suitable buildings for the management, good government, and general welfare of the city. They shall also have power to pass such ordinance or ordinances as may be necessary to prevent animals from running at large within the limits of the city; to establish a pound, and appoint a pound-keeper, and prescribe his duties, and to provide for the public sale, by the pound-keeper, of such animals as may be impounded, in the same way and upon like notice that personal property is sold by execution under the laws of this state; provided, that the owner or owners of such property so impounded may reclaim the same at any time before sale, upon payment of costs and charges of taking up and impounding; and, within thirty days after the sale, upon proof of ownership of the property sold, duly made before the mayor, and upon payment of the costs and expenses of impounding and selling, and upon the payment of the sum of one dollar to the mayor, as a fee for the investigation of the question of ownership, and for his certificate to that effect, such owner or owners may receive the purchase money arising from such sale or sales. Penalties for the violation of any and all ordinances shall be by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and in case the fine be not paid, then the person or persons may be imprisoned at the rate of one day for every two dollars of the fine imposed, or in lieu of the imprisonment, or any part of it, the person or persons so fined shall labor, under the direction of the city authorities, either upon the streets, public grounds, or buildings, or in such other places as may be deemed advisable for the benefit or revenue of said city. The city council, upon the nomination of the mayor, shall have power to appoint suitable persons to fill vacancies in any elective office, except that of mayor, until the next regular municipal election, when, if the term be unexpired, an election shall be held to fill such vacancy for the unexpired terms of said officers. The members of the city council shall receive no salary for their services. They shall have power to provide for all city elections, to designate the place or places of holding the same, giving at least ten days' notice thereof; to appoint inspectors and judges of election, examine the returns, and declare the result, and to determine contested elections. The president pro tempore of the board shall discharge the duties of mayor, whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of mayor, or when the mayor shall be absent from the city for a period exceeding five days, or be unable, from sickness, to attend to the duties of his office. In the absence of the clerk, the city council shall appoint one of their members to act as clerk pro tempore; they shall also have power to set aside any amount of money belonging to the city which may at any time be in the hands of the treasurer, after deducting the current expenses of the city, and the interest due upon the funded debts of the city, as a sinking-fund whereby the bonds issued by the city may be redeemed, or they may, at any time before said bonds shall become due, with any surplus money which may belong to the city, after paying said expenses and interest, redeem or purchase for the city, and in its name, in the manner most advantageous to the city, any outstanding bonds, which bonds or claims, when so purchased, shall be immediately canceled; provided, this right shall not affect the rights of the holders of said bonds, or in any way prevent them from holding the same until said bonds become due and payable; they shall also have the power to determine the width of sidewalks, and the material and manner of their construction, as well as the grade of the same; they shall also have the power to establish fire districts, and within said districts to prevent the erection of wooden buildings, or any buildings composed of combustible materials, and also to prevent the further repairing of wooden buildings within the fire limits established.

Further powers.

§ 320. Said council shall also have power:

Construction of sinks, etc.

1. To regulate the construction of sinks, gutters, wells, cesspools and privy-vaults, and to compel the cleansing or emptying of the same, and the time and manner in which the work shall be done.

Anchorage of vessels, etc.

2. To regulate the anchorage of vessels within the limits of the city, and to prevent obstructions to the free navigation of all navigable waters within the same.

Pollution of water.

3. To prevent persons from throwing into any stream, creek, bay, or other body of water within the limits of the city, from vessels, wharves, or other places, any dirt, ballast, ashes, garbage, dead animals, or other materials that may obstruct the same or pollute the water thereof.

Open streets.

4. To open streets to the channel of any navigable stream or creek within the limits of the city, and to deep water to any navigable bay or lake within the same, and to construct and maintain public wharves at the ends of such streets.

Regulate location of boilers, etc.

5. To regulate the location of steam boilers, the putting up of signs and awnings, and the construction of entrances to basements or cellars from the sidewalks.

License hacks, etc.

6. To establish hack-stands, and to regulate the rates of charges of hacks and other licensed vehicles, and to require a schedule of such charges, printed in conspicuous type and satisfactory to the council, to be posted in a conspicuous place in each hack or other licensed vehicle; provided, however, that the standing of hacks shall not be permitted on any street upon which railroads operated by steam shall be used.

To compel attendance of absent members.

7. To compel the attendance of absent members of said council at any of the meetings thereof, and to cause the arrest of any person for disorderly conduct at their meetings.

Regulate speed of railway engines.

8. To regulate the speed of railway engines in the city; and to require railroad companies to station flagmen at street crossings; to grant franchises permitting steam railroads upon any of the streets of the city; provided, that the same shall only be granted after two weeks' notice, previously published in some newspaper published in the city, and by ordinance passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members elected to said council, approved by the mayor, and upon the previous petition, in writing, of the owners of two-thirds of the front feet of the lands upon the portion of the street to be so used.

Regulate entrance to and from theaters, etc.

9. To regulate the means of entrance to and exit from theaters, lecture-rooms, public halls, and churches, and to prohibit the placing of chairs, stools, benches, or other obstructions in the aisles of such buildings.

Railway companies to keep certain streets in repair.

10. To require railroad companies to keep the street in repair between the tracks and along and within the distance of two feet upon each side of the track occupied by the company.

License certain property and business.

§ 321. They shall also have the exclusive right, in the manner prescribed by ordinance, of issuing and granting licenses, and of collecting tax licenses for the benefit of the city, upon the following business and property, to wit: Upon each and every person within the limits of the city who shall vend any goods, wares or merchandise, wines, distilled or fermented liquors, drugs, medicines, jewelry, or wares of precious metals; upon persons who keep horses or carriages for rent or hire; upon persons keeping billiard-tables for hire, bowling-alleys, and shooting-galleries; also upon all taverns, innkeepers, and upon all persons who may sell or dispose of any malt, spirituous or fermented liquors or wines in less quantities than one quart; and the said licenses shall be issued quarterly or yearly. Also upon any person within the limits of the city, who shall keep a stallion, jack, bull, or ram, and who shall permit the same to be used for the purpose of propagation for hire or profit, which license shall be a yearly license; all of which licenses when granted by such city and duly obtained by the person or persons desiring the same, shall entitle them to carry on such business, trade, or profession in such city.

Sales and leases of city property.

§ 322. All sales or leases of property belonging to the city shall be by public auction to the highest bidder, and upon such terms and conditions as the council may by ordinance direct; and all contracts for supplies, of any kind, for more than five hundred dollars, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after ten days' notice given by posting the same in three of the most public places in the city or by publishing the same in any newspaper printed and published in such city.

Licenses.

§ 323. Licenses shall be discriminating and proportionate to the amount of business; and it shall be the duty of the council, by ordinance, to classify all kinds of business licensed in accordance herewith.

Ordinances.

§ 324. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The mayor and council of the city of — do ordain as follows." Every ordinance passed by the city council shall be presented to the mayor for his approval; if he approve it, he shall sign it; if not, he shall return it at the first meeting of the council held after five days thereafter, or at its next meeting; when the city council shall reconsider such ordinance, and if the same be approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected, and not otherwise, the same shall take effect and stand as an ordinance of such city. All ordinances shall be published for one week in a newspaper printed and published in such city, as often during such period as such newspaper shall be published.

Fixing rate of taxation.

§ 325. The council shall, upon the first Monday of October, in each year, fix the rate of taxation to be levied upon all property, both real and personal, in said municipality necessary to raise sufficient revenue to carry on the various departments of the city government for the then ensuing year, not to exceed one dollar for each one hundred dollars upon the assessment-roll, and to pay the bonded and other indebtedness of said city. The said council must, upon fixing said amount, transmit a statement thereof to the county auditor. The action of the city council in fixing the rate of taxation for city purposes is a valid levy of the rate so fixed upon all property, both real and personal, in the said city, and borne upon the assessment-roll of said county, and has the effect provided in sections 3716, 3717, and 3718 of the Political Code, in regard to state and county taxes. The county auditor shall thereupon compute and enter, in a separate money column in the assessment-book, the respective sums, in dollars and cents, rejecting the fractions of a cent, to be paid as a tax on the property therein enumerated, for the purposes of such city government, and foot up the column, showing the total amount of such taxes. The taxes so levied and computed shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes; and when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said city; provided, that any property sold for such taxes shall be subject to redemption within the time and in the manner provided, or that may hereafter be provided by law, for the redemption of property sold for state or county taxes. All deeds made upon any sale of property for taxes or special assessments, under the provisions of this chapter, shall have the same force and effect in evidence as is or may hereafter be provided by law for deeds for property sold for nonpayment of state or county taxes. The county treasurer must, at any time upon the demand of the city treasurer and mayor, settle with the city treasurer, and pay over to him all moneys in the county treasury belonging to such city, taking the receipt of the mayor and city treasurer therefor. The county treasurer shall receive, as compensation for all services rendered under this section as tax collector and treasurer, one-third of one per cent of all moneys collected and paid over to the city treasurer, but not to exceed in all one thousand dollars per annum. The county treasurer and tax collector shall be liable on his official bond for all moneys received by him under the provisions of this section.

Vote by yeas and nays in certain cases.

§ 326. In all matters before the city council concerning the granting of franchises, letting of contracts, auditing of bills, ordering of work to be done or supplies to be furnished, or whatever may involve the payment of money, or incurring of debt by the city, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and be recorded in the journal.

Restriction on members.

§ 327. No member of the city council shall vote in the council upon any motion, resolution, or ordinance, in favor of any franchise, contract, bill, award, or appropriation, in which he may have any pecuniary interest, present or prospective.

§ 328. The city council shall not create, allow or permit to accrue any debt or liability in excess of the available money in the treasury that may be legally apportioned and appropriated for such purposes; nor shall any warrant be drawn or evidence of indebtedness be issued, unless there be at the time sufficient money in the treasury legally applicable to the payment of the same, except as hereinafter provided.

Debt, how incurred and paid.

§ 329. If, at any time, the city council shall deem it necessary to incur any indebtedness in excess of the money in the treasury applicable to the purpose for which such indebtedness is to be incurred, they shall give notice of a special election by the qualified electors of the city, to be held to determine whether such indebtedness shall be incurred. Such notice shall specify the amount of indebtedness proposed to be incurred, the purpose or purposes of the same and the amount of money necessary to be raised annually by taxation for an interest and sinking fund, as hereinafter provided. Such notice shall be published for at least three weeks in some newspaper published in such city, as often during said period as said newspaper shall be published; and no other question or matter shall be submitted to the electors at such election. If, upon a canvass of the votes cast at such election, it appear that not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting at such election shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, it shall be the duty of the city council to pass an ordinance providing for the mode of creating such indebtedness, and of paying the same; and an annual tax shall be levied and collected upon all the real and personal property subject to taxation within such city, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due; and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof, within a period of not more than twenty years from the time of contracting the same. It shall be the duty of the city council, in each year thereafter, at the time at which other taxes are levied, to levy a tax sufficient for such purpose, in addition to the taxes by this chapter authorized to be levied. Such tax, when collected, shall be exclusively appropriated to the payment of the principal and interest or such indebtedness, and the city treasurer shall be liable upon his official bond for any part of said fund otherwise used or appropriated.

Separate fund.

§ 330. It shall be the duty of the city council before levying the annual city tax, to establish, by ordinance, separate funds, representing the several funded obligations of the city, if any, and the several departments requiring municipal expenditures, including a general fund, and the percentage of said levy shall be named for each fund, and the whole amount of taxes and revenues of the city apportioned accordingly, and no transfer shall be made except of balances in excess, or from the general fund to meet deficiencies, or to provide for the redemption of city bonds.

Bonded indebtedness, how paid.

§ 331. Any city having a bonded indebtedness, contracted, under laws heretofore passed, shall levy such taxes for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as are provided for in such laws, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied. All moneys received from licenses, and from fines, penalties, and for forfeitures, shall be paid into the general fund.

Opening new streets.

§ 332. The city council shall have power, upon the payment of just compensation, to lay out and open new streets, lanes, alleys, courts, and places within the corporate limits of the city, but shall have no power to subject the city to any expense therefor, except for the necessary expense of surveying and mapping out the same, and when said streets are so laid out and opened, the provisions of this chapter shall be applicable thereto.

License on common carriers.

§ 333. The city council of said city shall have power to issue and collect an annual tax license on draymen, cabmen, omnibus proprietors, expressmen, and other common carriers doing business in the city, the proceeds of said licenses to be devoted to a street department fund for keeping in repair the streets in the city. Said annual license not to be more than twelve dollars nor less than eight dollars for such persons so licensed.

Widening streets.

§ 334. The city council is empowered to open, extend, and widen streets, and to modify the boundaries thereof within its corporate limits, and to determine the property benefited thereby, and to assess the expenses of such improvement upon the property benefited, as hereinafter provided.

Proceedings, how commenced.

§ 335. All proceedings under said power shall be commenced by petition of five or more residents and freeholders within the city, signed by the petitioners, addressed to the city council, and filed with the clerk of said council. Such petition shall contain:

1. The names of the petitioners, and a statement that each of the petitioners is a resident and freeholder within the city;
2. A statement that, in the opinion of the petitioners, the public interests require that the improvement asked for (describing it generally) should be made;
3. A request that the common council proceed to order the improvement made.

Duty of council.

§ 336. At the regular meeting next after the meeting at which the petition is presented to the council, or at any subsequent meeting to which the proceedings may be regularly adjourned, the said council may, by resolution duly passed, determine the lands to be benefited by the improvement asked for in the petition, and to be assessed for the expenses thereof. Said resolution shall contain a description of each lot, piece, or parcel of land necessary to be taken and condemned for such improvement, and shall also specify the exterior boundaries of the district of land benefited thereby, and to be assessed therefor, and shall direct the city engineer to make a survey and map of the lands described in the resolution, a copy of which resolution shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk of said council to the said city engineer.

Duty of city engineer.

§ 337. It shall be the duty of the city engineer, immediately upon receiving a copy of the resolution mentioned in section 4, to survey the lands described in said resolution and make a map thereof, and to return said map to said council within twenty (20) days from the receipt by him of said copy of the resolution; said map shall show each piece, tract, or parcel of land necessary to be taken and condemned for said improvement, and also the exterior boundaries of the district to be benefited by such improvement and to be assessed on account of the cost and expenses thereof, as declared in the resolution, and the area thereof, exclusive of public streets and alleys. Said city engineer shall have the right to enter upon the lands and make examinations and surveys thereof, and such entry shall constitute no cause of action in favor of the owners of said lands, except for injuries resulting from negligence, wantonness, or malice.

Preliminary resolution.

§ 338. The council, at its regular meeting next after the return of the map by the city engineer, shall pass a preliminary resolution, declaring the intention of the corporation to make the improvement asked for in the petition. Said resolution shall contain a description of each piece, lot, or tract of land necessary and sought to be taken and condemned for the improvement, and also the exterior boundaries of the district of lands to be benefited thereby, and assessed for the expenses thereof; the resolution shall also specify a time, not more than fifteen (15) days from the passage thereof, for the hearing by said council of objections to the proposed improvement, and said resolution shall be published in at least one daily paper printed and circulated in the city, daily (Sundays and nonjudicial days excepted), for at least ten (10) days prior to the time fixed for said hearing.

Objections.

§ 339. If a majority of the owners of the lands in area to be assessed for the expenses of said improvement shall, on or before the day fixed by said resolution for the hearing of objections, appear and protest against said improvement, the proceedings shall be discontinued; provided, however, that such protest must be in writing, and shall contain a description of the land claimed by each protestant; and provided further, that the council may, by a unanimous vote of all its members, approved by the mayor, proceed to cause such improvement to be made, notwithstanding such protest.

Final resolution.

§ 340. If the owners of a majority in area of the property to be assessed for the expenses of said improvement fail to appear and protest as provided in section 7, or if the council, by a unanimous vote, approved by the mayor, order said improvement to be made, said council must immediately pass a final resolution, declaring such determination. Such resolution shall refer to the said preliminary resolution, by its number, for a description of the lands necessary and sought to be taken and condemned for said improvement, and the district to be assessed for the expenses thereof.

Commissioners to assess damages.

§ 341. Immediately after the passage of such final resolution, the council shall apply to the superior court of the county in which such city is situated, either in term time or vacation, by petition, for the appointing of three commissioners to assess the compensation which shall be paid to the owners thereof for the lands sought to be taken for such improvement, and to assess upon the property within the district to be benefited thereby the costs of such improvement. Said petition shall recite all the proceedings had in the premises, and shall specify the exterior boundaries of the lands sought to be taken, and also the exterior boundaries of the district of lands to be benefited thereby, and assessed for the expenses thereof. A copy of the map made by the city engineer shall be annexed to said petition, and may be referred to in the petition for a description of the lands aforesaid.

Duty of court.

§ 342. Upon filing such petition, such court shall pass and take such jurisdiction of such proceeding, and such court, or a judge thereof, shall, by order, fix a day for the hearing of such petition, which shall be not less than ten, nor more than twenty days from the date of such order. Such order shall further direct notice of the time and place of such hearing to be given by the clerk by publication in two daily newspapers published in such city, and designated in such order, for at least a period of ten days in succession.

Requisites of notice.

§ 343. Such notice shall specify the exterior boundaries of the lands sought to be taken for such improvement, and of the lands declared to be profited thereby and to be assessed for the expenses thereof, and shall further state that the damages to which the owner or owners of the land sought to be taken may be entitled for the same will be inquired into and determined, and that such damages, together with the cost of the proceedings for the acquiring title to such lands, and making apportionment thereof, will be apportioned and assessed upon the lands to be benefited thereby, by commissioners to be appointed by such court, on the day fixed by such order for the hearing. Such notice shall be published daily for at least ten days (Sundays and nonjudicial days excepted) before such hearing.

Hearing.

§ 344. At the time fixed for the hearing, or at such other time as the hearing may be adjourned to, the court shall proceed to hear any person interested touching the regularity of the proceedings, and if satisfied that the proceedings have been regular, shall appoint three competent and disinterested commissioners. The court may, at any time, remove any or all such commissioners for cause, upon reasonable notice and hearing, and may fill the vacancies occurring among them from any cause. Any persons interested may object to the appointment of any person as commissioner, on one or more of the grounds specified in section 641 of the Code of Civil Procedure, as grounds for the objection to the appointment of persons as referees.

Duty of commissioners.

§ 345. Commissioners shall be sworn to faithfully perform their duties according to the provisions of this chapter. They shall then proceed to view the lands mentioned and described in such resolution and petition, and may examine witnesses on oath, to be administered by any one of them, and shall keep minutes of the testimony so taken: they shall ascertain and appraise the value of the property sought to be taken for th improvements, and of all improvements thereon partaking of the realty, and of each and every estate therein; if it consist of different parcels, the value of each parcel and each estate, or interest therein, shall be separately appraised; if this property sought to be taken constitutes only a part of a larger parcel, the damages which will accrue to the portion not sought to be condemned or taken by reason of the severance from the portion sought to be taken, and the construction of the improvement in the manner proposed shall be appraised by said commissioners; they shall also ascertain and determine, as near as may be, the entire costs of the proceedings for the opening, extension, or improvement aforesaid, including the costs of court and of commissioners; they shall then proceed to apportion and assess the whole amount of such costs and expenses, value of property sought to be taken, and damages to property not taken, upon the property within the district declared by the resolution of the council to be benefited by said improvement, and shall assess each tract, lot, piece, or parcel of land within said district in proportion to the benefits received by it from said improvement.

Report.

§ 346. The said commissioners, within a time to be fixed by the court, shall make a report of their proceedings, under their hands, or the hands of a majority of them, to the said court, in which report they shall describe, with common certainty, the several parcels of land sought to be taken for such improvement, and the names of the owners thereof, respectively, so far as they can be ascertained, designating unknown owners, if any such there be, and the sum of money which should be paid to each of said owners, as his or her compensation for the land necessary and sought to be taken and condemned for such improvement, or of his or her estate, therein; and in case only a part of a larger parcel has been taken for such improvement, and the remaining portion is damaged or benefited thereby, they shall describe such remaining portion, and specify the sum to be paid or assessed to the owner thereof, or such damages or benefits as the case may be; they shall also describe, with common certainty, the several parcels of land within the district deemed to be benefited by said improvement, and the names of the owners thereof, so far as they can be ascertained, designating unknown owners, if such there be, and the sum of money which is assessed upon each particular parcel, and which should be paid by the owner thereof.

Objections.

§ 347. Upon the filing of such report, the said court shall, by order, fix a day for hearing objections to the confirmation thereof, and shall direct notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by the clerk, by publication in a daily newspaper published in said city, for at least ten days (Sundays and nonjudicial days excepted), prior to said day of hearing.

Hearing report.

§ 348. Upon the day fixed for the hearing, the court shall proceed to hear any person interested upon any question touching the regularity of the proceedings, the sufficiency of the compensation awarded, or the justice or equality of the assessment, and may confirm said report or set the same aside, or remand the same for correction or alteration in any particular. If the report be set aside, the matter may in like manner be referred to the same or new commissioners appointed by the court, who shall proceed as hereinbefore provided; if the report be remanded, it shall be corrected, or altered in any particular required by the court.

Compensation of commissioners.

§ 349. The commissioners shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their services, to be certified to by the court, and taxed as part of the expenses of the proceeding.

Judgment, what to contain.

§ 350. Upon confirmation of the report of the commissioners, judgment shall be rendered by the court thereon, which judgment must describe each parcel of land taken for such improvement and the amount to which the owner is entitled as compensation or damages for the taking thereof, and the name of such owner or owners, if known; and in case only a portion of a larger parcel is taken, such judgment must describe such remaining portion, and the amount, if anything, to which the owner thereof is entitled as damages; and must also describe each parcel of land assessed for the expenses of such improvement, and the amount so assessed upon each parcel respectively. Such judgment shall direct a sale of each parcel so assessed, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount of such assessment and expenses of sale, and the application of the proceeds of such sale to the payment of the expenses of such sale, and the amount of compensation and damages awarded by such judgment. Such judgment shall be a lien upon the property against which such assessment is made, and may be enforced by a sale of the property assessed, as hereinafter provided.

Enforcement of judgment.

§ 351. Within thirty days after the entry of such judgment, the persons liable must pay to the clerk of the court, for the benefit of the parties entitled thereto, the several amounts specified in such judgment, in default of which the respective parcels of land upon which such assessments have not been paid shall be sold by the sheriff of such county under a certified copy of such judgment, and in the manner provided by law for the sale of property upon decree of foreclosure of mortgage.

Money, to whom paid.

§ 352. The moneys realized from such sale shall be paid by the officer making the same, to the clerk of the court, for the benefit of the parties entitled thereto.

Final order.

§ 353. Whenever the aggregate amount of damages or compensation awarded by such county, and thereupon, the property described therein shall vest in such city for moneys realized from sales under such judgment, the court must make and enter a final order or decree of condemnation of the lands taken for such improvement, which order or decree shall describe the property condemned and the purpose of such condemnation.

When title vests.

§ 354. A copy of such order or decree must be filed in the office of the recorder of such county, and thereupon, the property described therein shall vest in such city for the uses and purposes therein specified; and such city shall be entitled to and may take immediate possession thereof.

Payment of awards.

§ 355. Whenever the aggregate amount of damages or compensation awarded by such judgment shall have come to the hands of the clerk, he shall, upon the demand of any person entitled thereto, pay to said party the amount awarded to him or her by said judgment.

Where more than one claimant.

§ 356. If there is more than one claimant to any parcel of land taken for such improvement, or if the owner of any parcel is unknown, the amount awarded as damages or compensation for the taking thereof shall remain in court to be awarded to the true owner by due process of law.

Appeal.

§ 357. Any party feeling aggrieved by any proceedings, orders, or judgments of such court herein provided for may appeal to the supreme court, as in other cases.

Appointment of police.

§ 358. The city council shall not have power to appoint a greater number of policemen than shall be equal to one for every one thousand of the population of such city. No policeman or member of the fire department shall be removed from office except upon the order and direction of the mayor, and after charges in writing have been made against him, and evidence upon the same shall have been heard in public in the mode and manner to be prescribed by ordinance.

Supply of gas and water.

§ 359. All gas and water pipes laid in any paved, macadamized, or graded street must be of sufficient capacity to afford a free supply of gas or water for the estimated necessities of such street, and the district to be supplied by such pipes, for a period of not less than five years from the time of laying the same; which estimate of necessity and capacity shall be made by the city engineer, and approved by the council. It shall be the duty of the council, by ordinance, to prescribe regulations for the laying of gas and water pipes in the public streets.

ARTICLE IV.—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.Duty of mayor.

§ 370. The mayor shall preside at all meetings of the city council, but the council shall elect a president pro tempore to preside during his absence. He shall communicate to the council semi-annually, or oftener if necessary a general statement of the situation and condition of the city, together with such recommendations relative thereto as he may deem expedient. He shall be vigilant and active in causing the ordinances of the city to be executed and enforced. He shall be the head of police, and shall exercise a supervision and control over the conduct of all subordinate officers, and receive and examine into all complaints preferred against any of them for violation or neglect of duty, and certify the same to the council. He shall sign all ordinances and contracts made on behalf of the city, and countersign all licenses and warrants on the treasury. He shall keep accounts current with every officer charged with the receipt or disbursement of money, and perform all the duties of an auditor. He shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law or ordinance.

Allowance of demands.

§ 371. Every demand upon the treasury, except for the salary of the mayor, must, before it can be paid, be presented to the mayor, to be allowed, who shall satisfy himself whether the money is legally due and remains unpaid, and whether the payment thereof from the treasury of the city is authorized by law, and out of what fund. If he allow it, he shall indorse upon it the word "Allowed," with the name of the fund out of which it is payable, with the date of such allowance, and sign his name thereto; but the allowance or approval of the mayor, or of the city council, or of any other board or officer, of any demand which upon the face of it appears not to have been expressly made by law payable out of the treasury or fund to be charged therewith, shall afford no warrant to the treasurer or other disbursing officer for paying the same. The demand of the mayor for his salary shall be audited and allowed by the president pro tempore of the city council.

Duty of chief of police.

§ 372. The chief of police shall execute, within the city, and return all process issued and directed to him by the city justices, or either of them, arrest all persons guilty of a breach of the peace, or of a violation of any ordinance of the council, and take them before the proper magistrate within the city; and do and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by ordinance or may be required by the mayor.

Effect of records of street superintendent.

§ 373. The records kept by the street superintendent of the city, and signed by him, shall have the same force and effect as other public records, and copies therefrom, duly certified, may be used in evidence with the same effect as the originals. The said records shall, during all office hours, be open to the inspection of any citizen wishing to examine them, free of charge.

Office of street superintendent.

§ 374. The street superintendent shall keep a public office in some convenient place to be designated by the city council, and such records as may be required by law. He shall superintend and direct the cleaning of all the sewers in the public streets, and the expense of the same shall be paid out of the street department fund, and perform all duties required by law or ordinance of such city.

Duty of street superintendent.

§ 375. It shall be the duty of the street superintendent to see that the laws, orders, and regulations relating to the public streets and highways are fully carried into execution, and that the penalties therefor are regularly enforced. He shall keep himself informed of the condition of all public streets and highways, and also of all public buildings, parks, lots, and ground of the city, as may be prescribed by the council; and should he fail to see the laws, orders, and regulations relative to the public streets and highways carried into execution, after notice from any citizen of a violation thereof, he and his sureties shall be liable upon his official bond to any person injured in person or property in consequence of such neglect.

No recourse on city for certain damages.

§ 376. If, in consequence of any graded street or public highway, improved under the provisions of this chapter, being out of repair, and in a condition to endanger persons or animals passing therein, any person while carefully using such street or public highway, and exercising ordinary care to avoid such danger, suffer damage to his person, or if any animals or other property, being lawfully ridden, driven, or conveyed through such street or public highway, be injured, lost, or destroyed through any such defect therein, no recourse for damages thus suffered shall be had against the city; but if such defect in such street or public highway shall have existed for a period of twenty-four hours or more after notice to the street superintendent, then the street superintendent, and also all other officers through whose official negligence such defect shall have remained unrepaired, shall jointly and severally be liable to the party injured for the damages so sustained.

City engineer, appointment of, and duties.

§ 377. The city council shall have power to appoint a city engineer, and by ordinance to prescribe his duties and fix his compensation, not to exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum. It shall be the duty of the city engineer to do the surveying and other work necessary to be done by law or any ordinance of said city, and to survey, measure, and estimate the work done and to be done under contracts for grading streets; and every certificate of work done by him, signed in his official capacity, shall be prima facie evidence in all the courts of this state of the truth of its contents; he shall also keep a record of all surveys made by him.

Duties of treasurer.

§ 378. The treasurer shall receive and pay out all moneys belonging to the city, and keep an account of all receipts and expenditures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance; he shall make a monthly statement to the council of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding month, and in his capacity as city clerk he shall keep all the papers and documents belonging to the city, attend the meetings of the council, and keep a journal of their proceedings, and a record of all their ordinances, and shall do all other things required of him by ordinances.

Reports of officers.

§ 379. It shall be the duty of the several elected and appointed officers of said city, whenever required by the city council, to make reports, to the said council, and in the manner required of them, and in their reports to embody all the matters and information required pertaining to the duties of their respective offices.

Other necessary affairs.

§ 380. The city council may provide by ordinance for the election or appointment of any other officer or officers necessary for the good government of the city, and the proper administration of the public interest, and shall prescribe their duties and terms of office, and fix their compensation.

ARTICLE V.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.Police court.

§ 390. The judicial power of the city shall be vested in a police court, to be held therein by the city justices, or one of them, to be designated by the mayor, but either of said city justices may hold such court without such designation, and it is hereby made the duty of such city justices, in addition to the duties now required of them by law, to hold said police court.

Jurisdiction.

§ 391. The police court shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the following public offenses committed in the city:

1. Petit larceny;
2. Assault or battery, not charged to have been committed upon a public officer in the discharge of official duty, or with intent to kill;
3. Breaches of the peace, riots, affrays, committing willful injury to property, and all misdemeanors punishable by fine or by imprisonment, or by both such fine and imprisonment;
4. Of proceedings respecting vagrants, lewd or disorderly persons.

Jurisdiction.

§ 392. Said court shall also have exclusive jurisdiction of all proceedings for violation of any ordinance of said city, both civil and criminal, and of an action for the collection of any license required by any ordinance of said city.

Justices inhibited in certain cases.

§ 393. Neither of said justices shall sit in cases in which he is a party, or in which he is interested, or where he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, and in case of sickness or inability of the city justices, either of them may call in a justice of the peace residing in the county to act in his place and stead.

Powers of justices.

§ 394. Each of the city justices, while acting as judge of said court, shall also have power to hear cases for examination, and may commit and hold the offender to bail for trial in the proper court, and may try, condemn, or acquit, and carry his judgment into execution as the case may require, according to law, and punish persons guilty of contempt of court; and shall have power to issue warrants of arrests in case of a criminal prosecution for a violation of a city ordinance, as well as in case of the violation of the criminal law of the state; also all subpoenas, and all other processes necessary to the full and proper exercise of his powers and jurisdiction; and in such of the cases enumerated in this section in which trial by jury is not secured by the constitution of the state, he may proceed to judgment in the first instance without a jury, but on appeal the defendant shall be entitled to trial by jury in the superior court.

Clerk of court.

§ 395. The police court shall have a clerk, to be appointed by the city council, upon the nomination of the mayor, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the council. The clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of and issue all process ordered by the city justices, or either of them, or by said police court, and receive and pay weekly into the city treasury all fines imposed by said court. He shall also each month render to the mayor (as auditor) an exact and detailed account, upon oath, of all fines imposed and collected, and all fines imposed and uncollected, since his last report. He shall prepare bonds, justify bail, when the amount has been fixed by either of the city justices or said court, in cases not exceeding one hundred dollars, and may administer oaths. The clerk shall remain at the courtroom of said court during business hours, and during such reasonable times thereafter as may be necessary for discharging his duty. Before receiving his salary, each or any month, he shall make and file with the auditor an affidavit that he has deposited with the city treasurer all moneys that have come to his hands belonging to the city. Any violation of this provision shall be a misdemeanor. He shall give a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with at least two sureties to be approved by the mayor, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

Disposition of moneys.

§ 396. All fines and other moneys collected on behalf of the city in the police court shall be paid into the city treasury on the first Tuesday of each month; and all bills for fees and costs due the officers of said court shall be reported to the city council each month.

Dockets.

§ 397. The city council shall furnish a suitable room for the holding of said court, and shall also furnish the necessary dockets and blanks. One docket shall be styled "The City Criminal Docket," in which all the criminal business shall be recorded, and each case shall be alphabetically indexed; another docket shall be styled "The City Civil Docket," and it shall contain each and every civil case in which the city is a party, or which is prosecuted or defended for her interest, and each case shall be properly indexed. A third docket shall contain all the other business appertaining to the office of said city justice, and in all cases the docket shall contain all such entries as are required by law to be made in justices' dockets; and in any case tried before the court, the docket must show what duties were performed by any officer of the court, and the amount of the fees due to the officer for such services, and what amount of money, if any, collected.

Court, when open.

§ 398. The police court shall be always open, except upon nonjudicial days, and then for such purposes only as by law permitted or required of other courts of this state.

Appeals.

§ 399. Appeals may be taken from any judgment of said police court, to the superior court of the county in which such city may be situated, in the same manner in which appeals are taken from justices' courts in like cases.

Place of imprisonment.

§ 400. In all cases of imprisonment of persons convicted in said police court of any offense committed in the city, the persons so to be imprisoned, or by ordinance required to labor, shall be imprisoned in the city jail, or if required to labor, shall labor in the city.

Seal.

§ 401. Said court shall have a seal, to be furnished by the city.

Monthly report.

§ 402. The city justices shall, on the first Tuesday of each month, make to the city council a full and complete report of all the cases, civil and criminal, in which the city has an interest, or which are required to be entered in the city civil docket, or the city criminal docket; such report to be made upon blanks to be furnished by the city council, and in such form as they may require.

Transcripts and warrants.

§ 403. Certified transcripts of the dockets, made by the clerk of said court, under the seal of said court, shall be evidence in any court of this state of the contents of said docket; and all warrants and other process issued out of said court, and all acts done by said court, and certified under its seal, shall have the same force and validity in any part of this state as though issued or done by any court of record of this state.

ARTICLE VI.—EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.Board of education.

§ 410. The government of the school department of the city shall be vested in a board of education, to consist of seven members, to be called school directors. One school director shall be elected from each ward at the regular municipal election, by the vote of the city at large, and shall hold office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified; provided, that the first board of education elected under the provisions of this chapter shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves by lot as that three of their number shall go out of office at the expiration of two years, and four at the expiration of four years.

Organization.

§ 411. The board of education shall meet on the first Monday after their election, and elect one of their number president, and shall hold meetings at least once in each month thereafter at such times as shall be determined by a rule of said board. A majority of all the members elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn from time to time. The board may determine the rules of its proceedings. Its sessions shall be public, and its records shall be open to public inspection. The board shall also have power to fill all vacancies occurring in the board until the next regular municipal election.

Power of board.

§ 412. The board of education shall have sole power:

1. To establish and maintain public schools, and to establish school districts, and to fix and alter the boundaries thereof.

Employees.

2. To employ and dismiss teachers, janitors, and school-census marshals, and to fix, alter, allow and order paid their salaries or compensation, and to employ and pay such mechanics and laborers as may be necessary to carry into effect the powers and duties of the board, and to withhold, for good and sufficient cause, the whole or any part of the salary or wages of any person or persons employed as aforesaid.

Regulation of schools.

3. To make, establish, and enforce all necessary and proper rules and regulations, not contrary to law, for the government and progress of public schools within the city, the teachers thereof, and the pupils therein, and for carrying into effect the laws relating to education; also to establish and regulate the grade of schools, and determine what text-books, courses of study, and mode of instruction shall be used in said schools.

Supplies.

4. To provide for the school department of the city fuel and lights, water, blanks, blank-books, printing and stationery, and to incur such other incidental expenses as may be deemed necessary by said board.

Building and repairs.

5. To build, alter, repair, rent, and provide schoolhouses, and furnish them with proper school furniture, apparatus, and appliances, and to insure any and all such school property.

To hold property in trust.

6. To receive, purchase, lease, and hold in fee, in trust for the city, any and all real estate, and to hold in trust any personal property that may have been acquired, or may hereafter be acquired, for the use and the benefit of the public schools of the city; provided, that no real estate shall be bought, sold, or exchanged, or expenditures incurred for the construction of new schoolhouses without the consent of four members of the board of education and four members of the city council; and provided further, that the proceeds of any such sale or exchange of real estate shall be exclusively applied to the purchase of other lots, or the erection of schoolhouses; and the city council of the city is hereby authorized and required to make over to said board of education, upon application in writing by said board, through its president and secretary, by good and sufficient deeds of conveyance, all property, both real and personal, now held by said city council in trust for the city for the use and benefit of the public schools; and the said board is hereby authorized to defray all expenses attending the same.

To improve property.

7. To grade, fence, and improve all school lots, and in front thereof to grade, sewer, plank, or pave and repair streets, and to construct and repair sidewalks.

To sue and defend.

8. To sue for any and all lots, lands and property belonging to or claimed by the said school department, and to prosecute and defend all actions at law or in equity necessary to recover and maintain the full enjoyment and possession of said lots, lands, and property.

To estimate money needed.

9. To determine annually the amount of money required for the support of the public schools, and for carrying into effect all the provisions of law in reference thereto; and in pursuance of this provision the board shall, on or before the first Monday in February of each year, submit in writing to the city council a careful estimate of the whole amount of money to be received from the state and county, and the amount required from the city for the above purposes, and the amount so found to be required from the city, shall, by the city council, be added to the other amounts to be assessed and collected for city purposes; provided, that the amount to be thus assessed for school purposes shall not exceed thirty cents on each one hundred dollars valuation upon the assessment-roll, but may be increased to forty cents by consent of two-thirds of the city council, and that when collected it shall be immediately paid into the school fund, to be drawn out only upon the order of the board of education.

Disbursements.

10. To establish regulations for the just and equal disbursement of all moneys belonging to the public school fund.

Demands.

11. To examine and allow, in whole and in part, every demand payable out of the school fund, or to reject any such demands for good cause.

Encumbrances.

12. To discharge all legal encumbrances now existing, or which may hereafter exist, upon any school property.

Age limit.

13. To prohibit any child under six years of age from attending the public schools.

Other acts.

14. And generally to do and perform such other acts as may be necessary and proper to carry into force and effect the powers conferred on said board, and to increase the efficiency of the public schools in said city.

Oaths on demands.

§ 413. The president of the board of education shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations concerning any demand upon the treasury payable out of the school fund, or other matters relating to his official duties.

Contracts.

§ 414. All contracts for building shall be given to the lowest bidder therefor offering adequate security, to be determined by the board, after due public notice published for not less than ten days in one daily paper of the city.

No director or superintendent to be a party.

§ 415. No school director or superintendent shall be interested in any contract pertaining in any manner to the school department of said city. All contracts in violation of this section are declared void, and any director or superintendent violating or aiding in violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and shall be punished by fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars.

City board of examiners.

§ 416. No teacher shall be employed in any of the public schools without having a certificate issued under the provisions of this chapter. For the purpose of granting the certificates required, the board of education shall appoint a city board of examination. The city board of examination shall consist of the school superintendent and four other persons, residents of such city, at least two of whom shall be experienced teachers. The members of the city board of examination shall receive for their services such compensation as may be fixed by the board of education. Such city board of examination shall have power:

Rules.

First. To adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of this state for its own government, and for the examination of teachers.

Examination.

Second. To examine applicants, and to prescribe a standard of proficiency which will entitle the person examined to a certificate.

Certificates.

Third. To grant city certificates of three grades:

1. High school certificates, valid for six years, and authorizing the holder to teach any primary, grammar, or high school in such city;

2. City certificates, first grade, valid for four years, and authorizing the holder to teach any primary or grammar school in such city;

3. City certificates, second grade, valid for two years, and authorizing the holder to teach any primary school in such city;

Fourth. Without examination, to grant city certificates and fix the grade thereof to the holders of state life diplomas, state educational diplomas, state normal school diplomas, state university diplomas (when recommended by the faculty of the university), state certificates, city certificates granted in other cities of this state, and life diplomas, and state normal school diplomas of other states;

Fifth. To revoke or suspend for immoral or unprofessional conduct, profanity, intemperance, or evident unfitness for teaching, any certificate granted by them.

Secretary.

§ 417. The school superintendent shall act as secretary and bookkeeper of the board of education, and perform all clerical duties required by such board. In the absence of the superintendent, the board of education may appoint one of their own number to act as secretary. The school superintendent may appoint an assistant at a salary of one hundred dollars per month. The superintendent may, for a good and sufficient cause, provisionally suspend any teacher employed in the schools of such city until the next meeting of the board of education.

Superintendent's reports.

§ 418. The superintendent shall report to the board of education annually, and at such other times as they may require, all matters pertaining to the expenditures, income and condition and progress of the public schools of said city during the preceding year, with such recommendations as he may deem proper.

Duty of superintendent.

§ 419. It shall be the duty of the superintendent to visit and examine each school at least once a month, to observe, and cause to be observed, such general rules for the regulation and government and instruction of the schools, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as may be established by the board of education; to attend the sessions of the board, and inform them at each session of the condition of the public schools, schoolhouses, school fund, and other matters connected therewith, and to recommend such measures as he may deem necessary for the advancement of education in the city. He shall acquaint himself with all the laws, rules, and regulations governing the public schools in said city, and the judicial decisions thereon, and give advice on subjects connected with the public schools, gratuitously, to officers, teachers, pupils, and their parents and guardians.

Vacancy.

§ 420. In case of vacancy in the office of superintendent, the board of education shall have power to fill the vacancy until the next ensuing municipal election.

School fund.

§ 421. The school fund of the city shall consist of all moneys received from the state school fund; of all moneys arising from taxes which shall be levied annually by the city council of the city for school purposes; of all moneys arising from the sale, rent, or exchange of any school property, and of such other moneys as may, from any source whatever, be paid into said school fund; which fund shall be kept separate and distinct from all other moneys, and shall only be used for school purposes under the provisions of this chapter. If, at the end of any fiscal year, any surplus remains in the school fund, such surplus money shall be carried forward to the school fund of the next fiscal year, and shall not be, for any purpose whatever, diverted or withdrawn from said fund, except under the provisions of this chapter.

School fund, how expended.

§ 422. The said school fund shall be used and applied by said board of education for the following purposes, to wit:

1. For the payment of the salaries or wages of teachers, janitors, school-census marshals, and other persons who may be employed by said board;
2. For the erection, alteration, repairs, rent, and furnishing of schoolhouses;
3. For the purchase money or rent of any real or personal property purchased or leased by said board;
4. For the insurance of all property;
5. For the discharge of all legal encumbrances on any school property;
6. For lighting schoolrooms, and the offices and rooms of the superintendent and board of education;
7. For supplying the schools with fuel, water, apparatus, blanks, blank-books, and necessary school appliances, together with books for indigent children;
8. For supplying books, printing and stationery for the use of the superintendent and board of education, and for the incidental expenses of the board and department;
9. For the payment of the salary of the superintendent and assistant superintendent;
10. For grading and improving all school lots, and for grading, sewerage, planking, or paving and repairing streets, and constructing and repairing sidewalks in front thereof.

Claims.

§ 423. All claims payable out of the school fund shall be filed with the secretary of the board, and after they shall have been approved by a majority of all the members elect of said board, upon a call of the ayes and noes, which shall be recorded, they shall be signed by the president of the board and by the superintendent, and be sent to the city treasurer. Every demand shall have indorsed upon it a certificate of its approval. All demands for salaries shall be paid monthly.

Debt not to be in excess of income.

§ 424. All demands authorized by this article shall be paid by the city treasurer from the school fund, when the same shall be presented to him, ordered paid, and approved by the board; provided, that the said board shall not have power to contract any debt or liabilities, in any form whatsoever, against the said city, in contravention of this article, or exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for the school fund for such year.

Auditor to certify.

§ 425. It shall be the duty of the auditor of the county in which any such city may be situated, upon the first Monday in each month, and at such other times as he may deem proper, to certify in duplicate to the superintendent of schools of such county, the amount of school moneys at that time in the county treasury, and the amount received during the previous month. The county superintendent shall, upon receipt of such certificates, indorse upon one of them the amount of such moneys to which the common schools in such city are entitled. The certificate so indorsed shall at once be returned to said auditor, who shall direct upon the same the county treasurer to pay the sum designated upon such certificate to the treasury of such city for the use of the school fund thereof.

Treasurer to pay.

§ 426. The treasurer of such county shall thereupon pay to the treasurer of such city the sum directed by the auditor as above provided; and when said moneys are placed in such city school fund, they shall be used in precisely the same manner as moneys raised by city school taxes in such city; provided, that the entire revenue derived by such city from the state school fund, and the state school tax, shall be applied by said board of education exclusively to the support of primary and grammar schools.

CHAPTER IV.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS OF THE THIRD CLASS.

(A charter for cities having a population of more than 15,000 and not exceeding 30,000.)

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL POWERS.

Third class.

§ 500. Every municipal corporation of the third class shall be entitled the city of — (naming it), and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue and be sued in all courts and places, and all proceedings whatever; shall have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the city authorities, and may purchase, lease, receive, hold, and enjoy real and personal property, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit.

ARTICLE II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO OFFICERS.

City officers.

§ 501. The government of such city shall be vested in a mayor; a common council, to consist of seven aldermen; a board of education, to consist of seven school directors; a police judge; an assessor; a clerk, who shall be ex-officio auditor; a treasurer; a superintendent of streets; a tax and license collector; a water-rate collector; a city attorney, and such other and inferior officers as the common council may appoint.

Election and tenure.

§ 502. The aldermen, mayor, police judge, city attorney, and assessor shall be elected by the qualified electors of such city, at a general municipal election to be held therein on the second Tuesday in March, in each even-numbered year. The mayor, police judge, city attorney, and assessor shall hold office for the period of two years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The members of the common council and board of education shall hold office for the period of four years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified; provided, that the first common council elected under the provisions of this chapter shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves by lot as that three of their number shall go out of office at the expiration of two years, and four at the expiration of four years; and provided further, that the first board of education elected under the provisions of this chapter shall, at their first meeting so classify themselves by lots as that three of their number shall go out of office at the expiration of two years, and four at the expiration of four years.

Other officers appointed.

§ 503. All other officers, except as otherwise in this chapter provided, shall be appointed by the common council, upon the nomination of the mayor, and shall hold office for the period of two years from and after the date of such appointment, and until their successors are appointed, elected, and qualified.

Bonds.

§ 504. The common council shall, by ordinance, determine what officers shall give bonds for the faithful performance of their duties, and fix the amount of such bond; and each of such officers shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, execute a bond to such city in such penal sum as the common council by ordinance may determine, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, including in the same bond the duties of all offices of which he is made by this chapter ex-officio incumbent. Such bonds shall be approved by the common council. All bonds, when approved, shall be filed with the clerk, except the bond of the clerk, if any, which shall be filed with the mayor. All the provisions of any law of this state relating to the official bonds of officers shall apply to such bonds except as herein otherwise provided. Every officer of such city, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and file with the clerk the constitutional oath of office.

Vacancies.

§ 505. Any vacancy occurring in any of the offices provided for in this chapter, except in the office of school director, shall be filled by appointment by the common council upon the nomination of the mayor, but if such office be elective, such appointee shall hold office only until the next regular election, at which time a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term.

Compensation.

§ 506. The aldermen and school directors shall receive no compensation whatever. The annual salaries of other officers shall be as follows: Mayor, one thousand two hundred dollars; police judge, one thousand eight hundred dollars; assessor, one thousand eight hundred dollars; city attorney, one thousand five hundred dollars; street superintendent, one thousand two hundred dollars; clerk and auditor, one thousand five hundred dollars; tax and license collector, one thousand two hundred dollars; treasurer, one thousand dollars; water-rate collector, one thousand two hundred dollars; school superintendent, one thousand five hundred dollars; all of which salaries shall be paid monthly.

Elections.

§ 507. All elections in such city shall be held in accordance with the general election law of the state, so far as the same may be made applicable; and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county, enrolled upon the great register thereof, and shall have resided in such city for at least thirty days next preceding such election. The common council shall give such notice of each election as may be prescribed by ordinance, shall appoint boards of election, and fix their compensation, and establish and change election precincts and polling-places; provided, that no part of any ward less than the whole thereof shall be attached to any other ward, or part thereof, in forming election precincts. At any municipal election the last printed great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such printed register shall be entitled to vote upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and official seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county, provided that he is otherwise entitled to vote.

Eligibility to office.

§ 508. No person shall be eligible to or hold any office in such city, whether filled by election or appointment, unless he be a resident and elector therein, and shall have resided in such city for one year next preceding the date of such election or appointment; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to school superintendents or school teachers. One alderman and one school director shall be elected from each ward, and the person so elected must be a resident of the ward from which he is so elected, and continue to be such resident during his term of office, and if he shall fail to so continue a resident of such ward, his office shall by reason thereof, immediately become vacant.

Free library.

§ 509. The trustees of any free public library created or existing in such city under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to establish free public libraries and reading-rooms," approved April twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and eighty, shall be appointed by the council in the same manner as other officers are appointed under the provisions of this chapter, anything in the provisions of said act to the contrary notwithstanding.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Common council—Meetings.

§ 520. The common council shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the date of said general municipal election, and shall hold regular meetings at least once in each month, at such times as they shall fix by ordinance. Special meetings may be called at any time by the mayor, or by three aldermen, by written notice delivered to each member at least three hours before the time specified for the proposed meeting. All meetings of the common council shall be held within the corporate limits of the city, at such place as may be designated by ordinance, and shall be public.

Mayor to preside.

§ 521. At any meeting of the common council, a majority of the aldermen shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a less number may adjourn from time to time, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as may be prescribed by ordinance. The mayor shall preside at all meetings of the council, and in case of his absence, the council may appoint a president pro tem.; and in case of the absence of the clerk, the mayor or president pro tem. shall appoint one of the members of the council clerk pro tem.

Rules.

§ 522. The common council shall judge of the qualifications of its members, and of all election returns, and determine contested elections of all city officers. They may establish rules for the conduct of their proceedings, and punish any member or other person for disorderly behavior at any meeting. They shall cause the clerk to keep a correct journal of all their proceedings, and, at the desire of any member, shall cause the ayes and noes to be taken on any question, and entered on the journal.

Light and water ordinances.

§ 523. No ordinance, and no resolution or order for the payment of money, for granting any franchise, for lighting or watering streets, or for supplying water for municipal purposes, shall be passed by the common council on the day of its introduction, nor within five days thereafter, nor at any other than a regular meeting; and no ordinance, and no such resolution or order, shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the votes of at least four aldermen and approved by the mayor; provided, that if the mayor shall neglect or refuse to approve the same within five days, then the same may be passed by the votes of five aldermen, and shall then take effect as if approved by the mayor.

Powers of council.

§ 524. The common council of such city shall have power:

Ordinances.

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state, or of the United States.

Real estate.

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city; provided, that they shall not have power to sell or convey any portion of any water front.

Water supply.

3. To acquire, construct, repair, and manage pumps, aqueducts, reservoirs, and other works necessary or proper for supplying the city with water.

Streets.

4. To establish, lay out, alter, open, keep open, improve, and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, bridges, squares, and other public highways and places within the city and to drain, sprinkle, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel, and curb the same in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks and cross-walks therein or upon any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally manage and control all such highways and places.

Sewers.

5. To construct and maintain drains and sewers.

Extinguishment of fires.

6. To provide fire-engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fire, and to construct and maintain telegraph and telephone lines for fire and police purposes.

Poll-tax.

7. To impose on and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years an annual street poll-tax not exceeding two dollars; and no other road poll-tax shall be collected within the limits of such city.

Dog tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual tax, not exceeding two dollars, on every dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city; and no other dog tax shall be collected within the limits of such city.

Property tax.

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, not exceeding one dollar on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city, which said tax shall be apportioned as follows: For the general fund, not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars; for the road fund, not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars; and for the school fund, not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars; each of which funds shall be kept separate from all others.

Licenses.

10. To license, for purposes of regulation and revenue, all and every kind of business authorized by law, and transacted or carried on in such city, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

Rivers.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city, or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the water front of the city; to construct and maintain embankments and other works to protect such city from overflow; and to bridge any creek or river so as not to interfere with navigation.

Public buildings.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes.

Tracks and pipes.

13. To permit, under restrictions as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, or other motive power thereon, and the laying of gas and water pipes in the public streets, and the construction and maintenance of telegraph and telephone lines therein.

Ward division.

14. To divide the city, by ordinance, into seven wards as nearly equal in population as may be, to fix the boundaries thereof, and to change the same from time to time; provided, that no change in the boundaries of any ward shall be made within sixty days next before the date of said general municipal election, nor within twenty months after the same shall have been established or altered.

Fire department.

15. To establish and regulate a fire department and a police department, to appoint and remove the officers and employees thereof, and to prescribe their duties and fix and order paid their salaries and compensation.

Subordinate officers.

16. To appoint and remove such subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and to fix their duties and compensation.

Imposition of penalties.

17. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances; and for any breach or violation of any ordinance, to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both; but no such fine shall exceed five hundred dollars, nor the term of such imprisonment exceed six months.

Prison labor.

18. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets or other public property or works within the city.

Other acts.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

Enacting clause.

§ 525. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The mayor and common council of the city of — do ordain as follows." Every ordinance shall be signed by the mayor, attested by the clerk, and published at least five times in a newspaper published in such city.

Common council to audit.

§ 526. All demands against such city, except for school purposes, shall be presented to and audited by the common council, in accordance with such regulations as they may by ordinance prescribe; and upon the allowance of any such demand, the mayor shall draw a warrant upon the treasurer for the same, which warrant shall be countersigned by the clerk, and shall specify for what purpose the same is drawn, and out of what fund it is to be paid.

No debt in excess of available money.

§ 527. The common council shall not create, audit, allow, or permit to accrue any debt or liability in excess of the available money in the treasury that may be legally apportioned and appropriated for such purposes; provided, that any city, during the first year of its existence under this act, may incur such indebtedness or liability as may be necessary, not exceeding in all the income and revenue provided for it for such year; nor shall any warrant be drawn, or evidence of indebtedness be issued, unless there be at the time sufficient money in the treasury legally applicable to the payment of the same, except as hereinafter provided.

Indebtedness in excess to be decided by election.

§ 528. If, at any time, the common council shall deem it necessary to incur any indebtedness in excess of the money in the treasury applicable to the purpose for which such indebtedness is to be incurred, they shall give notice of a special election by the qualified electors of the city, to be held to determine whether such indebtedness shall be incurred. Such notice shall specify the amount of indebtedness proposed to be incurred, the purpose or purposes of the same, and the amount of money necessary to be raised annually by taxation for an interest and sinking fund, as hereinafter provided. Such notice shall be published for at least three weeks in some newspaper published in such city; and no other question or matter shall be submitted to the electors at such election. If, upon a canvass of the votes cast at such election, it appear that not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting at such election shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, it shall be the duty of the common council to pass an ordinance providing for the mode of creating such indebtedness, and of paying the same; and in each ordinance provision shall be made for the levy and collection of an annual tax upon all the real and personal property, subject to taxation within such city sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due; and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof, within a period of not more than twenty years from the time of contracting the same. It shall be the duty of the common council in each year thereafter, at the time at which other taxes are levied, to levy a tax sufficient for such purpose, in addition to the taxes by this chapter authorized to be levied. Such tax, when collected, shall be kept in the treasury as a separate fund, to be inviolably appropriated to the payment of the principal and interest of such indebtedness.

Violation of ordinances.

§ 529. The violation of any ordinance of such city shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and may be prosecuted by the authorities of such city in the name of the people of the state of California, or may be redressed by civil action, at the option of said authorities. Any person sentenced to imprisonment for the violation of an ordinance may be imprisoned in the city jail; or, if the common council by ordinance shall so prescribe, in the county jail of the county in which such city may be situated, in which case the expense of such imprisonment shall be a charge in favor of such county and against such city.

Nuisances.

§ 530. Every act or thing done or being within the limits of such city, which is or may be declared by law or by any ordinance of such city to be a nuisance shall be and is hereby declared to be a nuisance, and shall be considered and treated as such in all actions and proceedings whatever; and all remedies which are or may be given by law for the prevention and abatement of nuisances shall apply thereto.

System of street work.

§ 531. The common council are authorized and empowered to provide, by ordinance, a system for doing any or all work in or upon the streets, highways, and public places of such city, and for making therein street improvements and repairs, and for doing any or all work authorized by subdivisions 4 and 5 of section 524 of this act, and for the payment of the cost and expenses thereof, either by the levy and collection of special assessments therefor, in proportion to benefits, upon the property to be benefited thereby, or by payments made out of the road fund of such city, or by both; provided, that in all cases where more than one-half of the expense of any such improvement, except the construction of a sewer or drain, exceeding in amount the sum of one thousand dollars, is to be defrayed by special assessment, the common council shall first adopt a resolution, which shall be entered upon their journal, declaring their intention to make such improvement, and fixing a time at which objections to the making of such improvement will be considered. Such resolution shall also designate the boundaries of the district to be affected or benefited by such improvement. Upon adopting such resolution, the common council shall give notice of such intention, which notice shall be published for twenty days in a newspaper printed and published in such city. Such notice shall describe the improvement so proposed to be made, and state the estimated cost thereof, and designate the time set for such hearing, and shall refer to such resolution so entered upon the journal for such description of boundaries. If, at or before the time so fixed, written objections to such improvement, signed by the owners of two-thirds in value of the property so to be affected or benefited, as shown by the last preceding city assessment-roll, be not filed with the clerk, the common council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order the making of such improvement. Any such special assessment made and levied to defray the cost and expenses of any such work, together with any percentage imposed for delinquency and the costs of collection, shall constitute a lien upon and against the property upon which such assessment is made and levied, from and after the date of the order for such assessment; which lien may be enforced by a summary sale of such property, and the execution and delivery of all necessary certificates and deeds therefor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance, or by an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to foreclose such lien; provided, that any property sold to satisfy any such lien shall be subject to redemption within the time and in the manner provided, or that may hereafter be provided by law for the redemption of property sold for taxes.

Right of way.

§532. The common council are authorized and empowered to provide by ordinance for the establishing, laying out, extending, and widening streets and other public highways and places within the city, and for taking private property therefor, and for taking private property for the purpose of rights of way for drains, sewers, and aqueducts, and for the purpose of widening and straightening the channels of streams, and the improvement of water fronts; but no private property or right of way over or through the same shall be taken without the consent of the owner thereof until a just compensation for the same shall be ascertained and paid to such owner, or into court for his use. If the owner of any parcel of land proposed to be taken for any such improvement shall be dissatisfied with the amount of compensation awarded by said council for the taking of such parcel, he may, within twenty days after the date of such award, commence an action against such city in any court of competent jurisdiction within the city, township, or county, to recover such amount of compensation as he may consider himself entitled to. The amount of compensation ascertained and awarded in such action shall be deemed and taken to be the amount of compensation to which such person will be entitled if such improvement be made. If such person fail to recover in such action a greater amount of compensation than was so awarded by said council, he shall not recover costs but shall pay costs to such city. Any owner of or person interested in any such parcel of land, who shall fail to commence such action within the time herein limited, shall be deemed to have waived his right in that behalf, and to have assented to and ratified the award of said council. The common council shall not acquire jurisdiction to exercise any of the powers hereinbefore in this section enumerated, until a petition in writing therefor is first presented to said council, signed by at least twenty inhabitants of said city, taxable therein for municipal purposes. Such petition must describe generally the street, highway, or public place proposed to be laid out or established, or the proposed alteration by widening or extending the same, or by widening or straightening the channels of streams, or by the improvement of water fronts; or if a right of way is sought for drains, sewers, or aqueducts, such petition shall describe the proposed route for the same. Such petition shall be heard at a regular meeting of the council, notice of such hearing being given by the clerk by publication in a newspaper published in such city, for a period of three weeks before such hearing. Such notice shall be deemed to give said council full jurisdiction over the subject matter, and over the person of every owner of or person interested in any parcel of land to be taken or assessed for any such improvement; and every person interested, from and after the expiration of such publication, shall be deemed to have notice of all subsequent proceedings; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent such council from giving such other or further notice as they may deem proper. At the time fixed in such notice, or at such time to which such hearing may be postponed, the council shall proceed to hear and determine the prayer of such petition pursuant to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by such ordinance. Such system, so established by ordinance, may provide for the payment of such compensation, either by the levy and collection of special assessments therefor, in proportion to benefits upon the property to be affected or benefited by any such improvement, or by payments made out of the street fund, or river and water front improvement fund of such city, or by both. Any such special assessment made and levied to provide means for the payment of any such compensation and the cost of ascertaining the same, together with any percentage imposed for delinquency and the costs of collection, shall constitute a lien upon and against the property upon which such assessment is made and levied, from and after the date of the order for such assessment; which lien may be enforced by a summary sale of such property, and the execution and delivery of all necessary certificates and deeds therefor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance, or by an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to foreclose such lien; provided, that any property sold to satisfy any such lien shall be subject to redemption within the time and in the manner provided or that may hereafter be provided by law for the redemption of property sold for taxes.

Taxes and tax sales.

§ 533. The common council shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to provide by ordinance for the assessment, levy, and collection of all city taxes, which shall conform, as nearly as the circumstances of the case may permit, to the provisions of the laws of this state in reference to the assessment, levy, and collection of state and county taxes, except as to the times for such assessment, levy, and collection, and except as to the officers by whom such duties are to be performed. All taxes assessed, together with any percentage imposed for delinquency and the costs of collection, shall constitute liens on the property assessed from and after the first Monday in March in each year; which liens may be enforced by a summary sale of such property, and the execution and delivery of all necessary certificates and deeds therefor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance, or by actions in any court of competent jurisdiction to foreclose such liens; provided, that any property sold for such taxes shall be subject to redemption within the time and in the manner provided or that may hereafter be provided by law for the redemption of property sold for state or county taxes. All deeds made upon any sale of property for taxes or special assessments under the provisions of this chapter shall have the same force and effect in evidence as is or may hereafter be provided by law for deeds for property sold for nonpayment of state or county taxes.

Laws concerning indebtedness to continue in force.

§ 534. No money shall be expended or drawn out of the street fund for any but street and sewer purposes, and no money shall be expended or drawn out of the school fund for any but school purposes. Whenever any city organizing under this act has a bonded indebtedness contracted or issued under any law of this state, all the provisions of such laws in regard to the levying, collection, and disposition of taxes and revenues for the payment of such indebtedness and the interest thereon, shall continue in force, and the taxes levied and revenues raised for the payment of the interest and principal of such indebtedness shall be in addition to the taxes provided by section 524 of this act, and the common council of said city, organizing under this act, is hereby authorized and empowered to levy and collect such taxes and apportion such revenues for the payment of such indebtedness and interest, in addition to the limit of taxation hereinbefore prescribed in this act; and nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent any city from levying and collecting the tax authorized by the act entitled, "An act to establish free public libraries and reading rooms," approved April twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and eighty, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected. All moneys received from licenses, and from fines, penalties and forfeitures, shall be paid into the general fund.

River improvement.

§ 535. The common council may also levy and cause to be collected, in each year, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected, a tax, not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city subject to taxation, the proceeds of which tax shall be known as the "River and Waterfront Improvement Fund," and shall be applied to the improvement of streams, bays and waterfronts, the erection of embankments, and other works to protect the city from overflow, and the construction of works of drainage, and for no other purposes whatever.

Public work to be done by contract.

§ 536. In the erection, improvement, and repair of all public buildings and works, in all streets and sewer work, and in all work in or about streams, bays, or water-fronts, or in or about embankments or other works for protection against overflow, or in furnishing any supplies or materials for the same, when the expenditures required for the same exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars, the same shall be done by contract, and shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after due notice, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance; provided, that the common council, or board of education, may reject all bids presented, and re-advertise, in their discretion; and provided further, that in case of any great and unforeseen calamity or emergency the common council, by a resolution, unanimously adopted and approved by the mayor, may dispense with the foregoing provisions of this section, the reason for such action being entered on their minutes. The common council shall, annually, at a stated time, contract for doing all city printing and advertising, which contract shall be let to the lowest bidder, after notice as provided in this section. All advertising shall be done in a newspaper printed and published in such city, and the contract therefor shall be awarded separately from all other printing.

ARTICLE IV.—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.Mayor.

§ 550. The mayor shall be at the head of the executive department of the city. It shall be his duty to be vigilant and active in causing the laws and ordinances of the city to be duly executed and enforced; to have the general supervision of the police department; to receive and examine into all complaints preferred against any officer, and to certify the same to the common council; to administer and certify oaths and affirmations in any and all matters and proceedings pertaining to the city; to preside at all meetings of the common council; and to perform such other duties as are or may be prescribed by law or ordinance.

Clerk.

§ 551. It shall be the duty of the clerk to keep a true and correct record of all the proceedings of the common council, and to countersign all warrants; to keep accounts current with every officer charged with the receipt or disbursement of money; to keep the seal of the city and affix the same to all instruments requiring such seal; to perform the duties required of him by the next section; to report to the common council on the first Monday of each and every month a full and detailed statement of the receipts and disbursements of the treasury during the preceding month, and the state of each particular fund, which statement shall be verified by his oath; to administer and certify oaths and affirmations; to perform such duties in and about the assessment, levy, and collection of taxes and assessments as may be prescribed by law or ordinance; to appoint deputies; and to perform such other and further duties as the common council may by ordinance prescribe.

Treasurer.

§ 552. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive, upon the order of the clerk, all moneys due or belonging to the city, for which he shall give his receipt, which receipt shall be filed with the clerk by the person making such payment, and the clerk shall give to such persons his receipt therefor, which receipt shall be the only evidence of payment. He shall pay all warrants drawn by authority of and in accordance with law. He shall perform such duties in the collection of taxes or assessments as are or may be prescribed by law or ordinance. He shall, on the first Monday of each and every month, present to the common council a full and detailed statement of the amount of money belonging to the city received by him, and by him disbursed during the preceding month, and the state of each particular fund, which statement shall be verified by his oath. He may appoint deputies by and with the consent of the common council, and shall perform such other duties as are or may be prescribed by law or ordinance.

Compensation, how fixed.

§ 553. The common council shall, by ordinances not inconsistent with this chapter, prescribe the duties of all officers, and fix their compensation.

ARTICLE V.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Police and justices' courts.

§ 560. The judicial power of the city shall be vested in a police court, to be held by the police judge of such city. Said police court shall have jurisdiction, concurrently with the justices' courts, of all criminal actions and proceedings arising within the corporate limits of such city, and which might be tried in such justices' courts; and shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all actions for the recovery of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city, of all actions founded upon any obligation or liability created by any ordinance, and of all prosecutions for any violation of any ordinance. The rules of practice and mode of proceeding in said police court shall be the same as are or may be prescribed by law for justices' courts in like cases; and appeals may be taken to the superior court of the county in which such city may be situated from all judgments of said police court, in like manner and with like effect as in cases of appeals from justices' courts. Said court shall be a court of record.

Police judge.

§ 561. The police judge shall be judge of the police court, and shall have the powers and perform the duties of a magistrate. He may administer and certify oaths and affirmations, and take and certify acknowledgments.

When disqualified.

§ 562. In all cases in which the police judge is a party, or in which he is interested, or when he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, or is otherwise disqualified, or in case of his sickness or inability to act, the mayor may call in a justice of the peace residing in the city to act in the place and stead of the police judge; or if there be no justice of the peace residing in the city, or if all those so residing are likewise disqualified, then he may call in any justice of the peace residing in the county in which such city may be situated.

Clerk of court.

§ 563. The common council shall appoint, upon the nomination of the mayor, a clerk for said police court. Said clerk shall keep the records of said court and the seal thereof, and perform such other duties as may be required of him by law or ordinance. He shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month. The council shall also provide a seal for said police court.

ARTICLE VI.—SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

Board of education.

§ 570. From and after the organization of each of such cities, the same shall constitute a separate school district, which shall be governed by the board of education of such city.

Vacancies.

§ 571. In case a vacancy shall occur in the office of school director, the board of education shall choose a person to fill such vacancy, who shall serve until the next election, when, if the term does not then expire, a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term.

Meetings.

§ 572. The board of education shall meet on the second Tuesday after such general municipal election, and choose one of its members as president, and another as vice president. Its regular meetings shall thereafter be held as often as twice in each month, and the time and place for holding such meetings shall be fixed by a rule of said board. Special meetings of said board may be held when called by written notice, signed by its president, or three of its members, and delivered personally to each of its members who shall not have signed the same. Four members shall constitute a quorum, and no business shall be transacted by said board of education without the concurrence of four of its members; but a majority of the members present at any meeting may adjourn from time to time. All meetings of said board of education shall be public, and full records of its proceedings shall be kept by the school superintendent, who shall be ex-officio clerk of said board of education.

Powers of board.

§ 573. The board of education shall have power:

To maintain schools.

1. To establish and maintain public schools, and to subdivide the school districts, and to fix and alter the boundaries of such subdivisions.

Superintendent.

2. To appoint a school superintendent, who shall hold office during their pleasure, and to prescribe his duties, and fix his compensation.

Employees.

3. To employ and dismiss teachers, janitors, truant officers, and school census marshals, and to fix, alter, allow, and order paid their salaries or compensation; and to employ and pay such mechanics and laborers as may be necessary to carry into effect the powers hereby conferred.

Regulation of schools.

4. To make, establish, and enforce all necessary or proper rules and regulations, not in conflict with the laws of this state, for the government and management of public schools within such city, the teachers thereof, and the pupils therein, and for carrying into effect the laws relating to education.

Supplies.

5. To provide for the school department of such city fuel and lights, water, printing, and stationery, and to incur such other incidental expenses as may be deemed necessary by said board.

Building and repairs.

6. To build, alter, repair, rent, and provide schoolhouses, and to furnish the same with proper school furniture, apparatus, and appliances, and to insure any and all school property.

Real estate.

7. To purchase, receive, lease, and hold in fee, in trust for such city, any and all real estate and personal property that may have been acquired, or may hereafter be acquired, for the use and benefit of the schools of such city; provided, that no real estate shall be bought, sold, or exchanged, nor any expenditure incurred for the construction of new schoolhouses, without the approval of the common council; and provided further, that the proceeds of any such sale or exchange of real estate shall be exclusively applied to school purposes.

Improvement.

8. To grade, fence, and improve all school lots.

To determine moneys needed.

9. To determine annually the amount of money required for the support of the public schools, and for carrying into effect all the provisions of law in reference thereto; and in pursuance of this provision, the board of education shall, at least ten days before the meeting of the common council at which the annual city taxes are levied, submit in writing to the common council a careful estimate of the whole amount of money to be received from the state and county, and of the amount to be required from such city for the above mentioned purpose; and the amount so found to be required from the city shall, by the common council, be added to the other amounts to be assessed and collected for city purposes, and when collected, the proceeds thereof shall be immediately paid into the school fund of such city, to be drawn out only upon the order of the board of education; provided, that such an annual tax shall not exceed twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property within such city.

Disbursement regulations.

10. To establish regulations for the just and equal disbursement of all moneys belonging to the school fund.

Encumbrances.

11. To discharge all legal encumbrances existing at the time of the incorporation of such city, or thereafter, on any school property within such city.

Admission of nonresidents.

12. To admit nonresident children, and persons over twenty-one years of age, to any of the departments of the schools of such city, upon the payment, monthly, in advance, to the treasurer of such city, for the school fund, of such tuition fee as said board may establish.

Age limit.

13. To prohibit any children under six years of age from attending the public schools.

Grades and text-books.

14. To establish and regulate the grades of schools in such city, and the course of study, and the mode of instruction to be pursued therein, and to determine what text-books shall be used.

Other acts.

15. To do and perform, in addition to the foregoing powers, such other acts as may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers hereby conferred.

Board may sue.

§ 574. The board of education may sue and be sued by their name of office. In any action or judicial proceeding against said board, service of process upon the president, or upon a majority of the members of the board, shall be sufficient to give the court jurisdiction to hear and determine the same.

County treasurer to pay over.

§ 575. All moneys received by the treasurer of the county wherein such city may be situated, on account of the school fund of such city, or the school district consisting of the same, and all sums received into the county treasury, which may be apportioned to said city or district, shall be paid to the treasurer of such city by the treasurer of such county, as soon as received, or as soon as the apportionment shall be made, when apportionment is necessary.

Powers of president.

§ 576. The president of the board of education shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations concerning any demand upon the treasury, payable out of the school fund, and in all other matters relating to the duties of the board of education, and to witnesses examined in any investigation, had by such board of education, or by a committee thereof, duly appointed by it for that purpose.

Same.

§ 577. Said president may issue subpoenas under his hand and the seal of such city, attested by the city clerk, to compel the attendance of witnesses before such board of education, or committee thereof, who shall be entitled to the same fees as witnesses in civil cases, and who may be punished for contempt for nonattendance, or refusal to be sworn, or to answer, by the superior court of the county in which such city may be situated.

Claims.

§ 578. Every claim payable out of the school fund shall be filed with the clerk of the board of education, and after it shall have been approved by the board, a certificate of such approval shall be indorsed thereon, signed by the president and clerk; and a warrant upon the school fund shall be issued thereon for the payment of such claim, which warrant shall be signed by the president of such board, and countersigned by the clerk, and shall specify for what purpose the same is drawn.

Entire revenue for schools.

§ 579. The entire revenue derived by such city from the state school fund and the state school tax shall be applied by said board of education exclusively to the support of primary and grammar schools.

ARTICLE VII.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.Moneys collected.

§ 590. Every officer collecting or receiving any moneys belonging to or for the use of such city shall settle for the same with the clerk on the first Monday in each month, and immediately pay the same into the treasury, on the order of the clerk, for the benefit of the funds to which such moneys respectively belong.

No officer to be interested in contracts.

§ 591. No officer of such city shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with such city, or with any of the officers thereof, in their official capacity, or in doing any work or furnishing any supplies for the use of such city or its officers in their official capacity; and any claim for compensation for work done, or supplies or materials furnished, in which any such officer is interested, shall be void, and if audited and allowed shall not be paid by the treasurer. Any willful violation of the provisions of this section shall be a ground for removal from office, and shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and punished as such.

CHAPTER V.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS OF THE FOURTH CLASS.

(Charter for cities having a population of more than 10,000 and not exceeding 15,000.)

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL POWERS.

Fourth class.

§ 600. Every municipal corporation of the fourth class shall be entitled the city of . . . (naming it), and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue and be sued in all courts and places, and in all proceedings whatever, and shall have and use a common seal, and the same alter at pleasure; may purchase, receive, have, take, hold, lease, use, and enjoy property of every name or description, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit.

ARTICLE II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO OFFICERS.

Officers.

§ 601. The officers of such city shall consist of a mayor, twelve councilmen, a collector, who shall also be street commissioner, an assessor, treasurer, city clerk, police judge, city attorney, chief of police, superintendent of public schools, and two school trustees for each ward; and whenever a free public library and reading room is established therein, five trustees thereof; and the council may also provide for the election, by the voters of said city, or by said council, of a superintendent of irrigation. The city council may also elect a city surveyor, harbor-master, poundkeeper, and city jailer, and whenever a paid fire department shall be established in such city, a chief engineer, and one or more assistant engineers, and any other officer necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and for whose election or appointment no provision is made, and may by ordinance prescribe the duties of all city officers, and fix their compensation, subject to the limitations herein contained.

Election under this act.

§ 602. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of each odd-numbered year a municipal election shall be held, at which the qualified voters of such city shall elect one school trustee for each ward, and six councilmen, to be voted for by the wards they may respectively represent, and each to hold office for the term of four years, and until the qualification of his successor; and also a mayor, an assessor, a collector and street commissioner, city attorney, police judge, chief of police, and superintendent of public schools, who shall each hold office for two years, and until the qualification of a successor; provided, that at the first election held after the organization of such city under this act such city shall elect two school trustees for each ward, and twelve councilmen, who shall, at the first meeting of the city council and board of education, respectively, decide by lot their terms of office; six of said councilmen and one-half of the number of school trustees to hold for the term of four years, and the others for the term of two years, and in each case until the qualification of their successors.

Provisions concerning elections.

§ 603. The city council shall call all city elections, designate the time and place of holding the same, giving at least ten days' notice thereof, and shall appoint one inspector or clerk, and two judges of election, for each ward or election precinct in such city, who shall appoint two clerks, and all shall take the oath of office prescribed by law for inspectors, judges, and clerks of state and county elections. All provisions of law regulating elections for state and county officers, not conflicting herewith, shall apply to elections under this chapter. The polls for all city elections shall be open at 8 o'clock a. m., and continue open until 5 o'clock p. m., the same day. If any officer so appointed shall fail to attend, those attending, with the electors assembled shall fill their places by others from the qualified electors present. All returns of city elections shall be made out and signed by the officers of such election in the usual form, and deposited with the city clerk within two days after the election. The persons having the plurality of the votes cast for each of the respective offices voted for shall be declared elected. No person shall vote at any city election unless he shall be an elector for state and county offices, and shall have actually resided within such city, and in the precinct where he may offer to vote, thirty days preceding such election; provided, that any elector who may remove from one precinct to another within thirty days prior to such election may, if a qualified voter therein at the time of removal, vote in the the precinct from which he may have moved. If any person not having the legal qualifications of an elector at any city election shall fraudulently vote, or attempt to vote, or knowingly hand in two or more ballots folded together, or shall vote, or attempt to vote, more than once at the same election, such person or persons, on conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for any period not more than three months, or may be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

City council to canvass vote.

§ 604. On the Monday following the election, the city council shall convene and publicly canvass the result, and shall issue certificates of election to each person elected by a plurality of votes. When two or more persons have received an equal and highest number of votes for any one of the offices voted for, the city council shall thereafter, at its first regular meeting, decide by vote between the parties which shall be elected. If the city council from any cause fail to meet on the day named, the mayor shall call a special meeting of said council within five days thereafter, and in addition to the notice provided for calling special meetings, shall publish the same on two successive days in some newspaper published in such city. If the mayor fail to call said meeting within said five days, any four councilmen may call it. At such special meeting all elections, appointments, or other business may be transacted that could have been on the day first herein named.

Office, when vacant.

§ 605. Each officer of such city shall take the oath of office, and such as may be required to give bond, file the same, duly approved, within ten days after receiving notice of his election or appointment, or if no notice be received, then on or before the date fixed for the assumption by him of the duties of the office to which he may have been elected or appointed; but if any one, either elected or appointed to office, fail for ten days to qualify as required by law or to enter upon his duties at the time fixed by law or the orders of the city council, then such office shall become vacant; or, if any such officer shall absent himself from such city continuously for ten days without the consent of the city council, or shall openly neglect or refuse to discharge his duties, such office may be by the city council declared vacant; provided, that the penalty for absence from the city shall not apply to such officers as serve without salary or other compensation. Such officers as are elected by the voters of the city shall enter upon their duties on the first Monday of January next succeeding the date of their election; such officers as are appointed or elected by the city council shall enter upon their duties within ten days after receiving notice of their appointment or election.

Unexpired term.

§ 606. When any vacancy occurs in any elective office, except the mayor, the city council may fill the same for the unexpired term, except in case of city councilmen, or school trustees, which shall be filled until the next city election, and until the qualification of a successor. The city council may, upon written charges, to be entered upon their journal, after notice to the party, and after trial, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elect, remove any officer.

Official bonds.

§ 607. It shall be the duty of the city council to provide for the accountability of the city assessor, treasurer, clerk, police judge, collector, and street commissioner, city attorney, and all other officers herein provided for, by requiring from them sufficient security for the faithful performance of their duties or trusts, which security shall be given by them before entering on their respective duties. If such security should be or become insufficient, additional security may be required, and if not given within ten days, the council, by a vote of two-thirds of the members, may declare the office vacant, and may thereafter fill the same.

Compensation.

§ 608. The mayor, councilmen, and school trustees shall not receive any salary or compensation for their services; provided, that members of the city council, or a committee thereof for that purpose appointed, may receive for their services, while acting as a board of equalization, a sum to be determined by the council, not to exceed for each one five dollars per day, for each day while actually so engaged, for two weeks in each year, and no longer.

Street commissioner.

§ 609. The collector and street commissioner shall receive a salary, to be fixed by the city council, which shall not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

No additional compensation.

§ 610. The city council shall have no power to allow any extra or additional compensation to that in this chapter expressly authorized to any officer for the rendition of services that the city council have power to require the officer to perform by virtue of his office.

Ward division.

§ 611. In case any such city shall, at the time of its organization under this act, be divided into wards, such divisions shall continue, but the city council may, at any time not within three months previous to an annual city election, change the boundaries of such wards, or divide it into others, not exceeding six in number; provided, that such change shall not affect the term of office of any councilman or school trustee, but they shall serve out their term for the ward in which their residence may be; but if more reside within any one ward than the proportion to which it is entitled, those of the shortest unexpired term shall, by the council, be assigned for such unexpired term to a ward where there is a vacancy. The representation of each ward in the city council shall be as near as may be in proportion to its population, but each ward shall have two school trustees.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

City council.

§ 620. The mayor and councilmen of the several wards shall constitute the city council, and at its first meeting in January next after a city election shall elect a city clerk, city treasurer, and one of their own body as president of the city council, and at any time when the mayor and president are both absent, may elect a president pro tem., who shall act during such absence. They shall also, at such time, designate the number of policemen for such city, to be elected as hereinafter provided.

Meetings.

§ 621. A majority of the councilmen elect shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A less number may adjourn from time to time, and they may compel the attendance of absent members. The council may punish their members for disorderly conduct, and upon written charges to be entered on their journal, for such conduct, after trial, may expel a member by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected. The mayor shall have a vote only in case of a tie in the votes of the other members. They shall determine their rules of proceeding and the qualification of members. The sittings of the council shall be open to the public, except where the interests of the city shall require secrecy. A journal of all their proceedings shall be kept by the clerk under their direction. At any time, at the request of any two members, the ayes and noes on any question shall be taken and entered upon the journal.

Powers of council.

§ 622. The city council shall have power and authority to make and pass all by-laws, ordinances, orders, and resolutions not repugnant to the constitution of the United States or of the state of California, or the provisions of this charter, necessary for the municipal government and the management of the affairs of the city, for the execution of the powers vested in said body corporate, and for carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter; to fix and collect a license tax on and to regulate theaters, melodeons, balls, concerts, dances, and all theatrical, melodeon, circus, or other performances, and all performances where an admission fee is charged, or which may be held in any house or place where wines or liquors are sold to the participators; also all shows, billiard tables, bowling alleys, exhibitions or amusements; to fix and collect a license tax on and to regulate all taverns, hotels, restaurants, saloons, bar-rooms, banks, brokers, manufactories, livery-stable keepers, express companies, and persons engaged in transmitting letters or packages, railroad, stage, and steamboat companies or owners, whose principal place of business is in such city, or who shall have an agency therein; to license and regulate auctioneers; to license, regulate, tax, prohibit, or suppress all tipping-houses, dram-shops, saloons, bars, bar-rooms, raffles, hawkers, peddlers, pawnbrokers, refreshment or coffee stands, booths, or sheds; to prohibit or suppress, or to license and regulate, all dance-houses, fandango-houses, cock-fights, dog-fights, or any exhibition or show of any animal or animals; to license and tax hackney-coaches, cabs, omnibuses, drays, market-wagons, and all other vehicles used for hire, and to regulate their stands, and to fix the rates to be charged for the transportation of persons, baggage, and property; and to license or suppress runners for steamboats, railroads, taverns, or hotels; and to fix and collect a license tax upon all occupations and trades, and all and every kind of business authorized by law, not heretofore specified, and provided, that in the business of selling intoxicating drinks, wines, ales, and beers, in less quantities than one quart, or to be drank on the premises where sold, and on any other business, trade, or calling not provided by law to be licensed for state and county purposes, the amount of license shall be fixed at the discretion of the city council, as they may deem the interests and good order of the city may require; also to prevent and restrain any riot or riotous assemblage, disturbance of the peace, or disorderly conduct, in any place, house, or street in the city; to prevent, remove, and abate nuisances at the expense of the parties creating, causing, or committing, or maintaining the same; to establish, maintain, and regulate a common pound for estrays, and to appoint a poundkeeper, who shall be paid out of the fines and fees imposed and collected of the owners of any animals impounded, and from no other source; to prevent and regulate the running at large of any and all domestic animals within the city limits, or any parts thereof; and to regulate or prevent the keeping of such animals within any part of the city; to control and regulate slaughter-houses, wash houses, laundries, tanneries, forges, and offensive trades, and to provide for their exclusion or removal from the city limits, or from any part thereof; to provide, by regulation, for the prevention and summary removal of all filth and garbage in the streets, sloughs, alleys, backyards, or public grounds of such city, or elsewhere therein; to establish, alter, and repair city prisons, and to provide for the regulation of the same, and for the safekeeping of persons committed thereto; to provide for the care, feeding, and clothing of the city prisoners; to provide for the formation of a chain-gang for persons convicted of crimes or misdemeanors, and their proper employment and compulsory working for the benefit of the city; and also to provide for the arrest and compulsory working of vagrants; to prohibit and suppress all gaming, and all gambling or disorderly houses, and houses of ill-fame, and all immoral and indecent amusements, exhibitions, and shows; to establish and regulate markets and market-places; to fix and regulate the speed at which railroad cars may run within the city limits, or any portion thereof; to provide for and regulate the commons of the city; to regulate and prohibit fast driving or riding in any portion of the city; to regulate or prohibit the loading or storage of gunpowder and combustible or explosive materials in the city, or transporting the same through its streets or over its waters; to have, purchase, hold, use, and enjoy property of every name or kind whatsoever, and the same to sell, lease, transfer, mortgage, convey, control, or improve; to build, erect, or construct houses, buildings, or structures of any kind needful for the use or purposes of such city; to establish, continue, regulate, and maintain a fire department for such city, to change or reorganize the same, and to disband any company or companies of the said department; also to discontinue and disband said fire department, and to create, organize, establish and maintain a paid fire department for such city; provided, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize the said city council to disband or discontinue the fire department of any city having, at the time of its organization under this act, a volunteer fire department organized and existing, or to create, establish, and maintain a paid fire department therein, without first submitting the proposition of establishing a paid fire department for such city to the legal voters thereof, at a general city election, for decision, and not after such election, unless thereat a majority of all the votes cast at such election are in favor thereof; and in the event that any time hereafter the volunteer fire department of such city shall be disorganized or disbanded, and a paid fire department established in its stead, then every person who shall have been an active fireman for the space of two years next before the date of such disbanding and establishing shall be entitled to and shall receive an exempt fireman's certificate, and such certificate shall entitle the person to whom it is issued to all the benefits and immunities accorded by the laws of this state in regard to exempt firemen; to institute and perfect any and all measures and means for the prevention or extinguishment of fires; to establish fire limits, and the same to alter at pleasure; to regulate or prevent the erection of wooden or other buildings or structures of combustible materials; to regulate the construction of buildings, sheds, awnings, signs, or any structures of a dangerous or unsafe character; to adopt, enter into, and carry out means for securing a supply of water for the use of such city or its inhabitants, or for irrigating purposes therein; to prevent the overflow of the city, or to secure its drainage; to provide for the numbering of houses; to establish a board of health; to prevent the introduction and spread of disease; to establish a city infirmary, and provide for the indigent sick; and to provide and enforce regulations for the protection of health, cleanliness, peace, and good order of the city; to establish and maintain hospitals within or without the city limits; to control and regulate interments, and prohibit them within the city limits; to build, alter, improve, keep in repair, and control the waterfront; to erect, regulate, and repair wharves and to fix the rate of wharfage and transit wharf, and levy dues upon vessels and commodities; and to provide for the regulation of berths, landing, stationing, and removing of steamboats, sail vessels, rafts, barges, and all other water craft; to fix the rate of speed at which steamboats and other steam water craft may run along the waterfront of the city; to build bridges so as not to interfere with navigation; to provide for the removal of obstructions to the navigation of any channel or watercourse; to clear out and excavate sloughs and other watercourses or channels; to license steamers, boats, and vessels used in any watercourse in the city, and to fix and collect a license tax thereon; to license ferries and bridges under the law regulating the granting of such license; to determine and impose fines for forfeitures and penalties that shall be incurred for the breach or violation of any city ordinance, and also for a violation of the provisions of this chapter, when no penalty is affixed thereto or provided by law, and to appropriate all such fines, penalties, and forfeitures for the benefit of the city; but no penalty to be enforced shall exceed, for any offense, the amount of five hundred dollars, or three months' imprisonment, or both; and every violation of any lawful order, regulation, or ordinance of the city council of such city is hereby declared a misdemeanor or public offense, and all prosecutions for the same may be in the name of the people of the state of California; to create and establish a city police; to prescribe their duties and their compensation, and to provide for the regulation and government of the same; to provide for conducting elections and establish election precincts, when necessary; to examine, either in open session or by committee, the accounts or doings of all officers or other persons having the care, management, or disposition of moneys, property, or business of the city; to make all appropriations, contracts, or agreements for the use or benefit of the city, and in the city's name; to provide by ordinance for the opening, laying out, altering, constructing, extending, repairing, grading, paving, graveling, macadamizing, or otherwise improving of public streets, avenues, and other public ways, or any portion of either thereof, and for the construction, regulation and repair of sidewalks, and other street improvements, all at the expense of the property to be benefited thereby, without any recourse, in any event, upon the city for any portion of the expense of such work, or any delinquency of the property holders or owners, and to provide for the forced sale thereof for such purposes; to establish a uniform grade for streets, avenues, sidewalks, and squares, and to enforce the observance thereof; to clear, cleanse, alter, straighten, widen, fill up, or close any water-way, drain, or sewer, or any watercourse in such city, when so declared by law to be navigable; to adopt, provide for, establish, and maintain a general system of sewerage, or drainage, or both, and the regulation thereof, the expense thereof to be borne by general taxation upon the taxable property and inhabitants of and in such city; to provide funds for the purpose aforesaid, and to determine manner, terms, and places of connection with main or central lines of pipes, sewers, or drains established with funds derived from general tax, and compel compliance with and conformity to such general system of sewerage, or drainage, or both, and the regulations of said council thereto relating, by the infliction of suitable penalties and forfeitures against person and property, or either, for nonconformity to or failure to comply with the provisions of such system and regulations, or either; to provide for all public buildings, public parks, or squares, necessary or proper for the use of the city; to permit the use of the streets for railroad purposes; to order paid any final judgment against such city; but none of its lands, or property of any kind or nature, taxes, revenue, franchise, or rights, or interest, shall be attached, levied upon, or sold in or under any process whatsoever; to regulate the sale of coal and wood in such city, and may appoint a measurer of wood and weigher of coal for the city, and define his duties, and prescribe his term of office, and the fees he shall receive for his services; provided, that such fees shall, in all cases, be paid by the parties requiring such service.

Indebtedness not to exceed means in the treasury.

§ 623. The city council shall not create, audit, allow, nor permit to accrue any debts or liabilities above the actual revenue and available means in the treasury that may be legally apportioned for such purpose, nor shall any warrant be drawn, or evidence of indebtedness be issued, unless there shall be sufficient money in the treasury justly applicable to meet the same.

Council to audit demands.

§ 624. All accounts and demands that shall lawfully arise against the city shall be submitted to the city council, and if found correct shall be allowed, and an order be made that the demand be paid; upon which (if there be funds in the treasury as in the preceding section provided) the clerk shall draw a warrant, which shall be countersigned by the president of the city council, upon the treasurer, in favor of the owner or owners of the demand, specifying for what purpose and by what authority it is issued, and out of what fund it is to be paid, and the treasurer shall pay the same out of the proper fund. All accounts and demands against such city, other than such as are chargeable to or payable out of the school fund, must be presented to the city council duly itemized and accompanied with an affidavit of the party, or his agent, stating the same to be a true and legitimate claim against such city for the full amount for which the same is presented, and that the same accrued as set forth, and with all necessary and proper vouchers, within one year from the date the same accrued; and any claim or demand not so presented within the time aforesaid shall be forever barred, and said council shall have no authority to allow any account or demand not so presented in manner and time as aforesaid, nor shall any action be maintained against such city for or on account of any demands or claim against the same until such demand or claim shall have first been presented to the city council for action thereon.

Limitation of expenditures.

§ 625. The annual expenses of such city shall not exceed the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, except in cities where one per cent on the valuation of the property therein raises more than the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and in such cities the annual expenses shall not exceed the sum of one per cent of the valuation of the property therein; provided, however, that moneys authorized to be raised and expended for the payment of the funded or bonded indebtedness of such city, and for school purposes in such city, as provided to be raised by the provisions of this chapter, shall not be considered a portion of said annual expense. If, at any time after the said sum shall have been expended in any year, it shall appear that the interests of such city demand an expenditure of an additional sum, the city council shall make a report of the same, which shall be published for at least three weeks in some newspaper printed and published in such city, particularly specifying the object or objects for which said expenditure is required, and the amount of money necessary to be raised to complete the same. At any time within ten days after the expiration of said publication, the city council shall order an election, giving ten days' notice thereof, at which time those persons who are legal voters of such city may vote for or against a tax to raise such additional sum. The election shall be conducted and returns made and canvassed in all respects as the general elections of such city, and a majority shall determine if such tax be levied or not. If the vote is in favor of such tax, the city council shall forthwith, by an order to be entered on the journal of their proceedings, order the tax to be levied and collected upon the basis of the last municipal assessment, and shall make the proposed expenditure; provided, that the special tax thus to be levied shall, for no one year, be more than one per cent of the valuation of real and personal property in the city, as shown by the last assessment roll. All special taxes to be levied and collected under the provisions of this section shall be levied and collected in the manner, form, and ways prescribed for the levying and collecting of the general taxes of such city; and as a security for their payment, a lien shall attach to and against each lot of land for the amount assessed against it from the date of the order; and every person, firm, or corporation against whom a tax be thus assessed shall be personally liable to pay the amount to such city. Said lien shall continue until such taxes are paid, or the property become vested in a purchaser under a sale thereof. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 371. In effect immediately.]

Excessive expenditure void.

§ 626. Every appropriation or payment of money made or ordered by the city council in excess of said sum stated in section 625, unless it shall be authorized by a vote of the electors of such city, as provided for in the preceding section, shall be invalid, illegal, and void, and shall be recoverable by the city from the party or parties to whom the same is made, if knowingly taken or received by such party or parties; and the members of the city council who shall have voted for the same shall be individually, jointly, and severally liable for such excess, and it may be recovered from them in any court of competent jurisdiction by the party or parties with whom they have contracted, or by the city, if payment has been actually made. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 371. In effect immediately.]

Public streets.

§ 627. All the streets in such city that have been or shall hereafter be laid out and dedicated by the party or parties owning the land fronting upon the same, or by the authority of such city, and declared to be public streets, and that have been or shall hereafter be used as such, shall be and are hereby declared public streets to the extent that the same may have been or shall hereafter be used, laid out, or dedicated.

Contracts for work and materials.

§ 628. All contracts for work to be performed, or materials to be used, ordered by or for such city, or in which it is interested, may be, and when the cost exceeds five hundred dollars shall be, let to the lowest bidder. A notice, signed by the clerk, soliciting sealed proposals, shall be published a reasonable time, in no case less than ten days, prior to the time fixed for opening such bids. Such notice shall designate the work to be done, and the place and the time in which it may be performed, with such other specifications as may tend to give the bidders a knowledge of the object to be accomplished, and with a reference to the diagram or specifications on file in the clerk's office. On the day limited in said notice for the opening of said bids the council, or a committee therefor appointed, shall, in open meeting, open and declare said bids and award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder; provided, however, that the city council, or its committee, may reject all bids when considered too high or uncertain from any circumstances. The council or committee may, before considering any offer, require security that the party will enter into a contract if awarded to him; and all contracts shall be in writing, and accompanied with a bond satisfactory to the mayor. No officer of such city shall be interested in any contract to which the city is a party, and any contract contrary to the provisions hereof shall be void.

Improvement of public highways.

§ 629. The city council is authorized and empowered to establish, lay out, alter, open, improve, and repair streets, avenues, sidewalks, alleys, bridges, squares, and other public highways and places within the city, and to drain, sprinkle, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel, and curb the same, in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and cross-walks therein, or upon any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees along the lines thereof or therein, and generally to manage and control all such highways and places.

Apportionment of expense.

§ 630. The city council shall have the power to provide by ordinance for doing any or all work in or upon the streets, avenues, highways, and public places of such city, and for making therein street improvements and repairs, or for the preservation thereof, and for doing any or all work thereupon or therein authorized by this chapter; and for the payment of the cost and expenses thereof by the levy and collection of special assessments therefor upon the property to be affected or benefited thereby. That is to say, the expense or cost of any work or improvement upon the streets, avenues, or public ways of such city shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed for the full debt thereof in proportion to the benefits upon the property to be benefited sufficient to cover the total expense of the work to the center of the street on which it fronts. The expense of all improvements in the space formed by the junction of two or more streets, or where one main street terminates in or crosses another main street, and also all necessary street-crossings or cross-ways, shall be paid by such city. In all the streets constituting the waterfront of such city, or bounded on the one side by the property thereof, the expense of work done on that portion of said streets from the center line thereof to the said waterfront, or to such property of the city bounded thereon, shall be provided for by such city, but no contract for any such work shall be given, except to the lowest responsible bidder, and in the manner hereinbefore provided. When any work or improvement mentioned in this section is done or made on one side of the center line of said streets, avenues, or public ways, the lots or portions of lots fronting on that side only shall be assessed to cover the expenses of said work, according to the provisions of this chapter.

Enacting clause.

§ 631. The style of the city ordinances shall be as follows: "The mayor and city council of the city of — do ordain as follows"; and all ordinances shall be published in one or more of the newspapers published in the city.

Publication of ordinances.

§ 632. By-laws and ordinances shall be passed by the city council and approved by the mayor, or the president of the city council acting in his stead. But before any by-law or ordinance shall have any binding validity, it shall be published in one or more newspapers published in the city, and recorded in the record book to be kept by the clerk. The clerk shall certify on the record the fact of publication, and so certified, the record shall be prima facie evidence of the passage thereof, and may be read as evidence of the by-law or ordinance, and its publication. A printed copy of any ordinance or by-law, or a compilation thereof, printed by authority of the city council, and attested by the clerk, shall be evidence thereof in same manner and with like effect.

Entry on journal.

§ 633. All orders of the city council, to have force and legal validity, shall be entered on the journal of their proceedings, which journal shall be signed by the officer who may preside at such meeting.

Ayes and noes.

§ 634. Upon the passage of all ordinances appropriating money, imposing taxes, abolishing licenses, increasing or lessening the amount to be paid for licenses, the ayes and noes shall be entered upon the journal.

Majority necessary.

§ 635. A majority of all the members elected shall be necessary to pass any ordinance appropriating for any purpose the sum of five hundred dollars or upwards, or any ordinance imposing any assessment, tax or license, or in any wise increasing or diminishing the city revenue.

Free library.

§ 636. The trustees of any free public library, created or existing in such city under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to establish the public libraries and reading-rooms," approved April twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and eighty, shall be appointed by the city council in the same manner as other officers are appointed under the provisions of this chapter, anything in the provisions of said act to the contrary notwithstanding.

ARTICLE IV.—TAXATION.Tax levy.

§ 640. The city council shall have full power and authority to assess, levy, and collect annually taxes upon all the property within the city, taxable for state purposes, not exceeding one per cent upon the assessed value thereof, which shall be paid into the general fund for current expenses. They shall provide for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonded indebtedness, if any, of such city, and for the payment of the other indebtedness of such city not funded; and they shall each year levy, assess, and collect an additional tax upon the taxable property as aforesaid, not exceeding two per cent in any one year, which, when collected, shall be paid into a fund to be disbursed as follows:

1. To pay the interest on said bonds;
2. To a fund for the payment of the principal thereof; and,
3. To meet any indebtedness, as aforesaid, not funded.

And the city council, in making said levy, shall estimate the proportion requisite for each fund, and the same shall be expended, under the direction of the city council, for the purpose aforesaid, and for no other purpose. Said tax shall be levied, assessed, and collected upon all property liable to taxation within such portion and such limits, and so much of the territory of such city as shall be liable therefor under the laws and charters in existence at the time of the organization of such city under this act; and if, by reason of extension of territory, or from any cause, a portion only, or a certain district, of such city be liable, under such laws and charters, for the payment of the bonded and other indebtedness above named, or any portion of either thereof, the city council in levying such tax shall make such levy upon and against the property which is situated and persons who may reside in the territory of such city, liable in each case for the payment of such indebtedness, or any particular class or portion thereof, according to such existing laws and charters. The city council shall also have power to raise annually, by tax upon all the property within the city taxable for state purposes, whatever amount of money may be requisite for the support of free public schools therein, including high schools, and providing and furnishing houses therefor; but the tax provided for in this section shall not exceed thirty-five cents on each one hundred dollars valuation upon the assessment-roll in any one year, and may, in like manner, raise by tax a fund for the establishment and maintenance of a free public library and reading-room; such tax not to exceed, in any one year, the rate of ten cents on each one hundred dollars valuation.

Duty of assessor.

§ 641. It shall be the duty of the city assessor to prepare, between the first day of January and the first Monday in April in each year, and present to the city clerk, with his certificate of its correctness, a list of all the real and personal property within the city on the first day of January taxable for state and county purposes, with a true valuation thereof on the first day of January, which said assessment-list shall conform as near as practicable, when not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, to the assessment list required by law to be made by the county assessor for state and county purposes; also, to make all assessments for the improvements of streets as herein or by ordinance provided; to be present at the sessions of all boards of equalization mentioned in this chapter, and to furnish to said board such information as may be required, and to perform such other services in reference to the assessments of property in the city or otherwise appertaining to his office as the city council by ordinance or resolution may require. During the session of the board of equalization the city assessor shall enter upon the assessment list all the changes and corrections made by the board, and may assess and add to such list any property in such city not previously assessed. In the assessment and listing of property for taxation, and in the collection of tax upon personal property not secured by lien upon real estate, he shall have and may exercise the same powers as are conferred by law upon county assessors, and shall receive therefor the same fees and compensation. He shall receive a salary to be fixed by the city council, which shall not exceed five hundred dollars per annum. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 371. In effect immediately.]

Equalization.

§ 642. The city council, or a committee of their number selected for that purpose by the city council, at a meeting thereof to be held on the first Monday of April of each year, shall constitute a board of equalization, and shall, after the assessor shall have completed and handed in his assessment list to the city clerk, and after five days' notice published in some newspaper in such city, hold meetings to hear and determine all complaints respecting the valuation of property as fixed by the assessor in such list, and shall have power, on their own motion, with or without complaint made, to modify and change such valuation in any way they shall deem just and proper; provided, however, that before making any change in any assessment, the board shall notify the person interested by letter, deposited in the postoffice or express, postpaid, and addressed to such person, at least three days before action taken, of the day fixed when the matter will be investigated; provided, further, that no reduction must be made in the valuation of property, unless the party affected thereby, or his agent, makes and files with the board a written application therefor verified by his oath, showing the facts upon which it is claimed such reduction should be made. Any member of said board shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations in the matters before said board, and the sessions of said board shall be held from time to time, as in its notice specified, for the period of two weeks, and no longer.

Clerk to complete.

§ 643. After the board of equalization shall have completed their duties, the city clerk shall add up the columns of valuation, and enter the total valuation of each description of property in the list, and the total value of all property assessed and listed thereon; and thus equalized and added up, the clerk shall, on the first Monday of May thereafter, deliver it to the city council.

Levy of the tax.

§ 644. On the first Monday in May in every year the city council, by an ordinance, shall levy upon all the property in the city taxable by law for state purposes a tax for school purposes, and for the current and general expenses of the city, and, in conformity to the provisions of this chapter, shall levy any and all other taxes by law directed then to be levied or assessed; and, in conformity with the provisions of this chapter, shall levy a tax for the payment of the funded debt upon the property liable therefor. Every tax so levied is made a lien, which shall attach on said day in each year to and against all real property assessed for the amount assessed against it; and if said property be assessed to a wrong person, or by a wrong name, said lien shall in no wise be affected or invalidated, and it shall not be satisfied or removed until the taxes are paid, or the property has absolutely vested in a purchaser under and by reason of a sale for such taxes. Every tax assessed upon personal property is a lien upon the real property of the owner thereof from and after the time of the levy of such tax. The fiscal year shall begin on the first day of January; and the terms "real and personal property" shall have the same meaning as the same terms used in the revenue laws of the state.

List to be delivered to collector.

§ 645. As soon as the city council have declared and levied the taxes in any year, as in the preceding section provided, the city clerk shall carry out, in a separate money column in the list, the amount of taxes assessed against each individual, firm, company, corporation, or unknown owner, and add and put down the aggregate of all taxes as shown by the list; and as thus carried out, the city clerk shall certify to its correctness, and on or before the third Monday of May thereafter deliver it to the city collector, and shall charge him with the amount of taxes as footed up, and take his receipt therefor.

Collection.

§ 646. The collector, on receiving the assessment list certified by the clerk, shall proceed to collect the taxes specified therein, and pay over the same into the treasury, taking a receipt thereof. For the purpose of collecting the taxes authorized by this chapter, the city collector shall have such powers as are given by the revenue laws of this state to collectors of state and county taxes, so far as the same are applicable. All taxes unpaid at the close of official business on the third Monday of June shall be deemed delinquent, after which time the collector shall receive no money for taxes; and he shall, on said day, enter upon assessment-roll a levy upon all property therein assessed the taxes upon which remain unpaid, and shall immediately ascertain the total amount of taxes unpaid, and file in the office of the city clerk a list of all persons and property then owing taxes, verified by his oath, which list shall be known as the delinquent list.

Delinquencies.

§ 647. On the third Monday in June of each year, at 6 o'clock p. m., all unpaid taxes are delinquent, and thereafter the collector must collect thereon, for the use of the city, an addition of five per cent.

Delinquent list.

§ 648. On the first Monday in July of each year, the city collector must deliver to the city clerk a complete delinquent list of all persons and property then owing taxes; and in the list so delivered must be set down in numerical or alphabetical order all matters and things contained in the assessment-roll and relating to delinquent persons or property.

Verification.

§ 649. The city clerk must carefully compare such delinquent list with the assessment-roll, and if satisfied that it contains a full and true statement of all taxes due and unpaid, he must foot up the total amount of taxes so remaining unpaid, credit the city collector therewith, and make a final settlement with him of all taxes charged against him on the assessment-roll; and must require from him the treasurer's receipt for the full amount of taxes collected.

Certification.

§ 650. After the settlement with the city collector, as prescribed in the preceding section, the city clerk must charge the city collector with the amount of taxes due on the delinquent tax list, with the five per cent added thereto, and within three days thereafter deliver the list, duly certified to such city collector.

Publication.

§ 651. On or before the third Monday in July of each year, the city collector must publish the delinquent list, which must contain the names of the persons and a description of property delinquent, and the amount of taxes and costs due, opposite each name and description, with the taxes due on personal property, added to taxes on real estate where the real estate is liable therefor, or the several taxes are due from the same person. To said list must be appended and with it published a notice that unless the taxes delinquent, together with the costs and percentage, are paid, the real property upon which such taxes are a lien will be sold at public auction, and designating therein the time and place of such sale, which must take place in or in front of the city collector's office, and not less than fourteen nor more than twenty-one days from the first publication.

Collector to certify.

§ 652. Said list must be published three times a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper or supplement thereto published in such city, and when such publication is completed, and before commencing the sale, the city collector must file with the city clerk a copy of the publication, with his affidavit attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same, that the publication was made in a newspaper or a supplement thereto, stating the name and place of publication; such affidavit shall be prima facie evidence of all the facts therein stated. The expense of the publication of the delinquent list to be paid by the city.

Additional amount.

§ 653. The city collector must collect, in addition to the taxes due on the delinquent list, and five per centum added thereto, fifty cents on each lot, piece, or tract of land separately assessed, and on each assessment of personal property, one-half of which must go to the city, and the other to the city collector, in full for preparing the list.

Sale.

§ 654. On the day fixed for the sale, or on some subsequent day to which he may have postponed it, of which he must give notice, the city collector, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 p. m., must commence the sale of the property advertised, commencing at the head of the list, and continuing alphabetically, or in the numerical order of lots and blocks, until completed.

Postponement.

§ 655. He may postpone the day of commencing the sale, or the sale, from day to day; but the sale must be completed within two weeks from the day first fixed.

Owner may designate portion.

§ 656. The owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale for taxes due thereon may designate, in writing, to the city collector, prior to the sale, what portion of the property he wishes sold, if less than the whole; but if the owner or the possessor does not, then the collector may designate it, and the person who will take the least quantity of the land, or in case an undivided interest is assessed, then the smallest portion of the interest, and pay the taxes and costs due, including fifty cents to the city collector for the duplicate certificate of sale, is the purchaser.

Duplicate certificate.

§ 657. After receiving the amount of the taxes and costs, the city collector must make out in duplicate a certificate, dated on the day of sale, stating (when known) the name of the person assessed, a description of the land sold, the amount paid therefor, that it was sold for taxes, giving the amount and year of the assessment, and specifying the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed.

Delivery.

§ 658. The certificates must be signed by the collector, and one copy delivered to the purchaser, and the other filed in the office of the county recorder.

Record of sales.

§ 659. The city collector, before delivering any certificate, must in a book enter a description of the land sold, corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, and amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection, without fee, during office hours, when not in actual use.

Lien vested in purchaser.

§ 660. On filing the certificate with the county recorder, the lien of the city vests in the purchaser, and is only divested by the payment to him, or to the city treasurer for his use, of the purchase money, and fifty per cent thereon.

Redemption.

§ 661. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner, or any party in interest within twelve months from the date of the purchase.

Records of redemption.

§ 662. On receiving the certificate of sale, the recorder must file it, and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the collector. On the presentation of the receipt of the person named in the certificate or of the city treasurer for his use, of the total amount of redemption money, the recorder must mark the word "Redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the certificate, and in the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made.

Purchaser's deed.

§ 663. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by law for its redemption, the city collector, or his successor in office, must make to the purchaser, or assignee, a deed of the property, reciting in the deed substantially the matters contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption. The collector shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser three dollars for making such deed.

What the deed proves.

§ 664. The matters recited in the certificate of sale must be recited in the deed, and such deed duly acknowledged or proved is prima facie evidence that:

1. The property was assessed, as required by law;
2. The property was equalized, as required by law;
3. The taxes were levied in accordance with law;

4. The taxes were not paid;
5. At a proper time and place the property was sold, as prescribed by law, and by the proper officer;
6. The property was not redeemed;
7. The person who executed the deed was the proper officer;
8. Where the real estate was sold to pay taxes on personal property, that the real estate belonged to the person liable to pay the tax.

Deed is evidence of regularity.

§ 665. Such deed, duly acknowledged or proved, is (except as against actual fraud), conclusive evidence of the regularity of all other proceedings, from the assessment by the assessor, inclusive, up to the execution of the deed, and conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free from all encumbrances.

Assessment-roll a guarantee of regularity.

§ 666. The assessment-roll or delinquent list, or a copy thereof, certified by the city clerk, showing unpaid taxes against any person or property, is prima facie evidence of the assessment, the property assessed, the delinquency, the amount due and unpaid, and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment and levy of such taxes have been complied with.

ARTICLE V.—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Duties and powers of mayor.

§ 670. The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city. He shall have a general supervision over the several departments of the city government, and over all its interests, shall preside over the city council when present, once in three months submit a general statement of the condition of its various departments, and recommend to the city council such measures as he may deem expedient for the public good, or improvement of the city, its finances, or government. He shall sign all ordinances passed by the city council, if he approves them; if he does not approve, he shall, within eight days after its submission to him, return the same to the city clerk's office, with his objections in writing, and at the first meeting of the city council thereafter the same shall be entered upon their journal, and they shall then reconsider such ordinance, and unless two-thirds of the councilmen elect, vote for its passage, it shall not become a law. If the mayor shall not so return any ordinance within eight days, it shall become a law as if he had signed it. He may call special meetings of the city council at any time; he shall do so at the written request of four councilmen, by notifying each member personally, or by a written notice left at his last and usual place of abode, or at his place of business during business hours, stating the purpose of such meeting.

President of council.

§ 671. The president of the city council shall preside at all its meetings when the mayor is not present; and whenever there is a vacancy in the office of mayor, or he is absent from the city, or unable, from any cause, to discharge the duties of his office, the president shall act as mayor and exercise all his authority and be subject to his duties. He shall countersign all warrants and licenses issued under and by authority of the city, but in his absence or inability to perform said duty, the mayor, or, if he is absent or unable to perform said duty the president pro tem., or if none has been elected the chairman of the finance committee may sign the same.

Deputies.

§ 672. The chief of police, city attorney, city assessor, city clerk, and city collector, and street commissioner may each, with the approval of the city council, only appoint such deputies as may be necessary, by writing, to be filed with the clerk. Each deputy so appointed shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by the city council, not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, and shall perform such duties under the direction of his principal as may by said council be prescribed. The principals shall be each responsible for his deputy, and may revoke the appointment at pleasure.

Chief of police.

§ 673. The chief of police shall receive a salary which shall not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars per annum, to be determined by the city council.

Treasurer.

§ 674. The city treasurer shall receive a salary which shall not exceed the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, to be determined by the city council.

Duties of treasurer.

§ 675. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer to receive and safely keep all moneys belonging to such city, from whatever source derived, to place the same to the credit of the different funds to which they properly belong, in a book kept for that purpose; to disburse said moneys by the direction of the city council, and in accordance with the provisions made by them, and the school fund, by the direction of the board of education, under the provisions of this chapter, and to make a report monthly to the city council of the condition of the treasury.

Clerk.

§ 676. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the city to keep the corporate seal and all papers and documents belonging to the city; to file them in his office, under appropriate heads; to attend the sittings of the city council and to keep a journal of their proceedings and records of all their by-laws, resolutions, and ordinances; to sign all warrants and licenses issued in pursuance of the orders and ordinances of the city council, and to affix the corporate seal on such licenses; to keep an accurate account in a suitable book, under the appropriate heads, of expenditures, of all orders drawn upon the city treasurer, and all warrants issued in pursuance thereof; also, to keep an account in an appropriate book of all licenses issued, with the names of the persons to whom issued, the date of issue, the time for which the same was granted, and the sums paid therefor, and to perform such other duties as he may be required to perform by the provisions of this act, or by ordinance. He shall receive for his services a salary to be fixed by the city council, not exceeding the sum one hundred dollars per month.

Assessor.

§ 677. It shall be the duty of the city assessor to prepare the assessment-rolls, lists, and books, and to make the assessment of persons and property in said city as required by this chapter; also to make and present all assessments for improvement of streets, or other work of like character. He shall receive a salary, to be fixed by the city council, not exceeding five hundred dollars per annum.

Collector and commissioner.

§ 678. The city collector and street commissioner shall collect all taxes, assessments, licenses, wharfage rates, and all other moneys or dues owing, accruing, belonging, or coming to said city, and the same shall pay over monthly to the city treasurer, unless otherwise ordered by the city council. He shall regulate the landing and stationing of all steamers, vessels, boats, or other water craft, and shall make report to the city council each month. As street commissioner, he shall have the general supervision of all streets, public squares, levees, wharves, sloughs, drains, water-ways, bridges, sidewalks, cross-walks, and public buildings, and shall superintend all work, repairs, or improvement thereof or thereon. At the request of the street committee of the city council, he shall make report to them of any of his doings, and shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by ordinance of the city council. As street commissioner of such city, he is hereby authorized, in his official capacity, to make all written contracts, and receive all bonds authorized in this chapter, and to do any other act, either expressed or implied, that pertains to the street department under this chapter. He shall fix the time for the performance of the work under all contracts entered into by him, in accordance with the notice given by the council; and may extend the time so fixed, from time to time, under the direction of said council. All work upon the street, avenues, or in the matter of sidewalks or bridges, or in the improvement of the public buildings, squares, and places of said city provided for in this chapter, or under the orders or ordinances of the city council of such city, must in all cases be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the street commissioner, and the materials used shall be such as are required by said commissioner, in accordance with the contracts; and all contracts made therefor must contain this condition, and also express notice that in no case, except when it is otherwise provided in this chapter, will the city be liable for any portion of the expense, and where such expense is defrayed by assessments, in no case for any delinquency of persons or property assessed.

Police force.

§ 679. The police force of such city shall consist of the chief of police, and such number of policemen as shall from time to time be fixed and determined by the city council.

Police, commission to elect.

§ 680. The policemen of such city shall be elected by a police commission, to consist of the mayor, chief of police, and the police judge; and such policemen shall hold office from and after their election to and including the second Monday in January next ensuing after a regular city election, unless sooner removed for cause.

Trial commission.

§ 681. The president of the city council, the chairman of the finance committee, and the chairman of the street committee of the city council shall constitute a police trial commission, and such commission shall have power, under rules of procedure to be prescribed by ordinance of such city, to receive, hear, try, and determine all complaints against policemen of such city for violation of official duty, or of any rule, regulation, by-law, or ordinance of such city, and shall have power in such behalf to condemn or acquit, reprimand, suspend, or remove any policeman.

ARTICLE VI.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Police court.

§ 690. A police court is hereby established in such city, which court shall always be open, except upon nonjudicial days, and upon such days may transact criminal business only.

Jurisdiction.

§ 691. The police court of such city shall have jurisdiction of the following public offenses committed within such city:

1. Petit larceny;
2. Assault or battery, not charged to have been committed upon a public officer in the discharge of his official duty or with intent to kill;
3. Breaches of the peace, riots, affrays, committing willful injury to property, and all misdemeanors punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment;

4. Of proceedings respecting vagrants, loud or disorderly persons;

5. Of all proceedings for violation of any ordinance of said city, both civil and criminal; or any and all suits to recover taxes, general or special, levied in such city for city purposes, and of all suits to recover any assessment levied in such city for the improvement of streets, avenues, levees, sidewalks, and public squares, and for the opening or laying out of the same, when the amount of said tax or assessment sought to be collected against the person, firm, or corporation assessed is less than three hundred dollars; provided, no lien upon the property taxed or assessed for the nonpayment of the taxes or assessment is sought to be foreclosed by said suit;

6. Of an action for the collection of money due to such city, or from the city to any person, firm, or corporation, when the amount sought to be collected is less than three hundred dollars;

7. Of an action for the breach or violation of any official bond given by any city officer, and for the breach of any contract, and any action for damages in which the city is a party, or is in any way interested, and on all forfeited recognizances given to or for the benefit or in behalf of such city, and upon all bonds given upon any appeal taken from the judgment of said court in any action above named, when the amount claimed, exclusive of cost, is less than three hundred dollars;

8. Of an action for the recovery of personal property belonging to the city when the value of the property, exclusive of the damages for the taking or detention, is less than three hundred dollars.

9. Of an action for the collection of any license required by any ordinance of the city;

10. The police court shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all proceedings mentioned in this section; and no justice of the peace in such city shall have power to try and decide any cases of the classes mentioned in said section; provided, that any justice of the peace of such city who may be designated in writing by the mayor, or president of the city council thereof, for the purpose, shall have power to preside in and hold the police judge's court of said city in the cases in which the police judge is a party, or in which he is directly interested, or when the judge is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree; and also in the case of the sickness or temporary absence of the judge, or his inability to act from any cause; and in all such cases, and during such sickness, temporary absence, or inability, the justice so designated shall act as police judge, and shall have and exercise all the powers, jurisdiction, and authority which are or may be by law conferred upon said court or judge.

Powers of judge.

§ 692. The judge of said court shall also have power to hear cases for examination, and may commit and hold the offender to bail for trial in the proper court, and may try, condemn, or acquit, and carry his judgment into execution, as the case may require, according to law; and to punish persons guilty of contempt of court, and shall have power to issue warrants of arrest in cases of a criminal prosecution for the violation of a city ordinance, as well as in case of the violation of the criminal law of the state; also, all subpoenas and all other processes necessary to the full and proper exercise of his powers and jurisdiction in all criminal trials before the police judge for the violation of a city ordinance, as well as in cases of a violation of the criminal law of the state, made triable before such court; the defendant shall be entitled, if demanded by him, to a jury trial but a trial by jury may be waived by the defendant in all such cases, and upon such waiver the court shall proceed and try the case.

Dockets.

§ 693. The city council shall furnish, for the use of the police court, two dockets; one shall be styled The city criminal docket, in which all the criminal cases shall be recorded, and each case shall be alphabetically indexed; the other shall be styled The city civil docket, and it shall contain a record of every civil case which is prosecuted before said court, and each case shall be properly indexed, and in all cases the dockets shall contain all such entries as are required by law to be made in the justice's docket; and in any case commenced or tried before the court the docket must show what duties were performed by each officer, and the amount of fees due to the officer for such services, and the amount of money, if any, collected.

Appeals.

§ 694. Appeals from the police court may be taken to the superior court of the county in all cases cognizable by the said police court, and such appeals shall be taken as in case of appeal from a justice's court.

City and district attorney.

§ 695. The city attorney of such city shall prosecute all cases for the violation of any lawful order, regulation, or ordinance of the city council, and shall prosecute, conduct, and control all proceedings in cases mentioned in section 622 of this act, both in the police court and on appeal therefrom to the superior court, but the district attorney shall attend and conduct all proceedings of the nature of a preliminary examination before said police court.

Incarceration.

§ 696. In all cases when the police court is authorized to impose a fine or imprisonment, or both, upon persons convicted in said court of any offense triable therein, the said court may sentence the offender to be imprisoned in the city jail, if there be one established by the city council, if not, then until said council shall designate and establish a city jail or prison, may sentence offenders to be imprisoned in the county jail, and in addition to imprisonment, may sentence offenders to be employed to labor in the city, under the direction of the chief of police, and in the manner prescribed by ordinance, for the benefit of the city, during such time of imprisonment, and may, in case of imposing a fine, embrace as a part of the sentence that, in default of the payment of such fine, the defendants shall be imprisoned and required to labor for the benefit of the city as before provided, at the rate of two dollars a day, till such fine is satisfied. Offenders required to labor under the direction of the chief of police shall, until the establishment of a city jail, be returned to the county jail at the end of each day's labor during their term of imprisonment, until a city jail shall be by the city council established. It is hereby made the duty of the officer having the control or charge of the county jail of the county wherein such city is situated, to receive and safely keep all persons imprisoned by any judgment or order of the police court, in accordance with the order of commitment, and to allow those to be removed from the jail under the charge of the chief of police, who are required to labor for the benefit of the city, or whom the police judge may order brought forth for trial, and the keeper of the jail shall in no way be responsible for the safe-keeping of such prisoners while so under the charge of the chief of police.

Seal.

§ 697. The court shall have a seal, to be provided by the city, and certified transcripts of the police judge's docket and the seal of his court shall be evidence in any court of the state of the contents of the docket; and all warrants, and other processes issued out of said court, and all acts done by said police judge under its seal, shall have the same force and validity, in any part of this state, as though issued or done by any court of record of this state.

Judge's report.

§ 698. The police judge shall, on the last Saturday of each month, make to the city council a full report of all the cases tried in his court for that month, in which the city may be interested, and at the same time shall pay into the city treasury all fines and other moneys collected on behalf of the city for such month.

Salaries.

§ 699. The city council of such city shall allow to the police judge an annual salary which shall not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, and to the chief of police and the several policemen of such city each a salary which shall be fixed by said council. The salaries of the police judge, and chief of police and policemen shall be paid from time to time as other city officers and as the council may determine. The chief of police, or any policeman of such city, is hereby authorized and empowered to serve, execute, and return any and all warrants of arrest, and all processes directed to him by the police judge of said city, and to arrest all persons accused or guilty of the violation of any city ordinance, or of any public offense, and to do and perform all acts and duties which, in criminal cases, any constable of the county may lawfully do, and receive like fees for such services; provided, the city council may, in their descretion, deduct the amount so received, for fees from the monthly salary of such officers, or order the same paid into the city treasury for the use and benefit of the city, as received by said officers respectively; provided, that nothing in this charter shall be construed as authorizing or entitling such officers to charge or receive from such city, or the county wherein situated, any fees or costs in any case whatever, nor shall such city or county be liable to pay any fees, or costs to such officers for any service they may render in any action or proceeding, either civil or criminal. The chief of police shall attend the session of the police court when required, supervise and direct the police force of the city, and perform such other duties as may be required by the city council appertaining to the government of the city or the management of its affairs, not especially devolved upon some other officer named in this chapter; and the chief of police, or any policeman, at his discretion, shall serve all notices by this chapter provided to be served, in which the city is in any way interested, and the return of the officer serving shall be evidence of the facts in such return stated, but none of such officers shall serve or execute any civil process, except as provided in this chapter.

Powers of justices.

§ 700. The justices of the peace in and for the township embracing such city shall have the same powers as the same officers in any justice's court of the county, and shall have and may exercise like powers and authority; provided, however, that no justice of the peace in such city shall have power to conduct or try and decide any proceedings or cases of the classes mentioned in section 622 of this act; but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any of the justices in said city from acting as police judge.

Interested party not disqualified.

§ 701. The interest which any inhabitant of such city may have in a penalty for the breach of a by-law or ordinance of such city shall not disqualify said inhabitant to act as judge, juror, or witness in any prosecution to recover the penalty.

ARTICLE VII.—SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.Board.

§ 710. The board of education of such city shall be elected as in this chapter provided, and shall consist of one superintendent and two trustees from each ward in the city.

Superintendent.

§ 711. The superintendent shall be ex-officio secretary of the board of education, and shall receive for his services a salary which shall not exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum. He shall report to the city council, annually, on or before the first Monday in January, and at such other times as they may require, all matters pertaining to the expenditures, income, condition, and progress of the public schools of the city during the preceding year, together with such accommodations [recommendations], as he may deem proper, and shall, at the regular meeting of the board of education in June of each year, submit to the board a detailed statement of the amount, as near as may be ascertained, of fuel, blanks, blank-books, apparatus, stationery, and such other articles, materials, or supplies, including books for indigent children, as may be necessary for the use of the city schools and the board for one year following. He shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations concerning any demand upon the treasury payable out of the school fund, or other matters relating to his official duties. [Amendment approved March 14, 1885. Stats. 1885, p. 134. In force from and after its passage.]

Advertisement for supplies.

§ 712. The board of education shall, upon the receipt of the statement from the superintendent, as in the preceding section provided, advertise for the space of five successive days in some newspaper published in such city, for sealed proposals for furnishing the articles in said statement specified. Said advertisement shall designate a day after the expiration of the publication aforesaid when said proposals will be considered, at which time the board or a committee thereof by the board for such purpose designated, shall meet and publicly open and declare the proposals received and shall thereupon award the contract therefor to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders, in each case; provided, that all bids may be rejected if deemed too high. Said board may, in their discretion, require a good and sufficient bond with two or more sureties, to be filed by each bidder, in the sum of two hundred dollars, conditioned for the fulfillment of his proposal in case of the acceptance thereof.

Powers of board.

§ 713. Subject to and in accordance with the directions and provisions of this chapter, the board of education shall have full power:

Establish schools.

1. To establish and maintain public schools, including high school, and fix and alter the boundaries of the district thereof.

Employees.

2. To employ and dismiss teachers, janitors, and other necessary help, and to fix, alter, allow, and order paid their salaries or compensation, and to employ and pay such mechanics and laborers as may be necessary to carry into effect the powers and duties of the board, and to withhold, for good and sufficient cause, the whole or any part of the salary or wages of any person or persons employed as aforesaid.

Regulation of schools.

3. To make, establish, and enforce all necessary and proper rules and regulations not contrary to law, for the government and progress of the public schools within the city, the pupils therein and the teachers thereof, and for carrying into effect the laws relating to education; also, to establish and regulate the grade of schools, and determine what course of study and mode of instruction shall be used in said schools.

Building and repairs.

4. To build, alter, repair, rent, and provide schoolhouses, and the same furnish with lights, water, proper school furniture, apparatus, and school appliances, and to insure any and all school property.

Real estate.

5. To receive, purchase, lease, and hold in fee, in trust for such city, any and all real estate; and to hold in trust any personal property that may have been or may hereafter be acquired for the use and benefit of the public schools of such city.

Improvements.

6. To grade, fence, and improve school lots, and in front thereof to grade, sewer, plank, or pave and repave, and to construct and repair sidewalks.

Legal privileges.

7. To sue for any and all lots, lands, and property belonging to or claimed by the said school department; and to prosecute and defend all actions at law or in equity necessary to recover and maintain the full enjoyment and possession of said lots, lands, and property, and to employ and pay counsel in such cases.

To determine amount of money needed.

8. To determine annually the amount of taxation, not exceeding thirty-five cents on each one hundred dollars valuation on the assessment-roll, to be raised upon the real and personal property within the city not exempt from taxation, for the establishment and support of free public schools therein; and for carrying into effect all the provisions of law regarding public schools, and the amount so determined by said board of education shall be reported in writing to the city council on or before the first Monday of April of each year; and the said city council are hereby authorized and required to levy and cause to be collected, at the time and in the manner of levying other city taxes, the amount of taxation so determined and reported to them by the said board of education, as school tax, upon all taxable property in the city; and said tax shall be in addition to all other amounts levied for city purposes.

Disbursements.

9. To establish regulations for the just and equal disbursement of all moneys belonging to the "public-school fund."

Demands.

10. To examine and allow, in whole or in part, every demand payable out of the school fund, or to reject any such demand for good cause, of which the board shall be sole judge.

Encumbrances.

11. To discharge all legal encumbrances now existing, or which may hereafter exist, upon any school property.

Age limit.

12. To prohibit any child under six years of age from attending the public schools.

Other acts.

13. And generally to do and perform such other acts as may be necessary and proper to carry into force and effect the powers conferred on said board.

Fund to be diverted.

14. To use and apply the school fund of the city for the purposes in this section heretofore named, and for no other purpose whatever.

Nonresidents.

15. To admit nonresident children to any of the departments of the schools of such city upon the payment, at such time as said board may direct, of tuition fee, to be fixed by said board.

Board of examination.

§ 714. No teacher shall be employed in any of the public schools of such city without having a certificate of the proper grade, issued under the provisions of this chapter. For the purpose of granting certificates required, the board of education, either as a body or by a board of examination appointed by said board of education, and of which the superintendent shall be president, shall hold examinations of teachers. No certificate shall be issued except to a person who shall have passed a satisfactory examination in such branches as the board may require, and shall have given evidence of good moral character, ability, and fitness to teach. Examinations of teachers must be held semi-annually, at such times as the board may determine.

Revocation and renewal.

§ 715. The board may, in its discretion, renew without re-examination the certificate of any person so employed. It shall have power to revoke the certificate of any teacher upon evidence of immoral or unprofessional conduct or incompetency, and shall always have the power to dismiss any and all teachers, and to alter the amount of salary or compensation paid to either or any of them. The board of education may also, without examination, grant certificates and fix the grade thereof to the holders of life diplomas, state educational diplomas, normal school diplomas, state university diplomas, and to the holders of such state and county certificates as were in full force and effect on the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty.

Board must visit.

§ 716. It shall be the duty of the board of education to visit and examine each school at least once each and every month; to observe, and cause to be observed, such general rules for the regulation and government and instruction of the schools, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as may be established by the board.

School fund, how constituted and applied.

§ 717. The public school fund of such city shall consist of all moneys received from the state and county school fund; of all moneys arising from taxes which shall be levied by the city council for school purposes; of all moneys arising from the sale, rent, or exchange of school property, and of such other moneys as may from any source whatever be paid into said school fund; which fund shall be kept separate and distinct from all other moneys, and shall only be used for school purposes under the provisions of this chapter. No fees or commission shall be allowed or paid for assessing, collecting, keeping, or disbursing of school moneys; and if at the end of the fiscal year any surplus remains in the school fund, such surplus money shall be carried forward to the school fund of the next fiscal year, and no part of the school fund shall be for any purpose or in any manner whatever diverted or withdrawn from said fund, except as in this chapter provided.

Approval of claims.

§ 718. All claims payable out of the school fund shall be filed with the secretary of the board, and shall be approved by a majority of all the members of the board, and certificate of such approval shall be indorsed thereon; whereupon the secretary of said board shall draw a warrant upon the city treasurer for the payment thereof, which warrant shall be countersigned by the superintendent. All demands for salaries of teachers and compensation of janitors shall be payable monthly in the same manner without presentation of claims therefor.

Payment of demands.

§ 719. All demands authorized by this article, and by the board approved as aforesaid, shall be paid by the city treasurer from the school fund upon the presentation of the warrants therefor; provided, that the board of education shall not, without the consent of the city council first had, have power to create any debts or liability in any one year to exceed the actual revenue or available means in the city treasury under the control of the board, and justly applicable for school purposes for such year.

CHAPTER VI.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS OF THE FIFTH CLASS.

(A charter for cities having a population of more than 3,000 and not exceeding 10,000.)

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL POWERS.

Fifth class.

§ 750. Every municipal corporation of the fifth class shall be entitled the city of (naming it), and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue and be sued in all courts and places, and in all proceedings whatever; shall have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the city authorities, and may purchase, lease, receive, hold, and enjoy real and personal property, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit.

ARTICLE II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO OFFICERS.

Officers.

§ 751. The government of said city shall be vested in a board of trustees, to consist of five members; a board of education, to consist of five members; and whenever a free public library and reading-room is established therein, five trustees thereof; a recorder; a treasurer; a clerk; an attorney; a marshal; an assessor, and such subordinate officers as are hereinafter provided for; provided, that the board of trustees may, in its discretion, by an ordinance adopted, published and recorded as required for general ordinances, at least thirty days before a general city election, at which city officers are to be elected, unite and consolidate certain offices, by declaring:

1. The city marshal elected shall be ex-officio superintendent of streets, and health officer;
2. The city clerk elected shall be ex-officio recorder and assessor;
3. The city treasurer elected shall be ex-officio city tax collector and license tax collector;
4. The city attorney elected shall be ex-officio city clerk. [Amendment approved February 28, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 70. In effect immediately.]

Election and terms of office.

§ 752. The members of the board of trustees, and of the board of education, and the city clerk, city attorney, assessor, marshal, treasurer, and recorder shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city at a general municipal election, to be held therein on the second Monday in April, nineteen hundred and three, and on the second Monday in April of each fourth year thereafter and shall hold office for the period of four years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified; provided, that a general municipal election shall be held in said city on the second Monday in April, nineteen hundred and five, for the election of successors to the members of the board of trustees and of the board of education whose terms of office expire during said year, and said successors shall hold office for the period of two years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The board of trustees may in their discretion appoint a poundmaster, also a superintendent of streets, and a city engineer, all of whom shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. [Amendment approved February 26, 1903. Stats. 1903, p. 40. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 389; March 2, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 21; March 5, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 25; March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 159.

Election on adoption of commission form of government.

§ 752a. The board of trustees may at any time submit to the electors at any municipal or at any special election to be held for that purpose, an ordinance to divide the administration of the municipality into five departments and provide for the assignment of its several members to the heads of such respective departments and to be appointed as the commissioners of such respective departments; provided, that if a department of public health be created the commissioner in charge may be given the powers and duties of the municipal board of health, and such health board be thereby abolished. Such ordinance shall define the duties, powers and responsibilities of each commissioner and may require such commissioner to devote a specified number of hours of each business day to the performance of such duties, in which event such commissioner may receive a compensation, the amount of same to be fixed by said ordinance. The board may, by majority vote, subject to the provisions of this section, assign its several members to be and appoint them as the respective commissioners of such several departments, and may by like vote from time to time change such assignment and appointment. It may assign employees to one or more departments, may require an officer or employee to perform duties in two or more departments, and may make such other rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper to the efficient and economical conduct of the business of the municipality. The substance of the ordinance so proposed shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: Shall the administration of the municipality be divided into five departments as follows: (insert the five departments of government proposed and briefly designate the powers and duties conferred upon each and the compensation each commissioner or head of department shall receive), "Yes" and "No" so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast at such election were in favor of the ordinance, such ordinance shall take effect and be in force on the tenth day thereafter. [New section approved April 10, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 842.]

Election on question of appointment of city officers.

§ 752b. The board of trustees may submit to the electors at any municipal election or at a special election to be held for that purpose, the question as to whether the elective officers, or any of them, other than trustees, shall be appointed by said board, instead of being elected as provided in the preceding section. The question so submitted shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: "Shall the board of trustees hereafter appoint the . . . (naming the offices) of the city (or town) of . . .," with the words "Yes" and "No" so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections, and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast on any such proposition were in favor of the appointment of such officers or any of them, then at the expiration of the terms of office of any such officials then in office, and on the occurrence of a vacancy in any such offices, such elective officers or any of them for the appointment of whom such majority vote was so cast, shall thereafter be appointed by the board of trustees and hold office during the pleasure of such board. [New section approved April 10, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 843.]

Official bonds.

§ 753. The clerk, treasurer, city attorney, and marshal shall, respectively, before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, each execute a bond to such city in such penal sum as the board of trustees by ordinance may determine, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, including in the same bond the duties of all offices of which he is made by this chapter ex-officio incumbent. Such bonds shall be approved by the board of trustees. All bonds, when approved, shall be filed with the clerk, except the bond of the clerk, which shall be filed with the president of the board of trustees. All the provisions of any law of this state relating to the official bonds of officers shall apply to such bonds except as herein otherwise provided. Every officer of such city, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and file with the clerk the constitutional oath of office.

Vacancies.

§ 754. Any vacancy occurring in any of the offices provided for in this act shall be filled by appointment by the board of trustees; but if such office be elective, such appointee shall hold office only until the next regular election, at which time a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term. In case a member of the board of trustees is absent from the city for the period of ninety days, unless by permission of the board of trustees, his office shall by the board be declared vacant, and the same filled as in case of other vacancies.

Compensation of trustees and other officers.

§ 755. The members of the boards of trustees shall receive no compensation whatever, provided that in all such cities the question of whether the members of such board or any of them shall receive any compensation for his services as such member, and the amount thereof, may be submitted to the qualified electors of said city at any general municipal election held therein, and if the majority of such electors voting at such election shall vote in favor thereof, then such trustee or trustees shall receive the compensation specified in the call submitting such question at such municipal election; such compensation to begin on the first day of the next month succeeding the canvass of the return of such election, and the amount so fixed shall from such date be a charge against such city; payable the same as other fixed salaries are paid. Said compensation may be increased or diminished at any general municipal election thereof, by submission of such question in the same manner and by the same vote as herein provided, for the original creation of such compensation.

The treasurer, assessor, marshal, clerk and recorder shall severally receive at stated times a compensation to be fixed by ordinance by the board of trustees, which compensation shall not be increased or diminished after their election or during their several terms of office.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the board of trustees from fixing such several amounts of compensation in the first instance during the term of office of any such officer or after his election. The compensation of all other officers shall be fixed from time to time by the board of trustees. [Amendment of March 1, 1911. Stats. and Amdts. 1911, p. 253. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 390.

Election regulations.

§ 756. All elections in such city shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same may be made applicable, and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county, enrolled upon the great register thereof, and shall have resided in such city for at least thirty days next preceding such election. The board of trustees shall give such notice of each election as may be prescribed by ordinance, shall appoint boards of election, and fix their compensation, and establish election precincts and polling-places, and may change the same; provided, that no part of any ward less than the whole thereof shall be attached to any other ward, or part thereof, in forming election precincts. At any municipal election the last printed great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such printed register shall be entitled to vote, upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and official seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county, provided that he is otherwise entitled to vote.

Eligibility to office.

§ 757. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of trustee in such city, unless he be a resident and elector therein, and shall have resided in such city for one year next preceding the date of his election. [Amendment approved April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 34. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Free library.

§ 758. The trustees of any free public library created or existing in such city under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to establish free public libraries and reading-rooms," approved April twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and eighty, shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city, at a general municipal election to be held therein on the second Monday in April next succeeding the passage and approval of this act, and shall hold office for the period of four years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. In case a vacancy shall occur in the office of trustee of such free public library and reading-room, the board of trustees of said free public library and reading-room shall choose a person to fill such vacancy, who shall serve until the next general municipal election, when, if the term does not then expire, a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term. [Amendment approved April 1, 1897. Stats. 1897, p. 403. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 390.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Board of trustees.

§ 760. The board of trustees shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the date of said general municipal election, shall take the oath of office, shall choose one of their number president, and shall hold regular meetings at least once in each month, at such times as they shall fix by ordinance. Special meetings may be called at any time by the president of the board or by three trustees, by written notice delivered to each member at least three hours before the time specified for the proposed meeting. All meetings of the board of trustees shall be held within the corporate limits of the city, at such place as may be designated by ordinance, and shall be public.

Meetings.

§ 761. At any meeting of the board of trustees, a majority of the trustees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a less number may adjourn from time to time, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as may be prescribed by ordinance. The president of the board shall preside at all meetings of the board, and in case of his absence, the board may appoint a president pro tem.; and in case of the absence of the clerk, the president or president pro tem. shall appoint one of the members of the board clerk pro tem.

Rules.

§ 762. The board of trustees shall judge of the qualifications of its members and of all election returns, and determine contested elections of all city officers. They may establish rules for the conduct of their proceedings, and punish any member, or other person, for disorderly behavior at any meeting. They shall cause the clerk to keep a correct journal of all their proceedings, and, at the desire of any member, shall cause the ayes and noes to be taken on any question, and entered on the journal.

Limitation on passage of ordinances.

§ 763. No resolution granting any franchise, and no ordinance for any purpose, shall be passed by the board of trustees on the day of its introduction, nor within five days thereafter, nor at any other than a regular meeting, or an adjourned regular meeting, and no such resolution and no ordinance granting any franchise shall be passed without being first submitted to the city attorney. No resolution or order for the payment of money shall be passed at any other than a regular meeting, or an adjourned regular meeting, and no resolution or order for the payment of money, no resolution granting a franchise, and no ordinance for any purpose, shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the affirmative vote of at least three trustees. In cases of urgency the board of trustees by a four-fifths vote may adopt any ordinance or resolution affecting the health and safety of the public on the day of its introduction or at any regular or special meeting. [Amendment of May 5, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 311. In effect July 22, 1919.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 389.

Powers of board of trustees of city.

§ 764. The board of trustees of such city shall have power:

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state, or of the United States.

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city; provided, that they shall not have any power to sell or convey any portion of any waterfront; but may rent such waterfront for a term not exceeding ten years for the purpose of erecting bath houses thereon.

3. To contract for supplying the said city with water, and gas, and electric lights or other lights for municipal purposes; to purchase, lease, construct or otherwise acquire water works, electric plants, and gas works or plants or any of same, and all machinery, conductors, lands, appliances and all other things needed therefor, and to supply said city with, and to sell to the inhabitants of said city, gas, electric light or other light, and heat, and power; provided, that no such purchase or lease shall be made unless the question of acquiring such property is submitted to the voters of such city in the same manner as other propositions, at a general or special municipal election, and a majority of the electors, voting at such election shall vote in favor of such proposition.

4. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter, keep open, open, improve and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, squares, and other public highways and places within the city, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel and curb the same in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and crosswalks therein, or upon any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places. •

5. To establish, construct and maintain drains and sewers, and to provide by ordinance for a general system of sewers, and the expense of building and maintaining the same.

6. To provide fire engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. To impose and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars, and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of such city; provided, that any member of a volunteer fire company in such city shall be exempt from such tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual license, not exceeding two dollars on every dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall be apportioned as follows: For the general fund, not exceeding sixty cents on each one hundred dollars; for street fund, not exceeding thirty cents on each one hundred dollars; for school fund, not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars; for sewer fund, not exceeding ten cents on each one hundred dollars. The levy for all purposes for any one year for all purposes to which such funds are applicable shall not exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city.

10. To license, for purposes of regulation and revenue, all and every kind of business, including the sale of intoxicating liquors, authorized by law and transacted or carried on in such city, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of licenses upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city, or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and to remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the waterfront of the city, and to construct and maintain embankments and other works to protect such city from overflow.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes.

13. To permit, under such restrictions as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, electricity, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas or water pipes in the public streets, and to construct and maintain, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telephone, telegraph and electric light lines therein.

14. In its discretion to divide the city, by ordinance, into a convenient number of wards, not exceeding five, to fix the boundaries thereof, and to change the same from time to time; provided, that no change in the boundaries of any ward shall be made within sixty days next before the date of said general municipal election, nor within twenty months after the same shall have been established or altered. Whenever such city shall be divided into wards, the board of trustees shall designate by ordinance the number of trustees to be elected from each ward, apportioning the same in proportion to the population of such ward; and thereafter the trustees so designated shall be elected by the qualified electors resident in such ward, or by the general vote of the whole city, as may be designated in such ordinance.

15. To appoint and remove such policemen and such other subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and to fix their duties and compensation.

16. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances, and for any breach or violation of any ordinance to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both, but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of such imprisonment exceed three months.

17. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other property or works within the city.

18. To establish fire limits, and the same to alter at pleasure; to regulate or prevent the erection of wooden or other buildings or structures of combustible materials; to regulate the construction of all buildings, shades, awnings, signs, or any structure of a dangerous or unsafe character; to provide, by regulation, for the prevention and summary removal of all filth and garbage in the streets, sloughs, alleys, backyards or public grounds of such city, or elsewhere therein; to regulate or prohibit the storage of gunpowder and combustible or explosive materials of every kind and nature within the city limits, and to prescribe the limits in which the same may be kept or stored.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and to exact and enforce within the limits of such city all other local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as do not conflict with general laws.

20. To levy and collect a property tax in addition to that now authorized by law for the purpose of improving, repairing, and maintaining any and all streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks of said municipality, which have heretofore been accepted by said municipality, under and pursuant to the provisions of any street improvement act, providing for the acceptance of streets by said municipality, which such tax shall not exceed thirty cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such municipality. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1663. In effect July 31, 1917.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 391; March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 196; March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 656; March 3, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 45; April 16, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 937.

Enacting clause of ordinances.

§ 765. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The board of trustees of the city (or town) of do ordain as follows:". Every ordinance must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, attested by the clerk, and must be published by said board at least three times in a newspaper of general circulation published in such city or town, or if there be none published in such city or town, then every ordinance must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, that emergency ordinances subject to the referendum must be published at least one time. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1663. In effect July 31, 1917.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 389.

Board to audit demands.

§ 766. All demands against such city, except as otherwise by law provided, shall be presented to and audited by the board of trustees, in accordance with such regulations as they may by ordinance prescribe; and upon the allowance of any such demand, the president of the board shall draw a warrant upon the treasurer for the same, which warrant will be countersigned by the clerk, and shall specify for what purpose the same is drawn, and out of what fund it is to be paid. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 389. In effect immediately.]

Indebtedness not to exceed moneys provided.

§ 767. The board of trustees shall not create, audit, allow, or permit to accrue any debt or liability in excess of the available money in the treasury that may be legally apportioned and appropriated for such purposes, except in the manner provided by law for incurring indebtedness; provided, that any city during the first year of its existence under this act may incur such indebtedness or liability as may be necessary, not exceeding in all the income and revenue provided for it for such year; nor shall any warrant be drawn, or evidence of indebtedness be issued, unless there be at the time sufficient money in the treasury legally applicable to the payment of the same, except as herein-before provided. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 389. In effect immediately.]

Incurring of excess decided at an election.

§ 768. [Amended March 4, 1887. Stats. 1887, p. 12; March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, pp. 371, 397. Repealed April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 33. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Imprisonment.

§ 769. The violation of any ordinance of such city shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and may be prosecuted by the authorities of such city in the name of the people of the state of California, or may be redressed by civil action, at the option of said authorities. Any person sentenced to imprisonment for the violation of an ordinance may be imprisoned in the city jail, or, if the board of trustees shall by ordinance so prescribe, in the county jail of the county in which such city may be situated; in which case the expense of such imprisonment shall be a charge in favor of such county against such city. [Amendment approved March 7, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 72. In effect in sixty days.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 389.

Nuisances.

§ 770. Every act or thing done or being within the limits of such city, which is or may be declared by law or by any ordinance of such city to be a nuisance, shall be and is hereby declared to be a nuisance, and shall be considered and treated as such in all actions and proceedings whatever; and all remedies which are or may be given by law for the prevention and abatement of nuisances shall apply thereto.

Repairs assessed on fronting property.

§ 771. [Repealed April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 33. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Right of way.

§ 772. Whenever it shall become necessary for the city to take or damage private property for the purpose of establishing, laying out, extending and widening streets and other public highways and places within the city, or for the purpose of rights of way for drains, sewers and aqueducts, and for the purpose of widening, straightening, or diverting the channels of streams, and the improvement of waterfronts, and the board of trustees can not agree with the owner thereof as to the price to be paid, the trustees may direct proceedings to be taken under section 1237, and the following sections, to and including section 1263 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to procure the same.

City tax levy.

§ 773. The board of trustees shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to provide by ordinance a system for the assessment, levy and collection of all city taxes not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. All taxes shall be collected by the marshal or treasurer, as may be determined by the board of trustees by ordinance. All taxes assessed, together with any percentage imposed for delinquency and the costs of collection, shall constitute liens on the property assessed; every tax upon the personal property shall be a lien upon the real property of the owner thereof. The liens provided for in this section shall attach as of the first Monday in March of each year, and may be enforced by a sale of the real property affected, and the execution and delivery of all necessary certificates and deeds therefor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance, or by action in any court of competent jurisdiction to foreclose such liens; provided, that any property sold for such taxes shall be subject to redemption within five years and upon the terms provided or that may hereafter be provided for the redemption of property sold for state taxes. All deeds made upon any sale of property for taxes or special assessments under the provisions of this chapter shall have the same force and effect in evidence as is or may hereafter be provided by law for deeds for property sold for nonpayment of state taxes. [Amendment approved March 8, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 88. In effect in sixty days.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 394. See note to § 871, post.

Equalization.

§ 774. The board of trustees shall meet at their usual place of holding meetings on the second Monday of August of each year, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, and sit as a board of equalization, and shall continue in session from day to day until all the returns of the assessor have been rectified. They shall have power to hear complaints, and to correct, modify or strike out any assessment made by the assessor, and may, of their own motion, raise any assessment, upon notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised. The corrected list for each tax shall be the assessment roll for said tax for said year. It shall be certified by the city clerk, who shall act as clerk of the board of equalization, as being the assessment roll for said tax, and shall be the assessment roll upon which such tax is to be levied in said year.

Construction of act.

§ 775. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to prevent any city having a bonded indebtedness, contracted under laws heretofore passed, from levying and collecting such taxes for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as are provided for in such laws, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected; nor to prevent any city from levying and collecting the tax authorized by the act entitled "An act to establish free public libraries and reading rooms," approved April twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and eighty, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected. All moneys received from licenses, street poll tax, and from fines, penalties and forfeitures, shall be paid into the general fund.

Waterfront fund.

§ 776. The board of trustees may also levy, and cause to be collected in each year, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected, a tax, not exceeding ten cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city subject to taxation, the proceeds of which tax shall be known as the "River and Waterfront Improvement Fund," and shall be applied to the improvement of streams, bays and waterfronts, and the erection of embankments and other works to protect the city from overflow, and for no other purposes whatever.

Work in cities of fifth class costing $300 done by contract. By day labor. In case of calamity.

§ 777. In the erection, improvement, and repair of all public buildings and works, in all street and sewer work, and in all work in or about streams, bays or waterfronts, or in or about embankments, or other works for protection against overflow, and in furnishing any supplies or materials for the same, when the expenditures required for the same exceed the sum of three hundred dollars, the same shall be done by contract, and shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in such city or town, for at least two weeks, or if there be no newspaper printed or published therein, by printing and posting the same in at least four public places therein for the same period; such notice shall distinctly and specifically state the work contemplated to be done; provided, that the board of trustees may reject any and all bids presented and re-advertise, in their discretion; provided, further, after rejecting bids, the board of trustees may declare and determine by a four-fifths vote of all its members that in its opinion the work in question may be performed more economically by day labor or the materials or supplies furnished at a lower price in the open market, and after the adoption of a resolution to this effect they may proceed to have the same done in the manner stated without further observance of the foregoing provisions of this section; and provided, further, that in case of a great public calamity such as an extraordinary fire, flood, storm, epidemic or other disaster, the board of trustees may, by resolution passed by vote of four-fifths of all its members declare and determine that public interest and necessity demands the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health or property and thereupon they may proceed to expend or enter into a contract involving the expenditure of any sum required in such emergency. The board of trustees shall annually, at a stated time, contract for doing all city printing and advertising, which contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice as provided in this section. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1304.]

This section was also amended March 10, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 54.

Powers of president.

§ 778. The president of the board of trustees shall preside over all meetings of the board at which he is present. In his absence a president pro tem. may be chosen. The president, and in his absence the the president pro tem., shall sign all warrants drawn on the city treasurer, and, unless otherwise provided by said board, shall sign all written contracts entered into by said city, as such president or president pro tem. The authority and power of the president pro tem. shall continue only during the day on which he is chosen. The president and president pro tem. shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, and take affidavits and certify the same under their hands. The president or president pro tem. shall sign all conveyances made by said city, and all instruments which shall require the seal of the city. The president is authorized to acknowledge the execution of all instruments executed by said city that require to be acknowledged. He shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations concerning any demand upon the treasury, and in all matters relating to the duties of the board of trustees, and to witnesses examined in any investigation had by said board, or by any committee thereof duly authorized to make such investigation. Said president may issue subpoenas under his hand and the seal of such city, attested by the city clerk to compel the attendance of witnesses before such board of trustees or committee thereof. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 389. In effect immediately.]

ARTICLE IV.—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Treasurer.

§ 786. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive and safely keep all moneys which shall come into his hands as city treasurer, for all of which he shall give duplicate receipts, one of which shall be filed with the city clerk. He shall pay out said money on warrants signed by the proper officers, and not otherwise, except interest coupons on bonds. He shall make quarterly settlements with the city clerk. He shall collect all taxes levied by the board of trustees, if so required by ordinance. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 389. In effect immediately.]

Assessor.

§ 787. It shall be the duty of the assessor, between the first day of May and the first day of August in each year, to make out a true list of all the taxable property within the city. The mode of making out of said list, and proceedings relating thereto, shall be in conformity with laws now in force regulating county assessors, except as the same may be otherwise provided in this act, or by ordinance. Said list shall describe the property assessed and the value thereof, and shall contain all other matters required to be stated in such lists by county assessors. Said assessor shall verify said list by his oath, and shall deposit the same with the city clerk on or before the first Monday of August in each year. The assessor shall, during said time, also make a list of all male persons residing within the limits of such city over the age of twenty-one years, and shall verify said list by his oath, and shall, on or before the first Monday of August in each year, deposit the same with the city clerk. Said assessor and his deputy shall have power to administer all oaths and affirmations necessary in the performance of his duties.

City clerk, duties of.

§ 788. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to keep a full and true record of all the proceedings of the board of trustees and of the board of equalization. The proceedings of the board of trustees shall be kept in a book, marked "Records of the Board of Trustees." The proceedings of the board of equalization shall be kept in a separate book, marked "Records of the Board of Equalization." He shall keep a book, which shall be marked "City Accounts," in which shall be entered as a credit all moneys received by the city for licenses, the amount of any tax when levied, and all other moneys received; and in which shall be entered upon the debtor side all commissions deducted, and all warrants drawn on the treasury. He shall also keep a book, marked "Marshal's Account," in which he shall charge the city marshal with all the tax lists, if any, delivered to him, and all licenses delivered to him. He shall credit the marshal with the delinquent lists returned by him. He shall also keep a book marked "Treasurer's Account," in which he shall keep a full account of the transactions of the city with the treasurer. He shall also keep a book, marked "City Licenses," in which he shall enter all licenses delivered by him to the marshal, and the amount thereof. He shall also keep a book, marked "City Ordinances," into which he shall copy all city ordinances, with his certificate annexed to said copy, stating the foregoing ordinance is a true and correct copy of an ordinance of such city, and giving the number and title of said ordinance, and stating that the same has been published or posted according to law. Said record copy, with said certificate, or the original ordinance, shall be prima facie evidence of the contents of the ordinance and of the due passage and publication of the same, and shall be admissible as such evidence in any court or proceeding. Said records shall not be filed in any case, but shall be returned to the custody of the city clerk. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the proof of the passage and publication of ordinances in the usual way. Each of the foregoing books, except the records of the board of trustees and the board of equalization, shall have a general index, sufficiently comprehensive to enable a person readily to ascertain matters contained therein. The city clerk shall also keep a book, marked "Demands and Warrants," in which he shall note every demand against the city, and file the same. He shall state therein, under the note of the demands, the final disposition made of the same; and if the same is allowed and a warrant is drawn, he shall also state the number of the warrant, with sufficient dates. This book shall contain an index, in which reference shall be made to each demand. Upon the completion of the assessment roll for any of the taxes of the city, and levying of the tax thereon, the city clerk shall apportion the taxes upon such assessment roll, and shall deliver it to the officer charged with the duty of collecting taxes. It shall not be necessary to make a duplicate assessment roll. He may appoint a deputy, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible; and he and his deputy shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, to take affidavits and depositions to be used in any court or proceeding in the state, and to certify the same. He and his deputies shall take all necessary affidavits to demands against the city, and certify the same without charge. He shall be the custodian of the seal of such city. He shall make a quarterly statement, in writing, showing the receipts and expenditures of the city for the preceding quarter, and the amount remaining in the treasury. He shall, at the end of every fiscal year, make a full and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding year, and a full statement of the financial condition of the affairs of the city, which shall be published. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the board of trustees shall require. [Amendment approved March 19, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 389. In effect immediately.]

Duties of city attorney in fifth class cities.

§ 789. It shall be the duty of the city attorney to appear and represent the city in all actions pending in any court in which the city is a party, or in which it is interested, and he shall also appear and represent the people in all actions prosecuted in any court for the violation of any of the ordinances of said city, or involving the validity of any municipal ordinances or acts of said city, and in all actions or proceedings to which said city may be a party. He shall advise the city authorities and officers in all legal matters pertaining to the business of said city and render such other services in the line of his profession as may be required of him by the board of trustees. [Amendment of April 23, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 170.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 396.

Police department under control of city marshal.

§ 790. The department of police of said city shall be under the direction and control of the city marshal; and for the suppression of any riot, public tumult, disturbance of the peace, or resistance against the laws or public authorities in the lawful exercise of their functions, he shall have the powers that are now or may hereafter be conferred upon sheriffs by the laws of the state, and shall, in all respects, be entitled to the same protection; and his lawful orders shall be promptly executed by deputies, police officers and watchmen in said city, and every citizen shall also lend him aid, when required, for the arrest of offenders and maintenance of public order. He shall and is hereby authorized to execute and return all process issued and directed to him by any legal authority. It shall be his duty to prosecute before the recorder all breaches or violations of or noncompliance with the city ordinance which shall come to his knowledge. He shall collect all taxes levied by the board of trustees, except as is herein provided. He shall, at the expiration of any month, pay to the city treasurer all taxes and other funds of said city collected by him during said month. He shall, upon payment of the money, file with the treasurer an affidavit, stating that the money so paid is all the taxes or funds that he has collected or received during the preceding month. He shall, upon the receipt of any tax list, give his receipt for the same to the city clerk, and shall, upon depositing with the city clerk the delinquent tax list, take his receipt therefor. He shall receive from the clerk all city licenses and collect the same. He shall have charge of the city prison and prisoners, and of any chain gang which may be established by the board of trustees. He shall, for service of any process, receive the same fees as constables. He may appoint, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, one or more deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible, whose only compensation shall be fees for the service of process, which shall be the same as those allowed to the city marshal. He may also, with the concurrence of the president of the board of trustees, when the same may be by them deemed necessary for the preservation of public order, appoint additional policemen, who shall discharge the duties assigned them for one day only. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the board of trustees shall require, and shall receive such compensation from the city as shall be fixed by ordinance, in addition to such mileage and fees as he shall receive in the service of process of the courts of this state, other than the recorder's court of such city, which mileage and fees shall be the same as is allowed by law to constables in the county in which such city is situated. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893. Stats. 1893, p. 299.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 396.

Board to fix compensation.

§ 791. The board of trustees shall, by ordinances not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, prescribe the additional duties of all officers, and fix their compensation.

ARTICLE V.—SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

School district.

§ 795. From and after the organization of each of such cities, the same shall constitute a separate school district, which shall be governed by the board of education of such city; provided the board of supervisors may include more territory in such school district than that included in such city, and in that case such outside territory shall be deemed a part of such city for the purpose of holding the general municipal election, and shall be an election precinct by itself and its qualified electors shall vote only for the board of education, and said outside territory shall be deemed to be a part of said city for all matters connected with the school department, and the annual levying and collecting of the property tax for the school fund. [Amendment approved March 10, 1891. Stats. 1891, p. 28.]

Vacancy in board.

§ 796. In case a vacancy shall occur in the office of school director, the board of education shall choose a person to fill such vacancy, who shall serve until the next election, when, if the term does not then expire, a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term.

Meetings.

§ 797. The board of education shall meet on the second Tuesday after such general municipal election, and choose one of its members as president, and shall appoint a secretary, who shall hold at the pleasure of said board. The regular meetings of said board shall thereafter be held as often as once in each month, in the place provided for the board of trustees, and the time for holding such meetings shall be fixed by the board of education. Special meetings of said board may be held when called by written notice, signed by its president, or three of its members, and delivered personally to each of its members who shall not have signed the same. Three members shall constitute a quorum, and no business shall be transacted by said board of education without the concurrence of three of its members; but a majority of the members present at any meeting may adjourn from time to time. All the meetings of said board of education shall be public, and full records of its proceedings shall be kept by the secretary of said board. The members of the board of education shall receive no compensation for their services as school directors. [Amendment approved March 7, 1891. Stats. 1891, p. 114.]

Powers of board.

§ 798. The board of education shall have power:

1. To establish and maintain public, primary, kindergarten, grammar, and evening schools, and to subdivide the school districts, and to fix and alter the boundaries of such subdivisions.

2. To employ and dismiss a superintendent of schools, teachers, janitors, truant officers, and school census marshals, and to fix, alter, allow and order paid their salaries or compensations; and to employ and pay such mechanics and laborers as may be necessary to carry into effect the powers hereby conferred.

3. To make, establish, and enforce all necessary or proper rules and regulations, not in conflict with the laws of this state, for the government and management of public schools within such city, the teachers thereof, and the pupils therein, and for carrying into effect the laws relating to education.

4. To provide for the school department of such city, fuel and lights, water, printing, and stationery, and to incur such other incidental expenses as may be deemed necessary by said board.

5. To build, alter, repair, rent and provide schoolhouses, and to furnish the same with proper school furniture, apparatus, and appliances, and to insure any and all school property.

6. To purchase, receive, lease, and hold in fee, in trust for such city, any and all real estate and personal property that may have been acquired, or may hereafter be acquired, for the use and benefit of the schools of such city; provided, that no real estate shall be bought, sold, or exchanged, nor any expenditure incurred for the construction of new schoolhouses, without the approval of the board of trustees; and provided further, that the proceeds of any such sale or exchange of real estate shall be exclusively applied to the purchase of other lots for the erection of schoolhouses.

7. To grade, fence, and improve all school lots.

8. To determine annually the amount of money required for the support of the public schools, and for carrying into effect all the provisions of law in reference thereto; and in pursuance of this provision, the board of education shall, at least ten days before the meetings of the board of trustees at which the annual city taxes are levied, submit in writing to the board of trustees a careful estimate of the whole amount of money to be received from the state and county, and of the amount to be required from such city for the above mentioned purposes; and the amount so found to be required from the city shall, by the board of trustees, be added to the above amounts to be assessed and collected for city purposes, and when collected, the proceeds thereof shall be immediately paid into the school fund of such city, to be drawn out only upon the order of the board of education; provided, that such annual tax shall not exceed twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property within such city.

9. To establish regulations for the just and equal disbursement of all moneys belonging to the school fund.

10. To discharge all legal encumbrances existing at the time of the incorporation of such city, or thereafter, on any school property within such city.

11. To admit nonresident children, and persons over twenty-one years of age, to any of the departments of the schools of such city, upon the payment monthly, in advance, of such tuition fee as said board may establish.

12. To prohibit any children under six years of age from attending the public schools.

13. To establish and regulate the grades of schools in such city, and the course of study, and the mode of instruction to be pursued therein, and determine what textbooks shall be used.

14. To do and perform, in addition to the foregoing powers, such other acts as may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers hereby conferred. [Amendment adopted March 14, 1899. Stats. 1899, p. 98.]

Board may sue and be sued.

§ 799. The board of education may sue and be sued by their name of office. In any action or judicial proceeding against said board, service of process upon the president, or upon a majority of the members of the board shall be sufficient to give the court jurisdiction to hear and determine the same.

Treasurer custodian of moneys.

§ 800. All moneys received by the treasurer of the county wherein such city may be situated, on account of the school fund of such city, or the school district consisting of the same, and all sums received into the county treasury, which may be apportioned to said city or district, shall be paid to the treasurer of such city, by the treasurer of such county, as soon as received, or as soon as the apportionment shall be made, when apportionment is necessary, upon the order of the board of education.

Demands.

§ 801. The president of the board of education shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations concerning any demand upon the treasury, payable out of the school fund, and in all other matters relating to the duties of the board of education, and to witnesses examined in any investigation had by such board of education, or by a committee thereof, duly appointed by it, for that purpose.

President may compel witnesses.

§ 802. Said president may issue subpoenas under his hand and the seal of such city, attested by the city clerk, to compel the attendance of witnesses before such board of education, or committee thereof, who shall be entitled to the same fees as witnesses in civil cases, and who may be punished for contempt for nonattendance, or refusal to be sworn, or to answer, by the superior court of the county in which such city may be situated.

Warrants.

§ 803. Every claim payable out of the school fund shall be filed with the secretary of the board of education, and after it shall have been approved by the board a certificate of such approval shall be indorsed thereon, signed by the president and secretary, and a warrant upon the school fund shall be issued thereon for the payment of such claim, which warrant shall be signed by the president of such board, and countersigned by the secretary and shall specify for what purpose the same is drawn.

Duties of secretary.

§ 804. The secretary shall report to the board annually, and at such other times as they may require, all matters pertaining to the expense, income, condition, and progress of the public schools of said city during the preceding year, with such recommendations as he may deem proper. He shall observe, and cause to be observed, such general rules and regulations for the government of and instruction in the schools, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as may be established by the board of education. He shall attend the sessions of the board, and inform them at each session of the condition of the public schools, schoolhouses, school funds, and other matters connected therewith, and recommend such measures as he may deem necessary for the advancement of education in the city, and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by the board. He shall receive as compensation for his services, payable out of the school fund, such sum as the board of education from time to time may allow.

Fund shall not be diverted.

§ 805. The entire revenue derived by such city from the state school fund and the state school tax shall be applied by said board of education exclusively to the support of primary and grammar schools.

ARTICLE VI.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Recorder's court.

§ 806. A recorder's court is hereby established in such city, to be held by the recorder of such city; provided, that the provisions of this section as to the establishment of the recorder's courts and recorders in such city shall not apply to any such city in which a city justice's court or a city justice of the peace is now or may hereafter be established, and any recorder's court now existing in any such last mentioned city is hereby abolished. The justice of the peace of any city wherein said recorder's court shall have been abolished or which may hereafter be abolished is the successor of the recorder of such city whose court has been abolished as aforesaid; and all records, registers, dockets, books, papers, causes, actions, and proceedings lodged, deposited, or pending before said recorder's court or before the recorder of said city, are transferred to the justice's court of said city, which shall have the same power and jurisdiction over them as if they had been in the first instance lodged, deposited, filed, or commenced therein. Said recorder's court shall have jurisdiction, concurrently with the justice's court, of all actions and proceedings, civil and criminal, arising within the corporate limits of such city, and which might be tried in such justice's court; and shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all actions for the recovery of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city, of all actions founded upon any obligation or liability created by any ordinance, and of all prosecutions for any violation of any ordinance. In all civil actions for the recovery of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city, where the fine, penalty or forfeiture imposed by the ordinance is not more than fifty dollars, the trial must be by the court, in civil actions where the fine, penalty or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city is over fifty dollars, the defendant is entitled to a jury. Except as in this section otherwise provided, the rules of practice and mode of proceeding in said recorder's court shall be the same as are or may be prescribed by law for justices' courts in like cases, and appeals may be taken to the superior court of the county in which such city may be situated, from all judgments of said recorder's court in like manner and with a like effect as in cases of appeals from justices' courts. [Amendment approved March 15, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 272. In effect immediately.]

This section was also amended March 7, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 72.

Powers of recorder as judge.

§ 807. The recorder shall be judge of the recorder's court, and shall have the powers and perform the duties of a magistrate. He may administer and certify oaths and affirmations, and take and certify acknowledgments. He shall be entitled to charge and receive for his services such fees as are or may be allowed by law to justices of the peace for like services, except that for his services in criminal prosecution for violation of ordinances he shall be entitled to receive only such monthly salary as the board of trustees shall by ordinance prescribe; which compensation when once fixed, shall not be altered within two years.

Recorder, when disqualified as judge.

§ 808. In all cases in which the recorder is a party, or in which he is interested, or when he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, or is otherwise disqualified, or in case of sickness or inability to act, the recorder may call in a justice of the peace residing in the city, to act in his place and stead; or if there be no justice of the peace residing in the city, or if all those so residing are likewise disqualified, then he may call in any justice of the peace residing in the county in which such city may be situated.

ARTICLE VII.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Collection of moneys.

§ 810. Every officer collecting or receiving any moneys belonging to or for the use of such city shall settle for the same with the clerk on the first Monday in each month, and immediately pay the same into the treasury, on the order of the clerk, for the benefit of the funds to which such moneys respectively belong.

No officer to be interested in contract.

§ 811. No officer of such city shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with such city, or with any of the officers thereof, in their official capacity, or in doing any work or furnishing any supplies for the use of such city or its officers in their official capacity; and any claim for compensation for work done, or supplies or materials furnished, in which any such officer is interested, shall be void, and if audited and allowed shall not be paid by the treasurer. Any willful violation of the provisions of this section shall be a ground for removal from office, and shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and punished as such.

Nuisances.

§ 812. Every act or thing done or being within the limits of such city, which is or may be declared by law or by any ordinance of such city to be a nuisance, shall be and is hereby declared to be a nuisance, and shall be considered and treated as such in all actions and proceedings whatever; and all remedies which are or may be given by law for the prevention and abatement of nuisances shall apply thereto.

Fire departments.

§ 813. The fire department of a city of the fifth class shall consist of companies of volunteer or paid firemen, as the board of trustees may determine, organized into engine, hose, or hook-and-ladder companies. Such fire department, except where the same comprises one or more companies of paid firemen, and such companies of volunteer firemen, shall elect their own officers; but the board of trustees shall appoint the chief and other officers of such department, where the same comprises one or more companies of paid firemen. The election of any person as chief of any such volunteer fire department shall be forthwith certified by the secretary of said department to the board of trustees of such city, and by them, at their next regular meeting, confirmed. The chief of the fire department shall give a bond to the chairman of the board of trustees of such city, in the sum of one thousand dollars; the chief of every fire department shall inquire into the cause of every fire occurring in the city, and keep a record thereof. He shall have exclusive control of the working of the fire department in time of conflagration or fire. He must aid in the enforcement of all fire ordinances duly enacted, examine buildings in process of erection, report violation of ordinances relating to the prevention and extinguishment of fires when directed by the proper authorities, and institute proceedings therefor, and shall have general control, management, and direction of the fire companies, hose, hook-and-ladder companies, and engine, and fire departments of such city, and shall perform such other duties as may be by the ordinances of said city, or by law, imposed upon him. His compensation, which shall not be less than ten dollars per month, must be fixed and paid by the board of city trustees. [Amendment approved February 20, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 16. In effect immediately.]

This section was added March 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 183.

CHAPTER VII.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS OF THE SIXTH CLASS.

(A charter for cities and towns having a population of not exceeding 3,000.)

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL POWERS.

Sixth class.

§ 850. Every municipal corporation of the sixth class shall be entitled the city (or town) of . . . (naming it), and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue and be sued in all courts and places, and in all proceedings whatever; shall have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the city or town authorities, and may purchase, lease, receive, hold, and enjoy real and personal property, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit.

ARTICLE II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO OFFICERS.

Municipal officers.

§ 851. The government of such city or town shall be vested in a board of trustees, to consist of five members; a clerk, who shall be ex-officio assessor; a treasurer; a marshal, to be appointed by the board of trustees, who shall be ex-officio tax and license collector; a recorder to be appointed by the board of trustees; and such subordinate officers as are hereinafter provided for. [Amendment approved March 9, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 316.]

This section was also amended March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 267.

Elections. Term of trustees. Appointive officers.

§ 852. The members of the board of trustees and the clerk and treasurer shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city or town at a general municipal election. Such a general municipal election shall be held therein on the second Monday in April in each even numbered year. Members of the board of trustees and the clerk and the treasurer shall hold office for the period of four years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The respective terms of the members of the first board of trustees elected under the provisions of this section shall be determined as follows: the two members elected by the highest number of votes shall hold office for four years, and the three members elected by the lowest number of votes shall hold office for two years. In the event that two or more persons should be elected by the same number of votes, the respective terms of each shall be decided by lot. The board of trustees shall appoint the marshal and the recorder; they may also, in their discretion, appoint an attorney, a superintendent of streets, a civil engineer, and such other subordinate officers as in their judgment may be deemed necessary, and fix their compensation. Said officers shall hold office during the pleasure of said board. [Amendment of April 4, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 19. In effect July 22, 1919.]

This section was also amended March 9, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 316, and April 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 31.

Election on adoption of commission form of government.

§ 852a. The board of trustees may at any time submit to the electors at any municipal or at any special election to be held for that purpose, an ordinance to divide the administration of the municipality into five departments and provide for the assignment of its several members to be the heads of such respective departments and to be appointed as the commissioners of such respective departments; provided, that if a department of public health be created the commissioner in charge may be given the powers and duties of the municipal board of health, and such health board be thereby abolished. Such ordinance shall define the duties, powers and responsibilities of each commissioner and may require such commissioner to devote a specified number of hours of each business day to the performance of such duties, in which event such commissioner may receive a compensation, the amount of same to be fixed by said ordinance. The board may, by majority vote, subject to the provisions of this section, assign its several members to be and appoint them as the respective commissioners of such several departments and may by like vote from time to time change such assignment and appointment. It may assign employees to one or more departments, and may make such other rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper to the efficient and economical conduct of the business of the municipality. The substance of the ordinance so proposed shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: Shall the administration of the municipality be divided into five departments as follows: (insert the five departments of government proposed and briefly designate the powers and duties conferred upon each and the compensation each commissioner or head of department shall receive), "Yes" and No" so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast at such election were in favor of the ordinance, such ordinance shall take effect and be in force on the tenth day thereafter. [New section approved April 10, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 844.]

Election on question of appointment of city officers.

§ 852b. The board of trustees may submit to the electors at any municipal election, or at a special election to be held for that purpose, the question as to whether the elective officers, or any of them, other than trustees, shall be appointed by said board, instead of being elected as provided in the preceding section. The question so submitted shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: "Shall the board of trustees hereafter appoint the — (naming the offices) of the city (or town) of —," with the words "Yes" and "No," so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections, and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast on any such proposition were in favor of the appointment of such officers or any of them, then at the expiration of the terms of office of any such officials then in office, and on the occurrence of a vacancy in any such offices, such elective officers or any of them, for the appointment of whom such majority vote was so cast, shall thereafter be appointed by the board of trustees and hold office during the pleasure of such board. [New section approved April 10, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 844.]

Official bonds.

§ 853. The clerk, treasurer, and marshal shall, respectively, before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, each execute a bond to such city or town in such penal sum as the board of trustees by ordinance may determine, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, including in the same bond the duties of all offices of which he is made by this chapter ex-officio incumbent; such bonds shall be approved by the board of trustees. All bonds, when approved, shall be filed with the clerk except the bond of the clerk, which shall be filed with the president of the board of trustees. All the provisions of any law of this state relating to the official bonds of officers shall apply to such bonds, except as herein otherwise provided. Every officer of such city, before entering upon the duties of the office, shall take and file with the clerk the constitutional oath of office.

Vacancy in office; how filled. Absence.

§ 854. Any vacancy occurring in any of the offices provided for in this act shall be filled by appointment by the board of trustees; but in the event of said board of trustees failing to fill such vacancy by appointment within thirty days after vacancy occurs, they must, if said office be an elective one, immediately after the expiration of said thirty days cause an election to be held to fill said vacancy, provided, however, that any person appointed or elected to fill such vacancy shall hold office only until the next regular election, at which time a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term. In case a member of the board of trustees is absent from the city for the period of ninety days, unless by permission of the board of trustees, his office shall by the board be declared vacant, and the same filled as in case of other vacancies. [Amendment approved February 15, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 58.]

Trustees, compensation may be granted by electors.

§ 855. The members of the board of trustees shall receive no compensation whatever; provided, that in all such cities, the question of whether the members of such board or any of them shall receive any compensation for his services as such member and the amounts thereof, may be submitted to the qualified electors of such cities at any general election, and if a majority of such electors voting at such election shall vote in favor thereof, then such trustee or trustees shall receive the compensation specified in the call submitting such question at such election; such compensation to begin on the first day of the month next succeeding the canvass of the return of such election and the amount so fixed shall, from such date, be a regular charge against such city, payable the same as other fixed salaries are paid. Such compensation may be increased or diminished at any general election thereafter, by submission of such question in the same manner and by the same vote as herein provided for the original creation of such compensation.

The clerk, treasurer, marshal, and recorder shall severally receive, at stated times, a compensation, to be fixed by ordinance by the board of trustees, which compensation shall not be increased or diminished after their election, or during their several terms of office. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the board of trustees from fixing such several amounts of compensation in the first instance, during the term of office of any such officer, or after his election. The compensation of all other officers shall be fixed from time to time by the board of trustees. [Amendment approved March 6, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 148. In effect immediately.]

Election provisions.

§ 856. All elections in such city or town shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same may be made applicable; and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county, enrolled upon the great register thereof, and shall have resided in such city for at least thirty days next preceding such election. The board of trustees shall give such notice of each election as may be prescribed by ordinance, shall appoint boards of election, and fix their compensation, and establish election precincts and polling-places, and may change the same. At any municipal election the last printed great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such printed register shall be entitled to vote upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and official seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county; provided, that he is otherwise entitled to vote.

Eligibility to office.

§ 857. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of trustee in such city, unless he be a resident and elector therein, and shall have resided in such city for one year next preceding the date of his election. [Amendment approved April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 34. In effect August 10, 1913.]

This section was also amended March 14, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 293.

ARTICLE III.—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Meetings, organization, etc., of trustees.

§ 858. The board of trustees shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the date of said general municipal election, shall take the oath of office, shall choose one of their number president, and shall hold regular meetings at least once in each month at such time as they shall fix by ordinance, and may adjourn any regular meeting to a date certain, which shall be specified in the order of adjournment, and when so adjourned, such adjourned meeting shall be a regular meeting for all purposes. Special meetings may be called at any time by the president of the board or by three trustees by written notice delivered to each member at least three hours before the time specified for the proposed meeting; all meetings of the board of trustees shall be held within the corporate limits of the city at such place as may be designated by ordinance and shall be public. [Amendment approved June 3, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 375. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Meetings of the board of trustees. Notice of adjourned meeting.

§ 859. At any meeting of the board of trustees a majority of the trustees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a less number may adjourn from time to time, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as may be prescribed by ordinance; and in the absence of all of the trustees from any meeting the clerk may declare the same postponed and adjourned to a stated day and hour, and must thereupon give to each of the trustees written notice of the time to which the meeting has been adjourned, which notice may be delivered personally to the trustee or may be left at his known residence or place of business at least six hours before the time to which the meeting has been postponed. The president of the board shall preside at all meetings of the board, and in case of his absence the board may appoint a president pro tempore; and in case of the absence of the clerk, the president or president pro tempore shall appoint one of the members of the board clerk pro tempore. [Amendment of April 30, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 158. In effect July 22, 1919.]

Rules.

§ 860. The board of trustees shall judge of the qualifications of its members and of all election returns, and determine contested elections of all city officers. They may establish rules for the conduct of their proceedings, and punish any member or other person for disorderly behavior at any meeting. They shall cause the clerk to keep a correct journal of all their proceedings, and at the desire of any member shall cause the ayes and noes to be taken on any question, and entered on the journal.

Franchises and resolutions to pay money.

§ 861. No ordinance, and no resolution granting any franchise for any purpose, shall be passed by the board of trustees on the day of its introduction, nor within five days thereafter nor at any other than a regular meeting. No resolution or order for the payment of money shall be passed at any other time than at a regular meeting. And no such ordinance, resolution, or order shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the votes of at least three trustees.

Powers of city trustees.

§ 862. The board of trustees of said city shall have power:

Pass ordinances.

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state or of the United States.

Acquire real estate.

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate situated inside or outside of the city limits and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city or town; provided, they shall not have power to sell or convey any portion of any waterfront.

7. To impose on and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars; and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of the city.

Dog tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual license not exceeding two dollars on every male dog, and four dollars on every female dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

Property tax.

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall not, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such city or town voting at an election to be held for that purpose exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars; provided, however, that in cities which have constructed or may hereafter construct embankments, sea walls, or other works to protect such cities from overflow, said board of trustees may levy and collect annually, a property tax which shall not exceed twenty cents on each one hundred dollars, which, when collected, shall be kept in a separate fund and used for the construction and maintenance of embankments, sea walls, or other works to protect such city from overflow and for no other purpose.

License business.

10. To license, for the purpose of revenue and regulation, all and every kind of business authorized by law and transacted and carried on in such city or town, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

Improve rivers and streams.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the waterfront of the city; including the ocean front thereof, and to build and construct breakwaters, jetties, and sea walls; to construct and maintain embankments and other works, to protect such city from overflow; and to acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate on any lands bordering on any navigable bay, lake, inlet, river, creek, slough, or arm of the sea within the corporate limits of such city or contiguous thereto, wharves, chutes, piers, breakwaters, bathhouses, and life-saving stations.

Municipal buildings.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes, and to acquire and maintain cemeteries, situated inside or outside of said city.

Acquire public utilities.

13. To acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate street railways, telephone and telegraph lines, gas and other works for light, power, and heat; public libraries, museums, gymnasiums, parks, and baths, and to grant franchises for the construction of public utilities as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas and water pipes in the public streets, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telegraph and telephone lines therein.

Impose fines.

14. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances; and for any breach or violation of any ordinance; to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both; but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of imprisonment exceed three months.

Compel labor of prisoners.

15. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other public property, or works within the city.

Fire limits.

16. To establish and maintain fire limits, and regulate building and construction and removal of buildings within the municipality.

Regulate construction of buildings.

16a. To regulate the construction of and the materials used in all buildings, chimneys, stacks and other structures; to prevent the erection and maintenance of insecure or unsafe building walls, chimneys, stacks, or other structures, and to provide for their

Fire limits.

16. To establish and maintain fire limits, and regulate building and construction and removal of buildings within the municipality.

Regulate construction of buildings.

16a. To regulate the construction of and the materials used in all buildings, chimneys, stacks and other structures; to prevent the erection and maintenance of insecure or unsafe building walls, chimneys, stacks, or other structures, and to provide for their summary abatement, destruction, or removal; to provide for the abatement, destruction or removal of unsightly or partially destroyed buildings; to regulate the materials used in and the method of construction of foundations and foundation walls, the manner of construction and location of drains and sewers, the materials used in wiring buildings or other structures for the use of electricity for lighting, power, heat or other purposes and materials used for piping buildings or other structures for the purpose of supplying the same with water, gas, or electricity, and the manner of so doing; to prohibit the construction of buildings and structures which do not conform to such regulations.

Regulate advertising, etc.

16b. To regulate the exhibition, posting or carrying of banners, placards, posters, cards, pictures, signs or advertisements in or on the street, or on or upon buildings, fences, billboards or other structures; or on or upon any pole in any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park or other public place; to regulate the suspension of banners, flags, signs, advertisements, posters, pictures, or cards across or over any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park, or other public place, or such suspension from fences, poles, houses, or other structures; to prohibit and prevent encroachments upon or obstruction in or to any sidewalk, street, alley, lane, court, park or other public place, and to provide for the removal of such encroachment or obstruction.

Compel removal of dirt, weeds, etc.

16c. To compel the owner, lessee or occupant of buildings, grounds, or lots to remove dirt, rubbish, weeds and rank growths from the sidewalk opposite thereto, and from the building or grounds, and on his default, after such notice as the board of trustees may prescribe, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city at the expense of such owner, lessee or occupant, and by such procedure as the board of trustees may prescribe, to make such expense a lien upon such buildings or grounds.

Issue subpoenas.

17. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, or the production of books or other documents, for the purpose of producing evidence or testimony in any action or proceeding pending before the board of trustees, which subpoenas must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, and attested by the city clerk and may be served in the same manner as subpoenas are served in civil actions. Whenever any person duly subpoenaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or any documents as herein provided, shall neglect or refuse to appear, or to produce such books or documents, as required by such subpoena, or shall refuse to testify before such board, or to answer any questions which a majority thereof shall decide to be proper and pertinent, it shall be the duty of the president of the board to report the fact to the judge of the superior court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the court of which he shall be judge, directed to the sheriff of the county where such witness was required to appear and testify, commanding the said sheriff to attach such person, and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was issued. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted as in the case of a witness subpoenaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil cause before a superior court.

Music and promotion.

18. To expend such sum as the board of trustees shall deem proper, not to exceed five per cent of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion.

Other acts.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1528. In effect July 31, 1917.]

Powers of trustees in cities of sixth class.

§ 862a. In any city of the sixth class the board of trustees shall have power:

(a) To establish and maintain a municipal hospital.

(b) To prescribe rules for the government and management thereof and the terms upon which patients may be admitted thereto.

(c) To appoint and fix the compensation of physicians, surgeons and other necessary officers and employees of the hospital who shall hold their positions during the pleasure of the board of trustees.

(d) To acquire any and all property, real or personal, by purchase or donation, and construct and equip such buildings as the board may deem necessary and suitable for the proper conduct of the hospital. In receiving any donation of money, the city may agree to pay the donor or donors interest upon the principal at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum during the lifetime of the donors, or of any of them, or of the survivor, but not exceeding a period of forty years, and without repayment of the principal or any part thereof. In the case of the incurring of such indebtedness in favor of donors, the indebtedness shall be incurred and means for the payment thereof shall be provided in the manner prescribed by the provisions of the act entitled, "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, and completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, as amended, so far as the same may be applicable; provided, however, that the ordinance calling the election shall not contain any statement as to bonds that are to be issued, but shall in general terms describe the proposed donation, the purpose for which it is to be used, and the terms upon which the same is to be made and accepted.

(e) To levy and collect annually a property tax for the maintenance of the hospital which shall not in any one year exceed the cost of the care of indigent patients and the interest charge upon any donation accepted in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (d) of this section. [New section added May 21, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 761.]

Enacting clause of ordinances.

§ 863. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The board of trustees of the city (or town) of do ordain as follows:" Every ordinance must be signed by the president of the board of trustees and attested by the clerk and must be published by said board at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in such city or town; provided, that if there be no such newspaper published and circulated in such city or town, then all ordinances must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, further, that in all cities or towns which have been incorporated less than one year, all ordinances may be either published or posted as aforesaid, as the board of trustees may determine; and provided, further, that in no case shall the price charged for such publication of any ordinances exceed the customary rate charged by such newspaper for the publication of legal notices of a private character. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1666.]

Demands.

§ 864. All demands against such city or town shall be presented to and audited by the board of trustees, in accordance with such regulations as they may by ordinance prescribe; and upon the allowance of any such demand, the president of the board shall draw a warrant upon the treasurer for the same, which warrant shall be countersigned by the clerk, and shall specify for what purpose the same is drawn, and out of what fund it is to be paid.

Indebtedness not to exceed available funds.

§ 865. The board of trustees shall not create, audit, allow, or permit to accrue, any debt or liability in excess of the available money in the treasury that may be legally apportioned and appropriated for such purposes; provided, that any city or town during the first year of its existence under this act may incur such indebtedness or liability as may be necessary, not exceeding in all the income and revenue provided for it in such year; nor shall any warrant be drawn, or evidence of indebtedness be issued, unless there be at the time sufficient money in the treasury legally applicable to the payment of the same, except as hereinafter provided.

Incurring excess decided by vote.

§ 866. [Repealed April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 33. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Incarceration.

§ 867. The violation of any ordinance of such city or town shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and may be prosecuted by the authorities of such city or town in the name of the people of the state of California, or may be redressed by civil action, at the option of said authorities. Any person sentenced to imprisonment for the violation of an ordinance may be imprisoned in the jail for such city or town; or if the board of trustees by ordinance shall so prescribe, in the county jail of the county in which such city or town may be situated, in which case the expense of such imprisonment shall be a charge in favor of such county and against such city or town.

Power of board of trustees to abate nuisances. Power to require grass, etc., removed from sidewalk.

§ 868. The board of trustees shall have the power to declare what constitutes a nuisance, and to provide for the summary abatement of any nuisance at the expense of the persons creating, causing, committing or maintaining such nuisance, and shall have the power by ordinance to make the expense of abatement of nuisances a lien against the property on which a nuisance is maintained, as well as to make such expense a personal obligation against the owner of such property. Said board of trustees shall also have power by ordinance to require and provide for the removal of grass, weeds or other obstructions from the sidewalks, parkings or streets and to make the cost thereof a lien or charge upon the abutting property and to make provision for the enforcement of such lien by the sale of property or otherwise; and said board likewise shall have power by ordinance to require or provide for the removal from property, lands or lots of all weeds, rubbish or other material which may endanger or injure neighboring property or the health or welfare of residents of the vicinity, and to make the cost thereof a lien and charge upon such property, lands or lots and to make provision for the enforcement of such lien by the sale of such property, lands or lots or otherwise. [Amendment of May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 331.]

Cost of street work assessed on fronting property.

§ 869. [Repealed April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 33. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Right of way.

§ 870. Whenever it shall become necessary for the city or town to take or damage private property for the purpose of establishing, laying out, extending and widening streets and other public highways and places within the city or town, or for the purpose of rights of way for drains, sewers and aqueducts, and for the purpose of widening, straightening or diverting the channels of streams, or the improvement of waterfronts, or the acquisition or maintenance of public harbors, the trustees may direct proceedings to be taken under section 1237 and following sections, to and including section 1263 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to procure the same. [Amendment approved February 20, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 12. In effect immediately.]

Bridge connecting city with road district.

§ 870a. Whenever the city trustees shall deem it necessary for the city or town to construct a bridge connecting the municipal corporation with an adjoining road district and it shall become necessary in constructing such bridge to take or damage private property within or without or within and without the corporate limits of said city or town, the trustees of said city or town may, by resolution, declare the necessity thereof and direct and maintain proceedings for that purpose under title VII of part III of the Code of Civil Procedure. [New section approved February 4, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 10. In effect immediately.]

[Section 2 of the act amending section 870 is as follows:]

Urgency measure; declaration of facts.

§ 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section one of article four of the constitution of the state of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: Many municipal corporations governed by the act of which this act is amendatory, have their exterior boundaries on banks of rivers and streams which during the winter months become so swollen by rains and floods as to render it dangerous to public safety to cross such streams, and as the provisions of title VII, part III of the Code of Civil Procedure, or the act of which this act is amendatory, do not enumerate among the public uses for which the right of eminent domain may be exercised, the taking of private property necessary for the construction, by cities of the sixth class, of bridges across streams forming the exterior boundaries of such cities and the construction of such bridges being necessary for the public safety for travel to and from such cities, this act is hereby declared to be an urgency act within the meaning of the section and article of the constitution of the state of California above in this section mentioned.

Levy of taxes.

§ 871. The board of trustees shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to provide by ordinance a system for the assessment, levy, and collection of all city or town taxes not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. All taxes shall be collected by the marshal or treasurer, as may be determined by the board of trustees by ordinance. All taxes assessed, together with any percentage imposed for delinquency and the costs of collection, shall constitute liens on the property assessed; every tax upon personal property shall be a lien upon the real property of the owner thereof. The liens provided for in this section shall attach as of the first Monday in March of each year, and may be enforced by a sale of the real property affected, and the execution and delivery of all necessary certificates and deeds therefor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance, or by action in any court of competent jurisdiction to foreclose such liens; provided, that any property sold for such taxes shall be subject to redemption within five years and upon the terms provided or that may hereafter be provided for the redemption of property sold for state taxes. All deeds made upon any sale of property for taxes or special assessments under the provisions of this chapter shall have the same force and effect in evidence as is or may hereafter be provided by law for deeds for property sold for nonpayment of state taxes. [Amendment approved March 8, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 89.]

[Section 3 of the act amending this section and section 773 is as follows:]

§ 3. This act shall not repeal, or in any manner affect, modify, or interfere with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by and for the use of municipal corporations and cities incorporated under the laws of the state of California, except municipal corporations of the first class, and to provide for the consolidation and abolition of certain municipal offices, and to provide that their duties may be performed by certain officers of the county, and fixing the compensation to be allowed for such county officers for the services so rendered to such municipal corporations," approved March 27, 1895; or any of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by and for the use of municipal corporations and cities incorporated under the laws of the state, except municipal corporations of the first, second, third and fourth classes, and cities operating under a charter framed under section 8, article 11, of constitution," approved March 2, 1891.

Equalization.

§ 872. The board of trustees shall meet at their usual place of holding meetings on the second Monday of August of each year, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, and sit as a board of equalization, and shall continue in session from day to day until all the returns of the assessor have been rectified. They shall have power to hear complaints, and to correct, modify, or strike out any assessment made by the assessor, and may, of their own motion, raise any assessment, upon notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised. The corrected list for each tax shall be the assessment-roll for said tax for said year. It shall be certified by the clerk, who shall act as clerk of the board of equalization, as being the assessment-roll for said tax, and shall be the assessment-roll upon which such tax is to be levied in said year.

Construction of act.

§ 873. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to prevent any city or town having a bonded indebtedness, contracted under laws heretofore passed, from levying and collecting such taxes for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as are provided for in such laws, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected. All moneys received from licenses, street poll tax, and from fines, penalties, and forfeitures, shall be paid into the general fund.

Public work to be done by contract. By day labor. Emergency expenditures. City printing.

§ 874. In the erection, improvement, and repair of all public buildings and works, in all street and sewer work, and in all work in or about streams, bays, or waterfronts, or in or about embankments, or other works for protection against overflow, and in furnishing any supplies or materials for the same, when the expenditures required for the same exceed the sum of three hundred dollars, the same shall be done by contract, and shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in such city or town, for at least two weeks, or if there be no newspaper printed or published therein, by printing and posting the same in at least four public places therein for the same period; such notice shall distinctly and specifically state the work contemplated to be done; provided, that the board of trustees may reject any and all bids presented and re-advertise, in their discretion; provided, further, after rejecting bids, the board of trustees may declare and determine by a four-fifths vote of all its members that in its opinion the work in question may be performed more economically by day labor or the materials or supplies furnished at a lower price in the open market, and after the adoption of a resolution to this effect they may proceed to have the same done in the manner stated without further observance of the foregoing provisions of this section; and provided further, that in case of a great public calamity such as an extraordinary fire, flood, storm, epidemic or other disaster, the board of trustees may, by resolution passed by vote of four-fifths of all its members declare and determine that public interest and necessity demand the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health or property, and thereupon they may proceed to expend or enter into a contract involving the expenditure of any sum required in such emergency.

The board of trustees shall annually, at a stated time, contract for doing all city printing and advertising, which contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice, as provided in this section. [Amendment approved April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 32. In effect August 10, 1913.]

This section was also amended March 10, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 55; March 9, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 89.

Cities of sixth class. Powers of president and president pro tem. of board of trustees.

§ 875. In the absence of the president of the board of trustees from any meeting of said board, or in the event of his inability to act, a president pro tem. may be chosen by the board. The president or the president pro tem. shall preside at the meetings of the board of trustees, shall sign all warrants drawn on the treasurer, and shall sign all written contracts entered into by said city or town. The president pro tem. may sign or approve any ordinance with the same force and effect as if signed by the president. The president or president pro tem. shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, to take affidavits and to testify the same under their hands. The president or president pro tem. shall sign all conveyances made by said city or town, and all instruments which shall require the seal of the city or town. The president or president pro tem. is authorized to acknowledge the execution of all instruments executed by said city or town that require to be acknowledged. [Amendment of May 4, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 331.]

This section was also amended April 4, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 15.

ARTICLE IV.—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Treasurer's duty.

§ 876. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive and safely keep all moneys which shall come into his hands as treasurer, for all of which he shall give duplicate receipts, one of which shall be filed with the city clerk. He shall pay out said money on warrants signed by the proper officers, and not otherwise, except interest on coupon bonds. He shall make quarterly settlements with the city clerk. He shall collect all taxes levied by the board of trustees, if so required by ordinance. [Amendment approved April 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 33. In effect August 10, 1913.]

This section was also amended March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 336.

Assessor.

§ 877. It shall be the duty of the assessor, between the first day of May and the first day of August in each year, to make out a true list of all the taxable property within the city or town. The mode of making out of said list, and proceedings relating thereto, shall be in conformity with laws now in force regulating county assessors, except as the same may be otherwise provided in this act, or by ordinance. Said list shall describe the property assessed, and the value thereof, and shall contain all other matters required to be stated in such lists by county assessors. Said assessor shall verify said list by his oath, and shall deposit the same with the clerk on or before the first Monday of August of each year. The assessor shall, during said time, also make a list of all male persons residing within the limits of the city or town, over the age of twenty-one years, and shall verify said list by his oath, and shall, on or before the first Monday of August in each year, deposit the same with the clerk. Said assessor and his deputy shall have power to administer all oaths and affirmations necessary in the performance of his duty.

Clerk.

§ 878. It shall be the duty of the clerk to keep a full, true record of all the proceedings of the board of trustees and of the board of equalization. The proceedings of the board of trustees shall be kept in a book, marked "Records of the Board of Trustees." The proceedings of the board of equalization shall be kept in a separate book, marked "Records of the Board of Equalization." He shall keep a book, which shall be marked "City or Town Accounts," in which shall be entered as a credit all moneys received by the city or town for licenses, the amount of any tax when levied, and all other moneys when received, and in which shall be entered upon the debtor side all commissions deducted and all warrants drawn on the treasury. He shall also keep a book, marked "Marshal's Account," in which he shall charge the marshal with all the tax lists delivered to him, and all licenses delivered to him. He shall credit the marshal with the delinquent lists returned by him, and with his commission for collecting. He shall also keep a book, marked "Treasurer's Account," in which he shall keep a full account of the transactions of the city or town with the treasurer. He shall also keep a book marked "Licenses," in which he shall enter all licenses issued by him, the date thereof, to whom issued, for what, the time when it expires, and the amount paid. He shall also keep a book marked "Attorney's Account," and shall therein charge said attorney with all delinquent tax lists delivered to him, and shall credit him with money paid and delinquent tax lists returned. He shall keep a book, marked "Ordinances," into which he shall copy all city or town ordinances, with his certificate annexed to said copy stating the foregoing ordinance is a true and correct copy of an ordinance of the city or town, and giving the number and title of said ordinance, and stating that the same has been published or posted according to law. Said record copy, with said certificate, shall be prima facie evidence of the contents of the ordinance and of the passage and publication of the same, and shall be admissible as such evidence in any court or proceeding. Such records shall not be filed in any case, but shall be returned to the custody of the clerk. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the proof of the passage and publication of ordinances in the usual way. Each of the foregoing books, except the records of the board of trustees and the board of equalization, shall have a general index, sufficiently comprehensive to enable a person readily to ascertain matters contained therein. The clerk shall also keep a book, marked "Demands and Warrants," in which he shall note every demand against the city or town, and file the same. He shall state therein, under the note of the demands, the final disposition made of the same; and if the same is allowed, and a warrant drawn, he shall also state the number of the warrant, with sufficient dates. This book shall contain an index, in which reference shall be made to each demand. Upon the completion of the assessment-roll of any of the taxes of the city or town, and the levying of the tax thereon, the clerk shall apportion the taxes upon such assessment-roll, and make out and deliver to the marshal a tax list in the usual form, taking his receipt therefor. He may appoint a deputy, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible; and he and his deputy shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations, to take affidavits and depositions to be used in any court or proceeding in the state, and to certify the same. He and his deputy shall take all necessary affidavits to demands against the city or town, and certify the same without charge. He shall be the custodian of the seal of the city or town. He shall make a quarterly statement in writing, showing the receipts and expenditures of the city or town for the preceding quarter, and the amount remaining in the treasury. He shall at the end of every fiscal year make a full and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding year, and a full statement of the financial conditions of the affairs of the city or town, which shall be published. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the board of trustees shall require.

Attorney.

§ 879. It shall be the duty of the attorney to advise the city or town authorities and officers in all legal matters pertaining to the business of said city or town. He shall receive the delinquent list and receipt therefor; he is authorized to bring suit in the name of the city or town, in the proper court, for the collection of any tax; he shall receive for collecting taxes such per cent on the amount collected as may be provided by ordinance, which said per cent shall be collected of the delinquent taxpayers as provided by ordinance. In case a suit shall be brought in the superior court upon a tax upon real estate to sell such real estate for the purpose of paying such tax and costs, he shall be allowed, in addition to the said per cent, twenty-five dollars for each suit brought, to be taxed as costs in such suit, and not to be paid to said attorney unless collected of the defendant in such suit. Said attorney shall receive such other compensation as may be allowed by the board of trustees.

Marshal.

§ 880. The department of police of said city or town shall be under the direction and control of the marshal; and for the suppression of any riot, public tumult, disturbance of the peace, or resistance against the laws or public authorities in the lawful exercise of their functions, he shall have the powers that are now or may hereafter be conferred upon sheriffs by laws of the state, and shall in all respects be entitled to the same protection; and his lawful orders shall be promptly executed by deputies, police officers, and watchmen in said city or town, and every citizen shall also lend his aid, when required, for the arrest of offenders and maintenance of public order. He shall, and is hereby authorized to, execute and return all process issued and directed to him by any legal authority. It shall be his duty to prosecute before the recorder all breaches or violations of or noncompliance with any ordinance which shall come to his knowledge. He shall collect all taxes levied by the board of trustees, except as is herein provided. He shall, at the expiration of any month, pay to the treasurer all taxes and other funds of said city or town collected by him during said month. He shall, upon payment of the money, file with the treasurer an affidavit, stating that the money so paid is all the taxes or funds that he has collected or received during the preceding month. He shall, upon the receipt of any tax list, give his receipt for the same to the clerk, and shall, upon depositing with the clerk the delinquent tax list, take his receipt therefor. He shall receive from the clerk all licenses, and collect the same. He shall have charge of the prison and prisoners, and of any chain-gang which may be established by the board of trustees. He shall for service of any process receive the same fees as constables, but his fees for services in any criminal action or proceeding upon process issued from the recorder's court shall not be a charge against the county. He may appoint, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, one or more deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible, whose only compensation shall be fees for the service of process, which shall be the same as those allowed to the marshal. He may also, with the concurrence of the president of the board of trustees, when the same may be by them deemed necessary for the preservation of public order, appoint additional policemen, who shall discharge the duties assigned them for one day only. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the board of trustees shall require, and shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by ordinance. [Amendment approved March 13, 1903. Stats. 1903, p. 135. In effect immediately.]

Compensation fixed by board.

§ 881. The board of trustees shall, by ordinances not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, prescribe the additional duties of all officers, and fix their compensation.

ARTICLE V.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

Recorder's court.

§ 882. A recorder's court is hereby established in such city or town, to be held by the recorder of such city or town. Such recorder's court shall have jurisdiction, concurrently with the justice's courts, of all actions and proceedings, civil and criminal, arising within the corporate limits of such city or town, and which might be tried in such justice's court; and shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all actions for the recovery of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city or town, of all actions founded upon any obligation created by any ordinance, and of all prosecutions for any violation of any ordinance. In all civil actions for the recovery of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city or town, where the fine, penalty or forfeiture imposed by the ordinance is not more than fifty dollars, the trial must be by the court, in civil actions where the fine, penalty or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinance of such city or town is over fifty dollars, the defendant is entitled to a jury. Except as in this section otherwise provided, the rules of practice and mode of proceeding in said recorder's court shall be the same as are or may be prescribed by law for justices' courts in like cases; and appeals may be taken to the superior court of the county in which such city or town may be situated, from all judgments of said recorder's court, in like manner and with like effect as in cases of appeals from justices' courts. [Amendment approved March 7, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 73. In effect in sixty days.]

Powers of recorder as judge.

§ 883. The recorder shall be judge of the recorder's court, and shall have the powers and perform the duties of a magistrate. He may administer and certify oaths and affirmations, and take and certify acknowledgments. He shall be entitled to charge and receive for his services such fees as are or may be allowed by law for justices of the peace for like services, except that for his services in criminal prosecutions for violation of ordinances he shall be entitled to receive only such fees as the board of trustees shall by ordinance prescribe; but his fees for services in any criminal case shall not be a charge against the county. [Amendment became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval March 12, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 269. In effect immediately.]

Recorder disqualified as judge in certain cases.

§ 884. In all cases in which the recorder is a party, or in which he is interested, or when he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, or is otherwise disqualified, or in case of sickness or inability to act, the recorder may call in a justice of the peace, residing in the city or town to act in his place and stead; or if there be no justice of the peace residing in the city or town, or if all those so residing are likewise disqualified, then he may call in any justice of the peace residing in the county in which such city or town may be situated.

ARTICLE VI.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Collection of moneys.

§ 885. Every officer collecting or receiving any moneys belonging to or for the use of such city or town shall settle for the same with the clerk on the first Monday in each month, and immediately pay the same into the treasury, on the order of the clerk, for the benefit of the funds to which such moneys respectively belong.

No officer to be interested in any public contract.

§ 886. No officer of such city or town shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with such city or town, or with any of the officers thereof in their official capacity, or in doing any work or furnishing any supplies for the use of such city or town, or its officers in their official capacity; and any claim for compensation for work done, or supplies or materials furnished, in which any such officer is interested, shall be void, and if audited and allowed shall not be paid by the treasurer. Any willful violation of the provisions of this section shall be a ground for removal from office, and shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and punished as such.

212. Same—Municipality proper party.
213. Action of ejectment—Public high way.

I. CONSTITUTIONALITY.

1. Legislature can not prevent adoption of freeholders' charters.—The legislature has no power to prevent the cities having a certain population to change their form of government by the adoption of a freeholders' charter.—People v. Bagley, 85 Cal. 343, 24 Pac. 716.

2. Not special legislation—Section 862.—The amendment of 1903 to section 862 of the municipal incorporation act is not unconstitutional as a special law on the ground that it applies to cities of only one class.—Ex parte Jackson, 143 Cal. 564, 77 Pac. 457.

3. Section 862 is general law.—Section 862 of the municipal corporation act is not unconstitutional as being special legislation because applicable only to cities of the sixth class, but is a general law within the meaning of section 6 of article XII of the constitution.—Carey v. Blodgett, 10 Cal. App. 463, 102 Pac. 668.

4. Section 870—Agreement with owners of property to be condemned—Special legislation—Discriminatory.—The provisions of section 870 of the municipal government act requiring cities of the fifth and sixth classes to make an effort to agree with the owners of land sought to be condemned for a public purpose before instituting condemnation proceedings, is held to be a special law, making a discrimination against two classes of municipal corporations and imposing upon them alone a burdensome condition to the exercise of a right common to all public and private corporations and all natural persons who are exempt therefrom by the general law, and is void.—Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604.

5. Delegation of power to relieve city officers of duties—Destruction of offices.—The legislature is not inhibited by any constitutional provision from delegating to the board of trustees of a municipality authority to relieve one city officer of a certain ministerial executive duty and transfer the same to another officer, where the effect of such action is not to destroy the first office or to contravene any general law, but the legislation is in furtherance with the general scheme to clothe the local governing body with a large measure of authority in the determination of the extent and character of the duties to be examined by subordinate executive officers.—City of Woodland v. Leech, 20 Cal. App. 15, 127 Pac. 1040.

6. Gas rates in fifth-class city.—An ordinance of a fifth-class city establishing a maximum rate and regulating gas rates, is constitutional and valid; and if not authorized by the general grant of police power contained in section 11, article XI, of the constitution, it is authorized by section 19 of article XI of the constitution construed in connection with the municipal incorporation act providing for ordinances and empowering cities of the fifth class to impose fines, penalties and forfeitures for the violation of ordinances.—Denninger v.

Recorder's Court, 145 Cal. 629, 79 Pac. 360; Denninger v. Recorder's Court, 145 Cal. 638, 79 Pac. 364.

7. Same—Prosecution of agents of corporations.—The fact that a defendant in a prosecution for violation of a municipal ordinance of a city of the fifth class establishing gas rates and fixing penalties for its violation was an agent of a corporation, does not render the complaint for misdemeanor insufficient inasmuch as the corporation must act through natural persons.—Denninger v. Recorder's Court, 145 Cal. 629, 79 Pac. 360; Denninger v. Recorder's Court, 145 Cal. 638, 79 Pac. 364.

8. Same—Same—Enforcement of payment of fine.—A municipal corporation of the fifth class is empowered under the municipal government act to enforce the payment of a fine imposed for violation of a municipal ordinance by imprisonment, and such method of enforcement is not in conflict with any general law.—Ex parte Green, 94 Cal. 387, 29 Pac. 783.

II. CONSTRUCTION.

9. Sanitary districts—Absorption by municipality.—A sanitary district preserves its identity and obtains its powers over its entire territory in all cases unless entirely absorbed by a municipality.—Pixley v. Saunders, 168 Cal. 152, 148 Pac. 815.

10. Same—Sanitation not "local" nor "municipal."—Sanitation is not a "local" nor "municipal" affair within the inhibition of sections 12 and 13 of article XI of the constitution.—Pixley v. Saunders, 168 Cal. 152, 160, 141 Pac. 815.

11. Act does not apply to freeholders' charter cities.—The general municipal incorporation act has no application to cities organized under freeholders' charters, although such cities may be of the classes referred to in such act.—Edwards v. Brockway, 16 Cal. App. 626, 117 Pac. 787.

12. Repealed—Section 771 by the Vrooman act.—Section 771 of the municipal corporation act has been repealed by the Vrooman act in so far as it is inconsistent with that act.—Millsap v. Balfour, 154 Cal. 303, 97 Pac. 668.

13. Repeal of section 866 by improvement act of 1901 not decided.—The question as to whether section 866 of the municipal corporation act was repealed by the municipal improvement act of 1901, was not decided.—Redlands v. Brook, 151 Cal. 474, 91 Pac. 150.

14. Sections 862 and 874 to be construed together and harmonized.—Sections 862 and 874 of the municipal corporation act are parts of one act relating to a particular subject and are to be construed together and harmonized, if possible.—Matthews v. Livermore, 156 Cal. 294, 104 Pac. 303.

15. Same—Bids for public work costing more than $100.—Construing sections 862 and 874 of the municipal corporation act together, it is held that the provisions of the former are modified by the provision of the latter, requiring work to be done by contract and to be laid to the lowest responsible bidder where cost of such work exceeds the sum of $100; and where the board of trustees of a city of the sixth class are proceeding to employ labor and purchase materials for a general sewer system costing many thousands of dollars without letting the same to the lowest bidder or acting in excess of their powers and will be enjoined at the suit of a taxpayer.—Matthews v. Livermore, 156 Cal. 294, 104 Pac. 303.

16. "All other printing"—Section 777.—The phrase "all other printing" in section 777 of the municipal corporation act has reference to all city printing not included in the word "advertising."—Arthur v. Petaluma, 27 Cal. App. 782, 151 Pac. 183.

17. Same—Publication of freeholders' charter.—The publication of proposed freeholders' charter is an obligation imposed by law and not within the inhibition of section 18 of article II of the constitution.—Arthur v. Petaluma, 27 Cal. App. 782, 151 Pac. 183.

18. "Advertising"—Printing freeholders' charter.—The printing of a freeholders' charter constituted "advertising" as that term is used in the general municipal act.—Arthur v. Petaluma, 27 Cal. App. 782, 151 Pac. 183.

19. Creation of indebtedness under municipal indebtedness act.—Section 865 has no application to a proceeding under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, and the provisions of the latter act control in the cases provided for therein.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

20. Special charter cities continue to exist until reorganization.—A municipality organized under a special charter prior to the constitution of 1879 continues to exist under such charter until it reorganizes under the general law or adopts a freeholders' charter.—Ex parte Helm, 143 Cal. 553, 77 Pac. 453.

21. Same—Not controlled by general laws.—A municipal corporation, operating under a special charter granted prior to the constitution of 1879, and authorized under such charter to impose license taxes for revenue, is not, since the "municipal affairs" amendment was adopted, controlled by general laws in such affairs.—Ex parte Helm, 143 Cal. 553, 77 Pac. 453; Ex parte Lemon, 143 Cal. 558, 77 Pac. 455, 65 L. R. A. 946.

22. Act permissive, and becomes mandatory only on acceptance of its terms.—The provisions of the general corporation act of 1883 are permissive only and do not become mandatory until its terms are accepted and an organization has been created under it, and such a municipality can not be extinguished until it has been changed into a different class under the terms of the act itself or by consolidation with another municipality or by the adoption of a freeholders' charter.—People v. Bagley, 85 Cal. 343, 24 Pac. 716.

23. Same.—The general municipal incorporation act of 1883 is permissive only. But when its terms are accepted, that act becomes mandatory and governs the municipality until it is consolidated with some other municipality or is incorporated under section 8 of article II of the constitution.—People v. Bagley, 85 Cal. 343, 24 Pac. 716.

24. Los Angeles—Act never applied.—The municipal incorporation act of 1883 never applied to Los Angeles because that city never organized thereunder.—Postal, etc., Co. v. Los Angeles County, 160 Cal. 129, 116 Pac. 566.

25. Municipal indebtedness act of 1889 controlling—Section 865.—Section 865 of the municipal incorporation act has no application to a proceeding under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, and the latter act is controlling in the cases therein provided for.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

26. Section 865 has no application to proceedings under municipal indebtedness act.—The provisions of section 865 of the municipal incorporation act have no application to a proceeding under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889, which permits the expenditure of an amount in excess of that allowed by an annual tax levy for a public improvement.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

27. Conflict between sections 4 and 352—Term of office.—In order to reconcile the conflict between provisions of section 4 of the general municipal incorporation act as to the term of office of officials of a reorganized municipality of the fifth class and the proviso of section 352 relative to the same subject, it is held that the words "this act" in the proviso be construed as though written "this section" or "this chapter" so as to conform with the evident intention of the legislature that all the elective officers of such a city should be chosen at the same time and enter upon their respective offices at the same time.—Ruggles v. Board of Supervisors, 88 Cal. 430, 26 Pac. 520.

28. City school district—Separate and independent of municipality.—The legislative declaration contained in section 1576 of the Political Code that every incorporated city is a school district, does not import into the organization of a school district the provisions of the city charter or limit the powers and functions of such district, and the city of San Diego, a municipal corporation operating under a freeholders' charter, is distinct from the corporation known as the San Diego School District.—Kennedy v. Miller, 97 Cal. 429, 32 Pac. 558.

29. Same—Organization and control not a "municipal affair."—The organization and control of school districts was not a municipal affair, and the municipal incorporation act as it stood at the time of the incorporation of Hillsboro, a city of the sixth class, was silent upon the subject of the formation, existence or government of school districts within cities or towns of that particular class.—Scott v. San Mateo County, 27 Cal. App. 708, 151 Pac. 33.

30. "Municipal affairs" amendment—Applies only to cities organized under the general law.—Under section 6 of article XII of the constitution as amended in 1895 general laws relating to "municipal affairs" apply only to cities which have organized under the general municipal incorporation act of 1883, and does not apply to San Francisco.—Popper v. Broderick, 123 Cal. 456, 56 Pac. 53.

31. "Municipal affair"—The imposition of a license tax for revenue is a municipal affair.—Ex parte Jackson, 143 Cal. 564, 77 Pac. 457.

32. Special charter municipalities, not reorganized, not controlled by general laws in "municipal affairs."—A municipal corporation organized by special charter prior to adoption of the present constitution continues to exist under said charter until it elects to organize under general laws or obtains a freeholders' charter, and such city is not, since the adoption of the 1896 amendment to section 6 of article XI of the constitution, controlled by general laws in the matter of "municipal affairs."—Ex parte Helm, 143 Cal. 553, 77 Pac. 453.

III. INCORPORATION, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

33. Effect of act of incorporation.—An act of incorporation declaring that certain territory shall hereafter constitute an incorporated town, and providing, without further condition, that it shall take effect from and after its passage, creates a body corporate and politic, whether the town government is thereafter organized or not.—People v. California Fish Co., 166 Cal. 576, 610, 138 Pac. 79.

34. Same.—Creation a legislative act and may be done without the consent of the people.—The creation of a municipal corporation is a legislative act, and under the constitution of 1849 the legislature could incorporate a given territory into a municipality by a mere act of legislative will, without the consent or the acceptance of the inhabitants thereof.—People v. California Fish Co., 166 Cal. 576, 610, 138 Pac. 79.

35. Same.—Filing copy of order with secretary of state necessary to complete.—Under the municipal corporation act of 1883, the legislative act of incorporation did not become complete until the filing in the office of the secretary of state of a certified copy of the order of the supervisors declaring the incorporation of the territory.—People v. Banning Co., 166 Cal. 635, 638, 138 Pac. 101.

36. Same.—Same.—Filing equivalent to passage of law.—The filing with the secretary of state of a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors declaring the incorporation, is equivalent to the passage of a law within the meaning of the provisions of the federal constitution as to impairment of obligations of contracts.—166 Cal. 635, 638, 138 Pac. 101.

37. Formation of municipalities a political question.—The propriety of establishing a municipality and of including a particular territory is in general a political question for the legislative department of the government; and if the course pursued in establishing that municipality be substantially such as is pointed out by the law-making department, courts do not interfere.—People ex rel. Bettner v. Riverside, 70 Cal. 461, 9 Pac. 662, 11 Pac. 759.

38. Reorganization of special chartered cities under act.—A municipality existing under a special charter granted prior to the adoption of the present constitution, can be reorganized under the general incorporation act of 1883, only in the manner and after a compliance with all of the conditions therein prescribed.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

38a. Chartered city.—Manner of reorganization.—A chartered municipality of the state of California can only be reorganized in the manner and by compliance with all the conditions prescribed in the general act of 1883.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

39. Same.—Same.—Manner of submission of question.—Application for the reorganization of municipal corporation under the act of 1883 must be signed by the requisite number of electors, and unless so signed, the board of trustees has no jurisdiction to submit the question of reorganization to the voters, and the latter have no right to vote on it.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

40. Same.—Same.—Same.—Petition.—Pasting signatures.—Where the signatures of two or more petitions for the reorganization of a municipal corporation are cut off of the petitions to which they were originally attached and pasted onto a petition which was signed by a less number of electors than is required by the act, the board of trustees are without jurisdiction to order an election for reorganization.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

41. Same.—Same.—May be submitted at general municipal election.—The question of the reorganization of a municipal corporation may be submitted at the election provided by law for municipal officers.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

42. Same.—Same.—Election.—Majority of electors voting.—Under the provisions of the general act for the reorganization of municipalities thereunder a majority of all the electors voting at the election is required and not merely a majority of those who vote on the measure, although a majority of the latter may have been in favor of reorganization.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

43. Same.—Same.—Same.—Count of ballots.—The board of supervisors are not required actually to count the ballots cast at an organization election, but it is sufficient if the returns are canvassed.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

44. Change from one class to another.—The rule that municipal corporations are subject to the control of general laws does not prevent the change from an incorporation under the general act of 1883 to a freeholders' charter.—People v. Bagley, 85 Cal. 343, 24 Pac. 716.

45. Annexed sanitary districts retain powers.—In enacting the sanitary district acts, the legislature had in mind the sanitation of any territory which might conveniently be served by a single system, whether wholly unincorporated or not, and that a sanitary district formed under said act preserves its identity and retains its powers over the whole territory, except in the event of its complete absorption by a municipality.—Pixley v. Saunders, 168 Cal. 152, 160, 141 Pac. 815.

46. Class of city at formation—Federal census.—The court will take judicial knowledge of the federal census enumeration showing the population of a municipality in the state of California, in the absence of a special enumeration, and will determine therefrom to what class a municipality belonged at the time of its formation under the general act.—In re Baxter, 3 Cal. App. 716, 86 Pac. 998.

47. Judicial notice of incorporation.—The courts take judicial notice of the fact of the incorporation of a town or city.—Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604.

48. Petition—Presentation before publication of notice.—Under a proper construction of section 2 of the municipal corporation act the petition need not be presented to the board before publication of notice, and thereafter published with the notice, affidavit, etc., by order and under the sanction of the board for the statutory time before its presentation to the board for further action.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

49. Same—Proof of genuineness of signatures essential.—It is of the very essence of the proceeding and absolutely essential to the jurisdiction of the court to make the order declaring the establishment of a municipal corporation that a proper petition signed by the requisite number of qualified electors should be laid before them, and this involved proof of the genuineness of the signatures to such petition to less than the citizenship and residence of the persons whose names are attached thereto.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

50. Same—Publication sufficient.—Where the publication of the petition reciting that it would be presented on September 20th, was published September 13th and September 20th, in a weekly newspaper, it was sufficient under the requirements of the statute.—Hoffecker v. Board of Supervisors, 23 Cal. App. 405, 138 Pac. 371.

51. Same—Affidavit—Prima facie evidence—Jurisdiction of board.—An affidavit of three qualified electors accompanying the petition and certifying as to the genuineness of the signatures of more than fifty of the qualified electors residing within the limits of the proposed municipality, is prima facie evidence of the requisite number of signers; and in the absence of any other evidence, the board of supervisors is bound to determine that it has jurisdiction to make its order so far as such jurisdiction depends upon the number of qualified electors signing the petition. — Hoffecker v. Board of Supervisors, 23 Cal. App. 405, 138 Pac. 371.

52. Petition for reorganization held insufficient—Consolidating petition by pasting.—Where a petition for reorganization under the general law was signed by only forty-seven electors and it was necessary that it should be signed by at least two hundred and eleven electors, it was held insufficient, and that the signatures originally attached to the other petitions and cut off and pasted to the petition presented could not be counted so as to make up a requisite number.—People v. Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

53. Petition for incorporation—Recital as to existence of "town" within proposed boundaries not required.—The provisions of the municipal incorporation act for the organization of municipalities thereunder do not require that the petition for incorporation should recite that there is any "town" within the proposed boundaries of such municipality.—People v. ex rel. Russell v. Loyalton, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

54. Petition—Qualifications of signers—Determination of board conclusive.—The decision of the board of supervisors as to the qualifications of the signers of the petition and as to the number of inhabitants in the district proposed to be incorporated is conclusive in an action by quo warranto to determine the validity of the incorporation, and such determination could be vacated only upon grounds which would justify the vacating of a judgment rendered by a court of record, as upon an allegation that the decision was induced by extrinsic collateral fraud.—People ex rel. Russell v. Loyalton, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

55. Same—Filing and publication before presentation not an irregularity.—The fact that a petition for the organization of a municipal corporation was filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors and notice thereof given the board that it was filed and duly published for the statutory period before its presentation to the board, does not constitute an irregularity sufficient to invalidate the action of the board thereon.—People ex rel. Escalle v. Larkspur, 16 Cal. App. 169, 116 Pac. 702.

56. Same—Clerical error in date of presentation.—An error in the notice of time for presenting a petition for the formation of a municipality under the general act of 1883 by describing such date as Tuesday, April 5th, is not fatal, although April 5th was Wednesday.—Cole v. Board of Supervisors, 27 Cal. App. 528, 150 Pac. 784.

57. Same—Presentation on day after date named in notice at adjourned meeting—Sufficient.—Where a petition for the formation of a municipality under the June act of 1883 was not presented to the board on the date named in the notice but was presented on the following date at a session of the board adjourned from the day before the date named in the notice, such petition was held to be entitled to a hearing, the adjournment being in the nature of a recess.—Cole v. Board of Supervisors, 27 Cal. App. 528, 150 Pac. 784.

58. Same—Affidavit, defective—No evidence of genuineness of signatures.—An affidavit attached to the petition which merely showed that the names attached to the petition were names of qualified electors resident within the limits of the proposed corporation, and did not show that their signatures were genuine, was radically defective and where no evidence of the genuineness of such signatures was afforded before the board, the findings of the board that such petition had been signed by fifty qualified petitioners, was not supported by the evidence.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

59. Same—Defects in affidavit not jurisdictional—Filing of proper affidavit.—Defects in the affidavit accompanying the petition do not go to the jurisdiction of the board and where the hearing was continued and a proper affidavit of publication was presented before the final determination, it is sufficient.—Borchard v. Supervisors, 144 Cal. 10, 77 Pac. 708.

60. Same—Affidavit sufficient — Status presumed to continue to exist.—Where the affidavit attached to the petition was dated March 13, 1903, the petition was not filed until April 7, 1903, which is not objectionable on the ground that it only establishes the conditions existing on the first named date; and in the absence of proof that the number of inhabitants had been reduced below the requisite number by death or departure from the district, it will be presumed that the state of facts shown to exist on the 13th of March continued to exist.—Borchard v. Supervisors, 144 Cal. 10, 77 Pac. 708.

61. Same—"As nearly as may be."—A petition reciting that "more than five hundred and not to exceed three thousand persons resided within the proposed boundaries and that the number of inhabitants therein, according to the best knowledge, information and belief of your petitioners, is about two thousand," sufficiently complies with the terms of the act requiring that the population be stated "as nearly as may be."—Borchard v. Supervisors, 144 Cal. 10, 77 Pac. 708.

62. Same—Board acts judicially in determining sufficiency—Reviewable.—For the purposes of this case it is conceded that the board of supervisors in determining that a proper petition has been presented supported by proper affidavit that notice was published, acts judicially, or at least quasi-judicially, and that its determination upon these matters is subject to review.—Borchard v. Supervisors, 144 Cal. 10, 77 Pac. 708.

63. Same—Necessary signatures of qualified persons required.—A petition of incorporation of a municipality under the general act of 1883 must be signed by the number of qualified persons required by the act, and if not so signed, the organization of a municipality thereunder is absolutely void and a favorable vote of the people can not cure the defect or authorize the board of supervisors to issue the necessary certificate for the exercise of a municipal franchise.—Page v. Board of Supervisors, 85 Cal. 50, 24 Pac. 607.

64. Same—Jurisdiction to inquire into fraud in signing.—When the board of supervisors discover that a fraud has been perpetrated in the signing of a petition for the organization of a municipal corporation under the general law of 1883 and that less than the required number of qualified signers have signed the same, it has jurisdiction to inquire into the fraud and to refuse to canvass the election returns or to take any further proceedings in the matter.—Page v. Board of Supervisors, 85 Cal. 50, 24 Pac. 607.

65. Same—Hearing—Adjournment for more than two months after presentation.—The provision of the municipal incorporation act that after the presentation to the board of supervisors of a petition for the organization of a municipality the board may adjourn the hearing from time to time not exceeding two months, is not mandatory; and where the board adjourned the hearing from time to time for two months and one week after its first publication, it will be presumed that the continuances were for a reasonable period and for good cause.—People ex rel. Escalle v. Larkspur, 16 Cal. App. 169, 116 Pac. 702.

66. Same—Same—Order—Failure to publish order as ordinance.—Where the order of the board was otherwise valid the failure to publish it as an ordinance does not invalidate it.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

67. Same—Same—Posting and publication of notice—Discretion of board.—The manner of giving notice whether by publication or by posting and the length of time that the notice is to be published or posted, are matters committed to the discretion of the board and can not be delegated to the discretion of the clerk; and it is held that in the present case, the notice was not a substantial compliance with the statute and was not a reasonable or sufficient notice.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

68. Boundaries, power to determine, legislative—Law mandatory and vested no discretion—Not reviewable.—Power of the board to determine the boundaries of a proposed municipal corporation is legislative; in canvassing the returns and in announcing their result its duties are ministerial, and the law which operated from the moment of the determination of the sufficiency of the petition and the boundaries established was mandatory and vested in them no discretion; and if the board in doing these things was guilty of irregularities and misconduct such as would vitiate the election, no relief can be granted by certiorari.—Borchard v. Supervisors, 144 Cal. 10, 77 Pac. 708.

69. Jurisdiction of board—Prior organization of proposed municipality.—The board of supervisors of Los Angeles county had jurisdiction upon the hearing of a petition for the incorporation of the town of Wilmington under the general incorporation act of 1883 to hear and determine the fact as to whether there had been any prior organization of the town under the act of 1872.—McConnell v. Board of Supervisors, 7 Cal. App. 385, 94 Pac. 391.

See People v. McConnell, 151 Cal. 649, 91 Pac. 524.

70. Same—Not lost by adjournment without specifying hour of special meeting.—Failure of the orders of adjournment to specify the hour of the day to which the adjournment was taken, does not result in any loss of jurisdiction by the board over a proceeding under the general corporation act of 1883 to organize a municipal corporation.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

71. Review—Findings of supervisors as to sufficiency of petition a part of record.—The findings of the supervisors at the hearing as to the sufficiency of the petition, being a part of the record certified upon the return of the writ of review, may be resorted to in aid of the determination of the question.—Borchard v. Supervisors, 144 Cal. 10, 77 Pac. 708.

72. Notice of election—Posting of fifth notice outside territory does not vitiate proceedings.—Where four notices of election to organize a municipal corporation were posted within the boundaries of the proposed municipality, the error of the board of supervisors in requiring the posting of a fifth notice at a place subsequently discovered to be outside of such boundaries, would not vitiate the proceeding.—People ex rel. Russell v. Loyalton, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

73. Same—Given without jurisdiction and without authority, is no notice.—A notice of an election to determine whether the people would incorporate as a municipality under the general law of 1883, given without jurisdiction and without authority of law, is no notice, and an election held thereunder is without authority of law and can give no title to an office or franchise.—Page v. Board of Supervisors, 85 Cal. 50, 24 Pac. 607.

74. Same—Sufficient.—A notice of election for the incorporation of a municipality reciting that the "petition particularly set forth the boundaries of the proposed corporation and stated the number of inhabitants therein to be about three thousand," was sufficient to indicate to the voters that the proposed city would be of the sixth class.—People ex rel. Bettner v. Riverside, 70 Cal. 461, 9 Pac. 662, 11 Pac. 759.

75. Election—Voting of five non-residents, through mistake, not fraud—Result not affected—Not material.—Where in an election to organize a proposed municipality owing to misconception as to the precise location of the boundary line thereof five non-residents voted, that fact would not be material, in the absence of fraud, and where the rejection of such votes would not affect the result of the election.—People ex rel. Russell v. Loyalton, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

76. Same—Not invalid because held on Admission Day.—An election to organize a municipal corporation under the act of 1883 is not invalidated because held on Admission Day, section 134 of the Code of Civil Procedure, forbidding the transaction merely of certain "judicial business" on holidays therein mentioned.—People ex rel. Russell v. Loyalton, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

77. Same—Marking ballots.—In an election to determine as to the incorporation of a municipality, blank ballots without any marks to indicate the elector's wish in any particular, are not to be deemed "votes cast" for any purpose.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

78. Same—Same—Use of pencil instead of stamp.—Ballots marked with the pencil and not with the official stamp are invalid and not entitled to be counted.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

79. Same—Same—Same—Distinguishing mark.—A ballot upon which the words "against incorporation" written in pencil entirely below the printed matter, the same being the only mark of any kind thereon, is invalid and should not be counted.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

80. Same—Same—Blurred stamp.—A ballot stamped at the proper place but having the cross marks blurred, is valid and should be counted.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

81. Same—Same—Stamp below line.—A ballot properly stamped but on which the cross marks extended slightly below the line, is held to be valid and entitled to be counted.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

82. "Majority of electors voting"—Phrase construed.—The requirement of the constitution that "a majority of the electors voting" shall determine the question of the reorganization of a municipality, implies that a majority of all those voting at the elections must be in favor of such reorganization, in order to carry the proposition.—People v. Town of Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

83. Submission of question of reorganization—"General election."—The provisions of the general incorporation act as to submission of the question of reorganization to the electors at the "general election," are satisfied by a submission of the question at the election provided by law for the election of municipal officers.—People v. Town of Berkeley, 102 Cal. 298, 36 Pac. 591, 23 L. R. A. 838.

84. Certified copy of order declaring incorporation—Filing of essential to complete.—The filing of a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors declaring the city duly incorporated in the office of the secretary of state, is essential to the completion of the incorporation, and until such filing, there is no corporation.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

85. Inhabitants and territory.—The board of supervisors of a county are authorized under the municipal incorporation act to incorporate a district containing a village of less than five hundred inhabitants and including fifty square miles of farming land, with a population of seven hundred altogether.—People ex rel. Russell v. Loyaltown, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

86. Same—Determination of board conclusive.—The question as to whether the territory proposed to be included in a municipal incorporation act should be brought under municipal control is left by the general act of 1883 to be finally determined by the board of supervisors of the county in which such territory is situated.—People ex rel. Russell v. Loyaltown, 147 Cal. 774, 82 Pac. 620.

See, also, People v. Riverside, 70 Cal. 461, 11 Pac. 759; People v. Linden, 107 Pac. 94, 100, 40 Pac. 115.

87. Power of determining boundaries—Rescission of order.—The power to determine the boundaries of the proposed town given boards of supervisors under sections 2 and 3 of the municipal corporation act is legislative and not delegated, and in the absence of any limitation by statute or rule, includes the power of repealing and rescinding its previous acts while the proceedings are in fieri and before rights have become vested under the act or the town declared duly incorporated.—Vernon v. Board of Supervisors, 142 Cal. 513, 76 Pac. 253.

88. Orders establishing boundaries and providing for submission to people, not ordinances.—Orders establishing boundaries and providing for the submission to the people of the question of municipal incorporation, are not ordinances governed as to their enactment by the provisions of the county government act, but are orders to be entered on the minutes of the board in accordance with the provisions of the statute regulating this particular meeting.—People ex rel. Boardman v. Linden, 107 Cal. 94, 40 Pac. 115.

88a. Pending annexation proceedings.—The board of supervisors have no jurisdiction to entertain and act upon a petition calling for proceedings to organize a city including a part of the same territory while proceedings to annex such territory are pending.—People ex rel. Pasadena v. Monterey Park, 40 Cal. App. 715, 181 Pac. 825.

88b. Same—Supervisors without jurisdiction in organization proceedings.—Where pending annexation proceedings are void the supervisors are authorized to entertain and act upon a petition to incorporate the same territory.—People ex rel. Pasadena v. Monterey Park, 40 Cal. App. 715, 181 Pac. 825.

89. Quo warranto—Municipality a necessary party.—The putative municipality is a necessary party to any proceeding to test or determine the validity of its municipal charter.—People v. Gunn, 85 Cal. 238, 24 Pac. 718.

90. Same—Real facts on judicial count of ballots may be shown.—In an action to determine the validity of an incorporation, any uncertainty arising from recital in the record of the board of supervisors in reference to the canvass of the returns may be explained by showing the real facts upon a judicial count of the ballots.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

91. Same—Same—Certifying and filing of entries in record of board.—The act does not require or necessitate the certifying and filing of all the entries made in the minutes of the board of supervisors at the time of the canvass of the returns of an incorporation election.—People v. Sausalito, 106 Cal. 500, 39 Pac. 937.

IV. POWERS.

1. In general.

92. Police power—Only limitation—Must not conflict with general law.—The only limitation upon the exercise of the power to make and enforce local police, sanitary and other regulations given municipalities by section 11 of article XII of the constitution is subject only to the limitation that such regulations shall not be in conflict with general laws.—Ex parte Roach, 104 Cal. 272, 37 Pac. 1044.

93. Same—Same—Speed regulation of motor vehicles.—A city of the sixth class has no authority to make a police regulation which is in conflict with general laws, and an ordinance of such a city, which reasonably construed can be held to have been intended to supplant all other legislation upon the subject of the regulation of the speed of motor vehicles within its limits, both state and local, is invalid.—In re Smith, 26 Cal. App. 116, 146 Pac. 82.

94. Same—Incidental effect on constitutional rights.—Laws or ordinances enacted under the police power, reasonably adopted to their ends, are not unconstitutional because they may incidentally operate to deprive individuals of their property, or interfere with their personal liberty, nor because they may create a monopoly of a certain business or occupation.—California, etc., Co. v. Sanitary, etc., Co., 126 Fed. 29, 61 C. C. A. 91; Ex parte Lemon, 143 Cal. 558, 77 Pac. 455, 65 L. R. A. 946; Harter v. Barkley, 158 Cal. 742, 112 Pac. 556.

95. Includes power to prohibit dramshops.—A city of the sixth class is empowered by section 11, article XI of the constitution to prohibit tippling houses, dramshops and barrooms.—Ex parte Campbell, 74 Cal. 20, 15 Pac. 318, 5 Am. St. Rep. 418.

96. Same—Same—Ordinance—Not in conflict with constitution or laws.—An ordinance of the city of Pasadena, a sixth-class city, prohibiting the maintenance of tippling houses, dramshops and barrooms within its limits, is not in conflict with the constitution or general laws of the state.—Ex parte Campbell, 74 Cal. 20, 15 Pac. 318, 5 Am. St. Rep. 418.

97. Construction of charter.—A city has no powers not expressly given by the terms of its charter or necessarily implied therefrom, and all of a charter is to be considered in arriving at the meaning of any part of it, wherever it appears that the context aids or controls such meaning, and if, with the aid of the context or the application of other correct rules of interpretation, the conclusion is reached that the power is granted, the rule first stated is satisfied.—Hayne v. San Francisco, 174 Cal. 185, 196, 162 Pac. 625.

98. Scope of power under section 862.—The power given to municipal corporations of the sixth class contained in section 862 of the municipal corporation act to acquire certain public utilities, necessarily implies the power to furnish its inhabitants with such utilities for private as well as the general public.—Carey v. Blodgett, 10 Cal. App. 463, 102 Pac. 668.

98a. Issue of bonds in excess of revenue.—Subsequent authorization.—Where a municipality assumed certain water bonds as a part of the purchase price of the works, and such bonds were in excess of its debt limit at that time, but after the city had acquired the right to raise its debt limit, and thereafter the question of refunding such bonds was submitted and granted by a unanimous majority, such vote was held to have amounted to a ratification of the indebtedness and a validation of the bonds.—Santa Cruz v. Wykes, 202 Fed. 357, 120 C. C. A. 485.

See, also, Waite v. Santa Cruz, 184 U. S. 302, 22 Sup. Ct. 327, 46 L. ed. 552.

98b. Estoppel to deny recitals of municipal bonds.—Where municipal bonds recite that they have been issued in pursuance of and in conformity with statutes and ordinances authorizing their issue, the city is estopped to deny that they were so issued.—Santa Cruz v. Wykes, 202 Fed. 357, 120 C. C. A. 485.

98c. Same.—Not estopped when bonds issued without authority.—Where bonds contain no sufficient recital as to their issuance in conformity with the constitution, laws, or ordinances, or if the issuance is beyond the power of the municipality to authorize, then it is not estopped to controvert their validity.—Santa Cruz v. Wykes, 202 Fed. 357, 120 C. C. A. 485.

98d. Incur indebtedness.—Section 18, article XI, constitution.—Measure of power.—The exception in section 18 of article XI of the constitution to the inhibition against municipalities incurring any indebtedness or liability for any purpose exceeding the revenue for that year, is held to be the measure of the city's power in this respect.—Santa Cruz v. Wykes, 202 Fed. 357, 120 C. C. A. 485.

98e. Same.—Same.—Power, where vested.—The power of a municipality under section 18, article XI, of the constitution, to incur indebtedness in excess of its revenues for the year, does not with the municipality, nor with its common council alone, but with the assent of two-thirds of the electors.—Santa Cruz v. Wykes, 202 Fed. 357, 120 C. C. A. 485.

99. Bridges across private canals.—A municipality of the sixth class was authorized by the municipal corporation act to establish, build and repair bridges across canals, and where it opens or establishes a street or highway across a canal previously constructed by its owner, the duty of erecting the necessary bridge across the canal on the line of the street, devolves upon the municipality and not upon the canal owner.—South Yuba, etc., Co. v. Auburn, 16 Cal. App. 775, 118 Pac. 101.

100. Purchase of electric lighting plant.—Issue of bonds for.—Cost in excess of ordinary revenue.—A city of the sixth class is authorized by section 862 and 866 to purchase an electric lighting plant from a private company and to issue bonds for so much of the cost thereof as could not be paid out of the ordinary annual revenue of the municipality.—Redlands v. Brook, 151 Cal. 474, 91 Pac. 150.

101. Lighting streets with arc lights.—Not "street work" under section 777.—Lighting streets with arc lights suspended at a considerable height above the street is not "street work" within the meaning of section 777, and that section does not authorize such lighting by contract where the expenditure exceeds $100.—Electric, etc., Co. v. San Bernardino, 100 Cal. 348, 34 Pac. 819.

102. Power to light city implies power to use necessary means.—Power given by the municipal corporation act to light the city, implies the use of means necessary to accomplish that object.—Hammond v. San Leandro, 135 Cal. 450, 67 Pac. 692.

102a. Street lighting procedure.—Where a municipal charter confers power to adopt a complete procedure for the creation of a system of street lighting, and itself does not contain such procedure, the city has power to provide a scheme, and if it does not do it it is governed by the general law in that respect and may follow the provisions of the improvement act of 1911.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

103. Ordinance prohibiting visiting houses of prostitution.—The city council of the city of Stockton was empowered by the municipal incorporation act of 1883 to enact an ordinance prohibiting any person to visit any building kept for the purpose of prostitution, and the same is not in conflict with the general laws of the state.—Ex parte Johnson, 73 Cal. 228, 15 Pac. 43.

104. Franchise for use of streets by railroad company.—Manner of granting.—The authority of the board of trustees of a city of the sixth class to grant a franchise for the use of the streets of such a city for railroad tracks is in sections 465 and 470 of the Civil Code, and the method of granting such a franchise is to be found in section 861 of the municipal corporation act, qualified and limited by the provisions of section 470 of the Civil Code.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Long Beach, 172 Cal. 631, 158 Pac. 204.

104a. Same—Same—No right obtained.—Where an application was made for permission to construct a turn-out or spur in the streets of a sixth-class city and on motion the "matter was referred to the board as committee of the whole with power to act" and nothing further was ever done by the council with respect to this application, no right whatever to lay or to maintain such turn-out was obtained.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Long Beach, 172 Cal. 631, 158 Pac. 204.

105. Same—Same—No estoppel against city.—Where a railroad company expended money and laid tracks in city streets in reliance not upon the supposed legality of franchises claimed therefor but upon what its officers and agents expected by way of favor, indulgence, neglect or apathy of the city officials and the committee, no estoppel would arise against the municipality by subsequent use and operation by the company, no matter how long continued in the absence of any showing of hardship or detriment on account thereof.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Long Beach, 172 Cal. 631, 158 Pac. 204.

106. Franchises to lay railroad tracks—Legislative not contractual.—The power given cities of the sixth class by section 862 to permit the laying of railroad tracks, etc., "under such restrictions as they deem proper," is legislative, and not contractual, and unless the restriction imposed is within the city's legislative power it can not be supported as a contract.—City of Arcata v. Green, 156 Cal. 759, 106 Pac. 86.

107. Same—Same—Extraterritorial power—Void condition.—A grant to a railroad company of the right to construct an electric railroad through a sixth-class city, upon condition that such railroad be completed within a certain period between such city and another, is an attempt by the city to exercise extraterritorial power, and such attempt vitiated the condition and avoided the undertaking given by the grantee as a consideration therefor.—City of Arcata v. Green, 156 Cal. 759, 106 Pac. 86.

108. Construction of sewers costing over $100.—Section 862 limited and modified by section 874.—The general power to construct sewers in cities of the sixth class given by section 862 is limited and modified with regard to the sewers costing more than $100, by the provisions of section 874; and the board of trustees of such a city acts in excess of its powers where it provides for the construction of a general sewer system costing many thousands of dollars by the direct employment of labor and purchase of materials without letting the same to the lowest bidder.—Matthews v. Livermore, 156 Cal. 294, 104 Pac. 303.

As to the same subject in freeholders' charter cities, see Perry v. Los Angeles, 157 Cal. 146, 106 Pac. 410.

109. Sewer connections—Municipal monopoly—Uniform charge.—A city of the sixth class is empowered to construct drains and sewers, to make a uniform charge for connections, whether the lengths of such connections are uniform or not, and to provide for a municipal monopoly for making such connections, by denying the issuance of permits for private contracts and imposing a penalty for violation of any provisions of the ordinance.—Harter v. Barkley, 158 Cal. 742, 112 Pac. 556.

110. Disposition of sewage outside city.—A city of the fifth class has power to contract for the disposition of sewage outside of the city, and may contract for a sewer from outside such limits.—McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794.

111. Same—Sewage farm.—A contract entered into by the board of trustees of a fifth-class city for the purchase of a sewer farm for the reception and treatment of the sewage of the city, and to pay therefor a specified sum annually is a valid contract binding on the city.—McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794.

112. Same—Same—Contract in futuro.—Contracts in futuro entered into by municipalities will not be upheld without a clear showing of a reasonable necessity for their execution.—McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794.

113. Same—Same—Same.—When a contract in futuro entered into by a municipality was, at the time it was entered into, fair and reasonable, and appeared then to have been prompted by the necessities of the case, it will not be construed as an unreasonable restraint upon the powers of succeeding boards, it will be upheld, when there is no express limitation as to time.—McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794.

114. Same—Same—Same.—In the case of contracts in futuro entered into by a municipality, extending over a period of one year, if the revenues for any one year are not sufficient and available for the payment of the contractor's claim for that year, such claim becomes mere waste paper and is not carried over as a charge against the revenue for a succeeding year.—McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794.

115. Local management of highways, subject to existing grants.—Upon its incorporation a city of the sixth class is given the management of the highways therein, subject to an existing grant by the state to a city of the right to use the same for a pipe line for a water supply.—City of Beverly Hills v. Los Angeles, 175 Cal. 311, 314, 165 Pac. 924.

116. Power of regulating use of streets.—As to the power of a municipality to regulate the use of the public streets, see Ex parte Casinello, 62 Cal. 541; Ex parte Fiske, 72 Cal. 125, 13 Pac. 310; Ex parte Taylor, 87 Cal. 94, 25 Pac. 258; De Baker v.

Southern Cal. Railroad Co., 106 Cal. 282, 46 Am. St. Rep. 237, 39 Pac. 610; Mutual, etc., Co. v. Ashworth, 118 Cal. 6, 50 Pac. 10; Vanderhurst v. Tholcke, 113 Cal. 150, 45 Pac. 266, 35 L. R. A. 267; In re Johnston, 137 Cal. 120, 69 Pac. 973; Dobbins v. Los Angeles, 139 Cal. 179, 96 Am. St. Rep. 95, 72 Pac. 970; Merced Falls, etc., Co. v. Turner, 2 Cal. App. 720, 84 Pac. 239.

117. Fee of streets—Right of owner to use of subsurface.—An ordinance of a city requiring a franchise to lay pipes in a public street does not import to be a regulation as to the manner of doing the work, and to the extent that it requires such franchise as a condition precedent to its occupation at all, it does apply to the owner of the soil so long as occupation does not in any manner conflict with the public use.—Colegrove, etc., Co. v. Hollywood, 151 Cal. 425, 90 Pac. 1053, 13 L. R. A. (N. S.) 904.

118. Same—Same—Excavations.—The owner of the fee has the right to the use of the soil below the surface and may make such excavations not inconsistent with the public use of the street, subject to such reasonable municipal or police regulations as the city may impose, to enable him to enjoy his right to such use.—Colegrove, etc., Co. v. Hollywood, 151 Cal. 425, 90 Pac. 1053, 13 L. R. A. (N. S.) 904.

119. Require franchise for telephone poles and wires.—A municipal corporation is empowered by ordinance to require a telephone company doing an interstate business and using and occupying exclusively certain portions of the public streets with its lines and poles, to pay for such use a fixed sum per annum for each and every pole maintained thereon unless it shall have or secure a franchise or a privilege therefor.—Sunset, etc., Co. v. Pasadena, 161 Cal. 265, 118 Pac. 796.

120. Water companies—Regulation of service connections—Railroad commission amendments.—At the time of the adoption of the railroad commission amendment to the constitution cities of the sixth class had power to establish by ordinance and to enforce a regulation requiring water companies to lay service connections to the property line of consumers without charge, such power being conferred by section 549 of the Civil Code, taken in connection with section 11 of article XII of the constitution and with subdivision 14 of section 862 of the municipal corporation act.—Title, etc., Co. v. Railroad Commission, 168 Cal. 295, Ann. Cas. 1916A, 738, 142 Pac. 878.

121. Construction of wharves—Infringement on rights of persons.—A city of the sixth class is given no right nor power under § 862 of the act to prevent a person who has the right to do so from constructing a wharf, so long as such person does not infringe upon its rights by doing so.—San Pedro v. Southern Pacific R. Co., 101 Cal. 333, 35 Pac. 993.

122. Same—Section 862 merely confers same right that natural persons possess.—Section 862 is intended to confer upon a municipality of the sixth class the same right to construct wharves, etc., as a natural person would have, and not to confer such right irrespective of the rights of others.—San Pedro v. Southern Pacific R. Co., 101 Cal. 333, 35 Pac. 993.

123. Eminent domain—Jurisdiction of superior court not affected.—The jurisdiction of a superior court in controversies between the parties in a condemnation proceeding by a municipality, is not affected by the provisions of section 870 of the municipal corporation act of 1883, although the right of the municipality to maintain the action and to secure the relief sought may be effected under the provisions of that section by failure to agree or to bring the suit as therein provided.—Bishop v. Superior Court, 87 Cal. 226, 25 Pac. 435.

124. Same—Condemnation of right of way for sewer—Right of municipality does not depend upon its incorporation.—The right of a municipality to condemn a right of way for a sewer does not depend upon whether it is incorporated or not, and proof of that fact is unnecessary although alleged in the complaint.—Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604.

125. Same—Same—Jurisdiction of superior court not affected by section 870.—The provisions of section 870 of the municipal government act may affect the question of the right of a municipality to maintain an action to condemn a right of way for a sewer, but they do not affect the jurisdiction of the superior court to hear and determine all questions that may arise between the parties in such a proceeding.—Bishop v. Superior Court, 87 Cal. 226, 25 Pac. 435.

126. Same—Same—Same—Jurisdiction derived from constitution.—The jurisdiction of the superior court to hear and determine all questions arising in connection with the attempt of a municipality to condemn a right of way for a sewer, is derived from the constitution and the provisions of the code, and not from the municipal government.—Bishop v. Superior Court, 87 Cal. 226, 25 Pac. 435.

127. Same—Manner of exercising is subject of general law.—The manner of exercising the right of eminent domain is no part of municipal organization but is the subject of general laws applicable to every person alike.—Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604.

128. Same—Same—Legislature can not discriminate.—The legislature has no power to make arbitrary discriminations between different classes of persons in fixing the manner of exercising the right of eminent domain.—Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 238, 27 Pac. 604.

128a. Void transfer of city property.—A colorable transfer of city property for a pretended consideration conveys no title and is void, notwithstanding the fact that the land conveyed was reconveyed to the city for park purposes.—Fort Bragg v. Brandon, 41 Cal. App. 227, 182 Pac. 454.

2. Legislature.

129. Legislative body—Rescission of previous votes or orders.—The legislative body of a municipal corporation may rescind previous votes or orders at any time where the rights of third persons have not vested; and so far as may be consistent with the laws of its creation and the rules of action, such rescission may take place at any subsequent meeting.—McConoughey v. Jackson, 101 Cal. 265, 35 Pac. 863, 40 Am. St. Rep. 53.

130. Board of education — First five classes—No legislative power.—In cities of the first five classes the educational department has no legislative power, the same being vested in the legislative body of a city.—Board of Education v. Board of Trustees, 129 Cal. 599, 62 Pac. 173.

130a. Use of school house for other than school purposes.—Section 798 is not limited by subdivision 18, section 1617 of the Political Code.—McClure v. Board of Education, 38 Cal. App. 500, 176 Pac. 711.

131. Ordinances may be passed on day of introduction—Act of 1889.—Ordinances passed under the authority of the act of 1889 are specially governed by the provisions of that act and may be passed on the day of their introduction without reference to the provisions of section 801 of the municipal government act.—Derby v. City of Modesto, 104 Cal. 515, 38 Pac. 892.

See, also, Santa Barbara v. Davis, 6 Cal. App. 342, 92 Pac. 308.

132. Ordinance, passed within five days after introduction, void—Section 801.—An ordinance granting a franchise for the use of a street to a railroad company to construct and maintain railroad tracks thereon, is void where it was passed on the day of its introduction or within five days thereafter, as in contravention of section 861 of the municipal corporation act.—San Pedro, etc., Co. v. Long Beach, 172 Cal. 631, 153 Pac. 204.

133. Ordinance — Rejection of invalid, does not affect valid portion.—The invalidity of a portion of an ordinance may be rejected without affecting that portion which is distinctly separable, remaining.—San Luis Obispo v. Pettit, 87 Cal. 499, 25 Pac. 694.

134. Ordinance has force of statute.—A municipal corporation can exercise only such powers as have been expressly or by necessary implication conferred upon it by law, and these powers are to be found in its charter or in some provision of the statute or constitution of the state under which it is organized; and any ordinance passed by it within the scope of the authority expressly conferred upon it, has the same force within the corporate limits as a statute passed by the legislature itself has throughout the state.—Ex parte Roach, 104 Cal. 272, 37 Pac. 1044.

135. Ordinances passed under — Implied powers.—A municipal ordinance passed pursuant to the implied power of the municipality must be consonant with the general powers and purposes of the corporation and not be inconsistent with the laws or policy of the state.—Ex parte Green, 94 Cal. 337, 29 Pac. 783.

136. Referendum election on "franchise ordinance"—Resolution not an ordinance.—Where an ordinance calling a referendum election on a "franchise ordinance" was passed at an adjourned meeting of the board of trustees and the hour of assembling at such adjourned meeting had not been specified in the motion made at the regular meeting to adjourn the same, such ordinance is void; and such election can not be validated by treating the ordinance as a resolution since the election must be called by ordinance under the provisions of the municipal corporation act.—Reed v. Wing, 168 Cal. 706, 144 Pac. 964.

137. County ordinance is not a general law—Does not supersede municipal ordinance.—A county ordinance is not a general law within the meaning of section 11, article XII of the constitution and does not for that reason supersede a city ordinance. (Principle applied in the case of a conflict between county and city ordinances in relation to licensing the sale of intoxicating liquors.)—Ex parte Roach, 104 Cal. 272, 37 Pac. 1044.

138. Municipal supersede county ordinances.—Ordinances passed by a municipality whose territory is included within the county will supersede any ordinance of the county upon the same subject.—Ex parte Roach, 104 Cal. 272, 37 Pac. 1044.

139. Same—Sale of liquor.—In case of conflict a police regulation of a municipality will supersede any county ordinance within the territory of the city, and a county ordinance making it unlawful to sell liquor between the hours of 10 o'clock p. m. and 5 o'clock a. m. is inoperative in a municipal corporation within the county which has previously passed an ordinance licensing the sale of liquor without such restriction.—Ex parte Roach, 104 Cal. 272, 37 Pac. 1044.

140. Adoption of code provisions by reference—Taxation.—An ordinance of the city of Escondido adopting the provisions of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of city taxes, except as to the time, manner, mode and presents provided for in the municipal corporation act, did not adopt any provision of the Political Code, the subject matter of which was covered by the municipal corporation act, as the same are made applicable to cities and towns of the sixth class.—Escondido v. Wohlford, 153 Cal. 40, 94 Pac. 232.

140a. Same—Same — Section 871.—Sections of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of taxes may be adopted by reference to number in an ordinance passed under the provisions of section 871 of the municipal corporation act of 1883.—San Luis Obispo v. Pettit, 87 Cal. 499, 25 Pac. 694.

141. Same.—A reference in a special municipal charter to code sections for powers and provisions, is an appropriation of sections and makes them a part of the charter.—Ex parte Lemon, 143 Cal. 558, 77 Pac. 455, 65 L. R. A. 946.

142. Ordinance—"Law of this state."—A city ordinance is a "law of this state" within the meaning of section 435 of the Penal Code.—Ex parte Bagshaw, 152 Cal. 701, 93 Pac. 864.

143. Same.—Classification of business occupations by amount of business.—A license tax ordinance which grades the tax upon occupations by the amount of business done is proper, and such an ordinance must be clearly oppressive or unlawfully discriminative before it will be declared invalid.—Ex parte Lemon, 143 Cal. 558, 77 Pac. 455, 65 L. R. A. 946.

144. Same.—Same.—License taxes.—A municipal license tax ordinance which imposes a higher license tax upon restaurants where the meals are not prepared by the proprietor or the members of his family than those where so prepared, is not unlawfully discriminatory, and is valid.—Ex parte Lemon, 143 Cal. 558, 77 Pac. 455, 65 L. R. A. 946.

145. Ordinances under municipal indebtedness act not governed by section 861.—Ordinances passed under the act of 1889 under the municipal indebtedness act of 1889 (see Act 3049) with reference to the issue of bonds under that act, are specially governed thereby and may be passed on the day on which they are introduced, without regard to the general provisions of section 861 of the municipal government act.—Derby v. Modesto, 104 Cal. 515, 38 Pac. 892.

145a. Special meeting of board.—Proceedings void for want of notice.—Where no written notice of a special meeting of a board of trustees was delivered to any member of the board, and one member was absent from such meeting, the meeting and all the proceedings were void.—City of Orange v. Clement, 41 Cal. App. 497, 183 Pac. 189.

145b. Same.—Same.—No power of ratification.—A board of trustees of a municipality have no power to ratify and make valid its action at a previous special meeting providing for the purchase of land, where such action was absolutely void because of failure to give written notice of such meeting and one member was absent therefrom.—City of Orange v. Clement, 41 Cal. App. 497, 183 Pac. 189.

146. President of board of trustees.—Duty to authenticate ordinances.—Ministerial.—City of fifth class.—The duty imposed upon the president of a board of trustees of a city of the fifth class to authenticate the municipal ordinance passed under the police power, is purely ministerial and may be enforced by mandamus.—City of San Buena Ventura v. McGuire, 8 Cal. App. 497, 97 Pac. 526.

V. TAXATION.

147. Section 871 does not forbid selection of usual time for collection of taxes.—The provisions of section 871 of the municipal corporation act of 1883 relating to the assessment levy and collection of taxes, does not forbid the city council from selecting the time fixed by law for the collection of other taxes, but merely leaves the selection of the time to its discretion.—San Luis Obispo v. Pettit, 87 Cal. 499, 25 Pac. 694.

148. Same.—Prior to its amendment in 1905 section 871 of the municipal corporation act authorized a municipal corporation of the sixth class to fix the time for the assessment levy and collection of taxes and could provide that the assessment should be fixed according to the status of the property at 12 o'clock m. of May 1 instead of first Monday in March.—Escondido v. Escondido, etc., Co., 8 Cal. App. 435, 97 Pac. 197.

149. Same.—Lien not affected.—The provision of 1871 of the municipal corporation act allowing tax liens, is not inconsistent with power given the board to fix a day other than the first Monday in March to which the assessment should relate.—Escondido v. Escondido, etc., Co., 8 Cal. App. 435, 97 Pac. 197.

150. Time of delinquency.—Under the municipal corporations act of 1883 a municipal tax does not become delinquent, and no action for its recovery can be maintained until the board of trustees has fixed the time when it must be paid by ordinance.—Dixon v. Mayes, 72 Cal. 166, 13 Pac. 471.

151. Agricultural land subject to.—Land used solely for agricultural purposes situated within the limits of a municipal corporation organized under the general law of 1883, is subject to taxation for municipal purposes.—Dixon v. Mayes, 72 Cal. 166, 13 Pac. 471.

152. Section 862.—Street poll tax of sixth-class city belongs to city and not state.—Under the provisions of section 862 of the municipal corporation act, money levied and collected by a city of the sixth class as a street poll tax, belongs to the municipality and not to the state, and the state has no interest therein within the meaning of section 428 of the Penal Code.—Ex parte Sam Wah, 91 Cal. 510, 27 Pac. 766.

153. High school tax levy.—Duty of board of trustees.—It is the duty of the board of trustees of a city of the fifth class to levy a special tax for the support of the high school therein upon an estimate furnished by the high school board whose duty it is to make such estimate annually.—Brown v. Visalia, 141 Cal. 372, 74 Pac. 1042.

154. Same.—High school district including city deemed part of city.—By the amendment of 1891 to section 795 a school district which includes a city and additional territory is to be deemed part of the city, and the high school board of such a district must report the estimate required by section 1670 of the Political Code to the legislative body of the city which alone is authorized to levy such a tax for high school purposes.—Chico High School Board

v. Board of Supervisors, 118 Cal. 115, 50 Pac. 275.

155. School taxes—Subdivision 8, section 798, directory only.—The provisions of subdivision 8 of section 798 of the municipal corporation act are to be construed as directory only and not as restricting the legislative functions of the board of trustees as to the amount of money to be raised by taxation for school purposes.—Board of Education v. Board of Trustees, 129 Cal. 599, 62 Pac. 173.

156. Same—Fifth-class cities—Limitations as to amount of levy not applicable to high school taxes.—A city of the fifth class was limited in the matter of establishing schools by the proceedings of the municipal incorporation act, to primary and grammar schools, but sections 1669, 1670 and 1671 of the Political Code granted the additional power of such cities to establish and maintain high schools within such city; and the limitations of the municipal corporation act as to the amount of the school levy, has no application to the maintenance of the high school thus established.—Brown v. Visalia, 141 Cal. 372, 74 Pac. 1042.

157. Power to impose license tax for revenue—Section 3366, Political Code, repealed by section 862.—A municipal corporation of the sixth class was empowered by section 862 of the municipal corporation act as amended in 1903 to impose license taxes for revenue, and that amendment operated to repeal by implication section 3366 of the political act so far as it applied to cities of the sixth class.—Ex parte Jackson, 143 Cal. 564, 77 Pac. 457.

158. Occupation taxes—Practice of law—Repeal of section 852 by section 3366, Political Code.—The board of trustees of a city have no power to regulate the practice of the law; but under the provisions of subdivision 10, section 852 of the municipal corporation act, it may impose a license tax upon the business or occupation of an attorney for purposes of revenue; but this provision was repealed by implication by section 3366 of the Political Code, which limited the imposition of licensed taxes for the purpose of regulation in the exercise of police power "and not otherwise."—Sonora v. Curtin, 137 Cal. 583, 70 Pac. 674.
See, also, Santa Monica v. Guidinger, 137 Cal. 658, 70 Pac. 732.

159. License tax on delivery wagons.—In view of section 11, article XI of the constitution, and under subdivision 10, section 862 of the municipal incorporation act, a city of the sixth class was authorized to impose a license tax on persons operating or maintaining delivery wagons on its streets.—The Emporium v. San Mateo, 177 Cal. 622, 623, 171 Pac. 434.

160. Liquor dealers' licenses—Payment of city does not exempt from payment of county license.—A liquor dealer is not exempt from payment of a license tax levied by the county by reason of having paid a similar tax to the municipality.—In re Lawrence, 69 Cal. 608, 11 Pac. 217.

161. Equalization—Notice of increase of assessment held insufficient.—A notice to the owner of property, dated subsequent to the actual increase of the assessment thereof, that the assessment has been increased, and that "the board of equalization will be in session" on a date named "to adjust all assessments where cause is shown," is insufficient to give the board jurisdiction to make such increase.—Huntley v. City of Auburn, 165 Cal. 298, 300, 131 Pac. 859.

162. Same—Same—Advance notice is jurisdictional.—Advance notice to the owner of property of a proposed increase in its assessment is a jurisdictional prerequisite, and the board of trustees of a city of the sixth class has no jurisdiction, as a board of equalization to increase an assessment, either under section 872, of the municipal corporation act, or under a municipal ordinance, without such notice.—Huntley v. City of Auburn, 165 Cal. 298, 299, 131 Pac. 859.

163. Same—Same—Must be notice of intended action, not of action already taken.—A notice, to give jurisdiction to increase an assessment, must be notice "of the intended action of the board," not that it has acted; and, in the absence of a controlling statute on the subject fixing the time of the notice, the owner must be given time to have and must have a full and fair hearing.—Huntley v. City of Auburn, 165 Cal. 298, 304, 131 Pac. 859.

164. Same—Same—Arbitrary increase without notice.—The board of trustees of a city of the sixth class have no power under section 872 of the municipal corporation act, acting as a board of equalization, to arbitrarily increase an assessment of property, made and returned by the assessor, without first giving the present assessed notice of the proposed action.—Huntley v. Board of Trustees, 165 Cal. 298, 131 Pac. 859.

165. In case of reincorporation in lower class.—Where a city is reincorporated under the general act of 1883 in a lower class, the assessment, equalization and levy of taxes for the year of reincorporation must be made as provided for the cities of such lower class; and if not so made, they are invalid.—Dranga v. Rowe, 127 Cal. 506, 59 Pac. 944.

166. An incorporated town may exist without officers.—People v. California Fish Co., 166 Cal. 576, 610, 138 Pac. 79.

167. Qualifications of members of board of trustees of sixth-class city—Jurisdiction of board.—Section 860 of the municipal corporation act vests in the board of trustees of cities of the sixth class the right to judge of the qualifications of its members and determine contested elections of all city officers and to inquire and decide whether, notwithstanding a tie vote upon the face of the returns one or another of the candidates in fact received a plurality.—McGregor v. Board of Trustees, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566; McGregor v. Buck, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566.

168. Same—Same—Election contests — Sections 1111, et seq., Code of Civil Procedure, not applicable.—The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure (§§ 1111, et seq.) limiting the scope of contested election proceedings in the superior court to cases where the "right of any person declared elected to an office" was involved, has no application to the board and general grant of power contained in section 860 of the municipal corporation act authorizing the board of trustees to "determine contested elections" of municipal officers.—McGregor v. Board of Trustees, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566; McGregor v. Buck, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566.

169. Same—Same—Same — Mandamus to compel action of board.—Where the board of trustees of a city of the sixth class refuse to inquire and decide whether a member of the board was elected, although it appeared on the face of the returns that a tie vote had been cast, a writ of mandate will issue to compel them to proceed to determine the contest instituted by such trustee.—McGregor v. Board of Trustees, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566; McGregor v. Buck, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566.

170. Same—Same—Same—Section 860 — Not unconstitutional.—The provisions of section 860 of the municipal corporation act vesting in the board of trustees of a city of the sixth class power to determine contested elections of city officers are not in conflict with the constitutional declaration that the judicial power shall be vested in certain courts.—McGregor v. Board of Trustees, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566; McGregor v. Buck, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566.

171. Same—Same—Same—No loss of jurisdiction by postponing action.—Where a board of trustees indefinitely postponed a hearing in an election contest for the office of trustee out of deference to a ruling of the superior court that it had exclusive jurisdiction, it did not lose jurisdiction or its right to have the contest decided, were it in the manner provided by law.—McGregor v. Board of Trustees, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566; McGregor v. Buck, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566.

172. Same—Same—Same—Prohibition to superior court will not lie.—In view of the fact that section 860 of the municipal corporation act does not declare "with unequivocal certainty" or with any degree of certainty that the legislature intended to divest the superior court of its jurisdiction to proceed with a contest instituted before it, a writ of prohibition will not lie to arrest such proceedings.—McGregor v. Board of Trustees, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566; McGregor v. Buck, 159 Cal. 441, 114 Pac. 566.

VI. OFFICES AND OFFICERS.

173. Consolidation of offices—Section 571.—The board of trustees of the city of Woodland were authorized under the provisions of section 571 of the municipal corporation act as amended in 1901, to enact an ordinance prior to a city election, making the city treasurer to be elected thereat ex officio city tax collector and license tax collector.—City of Woodland v. Leech, 20 Cal. App. 15, 127 Pac. 1040.

174. Power to change salary.—The power of a municipality to fix or change the salary of its officers rests entirely upon statute, and the exercise of this power is subject to all the limitations contained in the statute.—Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650.

175. Same.—A municipality could not directly, by express ordinance for that purpose, diminish the amount of salary of one of its officers nor could it accomplish that result indirectly either by accepting the provisions of the act of March 2, 1891 (Stats. 1891, p. 22), or by doing away with the necessity for his services through its adoption of an ordinance abolishing the street poll tax.—Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650.

176. Same — Officer entitled to salary fixed by law.—The right of an officer of a municipality to the salary fixed by law for his office, is not impaired by any change that may be made in the duties of his office or even by an entire cessation of those duties so long as the office itself remains in existence.—Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650.

177. City attorney—Compensation under section 879 and under ordinance.—Where the salary and compensation of a city attorney was fixed by an ordinance providing that such salary shall be in full compensation for all services rendered, it is held that the provisions of the ordinance are to be deemed supplementary to section 879 of the municipal corporation act, which provides the duty of such an officer and that the compensation covered not merely advances to be given to the city officers but also any other services as an attorney for which no extra compensation was definitely or directly agreed to be paid, and in the absence of official action by the board of trustees, such attorney can not recover for services claimed to have been out of the line of his regular employment.—Bridges v. Sierra Madre, 27 Cal. App. 93, 148 Pac. 965.

178. City marshal—Compensation for service of process.—The marshal of a city of the sixth class is not entitled to services in serving and executing process in criminal cases unless the board of trustees have fixed by ordinance his compensation; and in an action by such marshal for such services, the complaint must allege the class to which the municipality belongs, the ordinance fixing his compensation and that his claim for services is in accord with the provisions of the ordinance.—Pritchett v. Stanislaus County, 73 Cal. 310, 14 Pac. 795.

179. Same — Compensation in criminal cases.—The marshal of a municipal corporation of the sixth class is not entitled to compensation or service of process in criminal cases in the absence of an ordinance fixing his compensation.—Pritchett v. Stanislaus County, 73 Cal. 310, 14 Pac. 795.

180. Same—Compensation same as constables—Section 790.—Under the provisions of section 790 the city marshal of a city of the fifth class was entitled to receive for the service of any process issued and directed to him by any legal authority, in addition to the same fees and mileage received by constables in the state courts, such additional compensation as might be fixed by the city.—Carlisle v. Tulare County, 5 Cal. Unrep. 701, 49 Pac. 3.

181. Fees for serving justice's court process chargeable to county.—The fees of a city marshal of a city of the fifth class in serving process issuing out of the justice's court of the township in which the city is situated, are chargeable to the county.—Carlisle v. Tulare, 5 Cal. Unrep. 701, 49 Pac. 3.

182. Same—Power of board to fix compensation—Limited by section 855.—It is the absolute right of the board of trustees of a municipality under section 855 of the general incorporation act to fix the compensation of the city marshal at any sum it deems proper, free from supervision or review on the part of the courts, subject to the single limitation that there shall be some compensation provided and that the office itself can not be practically destroyed by fixing so low a figure that no one would discharge the duties of the office for the compensation fixed.—De Merritt v. Weldon, 154 Cal. 545, 98 Pac. 537, 16 Ann. Cas. 955.

183. Same—Same—Same—Discretion of board—Courts will not interfere.—The question of the reasonableness of the amount of the compensation to be paid a city marshal is a question solely for the board of trustees and not for the courts, and the court will not interfere in the absence of fraud or bad faith.—De Merritt v. Weldon, 154 Cal. 545, 98 Pac. 537, 16 Ann. Cas. 955.

184. Same—Compensation fixed by charter is for all services—Sections 855, 880.—Under sections 855 and 880 of the municipal corporation act, the compensation of a city marshal is for all the duties imposed on the marshal by the act, and he can not recover from the city for services in connection with the arrest of offenders, and summoning witnesses and jurors.—Mundell v. Pasadena, 87 Cal. 520, 25 Pac. 1061.

185. Same—Same—Same—Duty to collect licenses.—The effect of an ordinance enacted by the board of trustees of the city of Woodland under the authority of section 571 of the municipal incorporation act, as amended in 1901, was to relieve the city marshal from the duty imposed upon him by section 790 of that act to receive all city licenses from the city clerk and to collect the same.—City of Woodland v. Leech, 20 Cal. App. 15, 127 Pac. 1040.

186. Same—Action for compensation—Requirement as to allegations of complaint in action for.—In an action by the marshal of a sixth-class city for compensation or service of process in a criminal case, the complaint must allege the class to which the municipality belongs, the ordinance fixing compensation and that the claim accords with the provisions of the ordinance.—Pritchett v. Stanislaus County, 73 Cal. 310, 14 Pac. 795.

187. Chief of fire department—City of fifth class—Authority and rights.—The chief of the fire department of a municipality of the fifth class organized under the general incorporation law of 1883 has no right or authority except that given him by the ordinances of the city.—Higgins v. Cole, 100 Cal. 260, 34 Pac. 678.

188. Same—Tenure of office.—The provision of an ordinance that the chief of the fire department should be appointed for one year or until his successor should be appointed and qualified, is construed as declaring the term of office of such chief to continue until the successor is elected and qualified, and not necessarily for a full year; and a statute which empowers the board of trustees of such city to appoint and remove subordinate officers at their pleasure, is not limited by such ordinance and the term of office of such chief must be held to be at the pleasure of the appointing power by virtue of section 16 of article XX of the constitution, his term of office not being fixed by the constitution nor declared by law.—Higgins v. Cole, 100 Cal. 260, 34 Pac. 678.

189. City recorder—Jurisdiction—Justice of the peace as to some matters.—Under the municipal corporation act a city recorder may be a justice of the peace as to the same matters, and a recorder as to others.—Prince v. Fresno, 88 Cal. 407, 26 Pac. 606.

190. Same—Same—Concurrent.—The jurisdiction of the recorder of a city of the sixth class in the classes of cases mentioned in section 882 of the act was not intended to be exclusive or to deprive the justice's court of jurisdiction of offenses against state law, but to make such jurisdiction as to that class of cases simply concurrent with that of the justice's court.—Ex parte Bagshaw, 152 Cal. 701, 93 Pac. 864.

191. Same—Same—Exclusive.—The violations of ordinances declared by section 882 to be within the exclusive jurisdiction of the recorder are those which are crimes solely because made so by ordinance supplemented by the municipal corporation act.—Ex parte Bagshaw, 152 Cal. 701, 93 Pac. 864.

192. Same—Acting as justice of the peace.—The fees of a city marshal of a city of the fifth class in the service of process issued by the city recorder are chargeable to the county in excess where the recorder is acting as justice of the peace.—Carlisle v. Tulare, 5 Cal. Unrep. 701, 49 Pac. 3.

192a. Forfeiture of cash bail in felony cases—Money belongs to state.—Cash bail to answer to a felony charge forfeited by a city recorder acting as a magistrate belongs to the county and not to the city.—Tulare Co. v. Fenn, (Cal. App.) 190 Pac. 855.

193. Justice of the peace of city of the fourth class.—Under the municipal incorporation act of 1883 the office of justice of the peace of a city of the fourth class had a legal existence and could be legally filled.—Ex parte Fedderwitz, 6 Cal. Unrep. 562, 62 Pac. 935.

194. City treasurer—Percentage entitled.—A city treasurer is not entitled under section 876 of the municipal corporation act to a percentage on moneys received, and also on moneys paid, but his percentage should be computed solely upon the amount paid out by him from that which he had received.—Sierra Madre v. Lehmer, 20 Cal. App. 377, 129 Pac. 287.

195. Offices—Duration—Temporary character of employment.—The mere hiring of a driver of a street wagon belonging to a city at a monthly salary and for no specified period under a resolution of the board of trustees, does not create an office which would continue without regard to service until the rescission or amendment of the resolution but creates the relation of master and servant under a monthly salary for the service performed, if it is performed.—White v. Alameda, 124 Cal. 95, 56 Pac. 795.

195a. Lawful acts of de facto officer, binding effect of.—The lawful acts of an officer de facto of a municipal corporation formed within the scope and by the apparent authority of his office are as valid and binding so far as the rights of third persons are concerned as if he were a legally elected and qualified officer de jure and in full possession of the office.—Susanville v. Long, 144 Cal. 362, 72 Pac. 987.

195b. "Executive of the municipality"—Cities of sixth class.—In cities of the sixth class the president of the board of trustees is "executive of the municipality" within the requirements of the act of 1901 (Stats. 1901, p. 27).—Redondo Beach v. Barkley, 151 Cal. 176, 90 Pac. 452.

195c. Compensation of members of board of equalization—Section 773.—The ordinance of the board of trustees of the city of Woodland fixing the compensation of the members of the board of equalization, is not inconsistent with the grant of power by the legislature to the board of equalization, and is authorized by section 773 of the municipal corporation act.—White v. Mitchell, 11 Cal. App. 202, 104 Pac. 333.

195d. Officers—Power of amotion does not exist in California.—The power of amotion of municipal officers recognized by the common law is not an incident of the powers of a municipal corporation in this state, and, in the absence of a charter provision, municipalities do not possess the power to remove elective officers.—Legault v. Board of Trustees, 161 Cal. 197, 118 Pac. 706, 39 L. R. A. (N. S.) 519.

195e. Same—Exclusive method.—The exclusive method of removal of elective officers of a municipality is found in sections 758-772 of the Penal Code.—Legault v. Board of Trustees, 161 Cal. 197, 118 Pac. 706, 39 L. R. A. (N. S.) 519.

195f. Same—Act repealed by section 811.—The act of March 30, 1874 (Stats. 1873-4, p. 911), providing for a judgment of removal from office and a judgment in favor of the complainant for $100 was repealed by section 811 of the municipal incorporation act.—Crossman v. Kenniston, 97 Cal. 379, 32 Pac. 448.

VII. CONTRACTS.

196. Contract for purchase of land governed by rules of private contracts—City may plead estoppel.—The private contract of a municipality in the acquisition of land by purchase, is governed in its construction by the same rules that the contracts of private persons in similar cases are governed, and in such cases the municipality may plead estoppel and its adversary may plead estoppel against it.—Brown v. Sebastopol, 153 Cal. 704, 96 Pac. 363, 19 L. R. A. (N. S.) 178.

197. Contract for electric light and power plant—Notice and bids.—A contract entered into between a municipality and an electric light and power plant to furnish current to the city which call for the expenditure by the latter of a sum in excess of $100 without notice and without bidding as required by section 874 of the municipal corporation act, is invalid.—Ukiah v. Snow Mountain, etc., Co., 4 R. C. D. 293.

198. Contract for public improvement—Irregularity in bidding—Not ground for relief unless injury result.—Directions given to the city engineer by individual members of the governing board of a municipality to inform bidders that no bids will be received for a public improvement unconnected by bids for the purchase of the bonds, is not sufficient ground for relief against the contract for such improvement in the absence of any injury resulting from the irregularity of or of any evidence that any one was deterred by the same from bidding on the contract or that the bids were higher by reason of such condition than they would otherwise have been or that there was any fraud or bad faith.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

199. Same—Entry of reasons for rejecting bids in record of board not required.—The board of trustees of a municipality is not required to make an entry in their record of their reasons for rejecting bids for public improvements; and if such statement is made in such records, the board is not precluded from showing in court the actual reasons for their action and evidence thereof is admissible.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

200. Same—Bid of city official, rejection of authorized.—The governing board of a municipality is justified in rejecting or refusing to consider a bid for a public improvement by a city official who is not lawfully authorized to make a contract therefor.—Rice v. Board of Trustees, 107 Cal. 398, 40 Pac. 551.

201. Payment of claims under contract to city officials forbidden by section 811.—Section 811 of the municipal corporation act, which applies to cities of the fifth class, prohibits a contract by the city under which moneys are to be paid with its of-officials, and forbids the payment of claims arising under them.—Osburn v. Stone, 170 Cal. 480, 150 Pac. 367.

202. No liability under unauthorized contract.—No implied liability can arise for benefits received under a contract made by a board or municipality made in violation of the particularly prescribed statutory mode, the statutory mode, in such cases, being the measure of power.—Reams v. Cooley, 171 Cal. 150, Ann. Cas. 1917A, 1260, 152 Pac. 293.

203. Contract between city and school trustee.—A contract between a city and one of its school trustees for street work, is void under section 328 of the municipal corporation act of 1883, and furnishes no basis for a valid assessment therefor.—Capron v. Hitchcock, 98 Cal. 427, 33 Pac. 431.

204. "Public utilities act" applies to municipal contract with public utility.—The principle that a public utility can not contract with its customers in such a way as to preclude the state acting through the railroad commission from inquiring into the reasonableness of the rates named in the contract and direct the removal of discrimination caused by the contract or otherwise completely supervising and regulating the utility, applies to a contract between a public utility and a municipality, unless the state has expressly given to the municipality the right to contract away the state's right under the police power to regulate and supervise public utilities, and the state has not given this right to the town of Ukiah.—Ukiah v. Snow Mountain, etc., Co., 4 R. C. D. 293.

205. Contract for water not invalid for want of mutuality.—A provision in such a contract whereby the water company agrees to "use due diligence to maintain its pipes" in good condition, and employ its best endeavors to cause an adequate supply of water to flow through its conduits, and in case of deficiency to prorate its supply between the city and its other customers is not invalid for want of mutuality.—Marin, etc., Co. v. Sausalito, 168 Cal. 587, 599, 143 Pac. 767.

206. Same—Inconsistency.—In a contract under the authority of subdivision 3, section 6, municipal corporation act, between a city of the sixth class and a water company to furnish water for the inhabitants of the city, there is no inconsistency between a paragraph obligating the city to pay 30 cents per thousand for not to exceed 200,000 gallons per day, and one by which the city obligates itself to take 150,000 gallons a day for the first year of the contract and not less than 200,000 gallons a day thereafter.—Marin, etc., Co. v. Sausalito, 168 Cal. 587, 598, 143 Pac. 767.

207. Same—Contract authorized.—Subdivision 3, section 862, of the municipal incorporation act, authorizes cities of the sixth class to enter into a contract with a water company to furnish a bulk supply of water to its inhabitants for ten years, and the terms and duration of such a contract are within the sound discretion of the city authorities, and such a contract will not be overthrown except for fraud, abuse of discretion, excess of authority, or inequity in the terms.—Marin, etc., Co. v. Sausalito, 168 Cal. 587, 598, 143 Pac. 767.

208. Presentation of demands—Claims for tort.—The requirement of section 864 as to the presentation of demands against cities of the sixth class was not intended to apply to claims arising from tort.—Adams v. Modesto, 131 Cal. 501, 63 Pac. 1083.

VIII. ACTIONS.

209. Penalty of liquor bond—Recorder's jurisdiction not exclusive—Section 806.—An action to recover the penalty of a bond secured as a condition of granting a license to sell liquors by a municipality is not an action to recover a fine, penalty or forfeiture for breach of a municipal ordinance, nor is it founded upon any obligation or liability created by ordinance nor is it a prosecution for the violation of an ordinance, within the provisions of section 806 of the municipal incorporation act, giving exclusive jurisdiction to the city recorder's court in such cases.—City of Tulare v. Hevren, 126 Cal. 226, 58 Pac. 530.

210. For the recovery of funds illegally expended.—An action may be maintained by a taxpayer against the mayor and members of the city council of a municipality to recover from them moneys illegally expended from the funds of the city.—Osburn v. Stone, 170 Cal. 480, 150 Pac. 367.

211. Same—Demand unnecessary.—It is fundamental that where a demand would be unavailing, it is unnecessary; and where this is shown in a case by a taxpayer against the mayor and city council of a municipality to recover funds of the city illegally expended, a demand is not necessary.—Osburn v. Stone, 170 Cal. 480, 150 Pac. 367.

212. Same—Municipality proper party.—While the municipality is a proper party in an action by a taxpayer against the mayor and council for the recovery of funds of the city illegally expended, it is error to sustain without relief to amend a demurrer to the complaint in such action, upon the ground that the municipality was not made a party.—Osburn v. Stone, 170 Cal. 480, 150 Pac. 367.

213. Action of ejectment—Public highway.—Under the provisions of section 850 of the general corporation act an unchartered municipal corporation of the sixth class had the right to commence in its own name an action of ejectment for land claimed as a public highway and to recover damages for its use and occupation.—Daly City v. Holbrook, 39 Cal. App. 289, 178 Pac. 725.

ORGANIZATION ACT OF 1909.

ACT 3100—An act to provide for the incorporation, organization and management of municipal water districts.

History: Approved April 26, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1097. Later act of May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1290, amended December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 92; and May 29, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 921, contains a recital in § 30 to the effect that that act is amendatory of the present act, and it was apparently intended to supersede the present act entirely except as to water districts already formed thereunder. See Act 3101.

See later act on same subject, post, Act 3101.

ORGANIZATION ACT OF 1911.

ACT 3101—An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1290. Amended December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 92; May 29, 1915; in effect August 8, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 921. Former act of April 26, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1097, was probably superseded by the present act. See Act 3100, historical note, and § 30 of present act.

The title was amended as follows:

AN ACT to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction by said districts of waterworks and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts. [Amendment of December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 107.]

Municipal water district.

§ 1. A municipal water district may be organized and incorporated and managed as herein expressly provided and may exercise the powers herein expressly granted or necessarily implied.

Territory which may be included.

§ 2. The people of any city and county, or of one or more municipal corporations in any county with or without unincorporated territory in such county, in the state of California, may organize a municipal water district under the provisions of this act by proceeding as herein provided. [Amendment of December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 92.]

Petition for organization, supplemental petition. Election. Renewal of proposition to organize.

§ 3. A petition, which may consist of any number of separate instruments, shall be presented to the county clerk of the county in which the proposed water district is located, signed by qualified electors residing within the boundaries of the proposed water district equal in number to at least ten per centum of the number of such qualified electors voting for all candidates for the office of governor of this state at the last general election prior to the presentation of such petition; provided, that where one or more municipal corporations are included in such proposed water district, such petition must be signed by at least ten per centum of the qualified electors of each such municipal corporation so voting at such election. Such petition shall set forth and describe the boundaries of such proposed water district, and shall contain a prayer that such proposed water district be incorporated under the provisions of this act; and the text of such petition shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in such county, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which same will be presented. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published. No more than five of the names attached to said petition need appear in such publication of said petition and notice, but the number of signers shall be stated. Within ten days of the date of the presentation of such petition, the county clerk shall examine the same and ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite qualified electors; and if requested by the county clerk, the board of supervisors shall authorize him to employ persons specially for that purpose, in addition to the persons regularly employed in his office, and shall provide for their compensation. When the county clerk has completed his examination of the petition, he shall attach to the same his certificate, properly dated, showing the result of such examination; and if from such examination he shall find that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors residing within the boundaries of such proposed water district, or is not so signed, he shall certify that the same is sufficient or insufficient, as the case may be. If by the certificate of the county clerk the petition is found to be insufficient, he shall also certify to the number of qualified electors required to make such petition sufficient, and it may be amended by filing a supplemental petition or petitions within ten days from the date of such certificate. The county clerk shall, within ten days after the filing of such supplemental petition or petitions, make like examination of the same and certify to the result of such examination as hereinbefore provided. If his certificate shall show any such petition, or such petition as amended, to be insufficient, it shall be filed by him with the board of supervisors and kept as a public record, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. But if, by the certificate of the county clerk, such petition, or such petition as amended, is shown to be sufficient, the county clerk shall present the same to the board of supervisors without delay. The sufficiency or insufficiency of such petition shall not be subject to review by the board of supervisors.

If any supplemental petition be filed, all the signatures appended to the petition and to the supplemental petition or petitions shall be considered in determining the number of qualified electors signing the petition. After an election for the incorporation of such proposed water district, the sufficiency of such petition in any respect shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned. If the county in which such proposed water district is located shall have a registrar of voters other than the county clerk, upon the presentation of the petition herein mentioned to the county clerk, he shall forthwith deliver the same to such registrar of voters, who shall perform the duties herein required to be performed by the county clerk respecting the examination and certification of such petition; and said registrar of voters shall return said petition, immediately upon the completion of such examination, together with his certificate showing the result of such examination, to the county clerk, who shall thereupon present such petition, together with the certificate of the registrar of voters attached thereto to the board of supervisors. When such petition is presented, the board of supervisors shall give notice of an election to be held in said proposed water district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be incorporated. Such notice shall describe the boundaries so established and shall state the proposed name of the proposed incorporation (which name shall contain the words "..... municipal water district"), and such notice shall be published at least four weeks prior to such election in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in said county. At such election the proposition to be submitted shall be: "Shall the proposition to organize municipal water district under (naming the chapter containing this act) of the acts of the extra session of the thirty-ninth session of the California legislature be adopted?" And the election thereupon shall be conducted, the vote canvassed and the result declared in the same manner as provided by law in respect to general elections, so far as they may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. No person shall be entitled to vote at any election under the provisions of this act unless such person possesses all the qualifications required of electors under the general election laws of the state. Within four days after such election the vote shall be canvassed by the board of supervisors. If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of organizing such municipal water district, said board shall by an order entered on its minutes declare the territory included within the proposed boundaries duly organized as a municipal water district under the name theretofore designated, and the county clerk shall immediately cause to be filed with the secretary of state and shall cause to be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said district is situated, each, a certificate stating that such a proposition was adopted. Upon the receipt of such last mentioned certificate the secretary of state shall, within ten days, issue his certificate reciting that the municipal water district (naming it) has been duly incorporated according to the laws of the state of California. A copy of such certificate shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county in which such municipal water district is situated. From and after the date of filing said certificate with the secretary of state, the district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a municipal water district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. In case less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said proposition the organization fails, but without prejudice to renewing proceedings at any time after six months from date of said election. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 92.]

Board of directors to be elected. Additional directors. Term of office. Time of election.

§ 4. At an election to be held within such water district under the provisions of this act and the laws governing general elections not inconsistent herewith, the municipal water district thus organized shall proceed within ninety days after its formation to the election of a board of directors consisting, if there are no municipalities within the boundaries of said district, of five members. In all cases where the boundaries of such water district include any municipality or municipalities, said board of directors, in addition to said five directors to be elected as aforesaid, shall consist of one additional director for each one of said municipalities within such municipal water district, each such additional director to be appointed by the mayor of the municipality for which said additional director is allowed; and if there be any unincorporated territory within said water district, of one additional director, to be appointed by the said board of supervisors. Any director so appointed need not be an elector or resident of said district. All directors, elected or appointed, shall hold office until the election and qualification or appointment and qualification of their successors. The term of office of directors elected under the provisions of this act shall be four years from and after their election; provided, that the directors first elected after the passage of this act shall hold office only until the election and qualification of their successors as hereinafter provided. The term of office of directors appointed by said mayor or mayors or by said board of supervisors shall be six years from and after the date of appointment. Directors to be first appointed under the provisions of this act shall be appointed within ninety days after the formation of the district. The election of directors of such municipal water district shall be in every fourth year after its organization, on the fourth Tuesday in March, and shall be known as the general water district election. A second election shall be held, when necessary, as hereinafter provided, on the third Tuesday after such general election, and shall be known as the second water district election. All other elections which may be held by authority of this act, or of the general laws, shall be known as special water district elections. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 95.]

Mode of selection of directors. Petition for nomination. Verification, deputies. Withdrawals. Elections. Failure to qualify.

§ 5. (1) The mode of nomination and election of all elective officers of such water district to be voted for at any water district election and the mode of appointment of a director or directors by said mayor or mayors or by said board of supervisors shall be as follows and not otherwise.

(2) The name of a candidate shall be printed upon the ballot when a petition of nomination shall have been filed in his behalf in the manner and form and under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

(3) The petition of nomination shall consist of not less than twenty-five individual certificates, which shall read substantially as follows:

Notary Public or Verification Deputy.

The petition of nomination of which this certificate forms a part shall, if found insufficient, be returned toat No.,street, , California.

(4) It shall be the duty of the county clerk to furnish upon application a reasonable number of forms of individual certificates of the above character.

(5) Each certificate must be a separate paper. All certificates must be of uniform size as determined by the county clerk. Each certificate must contain the name of one signer thereto and no more. Each certificate shall contain the name of one candidate and no more. Each signer must be a qualified elector residing within said district, must not at the time of signing a certificate have his name signed to any other certificate for any other candidate for the same office, nor, in case there are several places to be filled in the same office, signed to more certificates for candidates for that office than there are places to be filled in such office. In case an elector has signed two or more conflicting certificates, all such certificates shall be rejected. Each signer must verify his certificate and make oath that the same is true, before a notary public or a verification deputy, as provided for in this section. Each certificate shall further contain the name and address of the person to whom the petition is to be returned in case said petition is found insufficient.

(6) Verification deputies, under this section, must be qualified electors of such municipal water district, and shall be appointed by the county clerk or clerks upon application in writing, signed by not less than five qualified electors of such municipal water district. The application shall set forth that the signers thereto desire to procure the necessary signatures of electors for the nomination of candidates for office in said municipal water district at an election therein specified, and that the applicants desire the person or persons whose names and addresses are given appointed as verification deputies, who shall upon appointment be authorized and empowered to take the oath of verification of the signers of petitions of nomination. Such verification deputies need not use a seal, and shall not have power to take oaths for any other purposes whatsoever, and their appointments shall continue only until all petitions of nomination, under this section, shall have been filed by the county clerk.

(7) A petition of nomination, consisting of not less than twenty-five individual certificates, for any one candidate, may be presented to the county clerk not earlier than forty-five days nor later than thirty days before the election. The county clerk shall endorse thereon the date upon which the petition was presented to him.

(8) When a petition of nomination is presented for filing to the county clerk, he shall forthwith examine the same, and ascertain whether or not it conforms to the provisions of this section. If found not to conform thereto, he shall then and there in writing designate on said petition the defect or omission or reason why such petition can not be filed, and shall return the petition to the person named as the person to whom the same may be returned in accordance with this section. The petition may then be amended and again presented to the clerk as in the first instance. The clerk shall forthwith proceed to examine the petition as hereinbefore provided. If necessary, the board of supervisors shall provide extra help to enable the clerk to perform satisfactorily and promptly the duties imposed by this section.

(9) Any signer to a petition of nomination and certificate may withdraw his name from the same by filing with the county clerk a verified revocation of his signature before the filing of the petition by the clerk, and not otherwise. He shall then be at liberty to sign a petition for another candidate for the same office.

(10) Any person whose name has been presented under this section as a candidate may, not later than twenty-five days before the day of election, cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing with the county clerk a request therefor in writing, and no name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballot. If, upon such withdrawal, the number of candidates remaining does not equal the number to be selected, then other nominations may be made by filing petitions therefor not later than twenty days prior to such election.

(11) If either the original or amended petition of nomination be found sufficiently signed as hereinbefore provided, the clerk shall file the same twenty days before the date of the election. When a petition of nomination shall have been filed by the clerk it shall not be withdrawn or added to and no signature shall be revoked thereafter.

(12) The county clerk shall preserve in his office for a period of two years, all petitions of nomination and all certificates belonging thereto, filed under this section.

(13) Immediately after such petitions are filed, the clerk shall enter the names of the candidates in a list, with the offices to be filled, and shall not later than twenty days before the election certify such list as being the list of candidates nominated as required by the provisions of this act, and the board of supervisors shall cause said certified list of names and the offices to be filled to be published in the proclamation calling the election at least ten successive days before the election in at least one but not more than three newspapers of general circulation published in the county in which such municipal water district is located. Such proclamation shall conform in all respects to the general state law governing the conduct of general elections now or hereafter in force, applicable thereto, except as otherwise herein provided.

(14) The county clerk shall cause the ballots to be printed and bound and numbered as provided by said general state law, except as otherwise required in this act. The ballots shall contain the list of names and the respective offices as published in the proclamation and shall be in substantially the following form:

GENERAL (OR SPECIAL) DISTRICT ELECTION,
..... Municipal Water District,
(Inserting date thereof.)

Instructions to Voters: To vote, stamp or write a cross (X) opposite the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote. All marks otherwise made are forbidden. All distinguishing marks are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election, and obtain another.

(15) All ballots printed shall be precisely on the same size, quality, tint of paper, kind of type, and color of ink, so that without the number it would be impossible to distinguish one ballot from another; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and style. A column may be provided on the right-hand side for questions to be voted upon at municipal water district elections, as provided for under this act. The names of the candidates for each office shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and nothing on the ballot shall be indicative of the source of the candidacy or of the support of any candidate.

(16) The name of no candidate who has been duly and regularly nominated, and who has not withdrawn his name as herein provided, shall be omitted from the ballot.

(17) The offices to be filled shall be arranged in the following order: "For director vote for (giving number)."

(18) Half-inch square shall be provided at the right of the name of each candidate wherein to mark the cross.

(19) Half-inch spaces shall be left below the printed names of candidates for each office equal in number to the number to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote.

(20) The county clerk shall cause to be printed sample ballots, identical with the ballot to be used at the election, and shall furnish copies of the same on application to registered voters at his office at least five days before the date fixed for such election, and shall mail one such ballot to each voter entitled to vote at such election, so that all of the said sample ballots shall have been mailed at least three whole days before said election.

(21) In case there is but one person to be elected to an office, the candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for all the candidates for that office shall be declared elected; in case there are two or more persons to be elected to an office, as that of director, then those candidates equal in number to the number to be elected, who receive the highest number of votes for such office shall be declared elected; provided, however, that no person shall be declared elected to any office at such first election unless the number of votes received by him shall be greater than one-half the number of ballots cast at such election.

(22) If at any election held as above provided there be any office to which the required number of persons was not elected, then as to such office the said first election shall be considered to have been a primary election for the nomination of candidates, and a second election shall be held to fill said office. The candidates not elected at such first election, equal in number to twice the number to be elected to any given office, or less if so there be, who receive the highest number of votes for the respective offices at such first election, shall be the only candidates at such second election; provided, that if there be any person, who, under the provisions of this subdivision, would have been entitled to become a candidate for any office, except for the fact that some other candidate received an equal number of votes therefor, then all such persons receiving such equal number of votes shall likewise become candidates for such office. The candidates equal in number to the persons to be elected who shall receive the highest number of votes at such second election shall be declared elected to such office.

(23) The said second election, if necessary to be held, shall be held three weeks after the first election.

(24) All the provisions and conditions above set forth as to the conduct of an election, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern the second election, except that notice of election need be published twice only; and provided, also, that the same precincts and polling places shall, if possible, be used.

(25) If a person elected fails to qualify, the office shall be filled as if there were a vacancy in such office, as hereinafter provided.

(26) The mode of appointment of director or directors by the mayor or mayors, or by the board of supervisors, shall be by certificate of appointment signed by said mayor or mayors, or issued by said board of supervisors, and transmitted to the board of directors of said water district.

(27) No informality in conducting municipal water district elections shall invalidate the same, if they have been conducted fairly and in substantial conformity to the requirements of this act. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 95.]

Conduct of elections. Canvass of returns.

§ 6. The provisions of the law relating to the qualifications of electors, the manner of voting, the duties of election officers, the canvassing of returns, and all other particulars in respect to the management of general elections, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern all water district elections, except as in this act otherwise provided; provided, that the board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of the election or elections held to select the first board of directors, as herein provided, and that thereafter, except as herein provided, the board of directors shall meet as a canvassing board and duly proceed to canvass the returns within four days after any water district election, including any water district bond election. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, extra session, p. 100.]

Recall.

§ 7. Every incumbent of an elective office, whether elected by popular vote for a full term, or elected by the board of directors to fill a vacancy, or appointed by a mayor or mayors or by said board of supervisors for a full term, is subject to recall by the voters of any municipal water district organized under the provisions of this act, in accordance with the recall provisions of the general laws of the state with reference to municipal corporations. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 100.]

Directors to be governing body. President. Conduct of meetings of board.

§ 8. The board of directors shall be the governing body of such municipal water district. It shall hold its first meeting on the sixth Monday after the first general election for the election of directors as herein provided; it shall choose one of its members president, and shall thereupon provide for the time and place of holding its meetings and the manner in which its special meetings may be called. All legislative sessions of the board of directors whether regular or special shall be open to the public. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board of directors shall establish rules for its proceedings. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 101.]

Method of transacting business. Compensation of directors. Vacancies in board, how filled.

§ 9. The board of directors shall act only by ordinance or resolution. The ayes and noes shall be taken upon the passage of all ordinances or resolutions and entered upon the journal of the proceedings of the board of directors. No ordinance or resolution shall be passed or become effective without the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the members of the board. The enacting clause of all ordinances passed by the board shall be in these words: "Be it ordained by the board of directors of municipal water district as follows:" All resolutions and ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary. Each of the members of the board of directors shall receive for each attendance at the meetings of the board ten dollars, and shall receive no other compensation. No director, however, shall receive pay for more than three meetings in any calendar month. Any vacancy in the board of directors, whether the vacant office is elective or appointive, shall be filled by the remaining directors and the person so chosen shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 101.]

Officers of district elected by directors.

§ 10. The board of directors shall at its first meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint, by a majority vote, a general manager, a secretary, and an auditor. No director shall be eligible to the office of general manager, secretary, or auditor. The general manager, secretary, and auditor shall receive such compensation as the board of directors shall determine, and each shall serve at the pleasure of the board. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 101.]

Informality not to invalidate.

§ 11. No informality in any proceeding or informality in the conduct of any election, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, shall be held to invalidate the incorporation of any municipal water district, and any proceedings, wherein the validity of such incorporation is denied, shall be commenced within three months from the date of the certificate of incorporation, otherwise said incorporation and the legal existence of said municipal water district and all proceedings in respect thereto shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

General powers of district.

§ 12. Any municipal water district incorporated as herein provided, shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession;
2. To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction;
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure;
4. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real and personal property of every kind, within or without the district, necessary to the full exercise of its powers;
5. To acquire, or contract to acquire, waterworks or a waterworks system, waters, water rights, lands, rights and privileges, and construct, maintain and operate conduits, pipe lines, reservoirs, works, machinery and other property useful or necessary to store, convey, supply or otherwise make use of water for a waterworks plant or system for the benefit of the district, and to complete, extend, add to, repair, or otherwise improve any waterworks or waterworks system acquired by it as herein authorized;
6. To lease of and from any person, firm, or public or private corporation, with the privilege of purchasing or otherwise, existing waterworks or a waterworks system, and to carry on and conduct waterworks or a waterworks system; also to sell water under the control of the district to municipalities, and to other public corporations within the district, and to the inhabitants of such municipalities and of other territory within the district, for use within said district, without any preference, and it may, whenever there is a surplus of water above that which may be required by such consumers within said district, sell or otherwise dispose of such surplus water to any persons, firms, public or private corporations or other consumers;
7. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to supply the district or any portion thereof with water, whether such property be already devoted to the same use, or otherwise, and may condemn any existing waterworks or system, or any portion thereof, or any waters or water rights owned by any person, firm or private corporation. In proceedings relative to the exercise of such right, the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation;

8. To borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness; also to refund or retire any indebtedness or lien that may exist against the district or property thereof;

9. To cause taxes to be levied for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district in the manner hereinafter provided;

10. To make contracts, to employ labor, and do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the foregoing powers.

11. In case of condemnation proceedings the board shall proceed in the name of the district. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 102.]

Powers of directors.

§ 13. The powers herein enumerated shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be exercised by the board of directors above provided for and elected and appointed as prescribed herein. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 103.]

Duties of president. Duties of secretary. Duties of general manager. Duties of auditor. Depository of district funds. Bonds of officers and employees.

§ 14. The president shall sign all contracts on behalf of the district and perform such other duties as may be imposed by the board of directors. The secretary shall countersign all contracts on behalf of the district and perform such other duties as may be imposed by the board of directors. The secretary shall give his full time during office hours to the affairs of the district. The general manager shall have full charge and control of the maintenance, operation and construction of the waterworks or waterworks system of said water district, with full power and authority to employ and discharge all employees and assistants at pleasure, prescribe their duties, and shall, subject to the approval of the board of directors, fix their compensation. The general manager shall perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by the board of directors. The general manager shall report to the board of directors in accordance with such rules and regulations as they may adopt. The auditor shall be charged with the duty of installing and maintaining a system of auditing and accounting that shall completely and at all times show the financial condition of the district. He shall draw warrants to pay demands made against the district when such demands have been first approved by at least three of the members of the board of directors and by the general manager. The board of directors shall also designate a depository or depositaries to have the custody of the funds of the district, all of which depositories shall give security sufficient to secure the district against possible loss, and who shall pay the warrants drawn by the auditor for demands against the district under such rules as the directors may prescribe. The general manager, secretary and auditor, and all other employees or assistants of said district who may be required so to do by the board of directors, shall give such bonds to the district conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors from time to time may provide. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 103.]

Creation of bonded indebtedness, and election therefor. Notice of election and conduct thereof.

§ 15. Whenever the board of directors deem it necessary for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness, it shall, by resolution, so declare and state the proposition to be submitted to the electors, the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, the amount of debt to be incurred, the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed five per cent per annum. The board of directors shall fix a date upon which an election shall be held for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred. It shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for holding such special election on the days so fixed and in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Such board of directors shall give notice of the holding of such election, which notice shall contain the resolution adopted by the board of directors of the water district, boundaries of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and two clerks in each precinct. Such notice shall be published for two weeks in at least one newspaper, and not more than three newspapers, published in such water district, which newspaper or newspapers shall be designated by the board of directors; and if there is no newspaper printed in such water district, then by posting such notice in three public places therein. All the expenses of holding such election shall be borne by the district. The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of directors on the first Monday following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as they may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of directors, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted. In all respects not otherwise provided for herein said election shall be called, managed and directed as is by law provided for general elections in this state applicable thereto, except as herein otherwise provided. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 103.]

Proposition submitted to electors. Election. Notice to be published.

§ 16. [Repealed December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 104.]

Directors to issue bonds, if proposition receives necessary vote.

§ 17. If from such returns it appears that more than two-thirds of the votes cast at such election were in favor of and assented to the incurring of such indebtedness, then the board of directors may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, provide for the form and execution of such bonds and for the issuance of any part thereof, and may sell or dispose of the bonds so issued at such times or in such manner, either for cash in lawful money of the United States or its equivalent, as it may deem to be to the public interest. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 104.]

Bonds exempt from taxation.

§ 18. Any bonds issued by any district are hereby given the same force, value and use as bonds issued by any municipality and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California.

Crossings and intersections. Rights of way.

§ 19. The board of directors shall have power to construct works across any stream of water, watercourse, street, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch, or flume which the route of said works may intersect or cross; provided, such works are constructed in such manner as to afford security for life and property, and said board of directors shall restore the crossings and intersections to their former state as near as may be, or in a manner not to have impaired unnecessarily their usefulness. Every company whose right of way shall be intersected or crossed by said works shall unite with said board of directors in forming said intersections and crossings and grant the rights therefor. The right of way is hereby given, dedicated and set apart to locate, construct and maintain said works over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to the municipalities within the state. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 104.]

Water rates and collection thereof.

§ 20. The board of directors shall fix all water rates and through the general manager collect the charges for the sale and distribution of water to all consumers. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 105.]

Estimate of water needed by each municipality.

§ 21. [Repealed December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 105.]

Basis for determination of water rates.

§ 22. The board of directors in the furnishing of water shall fix such rate as will pay the operating expenses of the district, provide for repairs and depreciation of works owned or operated by it, pay the interest on any bonded debt, and, so far as possible, provide a sinking or other fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as it may become due; it being the intention of this section to require the district to pay the interest and principal of its bonded debt from the revenues of the district. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 105.]

Tax levy to meet deficiency.

§ 23. If, from any cause, the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the principal or interest on any bonded debt as it becomes due, then the board of directors may cause a tax to be levied for that purpose as herein provided.

Tax for district purposes, manner of levy and collection. Tax to be lien on property.

§ 24. The board of directors shall determine the amount necessary to be raised by taxation and shall fix a rate of tax to be levied which will raise the amount of money required by the district, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the board of supervisors is required by law to fix its tax rate, certify to the board of supervisors the rate so fixed with a direction that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, such board of supervisors shall levy and collect a tax in addition to such other tax as may be levied by such board of supervisors at the rate so fixed and determined, and it is made the duty of the officer or body having authority to levy taxes within each county to levy the tax so required. And it shall be the duty of all county officers charged with the duty of collecting taxes to collect such tax in time, form, and manner as county taxes are collected, and when collected to pay the same to the district ordering its levy and collection. Such tax shall be a lien on all property within the territory comprising the district and of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and its collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 105.]

Ordinances may be passed by electors.

§ 25. Ordinances may be passed by the electors of any municipal water district organized under the provisions of this act in accordance with the methods provided by the general laws of the state for direct legislation in municipal corporations.

Ordinances may be vetoed by electors.

§ 26. Ordinances may be disapproved and thereby vetoed by the electors of any such municipal water district by proceeding in accordance with the methods provided by the general laws of the state for protesting against legislation in municipal corporations.

Annexation of additional territory.

§ 27. Any portion of a county or any municipality, or both, may be added to any water district organized under the provisions of this act, at any time, upon petition presented in the manner herein provided for the organization of such water district, which petition may be granted by ordinance of the board of directors of such water district. Such ordinance shall be submitted for adoption or rejection to the vote of the electors in such water district, and in the proposed addition, at a general or special election held as herein provided, within seventy days after the adoption of such ordinance. If such ordinance is approved, the president and secretary of the board of directors shall certify that fact to the secretary of state and to the county recorder of the county or counties in which such water district is located. Upon the receipt of such last mentioned certificate the secretary of state shall, within ten days, issue his certificate, reciting the passage of said ordinance and the addition of said territory to said district. A copy of such certificate shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk in which such municipal water district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added to and form a part of said municipal water district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 106.]

Petition to disorganize water district. Certificate of examination by clerk. Supplemental petitions. Sufficiency of petition not subject to review after election.

§ 27a. A municipal water district organized under the terms of this act may be disorganized or disincorporated in the following manner:

A petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located, signed by at least twenty-five per cent of the qualified registered electors of the district praying for the disorganization and disincorporation of such district and briefly stating the reasons therefor. Upon the presentation of such petition the county clerk shall examine the same within ten days after such presentation and ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. When the county clerk has completed his examination of the petition he shall attach to the same his certificate properly dated, showing the result of such examination, and if from such examination he shall find that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified registered electors residing within the boundaries of such proposed water district, or is not so signed, he shall certify that the same is sufficient or insufficient, as the case may be. If the same is found insufficient by him, supplemental petitions may be filed at the times and in the manner and for the same purpose as supplemental petitions to the original petition for the incorporation of a district, as set forth in section 3 of this act. The sufficiency or insufficiency of such petition shall not be subject to review by the board of supervisors. After an election for the disincorporation of a water district hereunder the sufficiency of such petition in any respect shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned.

Notice of election. Publication. Mailed to directors. Manner of holding election. Canvass of vote. Order of disincorporation. Time of taking effect.

If by the certificate of the county clerk such petition, or such petition as amended or supplemented, is shown to be sufficient, the county clerk shall present the same to the board of supervisors without delay. When such petition is presented by the county clerk as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall give notice of an election to be held in said proposed water district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be disincorporated and dissolved; provided, however, that in the event the said district shall have issued bonds, the board of supervisors shall not consider said petition or take any action hereunder until evidence shall be furnished showing said bonds to have been fully satisfied. Said notice of election shall be published in a newspaper published in said district and determined by said board most likely to give notice to those interested in said hearing, at least once a week for a period of three weeks; said notice shall state that the question of disincorporating said corporation shall be submitted to the legal voters of said district at the time appointed for such election, and electors shall be invited thereby to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the cross as provided by law after the words "For Disincorporation" or "Against Disincorporation." The board of supervisors shall cause a copy of said notice to be mailed by the clerk of said board to each of the directors of said municipal water district, within five days after the date of the first publication thereof, and no election shall be had until proof of such mailing is furnished by affidavit of the clerk of said board. Such election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as the election on the organization of said district, as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the state of California, in so far as said general laws may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. At the first regular meeting next after the date of said election, the board of supervisors shall proceed to canvass the vote cast thereat; if it be found by the canvass of said votes that less than a majority of the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, said board of supervisors shall declare the petition for disincorporation denied. In case it shall appear from said canvass that a majority of all the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, said board of supervisors shall under their hands make and file in their office, and cause to be entered upon the records of their proceedings an order that the petition for such disincorporation be granted, and declaring that such municipal water district be disincorporated; said order to take effect at the time hereinafter provided. Said board of supervisors shall in case said municipal water district is so disincorporated, forthwith cause its clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, by an order entered in its minutes, to make and transmit to the secretary of state a certified copy of the notice of election hereinbefore provided for, the whole number of electors voting for said disincorporation and the number of electors voting against said disincorporation. Twenty days from and after the holding of the election, in case a majority of said votes were cast in favor of said disincorporation, said municipal water district shall be forever disincorporated. [New section added May 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 921.]

Settlement of indebtedness. Property turned over to supervisors. Warrants for indebtedness. If funds insufficient to pay indebtedness. If funds show surplus. Supervisors may ascertain indebtedness, etc., if directors fail to act.

§ 27b. Upon the disincorporation of any water district in the manner hereinbefore provided for, the board of supervisors shall forthwith, after ascertaining by said canvass that the disincorporation has been carried, determine the amount of the indebtedness of said municipal corporation, the amount of money in the treasury thereof and all indebtedness due or coming due the said municipal water district, and the directors of said district shall furnish the said board of supervisors with a statement showing said amount of indebtedness, the said amount of money in the treasury and all indebtedness due or coming due said district, and said municipal water district shall before the expiration of thirty days turn over to the treasurer of said county all moneys of said water district in his possession, and said county treasurer shall place said money in a special fund to be drawn upon as hereinafter provided for. Upon the disincorporation of said district every public officer of said district shall immediately turn over to the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is situated, all public property of every nature and description in their possession, and including all public records and data of every nature and description. Nothing contained in this act shall be held to relieve said municipal water district, or the territory included within it, from any liability or any debt contracted by said district prior to its disincorporation. All warrants for said indebtedness shall be drawn on order of the board of supervisors of the county in which said municipal water district is situated, on the fund hereinabove provided for in the county treasury. All moneys paid into the county treasury under the provisions of this act shall be placed in the special fund hereinbefore provided for. If, at any time after the disincorporation of said district it shall be found that there is not sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the fund hereinbefore provided, with which to pay any indebtedness of said water district, said board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to levy and there shall be collected from the territory formerly included within said district, a tax or taxes sufficient in amount to pay the said indebtedness as the same shall become due; such tax or taxes, assessments and collections shall be made in the same manner and at the same time that other taxes of the county are levied and collected, and they shall be an additional tax within said territory for the payment of said debts. If after payment of all debts of said district there shall remain any surplus in the hands of said county treasurer to the credit of the fund hereinbefore mentioned, the board of supervisors shall appropriate said surplus and declare a dividend pro rata to the taxpayers of said district duly paid, and said taxpayers shall have the right to have the amount of such pro rata dividends refunded to them on demand, and the said board of supervisors shall refund such pro rata to said taxpayers and each thereof. The board of supervisors of the county in which any such water district has been disincorporated, shall have the power and it shall be the duty of said board, if the board of directors of such municipal water district shall fail or refuse to return to said board the statement of said amounts as hereinbefore in this act provided, to ascertain the indebtedness, other than the bonded indebtedness, of said district at the time of its disincorporation, the amount of money in its treasury and the amount due it at the said time; said board of supervisors shall make provision for the collection of the amounts due to said district, for the closing up of its affairs, and any act or acts necessary for said purposes not otherwise herein provided for, shall upon the order of said board of supervisors directing the same, be as fully done and performed and with as full effect as if the same had been performed by the proper officers of said district before disincorporation, and said county shall succeed to and possess all the right of said district in and to said indebtedness, and shall have the power to sue for or otherwise collect any such debts in the name of said county, and all costs and expenses of ascertaining the facts hereinbefore mentioned, and all other costs and expenses incurred by the board of supervisors in the execution of the orders and duties of said board of supervisors provided for in this act, shall be paid out of the special fund in this act provided for.

Intention of act.

It is the intention that no municipal water district shall be disincorporated until all bonded indebtedness shall have been fully paid, and by the word "indebtedness" as used herein is meant all indebtedness other than said bonded indebtedness unless the latter is expressly used. [New section added May 29, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 923.]

Application of act. Definitions.

§ 28. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as repealing or in anywise modifying the provisions of any other act relating to water or the supply of water to, or the acquisition thereof, by municipalities within this state. The term "municipality," as used in this act, shall include a consolidated city and county, city or town, and shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing and those hereafter organized for municipal purposes within such water districts. In municipalities in which there is no mayor the duty imposed upon said officer by the provisions of this act shall be performed by the president of the board of trustees or other chief executive of the municipality. The word "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to a water district formed under the provisions of this act, and the word "board" and the words "board of directors" shall apply to the board of directors of such district. [Amendment approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 106.]

Duty of registrar of voters.

§ 29. If there shall be a registrar of voters, other than the county clerk, in any county or city and county in which any water district proposed to be incorporated, or incorporated under the provisions of this act, is situated, the duties required by this act to be performed by the county clerk respecting the nomination of candidates for offices of such water district, and the holding of elections in such water district shall be performed by such registrar of voters. [New section added December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 106.]

Continuance of proceedings under former act.

§ 30. Any and all proceedings had or taken under the provisions of the act of which this act is amendatory, already commenced and pending at the time this act takes effect, may be continued under the provisions of the act of which this act is amendatory with the same force and effect as if this act had not been enacted. [New section added December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (extra session), p. 106.]

§ 31. The title of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts, and to provide for the acquisition and construction by said districts of water works and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts. [New section added December 24, 1911 (extra session), p. 107.]

The old section of this number was repealed December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 106.

See earlier act on same subject, ante, Act 3100.

1. Constitutionality—Fourteenth amendment.—The act is not violative of the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution, or of section 13, of article I, of the California constitution.—Henshaw v. Foster, 176 Cal. 507, 513, 169 Pac. 82.

2. Same—Not violative of section 19, article XI, of the constitution.—There is nothing in section 19, article XI, of the constitution to prohibit the legislature from authorizing the formation of water districts as in statutes 1911, p. 1290, and Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 92.—Henshaw v. Foster, 176 Cal. 507, 508, 169 Pac. 82.

3. Same—Not violative of sections 12 and 13 of article XI of the constitution.—The act is not violative of sections 12 and 13 of article XI of the constitution.—Henshaw v. Foster, 176 Cal. 507, 512, 169 Pac. 82.

4. Same—The provisions of section 13, article XX, of the constitution does not apply to a water district.—The provisions of section 13, article XX, of the constitution as to a plurality vote applies to state elections, elections in cities, counties, cities and counties, and other political subdivisions exercising governmental functions, and not to a municipal water district, created for a limited purpose and for the accomplishment of a useful but not a political or a governmental end.—Martinelli v. Morrow, 172 Cal. 472, 156 Pac. 1017.

5. Auditor of district is a purely ministerial officer.—The auditor of a municipal water district is a purely ministerial officer of the district, and he must obey the orders of the board of directors, regardless of his views.—Marin Municipal Water Dist. v. Dolge, 72 Cal. 724, 726, 158 Pac. 187.

MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT BONDS DECLARED LEGAL INVESTMENTS.

ACT 3102—An act making bonds of municipal water districts legal investments for certain purposes.

History: Approved April 20, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 158.

Municipal water district bonds legal investments.

§ 1. All bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any municipal water district under and in pursuance of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction by said districts of waterworks, and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts," approved May 1, 1911, as subsequently amended, shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any moneys or funds may, by law now or hereafter enacted, be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the state of California, such moneys or funds may be invested in the said bonds of municipal water districts; provided, however, no bank shall invest or loan more than five per centum of its assets on any one such bond issue.

[Legislative intent.]

§ 2. This act is intended to be, and shall be considered, the latest enactment upon the matters herein contained, and is supplemental to any and all other acts regulating, relating to and declaring what shall be, legal investments.

MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT BONDS LEGALIZED.

ACT 3103—An act to legalize bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by municipal improvement districts where authority for such issuance has already been given by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the electors of such districts voting upon the question of incurring such indebtedness.

History: Approved May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 331.

Municipal improvement district bonds legalized.

§ 1. In all cases where the legislative branch of any municipality in this state has called an election under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities therein; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements," approved April 20, 1915, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of any municipal improvement district formed in such municipality the question whether an indebtedness shall be incurred for any of the purposes authorized by said act, and where at such election not less than two-thirds of all the voters voting thereat shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, and the mode of creating such indebtedness has been by the proposed issuance of the bonds of such municipal improvement district, the power to issue such bonds and all the acts and proceedings of such municipality leading up to and including the issuance and sale or the proposed issuance and sale of such bonds are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such municipal improvement district of the municipality so issuing and selling the same, and the faith and credit of such municipal improvement district of such municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

Exception.

§ 2. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipal improvement district of a municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipal improvement district voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

"MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT."

ACT 3104—An act legalizing and validating the formation and organization of Marin municipal water district in the county of Marin, state of California; declaring the same created; fixing, defining and establishing the boundaries thereof; providing for its management and control subject to the provisions of the laws of the state of California relative to municipal water districts; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent therewith.

Leave of absence. Return. Officers whose terms expired. Continuous service granted.

§ 1. Each and all of the officers and members of the regiments and companies of the national guard of the state of California who were mustered into the United States volunteer service in the Spanish-American war of eighteen hundred and ninety-eight and have been discharged therefrom are hereby granted leave of absence from the time of their mustering into the United States volunteer service until being mustered out of the same, and that within one hundred and fifty days from their being so mustered out they may report for duty to the brigadier-general of the brigade from which they went, if a regiment; or to the commanding officer of the regiment or battalion from which they went, if a company or division; and they shall at once be recognized as belonging to the national guard and returned to duty as a company, division, battalion, or regiment, which they were at the time they entered said volunteer service, and any company or division not having the minimum number required by law shall recruit up to the requisite number within the time above specified.

All officers of such companies, divisions, battalions, and regiments as entered said volunteer service, and shall return to the national guard as above provided for, shall continue to serve under the commissions held by them at the time they entered the said volunteer service for the unexpired portion of their respective commissions, the same as if they had not entered such volunteer service, and had remained continuously in the national guard.

Those officers of the national guard who entered said volunteer service, but whose term of office would have expired had they remained in the national guard, are hereby granted all the privileges, exemptions, and retirements up to the date of their being mustered out of said volunteer service, the same as if they had remained in the national guard, and, should they return to duty within the time herein provided, and be re-elected to any commissioned office, as provided by law, their time shall be continuous for all purposes, as if their said terms had not expired.

Officers and members of the regiments, battalions, companies, and divisions of the national guard, who did enter the said volunteer service with their respective commands, if they report for duty with such commands, provided they resume their places in the national guard, as above provided for, are granted continuous service, as in the national guard, for all purposes up to such time as they so report; those who do not so report are hereby granted honorable discharge from the national guard, as of the date of the mustering into said volunteer service of their respective organizations.

Computing term of service.

§ 2. In computing the term of service for any purpose regarding privileges and exemptions and retirements provided by law for officers and members of the national guard, the time which any officer or enlisted man has served or may hereafter serve in said volunteer service shall be computed and allowed for as continuous service, the same as if such service had been in the national guard, and including such time not exceeding one hundred and fifty days to those already mustered out of such service, and such time as may be provided under this act for those not yet mustered out of such service to the time when he shall report for duty in the national guard as hereinbefore provided; and the same shall apply to any volunteer whose term of service in the national guard expires before being mustered out of said volunteer service, or who re-enters the national guard within the time provided for in this act.

Governor to prescribe time of re-entry.

§ 3. The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe the time for the re-entry into the national guard of those organizations, officers, and members who entered in said volunteer service but have not yet been discharged therefrom, after they shall have been so discharged, and they may re-enter the national guard upon the terms and conditions, except as to time, provided in this act, and they are hereby granted leave of absence for the entire period they have been or may be in said volunteer service.

Pay and allowances.

§ 4. No organization, officer, or member hereby granted leave of absence shall draw or be allowed any pay, allowance, money, or property from the state of California for the time or any portion of the time they are hereby granted leave of absence, but all organizations shall be entitled to all military allowances provided by law as soon as they are recruited up to the minimum required by law, and that fact is reported to and approved by the governor.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

EXPENSES OF MUSTERING IN OF ORGANIZATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES VOLUNTEER SERVICE IN THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

ACT 3153—An act to ascertain and pay armory rents, armorers' wages, and other expenses arising out of the mustering in of portions of the national guard and naval militia into the United States volunteer service; also, the expenses incurred in reorganizing the national guard and to result therefrom; and making an appropriation to pay the same.

History: Approved March 8, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 80.

Detail of officers to ascertain and pay armory rent, wages and other expenses.

§ 1. The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to detail one or more officers of the national guard, as he may deem necessary, to ascertain and determine what, if any, rents for armories, wages of armorers, and any other proper expenses should be paid in consequence of the mustering in of any of the national guard or naval militia who were mustered into the United States volunteer service during the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, and also the claims existing or which may have arisen, or which may arise by reason of the said national guard and naval militia having been so mustered in, and also any and all proper charges and expenses against the state on account of the companies, or any of them, which were so mustered in, and by reason of the use of armories for the care and custody of the property left therein, and any proper expenses which have been incurred, or which may be incurred, in the reorganization of said guard.

Pay.

§ 2. Any officer or officers so detailed shall have and receive the same pay and allowances as an officer of like rank in the United States army for the time actually employed, together with reasonable traveling expenses.

Claims.

§ 3. Any and all claims so adjusted by said appointed officers shall be transmitted through regular military channels to the governor, who shall submit the same to the board of military auditors, and, if approved by it, the controller is directed to draw his warrant in favor of the respective parties, to whom or in whose favor the claims have been allowed, and also his warrant for the pay and expenses of such detailed officer or officers, and for the amounts thereof, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

Appropriation.

§ 4. The unexpended balance of the appropriation for "armory rents and other expenses, national guard of California," for the forty-ninth and fiftieth fiscal years, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the purposes of this act.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

ENCAMPMENTS AT STATE CAMP OF INSTRUCTION.

ACT 3154—An act providing that all encampments of the national guard shall be held at the state camp of instruction, unless otherwise ordered.

History: Approved March 20, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 148.

Annual encampments at state camp.

§ 1. The commander-in-chief may annually order an encampment for discipline and drill, either by division, brigade, regiment, battalion, or unattached company. All encampments shall be held at the state camp of instruction for the national guard of California, unless otherwise ordered by the commander-in-chief.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

SAN FRANCISCO ARMORY SITE.

ACT 3157—An act to provide a site for an armory for the national guard in the city and county of San Francisco and making available and re-appropriating certain moneys for the purchase of said site and the erection, equipment, completion and furnishing of said armory.

History: Approved March 22, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 640. Later act of June 7, 1913; in effect August 10, 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 928, made an additional appropriation for completion and partial furnishing.

EXPENSES IN INSURRECTIONS, ETC.

ACT 3158—An act making an appropriation for the expenses of the national guard in case of insurrection, invasion, tumult, riot, or imminent danger thereof.

History: Approved April 12, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 850.

LOS ANGELES ARMORY.

ACT 3160—An act to provide for the building, equipping and furnishing of an armory to be used for the national guard and national guard purposes, in the city of Los Angeles, and to make an appropriation for the same.

History: Approved March 25, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 718.

The act appropriated $100,000 for the purposes indicated.

The act of April 5, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 637, made an additional appropriation of a like amount for the purposes of the act.

SACRAMENTO ARMORY.

ACT 3161—An act providing for the acquisition of a site for an armory and state arsenal for the national guard, at the city of Sacramento, California; providing for the appointment of a commission to select and acquire by donation said site, and providing for the erection of an armory and arsenal on said site, and appropriating money therefor.

History: Approved April 22, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1080.

Commission to select site for Sacramento armory.

§ 1. A commission is hereby appointed to consist of four persons who shall be known as the "commissioners for the selection and acquisition by donation of a site for and the erection of an armory and state arsenal for the national guard, at Sacramento, California," and said commission shall consist of the following persons, each of whom shall be and is hereby appointed as a member of said commission, viz., the governor of the state of California, who shall be the president of said commission; the secretary of state; the attorney general of the state, and the adjutant general of the state; said adjutant general shall be secretary of said commission. Said commissioners shall hold office until they have performed the duties hereinafter provided for. They shall receive no compensation.

Selection of site.

§ 2. Immediately after the appointment of said commissioners they shall organize and proceed to select and receive by donation a site in the city of Sacramento, state of California, for an armory and state arsenal for the use of the national guard. Said site shall be of such size as in the judgment of such commissioners may be necessary for the purposes desired; provided, however, that it shall be not less than the area of two full city lots of said city.

Deed.

§ 3. The deed for said site shall, when the said site shall be received by said commission, be taken in the name of, and the deed shall be to the state of California.

Construction of armory.

§ 4. Immediately upon obtaining possession of said site, said commission shall proceed in accordance with "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure building, road or other state improvement of any kind" approved March 22, 1909, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, to have constructed thereon an arsenal and armory for the use of the national guard, of such size and arrangement as in the judgment of said commission shall be deemed best; provided, however, that said building must contain a drillroom at least seventy-five feet wide by one hundred and forty feet long, and said building shall also be used as a state arsenal. The expense of constructing said building shall be paid out of the sum hereby appropriated, upon claims presented by said commission to and allowed by the said board of examiners, and warrants for such claims, when allowed, shall be drawn by the said controller payable out of the sum hereby appropriated and shall be paid by the state treasurer.

Appropriation.

§ 5. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the general fund of the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purposes of this act. The commission hereinabove provided for is hereby authorized to use any balance remaining in said fund, after the construction of said armory and state arsenal thereon, in the furnishing of said armory.

§ 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

SAN DIEGO ARMORY.

ACT 3162—An act to provide for the purchase by the state of California of the armory building and wharf located on the bay of San Diego and making available and reappropriating certain moneys for the purchase of said armory and wharf.

History: Approved June 14, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 928.

Appropriation: purchase naval reserve armory and wharf, San Diego.

§ 1. The sum of thirty-five hundred dollars now remaining in the appropriation made by chapter 364 of the Statutes of 1911 (approved April 5, 1911) is hereby reappropriated and made available, and is to be paid to the adjutant general of the state of California, ex-officio quartermaster general, to be expended by him in the purchase of the armory building and wharf and all parts thereof known as the naval reserve armory and wharf, located on the bay of San Diego at the foot of Twenty-Eighth Street of the city of San Diego, California, for the use of the naval militia of the state of California.

Conditions.

§ 2. Before the payment or payments are made for the said building and wharf it must be shown to the quartermaster general that the building has been finished in a workmanlike manner, properly painted, and electric wired, and that the piling of said wharf has been concreted in a proper manner; and further, provided, that the said city of San Diego is hereby authorized to and shall recede and convey to the state of California the tide land now occupied by the said naval reserve amory and wharf located on the bay of San Diego at the foot of Twenty-Eighth Street of the city of San Diego, California, for the use of the naval militia of the state of California; the said city reserving the rights of way for the necessary street or streets across said wharf.

Governor authorized to receive deed.

§ 3. The governor of the state of California is hereby authorized to receive delivery on behalf of the state from the city of San Diego conveyance of the aforesaid tide lands when made by the said city to the state of California.

Controller authorized to draw warrant.

§ 4. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants in favor of the person or persons at such times and in such sums as said adjutant general shall present claims for, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

The present act reappropriated the money appropriated for the same purpose by the act of April 5, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 638.

REVOLVING FUND FOR ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.ACT 3164—An act appropriating money to provide a cash revolving fund for the use of the adjutant general and defining its use and the liability therefor.

History: Approved June 7, 1913. In effect immediately. Stats. 1913, p. 890.

Appropriation: cash revolving fund, adjutant general. How drawn. Bond.

§ 1. The sum of three thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to provide the adjutant general with a cash revolving fund to facilitate the work of the adjutant general's department. All or any part of said money may be drawn from the state treasury without the submission of receipts, vouchers or itemized statements and may be used by the adjutant general in advancing cash payments for ordnance, equipment, material, labor, supplies and incidental expenses requiring cash payments in advance, where such payments are necessary for the proper conduct of the business of the department, said bills to be subsequently paid out of the appropriation against which they are a proper charge, upon itemized claims accompanied by proper vouchers and receipts, and the money returned to the cash revolving fund. The adjutant general shall be liable on his bond for the money so advanced to him and may, to protect himself, require sufficient bond of the different employees under him in case it should be necessary to delegate any of them to disburse money from the revolving fund. The adjutant general must account for the money herein appropriated at any time upon demand of the state board of control or state controller.

Current expenses.

§ 2. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of article IV of the constitution, take effect immediately.

RETURN OF OFFICERS AND MEMBERS TO STATE ORGANIZATIONS FROM UNITED STATES VOLUNTEER SERVICE.

ACT 3165—An act providing for the return to the national guard of the state of all those organizations, officers, and members of the national guard who entered the service of the United States in 1917 in the war against Germany, and relating to their privileges, exemptions and retirements.

History: Approved May 7, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 380.

Federal service considered as continuous state service.

§ 1. Each and all of the officers and members of the national guard and the naval militia of the state of California who were called into service by the call of the president and who were on the fifth day of August, 1917, drafted into federal service are hereby granted leave of absence from the state forces from the time of call or draft into federal service as national guard and until they shall have been mustered out from the federal service, and while serving as federal troops their time shall be considered as continuous in so far as it pertains to their service as state troops; provided, they re-enter the national guard of this state within ninety days of muster out from federal service.

Privileges, exemptions, and retirements.

§ 2. All members of the national guard who entered federal service or whose term of office or enlistment would have expired had they remained in the national guard of the state, are hereby granted all privileges, exemptions and retirements up to the date of being mustered out of said federal service, the same as if they had remained in the national guard of the state. In computing the term of service for any members regarding privileges, exemptions or retirements, provided by law, for officers and members of the national guard, the time which any officer or enlisted man has served in the army or navy of the United States shall be computed and allowed for as continuous service in so far as it pertains to state service; provided, that they re-enter the national guard of the state within a period of ninety days from the date of muster out of federal service.

Preference in reorganization.

§ 3. When reorganizing the national guard of the state, those units who have or may be in federal service shall be first considered in such reorganization; provided, they shall request such re-entry into state service within the ninety days from the period of discharge from federal service.

Rank.

§ 4. In compliance with the national defense act, all officers must be recommissioned and all enlisted men re-enlisted. All officers will be commissioned with the same rank as that held by them upon their entrance into federal service, or such rank as they may have attained while in federal service; provided, that in all cases officers must be commissioned in accordance with the table of organization provided by the war department of the United States government.

Pay not allowed during leave of absence.

§ 5. No organization, officer or member hereby granted leave of absence shall draw or be allowed any pay, allowance, money or property from the state of California, during the said leave of absence, but organizations shall be entitled to all military allowances provided by law as soon as they are recruited up to the minimum required by law and accepted as national guard and that fact is reported and approved by the government.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.ACT 3170. ESTABLISHMENT.*ESTABLISHMENT.

ACT 3170—An act to establish a nautical school at the port of San Francisco, to provide for the conduct and maintenance thereof, to make an appropriation therefor, and to authorize the governor to request and to receive aid from the United States in compliance with the provisions of an act of congress approved March 4, 1911.

History: Approved May 14, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 527.

"California state nautical school" established.

§ 1. There is hereby established at the port of San Francisco a nautical school to be known as "the California state nautical school," for the instruction of pupils in navigation, steamship-marine engineering, and all matters pertaining to the proper construction, equipment and sailing of vessels, or any particular branch thereof.

School board.

§ 2. The governor, the president of the state board of education, and the president of the state board of harbor commissioners shall constitute the nautical school board, which shall be the governing body of the school hereby established. The expenses incurred by the members of said board while engaged in the business of the nautical school shall be refunded to them from the appropriation herein provided.

Duties of board.

§ 3. The said nautical school board shall provide and maintain at the nautical school, for the instruction and training of pupils in the science and practice of navigation, accommodations for the school on board a proper vessel, shall purchase and provide books, stationery, apparatus and supplies needed in the work of the school, shall appoint and remove instructors and other necessary employees and determine their number and compensation, shall fix the terms and conditions upon which pupils shall be received and instructed in the school, and be dismissed or discharged therefrom, and shall establish all regulations necessary for the proper management and conduct of the school and for carrying out efficiently the purposes of this act.

Use of United States vessels.

§ 4. The nautical school board may receive from the United States government and use for the accommodation of the school, such vessel or vessels as the secretary of the navy may furnish. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to apply in writing to the secretary of the navy for a suitable vessel of the navy, with all her apparel, charts, books and instruments of navigation for the use of the school hereby established, and to request that the president of the United States detail proper officers of the navy as superintendents or instructors in the said school.

Nautical school fund.

§ 5. There is hereby created the nautical school fund, which shall consist of such money as shall be appropriated from time to time by the legislature, and such sum as may be received from year to year from the government of the United States for the purpose of maintaining the school hereby established in compliance with the provisions of an act of congress entitled "An act for the establishment of marine schools and for other purposes," approved March 4, 1911. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the establishment of said school and for its maintenance during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, which shall become available when the nautical school board has received from the secretary of the navy a suitable vessel of the navy for the use of said nautical school.

Vouchers.

§ 6. The moneys hereby appropriated shall be expended in accordance with law upon vouchers certified by the superintendent of the nautical school and approved by the nautical school board.

Report.

§ 7. A report of the conduct of the affairs of said nautical school, including a statement of the moneys expended in its establishment and maintenance, shall be presented to the legislature at its convening for the forty-third session and at each biennial session thereafter.

Later act of May 27, 1919; in effect July 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1301, made an additional appropriation to carry out the purposes of the act.

ACT 3189. NET CONTAINER ACT.

NET CONTAINER ACT.

ACT 3189—An act to provide for the indicating of the net quantity of foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food for human beings when sold or offered or exposed for sale in containers and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

History: Approved May 24, 1913. In effect April 1, 1914. Stats. 1913, p. 247. Amended (1) June 7, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1263; (2) April 6, 1917, in effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 87; (3) May 3, 1919, in effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 145.

Title as amended May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 145:

AN ACT to provide for the indicating of the net quantity of foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food for human beings, and medicine, and other commodities when sold or offered or exposed for sale in containers and providing for the indicating of quantity in the sale of commodities in respect to which there exists a definite trade custom, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

The title was also amended April 6, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 87.

Net container act.

§ 1. This act shall be known as the net container act.

Design of act.

§ 2. This act is designed to protect purchasers of any commodity within its provisions against deception as to the quantity or amount of the commodity purchased, and as against the seller shall be strictly construed with a view to effect its object.

Application of act.

§ 3. The provisions of this act shall apply to foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food or medicine for human beings and shall apply to any commodity when sold, offered or exposed for sale in containers. [Amendment of May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 145.]

This section was also amended June 7, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1263.

Net quantity plainly marked.

§ 4. Whenever any of the commodities within the provisions of this act are sold, or offered or exposed for sale, in containers, the net quantity of the contents of the container shall be plainly and conspicuously marked, branded, or otherwise indicated on the outside or top thereof or on a label or tag attached thereto.

Designation of quantity.

§ 5. The designation of the quantity of the commodity required by section four of this act shall be in terms of weight, measure or numerical count, subject however to the following provisions:

(a) The quantity of the contents so marked shall be the net amount of food or stuff or other commodity in the package or container.

(b) If the designation is by weight it shall be in terms of avoirdupois pounds and ounces; if the designation is in liquid measure it shall be in terms of the United States gallon of two hundred thirty-one cubic inches and its customary subdivisions, i. e., in gallons, quarts, pints, or fluid ounces; provided, that, by like method, such designations may be in terms of the metric system of weight or measure.

(c) The quantity of solids shall be designated in terms of weight, and of fluids in terms of measure, except in case of an article in respect to which there exists a definite trade custom; in such case the designation shall be in terms of weight, or measure, or numerical count, in accordance with such custom.

(d) The quantity of the contents shall be designated in terms of weight or measure, unless the container be marked by numerical count and such numerical count gives accurate information as to the quantity of the food or other commodity in the package. When designation is by numerical count it shall be in English words or Arabic numerals.

(e) The quantity of the contents may be stated in terms of minimum weight, minimum measure or minimum count, but in such cases the designation must approximate the actual quantity and there shall be no tolerance below the stated minimum.

(f) The quantity of viscous or semisolid foods, or of a mixture of solids and liquids, may be stated in terms of weight and measure. When products are packed in brine or other preserving fluids, the weight or measure of such brine or fluids shall not be included in the weight or measure of the edible or commodity indicated on the container. [Amendment of May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 146.]

This section was also amended June 7, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1264; and April 6, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 87.

Wherein not applicable.

§ 6. The provisions of this act shall not apply—

(a) To any sale of a commodity within the provisions of this act when such sale is made from bulk and the quantity is weighed, measured or counted for the immediate purpose of such sale.

(b) To a sale of any container of an ornamental or symbolic character with which a quantity of some commodity is sold as merely incidental.

(c) To a sale of a commodity in any container of a net weight of 2 ounces or less, or of a commodity in any container of a measure of 2 fluid ounces or less, or of a commodity in any container of a numerical count of six or less.

(d) To the sale of medicine, when prescribed by a licensed physician, veterinarian, or dentist; or to medicinal or pharmaceutical preparations or mixtures of two or more medicinal substances. [Amendment of June 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1264.]

Violation defined.

§ 7. It shall not be held to be a violation of the provisions of this act when a commodity in a container is sold, or offered or exposed for sale, and there is a discrepancy between the actual quantity of the commodity in said container and the net quantity of the contents thereof indicated on the container as herein prescribed, provided such discrepancy is due to unavoidable leakage, shrinkage, evaporation, waste, or causes beyond the control of the seller acting in good faith.

No violation.

§ 8. It shall not be held to be a violation of the provisions of this act when a commodity in a container is sold, or offered or exposed for sale, and there is a discrepancy between the actual quantity of the commodity in said container and the net quantity of the contents thereof indicated on the container as herein prescribed; provided, that the seller purchased said commodity in said container, in good faith relying upon the said indication of the net contents thereof, and sold said commodity in said container without altering the contents thereof or the indication of the contents thereof; and provided, further, that the exemption of this section shall not apply to any sale unless the container had the name of a packer, manufacturer, wholesaler, or jobber thereon at the time the seller purchased it.

“Person.”

§ 9. The term “person” used in this act shall include every person, firm, company, copartnership, society, association and corporation.

Container defined.

§ 10. The term container used in this act is hereby defined to be any receptacle or carton into which a commodity is packed, or any wrappings with which any commodity is wrapped or put for sale, or to be offered or exposed for sale. No containers, boxes, or baskets wherein food products or other commodities are packed shall have a false bottom, or be so constructed as to facilitate the perpetration of deception or fraud. [Amendment of May 3, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 146.]

This section was also amended April 6, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 88.

Penalty.

§ 11. Every person, who by himself or his agent, servant or employee violates or causes or permits to be violated, any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 12. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Not violation.

(a) It shall not be held to be a violation of the provisions of this act to sell or offer for sale any commodity contained in a container which complies with the provisions and requirements of any act of congress or the opinions and regulations as issued by the secretary of agriculture and appertaining to net weight or measure.

Enforcement.

TIDELAND GRANT.

ACT 3223—An act granting certain tidelands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Newport Beach, upon certain trusts and conditions.

History: Approved May 25, 1919. In effect July 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1011.

Tidelands granted to Newport Beach.

§ 1. There is hereby granted to the city of Newport Beach, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all of the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all that portion of the tidelands and submerged lands within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific ocean which border upon and are in front of the upland now owned by said city and such other upland as it may hereafter acquire, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

Use of lands.

(a) Said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, ways and streets, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said city. And said city or its successors shall not at any time grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm, or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city or its successors may grant franchises thereon for a period not exceeding twenty-five years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for a period not exceeding twenty-five years for purposes consistent with the trust upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

Improvement of harbor.

(b) Said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof for any vessel or other water craft or railroad owned or operated by the state of California.

Rates, tolls, etc.

(c) In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a) no discrimination in rates, tolls or charges, or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city, or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor with the right of convenient access to said water over said lands for said purpose is hereby reserved to the people of the state of California.

CONSTRUCTION OF CONDUITS.

ACT 3224—An act granting to the city of Newport Beach, a municipal corporation, the right and authority to construct and maintain sewer, water, gas, and other conduits upon public lands.

PUBLICATION.

ACT 3244—An act relating to the advertising and publication of notices, publications and advertisements by state officers, boards, commissions, bureaus and departments, directing that all notices, advertisements and publications when prepared be delivered to the state board of control and vesting in the state board of control the exclusive charge, control, supervision, direction, designation, management and regulation of the giving, advertising, noticing and publication of all advertisements, publications and notices to be inserted in newspapers or other mediums, revoking all such authority heretofore given to any state officer, board, commission, bureau or department, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

History: Approved December 18, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 11.

Advertisements by state officers or departments. State board of control to have supervision and management. Revocation of previous authority.

§ 1. Whenever under the laws of the state of California it is now, or may hereafter be, the duty of any state officer, board, commission, bureau or department to prepare any notice, advertisement or publication, authorized or directed by law to be prepared, advertised, published, noticed or inserted in any newspaper or other medium, the said state officer, board, commission, bureau or department shall as now authorized or directed by law, or as may hereafter be authorized or directed by law, properly prepare, in all respects and in due form and within due time, in order to accomplish the purposes thereby intended, the said notice, advertisement or publication. When said notice, advertisement or publication shall have been so properly prepared it shall thereupon be the duty of said state officer, board, commission, bureau or department to deliver the same to the state board of control of the state of California. Thereupon the said state board of control of the state of California after having approved the said notice, advertisement or publication, shall cause the same to be advertised, published or noticed in such newspaper or newspapers or other medium as may be now or hereafter required by law, and said state board of control shall have the sole and exclusive charge, control, supervision, direction, designation, management and regulation of the giving, advertising, noticing and publication of any and all such advertisements, publications, and notices. Any and all authority heretofore given by law to any state officer, board, commission, bureau or department for the advertising, noticing, or publication, of any and all advertisements, publications or notices in newspapers or other mediums or for the insertion of the same in newspapers or other mediums, is hereby expressly revoked and such authority is hereby vested exclusively in the state board of control and shall be assumed, performed and exercised by said state board of control.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with or inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.
